

Senate Condemns McCarthy By 67-22 Vote on 2 Counts

Jenner Says Democrats Responsible

McCarthy Backers Lambast Motion

By The Associated Press
McCarthy's supporters held the floor throughout most of this last bitter day of the controversy.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), launched into one of the most impassioned speeches the Senate has seen in months.

Face flushed, arms flailing, the agile Indian cried out in a voice that carried full and clear to the corridors outside the chamber that the Democrats were responsible for putting Communists in the highest points in our government.

"I warned the country that the same thing would happen to the Republican party," he declared, "and it is happening. But you are not going to aid the bill. We are all guilty of sin, but by your deeds and by your votes the world and the country will know mine."

Early in the day it became evident there was going to be a collapse of the move to censure McCarthy for "abuse" of Zwicker when the general testified before McCarthy's committee on the Irving Peress case.

Several influential postures—among them Sen. Stenholm (R-Mass.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee—made it plain they didn't necessarily endorse McCarthy's language, but at the same time took a severe view of the Army's attitude too.

Peress is the dentist who was promoted from captain to major and then honorably discharged despite his refusal to tell McCarthy whether he was or had been a Communist. McCarthy wanted Peress kept in the Army and court-martialed.

Zwicker then commanding the Camp Kilmer, N.J., separation center was the officer who approved Peress' discharge—on orders from above, he said. And, at a later hearing, he said he personally was strongly opposed to releasing Peress.

In the McCarthy hearing, however, Zwicker refused to comment on the actions of his superiors. In the end McCarthy told him to fit in with Zwicker's views as to wear the uniform of an American general. Zwicker has a number of decorations for combat valor in World War II.

With expressions of contempt, Sen. Watkins, chairman of the select committee which recommended censure of McCarthy, agreed Thursday on having the Zwicker count upheld by an amendment submitted by his fellow Utah Republican, Sen. Bennett.

Bennett's amendment was the one condemning McCarthy's action in calling the censure session a "lynch party." Watkins stopped and cowardly, and the Watkins committee "the unwilling handmaid."

Arson Charge Investigated In Dorm Fire

Charges of arson and criminal negligence in three dormitory room fires are being investigated by Richard O. Bennett, fire inspector for the M S C police department.

Bennett said Thursday he had questioned several college students in connection with the fires, one of which has definitely been proven to be a case of arson.

The fire started Nov. 26 but was not reported to the bureau until Tuesday.

Major in Musical Therapy

By TOM CRUTCHER
If you are faced with the problem of choosing between a musical career, teaching, or a career as a nurse or doctor, M S C has a course for you.

The need for people well trained in music who have a desire to help unfortunate individuals, was one reason for starting a musical therapy curriculum in 1944.

State was the first college or university to start such a curriculum, and at present has been followed by about 18 other schools in the country, according to Dr. Ray Underwood, head of the music department.

Musical therapy students usually number 10 a year and complete six months of intensive study at a hospital as well as a semester of college. While in college, such courses as psychology, mental and emotional health, sociology, music, and

The M S C Symphony Orchestra and Mixed Chorus will perform traditional Christmas music, and will ask the audience to join in singing familiar carols.

The program will begin at 4 p.m. and tickets are required.

The orchestra, under the direction of Louis Potter, Jr., will open the program with the "Overture to the Opera 'Mignon'" by Thomas and Barth's "Fugue in G Major."

Part two of the program includes excerpts from "Messiah," "Concerto for Violin, Viola, and Cello," "Fugue in G Major," and "Lydian, Nocturne, and Valse."

Mid-way in the program the audience will join with the chorus and orchestra in singing "Adagio for Violin, Viola, and Cello," "Fugue in G Major," and "Lydian, Nocturne, and Valse."

Other excerpts from the "Messiah" are the Pastoral Symphony, a soprano recitative, and "I have made up my mind."

UN Action Sought Against Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., announced Thursday the United States will request U. N. action to get the release of 11 American fliers imprisoned by Red China.

Lodge made his announcement after conferring with representatives of 14 other countries which sought with the United States in Korea.

He did not disclose the nature of the case, but said, however, that he had discussed the problem with the Allies and that all of them expressed great concern for the fliers who became prisoners while serving the U. N. in Korea.

It's Easy to Combine Careers

A musical therapist is often asked to direct Protestant, Catholic and Jewish services while on duty in the hospital.

The following is a typical case in which musical therapy was used. A small boy needed exercise on his leg and the only way he received this exercise was to lay in bed and push with his leg on a spring footboard on a board.

This was extremely boring for the boy, who was interested in talking piano lessons. His parents, with the help of the musical therapist, started him talking piano lessons on a piano with a special heavy pedal. This not only produced better leg muscles, but gave the boy a morale boost.

The future of a musical therapist is encouraging. There is a great demand for them in the more than 600 neuro-psychiatric institutions in the U. S., according to Dr. Underwood.

No Censure Made on Zwicker Act

Flanders Offers Official Apology

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted official condemnation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's conduct on two counts Thursday by a 67-22 vote, but refused to censure him for a "denunciation" of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

In a tense, hushed finale to months of blazing controversy, the Senate completed its two-week extraordinary session by declaring

1. The Wisconsin Republican's failure to help a 1951-52 investigating subcommittee "and his abuse" of the group's members, are "condemned" on the ground they obstructed the constitutional processes of the Senate.

2. McCarthy's "denunciation" of handmaiden and other charges against the Watkins committee, which recommended censure for him, likewise are "heavily condemned."

But another count—abuse of Zwicker when the general appeared before McCarthy's investigations subcommittee last February—never even came to a vote. By a 64-23 margin, the Senate voted to rebuke McCarthy for his blasts at the Watkins committee instead.

McCarthy, his injured arm in a sling, came into the chamber when the final vote was in progress.

He paused at the center rear door then walked slowly toward the last row of seats on the Republican side just as the man who started the venture move, 74-year-old Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), sang out a firm "aye."

Grinning, McCarthy laid a hand on Flanders' shoulder with a sort of let-by-gones-by-by-gones air. Flanders looked up, shook a forefinger at McCarthy and, his expression unsmiling, said something from the galleries.

McCarthy took his seat then, vowing "present" rather than "aye" or "no" when his name was called, and was deep in a conversation with Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), who had voted against him, when the final tally was announced. McCarthy didn't even look up. Later McCarthy told newsmen he was "very happy to get this census over."

"I am very happy to get back to the job of digging Communists out of the government. It will get under way officially again on Monday" after 10 months of inaction.

Noting that the Senate resolution about his conduct used the word "condemned" instead of "censured," a reporter asked McCarthy if he thought he had been censured.

"I wouldn't say it was a vote of confidence," he replied. "The Senator was asked if he planned to continue 'rough' tactics in future investigations and, if he did, if he expected he would be censured again."

"As long as I continue to dig Communists out of the government I'll be subjected to criticism and investigations," he replied. "There have been five already and I expect there will be more."

Sen. McCarthy was asked if he

Interpreting the News

Dulles Talk Clarifies Policy

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst

Administration statements on Far Eastern policy have gone just about as far as possible now toward clearing up the U. S. attitude...

Secretary Dulles has now made two particularly lucid statements on the subject. As it stands, the United States will defend Formosa and the Pescadores if they are attacked.

Retaliation will be made to fit the grade of any aggression, with all-out attack on the mainland always remaining a possibility.

As for the Knowland suggestion for a naval blockade to force release of American prisoners by Peiping, Dulles clarified statements he and the President had made apparently ruling it out.

It is something which might still be adopted if other measures fail, he said. But he and the President are determined to avoid warlike moves.

Some other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee immediately expressed approval of the new treaty with Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalists which implements the Formosa policy...

He was in the midst of another split with the Administration over the McCarthy issue, having chosen finally to support the Wisconsin senator against censure.

Knowland has said that he may not be as far away from the Administration on the China issue as it seemed. But he gave the appearance of a man who was going away, not coming back.

Formation of the Knowland-McCarthy entente on these two controversial questions led to immediate wonder among political observers whether it might be the forerunner of a battle with the Eisenhower middle-of-the-roads for party dominance...

One point the blockade advocates were expected to raise in the new Congress, if indeed they do not do so now, is the possibility that a blockade could be conducted by the Chinese Nationalists if they were supplied with the naval ships necessary.

The pro-blockaders may couple this idea with their long-standing contention that primary enforcement of the blockade could begin by telling nations which receive American foreign aid to stop shipments on pain of losing that aid.

Meanwhile, the Nationalists are also expected to get renewed support from the blockade advocates for their convention that the forces they have prepared for a mainland invasion should not be publicly handcuffed by accepting American restraint.

Pity the Poor Cadet

Merits for Money, A New Social Drill

The military has added a new maneuver to their manual of dismounted drill. It's called social reconnaissance.

It will be introduced tonight, when the Coronation Ball becomes a recognized part of the Air and Military Science courses of study.

The Ball received its official blessing when Air and Army ROTC officials decided attendance at it was worth 10 merits. They are the same merits as those awarded for such essential phases of the defense curriculum as the 20-30 machine gun nomenclature, target selection and rifle marksmanship.

Now, of course, there might be some relation between piloting a jet fighter and piloting a date around the dance floor.

Or maybe the merits are justifiably awarded because attendance at the ball comes under the drill category, Dancing does, after all, require a certain preciseness and the necessity of giving prompt and clear, if subtle, directions.

But as four bucks, it is an indirect and expensive way to give support to two important departmental organizations, the Arnold Air Society and the Officers' Club, which are sponsoring the ball.

When the cadets are in effect graded as they are in the classroom, it should be because of performance rather than merely being able to say "present, sir."

The cadets aren't doing something the military and air departments think important enough to require of all cadets. They are simply shelling our 40 cents for a merit.

The KOLEMINE Extra Ticket Amusing, But Rather Expensive

by JACK KOLE State News Editor-in-Chief

Just passing time while waiting for enough snow to make it look like a real winter: Must be some guys get real excited about this Coronation Ball. Like the one who walked away from the Union Ticket Office the other day with a pair of $4 ducats—one for himself and one for his date.

The gal dishing out tickets for the ballet next Wednesday night was having her troubles, too. A slip of the hand and the whole tray spilled all over the floor.

Good thing there weren't many seats left, anyway. See that athletes are doing right well for themselves over in Army ROTC. Four of them are among the recent top cadet rankings given to nine seniors. Maybe the Army ought to start its own all-star team.

Coach Fordy Anderson was real cool about things at State's opening basketball game Wednesday night. Looked like he was sitting home in his favorite easy chair, in marked contrast to Pete Newell's frantic towel-chewing antics of the past seasons.

A new addition to the Societies for the Prevention of Instructors who throw tests during the last two class days.

Better be some mighty full Christmas stockings if many students are planning on the Union Board-sponsored summer tour through Europe. It's more inexpensive than some, but $1,150 is still quite a pile of loose change.

Then there's the trip that seems to be falling through, a proposed student train to Florida between winter and spring terms. The idea was quickly frowned upon when backers asked about official college sponsorship. No purpose other than to live it up, pointed out the Administration.

Hurst Plans To Attend Big 10 Meet

Student Leaders To Hold Convo

MSC Student Government President Bill Hurst with other Big 10 government leaders travel to Northwestern today for a meeting of the Big 10 Student Government Presidents Association.

During the weekend, normally spent studying for finals, Hurst will discuss common problems of the midwestern schools with other campus leaders.

First on the list of MSC business Hurst will take up will be an offer of student government facilities for a permanent headquarters of the Association.

Student Congress recently approved the suggestion to establish a clearinghouse for the Association of MSC. The group has had no official headquarters since it was started in 1951.

With a permanent headquarters and files on Big 10 information, better communication is hoped to be established among the schools, Hurst said.

Hurst will also take an offer by the Junior class to pay all expenses of candidates for Big 10 schools for a Big 10 Queen contest, if it is held here.

Other issues on the agenda for discussion include student voice in curriculum planning, discrimination in campus organizations and housing, student government relations with the athletic department and the state legislature.

Stop Spreading Gloom?

Owens Hints Olympic Success

CHICAGO (AP)—Jesse Owens, who won everything in the 1936 Olympics except a handshake from Hitler, Thursday suggested it was time to quit spreading "gloom" about this nation's chances against Russia in the 1955 Olympics.

Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said in a speech here that Russia's success in international athletic competition has been phenomenal and is destined to progress.

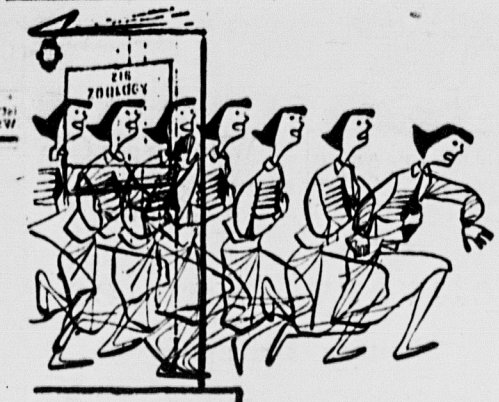

Interviewed at his Illinois Athletic Commission office where he serves as commission secretary, the 41-year-old Owens said he didn't like Russia's methods of preparing athletes by "rounding them up in camps" for rigorous, long training. "But they're only human," he added.

"They're making fabulous times and records, according to reports, but the Olympics are a different story," said Owens, who now weighs 195, compared with 165 when he won the 100 and 200 meter sprints and the broad jump and ran on the winning 400 meter relay team in the 1936 Olympics at Berlin.

"Germany had the best army in the world and we started out as a broomstick army twice," said Owens. "But when the chips were down, our kids were the best in the world."

"I have great faith in our coaches and coaching methods in colleges and high schools. We have some Olympic-tested stars who could do it again at Melbourne, Mai Whitfield, Harrison Ellard, Bob Richards, Harry O'Brien, Slim Innes and Jerry Riffe—all champions in the 1936 Olympics."

Owens, voted the greatest track athlete of the half century in The Associated Press poll, is affiliated with a drive-in cleaning plant on Chicago's South Side.

Honor Team

By CHUCK MILLER
State News Sports Editor

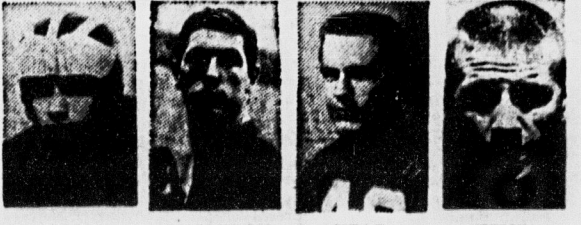

Here it is! At last, the long awaited announcement as to the All-America's All-American football team has been released.

This team is the epitome of all star-studded athletic aggregations, and the highest pinnacle that any red-blooded American college football player can hope to attain—the Lushwell A. C. All-Spartan Opponent team.

The honor-eleven is selected from members of every team which faced Michigan State this fall on the gridiron, by the State News Board of Grid Analysts.

Adding to the illustriousness of the honor bestowed upon the eleven players picked, is the fact that several eminent national experts in the field of gridology are members of the board.

Although requesting that they remain anonymous, these experts, after serious deliberation, all agreed that 11 particular individuals were the finest representatives at their respective positions that Michigan State's team had witnessed this year.

KRAMER GUGLIELMI HEAP TEMP

Most of the other board members fell in line, and as a result, five players were unanimous choices.

Wisconsin dominated the team with three choices, followed by Michigan and Notre Dame with two, and Iowa, Purdue, Minnesota and Indiana placing one each.

The five unanimous selections were Michigan's Art Walker and Ron Kramer at tackle and end respectively; Iowa's Cal Jones and Purdue's Tom Bettis at guards, and Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, recent Heisman Award winner, at fullback.

The other two Badgers were Gary Messner, who lacked one vote of unanimous selection for center honors, and Jim Temp, who won a close decision over Iowa's Jim Freeman, at end.

Notre Dame placed Ralph Guglielmi at quarterback and Joe Heap at halfback.

Minnesota's Bob McNamara rounded out the backfield, and Indiana's Nate Borden gained the tackle spot opposite Walker.

After several weeks delay, due to a recount demand, final tabulation of the Lushwell A C weekly Grid Predictions reveals a not-so-lofty .652 consensus mark.

Harold Bateman ran off with top honors, picking 128 winners in 180 games for an average of .71111111, etc., etc. Congratulations Hal, but I still think Navy should have beaten Notre Dame.

Aggers Lose Godfrey for U of D Game

Raymond Takes Over Guard Spot

Spartans Seek Second Straight Win

By DONN SHELTON

Raymond has been named to replace the injured Walt Godfrey at guard in the Spartan basketball game when they face the University of Detroit at 8 p.m. Friday in Jenison Field.

WALT GODFREY ... sidelined by bad ankle ...

Godfrey, the Spartan floorleader and playmaker, was injured Wednesday's win over Marquette when he sprained his ankle in a pile-up.

Raymond, a junior from Lansing, replaced Godfrey, and sank the Spartans a school record.

Rest of the team starting up will be the same with Al ... and Julius Coy at the ... posts. ... Peterson ... and Devenny at ... other guard slot.

U of D opened its season Wednesday, defeating Assumption College, 70-61.

Run for the Titans is senior Guy Sparrow, who holds the U of D scoring and rebounding records and twice has been named to the All-Missouri Valley.

Headly one-hand set shot ... Sparrow last year averaged 28 points in 28 games.

The Titan attack is basically the Marquette system, built around the center in the pivot.

Decker, a 6'6" junior, will be the center post for the Titans with George Fefles teaming Sparrow at forward.

Head Coach Bob Calihan has named one of the best in the year tenure at U of D, adding at their biggest strength ... with all five starters being ...

Friday's game will be the meeting between the two ... with the Spartans holding a 30-7 edge.

Friday's game will preface a variety contest and the Activities Band will provide game music.

Saturday Debut

Varsity Tank Team To Meet Freshmen

By JACK MURRAY

With king football safely tucked away for another season, Spartan fans are turning their interests to the various winter sports around campus.

Saturday at 3 p.m. coach Charles McCaffree will unveil his 1955 swimming team in the annual varsity-freshman meet. The varsity edged out the freshman team in last year's meet, 132-115.

McCaffree has nine returning lettermen to form the backbone for this year's varsity squad. Dudeck holds the present Big Ten Record of 59.7 in the 100-yard breast stroke, and Payette was last year's outstanding varsity freestyler.

Other returning lettermen are: Jack Beattie, Frank Paganini, Larry Johnson, Lew Michaut, James Rickard, Robin Hesse, and Bob Duff.

Some familiar faces will be missing from this year's varsity squad, as the draft and graduation have taken their toll. This year's team will be without the services of the following lettermen:

Bruce Aldrich, a 3-year letterman in the 100-yard breast stroke, and 150-yard ind. medley finished his competition in June of '54.

Chuck Baldwin, another three-letterman and co-captain with John Hellewege last year also has graduated. Baldwin swam both the 100-yard breast stroke and the free style.

Ron Ridgway, a letterman in 1953 for his work in the 200-yard breast stroke, will be graduated this month.

McCaffree is counting on his sophomore talent to fill the shoes of these men, and the performance of the sophomores in Saturday's meet will therefore determine to a great extent the strength of this year's team.

'Good Chance to Win'

Gym Coach Optimistic

By JERRY LOEBE

"We've got a good chance to win it this year," said coach George Szypula, as he talked of his Big 10 gymnastic prospects.

The team has lost three big men through graduation, Joe Stasser, last year's co-captain, Ken Cook, Big 10 co-champion on the flying rings, and John Furry, an all-around performer, will be missing this year.

Two promising freshmen, Jim Deiler, a trampoline artist who Szypula believes could have taken the Big 10 or National Championship in another year, and Tom Callen, an outstanding horizontal bar performer, dropped out of school.

Only one major letter winner returns from last year's fourth place Big 10 squad.

But with only one veteran, Szypula still beams about his championship possibilities. The reason for this optimism is a slight, bespectacled senior who won just about every gymnastic honor last year, Carl Rintz.

Next to Rintz, who placed first in the country, shared the Big 10 Championship and won NCAA honors, there are Juniors Ben Canning and Bob Marsh, and senior Jerry Gildermeister.

All three won minor letters last year. "Canning is an all-around gymnast who performs well anywhere," said Szypula, while Marsh and Gildermeister reserve their talent to the trampoline and tumbling respectively.

Gildermeister, combined with sophomores Jim Braza and Roland Brown, "should give State the strongest tumbling trio in its history," the gymnastic coach speculated.

The sophomore talent by no means ends here though, due to the efforts of Dick O'Brien, Dick Phillips and Don Lees. All three of these newcomers are outstanding all-around men.

Also returning to the ranks this year will be Herman Junker, who was sidelined by scholastic ineligibility last season. Junker is very capable on the sidehorse and is ranked as one of the best in the country.

Looking over the Big 10, Szypula said: "The Spartans, Illinois, and Minnesota should share a tight race for top honors, while Iowa and Michigan show great potentialities."

The Spartans open their Big 10 campaign Saturday Jan. 15 when they entertain Michigan here.

Chari Improving

Sankar S. Chari, right, Indian graduate student at Michigan State, takes walking exercises at the MSC hospital. He lost his right leg after being severely burned in a laboratory fire last June. With him is Wayne Van Huss, of the MSC physical education department, who has aided him in his physical rehabilitation.

Chari Plans to Resume Research Work Soon

Chari, who had his right leg amputated below the knee following a laboratory explosion and fire last June, has been exercising for some time with a walker and lately with crutches.

Ike Appoints Dr. Hannah To Conference

President John A. Hannah has been appointed to the White House Conference on Education by President Eisenhower. It was announced Thursday.

The conference, consisting of 33 outstanding leaders in business, education, industry, agriculture, labor and other related fields is to "consider and report to the president on significant and pressing problems in the field of education."

Each state will hold its own conference prior to the White House Conference to discuss its own problems and make recommendations to its delegates.

A $700,000 grant has been made by Congress to assist the states in holding the conference. Michigan's share is $27,680.

Special exercises have been worked out for him by Wayne Van Huss, assistant professor, in the physical education department at MSC, and Dr. Robert G. Combs, Lansing physician.

The exercises are in preparation for fitting Chari with an artificial leg, an event which is scheduled to take place very soon, according to Dr. Combs.

Chari says he plans to resume work toward his doctoral degree in January and hopes to complete the requirements by June.

He had completed his course work and was doing a research assignment at the time of the fire.

Chari hopes to return to India and a university teaching job upon the completion of his work.

Final Examination Schedule for Fall, 1954

The last day of classes for Fall Quarter is Tuesday, December 14, 1954. All final examinations will be given by the following six day schedule. The time of the examinations in Basic College courses can be found below according to the course number of the particular Basic course. Examination rooms for Basic courses will be announced by the instructors.

The time of examinations in sections other than Basic College courses is determined by the days and hours the class is scheduled during the term. To determine when your examination is to be given:

- (1) Find the block in Col. 1 or 4 which lists the hours of your class.
(2) Find the block showing the days classes meet.
(3) Col. 2, 3, 5 and 6 indicate the time of day and date on which your examination is to be held.

Examinations will be given in the same classrooms as assigned for class meetings during the term. All students, instructors and room schedules will automatically clear.

Table with columns: HOURS MORNING, HOURS AFTERNOON, EXAMINATION DATE AND HOUR, DAYS CLASSES MEET. It lists various exam times and days for different course blocks.

NOTE: At least two of the days and hours must follow the regular pattern. In a few courses, at the request of the department concerned, the final examination has been scheduled by the single hour lecture section and in some instances students may encounter conflicts. In that event, the examination scheduled by the class meeting two hours a week will take precedence over the examination scheduled by the single hour lecture. The examination will have to be arranged between the student and the department requesting the special scheduling of its examination.

Jenner

And so ended the censure phase of a controversy that has raged around McCarthy with greater or lesser heat since the night in 1950 when he launched his anti-Communist career with a speech declaring there were card-carrying Communists in the State Department.

The current phase crystallized when Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Morse (Ind.-Ore.), joined Flanders in proposing censure for McCarthy on a total of 48 counts, many of them stemming from the stormy McCarthy-Army hearings last spring.

The Watkins committee held public hearings, whitened the charges down to two—the Zwicker incident and the charge that McCarthy obstructed and castigated the 1951-52 subcommittee which investigated his financial and other affairs. McCarthy called one member, Sen. Hendrickson (R-N.J.), "a living miracle... without brains or guts."

To consider the Watkins group's censure recommendations, the Senate came back for an extra session Nov. 8—then broke it off for 11 days while McCarthy was hospitalized with an injured elbow.

It was Bennett who offered an amendment which replaced the Zwicker count with the one condemning McCarthy's attacks on the Watkins committee.

The Senate voted 67-20 Wednesday night to "condemn" McCarthy's conduct on a count of refusing to help the subcommittee which investigated him in 1951-52 and abusing members of the subcommittee.

McCarthy

"There's nothing to it," he shot back. "I am a Republican and intend to remain a Republican. And I will do my work within the Republican party because that's the best place."

Laughing, Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), asked if the word "censure" appeared anywhere in the resolution finally adopted at the "McCarthy censure session." Vice President Nixon, in the chair, replied that it did not.

"Then it is not a censure resolution?" inquired Bridges, while Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) doubled up with laughter and other McCarthy backers grinned broadly.

Nixon replied that the resolution relates to the conduct of McCarthy—and that senators can make their own interpretation of it.

Lambda Iota Tau Year Old

Honorary Celebrates Founding

By DEBBY HALL An MSC-founded National Literary Honorary will celebrate its first anniversary today with 20 chapters in its name.

Lambda Iota Tau, founded last year by W. E. Fleischauer, professor of English, is the only honorary in the United States devoted to English and foreign languages. In one year the boasts of chapters in states from coast to coast.

The national headquarters are located at MSC with Fleischauer as the executive secretary of Lambda Iota Tau.

The local honorary, Alpha Chapter, went national March 4 of last year. Now the group consists of eight members and a faculty moderator, William M. Seaman, professor of foreign languages.

The purpose of the honorary is "to recognize and promote merit in the study of literature," Fleischauer explained. He attributes the rapid spread of the organization to a real need in colleges for such honorary.

To qualify for the honorary a student must have a 3.1 grade average in 24 credits of English and foreign language or both. The applicant must also have a faculty recommendation.

To fulfill his initiation the student must read a self-written paper on a literary topic before the honorary members.

Presently the members are completing a survey of firms represented at the Career Carnival that would hire liberal art students. The results will be published in the January Newsletter.

Eventually Lambda Iota Tau hopes to publish a biennial magazine, that would consist of literary contributions from students throughout the country.

The National Newsletter, published at MSC, will be sent to all the chapters next term to list activities and present programs of the organization.

Officers of the local chapter are: president, Nadine Hicks, Alma senior; vice-president, Louise Rogers, East Lansing senior; secretary, Ardeith Casselman, Gregory senior; and treasurer, Dorothy Lustig, Grand Rapids senior.
