Curfew Suggested for Coeds Honor System Proposed Spartan Round Table

A curfew may be a thing of the past for some coeds if a proposed honor system is approved by AWS.

The idea was born at a Spartan Round Table meeting, when Sally Owen, Algonac sophomore and president of South Campbell, suggested the honor system.

Meeting Scheduled for the Colleges

Academic Freedom to Be Discussed

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Christian Fellowship, a group of university teachers, met in the Christian of their vocation, will for faculty meetings discuss academic freedom at 19 this spring.

The idea was born at a Spartan Round Table meeting, when Sally Owen, Algonac sophomore and president of South Campbell, suggested the honor system. Since the plan was readily accepted by administrative officials and student leaders present at the meeting, the idea was turned over to Mortar Board and Tower Guard.

At a Jan. 20 meeting in South Campbell, representatives from Mortar Board, Tower Guard and women's dorms further developed the honor system idea.

They suggested that privileged coeds would not have to sign in or out when leaving the dorms. Parents need only send the blanket permission at the beginning of the year for overnights, and students would not be limited in taking Lansing and East Lansing overnights.

Dorothy Parker, assistant to the dean of students and adviser to the women's dorm association, said she would like to see some privilege for 3.00 coeds but did not know if the 11:30 permission was the answer. Miss Parker said she did not approve of coeds not signing in or out, because a state law requires supervisors of rentable buildings to keep check of all the residents in case of fire or property damage. Mortar Board and Tower Guard representatives will report Thursday at a meeting in the Union on the systems of other colleges who have an honor system. The meeting will work on further plans for the honor system.

Figy Wants Dairy Price Showdown

Farmers' Week Gets Underway

Charles Figy, former director of Michigan agriculture and now an assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, Monday called for a showdown on dairy price supports.

Figy, speaking before a group of dairy farmers at Kellogg Center, criticized governmental interference in dairy farmers' affairs. He said dairying faces a brighter future if farmers are allowed to run their own affairs.

Figy said the main job facing dairymen, "is to bring production in line with demand." He said prices paid dairymen by condensaries last December were only two cents less than a year ago when higher price supports were in effect.

Monday's events, primarily for dairy farmers, officially started the 40th annual Farmers' Week. Over 40,000 people are expected to visit MSC during the rest of the week.

The day included meetings of various breeder's and cattle associations and several banquets.

Highlight event of the week will occur Thursday when Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson addresses the farmers in the Auditorium.

Today's events will include a joint program for beef cattle farmers and dairy cattle farmers.

Dean T. K. Cowden of the School of Agriculture will present three awards for distinguished service to agriculture at the afternoon general session. Following the awards Frank L. Teuton, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture research service, will discuss products made from farm crops.

Wednesday evening the short course alumni will hold a banquet. The crops and soils and livestock banquets will also be held. The day will be devoted to swine, poultry and beef.

On Thursday meetings will be held by the Soil Conservation Society of America, Michigan Beekeepers Association and Michigan Flying Farmers.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will speak at the farm management banquet on Thursday evening.

On Friday the American Dairy Association of Michigan will meet with national officers of the group. Other programs to be featured are for the muck farmers and onion growers, the Holstein Breeders' Association and the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative will hold open house at all their barns.

Exhibits will be set up by the following departments: Agriculture, economics, agricultural engineering, land and water conservation, forest products, dairy and poultry and livestock.

Menu Costs $1,750,000 a Year Campus Chow---It's College Cultivated

By DEBBY HALL
"What's for dinner" is an age-old question in the college jargon. Years ago in the early beginnings of MSC, students had a fairly good idea what to expect, since many of them helped grow the food they ate.

These early students knew that a meal of roast beef, green beans and potatoes came from the college pasture and the vegetable gardens.

Now, with 15,000 students, the college still consumes a great deal of food grown at the college, though most of it is bought from national producers, according to Lyle A. Thorburn, manager of the food stores.

The food store, adjacent to Macklin Stadium, has set the dorm dinner tables since 1948. All food products from the college and from wholesale dealers are prepared for the dorms, Kellogg Center and the Union in this building.

The college spends approximately $1,750,000 a year, excluding dairy products, to satisfy student appetites, Emory G. Foster, manager of dorms and food service, estimated.

The college still provides the dorms with most of the dairy products. MSC's 150 cows work to keep a steady supply of milk and ice cream available for the students.

Similar flags will be presented to the City of Lansing and the State of Michigan.

"Variety Show of the Century," produced by the college YWCA, will open at 8:10 tonight in the Social Hall of People's Church.

Admission charges, a penny for every inch of the viewers' waists, will go to the YWCA House building fund. Jan Somers, former Miss Big 10, and band leader Tom Aquino will take part in the show.

Folk Designs 'Depression' Art on View In South Campus Exhibit

One of the happier results of the depression is being shown this month in the south campus Art Building, A7. "Popular Art in the United States" is an exhibit of 75 original watercolors done by artists who were on relief.

The works are reproductions of American folk art, including furniture, tavern signs, ships' figure heads and quilts.

The collection is part of the Index of American Design, a small branch of the WPA Federal Art Project (FAP). The FAP was an extension to artists of the government's policy for public service being rendered by people on relief.

Murals and sculpture in many post offices and other buildings were among the results of the FAP.

The Index of American Design, now housed in the National Gallery at Washington, D.C., authorized and united the reproductions from all parts of the country. Many of the water colors were made of articles in private collections as well as museums.

"These illustrations, never before brought together, helped make Americans conscious of their rich heritage," Dr. Walter Abell, professor of art history, said.

Hitching posts, weather vanes and embroideries, are among the reproductions.

In contrast to the American art, a "Life" photographic exhibit of "Peiping" also is being shown at A7.

The enlarged photographs tell some of the history of China's ancient capital, founded 1,600 years before Christ.

Both exhibits will remain through Feb. 28.

Farmer Collapses In Union Building

Borton was administered oxygen by East Lansing Fire Department and taken to Sparrow Hospital. Attendants said he had suffered a heart attack.

Evacuation Ships Left Unopposed

Civilians First Off Tachen Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Red ground guns Monday blazed away at U.S. 7th Fleet planes but otherwise the first day of the momentous withdrawal from the Tachens passed without incident.

Two U. S. jets were making a high speed turn during patrol flights when the Red guns opened up. The two pilots said the Communists fired about six rounds but contrary to first reports the bursts did not come close.

Peiping radio had a different version. As heard in Tokyo, it said six waves of U.S. warplanes flew 28 sorties over Yikiangshan, Tumen and other islands north of the Tachens but flew away when Red planes took to the air.

The broadcast called this a grave "military provocation" and said, "If the U. S. Air Force ventures to intrude into China's territorial air again the U.S. government must bear all serious consequences arising therefrom."

U.S. carrier-based jet and propeller fighters are flying around the clock in an air umbrella protecting the withdrawal of Chinese troops and civilians from the Tachens.

Nationalist sources said the first persons off the islands 200 miles north of Formosa were Chinese civilians. They were brought off by Nationalist landing craft under cover of the powerful Seventh Fleet. In all, 41,000 soldiers, civilians and guerrillas will be taken from the Tachens and nearby islands.

Despite tough talk from the Red China radio, all advice from the Tachens indicated that not once did the Communists dare to oppose the mightiest U. S. fleet to be massed in the Far East since the Inchon landing in the fall of 1950 during the Korean War.

The Communists still moved nervously in the area. Torpedo boats were reported cruising 17 miles from some fleet units. But the 300 or more Red planes believed based as close as 100 miles from the Tachens were held in leash.

AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported from the Seventh Fleet that carrier planes patrolling high over the Tachens were fired on by antiaircraft gunners on Red islands north of the Tachens.

A pilot told Edwards some of the bursts came close but no damage was reported.

On Yikiangshan, only eight miles north of the Tachens, pilots said they saw explosions which apparently were caused by demolition work. But Red artillery on Yikiangshan did not open up on the Tachens, where a party of U.S. Marines and Navy men went ashore.

The fleet was under orders to fire back if Yikiangshan's guns opened up.

Lt. Gen. Liu Lien-ya, commander of the Tachen garrison of 10,000 regulars and about 4,000 guerrillas, told U.S. naval officers he has not yet received orders to withdraw. AP correspondent Jim Becker said in a dispatch from Tachens.

Becker quoted officers as saying they believed Adm. Alfred M. Pride, Seventh Fleet commander, had asked Taipei to speed up the orders for an operation that will take at least a week to complete.

Nationalist press reports said more than 18,000 civilians in the Tachen area wanted to leave.

The Communists made "no threatening nor unfriendly maneuvers whatsoever" in the first day of evacuation and "indications are the Reds do not intend to make any," one U.S. officer told Becker.

However, the Seventh Fleet was on the alert. Rear Adm. Al

NEWS IN BRIEF

Will Pursue Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Navy official said Monday he saw "no reason why U.S. planes covering the Tachens evacuation should not attack Communist aircraft as far as their fuel supply would permit." This meant 7th Fleet aircraft and Air Force planes in the Formosa operation would thus be following the doctrine of "shoot first," the spokesman said yes.

Hey Coed! How About You? Times Change--Do Students?

She brushed the sides of her hair toward her face, and examined her artistically jagged bangs. Then she slipped her coat on and went down the stairs to meet her Saturday night date.

The hair-do may be a perfect example of the "1955 look in cuts," but that coed is now somewhere in the vicinity of 45 years old.

For she attended MSC in 1910, and after a little research, one finds that hair-do aren't the only thing she had in common with today's coed. It seems 40 collegiates welcomed weekends as much as we do.

Tea dances in the Union were quite fashionable, but even more in vogue were the movies. The near-by State Theatre was going strong as it enticed students to see Clara Bow in "Dangerous Curves." Rudy Vallee in "The Vagabond Lover," Greta Garbo in "Anna Christie," "The Mysterious DuFu Mandu," or "Hot for Paris."

Michigan State's "Smarter Crew Band" made a big hit in February 45 years ago when they made their initial appearance on the basketball floor as they played for a Hope College contest. The eight member band was organized to promote school spirit.

Basketball was creating quite a stir about that time. MSC's new portable floor was dedicated on Feb. 14, with over six thousand people attending.

Smoking was just becoming the fad, and advertisements were for- ever urging collegiates to be smart. A typical 1910 State News ad goes something like this:

"Test, test. Will you be ground beneath the wheels of will you be smart? Of course, the villain would be observing a non-smoking coed tied to a railroad track with an oncoming train fast approaching."

One of the most striking similarities to 1955 Spartans is that 1910 collegiates had the J-Hop as their biggest dance of the year. But, if you boys think tickets are expensive now, think about shelling out the required $12 for the 1936 version.

Besides the J-Hop that weekend, students could try to squeeze in a moment or two at MSC's Union Opera. So it seems that mom and dad did all right for themselves in the entertainment bracket when they attended college.

Levinson Out of Order

No Sense to Grid Plan

After a big initial splash, the MSC-UofD grid series proposal has rippled down to almost nothing, and that is the way it should be.

The whole affair verged on nothing, in the first place. Levinson's plan had little chance of becoming an actuality.

Levinson is described as a "prominent Detroit" and, a man "long active in Michigan politics."

But this doesn't answer the question of why he throws a party and tries to convince a group of legislators to force MSC to play U of D in football.

In the first place, U of D has never mentioned the possibility of dropping football. In fact, Father Celestin Steiner, the president of U of D, is a strong advocate of intercollegiate football—even at the expense of losing money in the process.

If Levinson's idea is to make it possible for U of D to earn more money, why not ask the Legislature to just give them the money? Or why not have the University of Michigan play U of D? After all, the Wolverine stadium is twice as big as Macklin Stadium.

As to the possibility of such a series, it is remote, to say the least. MSC's football schedules are completed through 1958. Thus the series couldn't begin until 1959.

And, while the Titans are good representatives of the Missouri Valley Conference, they are in no way in the class of the Spartans, or any other Big 10 team.

Leaders of both MSC and U of M are avowedly against any legislative interference with their TV problems. They're probably just as much against any attempts to tell them who they can schedule and why.

Levinson was out of order with his proposal. And the best thing that could happen to his brainchild is to have it die a natural death.

The recent disappearance of the Sno-Show trophy from Gilchrist Hall, Jan. 28, has caused a great deal of anxiety to members of the Women's Dormitory Representative Council, residents of Gilchrist and all who participated in the contest.

Without it, we were unable to award this year's winner. We sincerely hope that the trophy will be brought to North Campbell and no questions will be asked.

A Student Plea

Help Needed In Finding Lost Papers

I have to turn to you for your kind support in a matter of great importance to me.

On Friday night, I lost my secretary—a wallet-like folder for identification papers and bills—at the Jenison swimming pool. Besides some money, there were in this folder all my most important identification papers, including my visa without which I am absolutely lost as a foreign student.

I can dismiss the loss of the money rather easily, but I plead very seriously with the holder of my papers to return these to me at his earliest convenience. If I do not get the papers back, there is a possibility that the immigration office will have me deported.

I am a Fulbright student here on a government scholarship. It is money paid by the American taxpayers, and it would certainly be a waste to them as well as a misfortune for my professional training if I could not stay and finish my course of study.

I do not expect to get the money back, but I think that my plea for the papers, completely worthless to anyone else, will be heard.

More Rooms Get OK

Is a change due in off-campus housing regulations?

Members of the MSC Veterans Assn., wondering how effectively the rules governing off-campus living were working for them, began discussions last month with administrative officials.

The first apparent result: A doubling of the area of homes now eligible for college approval. An old ruling which limited approved housing to the campus side of Pennsylvania avenue on the east side of Lansing was dropped. The revised regulation opens the approved-housing lists to all homes in Lansing and East Lansing.

The veterans originally contended that there wasn't enough good-quality housing in the East Lansing area. And with enrollments starting to creep up again, they said, the available housing was becoming more expensive.

Along with more housing, the veterans also suggested that there should be more variety in the housing approved and available.

Only rarely did apartments and houses, where students living off-campus could cut costs by doing their own cooking and housekeeping, meet the college's requirements on supervision of housing facilities.

That question, and the problem of how conduct reflecting unfavorably on the college can be prevented, are still to be solved.

Arguments by some veterans that extended off-campus housing privileges should be restricted to them have been fortunately ignored by the entire association and the administrative officials.

The housing question concerns all students who feel dissatisfied with dorms or living with undergraduates of three, four or five years their junior.

The non-veterans can have just as acute a financing problem as the veteran trying to pay all expenses on the $110 a month he draws from the government.

That changes in the regulations are probably due has already been conceded by administrative officials. The first concrete change was the extension of housing boundaries.

But what other changes are being considered?

Gerrari Whips Irish for 5th Straight Win

Ferrari's 1,000th Point Sparks 93-79 Victory

Michigan State romped to its fifth straight basketball win Tuesday night, beating Notre Dame, 93-79. Ferrari scored 26 points, boosting his career total to 1,000. He is the first Spartan cager to ever top the 1,000 mark.

Notre Dame players fouled out of the game, leaving them with only one starter at the final buzzer. Notre Dame's John Stephenson scored with 22 points.

Center Duane Peterson, who came from Elkhart, Ind., was playing before a large town gathering, scored 20 points.

Spartans led for most of the first half. With minutes left, Stephenson scored after stealing the ball to tie the Irish a 20-19 lead.

After an MSC timeout, Julius scored on a jump shot. Ferrari added two foul and a layup to build a lead that lasted until the second half.

At halftime, 39-38, the Irish fell behind early in the second half, trailing by eight at one point in the game.

Six minutes left, Ferrari scored four straight foul shots to give the Spartans a 75-73 lead, which they held.

At that point, Michigan outscored the Irish, 20-6, to wrap up their third 90 point game of the year.

Ferrari scored his 1,000th point on a foul shot, and followed with a charity toss for 1,001.

All, Ferrari cashed in on 12 free throws and hit several from the floor.

Spartans, who hit 45 percent of their shots in beating Wisconsin Saturday, hit on 32 of 60 tries Monday.

Immediately after the game, the Irish flew back to East Lansing to take to the road again against Western on Saturday and Eastern on Monday.

Bryan 1 made up a four point halftime deficit to down Bryan 3, 30-27, Monday night.

Andy Moynihan and Dave Swartout combined to drop in 13 points during the rally. Swartout netted 10 to lead the victors' scoring.

Moynihan's set shot put Bryan 1 into a 23-22 lead midway through the second half. He followed up with a lay-up shot to give his team a lead they never relinquish.

Dave Laude led the losers with 11 markers.

Rather 7, 27; Rather 5, 20

Rather 7 also came from behind in a rough contest to beat Rather 5, 27-20.

Andy Sielski put in five field goals and two free tosses to pace Rather 7. The winners were on the short side of a 13-9 score when the second stanza started.

Adam Sieminski's basket and two quick goals by Sielski sent Rather 7 into the lead.

Lennox After 5th Straight Grapplers Host Illini Tonight

By JIM JOHNSTON
 Returning home after an unsuccessful road trip, MSC's wrestling team will host powerful Illinois in a dual meet slated to get underway at 8 tonight in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Leading the Spartans, as they try for their first dual meet victory, will be the veteran 157-pound grappler, Ted Lennox.

Lennox, a totally blind wrestler, will be out to extend his current winning streak to five straight when he tangles with Illinois' Frank Kastor.

Also out to keep his winning streak alive will be the Spartan ace 137-pounder, Jim Sinadinos.

Last year, Sinadinos won six out of eight matches, of which five were falls. This year he has been undefeated in the 137-pound class but was held to a draw by Pitt's George Uassin in the 147-pound division.

Tonight Sinadinos will be out to take victory No. 6 at the expense of Bill Turner.

Illinois, currently on a road trip which has included five meets in the last six days, will be paced by their national crown contender, Larry Tenpas.

Tenpas last year lost only two dual meet matches, one of which was to MSC's NCAA champ Bob Hoke.

Opposing him in the 167-pound division will be Bob Shelhigan or Fred Kuester.

Two-year letter man and Illinois captain Ed Jackson will have his hands full in the 147-pound bout in which he opposes Norm Gill.

Out of action last week due to injuries, Gill, who holds a 3-2 decision over Jim Bose of Indiana, is expected to be in shape for tonight's encounter.

The one-two punch of the Spartan lineup, Dick Hoke and Bob Gunner, will have a battle on their hands.

Hoke, 125-pound grappler, will take on Richard Meeks, who was twice third place winner in the NCAA meet and Gunner will oppose Norb Sargent.

In a dual meet Monday afternoon, Illinois upset the powerful Wolverines of Michigan, 14-11.

Sparking the Illini attack was their 167-pound ace, Larry Tenpas who squeaked out a 10-8 win over Mike Rodriguez, former Michigan state high school school champion.

Main reason for the defeat of the pre-season conference favorites was the defeat of Max Pierson by Illinois' Bill Mellon. Previously Pierson has been defeated.

International Center Founded in 1944

Foreign Students Find a Bit of Home

By NANCY NOGRADY

"A home away from home" is a title that fits the International Center very well.

President Hannah, foreseeing in 1944 the post-war need for a center for the foreign students, made plans with Dr. Shao Chang Lee and his wife to direct the organization.

A house, located on what was formerly Faculty Row was turned over to Dr. Lee and the 29 foreign students then attending M.S.C. With expansion the Center was moved to its present Circle Drive location in what was formerly a home management house.

The house has living quarters for the resident advisers, a large living room, dining room and study for the students. The basement recreation room has a fully equipped kitchen.

When the Center was formally opened an editorial in the Lansing State Journal said:

"A project which leads to a more general understanding of the history, culture and current problems of other countries may be expected to be a contribution to the cause of lasting peace."

The Center is used primarily as an informal meeting place for the foreign students and their friends. The Arab, Chinese, German, French, Hawaiian, Indian, Iranian and Spanish clubs hold meetings there. American students are members of many of these clubs.

The International club itself has grown too large to hold meetings in the Center but informal fireside discussions and group singing still take place there.

Dr. and Mrs. Roger Moran, resident advisers and hosts, came to the Center in November of this year. Mrs. Moran said the students seem to enjoy the informality of the house. "We have someone cooking three or four times a week and usually some other informal activity or meeting every night," she said.

Mrs. Moran said she and her husband enjoy eating with the students who prepare the dishes of their homelands.

"We try to make the students and their guests feel at ease here," Mrs. Moran said. "We plan to have one or two teas a term to entertain various groups on campus and other guests."

Students often come in just to watch television.

The Center has had many distinguished guests since 1944. Henry Wallace, for example, visited the campus and was entertained at the Center with a tea in his honor. Dr. Lee remembers that Wallace became so interested in talking with the students that he stayed well past the time allotted for his visit in a busy schedule of inspection.

Movies and slides are shown every week at the Center. A current item of the foreign students is to obtain a projector of their own. The Center serves most of the 280 foreign students now on campus.

Spartan Villagers Plan Party for Married Students

An open house for married students is being planned by Spartan Village residents for Feb. 19 in the Spartan Village Hall.

The social event will be held after the Iowa basketball game and is open to all married students. Free refreshments will be offered during the evening.

"The object of the party is to promote a better cooperative spirit among married students," Pat Callahan, president of Spartan Village Council said. This is the first time such an event has been organized, according to Callahan.

Students appointed to supervise the event are: Pat Callahan, Fort Wayne, Ind., senior; Otis Harten, East Lansing junior; and Roger Preuss, Lansing junior.

Even at MSC

Pink and Blue Help to House Guys and Dolls

Pink and blue are still the traditional colors for boys and girls, even at MSC.

Tom Dutch, director of housing, recently refurbished the plain application blanks for housing by adding a silhouette of Beaumont Tower in pink or blue as a foreground for the housing questions.

"Now the housing office can tell at a glance whether the applicant is male or female by the color of the blank," Dutch said.

Dutch conceived the Beaumont Tower idea from an Iowa University blank "to give the forms that collegiate look."

"But the color idea was all my own," he said.

College Chow Revived for Centennial

Butter, cottage cheese and whipping cream all originate from the college dairy. New ice cream specialties are continually being developed by the dairy for the student's approval. Their latest is the "Small" sold in the Union Grill.

A portion of the honey served at the dorms comes directly from the entomology department, which collects a supply of honey from their beehives.

Even the horticulture department contributes a share of vegetables, though most of them are brought from national brand companies.

But MSC specializes in potatoes. At the college's Lake City Experiment station, 100 miles north of Lansing, a supply of 25,000 pounds of potatoes are sent to MSC each week.

MSC's chickens are unpredictable for egg expectancy, so many of the 36,000 eggs used a week by the college are purchased from outside producers.

At one time the college operated its own canning factory for college grown vegetables and fruits. But due to working and maintenance problems the company was discontinued in 1949.

Flour is perhaps the biggest staple used by the dorms, according to Thurburn. About 60,000 pounds of flour are consumed every five weeks.

The women's dorms buy their bread and baked goods from local bakeries. But men's dorms rely on Shaw Hall for their supply of baked goods.

Some of the college food is brought in from other parts of the country as well as foreign countries. Oranges and grapefruit are purchased from Florida and California fruit growers.

Japan is also represented in the tuna used by dorms while Hawaii furnishes students with pineapples.

Scientists estimate that from 10 to 15 percent of all deaths throughout the world result from cancer.

Harlan to Talk On Seaway

C. Allen Harlan, chairman of the St. Lawrence Seaway Commission and the Great Lakes Tidewater Commission, will speak on "Opportunities for Young Engineers in Industry" at 1 p.m. today.

The talk in 111 Olds Hall, open to the public, is part of a mechanical engineering department-sponsored series for seniors.

3rd Generation to See 'The School for Scandal'

"The School for Scandal," winter term play, will be revived for a third generation of MSC students Feb. 17-19, in Fairchild Theatre.

The play, which was the first one presented on the campus, is being revived as part of Centennial activities. Richard Sheridan's comedy of manners was first seen here in 1910 and again in 1934.

The plot centers around Peter Teazle and the romantic encounters of his wife and his beautiful ward Maria. Two brothers, Joseph and Charles Surface, are in pursuit of Sir Peter's ladies but Lady Sneerwell, in love with Charles, tries to thwart the romances by spreading gossip. She is assisted by a school of society gossips who are dedicated to the manufacture and distribution of scandal.

The play was originally presented on the site of the present Music Building which was then the Armory. Actors had to set the stage after afternoon drill. Almost no scenery was available.

The 1935 production will be staged in "drop and wing" settings typical of the 18th century. Huge canvas drops, 32 feet wide and 20 feet high, will be lowered to depict the back walls of the rooms in which the play's action takes place.

University of Texas engineers report that a survey shows the largest number of Texans are most comfortable at 78 degrees, Fahrenheit, and 50 percent humidity in summer and 72 degrees and 50 percent humidity in winter.

Tonight is the night to audition for Union Board's annual variety show.

Coebs who want to dance in the show's chorus line can try out at 7 p.m. They should bring shorts and high heels.

Students who have feature acts can audition at 8. Both sets of auditions will be held in the Union Ballroom.

The variety show will be presented March 9 and 10 during Union Board Week. Director of the show is Tom Aquino, Rochester, N.Y., senior.

Address Changed?

Notification of a student's change of address must be made at the Registration Office, 115 Administration Building, by Thursday to insure the correct address for winter term grades.

If the change is not made by this date, the grades will be sent to the old address, according to Victor Henley, assistant to the Registrar.

"Dress" Pruett wants to know: What type of training program does Du Pont have?

Don Miller answers:

Training has many facets in a big firm like Du Pont. Dress and a great deal of thought has been given to make it truly effective. We look upon training as a very important factor in a man's career. We think that the best way to train a college graduate is to give him a maximum of on-the-job responsibility in a minimum length of time. That's the general guiding policy at Du Pont, Dress.

Of course, each department varies this general policy to suit its special needs. A new man being trained for production supervision may first spend a year or so in laboratory or plant development work. Or he may spend his training period as a plant operator. Thus a man obtains firsthand knowledge of his process, and establishes a bond of mutual respect with the men he'll be working with on his first major assignment.

A young man interested in sales is often first assigned to a plant or laboratory dealing with the products he will later sell; or he may join a group of trainees to learn selling techniques right from the start.

An engineer, chemist, or other technical graduate is usually chosen for a specific job within his major field of study. Such a man brings specialized knowledge and skill to his job, and he is encouraged to put them to use promptly. But at Du Pont his experiences on the job are supplemented with lectures, conferences and discussion groups. In a very real sense, new technical employees continue training in their specialties after joining the Company.

To sum it all up, Dress, Du Pont's training program is individualized to provide a new man with specific opportunities to learn from contacts with more experienced men. The prime objective of Du Pont training is always kept clearly in mind — to develop men for future advancement and effectiveness in the organization.

DONALD C. MILLER received his B.S. in Chemical Engineering from Ohio State University in June 1937. During the following month he started work with the Organic Chemicals Department of Du Pont at Deepwater Point, N. J. Since then he has received and given many kinds of technical training. Today Don Miller is a general superintendent at Du Pont's Chambers Works — well qualified to answer questions about training programs for college men.
