Rest Helps Pope With Recovery

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII had coffee and broth Monday. He ate three times and managed to keep down the food in the most heartening development since his physical collapse last Thursday.

His hiccups are becoming lighter and less frequent. His brief periods of rest are growing longer and less fitful.

At 8 p.m. Msgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, substitute prosecretary of state, announced: "We are happy to report that just now the Holy Father's physicians have advised that his slow, gradual improvement continues."

But the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church remains seriously ill.

His strength is growing very slowly, although steadily.

The Pope is not enjoying the complete rest ordered by his physicians, for he insists on carrying on his pontifical mission even during this worst illness of his 15-year reign.

The Vatican announced that by radio from his sickbed the Pope will give his blessing "ubi et orbi"—to the city and the world—to close the Marian Year Wednesday.

The apostolic blessing was given to the people of Rome from the sickroom Sunday.

Daily, the Pope is receiving a few high prelates on Vatican business. All this consumes a measure of the meager store of energy built up during his rally.

For a week the Pope was fed entirely by indirect means. Sunday he sipped a few spoonfuls of broth.

In the early morning Monday the Pope was able to take a few spoonfuls of coffee mixed with milk.

At 11:30 a.m. he swallowed a few more spoonfuls of broth. Late in the afternoon, he managed even more.

Susan LaBelle, Frankfort freshman, will be the assistant classified manager.

Draft Test

Students taking Selective Service exams Thursday must meet in 415 Electrical Engineer in S Building at 9 a.m. until 12:45 p.m.

Because this time conflicts with final exams, the State Selective Service will allow exam students to take the exams on April 21.

Students who have already applied for the Thursday exam must reapply on or before March 7 if they wish to take the test on April 21.

Delinquent Fines Due Police Warn Ticket Holders

Lieut. A. S. Ellis of the Campus Police said Monday that all delinquent fines owed by students must be paid by December 12.

Students who do not pay their fines by that date will be put on a delinquent list and will not be allowed to enroll next term until the fines are paid.

"Many students have not paid their fines because they have appeals pending," said Ellis. He warned that these fines must also be paid anyway.

Fines that are withdrawn by the Traffic Appeals Court when the appeals are acted upon will be returned to the student, but Ellis stressed that in the meantime they must be paid.

Ellis said that a notice is being sent to all delinquent ticket holders notifying them that the fines must be paid by Sunday.

Commenting on the Student Traffic Appeals Court, Ellis said he thought the group was doing a fine job. "I think the Court worked very hard, and did an outstanding job, considering how overloaded with appeals they were," said Ellis.

Tigers Trade Droptop, Gray To White Sox

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago White Sox Monday traded first baseman Ferris Fain, third baseman Jack Phillips and pitcher Leo Christophe to Detroit for first baseman Walt Droptop, outfielder Bob Neuman and pitcher Ted Gray.

It was the second major deal of the day by White Sox General Manager Frank Lane. Earlier in the day he made a seven-man swap with the Baltimore Orioles.

Fain, 22, batted .282 in 65 games, being sidelined from June 17 until the end of the season because of a torn outsole in his right hand.

Phillips, a former New York Yankee and Pittsburgh Pirate player, who also has played first base, was purchased by the White Sox from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League after the 1964 season. He batted after 350 and was the most valuable player in the PCL.

Droptop, 23, a 6 foot 5, former Boston Red Sox player, hit .261 and drove 66 runs in 162 games with the Tigers.

Neuman, 27, is a right-handed batter, who played with the St. Louis Browns before he was traded to Detroit in 1962. He batted .262 in 91 games with the Tigers last season.

Gray, a 20-year-old left-hander who has been handicapped by arm trouble, had a 2-3 record with the Tigers in 1964. He had spent his entire baseball career with the Detroit organization.

490 Grads Hear Plea By Newburn

Strong Leaders Asked for Future

By GENE RITZINGER

Stressing the "free enterprise of the mind," Dr. H. K. Newburn, head of the Educational Television and Radio Center at Ann Arbor, delivered the main address at fall term Commencement exercises Monday night.

Speaking to 490 graduates, their families and friends, Newburn said that if man is to be free, he must be free to ask questions in the entire scope of man's activities, and not just in noncontroversial matters.

Newburn, a former head of the University of Oregon, declared that "we accept change as inevitable and desirable in business, in science and in the arts, but in man's social relationships which are dynamic and ever changing, we are inclined to restrict his freedom to ask questions which might at times lead to progress."

He warned the graduates that "if the researcher cannot ask the necessary questions—either because of restrictions placed upon him by the society in which he works, or by any outside agency—he is not in reality searching for the truth."

Newburn said he wanted to make it "crystal clear" that free enterprise of the mind does not include the right to conspire against the government or to participate in plans directed at its overthrow.

The student of society, politics and economics should be permitted to ask questions which seem important to him, said Newburn, "even if in doing so he trends upon our prejudices, our traditions, or our institutions."

In summary, Newburn told the graduating class that "you must take leadership in aggressively supporting the idea that our way of life, our individual freedoms, can only be maintained if we vigorously defend the right of every man to free enterprise of the mind."

After Newburn's address, President John A. Hannah conferred 349 bachelor degrees and 150 advanced degrees to the graduates.

Noting that 50 of the graduates were receiving degrees of Doctor of Philosophy, President Hannah said that "this is a nice indication of the educational progress MSC has made in recent years."

The simple ceremonies began at 8 p.m. with the procession in the Auditorium. The MSC band, led by Leonard Falcone, played the Commencement March.

The invocation and benediction were given by the Right Rev. Msgr. Jerome V. MacEachin, pastor of the St. Thomas Aquinas Church in East Lansing.

In Centennial Year

'Names' to Visit Birthday Celebration

Top "names in the news" will be on hand next year to help commemorate the 100th anniversary of MSC's founding.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to address the October Convocation in Macklin Stadium.

His brother Milton, president of Pennsylvania State University, is expected to attend the Founder's Day ceremonies Feb. 12, when an official stamp honoring the founding of MSC and Penn State will be distributed.

The Founder's Day events will feature an address by Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University and now U.S. High Commissioner of Germany.

The development of farm equipment will be featured at a "world's fair" Centennial of Farm Mechanization in August.

Ten academic symposia will draw hundreds of visitors, including the top names in the various fields, according to Alvie L. Smith, college Centennial director.

The symposia will cover the fields of education, business, agriculture, home economics, engineering, science, the arts, communications, and veterinary medicine.

Expected to participate in the symposia are Henry S. Commager, internationally-known American historian; Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president in 1962; Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times; Dr. E. C. Stinson of the University of Minnesota; and Ralph Tyler, member of the Ford Foundation.

Others include Harlow Curtis, president of General Motors; and Dr. Robert J. Havighurst, member of the Committee of Human Development, University of Chicago.

Thomas H. Ogden, dean of the graduate school and general chairman for the symposia.

It is hoped that these symposia will contribute to the understanding and strengthening of the interrelations among scholarly fields, he said.

On the student side, plans are underway for a commemorative parade, similar to the Founders Parade of 1964, including floats, quadrants, and pep bands, and high school bands, and pep bands.

Students also will staff an information booth in the Union Commons during the Centennial celebration, and will act as guides for campus visitors.

Last Issue of Term

With this issue, the State News stops publication for fall term. First issue winter term will appear on Thursday, Jan. 6, the first day of classes.

Supreme Court Rules for Truckers

WASHINGTON (AP)—States are powerless to bar from their highways interstate truckers who violate their laws, including habitual overloading, the Supreme Court ruled Monday. The 5-3 decision, written by Justice Black, said only the Interstate Commerce Commission can suspend or revoke a permit granted under the Federal Motor Carrier Act.

Nigara Falls Topples Again

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Another big chunk of rock has crumbled from the brink of Niagara Falls, but veteran park police said Monday it was difficult to detect any change in the appearance of the cataract. The fall occurred over the weekend about halfway between Luna Island and Prospect Point, on the American side.

Another Red Ink Year on Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey disclosed Monday that the government faces another red ink year. He declined to say what the administration would recommend regarding tax cuts scheduled to go into effect next April.

Because of Finals

Graduation? I Missed It!

"Sorry, Mom, I didn't go to Commencement last night. I was studying for my finals."

Ridiculous? Not very, when you consider the number of graduated seniors who either didn't attend graduation ceremonies Monday night, or rushed home to hit the books for finals beginning Wednesday.

There's something incongruous about this situation, to say the least. The plots get their wings, but they can't fly until they pass five or so more flight tests.

True, it's not the first time it's happened. For years fall and winter term graduates have graduated and then gone back to the college study grind.

It's happened before, but that doesn't make it right. Graduation is supposed to be the end of the college work—the end of four years of grinding out term reports, getting up for 8 o'clocks, sitting through lectures.

The trick, of course, is for Spartans to arrange their college life so they can graduate spring term. For spring term graduates don't have to take finals after they graduate.

They often find that their mid-term exams are weighted heavier or they are given an early test which might be the equivalent of a final. But they graduate with no strings attached. And they attend their Commencement exercises.

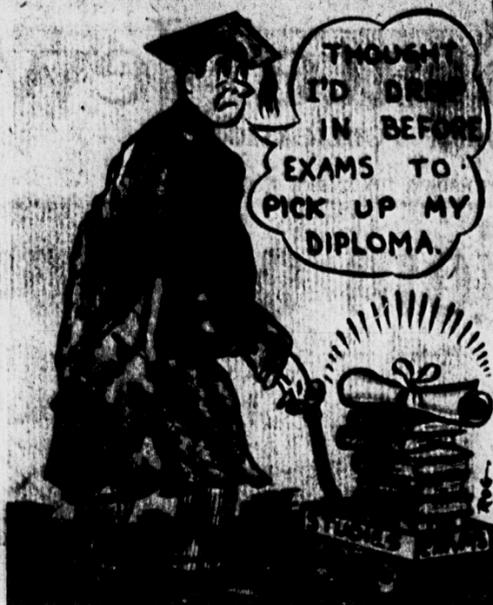

It has been suggested many times, and repeated last year, that MSC's faculty get behind this oddity and regulate graduation so that everyone will take their finals before graduation or not at all.

Spring term that is done. Why not all three terms?

The essential point is the fact that many fall and winter term seniors, with the burden of studying for finals, decide to skip graduation in order to study.

And after four years of academic work, graduating seniors deserve to go to their own Commencement without worrying about someone taking their diploma away a week later.

Jumping the Gun?

2-Way Cramming

Eat a Hearty Meal; Long Night Ahead

Many Spartans will eat a full meal tonight as they attempt to digest a term's work in one night-long session.

Instructors will be serving dessert in a fat blue book beginning Wednesday. Students will then discover how well the main course has prepared them for this final delicacy.

These MSC connoisseurs of knowledge may find the meal a bit difficult to digest so rapidly.

Some may open the book for the first time and others will frantically seek relief in past exams which stress every point except the one finally asked on the exam.

No-nods and black coffee comprise the basic ingredients the industrious student will add to his conglomeration of facts and figures.

When the restless victim of exomosis finally falls asleep, probably over his books, his dreams may range from the founding of schizophrenia in 1492 to the definition of America as a mental disease.

The conjugation of parlor will probably equal the diameter of a circle. And Santa Claus will be accredited with believing the United States is involved in an economic crisis.

When eventually this chaotic series of almost-sleepless nights is over and the last exam written, the student can utter only one exclamation:

"Thank goodness I'm through. Now for a Merry Christmas."

Letters to the Editor

State News Hit; Brody Hall Defended

To the Editor: One of the greatest gifts we have today is our freedom of the press. I greatly admire most of our newspapers in carrying out this freedom in an honest and faithful manner.

Yet I can't include in the above our college newspaper, representative of the student body by the students, and above all, the winner of many national honors for mastery (as I am told by State News articles.)

Continually this term articles have appeared blasting Block 8, criticizing Spartan spirit, making jokes about the quality of our opponents' bands, and of course—the real prize—Christmas City.

I personally had the pleasure of working on this project. Much criticism was heard through the State News about feelings of all parties concerned. Yet, at no time did the East Lansing Merchants or other groups complain.

On the State News, people, in order to see glory, spectacular heads, and jobs with the Chicago Tribune, kept agitating and criticizing this problem. The Christmas City Steering Committee asked for groups to join. State News wheels kept themselves on the third floor.

In the committee's effort to promote Christmas City we wanted to coordinate it with the Christmas Tree lighting sponsored annually by Delta Tau Delta and Pi Beta Phi. They agreed wholeheartedly, but that's where I and the committee failed as we did not carry the plans out by misunderstanding who was to promote the project.

Delta Tau Delta and Pi Beta Phi did not refuse to cooperate as the State News presents its facts. Again agitation, criticism, misrepresentation in an attempt to be sensational.

To the Deltas and Pi Phis, through the State News... I wish to congratulate you on the successful thing. It is a fine tradition in helping to bring Christmas spirit to the MSC students and our East Lansing friends.

To you a Merry Christmas; to the State News, Merry Christmas and best wishes for a successful, but better New Year.

George Clute

It does not look as though there will be a participation in the planning of these events. To the Editor: After pondering the incredible arrogance with which a dissatisfied threesome thoughtlessly attack one of the campus' most valuable and efficient branches, I feel it is my duty to indicate the flaws in my comrades' assaults.

1. The example of a typical sin, given by the Brody Hall complainers, occurs at the most once a week. Otherwise we are given a delicious assortment of plates, including chicken and shrimp, more often and far better than our men get at home or in the service.

2. Potatoes are among the most nourishing foods, and the fact that three persons among hundreds prefer one form of cooking to the other is poor reason to change. 3. Boiling meat decreases its nutritive value. But raw meat is not generally served to civilized people.

4. About 1,000 students are served while less than one hour of eating. Any more efficiency would require a time track. However, if the complainers respect the student's choice to get up at 8 A.M. and get served immediately, rushing late to classes, they should either go back to their homes or bring some services along from their fathers' homes.

5. As a last witness to the beneficial value of there are an exceedingly number of students who go back in Harrison Hall from last year. May I list one of all the so-called enemies, and highly intelligent, who are in the Hall makes them reasonable.

Best Artists to Win Prizes for Displays

By JEAN GREGORY

Imaginatively decorated Christmas doorway meant candy to satisfy some coed sweet tooth in Gilchrist, West Landon Monday night.

Three dorms offered candy to the room occupants around the prettiest displays. West Landon awarded a prize to the most artistic arrangement on each floor, while Gilchrist winners in religious, and spirit of Christmas divisions, and six honorable mentions.

Most of the artists used construction paper, cotton batting, and paper, tree lights and ornaments for their doorway displays.

West Landon started the whole about six years ago but it was the first time the dormitory awarded prizes for the displays. East Landon has inaugurated a contest idea this year. Both West Landon are on a spot-on optional basis.

During the Gilchrist contest Mrs. Kathryn Gaudiner, dorm manager, and Mrs. Trixie West and Mrs. Mary Parisian, mothers.

Freda Bickert, secretary of the house manager, Mrs. Chaffee, West Yakeley mother, and Mrs. Mary West, East Yakeley house manager, judged the East Landon displays.

Ballet Ducats Available for Both Shows

Program Set To Explain Play

Tickets are still available for tonight and Wednesday's performances of Old Vic Company's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Better seats are being offered for tonight's show, at 8:15 in the Auditorium.

Moirs Shearer, Robert Helpmann and Stanley Holloway will star in the Shakespearean comedy, which will be performed with a ballet company of 150 and full symphony orchestra.

Hugo Rignold will lead the orchestra in the complete musical score for the play, written by Felix Mendelssohn.

The Union Board will sponsor programs this afternoon at 4, discussing phases of the play and the London theater group.

The discussions will be held in the music room of the Union and will include speeches by Don Buell of the speech department and Dr. Waite of the English department.

Buell will discuss the Old Vic troupe—its history and travels. Dr. Waite will outline the play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" for those students interested in learning a little more about the production before attending the evening performances.

'Ouch' U.S.-Cuban Ties Bruised By Pinches

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—To be accused of pinching pretty girls is an insult to Cuban manhood, Consul Oscar Morales declared here Monday.

He demanded an apology from Dr. Harold Campbell, principal of the Key West High School. And he will file an official protest with the Cuban State Department which will pass it along to the U. S. secretary of state.

Campbell started it all in a speech last Wednesday. He told the Kiwanis Club that his high school's band had been invited to participate for the fourth time in the "Omparas," a parade opening the carnival season at Havana in February.

"I don't think we'll accept the invitation this time," said Dr. Campbell. "The men made indecent gestures and pinched girls in the band last year."

"It isn't true," said Morales in a statement. "This is an insult to the people of Cuba. It will tear down the warm friendship built up over the years between the United States and Cuba. I will file a formal protest through diplomatic channels."

Said Campbell, "No comment."

MSC Press Publication Wins Honor

R. L. Narayan's latest book "Swami and Friends and The Bachelor of Arts," published this year by the MSC Press was mentioned as one of the outstanding books of the year by the critic's poll in the Dec. 5 issue of the New York Herald Tribune.

This book, containing two novels may be purchased at a 40 per cent discount by students and staff members during the MSC Press's annual sale which will continue through Friday.

Book sales have been higher than last year, the first time such a drive was attempted, according to Lyle Blair, managing editor of the Press. He said:

"We are very happy about it. We have done three times the amount of business this year as in a comparable period last year. It has been very encouraging to find that the students have been just as heavy buyers as the faculty."

Best sellers so far, have been "Soils and Land of Michigan" by Jethro Vestch, "The World Christ Knew" by Deans, "Midwestern Progressive Politics" by Nye and "A Sort of Ecstasy" by A. J. M. Smith. "The Great Railroad Conspiracy" by Hirschfeld and Narayan's novels have also been going well.

Books of fiction, poetry, literary criticism, biography, and science are included in the sale conducted in 6 Berkey between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. each weekday.

Looking Less Like Skeleton, More Like Library.

At Reasonable Rate Library Building Progresses

With completion of the library set for late summer or early fall of 1955, the crew will continue to work as students leave for Christmas vacation.

Stated as a "reasonable expectation," Ralph R. Calder, college architect, said, "progress depends on the weather conditions."

When completed the library will be the fifth largest in the United States in the amount of square footage it contains.

The building, consisting mainly of glass, has its steel structure and concrete floors completed.

The builders are working on the aluminum spandals which go between the glass portions of the walls. These strips will be waisted, giving the only break in the glass wall.

Also being worked on is the masonry on the south and end walls.

As soon as the books building is completed the stands directly in front of the entrance to the new building.

A Christmas vesper service at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Memorial Chapel will provide Spartans with a few moments of meditation.

The Spartan Bell Ringers will give a short talk on Christmas. The scripture will be Luke 1:1-14.

Yvonne Jackson, East Lansing pastor of Peoples Church, will give a short talk on Christmas. The scripture will be Luke 1:1-14.

Another highlight of the service will be four numbers by the 60 male voices of the Men's Glee Club. "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Lo, How a Rose" will be included in their presentation.

The Reverend Brandt Tefft, pastor of Peoples Church, will give a short talk on Christmas. The scripture will be Luke 1:1-14.

Yale to Offer French Trip For Study

French students at MSC may have the opportunity to put their knowledge of the language to practical use this summer. Applications for the Yale-Red Hall Summer Session in Paris are now being accepted. The six-week session lasts from July 4 to Aug. 13. The trip, sponsored by Yale University, is open to college students with two years of college French. Students who are accepted will leave New York in mid-June. A tour of Normandy, Mont St. Michel and the Loire Valley will precede the studies in Paris. At the end of the course, three weeks of independent travel will be allowed before the return trip.

The group was established in 1949. The session offers courses in French at the Sorbonne and the Louvre. College credits are granted for the work completed. Application blanks must be mailed before March 1 to Professor Theodore Anderson, 133 Hall of Graduate Students, Yale University.

Sportopics

Swan Song

By CHUCK MILLER State News Sports Editor

Comes a time in a man's life when he stops to look back for a minute, then go on to something new.

So, excuse me for a minute while I reminisce. Three terms ago, I sat down at this desk and typed out my first column, "Sportopics."

In one year, State's sport topics, as far as football is concerned, dropped from perhaps the pinnacle in its long history to the second worst season since the beginning of the sport at MSC.

One thing I noticed, however, is that no matter how disheartening or disappointing the turn of events, Michigan State never lost its courage or will to win.

The breaks never came, at least they never seemed to materialize, and State wound up on the short end of the score more often than they won for the first time in many a season.

It was disappointing to all concerned, but especially the team and coaches. The fans were disappointed, too, but they seemed to understand.

Less loyal team supporters have been known to demand the coaches resignation and hold the players in contempt following an unsuccessful season such as we have just witnessed.

Spartan fans were not used to seeing their favorite team lose, and after the initial shock of defeat fully anticipated the team to bounce back in the more familiar fashion.

When this failed to develop, the fans adjusted to the new, but unpopular situation.

It was a great display of understanding and sympathy for the team, plus an unwavering conviction that the team will "come back."

It was a trying season for football coach Duffy Daugherty in his first year as head coach of a college team.

Winning is not all-important, but Daugherty said at a recent banquet:

"I have to try real hard to convince myself that it isn't."

If ever a coach needed self confidence and assurance that others held confidence in him, it is a situation like this.

Athletic Director Biggie Munn made it quite clear that the athletic department was satisfied with Daugherty's efforts, when he said at the annual football banquet:

"We have the greatest confidence in Duffy."

Thus, "Sportopics" was born at the climax of Michigan State's rocket-like ascent to national prominence, and ends on a note far subdued to its beginning.

Perhaps the column that replaces this one can reverse the chain of events—a Rose Bowl trip next year would be nice.

Eastern Trip Calls Cagers

By JOE HOFFMAN

Taking a breather for finals, the Spartan cagers will resume practice next week in preparation for a two-night stint in Philadelphia, Dec. 17-18.

On both nights the Spartans will be playing in the Palstra as a part of a doubleheader.

On the 17th, the Spartans engage the University of Pennsylvania in the opener, with Iowa meeting Princeton in the second game. On the 18th, State faces Princeton in the second game, with the Hawkeyes battling Penn in the opener.

Penn opened their season Saturday with a one-point victory over the Bollermakers of Purdue.

The Quakers finished third in the eight-team Ivy League last year. In Princeton, the Spartans will be facing the Ivy League's runner-up of a year ago. The Tigers open their season Monday against Lafayette.

The Spartans will return to Jenison Fieldhouse on Dec. 22 to meet DePaul University of Chicago. The Blue Demons, after beating Kalamazoo College in their opener, upset Minnesota Saturday in overtime. DePaul faces the Golden Gophers again this Saturday at Minneapolis.

After an eight-day layoff, the Spartans will entertain the Nittany Lions of Penn State on Dec. 30.

In the first Associated Press basketball poll of the year, Penn State was ranked 19th in the country.

Heading the Nittany Lions is All-American candidate Jesse Arnselt, who also plays end on the football team.

Coach Fordy Anderson stated that everyone should be in top shape for the Penn and Princeton games. This means that both Walt Godfrey and Julius McCoy, both of whom missed the game with Detroit, will be back in action.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

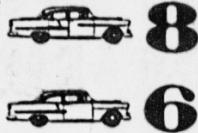

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly... quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. Chevrolet and General Motors set out to build the first low-priced car that would:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, skills, resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new idea? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your ideas about cars!

Real Show-Car Styling!

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile... soft softness from its sleek rear fenders. Its streamlined Sweep-Night windshield... a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you step inside... existing fabrics and trim are harmonized with the whole car.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly... you glide... actually glide because spherical joints "roll" with the punch of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns... turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering. And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front... you get "heads up" stopping. Tubless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.

Drive with care... EVERYWHERE! Make December 15 and every day SAFE-DRIVING DAY!

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost)... you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and power-shift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

Matmen Ready For AAU Meet

By JIM JOHNSON
The last minute preparations for final exams, the wrestling squad is also getting ready for their initial appearance of the 1954-55 campaign.

Working out daily at Jensen House, the wrestlers are busy with their training for the AAU meet to be held at Eastern High School, Dec. 11 and 12.

A major problem this season is finding a capable replacement in the heavyweight division for the graduated Fowler. Head coach Collins and his assistant, Gayle Nichols, place their hopes in Ken Maltlow, a sophomore from Lansing, Mich., who was winner of a Michigan State High School championship belt.

Other top prospects expected to give varsity grapplers a battle for positions are, Dick Hoke, brother of Bob, Norman Gill, Tony Avellano, and Walt Jones.

Mainly because of the loss of last year's top men, Coach Collins, who has been coaching Spartan wrestlers for 25 years, and has compiled an enviable dual-meet record of 116 wins, 58 losses, and 6 ties, would make no predictions as to how the team will fare.

He did, however, express hope for a victorious season, stating that State teams have not had a losing season since 1937. The return of seven lettermen gives a good chance for a winning team.

Returning from last year's team will be Bill Tambo, Dick Sam, Don Phillips, and Ted ...

... that team will be further ...

'Mural Sidelights

Fall term's successful intramural program is just about completed, and plans are already being made for next term's activity.

Nine events have been scheduled with basketball heading the list.

There will be the usual fraternity, dormitory and independent league, plus an unlimited league which will enable otherwise ineligible players to compete.

Besides basketball the program contains All-College tournaments in badminton, and handball singles, dormitory bowling and swimming, fraternity swimming, fencing, boxing, wrestling and gymnastics.

Consult bulletin boards and next term's State News for information and dates.

Pre-Game Check Would Have Saved Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP)—An autopsy disclosed Monday that Dave Sparks, Washington Redskins lineman, died of coronary thrombosis, a condition that was aggravated when he played his usual aggressive game against the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

Dr. William Wilbourn, coroner of nearby Arlington County, Va., where Sparks collapsed and died two hours after the game, said the 26-year-old football player would be alive today if he had gone to a doctor before the game.

Signs Nu Rolls Over Delta, 27-14 W. Shaw Tops JFU, 39-6

By JACK MURRAY
W. Shaw 5, playing by far its best game of the season, rolled over a good JFU team by the amazing score of 39-6.

JFU was the defending All-College champion and looked as if they were on their way to another title before Monday night's game.

Well Mattes set the pattern of play in the early minutes of the game by intercepting a JFU aerial and then throwing a pass to Don Parsons in the end zone. Larry Ross added the extra point. Don Nicholson passed to Bob for W. Shaw's second score of the first period and the rest was on.

As the second quarter got under way Nicholson started around his own left end for a 55-yard run to the JFU one yard line. He then passed to Ross for the score, and Tom Perattoski added the extra point. Parsons picked up his second touchdown of the night on a Schickard aerial with Ross picking up the extra point. This made the halftime score W. Shaw 27, JFU 6.

A Tom Kratt to Fred Schultz touchdown pass in the third period prevented a shutout for the JFU team.

Signs Nu 27, Delta Tau Delta 14

A brilliant second half rally on the part of Signs Nu enabled them to roll up a 27-14 victory over Delta Tau Delta in last night's Fraternity Championship game.

With Al Budner leading the way, the Delta moved into a 14-13 half time lead. Budner threw a perfect strike to John Coleman for the Delta first score, and came back to score himself on a running play in the second period.

Don McDonald cut around his own left end for a 50-yard punt to pay dirt for the Snakes first touchdowns of the night. Ralph Radford pulled the Snakes to within one point of a tie in the second period. Radford scored on a pass from Tom Kiewicki.

The third quarter saw the Snakes really roll on the passing of John Gerardo who passed for two touchdowns in the fateful third period. The first aerial traveled 25-yards into the waiting arms of Dick Marzke, and the second went to Kiewicki.

The Signs Nu defensive unit stopped any threat of a Delta score in the final stanza by repeatedly rushing the passer. Jack Rau rounded out the Snakes scoring in the last minutes of play, by tagging a Delta passer in the end zone for a safety and two points.

Spartans Discover That It's Cold Outside . . .

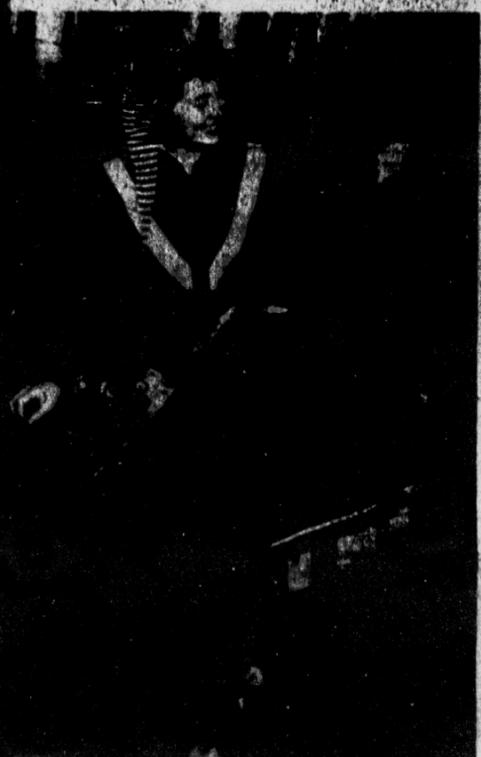

"Brushing Up" On Snow Removal.

Spartans Take Lots of Coal.

The Coolest Way To Survive 8 O'Clocks.

Just Right For Winter Weather.

Maybe It'll Last Until Spring Term.

Why Doesn't It Snow—or Something?

Shovel Your Way to the Bright Side Don't Let Winter Term 'Snow' You

By MYRA MacPHERSON
State News Feature Editor

Winter term isn't so bad. This seems to be the general opinion of MSC students who have always come up with some good remarks considering this coldest of terms.

While coeds don knee lengths and males pour anti-freeze into cars they are also becoming mentally prepared for winter term.

"I'm looking forward to it because nothing could be as bad as this term," said one particularly gloomy person who has pre-exam jitters.

About 75 per cent of the students interviewed seem to be counting on the long winter nights for study time to raise point averages. But one pessimist described it as a "horrible term because everyone studies more and raises the curve."

A simple answer from one coed was "I like winter term because spring term follows it."

Many students have been industriously studying the winter schedule books—hoping to get afternoon classes. "I'll like winter term if I don't get any cold eight o'clocks," said a student who is planning to have a schedule of classes beginning at noon.

Ski weekends and parties are anxiously anticipated by a number of sports enthusiasts who are set for Caberfae or other points north. Others are content to be spectators and are looking forward to an exciting basketball and hockey season.

Speaking of sports, the football players are looking forward to January even if there is no Rose Bowl this year. Some said they liked the thought of no practice and the more time this would allow for studies and social events.

A few coeds are already thinking about winter formal functions such as the J-Hop and term parties.

As far as fashions go, one male student said he was looking forward to cold weather "because it'll put a stop to those Bermuda shorts for a few months." He added that he'd rather see knee length socks, saying that they were a fashionable aid to girls with thin legs.

Another student said that winter fashions were all right but he'd just as soon wait for spring term.

One student came up with the answer, "no I'm not looking forward to winter term at State for the simple fact that I won't be here." A graduating senior, his winter plans include Oklahoma and the army.

And then there are those students who are going to Mexico City College to spend their last year of college with plenty of words to say about the cold spell.

But for the majority of students, it simply means business up their nostrils and a new spring.

Each year approximately 100 persons from 80 countries in a country other than the United States are admitted to the Institute.

Get Out the Coffee Pots

Spartans will have more reasons than one for drinking coffee during exam week.

Besides using it to keep awake during the wee hours, they'll find it mighty pleasant to thaw things out—especially if the mercury drops any lower.

The temperature dipped below 10 degrees Monday night and the most MSC can hope for today is 25 degrees. Light and variable winds will make it seem even colder.

There's one consolation. At least the weather should be fair today—no storms.

But it won't be long before the snows, say the experts.
