Offers Good Will Program

ayed to Halt uclear Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower held out a message of cooperation to the Democratic-controlled Congress Thursday along a massive legislative program keyed to warding off the catastrophe of nuclear holocaust.

message to the lawmakers of the state of the Union, a message that strongly for political and good will, Eisenhower has a heartening hope for peace, and progress to the ultimate "rule of freedom."

he said that the peace of the world is in the face of the Soviet-Communist that create sobering and world uneasiness.

and Republicans in the House chamber with approval for a "America's response" will be swift and resolute. Ambassador N. Zaroubin sat stone-faced and motionless.

g a number of the Congressmen who heard the message in the House chamber was something less than enthusiasm for a message that will cut down on the place increased power and new rapid and destructive power.

for the presidential offer operation from himself and government agency, in the problems of peril, there was a loud denunciation of approval.

953 Expected

Sororities to Open Coed Bidding Today

Sorority rushing will begin this weekend as approximately 953 coeds are expected to participate in the '55 winter term program.

According to Judy Stregg, Pan-Hel president, 290 coeds did not make their grades last term and are ineligible to rush. Out of the group rushing about 380 to 400 are expected to pledge.

Today bids for Stage I parties should be picked up from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. in 34 Union. Coeds are to select six sororities and indicate their answers on the bids. The bids are not to be taken out of the Union.

Also in the bids picked up today, each coed will receive the name of her counselor. She then will be able to schedule appointments with her at any time. Counselors will be in room 35 to assist to answer questions. Sorority lists containing finances, activities and other pertinent information will be available at this time.

New changes in the rushing schedule have been announced. Pi Beta Phi will follow the regular rush schedule while rushing in the Union. The group will hold all rush parties in Parlor C on the second floor.

Pi Mu will also follow the regular rush schedule and hold all parties in 21 Union. Alpha Epsilon Phi and Alpha Kappa Alpha will not follow the rushing schedule. Instead Alpha Epsilon Phi will rush at 3 p.m. Saturday in Parlor A of the Union. Other dates are as follows: January 13, 7 p.m. in Parlor A and January 15, 1 p.m. in Parlor A and January 19 in 22 Union.

Alpha Kappa Alpha will hold rushing Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. in 22 Union. Also they will hold their parties January 15 in 22 Union.

The final program will be held January 19 at 7 p.m. in the sunporch on the second floor of the Union.

The rushing parties being held this weekend will feature table decorations, themes and group singing. Coeds are advised to wear "date" dresses and shoes with heels.

Union to Distribute Program Tickets

The Union Ticket Office will be busy distributing tickets for three programs next week. Tickets for "Holiday on Ice" will be sold throughout the week. On Tuesday, activity-book coupons can be exchanged for tickets for the Jan. 18 concert by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Tickets for a concert by the Vienna Choir Boys, scheduled to appear Jan. 20, will be available Thursday.

Big 10 Threatens Walkout Over NCAA's TV Game Control

Traffic Talk Given by Brandstatter

Speaks on Polley, Parking Problem

Campus Police Chief Arthur Brandstatter and East Lansing Police Chief Charles Pezz Thursday spoke to the East Lansing Lions Club on common problems — parking and traffic.

MS' new driving policy, causing the greatest registration of student automobiles in the college's history was called a new departure from middle-of-the-road policies held in the past by Brandstatter.

However, the college had no choice in the matter he said. The student pressure for more driving freedom was backed up by more lenient driving policies appearing in other major mid-western colleges and universities.

Speaking of the East Lansing parking problem, caused by students, Brandstatter told Pezz and club members students had to good reason to plug up city parking spaces by using them for storage. "The college has made ample parking available near all of the student dormitories," he said.

Pegg said the increased student driving has been reflected in a reduction of parking space in East Lansing. "Legally city police can do little about this situation," Pegg said. "The students are citizens and if they are properly licensed they have all the rights of any driver to operate a car and park in legal parking spaces."

Pegg reminded the group that there had always been great cooperation between city and campus officials on these problems. He mentioned the student government appointment of Roger Augustine, an ex-officio member of the city's traffic commission, representing the college.

The commission, which makes traffic recommendations to the city council, has been instrumental in the traffic improvements at the Ideal St. entrance. Augustine has also brought back the commission's comments and findings to college officials and presented the students' viewpoint in the commission discussions.

In many other instances, such as athletic and other public events on campus, Pegg said the two departments have worked together to solve their mutual problems.

Contemporary Sculpture a Curiosity

Is This Metal Art Ore Just Plain Iron-y?

By JACKIE OLDHAM
"So this is art?"
"It looks like somebody's nightmare transferred to metal."
Seventeen pieces of "Mid-century and Contemporary Sculpture" have been donated by the Kalamazoo Art Institute for an exhibition by MSC's art department. Now for the first time students don't have to trudge up to the third floor Art Room to see an exhibit. All 17 contemporary sculptures are conspicuously arranged in the north end of the Union Lounge.

And like many other new things, the exhibit is proving controversial. The pieces are varied, including near-representational and complete abstractions. Students seeing the statues for the first time may suddenly start to laugh. Most of them just acquire a puzzled expression. Great debates start on what exactly a piece means and

Russians ... No Trespassing

MSC Made Off Limits To Russians

27 Per Cent of U. S. Called Out of Bounds

East Lansing is part of the approximately 27 per cent of the United States declared off limits to the Russians last Tuesday.

This does not guarantee Russian students will be kept off the campus, however. Certain student and government visas are not affected by the order which is aimed generally at the rubberneck tourist and his innocent-looking camera.

According to the Associated Press, the black areas in 29 states on the above map, plus all of the U. S.-Mexican border except Webb county, Texas, and the Great Lakes section of the Canadian border are included in the restricted areas.

The 16 underlined cities are those in otherwise open areas, also declared off limits to Russians. Non-underlined cities on the map, such as New York, Chicago, New Orleans, Omaha, El Paso, Seattle, Spokane, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Antonio are among the 31 cities declared open in otherwise closed areas. Lansing also falls under this category.

But MSC has little to worry about in any case. Russian citizens have been lax about enrolling here this year—in fact there are none at all on campus.

Cold Feet More of Same, Weatherwise, Expected Today

The cold-hearted, cough-provoking, sneeze-snooted weatherman predicts more of the same for Spartans today.

Temperatures will range between 30 and 35 degrees, with winds from 10 to 15 mph stirring things up.

Partly cloudy skies may threaten Spartans into keeping their snow-shoes nearby.

French Film Featured Tonight

Tonight's fare at Fairchild Theater will be the second showing of "Devil in the Flesh," a 1949 French film.

Adapted from a post-World War I novel by Raymond Radiguet, the film tells of a tragic love affair between a 17-year-old youth and the wife of a soldier in the French army.

The intense and passionate flow of the film prompted New Yorker magazine to remark that it makes most of the love stories seen on the screen appear as pallid as kindergarten romps.

The film will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. as a Foreign Film Series offering.

Stocks Dip 2nd Day; Hint at Study

NEW YORK (AP)—Waves of selling engulfed the stock market Thursday for the second day in a row, but a rally in late afternoon trimmed losses.

At the close, wider declines ranged from 13 to 45 a share in the higher-priced issues.

Volume surged to 3,300,000 shares, greatest since Sept. 3, 1939, when war broke out in Europe.

Selling became intense in the afternoon. Brokers' offices were jammed and their phones seldom silent. Announcement that a Senate committee planned to study the long rise in the market brought a flood of new queries to dealers.

Brokers watched closely for signs that the big group of new investors was selling. They reported considerable amounting by "non-professionals" but expressed belief that the great majority of smaller investors was holding on.

It was difficult to pinpoint the role the average investor was playing. One broker declared the public today isn't speculating as it was in 1946, when the market reached a peak and then sold down sharply.

It's widely believed that most newcomers to the market are buying securities to put away in strong boxes—not to make a quick profit.

In Washington, Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said the Senate Banking Committee probably will make a study of the long climb in the market which preceded this week's break. He said he wants to "avoid anything like the 1929 crash."

"I'm not suggesting an investigation because that usually implies something is wrong, but I do think that a study would be appropriate," Fulbright said.

The market started sliding Wednesday when it suffered the widest break since the Korean War broke out 4 1/2 years ago.

The decline was touched off by the Federal Reserve Board action raising margin requirements from 50 per cent to 60 per cent, but many analysts suggested the market was ripe for a sharp fall anyway, having climbed so high.

Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.90 to $150.89. But that was less than half the $3.40 drop recorded Wednesday.

As measured by the average, the total value of all securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange declined an estimated $1,600,000,000 Thursday and $3,600,000,000 Wednesday.

Persevering buying sent a few stocks to the plus side.

Most brokers expressed the view that the basic trend of the market is still upward, but even the more optimistic conceded that there might be a long spell of See STOCKS, Page 6

Regional Coverage Demanded

Eastern Group Opposes Change

NEW YORK (AP)—The Big 10 Thursday threatened to boycott or secede from the NCAA in an effort to change the system of controlling football television.

In the strongest statement yet to come from this powerful conference, H. O. Fritz, Big 10 spokesman at an NCAA discussion of TV said the conference could not accept another control plan similar to the one in effect during 1954.

Biggie Munn, athletic director and Dean Edger L. Harden, Big 10 faculty representative, are in New York representing MSC in the NCAA meeting.

Crisler indicated that if the 1954 NCAA TV Committee should present another national game-a-week plan, the Big 10 would reject it and likely be forced to adopt a conference TV program of its own.

This threat, partly implicit and partly spelled out in Crisler's lengthy speech, resulted largely from the pressure put on the conference colleges by state legislatures.

So far, Crisler said, the colleges-nine of them state supported—have managed to head off legislative action but they can't be expected to hold the line indefinitely.

If the 1954 plan or something similar to it is brought down, we feel we have the right to reject it," Crisler said. "In conscience we feel we have the right to abstain from participating."

And in that case I would think we would hold the line and not participate in television games where

While Crisler left a number of proposals through which the Big 10 could continue to participate in a national program, the threat sent a wave of letters over the college athletic leaders gathered for the 49th annual NCAA convention.

Five proposals were listed for discussion at Thursday's meeting and a sixth was added when Bob Kane, Cornell athletic director, read a proposal adopted by the Eastern College Athletic Conference last month.

At the end of the discussion, the members voted in a secret straw ballot on their preferences among these plans.

The result was not disclosed, although the Rev. Edmund Joyce of Notre Dame said he would ask to have it made public Friday.

Crisler's vigorous presentation of the Big 10 case for regional TV was the high spot of a busy day in which members of the American Football Coaches Assn. voted informally by a 3-1 margin in favor of the 1954 type of TV controls.

The Big 10 threat brought an immediate reaction from Eastern representatives who questioned the feasibility of regional TV and the propriety of letting legislators dictate college policies.

NCAA leaders, obviously disturbed, were inclined to discount the possibility of a Big 10 withdrawal and had nothing to say about possible action if it should take place.

The greatest danger to an NCAA national program would be the loss of attractive Big 10 football games, almost essential in attracting a sponsor to pay for a program.

Essentially, the Big 10 national-regional plan calls for the division of the United States into regions—to be decided by the NCAA committee—and limiting colleges to telecasting within those regions during the greater part of the football season.

National network TV would be permitted in early September and See BIG 10, Page 3

A Solid Foundation for Rush

Two Weeks Will Tell Changes Should Add To Rush Efficiency

Today's the day that MSC's 900 or so sorority rushees may pick up their first bids. And so will begin a two-week session of parties and programs of campus sororities.

Always a somewhat hectic period for sorority members and rushees alike, rush will have several new aspects this year, thanks to the PanHellenic Council.

Major changes in the rush system are a completely new and certainly worthwhile counseling system, a slightly extended rushing period and a new convocation at the beginning of winter term.

The changes, a result of careful thinking last year by sorority PanHel representatives, are designed mainly to bring a stronger understanding between each sorority and each rushee.

And it looks like the changes may build a stronger rushing system. They are certainly a step in the right direction.

Perhaps the greatest benefit to the rushee will come through the new individual counseling system. Now, when each rushee receives her bids, she will also receive a card designating the PanHel counselor assigned to her.

Sixteen PanHel members have been disaffiliated from their sororities since the beginning of formal rushing, Oct. 30, for the express purpose of devoting their time to individual counseling.

Each counselor is responsible for 60 coeds who may discuss sorority problems with her at any time. The rushee should feel free to talk over indecision, before making her final choice.

The second change, that of an extended rush period, is a benefit to sororities and rushees alike.

The extension is short so it can not in any great degree add to the tension of the rush period.

And it could be a big help in accomplishing the necessary paper work that accompanies rushing and in allowing both members and rushees a few nights of rest between the parties of each rush stage.

Thirdly, the new convocation, held Wednesday and Thursday nights, should be a big step toward straightening out the complicated technicalities of rushing and answering the questions which arise in every rushee's mind as she thinks of the two weeks ahead.

One convocation, fall term, is not enough. That one is designed merely to acquaint coeds with sorority living. Purpose of the second is to impress the importance of the rushee's independence in deciding on a sorority.

PanHel has tried to improve the rush system and the changes should work. Still, it is the rushees' response that will determine the success of the council's efforts.

New Information Service To Boost Your Crowds

Of the grapes that the State News receives, most of them come from campus organizations who wish to get more publicity for special activities or meetings with noteworthy speakers.

To aid these groups, we're re-instituting the Monday morning information roundup for the week's activities.

As the medicine bottles say, just follow these simple directions.

Publicity chairmen already know that the State News is located on the third floor of the Union. And we're using the same spindle that is placed in the outer office for the daily information column.

Deadline for the Monday roundup is Sunday afternoon at 3. Information for these special meetings should include time and place along with the speaker and function. A small amount of material about the speaker may also be used.

Deadline for the daily information column for routine meetings will remain at noon preceding the day of publication.

With this, we wish you meeting rooms bulging at the seams for your special speakers.

Education for All Founding Principle Remains at MSC

1955 looks like a big year for the state of Michigan as well as Michigan State College.

On the local scene the celebration of the MSC Centennial promises to dominate all college activities. Celebrations, parades and birthday parties will start Feb. 12.

But before the festivities really begin a moment of reflection on the founding of MSC is in order.

In these times of charges and counter charges, battles over civil liberties and senate investigations, perhaps the basics that this country and this school were founded upon sometimes fade from sight.

As one of the backers of the plan to form a land grant college expressed it, the original intent was to provide a school that was "good enough for the proudest and cheap enough for the poorest."

Midway through the 19th century the desire to own and till the soil in this country had brought the first waves of immigrants to our shores. They had fanned out over the fertile plains of the Midwest.

After the land was acquired the desire to learn about it drove groups of men together in various places to form agricultural societies and promote education in agriculture and related sciences.

The cluster of three brick buildings in the middle of a swamp five miles east of the state capitol has changed quite a bit since Feb. 12, 1855.

The plank road that led through the mud and swamp has been replaced by many miles of paved roads and sidewalks winding over hundreds of acres of campus.

The sound of the work bell dragging the reluctant handful of men from their beds to toil a half-day in the fields as part of their education has merged into the jangle of 10,000 alarm clocks jarring men and women alike from their beds to their varied studies.

One thing alone remains, the principle of a solid education at a price all can afford.

Self-Service Success

Bookstore Expands, Waiting Lines Vanish

A student standing in line for a book in the Union Bookstore is as uncommon this term as a student walking into the Union wearing a raccoon coat.

And if the new self-service system of selling books passes the test coming up today and tomorrow the line-standing will probably stay a thing of the past.

Bookstore managers obviously listened to the complaints expressed last fall when students fought confusion and endless waiting in the main Bookstore. At that time the State News said editorially:

"Bookstore and Union workers should expect the crowds. They know that the students have to buy their books during the first week of classes or before. They should be ready for them."

And this time the workers were ready. Half the books had been carted up to the Union Ballroom and arranged on open tables for sale there.

Under the new system, students go in, select their texts and then check out with the cashiers. Already over 300 students have been clocked in an hourly turnover.

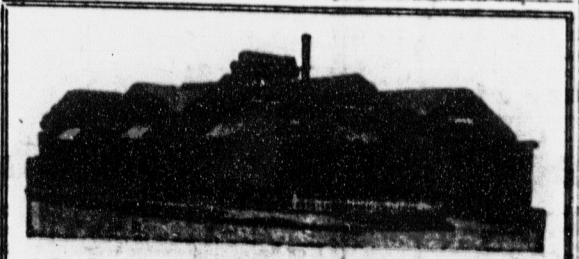

So far the only complaint with the upstairs system is that students are asked to leave their old books in the Union checkrooms before entering the ballroom. But bookstore officials have a very logical answer:

"You don't want to pay for books you already own, do you?" they say.

Downstairs in the regular Bookstore the old system of calling for books still prevails. But there are few lines there either since half of the books have been removed and half of the students are buying upstairs.

However, bookstore officials would like to start a self-service system in the downstairs store too. But at present, they say, there just isn't enough room.

But the officials aren't stopping with that. They're still considering a complete change, possibly including the basement storeroom.

Last of 'Dragons' To Make MSC Film Debut in Aud

Komodo Varanus, billed as the world's only surviving "dragon," will make his MSC film debut in the Auditorium Saturday. The "dragon," who is probably no relation to his Kuklapolitan counterpart on television, will appear in "Jungle to Zoo," a World Travel Series presentation by Peter and Mercia Ryhner. Starting time for the color film-lecture is 8 p.m. Game hunting in India is the topic of the terms first travelogue. The Ryhners will show the tracking down of elephants and one-horned rhinos in Assam, a Siamese bullfight, a Ceylon elephant circus and the deadly king cobra. ID cards will admit students free to the travel talk.

Fall Chest Funds To Earn Interest

Funds raised during last fall's Campus Chest drive have been set to work earning more money for the MSC charitable organization. Jack Subar, Chest director, said the drive's proceeds have been turned over to MSC Comptroller Philip J. May, who deposited them in a government-guaranteed savings account with the East Lansing Savings and Loan Association. The money and the possible three per cent interest which it earns will be withdrawn in June and distributed to the affiliated Campus Chest charities. There are about 180 species of holly.

Glamour Icers To Skate for 2 Birthdays

"Holiday on Ice" will bring a birthday cake to MSC for the show's six-day run which begins Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the Ice Arena. The cake, along with 36 Glamour Icers dressed as cupcake, will light its candles in a combined celebration of MSC's Centennial and the 10th anniversary of "Holiday on Ice."

Tickets for the ice revue are on sale at the Union Ticket Office. The Ticket Office reported a steady demand for tickets and added that plenty of seats for each night's performance were still available. A 50-cent discount on opening-night tickets has been offered to students. The program of the 1955 edition of "Holiday on Ice" will include 26 acts, with an adaptation of "The Merry Widow" by Franz Lehár featured. Also scheduled is "Storybook Village," in which the frozen stage will be filled with characters from children's fiction, including "Little Red Riding Hood," and "Peter Pan."

"Holiday on Ice" will be given Monday through Jan. 15 with performances nightly and a matinee at 2:30 Saturday. Maryellen Doud, Grand Rapids junior, will play piano soloist with the Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestra Jan. 21. Competing against 13 pianists from other Michigan schools Dec. 4, Miss Doud won the piano division of a contest sponsored by the Women's Committee of the symphony orchestra. She is majoring in piano.

L-C Director Reports Special Show Canceled

Paul Gregory's revue "Three for Tonight," originally scheduled for Feb. 2 as a special number on the Lecture-Concert series, has been canceled. According to Dean Stanley E. Crowe, series director, the show may still be booked for a later appearance winter term if it can be worked into the schedule. "Three for Tonight," which includes dancers Marge and Gower Champion, balladeer Harry Belafonte and the Voices of Walter Schumann, is currently taking a month-long lay-off. According to Dean Crowe, reasons for the show's halt are Mrs. Champion's illness and conflicting night-club dates booked for Belafonte. If the show can be re-scheduled here, it will probably be early in March, Dean Crowe said.

Hannah Meets Dem, COP Meets Set for U of M

President John A. Hannah, aboard the USS Wisconsin in the Panama Canal Zone, is spending this week meeting with the Permanent Joint Board on Defense of the United States and Canada. Dr. Hannah, who traveled to Panama aboard the naval battleship, left Monday, the day after Panama's President Jose Ramon was assassinated. He will return to MSC by plane late Sunday evening. The nature of the PJBD meeting was not disclosed. Miss Ruth Jameyson, the president's secretary, said it was one of the regularly scheduled meetings of the board. Dr. Hannah was appointed U.S. chairman of the board last spring. There are about 80 million motor vehicles in the world.

Dem, COP Meets Set for U of M

Democrat and Republican Party Days will be held at the University of Michigan next week. MSC students are invited to attend under a special free-transportation plan. Democrat Party Day will be held Monday and Republican Party Day on Tuesday. The programs include panel discussions between students and administrators, and speeches by state political leaders. The conferences are open to all students, and they may attend both sessions. Round-trip bus transportation will be provided free each day. Interested students should contact George Gerhard, ED 7-9852. The world consumes about 80 million metric tons of pulp paper products a year.

Pucksters Aiming for Historic Win

Tambo Sidelined by Fever

Matmen Underdogs to Panthers

Crippled badly by the loss of several key men, Wrestling Coach Fendley Collins is looking forward to Saturday's invasion by the Pittsburgh Panthers with something less than optimism.

Following the sidelining of two regulars and two reserves by scholastic difficulties, the mat team learned that Bill Tambo will miss much of the season because of an attack of glandular fever. Tambo, who was fourth in the Big 10 at the 147-pound level last year, was counted upon heavily this season.

His most likely replacement, Dick Gunner, is one of the sidelines grapplers.

To combat this, Collins has moved his ace, Jim Sinadino, from the 137-pound spot to Tambo's 147-pound berth.

Tony Avellano, promising sophomore from Chicago, will substitute for Sinadino on Saturday's card.

Bob Gunner, a letterman on the 130-pound position.

Don Phillips, who last year lost his bout to Hugh Feery of Pittsburgh, this year will wrestle Hugh's brother, Ed, at 133-pounds.

With Ken Maidlow sidelined by low grades, Collins will use the powerful, but untried, Brian Harrison in the heavyweight division. The loss of Maidlow was the worst of the scholastic blows.

Ted Lennox, MSC's 167-pound blind wrestler, is in top shape for his match with Ed DeWitt, a runner-up in the 1954 Eastern Intercollegiate Tournament.

Lennox, used sparingly last year, won a 5-0 decision over Dick Whitmore of OSU, who was third in the heavyweight division in 1953.

The feature bout of the evening will pit State's Dick Abraham against Pitt's Joe Solomon.

Solomon captured the National Collegiate 167-pound crown and was second in the Eastern Intercollegiate tourney in 1954. Abrahams beat Big 10 177-pound champ Ahmet Senol of Purdue in a dual meet last year.

Norm Gill, one of the top sophomore prospects of the year, will wrestle in the 157-pound slot. Last year he won one National AAU title and was third in another division.

Pittsburgh last year was second in the AAU tourney and they have most of their top men back for another year.

Hurt by the sudden losses of key men, the Spartan grapplers must now embark on a long road of rebuilding, and will enter Saturday's meet as heavy underdogs.

Reds Plan Ebbets Field Revolt

Government Action Won't Save 'Bums'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Thursday sent an urgent message to General Manager Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Redlegs, saying:

"State Department has banned Reds from Brooklyn, the only one of five boroughs in New York City out of bounds. What should we do about our schedule?"

Paul's reply: "I can understand why Reds have been banned from Brooklyn because of the revolution they are planning at Ebbets Field in 1955. They hope to bomb you right into the dirt. The Reds do strange things."

"They've changed to Redlegs and will be permitted to enter the Borough of Brooklyn for the 11 games at Ebbets Field in 1955. Whether they are Reds or Redlegs-wash out."

O'Malley was kidding Paul about the old name of the Cincinnati club, in connection with the recent State Department order banning Russians-Reds from certain areas of the U. S.

The local team changed its name last year from Reds to Redlegs.

Icers Face 'Unbeatable' Wolverines

Hope to End 26-Year String

Coach Amo Brown's team are currently firmly in second place in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

Michigan, a fallen manager only one win in competition this season, currently battling North for fourth place, four points behind the Spartans.

A pair of wins in the home series tonight and would be the MSC's first in the league lead since 1929.

Michigan State athletic director, Clarence L. (Biggie) Munn, is one of several sports personalities to have an article included in the recently published book, "Faith Made Them Champions."

The match may result in confusion for the fans on the game on WKAR-TV. The name Schuler promises to pop up in the contest with the status of Michigan's best stand-out defense man.

Of course in the mid-Spartans, goalie Ed Fendley is trying for a repeat shut-out against the Wolverines.

The contest promises fast action despite the reputation by Bessie that probably the slowest league. We play point and if we make a usually costs us points trying not to make any.

Everything favors the aggregation Michigan's Vic Heiliger finds himself only 11 hockey players until the new season.

The Spartans have even without Bessie. A large crowd is expected what should be a history event.

Wingers Host Wisconsin in TV Debut

Line-Up Changed

Strong Boosts Offensive Output

Members of the nation will be watching the Michigan State Spartans host Wisconsin in a nationally televised game at the first home appearance of the new year for the Spartans at their first home Big 10 game.

The Spartans will pit two of the nation's leading scorers against each other, State's Al Ferris and Wisconsin's Dick Cable.

Ferris is averaging 19.4 points a game, headed by a performance in his only game Monday. Cable has 24 points so far this season.

Portly Anderson will be the Spartan line-up that has the past several coaches Julius McCoy teaming Ferris at the forward.

Game Time

The game for Saturday's Big 10 opener with Wisconsin will be changed from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. for the Spartans' appearance on CBS-TV's "Game of the Week."

Armstrong at center, Devenny and Walt Goddard. Ferris is the Spartan's leading scorer and improved players of the Spartans.

The better defensive team in the conference last year, Armstrong has been out as an offensive player.

The team in shooting with a mark of 46 per cent on the floor coupled with a mark from the foul line.

Point average ranks behind Ferris. Under the boards where Ferris hits his peak, an excellent rebounder, Penn State he scored 26 points from in close range the great Jess Armstrong.

Along with Cable for the Spartans will be Jim Clinton at forward post, John Ferris is second in scoring at center, and Dick Anderson at the forward.

In action, Wisconsin up last week and then defeated by Iowa Monday.

Will be hoping for points from his guard. Latest scoring figures the guard positions have for an average of only one point, and in Monday's game they scored only one point.

Swimmers Open With Iowa State

Face Cyclones Saturday Night

By JACK MURRAY

Coach Charles McCaffrey's swimming team moves into action Saturday night with Iowa State as its opponent. Starting time for the meet is 7:00 p.m. in the Jensen Pool.

This meet will mark the initial 1955 appearance for the Spartans in an intersquad meet, the variety heavily edged the freshmen by a 132-115 count for their only previous competition of the season.

Last season the Spartan swimmers racked up a dual meet record of six victories and two defeats. The losses were at the hands of the powerful Michigan and Ohio State squads.

Included in the victory column was a 52-46 win over Iowa State. The Spartans completed last season with a third place finish in the Big 10 and an eighth place in the Nationals.

McCaffrey is counting on his three stars, John Dudeck, Jack Beattie and Tom Pavette to form the backbone for this year's team.

Pavette and Dudeck both received All-American swimming honors last year while racking up important points in the freestyle and breaststroke respectively.

Beattie, a junior from Bay City, placed third in the NCAA 400-yard relay and sixth in the Big 10 200-yard event.

Added to the growing list of familiar faces who will be missing in the Iowa State meet are Louie Michael, John Mason, Bob McCusick, Greg Maronick, Don Styling, Bill Black, Don Morey, and Eddie Hesse.

These men, with the exception of Michael, were forced from competition by Uncle Sam and the traditional coaches nightmare, report cards.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Alan Ameche, All-American fullback from Wisconsin and a leading member of the senior bowl north squad, flew to Kenosha, Wis., Thursday for a banquet at which he received a new automobile.

He is scheduled to be back here in time for today's final practice for the Saturday all-star game. North Coach Paul Brown was reported to have first objected to Ameche missing all of Thursday's drills but finally agreed to the trip.

Michigan State's football coach Duffy Daugherty was captain of the 1938 Syracuse team that played in the Orange Bowl.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"Always something new"

"Different types of work appeal to different men," says Donald O'Brian (A.B., Indiana, '50), in the Traffic Department with Indiana Bell Telephone Company. "For me, I'll take a job that keeps me hopping. And that's just the kind of job I have."

"You'd think that after two years I'd have all the variables pinned down. But it doesn't work that way. When you supervise telephone service for thousands of different customers whose needs are always changing, there's always something new coming up.

"I started with Indiana Bell in 1952, after two years in the Army. My training program exposed me to many different kinds of telephone work—customer contact, personnel, accounting, operations. I saw a lot of jobs which looked as interesting as mine. As much as I like the kind of work I'm doing now, I bet I'll like my next spot even better."

Don's enthusiasm for his job is pretty typical of how most young college men feel about their telephone careers. Perhaps you'd be interested in a similar opportunity with a Bell Telephone operating company, such as Indiana Bell... or with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric or Sylvania Corporation. See your Placement Officer for more information.
