Halts Formosan Race Try

Fire empt Ends

ED NATIONS, N. Y. Sharply rebuffed by China and Russia, the Security Council Monday suspended indefinitely its efforts to achieve a truce in the Formosa race.

It left the next move a diplomatic maneuver and in the capitals of the great powers.

The council refused 10-1 to pass an urgent motion to end the hostilities against China and the withdrawal of American troops from Formosa.

Cabot Lodge Jr., chief delegate, said the Council concluded its consideration of a proposal by Sir Leslie Parsons, New Zealand, for a truce in the troubled area.

Lodge said in a statement that he has hardly begun to do his job in these circumstances, and that he has done the Council and the world a disservice if he allowed discussion of the issue to becloud the issues at hand.

The council formally invited the New Zealand proposal, but quickly turned this down because of the demand for the Soviet Union to discuss the Soviet Union's Nationalist China in a Communist Chinese ambassador of Britain, who has taken part in consultations with the Chinese government for some arrangements for the fighting, said that the Chinese rejection was a surprise.

Foreign Secretary Eden said in the House of Commons that Britain and Russia will engage in diplomatic efforts to bring about an end to the fighting.

He said any new proposal to include Nationalists and Chinese in the fighting would be a setback.

Messages from Tokyo told that attacks by Red forces against the Nationalist forces in the Formosa area.

Chinese Premier Zhou Enlai dispatched a strongly worded message to the Council bid, the United States of "pre-emptive war" against the Nationalist forces and predicted a "United States aggression."

China spoke on the anniversary of the signing of the Sino-Soviet mutual defense pact.

Nothing Doing Weather Today? Same as Monday

Think it'll snow today?
Won't.
Think it'll be warmer?
Won't.
Think it'll be windy?
Won't.
Think there will be any change at all?
Won't.

The weatherman says today will be partly cloudy with not much change in temperatures. Or, to make a long story longer, today will be just about like Monday.

Frozen Earth Keeps Grasp On Mammoth

MSC's hopes for obtaining a pre-historic mammoth are "stuck in the mud."

More exactly, it's the frozen marl on the Vern Losey farm, 14 miles southeast of Eaton Rapids, that is keeping the recently discovered bones of the ice-age animal out of MSC hands.

Marl, found a marshy state in the earth, is a lime compound used for fertilizer.

"The marl is frozen too solid now to risk continuing work with the steam shovel," John Hope, MSC geologist, said. Hope has been in charge of the excavation since the college was notified of the find early in January.

Loosening the marl, frozen in about three feet from the sides of the excavation, may break the scattered bones, Hope said.

So far, approximately one-fourth of the mammoth's skeleton has been dug up. A complete skeleton has never been discovered in this region, Lloyd Emmons, dean-emeritus of the School of Science and Arts, said.

"We will have to wait for a big thaw, probably until spring, to continue the work," Hope said.

Spartans to Dance In Socks Today

Shoeless Spartans will dance today at the first college sock hop, 8:30 to 5 p. m. in Parlors A and B of the Union.

'Mystery Coed' Appears at Spartan Show

A brief appearance by the Spartan magazine's mystery cover girl climaxed a fashion revue in the Union Concourse Monday afternoon.

Twelve Delta Gamma sorority girls publicized the opening today of the sales for the Centennial magazine.

The coeds were dressed in collegiate outfits, each representing a certain month of the year. Bob Dogan's combo provided the music for the program, which was emceed by Kelly Errman.

The Centennial issue of the Spartan is on sale in Berkeley, Natural Science, the Union, and the Short Course cafeteria.

Attached to the cover of each copy will be a ballot to be used in the election of the March Miss Spartan Pix. The ballot provides space for writing the name and address of the coed of your choice. Boxes for the ballots will be placed near all the sales stands. All votes must be in by 5 p. m. Wednesday.

College Lifts Unapproved Housing Ban

Scraps Regulation For Men Over 25

By DEBBY HALL
A regulation requiring all men students to live in college-approved residences will be lifted for men over 25, Dean of Students Tom King announced Monday.

A change in college housing regulations will permit the 25-and-over students to live in off-campus housing which has not received an okay by college inspectors.

Women students over 25 have been permitted to live in unapproved housing for several years. No change in the ruling governing off-campus housing for coeds is being considered, King said.

Under the new ruling, men living in the unapproved housing must still observe college rules which forbid drinking in the rooms and prohibit women from entering a male student's room. While students living in unapproved housing must still follow college rules, they will not be subject to a housing office check, said Tom Dutch, director of housing.

Periodic inspections are made by the housing office to insure that college requirements on sanitation, fire and safety facilities are met.

A change was made in the housing regulations earlier this month which extended the boundaries for approved off-campus housing to include all of Lansing.

The boundary extension follows a request by members of the MSC Veterans Assn. that off-campus housing restrictions be relaxed and more housing made available.

Dutch said he suggested that the veterans' group set up a grievance committee which could funnel veterans complaints about housing to his office.

A committee to handle the veterans petitions and set up a guide for students in approved and unapproved apartments is now being organized, said George Thomas, president of the veterans' group.

Oratory Tryouts Set for Friday

Local tryouts for the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League oratorical contest will be held in 115 Berkeley, Friday, Feb. 18, at 4 p. m.

According to Gordon Thomas, department of speech, all undergraduates are eligible to enter the contest. There will be separate divisions for both men and coeds.

The oration, an original speech on any topic, must be limited to 1,800 words. For the purposes of the tryout, it need not be memorized but may be read from manuscript.

The winners will participate in the state contest at Wayne University on March 4.

Guests New Arrivals Born Century After MSC

As MSC celebrated its 100th birthday two Spartan "guests" were only a few hours old.

One was Candace Kessler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Starr Kessler, born Saturday morning.

Kessler, director of alumni relations, was on the platform for MSC's Convocation in the Aud Saturday afternoon, after a 13-hour wait through the night for the arrival of his new daughter.

The other guest was Brett Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanson, born Saturday evening.

Swanson, educational cost analyst in the Comptroller's Office, said he was overruled on his choice of name for the new arrival.

Coed Models To Try Out for Fashion Show

Modeling tryouts for a style show to be sponsored by the Union Board and Retailing Club will be held Thursday at 7 p. m. in 301 Home Economics Building.

The style show, "Highway to Fashion," will be held March 8 as a part of the Union Board Week activities.

All interested coeds who are five feet, five inches tall and wear sizes 11 to 14 are invited. All coeds who come to the tryouts are asked to bring a three by five index card with the following information: name, address, phone number, dress size, height, weight and previous modeling experience, if any.

Straight skirts and heels are required.

Vets Push Drive 1st Day Registration Nets 773 Donors

A total of 773 donors were signed to give blood during the first day of registration for the Feb. 21-25 drive.

Sign-ups for the drive will continue today from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. at a registration desk in the Union Concourse.

Included in the Concourse activity will be a 4 p. m. session by the Hal Nash Combo. Nash's group plays Afro-Cuban music.

The more than 700 appointments secured Monday for next week's drive were made at the Concourse desk, and in dinner-hour campaigning in campus dorms.

The sign-up desks will be set up outside dorm dining halls again on Wednesday from 5-7 p. m. for students who missed the Monday registrations.

Representatives of the coed dorms visited the men's units during Monday dinner, while Veterans Assn. members were soliciting for donor signatures in the women's dorms.

"We certainly appreciate all the cooperation we've had on a fine opening day," said drive director Bruce Ferris.

He called the first day's registration total an excellent start toward the record 3,000 pints the group and cooperating Red Cross officials have set as a goal for the drive.

The drive sponsors are aiming for 100 donations per hour of the drive. Donations during the noon to 1 p. m. period are limited to 60.

Those who signed for the drive on Monday were urged by drive sponsors to show up at their appointed time so that all delays can be eliminated.

Hours for next week's drive are Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Thursday from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Friday hours are 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. with the last five hours reserved principally for faculty and staff donations.

Title Hopes Shattered By Loss

Spartans Blow 9-Point Lead

By JOE HOFFMAN
Any hopes that Michigan State had of copping the Big 10 basketball title were washed down the drain Monday night as the Spartans were drubbed by Illinois, 90-72.

It was the old story of the classic "Spartan fade" as State blew an eight point halftime lead to lose their fifth conference game of the season.

The loss puts the Spartans in a three way tie for fourth place with Michigan and Northwestern, the Wolverines having beaten the Wildcats on a last second basket by Ron Kramer, 72-70.

Minnesota jumped one step closer to the Big 10 title by handing Indiana its first home conference loss of the year, 80-70.

Iowa remained in serious contention for the crown by whipping Ohio State, 76-68. Playing without their ace scorer, Robin Freeman, the Burkeses were easy prey for the hometown Hawkeyes.

In the other Big 10 game, Purdue rallied in the second half to upset Wisconsin, 75-63, thus climbing into a ninth place tie with Ohio State.

A second half spurge of 51 points was the determining factor in the Spartans' loss to Illinois.

Another major cause for State's downfall was the departure of Pat Wilson on five personal fouls midway through the second half.

Big 10 Standings

Minnesota	8	2	.500
Iowa	7	2	.778
Illinois	6	3	.667
MICH. STATE	5	5	.500
Northwestern	5	5	.500
Michigan	4	4	.500
Indiana	3	6	.333
Wisconsin	3	6	.333
Ohio State	3	7	.300
Purdue	3	7	.300

Monday's Results
Illinois 90, Michigan State 72
Michigan 72, Northwestern 70
Minnesota 80, Indiana 70
Iowa 75, Ohio State 63
Purdue 75, Wisconsin 63

When Wilson left the Spartans completely collapsed, scoring only eight points in the last 10 minutes of play, against 27 for Illinois.

The first eight minutes of the game saw a see-saw affair with the game being tied five times.

Then State's Julius McCoy put on a one-man show, scoring seven straight points to give the Spartans a 23-16 lead.

A long set by Bill Ridley and a tip-in by center George Bon Salle brought Illinois within three points. But once again it was McCoy, this time with two hook shots, along with a hook by Duane Peterson, that moved the Spartans into their largest lead of the first half, 31-22.

Sparked by three jump shots by Bon Salle, the Illini narrowed the margin to two points, 32-30.

State then scored five straight points, only to have Illinois bounce back with six straight to trail by just one point with less than four minutes remaining in the half.

Here again McCoy and company took over, scoring 10 points while holding the Illini to three to give the Spartans a 47-39 half-time advantage.

The last four points of the half were scored on two jump shots by State's Al Ferrari.

McCoy began the second half by scoring a layup shot to increase State's lead to 10 points. The Spartans held the lead until 10 minutes were left in the game.

Immediately after Wilson fouled out, the Illini began finding the range, tying the game at 61 all.

Government Jobs Available

Red Language Aids Students

By JOHN TARAKS
You may never vacation in Russia, but you might be better off than most if you can read the language.

There are countless numbers of Federal Government jobs for students of the Russian language, said Dr. Herbert A. Rubenstein, assistant professor of foreign languages.

Contrary to popular belief, there's a large amount of technical literature that comes from behind the Iron Curtain in demand. The government is especially interested in having scientific journals translated.

Rubenstein said. Kent Fredericks, a second-year student of Russian, started studying the language because of the Russian background in his family. His grandparents were from Minsk.

Fredericks can now carry on a conversation in Russian with his grandmother. A radio and television major, Fredericks hopes to combine his knowledge of the country with his major, to broadcast into Russia over Radio Free Europe.

In addition to learning the language, Fredericks is taking courses in Russian history. "They are an interesting people with a great cultural and traditional background," he said.

Four classes of students study Russian, said Rubenstein. They are the military-oriented. Who believe that we will be fighting the Russians in the next few years, students with Slavic backgrounds who want to learn the language, science students who want to study Russian technical literature, and those who are "just interested" in the language.

Although the Russian alphabet has six more characters than English, it isn't hard to learn, said Rubenstein, who has studied Latin, French, German, Greek, and Italian.

During World War II, Dr. Rubenstein participated in an army program to teach servicemen the language. He said that within six weeks most men had a working knowledge of Russian.

Lansing to Salute College Tonight

MSC will be saluted tonight by the city of Lansing at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner.

Pres. John A. Hannah will be the principal guest at the Chamber's dinner. Members of the board of agriculture, MSC's governing body, have also been invited.

MSC and its alumni will also be saluted by the U of M Glee Club, which will sing at the affair.

Deadline

Deadline for ordering the 1955 Centennial Wolverine is 3 p. m. All orders must be at the printers by Wednesday.

Petition Now Union Board Posts Open

Ever think you'd like to have a hand in running the Union and its many activities?

Or have you ever thought it might be fun to help plan something like the Rose Bowl special train or a European summer trip?

If you have, now is your chance.

Those are just a few of the jobs handled by members of the Union Board, one of MSC's major governing bodies.

And petitioning for the board is going on now. It won't close until Friday. Petitions are available in the Union Board Office, first floor of the Union, now.

It certainly wouldn't be hard to qualify for a place on one of the eight major committees. All you need is an all-college two point.

Of course, you'd have to be willing to work. But even that wouldn't take up too much time. Estimated average number of hours per Union Board worker is only about 40 a year.

The eight committees, and petitioners can choose which one they'd like, are: personnel, social, tournament, fine arts, publications, special events and television.

The work of these eight divisions is integrated by a 14-man Board of Directors consisting of president, vice-president, secretary, the chairman of each of the committees and three members-at-large.

After all petitions are in on Friday, new members for the 100-man board will be chosen by this year's personnel committee and Board of Directors.

Choices will be made following rush smokers on Feb. 22, 23 and 24 and March 1, 2 and 3.

Each petitioner will receive a postcard telling him which of the smokers he is to attend.

Then, if you're one of the chosen 100, you'd start your year of work spring term. And by the end of next winter term your job would be done unless, of course, you stayed on as a Director.

Myra Hess Calls Pianos 'Husbands'

Dame Myra Hess, the "first lady of the piano," will perform a concert of the classics in the Auditorium Wednesday, Feb. 23.

Ticket distribution will begin today at 9 a.m. in the Union Ticket Office.

The celebrated British pianist was heard with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra Sunday afternoon and was also intermission guest. She is celebrating her 33rd year as soloist with the Philharmonic.

In the informal interview. Dame Hess said that she regards her pianos as her "husbands." She said she has a "husband" in London and another in New York.

She is still upset about losing a piano last year. And losing a piano isn't easy. Dame Hess intimated that a railway company lost her piano which she was using on tour. She had to use an emergency piano to finish out the season.

And breaking down the fallacy of the mutual conceit of artists, Dame Hess said that pianists often attend each other's recitals.

She came to America in 1922 at the request of the man who is still her manager, Caesar Searchinger. Her first appearance in this country was as pianist for the late Annie Freeberg.

Dame Hess will perform at the Edinburgh Festival, Sept. 5.

She was decorated by King George VI with the Order of the British Empire for her work entertaining the troops and the home-front workers during World War II. At that time she organized the famed noon-time concerts in the National Gallery, giving relaxation and enjoyment to thousands of Britishers.

Labor Party Coming? Merger to Affect Politics

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The progress being made toward the merger of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations naturally raises the question of whether the United States is to have either a de facto or a formal labor party.

There are a good many students of things political who think that the 20-year-old division in the ranks of the labor organization has been a prime factor in preventing such development already.

What will happen when organized labor is, so to speak, under one management, is a matter of prime importance.

The day when American labor and a political party will represent a single entity, as is the case in Great Britain for most practical purposes, does not seem near, but it may be approaching.

The AFL, particularly, has usually followed the policy that it would engage in politics only to the extent required by labor unionism.

Led by the CIO, however, both organizations have in these latest years come to the conception that unionism embraces ideology, management and market practices, federal business regulations, and almost anything that touches the economy and the state of the nation as a whole.

From endorsement of individual candidates for public office on the basis of their attitudes toward issues in which labor was most interested, political action by both gradually began to follow lines of broad general policy. This has resulted in fairly general support by labor officials for the Democratic party.

The rank and file of union members, however, have never considered themselves bound, as party members frequently con-

HILLBILLIES NOT IN LAW

ELKTON, Ky. (AP)—A stranger from a car bearing a Mexican license tag walked into the sheriff's office. He was carrying his shoes and socks. These he offered to startled officers, explaining he had been told travelers must remove their shoes when they cross a state line into Kentucky and turn them in at the nearest sheriff's office.

The stranger identified himself as Joseph Griffin, en route to Philadelphia. When officers became convinced he was serious, they explained he was the victim of a practical joke—there is no law in Kentucky against wearing shoes, regardless of all the hillbilly jokes.

Icers Prepare For Battle With NoDaks

Ward, Olson Gain In Scoring Race

The Spartans hockey team, stinging from eight straight league losses, ran through regular workouts Monday in preparation for the final road trip of the season.

The MSC squad will journey to North Dakota to take on the last place NoDaks in a pair of weekend contests that mean the difference between a possible first division berth and another season in the cellar.

The Spartans split their opening series with the North Dakota squad, dropping the first game, 4-3, then coming back to blast the visitors off the ice, 6-2, to touch off the season.

Since then both squads have had their ups and downs, the NoDaks currently plodding along half a game behind the Spartans.

Spartan ace Jim Ward and fellow first-liner Weldie Olson are the only bright spots in the picture. Ward boosted his scoring standing over the Michigan series to eighth in the league. He picked up six points for a total of 27, while Olson climbed into 11th with 20 points.

Dons Keep Lead in AP Cage Poll

Marquette Moves From 9th to 6th

By The Associated Press
The defense-minded San Francisco Dons, who turned down a National Invitation Basketball Tournament bid because they're confident of going into the NCAA Tournament, Monday established themselves more firmly as the No. 1 college basketball team.

San Francisco, winning two games last week, drew the votes of 61 of the 126 voters and a total of 1,161 points. Last week the Dons had 68 firsts and only 1,107 points.

Minnesota, a 78-71 winner over Illinois, moved up from 12th place to 8th and Illinois fell from 10th to 14th.

Marquette, unbeaten since its opening game and the first "at large" team selected from the NCAA Tournament, registered another big gain, going from ninth place to sixth.

Magestro, Hinds Lead Badgers Boxers to Face NCAA Champs

By JIM EVANS

The team which boasts the finest dual meet record in the nation, the Badgers of the University of Wisconsin, will invade Jensen Fieldhouse Friday night to test Michigan State's boxing powerhouse.

Since boxing was established on an intercollegiate basis in 1933, the Badgers have won 114 dual meets, lost only 13 and have been held to 11 draws.

Seven-time winner of the NCAA team title, Wisconsin has downed the Spartans 10 times while being held to two losses and two draws. Michigan State last conquered Wisconsin in 1950 before going on to win the NCAA team title.

Spartan coach George Makris is well aware of Wisconsin's boxing prowess, having fought under the tutelage of Wisconsin's coach John Walsh and taking two individual NCAA titles himself.

Friday night, however, the Badgers will make their season debut against a Spartan team which has been picked for top national honors and has two wins and a draw so far this season.

Spartan NCAA champ Herb Odum, with 31 wins in dual meets, will tangle with Badger co-captain Chuck Magestro in one of the top bouts.

Magestro has won three letters as a regular and was a finalist in last year's NCAA tourney. In his freshman year he was voted winner of the "Fightin'est Fighter" award and won two Golden Gloves tournaments prior to college.

Two foes hailing from Hawaii will meet in the 125-pound division. The Spartan's Choken "Mike" Maekawa will be seeking his third straight win of the season when he faces Joji Tomel. Both men are Juniors with one season of varsity competition apiece.

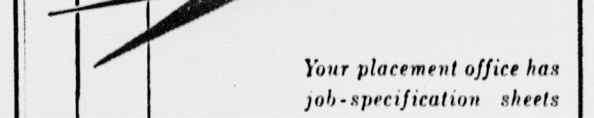

In last year's dual meet against Wisconsin, Maekawa scored an upset win over fellow islander Roy Kuboyama, winner of the NCAA 112-pound title in 1952.

Another top scrap will pit sophomore Andy Ronie against Wisconsin's Bob Hinds. Boasting three letters, Hinds has a record of 14 dual meet wins without defeat. Only once has Hinds lost to a collegiate boxer, bowing to Mike McMurtry of Idaho State by a split decision in the 1954 NCAA finals. Ronie has won two bouts while losing once in dual meet competition.

MSC Show Of daVinci Commences

Air conditioning units, parachutes and machine guns, generally thought of as products of a modern age, are part of a fifteenth century show which opened Sunday in the MSC Museum.

The displays are scale models adapted from the plans of Leonardo da Vinci, fifteenth century artist and inventor.

Da Vinci's paintings, the "Mona Lisa" and "The Last Supper," established him as one of the great artists of the Renaissance.

His artistic talent often shadowed his work as an inventor. His air-conditioning unit, excavating machine and a printing press, the first to carry movable type under a platen, all were successfully used during his life.

Another invention, not so successful, is featured in the month-long show. A flying machine, worked by human power, is constructed to scale from the original da Vinci plans.

A parachute, forerunner of ones now in use, was another da Vinci invention. A da Vinci steam gun, fired by steam power generated in the barrel, is said to have had a range of two miles by some authorities.

The approximately 40 exhibits were constructed by Dr. Roberto Gastelli, a da Vinci authority. The group is the second one Gastelli has fostered, the first collection being destroyed in Tokyo during World War II.

A reproduction of the original da Vinci sketch accompanies each exhibit. Other copies of da Vinci plans are hung on the walls.

The collection is on loan from the fine arts department of the International Business Machines Corporation.

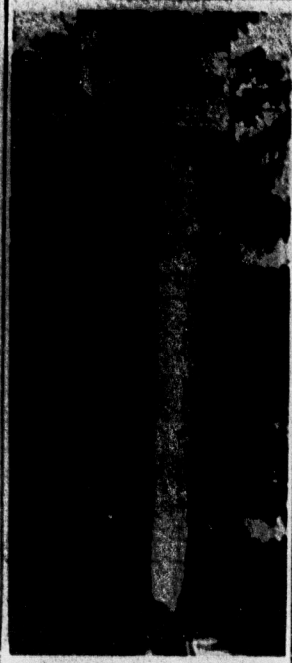

Ad Club to Hear Journalism Head

Prof. A. A. Applegate, head of the journalism department, will speak Wednesday before the noon meeting of the Lansing Sales and Ad club.

The meeting is being held to celebrate National Advertising Week, this week.

Applegate's talk will call attention to the importance of striving for better values and standards in the advertising field.

Centennial Flags

Vandals Take 4 Flags From Circle Drive

Sixty-five Centennial flags were put up Wednesday afternoon as part of the Centennial program last weekend. Today four of the flags had been torn down.

These flags, initially costing the college a total of $2,000, were to be used again on three other occasions.

The vandalism has been reported to the Dean of Student's office and if students are involved, disciplinary action will be taken.

The 65 flags, made of masonite and canvas, are on lamp posts around East and West Circle Drive.

The decorations, in green and white and focusing on the Centennial seal, also decorate Brody Hall, Kellogg Center and the Auditorium, where Centennial ceremonies were held.

Concert Tickets Distributed Today

Tickets to the Feb. 23 piano concert of Dame Myra Hess will be available at 9 a.m. today in the Union Ticket office.

Dame Hess will appear on the Lecture-Concert Series in the Auditorium. The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Students may exchange up to four activity book coupons for tickets.

Kellogg Host to 4 Groups

Four groups will gather at Kellogg Center this week for conventions, conferences, and training courses.

The Michigan Savings and Loan League, in cooperation with the MSC Division of Business, is sponsoring its first management training course. It started Monday and will close next Friday.

The course will cover savings and loan principles, principles of economics, fundamentals of accounting, and contract law. Wednesday and Thursday the Michigan Trucking Assn. will conduct its third annual "Speech Conference," co-sponsored by the department of Speech, dramatics, and radio education and the Continuing Education Service.

About 50 officials of Michigan trucking firms will participate in the two-day "better speaking" clinic which will consider "Utilization of Speech in Public Relations."

Ways to increase cooperation between Michigan industry and education will be sought Thursday when more than 100 top-level management officials and school administrators meet.

Pres. John A. Hannah will give the official welcome to the first annual conference of the Industry - Education Cooperation Group.

Awards will be given to two newspapermen and one school representative at the Michigan Association of Soil Conservation Districts, to be held Friday and Saturday.

Little Bill Ridley led the Illinois scoring parade with 20 points. However, it was the 18 points of Jim Dutcher, all of them in the second half, which proved most damaging.

Dutcher, substituted at the start of the second half, threw in seven field goals and four fouls. He personally accounted for 14 of Illinois' last 17 points.

Ferrari was the high scorer in the game with 22 points. McCoy hit 20 and Peterson netted 15 to be top Spartan scorers.

The Spartans play home Saturday against second place Iowa.
