ED NATIONS, N. Y. The United States rejected Sunday Soviet's new move to Security Council veto on President Eisenhower's peace plan.

U. S. sources expressed surprise at the move, which was made in the form of a resolution presented by the Soviet delegation in the Security Council on Sunday.

The Russian proposal was clearly suggested by the question back a few days ago that a Soviet proposal would be rejected.

WKAR Records Ford Grant Shows

By BARBRA ZUEGE
Eleven in a series of 13 one-half hour programs have been tape-recorded by WKAR toward fulfilling a grant received from the Ford Foundation.

The program, "Great Lakes Pathways to Progress," are sponsored by the Ford Foundation for Adult Education.

The Foundation, which is an independent organization set up by Ford, gives only a few of these grants-in-aid each year to stations throughout the country.

Instead of being divided geographically, each program will concentrate on a prominent activity or industry of the area.

Narrating the series is Tom Waber, an MSC alumnus from station WXYZ-TV in Detroit.

The script for the entire presentation was written by Al LaGuire, an MSC alumnus.

Adenauer Turns Down Reds' Offer

Calls Project A Hindrance

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany made plain Sunday it wants no part of Russia's projected all-European security conference—either Nov. 29 or later—at the price of delay in ratification of the Paris accords for German rearmament.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government rejected Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's conditional offer Saturday to postpone the security parley which Molotov originally proposed to be held in Moscow or Paris next week.

Molotov's condition was that the West, which had maintained no intention of attending such hurry-up talks until the Paris accords are out of the way, hold up the ratification.

In a statement paralleling views expressed in Washington, London and Paris, Adenauer's government said:

"This is simply a new attempt by the Soviets to hinder the ratification of the Paris agreements. Without doubt this represents an attempt by the Soviet Union to put very heavy pressure on the West.

"On the other hand, the Soviet Union is not prepared to make any real concessions to the West. In the event the Western Powers should abstain from ratifying the Paris agreements."

A change in the present German viewpoint toward the question of the ratification of the Paris agreements is therefore not to be expected.

Pete Krupezak, Port Huron graduate student, far out-distanced other Wolverine salesman to win a $25 gift certificate in last week's sales contest.

Over 230 sales were made during the week-long drive. Most of them were made by individual contacts through a table set up in Berkeley Tuesday and Wednesday and in dorms lobbies Wednesday evening.

All salesmen having cards and money to turn in should get them into the third floor office before Thanksgiving vacation.

About 25 salesmen participated in the contest with the prize being a gift certificate from an East Lansing clothing store.

Those who have not already purchased a yearbook will get another chance to do so during winter term registration. Another sales drive is planned for the last two weeks of January. Deadline for sales will be January 31.

MSC Has 265 Foreign Students

MSC has drawn students from the far corners of the earth this fall. About 265 students, representing 52 countries, are attending classes.

Canada, with 67 enrolled, contributes the largest percentage of foreign students. India and Columbia follow with 29 and 23 respectively. China and Iran are represented with 12 students each.

About half of the foreign students are undergraduates. They are studying in 75 different departments.

Full House Brightens 'S' Performance

Block S performed their last show of the season Saturday with a full house for the second time since the block was opened to all interested students.

A new stunt, centering around the 12 months of the year, was featured at half-time. Four months were cut from the program because of lack of time.

Block S participants tried something new by organizing a continuous chain of designs without the usual interruption of bending down to change cards.

Block S will continue their procedure next year of allowing non-members to participate by purchasing block tickets later in the week.

Only one person will direct Block S next year instead of the two directors, said Andy Foeller, assistant field director.

Passes Tell Tale; Lewis, Peaks Star

Departing Seniors Fail to Make Point

By CHUCK MILLER
State News Sports Editor

Over-shadowing the fact that Michigan State ended its most disastrous season since 1917 on a successful note with a 40-10 win over Marquette, was a preview of things to come.

The play of the juniors and sophomores was encouraging to previously disappointed Spartans.

Not a single point was scored by a departing senior, as underclassmen grabbed most of the honors of the game.

Individual statistics tell the story. In passing, State had its best day of the season, with 10 completions in 14 attempts for 298 yards and three scores.

Senior Al Fracassa completed two of three for 55 yards, and junior Earl Morrill and sophomore Pat Wilson turned in the rest.

Morrill had one of his best days, with four out of seven for 188 yards and three touchdowns, while Wilson completed all four of his tosses for 55 yards.

On the other end of the passing statistics, the story is the same, with the seniors contributing a minor part.

The big noise of the day was junior end, John Thunder Lewis, who caught only two passes, but spectacularly so.

On the first play for State, Morrill hit Lewis for a 59 yard touchdown. On the last play of the first quarter, the same combination clicked again—this time for a 63-yard scoring effort.

Co-Capt. Don Kauth and Bert Zagers, were the only seniors who figured in the pass receiving department.

Kauth caught one for four yards and Zagers got one for 38 yards. Two juniors and two sophomores did the rest of the pass catching.

Junior fullback Jerry Planutsa scored his first collegiate touchdown on a 62-yard pass play from Morrill, and junior end Dave Smith picked off a 17-yard pass from Fracassa on the next-to-the-last play of the game. It was the first time that Smith had ever been in a game.

Sophomore ends Dennis Mendyk and Lance Bernard caught eight and 10-yard passes to round out the Spartan receiving.

In rushing statistics, the same situation prevailed, with underclassmen outshining the seniors.

As a team, the Spartans rolled for 265 yards. Seniors picked up only 42 yards of this total.

Co-Capt. LeRoy Bolden carried twice for 10 yards. Zagers picked up seven in three tries, John Matsock got 13 in three rushes, Vic Postula gained 12 in five attempts and Fracassa ran the option once for eight yards.

By far the outstanding runner was sophomore Clarence Peuka, who picked up 150 yards and two touchdowns in six attempts.

Junior halfback Jerry Musetti showed plenty of sparkle and promise for next year. He picked up 40 yards and one touchdown on five rushes, caught two passes for 37 yards, converted his only extra point attempt, kicked off and played well on defense.

Offensive statistics are apt to be misleading however. They are not the only indication of a player's value to the team. The seniors were by no means left out of the winning effort.

From Fame to Famine For Football Fortunes

"Fame to Famine" might well be the theme of the 1954 Spartan football team. But one thing is certain—if spirit and will to win are what it takes to blow the Spartans out of the gridiron doldrums, the famine will be of short duration.

Duffy Daugherty and the team have made mistakes, but they have been first to admit their shortcomings. If they can profit from these errors, if the poor season can be thought of as an "investment," then there is no reason why there can't be successes in East Lansing again next year.

Speaking of successes... Congratulations are in order for Ohio State's Buckeyes, who overcame tradition and a powerful Michigan team to earn the Big 10 title.

a Rose Bowl trip and a possible national title.

"Go, Ohio—55-6," a strain from the Bucks' fight song exemplifies the good-luck wishes from the other Big 10 schools to Ohio State as it carries the conference banner to Pasadena.

But maybe the Buckeyes should heed this bit of advice from the Spartans—"Enjoy yourself, it's later than you think."

Already, Ohio has won all its regularly scheduled games and the Big 10 title, and has a good chance to add the national title and a Rose Bowl win.

The Spartans had experienced all of this—then came the crash.

Thus, Spartans wish the Buckeyes success, and at the same time give warning of the pitfalls that lie ahead.

And to themselves, the Spartans whisper these words of encouragement, "Wait 'til next year—we'll be back."

The KOLEMINE Vacation Days Look Different This Year

by JACK KOLM State News Editor-in-Chief

Flashback to 1953—a year ago, to be exact. The football season was over then, too, but what a difference.

Tension enveloped the campus all day Sunday and into the evening. Until 8:30.

Then the short announcement was flashed to the world from Chicago that Big 10 officials had broken a six-ballot deadlock and had voted to send Michigan State to the 1954 Rose Bowl.

Almost 10,000 students whooped it up for more than three hours after the good news came. They'd been waiting for it all day, hoping against hope that MSC would get the nod over Illinois. Both shared the championship with 5-1 records.

It was a credit to Spartans that they took the honor of the Rose Bowl nomination in stride.

They didn't hold up traffic on Grand River. Nor did they rear around the campus and East Lansing ripping things apart.

They simply let people know they had won. Since they restrained the usual childish pranks that go with such a great victory, MSC students were rewarded.

They were given all day Wednesday off, adding another 24 hours to the long-awaited Thanksgiving vacation.

The angle of victory remained on Monday. And students began to think more and more about the Rose Bowl. "How in the world am I going to get there," many a student asked.

Instead of the cold and snow usually associated with a northern New Year's Day, Spartans began to dream of sunny California skies and ocean swims in late December. More practical about things, a group of student leaders started to solve the problem of how to get there.

So came the announcement of the student trains and the dreams were fast entering reality.

Much different is the situation today. Another football season is over. And MSC has beaten Marquette by 40-10, compared to last year's 21-15 edge, by the way.

But instead of being tied for first, the Spartans are tied for eighth—with a 1-5 Big 10 record, just the reverse of 1953's 5-1.

Actually, it could be worse. Take the 1953 co-champion Illinois. They've finished in rock bottom for 1954—in 10th place with a 0-6 mark.

Today, as last year, Spartans are looking forward to Thanksgiving vacation—only this time they'll have to go to classes Wednesday.

Of course, they can rationalize by saying that since MSC couldn't have gone to the Bowl this time anyway, an extra day just wouldn't be in the books—even for a championship.

But many will stare dreamily at the bleak November sky and think of 1953's December sun.

Dixon-Yates--Preposterous?

To the Editor: While I do not presume to challenge your conclusions on the Dixon-Yates contract, I believe that an examination of the facts involved may be useful.

The facts surrounding this deal are bizarre and unusual. In June of 1954, the President directed the Atomic Energy Commission to enter into negotiations with the Dixon-Yates power company for the purchase of 600,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity.

The contract was to be made with a combine which was not yet organized and which, when organized, might stand in violation of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

The AEC was to enter into a contract before specifications for it had been drawn, and which—after they were drawn—were tailor-made to fit the proposal of only one company.

The contract was to be let without competitive bidding, despite the fact that another group (a Wall Street combine, not a fly-by-night outfit) was trying to submit a more favorable proposal.

The contract was to be let to Dixon-Yates, despite the fact that three out of five Atomic Energy Commissioners testified that they did not want the AEC to become a power "broker."

Here clearly was a huge bonanza accruing to a favored group, a bonanza for private gain at public expense.

The complications of this deal approach the preposterous.

The President directed an independent commission to enter into a contract for electric power or which the commission itself would not use.

The contract was to be made with a combine which was not yet organized and which, when organized, might stand in violation of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

The AEC was to enter into a contract before specifications for it had been drawn, and which—after they were drawn—were tailor-made to fit the proposal of only one company.

The contract was to be let without competitive bidding, despite the fact that another group (a Wall Street combine, not a fly-by-night outfit) was trying to submit a more favorable proposal.

The contract was to be let to Dixon-Yates, despite the fact that three out of five Atomic Energy Commissioners testified that they did not want the AEC to become a power "broker."

Here clearly was a huge bonanza accruing to a favored group, a bonanza for private gain at public expense.

The excess cost to the government of accepting this proposal, rather than adding another TVA plant, was estimated by the AEC and the President's own Budget Bureau to be more than 92 million dollars over the life of the contract.

According to TVA estimates, the excess cost would be closer to 140 million.

The only justification for an arrangement of this nature is the government's desire to secure a power source for the TVA in the nation's power development.

This deal cannot be justified as a business transaction. It is a political maneuver.

William L. Clayton, Jr., in the Republican Standard-Journal, has written a bitter opinion of this deal.

So was the deal a power grab by the Atomic Energy Commission?

On the other hand, the Fullbright and McMillan were in favor of the deal.

We are to let TVA to stop producing electricity to meet its own needs, and then to buy it back at a profit.

Let us not forget the fact that the TVA is a government-owned enterprise.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS DRAW RECORD FIELD

Schools Send 207 Runners for Meet

By NAL BATEMAN
Approximately 207 athletes representing 37 colleges and universities will start in the 16th running of the NCAA Country Championships today on Old College Field.

Over the four mile race will begin at 11:30 a.m. The field is the largest in the history and is expected to be of the tightest races in with an number of teams expected to take the title.

Oklahoma A & M Aggies and the Panthers are two of the top teams entered. The Aggies are undefeated in dual competition this season and have won the Big Seven title over Texas A & M, Oklahoma, Kansas and the Big Seven champion, Kansas.

The Aggies will be the favorite of Fred Eckhoff, Lambert and Bjorn Bogesen. The Panthers are undefeated in dual competition, but finished second in the Manhattan in the meet last Monday. The Panthers were over such Eastern teams as Manhattan State.

The Panthers will be led by Carl Schlademan, who finished second in the 4000 meter race at the Big 10 championships and in the IC4A title race.

Spartans have two men, Block and Kelly, who are expected to be among the leaders in the 4000 meter race.

Indiana's Lambert had his best for today's meet. Indiana's Lambert had one of the fastest four mile clockings of the season when he toured Chicago's Washington Park in 19:50.6. Lambert has looked good all season and had only one defeat, that coming at the hands of Moriya.

Other runners that could finish first are Oklahoma A & M's Eckhoff, Notre Dame's Squires, George King of New York University, Big Seven champion Allen Frame of Kansas and Rich Ferguson of Iowa.

In last years meet Kansas, led by Wes Santee, won the team title with 70 points. Indiana was second with 82 and Syracuse third with 94.

Michigan State finished sixth with 125.

The course and meet record was set in 1952 by Charlie Capozzoli of Georgetown with a clocking of 19:36.7.

Last year Santee won the individual title with a clocking of 19:43.5. He was followed by Kelly with a clocking of 19:56 with John Joe Barry of Villanova taking third in 20:01.

Among the teams that will not run today are the IC4A champions Manhattan and the Big 10 champion, Michigan.

This is the first time in the history of the meet that the Big 10 champion has not been represented.

Bleachers have been erected near the finish line for spectators and the progress of the race will be broadcast over the public address system.

Spectators will be able to see the first half and the last half mile of the race from the bleachers.

Peaks 'Surprises' Co-Captains Given Last Game Balls

By BOB HERMAN
State News Managing Editor
The Spartans topped both Marquette and all opponents for the season Saturday. The 40-10 victory gave Michigan State a nine-game total of 177 points against 149 for the opposition.

It helps support Duffy Daugherty's post-game statement that the Spartans were a better team than their three wins and six losses indicate.

Four of the defeats were by six points or less, while two of the wins, the Marquette game and the 54-7 slaughter of Washington State, accounted for more than half of the total points scored.

Lions Edge Green Bay; Rams Win
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The defending champion Detroit Lions, two-touchdown favorites over Green Bay, had their hands full Sunday before eking out a 21-17 victory over Bobby Layne's pair of scoring passes and his one yard sneak through the middle.

The game, rough all the way, ended in a midfield melee as the Lion's Lou Creekmar and the Packers' Stretch Elliott traded punches. A good share of the 20,767 fans in Cozy City Stadium swarmed onto the field, but impending trouble was averted by the officials.

The Packers lost a chance to spring the major upset of the National Football League season early in the fourth period when Max McGee, a good three steps ahead of the nearest Lion defender, dropped a perfect pass from Tobin Rote in the end zone.

The Lions led their seventh league conquest with a two-touchdown spurge in the second quarter after the Packers had taken an early lead. Green Bay narrowed its deficit to 14-10 at the half and the teams traded touchdowns in the third period. The loss was Green Bay's fifth in nine starts. Detroit kept its first place margin with a 7-1 record.

Daugherty, in the locker room after the game, called Peaks "a very pleasant surprise" to the Spartans coaches. Peaks would have been even better, Daugherty said, except for injuries which bothered him early in the season.

Co-Capt. Bolden and Kauff were awarded the game ball. MSC coaches said an extra football would be purchased.

Although Saturday's contest was the 24th game between Michigan State and Marquette, it was the first battle between the Spartans and the Warriors. Marquette this year chose the new "Warrior" nickname to replace the old "Hilltoppers" and "Golden Avalanche," which, they claimed were outdated and defied illustration.

Gerry Planutis' exuberant leaps and bounds through the end zone after he scored in the third period were in celebration of his first collegiate touchdown.

Planutis, a letter winner last year and a starter this year, has been a top Spartan scorer, but only as a point-after-touchdown and field goal kicker.

Whites Beat Greens, 66-65 Late Basket Wins Cage Contest

By JOE HOFFMAN
A hook shot by Duane Peterson with just 22 seconds remaining in the game gave the White squad a 66-65 victory over the Green team in Saturday's inter-squad basketball game.

The game was played as part of the second annual high school coaches clinic.

A record attendance of 245 coaches witnessed the game.

In addition to the coaches, a crowd of about 1200 fans witnessed the action.

Included among the fans were President John A. Hannah and his family.

As for the game itself, Peterson's hook shot marked the successful end of a determined comeback bid by the Whites, which saw them trail virtually throughout the entire game.

The Greens led 42-36 at half-time, and midway through the second half, they increased their lead to 11 points, only to have the Whites overtake them at the end of their one-point victory.

Julius McCoy, Al Ferrari, Duane Olson, Jim Raymond and Wayne Frankskoviak started for the green team.

For the winning whites it was Jim Harris, George Ferguson, Bob Devenny, Walter Godfrey and Peterson.

Oddly enough, the two high scorers in the game were both on the losing team.

McCoy and Ferrari accounted for 65 per cent of their team's scoring between them, with Ferrari netting 23 points and McCoy getting 19.

High scorers for the whites were Devenny with 17 points, Peterson with 11 and Godfrey with 10.

The game started off slowly, with both teams feeling the effects of playing on the fieldhouse for the first time this fall.

However, the game soon picked up its pace and developed into a high scoring first half.

In the second half, the teams concentrated more on defense which accounts for the low second half scores.

The accurate shooting and the fine defensive play of Olson were the major factors for the greens piling up their first half lead.

Ferrari made five field goals and seven-out-of-seven foul shots while Olson held his opposing center, Peterson, to but three points in the first half. Olson himself netted seven points.

In the second half, the white defense stiffened. Ferrari was held to seven points and the greens were held to 22.

Peterson netted four field goals in the second half while Devenny contributed nine points.

It was interesting to note that in the second half Peterson and Bob Armstrong, who are expected to battle it out for the center spot, were in the game at the same time for the whites. Peterson played center while Armstrong was at a forward spot. This might be an indication of things to come.

Armstrong is still a little weak from his attack of glandular fever, and he was used only sparingly in the game. It is hoped that he will be in top shape for the season's opener against Marquette on December 1.

After Peterson made his hook shot, the greens brought the ball down the floor, but a fumbled pass gave the ball back to the whites.

The clock ran out before the greens could again get their hands on the ball.

The Green team was coached by assistant coach John Benington, with freshman coach Bob Stevens handling the Whites.

Head coach Freddy Anderson termed the game as a "huge success." He was particularly pleased with the fine turnout.

As for the game, Anderson said "The teams were a little too offensive minded and didn't concentrate enough on defense."

"I was particularly pleased with the work of the centers," Anderson continued.

Asked about his starting lineup for the Marquette game, Anderson had this to say:

McCoy, Ferrari, Peterson and Godfrey are almost certain starters. The fifth spot is up for grabs between Devenny, Frankskoviak, Harris and Raymond.

Kellogg Draws 425 Michigan HS Principals Set Attendance Record

A new attendance record marked the 18th annual state-wide conference for high school principals and advisers at Kellogg Center over the week end.

Out-of-town visitors representing Michigan high schools and junior colleges totaled 425 principals and advisers, an increase of 100 over last year. Junior college deans were also invited to participate in the conference.

Student attendance fell short of the 2,200 expected to take part in the Saturday interviews. Only 1,500 students showed up for the morning interviews. Coordinator of High School Cooperation, Guy Hill, attributed the decrease to the fact that many students work over the weekend.

This was the first time in 10 years the conference was held over a weekend, Hill said. Next year, Hill plans to schedule the meetings during the week, to enable more students to attend.

President John A. Hannah introduced the discussion groups Friday evening by speaking on the common problems of education. All the college deans and the entire Basic College faculty attended the program.

Dr. Thomas Hale Hamilton, dean of Basic College, gave the major address at the Saturday luncheon in the Union Ball Room. Dean Hamilton stressed that a combination of general and special education would give the student the greatest benefit.

The program concluded with the principals and advisers attending the MSC-Marquette game following the luncheon.

fine performances on both offense and defense.

The seniors will be missed next year. There's little doubt about that.

However, the results of Saturday's game indicates that there are some very capable replacements.

Marquette was clearly out-classed, as the first two minutes illustrated.

The Spartans once more lost the flip and were forced to kick-off.

Sophomore center John Matko kicked to Jere Carmody, who was tackled on the Warrior 20 by Norm Masters. With Buck Nystrom and Masters making the stops, the Warriors were able to pick up only three yards in three tries, and were forced to punt.

State scored on the next play. It had taken less than three minutes for Michigan to prove it was the better team.

Marquette was not tough—even though the Spartans encouraged them and gave them many opportunities. The Warriors recovered six Spartan fumbles and intercepted one pass, but could convert the breaks into points only once, and then were forced to settle for a field goal.

Promenaders

Attend Convention: 'Swing' in Chicago

"Swing your partners, left and right," was the call that attracted the MSC Promenaders Square Dance Club to the fifth International Square Dance festival at Chicago recently.

Thirty-eight Lansing square dance enthusiasts took part in the event MSC students included: Phyllis Pearson, East Lansing junior; George Bubolz, Jr., East Lansing senior; Blaine Osborn, Lansing sophomore; Harold Rice, Lansing graduate student, and Mary Anne Durkee, East Lansing senior.

An estimated 25,000 dancers, callers and spectators attended the festival. A huge ho-down Saturday at the Chicago Amphitheater was directed by leaders from California, Texas, Connecticut and Canada.

Ag Board Member To Head Group

Sarah Van Hoozen Jones, member of MSC's governing body, the State Board of Agriculture, was chosen president of the Association of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions last week.

At a meeting in New York, the administrative group said it is against the best interests of higher education for governors or legislative agencies to try to dictate policies for colleges and Universities.

Policy formulation is "properly the function of governing boards," it was said. The Association adopted a resolution asking its officers and executive committee to study the situation further.

Students to Judge Stock in Chicago

Three teams will leave MSC this week to judge at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

The teams will compete with collegiate squads from all over the U. S. in judging poultry, livestock, and meats.

The poultry team is trying to get back into contention after a layoff since World War II. Last year, they placed 15th out of a field of 23.

There were more calls for flood relief throughout the world in the summer of 1954 than ever before in the history of the League of Red Cross Societies.
