Twirling Brothers Highlight Halftime

Special Program Ready for Band; Drum Majors to Duel

By DICK SIMPSON
The drum majors will battle on the field Saturday in a test of form as MSC's high stepping co-drum major, Gordon Patton, meets Gurdon Patton, U of M drum major. Tomorrow's half time show, the brothers will climax years of competition against each other, which will include roller skating as well as twirling.

Spartans Set For Big One

Team, Coach Out for New Records Over 'M'

By DONN SHELTON
It's Michigan, so we'll win. That is about the way Saturday's game shapes up—to the team, the coaches and the fans. This team, which has never lost to the Wolverines, isn't planning on doing so Saturday.
From the seniors down to the sophomores, the Spartans want to beat Michigan more than they want to do anything else in the world.
Unable to click right so far this year, each of the Spartan coaches and players is confident, not cocky, just quietly confident that come Saturday they will prove to the Wolverines what they have proved four times already—that any Michigan State team, on any given day can beat the Wolverines.
Regarded openly in Ann Arbor as the "country cousins to the north," the Spartans again will let their actions on the football field speak for them.
This game above all others could turn this mediocre season into a great one, and the players feel they owe their coach and the student body this win.
Down in Ann Arbor the Wolverines are smelling roses, an aroma that most of the Spartan players have already had the pleasure of inhaling.
Nothing would make the Green and White happier than to knock their cocksure "cousins" right out of a possible Rose Bowl berth.
The Spartans could make Duffy Daugherty the first MSC coach to ever knock off the Wolverines in his first crack at them.
On the other hand, the Wolves have had to trudge from the field on the wrong end of the score, four times in a row, to the delight of the Spartans and their fans.
Entering the game, the teams have almost identical records in reverse. Michigan has won six and lost only one, while the Spartans have won two and lost five.
The Wolverine victory hopes will ride on a sensational sophomore end, Ron Kramer, while the Spartan big gun will be three time Michigan conqueror, Co-Capt. LeRoy Bolden.
Daugherty will start an almost all senior line-up Saturday. The all-senior backfield will have Bolden at left halfback, John Matsock at quarterback, Vic Postula at fullback and Bert Zagers at right halfback.
Bolden has scored three touchdowns against the Wolverines while Zagers threw a touchdown pass for the winning score last year.
The line will be headed by Ellis Duckett, another three-time conqueror, at left end.
Hank Bullough, the right guard, is the only other starter from last year.
The other senior linemen will be Fred Rody, at center; Co-Capt. Don Kauth, at right end, and Roland Dotsch, at right tackle.
Two juniors, left tackle Embry Robinson and left guard Buck Nystrom, will also start. They will replace injured seniors Randy Schreckengost and Ferris Hallmark.
The game, which is a sell-out, will start at 1:30.
The Spartans fully realize that the Wolverines have a good team, as good as their record.
But, they also realize that we have a much better team than our record shows, a team good enough to beat Michigan.
Practice this week has been relatively quiet, with little or no kidding about the Wolverines.
Little has been done by the coaches to instill any special spirit into the squad.
They know they don't have to, the spirit is there because it's Michigan we're going to play.

OOSTERBANN

Maybe Snow Cloudy, Colder With North Winds

It's gonna be colder, with partly cloudy and colder weather forecast for today with a high of 44-48 predicted.
Colder and a few snow flurries were forecast for northeast and northwest Michigan. Northerly winds 12-18 m.p.h. may bring those knee socks back out.
All of Michigan will share the same fate with colder and partly cloudy skies predicted over the state.

Golden Rule Theme For Post-Game Dance

"Love Thy Neighbor."
That's the theme of the Golden Rule Ball, a dance held in the Michigan Union after Saturday's game.
Traditional as a post-game event since 1945, the informal dance will run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

MSC, U of M Glee Clubs Schedule Joint Concert

The Michigan and the Michigan State Men's Glee Clubs will give a concert Saturday at 8:30 in Hill Auditorium.
All seats are reserved at $1.00, $1.50, and $2.00. Tickets will be on sale at the Hill Auditorium box office all day Saturday.

Shake, Rattle and Roll Fans Flood Jenison For 'Biggest' Rally

Daugherty Receives Ovation From Fired-Up Spartans

Nearly 8,000 Spartans rocked Jenison Fieldhouse Thursday night and sent the football team out to beat Michigan. They gave Coach Duffy Daugherty a resounding vote of confidence with a two-minute standing ovation as he took the stage to introduce each member of his team.

McCarthy Fans Invade Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fans of Sen. McCarthy invaded Washington by the hundreds Thursday to stage a demonstration against the Senate move to censure the Wisconsin Republican.
They came by train, bus and auto from many parts of the country and converged on Capitol Hill, where the Senate was engaged in angry debate on the censure resolution.
The coordinator of this "National Rally for McCarthy" is Rabbi Benjamin Schultz of New York.
He predicted Constitution Hall would be filled for the main event Thursday night. The Hall seats 4,000. Sen. Walker (R-Ill.), another friend of McCarthy's, was scheduled as the main speaker.
Many of the demonstrators carried small American flags and wore badges proclaiming "I like McCarthy" and "I like His Methods."

Interview 20 Spartan Painters

The 20 Spartan painters will be interviewed in the U of M paint shop today. The Dean of the office announced.
The interview will be taken next week since five students must stand trial in the Law County Court, John Matsock, assistant to the dean of the men's division, said.
The extent of damages at the shop has not been determined, said. Students will not be allowed to remove paint from the shop, because sand-blasting is being used.

Band Practice

The band is not journeying to the MSC game Saturday as they will be rehearsing the show for Ann Arbor.
Band practice will be held at the Hill Auditorium in the Music Building.

NO ROSES FOR THE WOLVES

Congress Tries Driving Code May Improve

The first step in the revision of the new campus driving code has been taken at last. And student government, originator of the law, is the group that's promoting the changes.

Student Congress Wednesday night approved a resolution to make two basic changes in the law that has caused so much controversy since it went into effect in October. The revisions are:

1. Unlimited parking will be permitted on North Campus every night from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. In the coed dorm area, however, 15-minute limits will continue.
2. All fines on driving and parking violations will be cut at least 50 per cent.

Change No. 1 is an attempt by the government to get back into the law something which was originally there. The code as drawn up by government executives last spring, called for night parking on North Campus. But before the code got the final stamp of approval from the Board of Agriculture, this stipulation was cut out completely.

As a result, no night parking has been permitted on North Campus except in the 15-minute coed dorm zones. Undoubtedly the argument that unavoidable traffic jams might occur, will come up before the change goes through.

An answer to that is the fact that faculty and administration cars will not be in the area at night to add to the congestion. Probably the situation would not be any worse than it is now in the day time.

Provision No. 2, for the reduction of fines, was suggested by the Student Traffic Appeals Court.

Student defendants have objected that the $10 fine is too high for a parking violation. And the court apparently agrees with them. However, the court has no power in itself to cut the penalty.

The resolution is a good start. But, right now, it has not changed anything.

Before it can become law the Student-Faculty Motor Vehicle Committee will have to approve. That group hasn't done much this term, probably because few, if any, recommendations have been presented.

Now it will have its chance.

Letters to the Editor Fines Too Steep, Says One Driver

To the Editor:

Perhaps I may be wrong, but I feel it is my duty and obligation to speak on behalf of myself and my fellow drivers at MSC.

The other day I had to go to Kellogg Center sometime between one and five in the afternoon. Since the only time I had was between one and two, and I live in Shaw Hall, I borrowed my room-mate's car to go over in.

I parked in the Kellogg parking lot because I only had 20 minutes before class, and I knew my errand would take less than five minutes. Yet when I returned, I found that I had been blessed with a ticket.

Now, my purpose in writing this letter is not to complain about the present parking rules as I'm sure that the proper organizations are working on them as much as possible. My object is to ask why the penalty for such a little violation as mis-parking should come to 10 dollars.

I don't know what the student government is thinking other than that they have formed some sort of cock-eyed analogy that all people who have cars have money, so why not relieve them of one or the other as soon as possible?

My argument is—why not charge one or two dollars and be reasonable about the whole thing, rather than take it out in one lump sum? If this were done, it could quite possibly eliminate the traffic appeals court, as there aren't too many students who would quibble over a small fine, whereas a large one represents just too much of a chunk from their budget to let it get away without a fight.

I know that perhaps the government feels that a small fine wouldn't discourage rule-breaking as fast as a large one, but I also know that one or two dollars means enough to a lot of people that they would be just as careful in saving it as in saving 10 dollars.

The KOLEMINE 'Queens' Are Nice, But Why So Many?

by JACK KOLE
State News Editor-in-Chief

Besides the thousands of students making a mass exodus to Ann Arbor this weekend, there'll be something else missing from the Spartan campus. But it won't be missed.

In fact, the absence of a campus "queen" will be downright refreshing.

It's mighty surprising, however, that some enterprising organization didn't select a queen to reign over a quiet campus this weekend.

Might be a good project for some group such as the Philosophy Club since any queen crowned on MSC's campus will have plenty of time to think about the fate of the world and such things. There won't be much else to do.

Why all this fuss about such a ridiculous subject? Actually, last week brought it all on.

On Thursday, the Air Force ROTC came out with nine seeds as its corps sponsors. The Army beat the Air Force to the punch by about 10 days, however, when it announced eight dollops for the same positions.

Corps sponsors in each branch reign over various military social functions during the school year.

But the main purpose is that each group can name a "queen"—or cadet colonel, if you will, for the Coronation Ball. These queens are chosen from the corps sponsors.

After the AFROTC dumped out its queen candidates for public approval, the Varsity Club was right on the spot with a few more.

These were announced Friday and a queen was named at a Saturday night dance. This one will inaugurate each sport as the various teams start their seasons throughout the year.

Don't go away. There's more. Right along with the Varsity Club came Porpoise fraternity, the national men's swimming honorary.

And before you knew it, MSC had another queen and her court.

At least there's one consolation for the last set. These girls, who will reign over the fraternity's annual water show next week, posed in bathing suits—quite a deviation for the procedure followed by most campus queens.

That made three sets in two days. But the rash of queens wasn't over.

They had to drag another one into the festivities before Saturday.

Letters to the Editor Can U. S. Really Stand Another War?

To the Editor:

I am broiling, Professor Cline. I am sorry that I have to answer I am still suffering from heat, blast, and radiation effects. The nuclei in my body cells have taken a tremendous beating.

My white blood cell count is still up there but my hair is already starting to fall out. I've had it, all because you have written this editorial about God knows what.

Nostalgia for war? Maybe! I would call it something entirely different.

Enough people for war? Assume people away! Why worry about them? You can manufacture robots that will be as sterile as the economics you are talking about in this article.

Manufacture money? Sure, we can! We are printing it by the millions without any backing—except the faith that the American people have in it.

Quoting Professor Cline: "The extent of the damage to our economy would depend upon how successful our defense proved to be." Economics seems to be almost entirely an "if" and a "supposing" science.

I know, Professor, and you should be, that there is no such thing as sufficient protection against atomic attack.

Do you know, professor, that the United States has hydrogen lithium bombs equal to the blast of 45 megatons of TNT? The Russians have bombs equally as destructive. This is a force capable enough to annihilate any target on this earth.

By simple methods, these shining spheres of heavy metal can easily become planet wreckers. We aren't building them any larger because it would be a waste of money and resources.

There is plenty of material available on the fertile field of power-for-peace-time-use of fissionable material, Professor Cline. Why didn't you write, even as glowingly, toward that use of the energy tied up in the atom?

I do not doubt that the United States could stand another war. Amsturity, Professor Cline? We shall be reduced to ashes, deserts, and a hundred years on the road back to where we were 50 years ago.

You speak of "they" Professor Cline as though you were talking about the American people—all of them. You are speaking of at least one less than "they" because you can't speak for me when you talk about taxation and conscription in the next war. When you talk about taxation and conscription in the next war, you are talking about the conscription of minds as well as bodies, and you can't have my mind.

I can only think of one or two reasons why such a feature would be written. If I mentioned them, I know that the editor would not accept this letter.

If the professor had left out the last paragraph: "The people could stand it—for it would be the price of survival," I would have congratulated him on his masterful method in irony.

May I suggest that you, Professor Cline, read John Hersey's "HIROSHIMA." Then, browse through some of the Atomic Energy Commission's material on fusion and fission.

In the library department Read between some of the AEC's reports. Then write this feature the way you have written you can.

AEC Signs Dixon-Yates Power Deal

Controversy Still Rages In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 500 million dollar Dixon-Yates power contract, center of a boiling political row, was signed Thursday with a last minute change to hold down profits.

But the bitter controversy over the deal continued. It still is uncertain when the contract actually will go into effect and when construction can start on a big new private power plant across the Mississippi River from Memphis, Tenn. Many Democrats in Congress still hope to torpedo the whole idea.

The contract is between the Atomic Energy Commission and the Mississippi Valley Generating Co., which is sponsored by E. H. Dixon's Middle South Utilities, Inc., and E. A. Yates' Southern Co.

It calls for building a 107 million dollar power generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply power for the Tennessee Valley Authority in replacement of energy TVA now provides for atomic plants.

Backers say the contract, which President Eisenhower directed the AEC to negotiate, is an efficient, economical way of assuring that TVA's future needs for power for its customers will be met.

Sportotopics Bowl Bids Await Weekend Results

By CHUCK MILLER
State News Sports Editor

There are a lot of "ifs" involved, but Saturday's results could determine a lot of bowl game participants. Unheralded Arkansas can sew up the Southwest conference title with either a win or a tie against second place SMU.

Ohio State can nail down the Big 10 Rose Bowl assignment with a win over Purdue if second place Minnesota and Michigan lose. As it stands now, the Bucks are favored over the tough Boilermakers, Michigan is rated fairly even with the Spartans and the Gophers are underdogs to the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Although the Pacific Coast Conference title is still in doubt with both UCLA and Southern Cal unbeaten, the Trojans appear to be the likely Rose Bowl participants since UCLA is ineligible under FCC-Big 10 rulings to return two years in a row.

Southern Cal meets Washington and is favored over the Huskies, although the Trojans should be in Pasadena come New Year's Day regardless of the outcome.

Other possible bowl participants:

Duke over Wake Forest, West Virginia over William and Mary, Auburn over Georgia, Pitt over Nebraska and Oklahoma over Missouri.

In the Big 10:

Wisconsin over Illinois—the Illini will still be without a conference win after Saturday. Their only apparent chance now of gaining a Big 10 victory is next week when they take on Northwestern in a battle of the cellar-dwellers.

Indiana over Northwestern—and the Wildcats should also be winless when they tangle with Illinois. The Hoosiers are still stinging from their upset by Miami of Ohio last week and should be fighting mad.

Iowa over Minnesota—the Hawkeyes should erase any Rose Bowl hopes of the Gophers. Previously Iowa has knocked Wisconsin and Purdue out of the running and should make it three in a row Saturday.

OSU over Purdue—the Bucks can cinch it with a win, but a loss to the Boilermakers would throw the race into a dog-fight, depending upon the outcome of Minnesota's and Michigan's games.

Other Games: Boston U over Boston College, Florida over Tennessee, Cincinnati over Wichita, VMI over Citadel, Kansas State over Iowa State, Brigham Young over Wyoming, Idaho over North Dakota, Oregon over Washington State and College of the Pacific over Marquette.

ATO Takes Team Title

Gallagher Wins Turkey Trot

Al Gallagher, a third place finisher last year, sped around the mile-long course Thursday in 5:24 to win this year's Turkey Trot.

Gallagher's effort won him a 20-pound Turkey.

Turkeys were also awarded to the runner-ups, Don Quick, of Alpha Gamma Rho, and Bill Streng, of Alpha Tau Omega.

Paced by Streng, the ATO squad took the team event to win another turkey. The Gallagher-led Bryan team was second, winning a goose.

A duck was awarded to the third place team, Phi Kappa Tau.

ATO was the fraternity winner, with 43 points, followed by Phi Kappa Tau 49 points, and Sigma Nu, 85 points.

Bryan won the dorm championship, with the West Shaw team second.

In the independent field, Howland House was first, with Y's Guys second and the Sigma Chi pledges third.

Gallagher was third last year, running for Butterfield, while Quick was the winner two years ago.

Streng said following the race that he will donate his turkey to his frat house, for a big feast today.

For Streng, a sophomore, it was his first Turkey Trot. Asked about training, he revealed that he played football every day and then did some extra running.

According to team plans, Streng was to pace the ATO squad in the early stages. The pace was faster than anticipated and he "just kept running."

Quick, whose plans for the turkey weren't revealed, followed his race by rushing home and donning an ROTC uniform for the Lansing parade.

Gallagher said that his team plans to have a banquet with the turkey he won.

He spent a month working out for the event running most of the time. After the race, he said that he had thought it would be necessary, although he finished 50 or 60 yards in front of Quick.

Eager Beavers Nip Bearcats 10-8, With Safety in Overtime

By DICK SIMPSON

A safety proved to be the downfall of the Bearcats Thursday in the Independent IM league. Charles Myers crased a 8-8 deadlock in a sudden-death overtime by tagging a passer in the end zone to give the Eager Beavers a 10-8 victory over the Bearcats.

Harry Barenhald touched off the evenings nip and tuck battle with an aerial Harold Speathman in the first quarter. Not to be out-done, the Bearcats bounced back with a TD via the Borowski to Harold Booth to Jay Eltug route in a sharp passing attack.

Later in the game, the Eager Beavers and the Bearcats both fumbled in their end zone for safeties.

Rockets 26: Fall Bearcats 0. Scoring TD's in all but the last quarter, the Rockets went on a scoring spree to defeat the Fall Bearcats, 26-0. Chuck Myers dominated the action in the first quarter by throwing two paydirt passes with Jack Morrison snagging the first and Marlin Gobel the second. In the second quarter Morrison was again on the receiving end of a pass from Rocket Jerome Beerbauer. The last scoring play came in the third quarter with Beerbauer connecting with Dave Foot.

Goalkeepers 30; Raiders 0

The Goalkeepers, living up to their name, romped to a 30-0 victory over the Raiders. Individual stars made up the Goalkeeper team with Wayne Pritchett sparking his team with 12 points as did teammate Larry Squires. Chuck Mittenberger rounded out the scoring column with one TD.

However, all five of the men are no longer on the Graduation claimed list.

Spartans Boast 2 Favorite

By HAL BATEMAN

The Harriers are attempting to make it four in a row when they run in the cross country championship today at 11 a.m. They will be in Chicago on the four mile Washington course.

They first won the title in 1951 and have since defended it ever since. Last year the Spartans barely won the Indiana Hoosiers by a score.

Denslow and Block are as contenders for individual honors. Denslow's fastest four miles came in the Ohio dual meet with a clock of 20:28.9. He finished fifth in the Penn State and Michigan AAU cross country and was the first Spartan to finish in the Penn State and State meets. Denslow has shown improvement in race and should be up there with the leaders in today's race.

Block's fastest time of the season came in the Wisconsin where he barely edged teammate Denslow with a 20:39.7. He finished seventh in the Michigan AAU title which made him the second runner. He also has the number two man in Penn State and Ohio State.

The most improved member of the team has been Hoke. Hoke finished as the sixth man in the Penn meet, the number four man in the Wisconsin and State meets, and finished the Spartans' number one man in the Michigan race. His fastest time for miles came in the Ohio meet when he was time 22:22.

Hoke is also a dual star on the varsity track team. Last spring he won the 1000 yard race in the Big 10 meet. The group of runners had been in the second, sixth, seventh, tenth, fourteenth team positions.

John Cook was the first man with the excellent 19:55 Ron Barr was second, followed by Lyle Jarrett was number four with a clocking of 20:22 and Ken Bales was out the scoring for the Spartans with a time of 20:34.

Goalkeepers 30; Raiders 0

The Goalkeepers, living up to their name, romped to a 30-0 victory over the Raiders. Individual stars made up the Goalkeeper team with Wayne Pritchett sparking his team with 12 points as did teammate Larry Squires. Chuck Mittenberger rounded out the scoring column with one TD.

Win Over Wolves Key to Success

Michigan State awaits the battle with Michigan Saturday, in a game which can "make" or "break" the Spartans, depending on the outcome.

Each set-back this year. Last week's exuberant 34-6 victory over Washington State went a long way towards building up the Spartan's self-confidence—something they apparently have lacked all year.

They can put an exclamation mark after this with a win over the Wolverines. Now, the question arises: Are the Spartans physically able to match the Wolverines?

John Matsock is apparently recovered from his pulled thigh muscle and will start at quarterback for the Spartans in place of Earl Morrill.

Matsock was a doubtful performer all week, but has come around slowly and is expected to be near top form.

If this is true, the Spartans will have a physically fit backfield for the first time this year. Only during the first few minutes of the Washington State game did this situation exist, but Matsock pulled the muscle in his thigh and retired from the game early.

Before that, at least one backfield performer had been disabled for each game.

Co-Capt. LeRoy Bolden will be at full strength for the game, and will be backed up by Gary Lowe, and Jerry Musetti.

With Bolden and Matsock, Daugherty also indicated he would start Bert Zagers at right half and Vic Postula at fullback. This is the all-senior backfield that started against Washington State.

Matsock will be backed by Earl Morrill and Pat Wilson. The right half spot is secure with Zagers and Clarence Peaks, and Postula and Gerry Flannin hold down the fullback position.

Bolden and Ed Ellis Duckett held the unusual distinction of having beaten Michigan three straight times—a fact which few individuals, let alone teams, can boast. They were the only freshmen who got into the 1951 game, during the one-year freshman eligibility ruling.

Co-Capt. Don Kauth and guard Hank Bullough played the next year as sophomores and have participated in two Spartan victories.

Embry Robinson and Roland Dotsch will start at tackle and Fred Rudy will handle the center position.

Buck Nystrom will play guard opposite Bullough.

Fresh Grid Tilt Rescheduled

The final freshman Green-White intra-squad game, scheduled for this afternoon, has been moved to next Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

The game will be played in Macklin Stadium, with the public invited free of charge. Mimeographed rosters will be passed out to aid identification of the players.

Strive to End Spartan Supremacy

Michigan Hopes to Duplicate Irish Win

Notre Dame broke the Spartan's three-game supremacy this year and Michigan's Wolverines, losers in four straight games to Michigan State, have the same thing in mind.

Season's records would seem to give the Wolverines a big edge plus the psychological edge of a possible Rose Bowl trip and a deep revenge motive. However, as in all traditional games such as this, all past records go out the window.

Michigan will be without the services of two of its top players.

Halfback Tony Branoff has undergone an operation for removal of a piece of cartilage from his right knee, while center Jim Bates is still weak from a recent bout with glandular fever and has been ordered not to play Saturday.

Other than these two, Michigan will be in top physical shape for the encounter.

One of the Wolves' greatest assets is sophomore end Ron Kramer, whose great play has been a major factor in Michigan success. The 210-pounder, from East Detroit leads the second place Wolverines in three departments, pass receiving, punting and scoring.

In last week's 14-7 win over Illinois, he caught two passes to increase his season's total to 18. He has gained 277 yards on his receptions, including two touchdowns. His punting average of 41.3 yards places him among the best in the country in this department.

Kramer has scored 23 points with two touchdowns and 11 straight conversions without a miss.

Teaming with him at the other end will be another standout sophomore, Tom Maentz, a 205-pounder from Holland.

Art Walker and Ron Geyer will be the tackles, and Capt. Ted

Cachey and Ed Meads will start at guard.

Eugene Snider will replace Bates at center.

With Branoff out of action, the backfield chores will fall on quarterback Lou Baldacci, halfbacks Dan Cline and Ed Shannon and fullback Fred Boer.

Although handicapped most of the season by injuries, Branoff ranked high in team statistics in several departments.

He had caught three passes for 47 yards, rushed 20 times for 78 yards and scored one touchdown.

Boer and Cline have done most of the heavy work this year for Michigan. Boer has carried the ball 87 times for 362 yards and a four-yard average, while Cline has rushed 82 times and picked up 308 yards for a better-than-three yard average.

Baldacci and Shannon have each rushed 32 times, with Baldacci picking up 136 yards and Shannon 94.

Their 14-0 win over Washington to open the season was about as expected, but their 20-7 loss to Army was rather surprising.

The Wolverines bounced back from the loss to win three straight, including a 14-13 victory over Iowa and a 7-0 win over Northwestern. After the long-sided Minnesota game, Michigan dropped a 13-9 decision to Indiana, but came back last week to down Illinois, 14-7.

Dribbling Specialist

Ricky Ayala Wins Spot On Globetrotter Team

Ricky Ayala, ex-Spartan basketball star, will join the Harlem Globetrotters, world famous professional Negro basketball team, member 15.

He gained a coveted position on the Globetrotters, Ayala spent from 4 to 11 in Chicago, trying for the team.

He was one of a group of 25 players from various colleges and the county.

The group of had been screened and carefully screened in hundreds of Negro basketball players from various colleges.

late basketball fans best remember Ayala for his fancy dribbling and clever play-making. Although only 5 ft., 6 1/2 inches tall, he frequently befuddled and out-maneuvered opponents who stood well over 6 ft.

Ayala believes he will be used as a dribbling specialist on the Western Division team of the Globetrotters. He said the team was divided into three divisions: Eastern, Western, and Southern. The Eastern division will make an exhibition tour of Europe; the Southern will go to South America, and the Western division to the Far East.

Ayala, 23, a hotel administration major, is from Brooklyn, New York. He won New York All-City honors while playing for Boy's High School of Brooklyn.

Ricky attributes his success thus far in basketball to his coaches at MSC, Pete Newell and John Bennington.

Run's the Word, as Cage Squad Works Fast Break

Run Run Run. That's the word of head coach Ed Anderson as the basketball squad works out in its second day of practice.

The cagers are carefully working on the fast break, the style of which Anderson is noted for.

After Monday's practice, Anderson found that he was going to have to take it a bit more slowly. The team didn't react easily to the new style of play, and it will take much work to adapt them to it.

As a whole, the team is in good physical shape and will be ready to go in the opener on December 1 against Marquette.

Armstrong is still seeing red action as he continues to recover from glandular fever. He is yet to be able to finish a full practice.

The team will hold their first scrimmage on Saturday morning, with the freshmen as the opposition.

The squad will stage their first game and White game on Saturday.

day morning, November 28 at 10 o'clock. It will give some sort of an indication as to what to expect from the cagers during the season and will also help Anderson in selecting his starting five.

The game is open to the public free of charge.

Awards Ceremonies

Col. Harry W. Gorman, Lt. Col. Robert L. Dickerson.

Wins Legion of Merit Medal

Dickerson Honored For Korean Service

Lieutenant Colonel Robert L. Dickerson, Infantry, was awarded the Legion of Merit by Colonel Harry W. Gorman, commander Army ROTC at MSC, during Thursday morning ceremonies in Dom Hall.

The award was made to Dickerson for distinguishing himself by exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service as Assistant Chief, and later Chief of the G2 Section, Headquarters, Eighth Army, in Korea, from April, 1953 to July, 1954.

He is now assistant professor of military science and tactics at MSC.

The citation read in part, "His exemplary accomplishments contributed significantly to the United Nations' first armed bid for peace, reflecting great credit upon himself and the military service."

Two other awards were made at the Thursday ceremony.

Major Harry H. Hestand, assistant PMS and T was awarded the Bronze Star with "V" device for distinguished heroism in action against an armed enemy of the United Nations on September 28, 1952. He led his men through mortar and small arms fire up a hill which was heavily defended and continued to do so until seriously wounded in the chest.

Master Sergeant Thomas M. Blount instructor in military science was awarded the First Oakleaf Cluster of the Bronze Star for meritorious service in connection with military operations in Korea.

"His outstanding skill, initiative and untiring devotion to duty reflect great credit upon himself and the military service," the citation read.

Commissions Set For Army Cadets

The Michigan State ROTC department has received notification from the Army that all ROTC students who graduate June 1954 will receive commissions. All men commissioned in this period will be called to active duty June 30, 1954.

All men graduating between June 1950 and April 1957 will probably be commissioned but as yet no final decision has been reached.

Prankster Promises to Strike Again

Vigilantes 'Ready' For All-Night Stand

By GENE RITZINGER

Irritated "vigilantes" among Bryan Hall bicycle owners set up a night long vigil Wednesday in an effort to trap the prankster who has been piling their bikes into mixed-up heaps.

Rubbing sleep out of their eyes, they peered out the windows of their dorm, waiting, waiting. . . . But the prankster outfoxed them. He didn't show up.

He's not been discouraged, though.

Yesterday, the State News received a telephone call in which a sinister voice, obviously muffled by a handkerchief, said: "Tell Bryan Hall the 'Phantom' will strike again Saturday night."

Confronted with the "phantom's" message, Dave Stroud, Vicksburg freshman and leader of the "vigilantes," could hardly contain his joy.

"Let him come," he said, "we'll fix him so he'll wish he had never seen a bicycle."

And what fate awaits the "phantom" if he's caught? "Heh, heh," said Stroud, gleefully. "The Red Cedar beckons."

Price, Webster Seniors of Week

Seniors of the Week for Nov. 7-14 are Marge Price, Auburn Heights, and Dan Webster, East Lansing.

Miss Price is senior class treasurer, chairman of the Block S finance committee, and Water Carnival finance chairman. Other activities include Senior Council, Ski Club and Campus Chest. Kappa Alpha Theta is her sorority, and she plans to be a physics-math teacher.

Dan is vice-president of the senior class, president of Blue Key, and a member of Excelsior. His all-college point average is 3.68, and he belongs to the history major's honorary, Phi Alpha Theta. His fraternity is Theta Chi.

Correspondent Will Present L-C Program

Dwight Cooke, news analyst, correspondent and CBS radio forum chairman, will speak on "You and the World," in the Auditorium tonight at 8:15 on the Lecture-Concert Series.

On his program "You and the World," Cooke has interviewed leading authorities in politics, art, science, religion and other fields.

Cooke has gained a reputation for his on-the-spot broadcasts when news is in the making. He has broadcast from steel mills, railroad roundhouses and even a farmer's henhouse.

Students are admitted free to the lecture by presenting their ID card at the door.

U.S. production of scissors reached a peak of $18,555,000 in 1948.

Fraternities Explained Junior IFC

Gardiner Talks On Local System

The Junior Inter-Fraternity Council recently established the IFC held its first meeting Wednesday night. The guest speaker was Robb Gardiner, advisor of the IFC and assistant Dean of students. Gardiner told the group why the Michigan fraternity system is different from most others and the responsibilities of fraternities on campus.

The advisory committee on Junior IFC is Robb Gardiner, Philon; George G. G. Philon; John Will; Phil Delta Theta; Bob Greenwood; Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Will said the main purpose of the Junior IFC is to have pledge presidents become acquainted with the organizational structure and how it operates the fraternity activities on campus.

Officers will be elected from decision to see that any slim hopes of those entombed in
