Congress Sets Debate Deadline

Red Hunter Offers To Cancel 'Words'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) won Senate agreement Monday night to wind up debate and start voting Wednesday on the question of censuring him.

Sen. Langer (R-N.D.) blocked the move for a while, but withdrew his objection after earnest appeals on the Senate floor by Republican and Democratic leaders—as well as by McCarthy and his supporters.

The action came after McCarthy, his right arm in a sling, dramatically offered to withdraw any "discourteous and offensive" language of the kind that led to the filing of censure charges against him.

At the same time the Wisconsin senator refused to back down an inch from the views and actions reflected in those words of his.

"In the facts and opinions that I hold, I am unchanged," declared McCarthy, a slow-gaited figure of apparent weariness as the resumed Senate debate on the censure charges dragged through an all afternoon and early evening session.

Langer never did say why he objected to McCarthy's cut-throat proposal. Apparently, though, he was simply tired of the long wrangling that had been going on over the wording of the resolution.

McCarthy tried at one point to get in a proviso that he could file some censure charges of his own against his accusers.

Under the rules, this would give those accused—McCarthy named Sens. Flanders (R-Vt.), Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Morse (Ind-Ore.)—as likely targets—only 30 minutes to defend themselves.

The final agreement to limit debate was sponsored jointly by GOP Leader, Knowland, of California, and Democratic Leader, Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Essentially the same as when McCarthy first introduced it, it provides:

1. Debating time will be divided equally between those favoring and those opposing the McCarthy censure resolution, starting at 10 a. m. (EST) Tuesday. Knowland and Johnson get the job of apportioning the time among those who want to speak.
2. The Senate will proceed to vote at 3 p. m. (EST) Wednesday.
3. Before any actual voting takes place, however, there will be more, but strictly limited debate—a total of 60 minutes for each amendment or motion, a total of four hours for each substitute motion.

Inmates Riot in New Jersey Hospital

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Twenty-three insane criminals, including killer Howard Unruh, rioted Monday for two hours at the New Jersey State Hospital for the Criminally Insane. Unruh, described by officials as a disinterested participant, was committed to the hospital five years ago after he killed 13 persons in a shooting spree at Camden.

Free Rides' Hit Growing Pains For Colleges

Two and three times the present number of students will be swarming over campuses throughout Michigan in the next few years.

The Interim Committee on Higher Education, in its preliminary report for the Legislature, sees twice the current enrollment within six years, and a better than three times increase by 1970.

The state's two largest schools, MSC and the U of M, were only briefly mentioned in the report which offered both superficial "How far can we stretch our dollar?" solutions and a discussion of the basic problems involved.

Professional training at MSC and the U of M would presumably be emphasized if the Legislature carries out one committee suggestion preventing the teacher-training colleges from adding professional schools.

But the preliminary report did seek to broaden the curriculum of the state's four education colleges by expanding them into general liberal arts colleges. They would then, the study committee said, be able to accommodate an extra 10,000 students.

The group went to the heart of the financing problem by asking if the state has the obligation to provide free college educations in the sense that high school training is offered.

Their decision was that it does not have that obligation. Michigan, Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) said, is "getting closer and closer to where the needs test is non-existent both on scholarships and tuition."

Although ability to pay shouldn't be the criterion for a college education, the committee said, "free rides" should be cut down or discontinued.

There should be some increase in college tuitions, they said, "to meet the lower value of the dollar." Each dollar of tuition paid by state residents is currently augmented by an approximate five-dollar state appropriation.

The committee also decided the two-year community and junior colleges were primarily a local responsibility. But it did propose legislation to make possible cooperative financing of the JC's and community colleges by more than one local unit.

The committee will probably find, though, that some of its easy and inexpensive ways out will get an unenthusiastic reception from educators.

It suggested the possibility of using television, radio and extension courses in place of one year of on-campus training.

And, although the extra students will require a fuller use of existing facilities, the suggestion that classrooms be used in two shifts will probably be coldly received, too.

Armstrong's Death State Board Loses Veteran Member

Michigan State lost a leader Friday. Winfred G. Armstrong, 78, who died at his Homestead, Fla., home, had been a member of the State Board of Agriculture, MSC's governing body, for 11 years.

"Throughout that time, he gave freely of his energy and his wisdom," President John A. Hannah said. "Many of the things which have been accomplished here can be credited to his account."

Mr. Armstrong will be greatly missed in Michigan, especially on the campus which he first knew as a student, and which came to know him as a true friend and wise counselor with a deep interest in students and their welfare.

Armstrong's interest and work in agriculture extended over an even longer period.

He was Master of the Michigan State Grange from 1939 to 1952 and was treasurer of the National Grange for 10 years. Born in Berrien Springs in 1876, Armstrong was a lifelong resident of Berrien County. He was a rural mail carrier in the county for 23 years.

Place 5th, 8th in Philadelphia Kennedy, Jones Finish High in National AAU Meet

Spartan freshman Henry Kennedy and sophomore Selwyn Jones finished fifth and eighth in the Senior National AAU 10,000 meter cross country championships held Sunday in Philadelphia's Fairmount Park.
Kennedy finished approximately 170 yards behind the winner, Gordon McKenzie of the New York Pioneer Club, with a time of 29:59.
McKenzie's winning time was 29:27.5. Jones was approximately 150 yards behind Kennedy at the finish with a clocking of 30:33.
Kennedy led from the starting gun and held that position until the mile and a half marker where McKenzie took the lead.
Kennedy placed eighth in last year's race while Jones was 13th. Both men ran unattached because Kennedy is a freshman and Jones was an individual entry.

Delbert N. De Young received a B.S. in Chem. Eng. from the University of Wisconsin last June. Now he is working for an M.S. degree. By asking questions, he's learned that many excellent industrial opportunities are passed over because they're not understood by the average undergraduate.

Clarence "Ding" Bell answers:

Well, if I said "All sorts," it might sound a bit vague to you, Del, but it would be very close to the truth. That's because technical sales work at Du Pont—bearing in mind the great diversity of products we have—is broader in scope than a lot of other technical assignments, and requires additional talents.
Let's suppose that one of Du Pont's customers is having technical difficulties—needs help in adapting "Teflon" to a specific gasketing application, for example. When our sales representative calls, he naturally must carry with him the engineering knowledge that's the basis for sound technical advice—data on flexural fatigue, chemical passivity, and deformation under load. The customer is receptive. He wants to make a better product, increase his sales, reduce costs—or do all three. Naturally, he's looking for reliable technical advice and intelligent actions that apply to his specific conditions. With the cooperation of the customer and help from our own research people, when necessary, the problem will sooner or later be "licked."
We have found, though, that if a technical service man is going to be truly effective in such a situation, he must possess certain human qualities in addition to his technical ability. That is, he must really like people and be sincerely interested in helping them solve their problems. He must—in every sense of the word—be an "ambassador" who can handle human relationships smoothly and effectively.
Take the depth suggested by this simple example, Del, and multiply it by a breadth representing all the challenging problems you'll run into with Du Pont's diversity of products. If your slide rule isn't too far out of alignment, the resulting area should give you some idea of what I meant by "all sorts" of work.
Let me emphasize one more point. The importance of effective sales work is fully understood and appreciated at Du Pont! In the past, sales work has been one of the active roads to top management jobs. There is every reason to believe that this will continue in the future.

Enter AAA Competition Denver Receives Blues' Franchise

By The Associated Press
The New York Yankees Monday sold their American Ass'n. franchise to Denver in the first chain reaction to the shift of the Philadelphia A's to Kansas City.
Although no sale price was announced, the asking figures had been $100,000. It was reported the Yanks settled for something less than that figure.
Bob Howsam, Denver general manager and a son-in-law of Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), will operate the club under a working agreement with the Yankees who will provide the players and manager. The Yanks owned the Kansas City franchise in the association but stepped aside for Arnold Johnson and the A's.
The definite move by the Yanks who no longer own any triple A franchise should break the log jam in the minors, dating back to the involved Philadelphia A's story.

Sheppard's 'Injuries' Decried

Exaggeration Claimed by State

CLEVELAND (AP)—A physician who examined Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard after his wife's murder, testified Monday the osteopath showed no signs of serious injury—such as a broken neck or an injured spine.

Instead, Dr. Richard Hexter, a general practitioner, said Sheppard's pulse, respiration and blood pressure were normal last July 4 after he claims a stranger killed his pregnant wife, Marilyn, and twice knocked him unconscious.

Dr. Sheppard wore a neck brace for weeks after the murder and said his neck was painfully injured.

"I didn't notice any contusions or abrasions on the back of his neck," Dr. Hexter testified of his examination July 4, "and I didn't observe any swelling."

The state claims that the 30-year-old osteopath himself beat his 31-year-old wife to death in her bed after a quarrel over his love affairs with other women.

Dr. Sheppard now is in the seventh week of a first degree murder trial for his life.

Dr. Hexter examined Sheppard the afternoon of July 4. He was the first physician called in by the coroner to check on Sheppard's injuries.

The state suggested the injuries were feigned, or exaggerated.

Dr. Hexter testified Sheppard's brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard, told him there was a vertebra fracture in the neck—a break in one of the small bones.

But Corrigan brought out that Hexter told a coroner's inquest Dr. Steve assured him there were no fractures anywhere on the defendant.

Grandmother 'Blue Beard' Stops Smiling

Fed Rat Poison To Her Husband

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The smile that wreathed Mrs. Nannie Doss' plump face through cheerful confessions that she poisoned four of her five husbands vanished Monday at her arraignment on a murder charge.

The 49-year-old grandmother stood solemnly in Common Pleas Court as Judge Lloyd H. McGuire read the information accusing her of the death of her fifth spouse, appointed a defense attorney and ordered her jailed without bond.

Her attorney, Gordon Fatten, indicated Mrs. Doss' defense against the charge she murdered Samuel Doss, 58-year-old Tulsan who died Oct. 6, probably will be based on an insanity claim.

The chatty, merry widow signed statements yesterday admitting she put liquid rat poison in the food and drink of Doss, who, she said, was "mean" and "got on my nerves."

She admitted killing three previous mates the same way.

Interrogators, who have said at least four other persons once closely associated with the defendant died strange deaths, quoted the gum-chewing Mrs. Doss after her last confession as saying:

"You can dig up all the other graves in the world but you won't find anything else on me."

Centennial Issue

Planning Begins For Stamp Debut

Planning was started Monday to note the new U.S. stamp honoring the founding of MSC and Pennsylvania State University.

A committee to plan details for a Feb. 12 program was announced by Alvie L. Smith, Centennial director.

The group will include Clifford W. Duncan, professor of agricultural chemistry, chairman; Paul Morrison, professor of geography; Malcolm Trout, dairy professor; Charles Ball, professor of chemistry, and Bonnie Stewart, professor of mathematics.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield is expected to make the official presentation of the new stamp jointly to President John A. Hannah and Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State, Smith said.

The new stamp was approved by the Postmaster General on Oct. 28.

The ceremony will be held in connection with Founder's Day, the opening event of the Centennial year. Arthur Warner, assistant professor of general business, will act as co-ordinator for the two programs.

Safety Award Presented to College Station

For the second time in two years WKAR received a National Safety Council Public Interest Award for exceptional service to farm safety.

WKAR was one of 24 radio stations and three television stations to receive awards at a Council meeting for members of the National Association of Television and Radio Farm Directors Sunday in Chicago.

The college station was cited for its references to farm safety during 1954, preparation of farm safety programs for state distribution and special safety programs during National Safety Week.

Former Red Prisoner To Sub for Stringfellow

American correspondent Richard Applegate will fill the Lecture-Concert series vacancy left by the cancellation of a talk by former Utah Congressman Douglas Stringfellow.

Applegate was held captive for 18 months by Chinese Reds. His speech, Feb. 21, will be on "What I Saw in Red China", Series Director Dean Stanley Crowe announced Monday.

When seized by a Red gunboat in international waters near

Hong Kong in 1953, Applegate was a correspondent for NBC.

Stringfellow's talk, replaced by Applegate, was cancelled this fall when Stringfellow confessed to using a phony war hero record for publicity and resigned as U. S. congressman.

Stringfellow had posed as an OSS agent and hero of World War II until his story was questioned by the Army Times.
