Mistletoe, Too Christmas Spirit To Brighten Parties

Christmas and exams are stepping into the MSC calendar, but fall weekend parties have not completely stepped out.

Frosted windows and Christmas balls suspended from a green and white imitation ceiling will decorate the Delta Gamma and Kappa Kappa Gamma term party, "Mistletoe Magic." Mistletoe and a large Christmas tree will also set the season atmosphere. The dance will be held in East Lansing, Saturday night. Gary Culter's orchestra will furnish the music.

Union Board heads the list of record dances. It will sponsor an all-college record dance Friday from 9 to 12 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Coeds pinned to Delta Chi will sponsor a record dance for the fraternity at the Delta Chi house Saturday. Entertainment will include music by the Delta Chi combo.

East and West Shaw will hold their weekly record dance from 9 to 12 p.m. Friday in Shaw's lounge. Butterfield will hold a record dance in Brody hall, Saturday from 9 to 12 p.m.

Santa Claus will be a feature at the Alpha Gamma Rho record dance Saturday. The AGE's will have their house decked with mistletoe for the party.

"Make-believe Indians for one night," otherwise known as DU's will be honored by their pledges at an "Apache" costume party Saturday night, given in their honor by their pledges, but the decorations and entertainment will be a surprise.

Theta Chi pledges will entertain their actives Saturday night after the varsity basketball game.

Members of Phi Delta Theta and their dates will have an informal get-together and tree-trimming party Saturday night at the fraternity house.

Rather, Butterfield and Bryan Halls will entertain underprivileged children with a party at Brody Hall Saturday.

Delta Zeta and Theta Chi will also entertain children with a Christmas party Saturday afternoon.

Strictly From MARs

By MARY ALICE RITCHLIN
State News Society Editor

Christmas is coming, and along with good cheer, parties, and yuletide carols comes shopping. What to get for whom? is the question of the month.

Therefore I decided to play "Santa Claus" and aid coeds with their shopping lists by interviewing a few "eligible" Spartan males. The majority of the requests ranged from electric blankets for cold fraternity dormers to just plain Marilyn Monroe in a stocking, but here are a few unusual tips offered.

A pair of chartreuse Bermuda shorts would suit Johnny Walker while Bert Gerber confided he'd like a five-foot-five red head or five-foot-nine blonde all wrapped up underneath his Christmas tree. A little more difficult was Bill Thistle's request. He wants a box of sleeping pills immersed in egg nog.

"I'm waiting for the veteran's bonus," stated Jack Kole. And Bob Sneli has high hopes of two women dormitories, "East and West Snell."

Doug Coater would like a clock to put up on the third floor of the Union (since the Wolverine staff is always late for classes). Yet Buck Nyström would just be satisfied with one right front tooth.

"A home ec and art major with dark hair and blonde eyes," was Bob Brubaker's wish while Greg Stecker prefers a book of "Ted Keen and the Cave of the Wombats."

Red flannel underwear would please Johnny Rogers just fine. But Jack Strasser thought that artificial snow with which to snow instructors would be excellent.

Dorms Plan Publications

Women dormitory residents will be kept posted on events within their own units next term via intra-dorm newspapers.

Angie Jakobowski, Inkster senior and president of West Lansing, announced that tentative plans have been set up by women's dorm publicity chairmen to publish papers in an effort to bring the residents closer together.

In addition, an exchange newspaper system may be set up which will allow dorms to see what is going on in the other coed units.

CSF to Hold Freedom Convo

A study conference on Academic Freedom will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Albion college. The conference, in conjunction with Christian Student Foundation, is open to all MSC students.

Resource leaders of the conference will be Dr. Robert Hamill, pastor of the Ottawa Street Methodist Church in Joliet, Ill., and Jameson Jones, former president of the national Methodist Student Movement.

Sports COED CORNER

The newly organized Spartan Badminton Club will hold its first open meeting Friday at Jensen from 7 to 9 p.m.

Recently elected club officers are: president, Bill Coyne, Ferrisdale sophomore; vice-president, Jeanne Coyne, Detroit freshman; secretary, Marjorie Heinbecker, Ferrisdale sophomore; and treasurer, Tin Yue Hong Kong, China, junior.

All students and faculty interested in badminton are invited to attend.

North Williams won the IM Volleyball Tournament Championship recently by defeating Kappa Alpha Theta 44-18. Theta was the winner of the sorority book.

Green Splash and Ingham County Red Cross will play host to men and women, high school and college students, at the Synchronized Swimming Clinic Friday and Saturday in the Women's Gym. Lectures and demonstrations by swimming coaches will be held for the group with actual participation by the audience on Saturday. Students will be present from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois schools.

To those interested in advanced academic study while associated with important research and development in industry, Hughes offers two separate practical programs:

HUGHES COOPERATIVE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

for Master of Science Degrees

Eligible for these Fellowships are those who have completed one year of graduate study in physics or engineering. Successful candidates must qualify for graduate standing at the California Institute of Technology for study toward the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or post-doctoral work. Fellows may pursue graduate research in the fields of physics or engineering. During summers they will work full time in the Hughes Laboratories in association with scientists and engineers in their fields.

Each appointment is for twelve months and provides a cash award of not less than $2,000, a salary of not less than $1,500, and $1,500 for tuition and research expenses. A suitable adjustment is made when financial responsibilities of the fellow might otherwise preclude participation in the program. # College Funds Lend Helping Hand

Nothing is free, according to current opinion—and students understand this even more when they attend college.

The college, realizing this problem, offers scholarships to students in financial need. At present there are 2,500 students holding scholarships. This year 451 freshmen took advantage of MSC entrance scholarships providing tuition funds.

The present policy stresses the qualification of financial need for the scholarship applicant. When the scholarships were established in 1940, the student was considered on his outstanding scholastic and activity achievement in high school.

"Now the scholarships are set up to emphasize those students who are in dire need of financial aid," Mrs. Henrietta Barnes, scholarship office secretary, explained.

Honor awards are provided for outstanding high school seniors who possess sufficient funds for college. This award gives them scholarship standing in college and further specifies that they will receive financial help if at any time they are in need.

Once a student is in college on a scholarship it is not easy sledding. To retain entrance scholarships the student must have a 2.6 all-college average at the end of one year.

The 4-H Club also awards a tuition scholarship given to prospective college students through the 4-H office in Agriculture Hall.

Aids which do not emphasize the maintenance of an outstanding scholastic record are granted to students who contribute to MSC through extra-curricular activities, including dramatics, publications and debate.

Alumni groups also provide scholarships for noteworthy students who have held top records in high school. Departmental grants to upper classmen are donated by outside enterprises for students majoring in particular fields.

Besides the entrance aid, there are 50 term-to-term scholarships which apply to on-campus students. These awards are particularly slanted towards the student who works part time and is outstanding in citizenship on campus.

Other scholarships available include foreign tuition grants which are awarded to foreign students recommended by the Institute of International Education. After a year at MSC any foreign student may apply for a scholarship if he has maintained the proper qualifications.

Which One's the Male? Guess, Then Check Your Answer With Page Six.

'Shaggy Dog' Cutting Remarks Greet Haircut

"Women should be women, men should be men—and never the twain shall meet," said one MSC student in regards to the "boy haircuts" which have become the latest coed fad.

Every day another coed walks into the grill or classes with her hair whacked off in little boy styles. These hair-dos include a cut with pixie-like bangs and little else, or the more common ducktail bob.

Most of the males raise a disapproving—but interested—eyebrow and come up with the following comments:

"My dog has more sex appeal than the average coed with a shaggy dog haircut."

"A beautiful woman, just isn't, without long hair," said one soulful male as he commented on the close cropped heads he had seen.

On the defensive, one male said he thought it made the "girls look more chic," (by the way, it was his first term of French.)

"I like them because I never have to worry about offering girls seats on buses anymore," said one advocate of the haircuts who had practical interests in mind.

A coed was inclined to agree with him, saying that she thought they robbed women of their femininity. "They want all the social niceties and respect granted to women, yet they turn around and try to look like men," she said.

"At least my girl can't give me the excuse that she was fixing her hair when she's 15 minutes late for a date—she doesn't have any hair to fix," said another MSC male.

Another coed with long tresses said, "I like short hair—but it makes my ears stick out."

"I'm just waiting for a coed to walk in with a Marlon Brando 'Napoleon' cut. You know, with the long strand down the middle of her forehead," said a male who was obviously inspired by the show, "Desiree."

"I think d.a. haircuts are fine on girls but look obnoxious on boys," said one student, which leads us to a discussion of opposites—boys with long hair.

The d.a.—short on top with long flowing sides that form a ducktail in back—got its start during World War II when teenage hoodlum gangs started using it as their trademark. Girls who copied this style were looked at with disdain until the last two years when the fashionable haircut came into its own.

It is hard to say just when men started copying the d.a. and when they developed for the even shorter pixie than cuts.

Foreign movie stars like Audrey Hepburn, Leda and Jean Marie did a lot to inspire the carelessly cropped look. Models began to wear such styles and they spread throughout the world. Marlon Brando is the Roman look for his hair in "Julius Caesar."

Both hair styles usually of no part. The hair is cut short and then brushed to the side. The pixie cut sports a slight effect on the sides and bangs, while the Roman cut is straighter bangs and a head.

With shorter and shorter cuts the question is what an MSC male had one when he said with a shrug, "There's still the shaved head."

An Eye for an Eye Says Professor

Some professors evidently do not appreciate a student's interest in the higher arts of learning. One professor completely lost his train of thought watching a student extend his arm back and forth while he centered his attention on the pencil held in his hand.

After several repetitions of this curious gesture the professor stopped the class to ask the reason for this behavior. "I am simply measuring the depth field of my left eye," the student answered innocently. However, the professor and the student apparently did not see eye to eye, because the experimenting young man was asked to leave the class.

The Myriad

By MYRA MACPHERSON
State News Feature Editor

Angel hair clouds, big wreaths, painted doors, sparkling Christmas trees, snow on the ground... Despite final exams, MSC students and the weatherman seem to be doing their best to spread the Christmas spirit...

I wonder who spent all their Thanksgiving time decorating the Union? The industrious person who copied "Twas the Night Before Christmas" on cardboard to encircle the poles in the concourse was quite ingenious I think. But perhaps one of the reindeer might be offended.

In the midst of "Now Dasher, now Dancer, now Prancer and Vixen," the pen must have slipped because the next line says "On Comet," rather than "On Comet." Oh well, just a comment...

I think one of the best exponents of the true Yuletide feeling was a little old lady I noticed in Detroit over Thanksgiving vacation. She seemed oblivious to the commercial touch that is fostered during the pre-season Christmas rush with its impatient salesclerks and still more impatient buyers.

She walked alone through the mass of children who were running around the toy department of this particular store. She halted her slow gate ever so often to look at some toy or holiday decoration.

After awhile she walked slowly over to the most crowded section of the floor. A smile played around her face as she tugged on the floor walker's arm and in broken English asked, "Is this the way to Santa Claus?"

DECEMBER AND MAY: ACT I

Of all the creatures that inhabit the earth, none is so far, so toothsome, as a coed.

This is a simple fact, well-known to every campus male and most campus males, a source of rejoicing. But not to all. To the creamy brows and twinkling limbs of coeds are a heavy burden. To whom? To professors, that is whom.

Professors, according to latest statistics, are human, and they bleed, pinch them and they hurt, tug a nerve and they salivate, confront them with a round young nose and their ears go back, even as yours and mine.

But, by and large, they contain themselves. After all, the men of high principle and decorum, and besides, the beard of men has got stooled all over. So, by and large, they contain themselves. But not always. Every now and then a coed will come along just too gorgeous to resist, and a professor, his right eye from years of struggle—will slip and fall. While thought multitudinous though his degrees, Phi Beta Kappa thought he is as lovesick, moonstruck, and impaled as any freshman.

But he's far worse off than any freshman. After all, a coed can thump his leg, put on his linen duster, and take out the coed with mad abandon. But what can the poor wretched professor, in his position, can he go courting a young girl under a difficult question. I will relate to you, in the form of a two act account of a professor's attempt to woo a coed.

The scene is a typical office in a typical liberal arts building, a typical campus. In this shabby setting, we find two men, Philip Twonkey and Phipps. They are lumpy and bent, in the manner of English lit professors.

PHIPPS: Twonkey, a terrible thing has happened to me. A ghastly thing! I've fallen in love with a coed!

TWONKEY: Now, now, that's not so terrible.

PHIPPS: Oh, but it is. Miss McFetridge, for that is her name, a student, a girl of nineteen. How would her parents feel if I knew I was gawking at her and refusing my food and wearing name on frosty windowpanes with my fingernails?

TWONKEY: Come now, Phipps, no need to carry on so. The first teacher to cast warm eyes at a coed, you know.

PHIPPS: You mean it's happened to you too?

TWONKEY: But of course. Many times.

PHIPPS: What did you do about it?

TWONKEY: Looked at her knees. It never fails. Phipps, you know how pretty a girl is, her knees are bound to be lovely and the least romantic of objects.

PHIPPS: Not Miss McFetridge's—for that is her name. The soft and round and dimpled. Also pink.

TWONKEY: Really? Well, I'll tell you something. Phipps, ever found a girl with pink knees. I'd marry her!

PHIPPS: It is my fondest wish, but how can I, a professor of start a courtship with a girl of 19?

TWONKEY: Very simple. Ask her to come to your office conference late tomorrow afternoon. When she arrives, be charming. Ask her to sit down. Give her a cigarette.

PHIPPS: A Philip Morris.

TWONKEY: But of course.

PHIPPS: I just wanted to be sure you mentioned the name. Paying for this column.

TWONKEY: Give her a Philip Morris.

PHIPPS: That's right.

TWONKEY: Then light her Philip Morris and light one yourself. Say some frightfully witty things about English lit. Be innocent. Keep her laughing for an hour or so. Then look at her watch. Cry out in surprise that you had no idea it was so naughty. Ask her if she'd like to see it.

PHIPPS: Yes, yes!

TWONKEY: On the way home, drive past that movie house that shows French films. Stop your car, as though on a sudden. Tell her that you've heard the movie was delightfully naughty. Ask her if she'd like to see it.

PHIPPS: Yes, yes!

TWONKEY: After the movie, say to her in a jocular, offhand way that after such a fine French movie, the only logical thing to do is a fine French dinner. Take her to a fancy little place and dine with candles and checked tablecloths. Phipps, her wish is Philip Morris. Be witty. Be gay. Be Gallic... How can a young girl resist such blandishments?

PHIPPS: Twonkey, you're a genius! This will be like shooting in a barrel... But I wonder if it isn't taking unfair advantage of the poor little innocent.

TWONKEY: Nonsense, Phipps. All's fair in love and war.

PHIPPS: You're right, by George. I'll do it!

(So ends Act I. Next week, Act II)

This column is brought to you by the makers of PHILIP MORRIS who think you would enjoy their cigarettes.

MCCOY, FERRARI LEAD SPARTANS TO RECORD

Marquette Killed in 72 Rout

Fast Break Shines; Julius Scores 31

By DONN SHELTON

Ferrari and Julius McCoy poured in 56 points before them to pace the Spartans to a record-breaking 91-72 win over Marquette Wednesday night.

Using their new fast break to near perfection, the Spartans hit on 46 per cent of shots to set a new school record and make Head Coach Fordey Anderson's debut successful.

McCoy scored 31 points on 12 goals and seven free throws, Ferrari had nine field goals and seven free throws for his 25 points.

Raymond, who scored six points all night, sank a record shattering basket on the shot with 57 seconds left in the game.

McCoy and Ferrari led the way, the Spartans up a 10-point lead half-through the first half and maintained it until halftime.

McCoy scored 12 points in the three minutes of the first half to give the Spartans a 50-26 lead.

During the intermission, the Spartans cooled off and the game pushed to within six points of the lead early in the second half.

McCoy and Ferrari were in a six point spurge by the Spartans, the Spartans jumped the Spartans to 12 points and they led the margin steadily until the game's end.

Mrs. Heisman Agrees Honors to Ameche Are No Surprise

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A veteran football fan in northern Wisconsin said Wednesday she wasn't at all surprised at Alan Ameche's selection as winner of the 20th annual Heisman Trophy.

"I had selected him myself," said little Mrs. John Heisman, widow of the former director of the New York Downtown Athletic Club, who has lived in Rhineland, Wis., with her sisters since her husband's death in 1936.

"You know," she continued in a telephone interview, "I think I'm going to send him a telegram. I've never done that before in all the years the trophy has been given, but since he's a Wisconsin boy I believe I'm going to do it."

Mrs. Heisman declined to disclose her age, but admitted "I'm older than that" when told the interviewer's mother was 79.

Still a football fan despite her advancing years, Mrs. Heisman said she heard of Ameche's name Tuesday night on the radio.

"You know, I actually had chosen," she said. "The others were Tom Bettis of Purdue and Hopalong Cassidy of Ohio State. But I think Ameche was the one that should have won."

The award dinner is scheduled this year for Dec. 9 in New York. Mrs. Heisman's husband, a 134-pound tackle when he played for the University of Pennsylvania in 1890, is buried in Rhineland. He turned to coaching after obtaining a law degree in 1891, as the result of damage to his eyes suffered by poor lighting during an indoor football game at old Madison Square Garden between Penn and Princeton.

Heisman coached at Oberlin, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson and Rice until his retirement in 1927.

Anderson Well Liked By Fans

It took just one game for Spartan fans to develop a liking for their new basketball coach and his ways.

They gave Fordey Anderson a standing ovation prior to the game, and another one to him and the team after they had shattered the school's scoring record.

The fans were clearly enthusiastic over the new fast paced attack and its results.

In addition to breaking the Spartan team scoring record, the final total score was also the highest in any MSC game.

Season's firsts registered Wednesday night included, the first score, by Duane Peterson, the first score under the new foul shooting rule, by Bob Devenny and those two Spartans combined to control the initial tip-off.

Varsity Club Queen Joan Wenzel officially opened the basketball season by tossing up the first ball.

Jim Enright, the rotund and vociferous referee, brought roars of both laughter and boos from the crowd with his officiating histrionics.

He indicated his calls in a voice that could be heard in every corner of Jensen Fieldhouse and with motions that threatened at times to dispirit him.

In other basketball action Wednesday, the University of Detroit (Saturday's Spartan opponent) beat Assumption College, 70-61.

The other future opponents of the Spartans, Ohio State and Iowa, also won their opening games.

The Buckeyes squeaked by Pittsburgh, with Robin Freeman netting 42 points. Iowa had an easy time with Washington, winning 80-61.

Heisman coached at Oberlin, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson and Rice until his retirement in 1927.

'Mural Sidelights' Senior Elected Captain

Winners were declared in three symbiastic events Wednesday afternoon.

On the side horse, the winner was Nick Smith, with Tom MacDonald finishing second.

The horizontal bar event was won by Tony Wilson, with Nick Smith finishing second.

Smith and Dick Wetherall won the doubles tumbling event. Second place went to Roy Barota and Robert Chapman.

The semi-finals in both the boxing and wrestling events will be held this afternoon in Jensen at 4:30.

'Turley' Deal Completed

HOUSTON (AP)—The New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles finally completed their 18-man "Bob Turley" deal Wednesday.

Infielder Kal Segrist, 291 at Kansas City, infielder Don Lempert, 313 at Birmingham and lefthanded pitcher Bill Miller, 9-1 go to the Yanks.

First baseman Dick Kryhoski, 260 at Baltimore, a former Yankee, returns to New York. Pitcher Mike Blyzka, 1-5 at Baltimore, outfielder Jim Fridley, 247 at Baltimore and catcher Darrell Johnson, 252 at Richmond go to the Yanks' American Assn. farm.

Now Denver but formerly the Kansas City Blues, centerfielder Ted Del Greco, 321 at Wichita in the Western League goes to the Yanks' Birmingham farm in the Southern Assn.

Senior Elected Captain

John Brogan to Lead Netters

John Brogan, a senior from East Lansing, has been elected captain of the 1955 tennis team. Head Coach Frank Beeman announced the selection of Brogan following a meeting of the team Monday night.

Brogan played at the No. 5 singles spot last year. John's brother, Dave, is also a member of the squad. He played No. 3 singles last year.

Although the regular season doesn't begin until spring term, the squad has just completed its annual fall tournament to decide which players would make the southern trip during spring vacation.

Tossin' Texan

By completing two scoring passes in Detroit's 28-24 triumph over Green Bay, Bobby Layne has amassed a total of 101 TD aerials in his pro career. Only Sammy Baugh with 187 and Sid Luckman with 130 have outdistanced the Lion star.

The team will have one of the toughest records of all Spartan teams to shoot at. Past squads have won the Big 10 Championship once, taken second place twice and third once.

Along with the two Brogans, Dick Mense, Fred Levine, Jim Beachum, George Stepanovic, Bob Brown and Ralph Braden will make the spring trip.

Menzel and Dave Brogan will probably battle it out for the No. 1 singles spot, with the other positions up for grabs.

Foreign Students To Get 'Inside View'

Foreign students from colleges and universities throughout the country will get an inside picture of life in the Midwest during the coming holiday season.

The Continuing Education Service of MSC will sponsor its second annual Christmas Adventure for 120 foreign students, beginning December 22 and ending January 1.

Applications from students are now being considered by the selections committee headed by John R. Stewart, director of scholarships. Announcement of selections will be made by December 10.

The 10-day adventure will include overnight stays with farm families in Central Michigan, visits to business and industrial concerns, including a tour of the automobile factory in Lansing; seminars with nationally-known personalities, and social activities.

The group's headquarters will be at Kellogg Center, but much of the students' time will be spent in private homes chosen by the Lansing Council of Churches. Christmas Eve will be spent in the homes, while Christmas Day will be observed at the Center.

Cost of the adventure is $85 per student. Several scholarships are available, and additional funds are being solicited from individuals, industry and business throughout the state.

Russell Kreis, head of the Continuing Education Service programming department is the director, and Louise Carpenter, foreign student advisor, is general chairman.

Steeres to Discuss Work of Biology Group

Dr. William Steeres, program director of the systematic biology division of the National Science Foundation, will speak tonight at 7 in 116 Natural Science.

He will discuss the work of the Biology Division. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

When the first Welland Canal between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie was operating in 1831 it carried 210,000 bushels of wheat during the year. Today a single large ship using the canal can carry 750,000 bushels in a single trip.

McCarthy Here They Are

(Continued from Page 1) thy and aides—during the 1951-52 investigation. The staff of the Watkins committee had evidence of this but "suppressed" it in the inquiry that led to the filing of censure charges against him.

Chairman Watkins (R-Ill.) and Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), a member of the Watkins committee, blocked McCarthy's demand for an immediate investigation either by the Senate or by the Justice Department. Watkins declared emphatically that the committee's staff members were honest men.

As the day's session ended, however, Knowland rose in what he described as a state of "righteous indignation" and won unanimous consent for the appointment of a two-member committee to see who has been "tampering with" senators' mail and how this can be stopped.

He named Sens. Ferguson (R-Mich.) and George (D-Ga.), as the committee, with instructions to investigate at once and report what they can before the Senate—expected—quits for the year today.

MSC Marchers End Fall Season

The MSC Marching Band was reorganized this week in preparation for winter concert performances.

The membership of the band has been altered slightly and the instrumentation rearranged. About 12 new members have been added to complete the instrumentation needed for a full symphonic band.

Monday evening, the Concert Band will be heard for the first time, when it performs at the fall term commencement exercises.

In a two-and-a-half day drive, the Spartan Engineer tripled previous sales records, with 240 copies of the fall issue being sold on campus.

Subscriptions for all four issues also sold better than ever before, according to Ray Steinbach, editor.

This issue marked the first time since the 1951-52 school year that the Engineer made a profit on the magazine.

Copies are still available in the office, third floor Union, and in Olds Hall.
