Churchill Believes Russia Is 2 Years Behind in A-Weapons

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said Tuesday Soviet leaders realize they can never win a prolonged war against the West.

The United States has an overwhelming superiority in thermonuclear weapons that may be cut by the Russians within four years, he said.

He told a packed House of Commons the United States is the only country which is able to deliver today a full-scale attack with hydrogen bombs.

The 80-year-old Prime Minister predicted it will take Russia another two to five years to achieve the power to mount such an attack against British interests and every day the free world, with Britain now sharing the greatest production, could have greater military power.

Believing that Russia has not the hydrogen bomb yet, Churchill said however.

At the end of the speech, the House will vote on a bill to provide for a 50 per cent increase in the base pay of federal officers and representatives.

Adult Education Plans Receive Recognition

"The butcher, the baker—and policemen, nurses, insurance salesmen, teenage drivers"—come to Michigan State for its Continuing Education programs.

Last year more than 150,000 people came to Kellogg Center for 400 special courses and conferences. Each year Continuing Education takes similar programs into hundreds of Michigan communities.

Michigan State's program of adult education dates back to 1861, when the state Legislature authorized winter courses for farmers.

This was the beginning of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, the university's "answer to the growing needs of the farmer and rural people in general."

Through the years a demand grew for "extension" courses in other fields. In 1948, the Continuing Education Service was established, and in 1951, the $2,500,000 Kellogg Center was finished.

The service was given responsibility in two areas:

1. all off-campus education programs except agricultural extension.
 2. all conferences, short courses, and other non-credit campus programs.
- It works not only on the campus, but throughout the state on WKAR and WKAR-TV, by its information services.
- In the past few weeks, attention has been increasingly focused on the university's adult education programs.

Durward B. Varner, former director of the Cooperative Extension Service, was named vice-president of the university.

He will take charge of all off-campus educational activities, thus coordinating the Continuing Education Service with the work of the Cooperative Extension Service.

President John A. Hannah called it a "rare opportunity" to tie together the operations of the two services.

Nationally, Michigan State's work in adult education received praise last weekend at the second of 10 Centennial symposia, "The Role of the State-Supported University in Continuing Education."

Four outstanding speakers praised both the university's program and the idea of continuing education. Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota, said:

"This great Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, a splendid citadel for the larger outlook, provides Michigan State a base to reappraise and reorganize its role in service to the commonwealth and in example to the nation."

Both the symposium and Varner's appointment have given Michigan State's adult education program a boost.

As the campus grows and student enrollments jump year by year, the work of adult education will continue to be one of the important functions of the university.

These students who did participate in one or more aspect of the Convocation are most enthusiastic of this approach.

News Hit for Angeli Stand

To the Editor:

In a series of unsigned editorials on Student Congress action on the Angeli ordinance, the State News brought to bear all of its heavy-handed propaganda machinery in an effort to make that once-respected milestone of liberal student legislation appear a millstone around the present government's neck.

Faithfully following the Hurst line, the News repeatedly labeled it as "unworkable" and "unconstitutional," apparently on the theory that if the allegation were repeated often enough and loud enough it would become truth, or would at least make the defenders of the ordinance appear ridiculous.

The editorial on the unexpected survival of the act went out of its way to deprecate the intelligence and integrity of the majority of Student Congressmen who refused to submit to demagoguery.

"You can't legislate brotherhood," says Hurst, echoing a century of reactionaries, anti-Semites and white supremacists. The same argument is a favorite among opponents of the U.S. Supreme Court decision on school segregation.

prove whether the measure is "unworkable" and "unconstitutional?" Were Angeli and his colleagues of an earlier congress such naive visionaries? Have the State News pundits bothered to telephone Dean King or Dr. Hannah to ascertain the limits of Congress' power, or have they been content to sit back and second-guess the Judiciary?

By its complete one-sidedness and its lack of initiative, the State News lays itself open to a serious charge of malfeasance. The student body, which both the News and the student government purport to serve, has a right to information pertaining to the motives of Hurst and the anonymous editorialists.

At Shaw Hall

Muddy Lot Angers Spartan

To the Editor:

The signs of spring have started to show. One of the most significant signs of this fact is the condition of that cow pasture at the east end of Shaw Hall. Know the one that I speak of?

The Shaw residents and I have noticed that with every approaching day of spring this beautiful (ugh) plot of dirt and grass is slowly becoming a mud hole.

True, the lanes were covered with ample amounts of gravel, but to what purpose? As anyone knows, this mixture of gravel and dirt, when wet, turns to sloppy, slushy mud. This, to say the least, is not conducive to the life of automobile front ends, pant jobs or clothes.

Not only is this all that perturbs us poor drivers of State. After parking our autos, we then have to wade in mire up to our ankles or knees, depending on the amount of rain for the day, until we reach the back door of the dorm.

Then, still plastered with mud on our shoes and pants, we trudge through the halls of the dorm. Why should the men of Shaw have to put up with such sloppiness? After all, this is our home, if only for a short time.

I have noticed, at various times, that the shiny, black police cars go as far as East Shaw Hall and then turn around. Why don't they continue into the new parking lot? Are they afraid of getting mud on the shiny finish, which wouldn't look nice to visitors, or are they afraid of ruining the front end of their speedy black demons? If the police won't plow through this slush, why then should the residents of Shaw Hall have to?

I would like to extend, at this time, a hearty invitation to the police to drive, if they can, through this quagmire and judge for themselves the necessity of giving the residents of Shaw their original parking lots and letting the cows have their own land back. In all probability, the cows would refuse the offer.

I hope that I have touched a soft spot, if there be one, and expect an informal reply to this subtle outburst of rage.

Phi Deltas, Phi Taus Get 'New Look'

By SUE LOWE
With a little initiative and thought, members of Phi Delta Theta and Phi Kappa Tau found their houses could take on a "new look."

At the Phi Delta house, it started last summer with a building fund that had been accumulating and a contractor who had remodeled the bathrooms. Entirely new fixtures—from mirrors to showers—were installed, and additional features including fans, which drive away shower steam, were placed in the ceiling.

Completed just recently were the two-men study rooms, Cedar paneling with a natural finish was used in each room for from three to five feet above the baseboard.

And for the "women's touch" the mothers of the Lansing members made nice traverse drapes for each of the 17 rooms and the dormer.

Each room also acquired new blond wood furniture including two desks, chairs, dressers and a lounge chair. Indirect lighting was also installed in the halls and study rooms.

The alumni board helped the building program by furnishing carpets for the two pine-paneled living rooms.

The remodeling bug also landed at the Phi Kappa Tau house when gallons of paint were emptied by the fraternity as the men painted nearly every room in the house.

The results in the living room were striking charcoal walls trimmed with grey. The total effect is relieved by the white ceiling and flowered drapes.

The TV room was painted beige and accented by similar flowered drapes and green carpeting.

The two and three-man study rooms were painted according to the occupants' choices. One Phi Kappa Tau painted a confederate flag on the ceiling of his room.

The remodeling expanded to include the Phi Tau annex which consists of a three-room apartment for a graduate couple, six study rooms and a dormer divided into two sections.

A university interior decorator supervised the changes which were financed by a general house fund.

AOPI's to Host Greeks At Annual Songfest

Members of Alpha Omicron Pi will host sorority and fraternity members at their second annual Songfest at the AOPI house Sunday.

The songs, sung by the entire group, will be recorded. They will be played while the refreshments are being served.

During the Middle Ages, fur was used principally in male rather than in female garments.

This Is Living

By MARILYN MINION

"It takes a heap of living in a house to make it home."

But there is also a heap of living in the dorms, co-ops, sororities and fraternities, and it takes someone to see that it all runs smoothly.

That is the general job of the living unit president.

He (or she) is the one who conducts the house meetings, get behind the other officers and committee chairmen, then steps out and represents the living unit in presidents' councils, and the Spartan Round Table, which meets monthly with President Hannah.

Among the duties of a president of a women's dorm are receiving the dormitory mail, working with both the coeds and the housemother and being a "taken for granted" interpreter of the AWS handbooks.

In the men's dorms, the presidents talk over such problems as parking with their house council and work for more practical rules.

Some of the living units distinguish between a house manager and president. The house manager of a women's co-op will study suggestions for efficiency in the house. In most co-ops she makes out the schedule of duties and sees that they are done.

The presidents of men's co-ops may act as general supervisors and coordinators. Where there is no house manager they make out the work schedules and check on the jobs.

Sorority and fraternity presidents also earn the title of general "handyman" and "handywoman." They, among other things, may be responsible for seeing that the house is neat and in good repair.

A number of odd jobs come up all the time for the person who is president of a living unit. But every member can offer his or her contribution toward making university housing a "home."

APO to Assist IFC With 'Sing'

Inter-Fraternity Council at its last meeting agreed the Council would jointly sponsor the IFC sing with Alpha Phi Omega this year with the understanding that next year IFC would have full control.

Members of IFC also voted to accept a rush booklet which would present the functions and activities of each individual fraternity. A booklet will be presented to each prospective rusher.

Scampy — Fraternity Friend

Schmitzelberger's Xis Acquire Rchshund Mascot

By JOAN LICHTENBERGER
Just don't hardly find them anymore."

According to members of Theta Xi fraternity, find them exactly like Scampy Von Schmitzelberger.

Theta Xi think Scampy, a black and white dog, looks like that just stepped out of a picture. He stands nine inches tall and weighs 15 pounds.

Scampy, a year and a half-old, has been chief guardian of the fraternity for over a year. He is a "state" dog, there was a lot of adjustment for him at first sleeping in the dorms seemed to be his job.

One night recently, Scampy went out in the town square. Without a sign of the man, he was found by the police. Scampy was found, until the police called and had found him.

Theta Xi say they think Scampy is a companion dog. They have an apartment living unit with a black and white female dog of "personality" to attract them.

Normal Councils Discuss Greeks' Mutual Problems

The surroundings of the normal council are the fraternity and normal council. They meet to discuss mutual problems.

Normal council meetings are held twice a month at houses. Because of its nature, the council has a lot of work to do.

Fraternity presidents' duties of fraternity presidents are to act as general supervisors and coordinators. Where there is no house manager they make out the work schedules and check on the jobs.

Housemother

Housemother, formerly assistant housemother at North College, recently took over the house at the late Mrs. Eileen Snyder, former West Mayo housemother.

He Thrives on Schlundt

Pete's Performance Hidden

Hidden in the shadow of Al Ferrari's record outburst Monday was another great performance, by Spartan center, Duane Peterson.

Facing an old rival, Indiana All-American center Don Schlundt, Peterson played his greatest game as a Spartan.

He swished through 12 field goals and six extra points for a personal high of 30 points and held Schlundt to 26.

For "Pete," beating Schlundt is an old and happy story.

In high school, Pete and Schlundt hooked up in an Indiana state tourney game with Pete and his Elkhart team coming out on top.

Last year, he was the star of State's one-point loss to the Hoosiers, outplaying and outscoring the Hoosier giant.

A junior, Peterson is described by Coach Fordy Anderson as "potentially the best center in the Big 10 next year."

This year, Peterson held the

conference field goal percentage lead for several weeks, hitting over 50 per cent for most of the time.

Contributing heavily to that shooting percentage and to his conquests of Schlundt is a fine hook shot. Monday, he scored most of his field goals with his hook, wheeling around the big Hoosier like he was the All-American instead of Schlundt.

As a sophomore and this year as a junior, Peterson has won a close battle with Bob Armstrong for the regular pivot post.

And last season, like this year, he finished strong enough to start in the closing games.

Peterson rates Iowa's Carl Cain and the Minnesota stars, Dick Gamble and Chuck Mencil, as the three best players he has faced in Big 10 action.

Pete calls this year's 84-82 win over Michigan his biggest thrill, a game in which he contributed 21 points to the winning cause.

While playing at Elkhart high school, Peterson was voted the team's most valuable player in his senior year and set a scoring record that was recently broken.

The 20-year-old Peterson is a general business major and possesses a 2.0-point average.

Upon graduation, Peterson would like to work in the sales or personnel department of a chemical company.

On a recent track trip, the team has passed a closed drive-in theater with the sign "Closed for the season. Thank for your patronage."

To this, Capt. Kevan Gosper, who hails from Australia, "They spell worse than the aborigines."

Lansing Men Sponsor Youth Ice League

A Greater Lansing youth hockey league has been formed, with the Michigan State ice arena as its focal point.

The youth program has been in existence for a few years but didn't reach the concrete stage until the weekend when the Greater Lansing Amateur Hockey League was formed, complete with officers.

Composed of Lansing businessmen and with Spartan ice coach Amo Bessone serving in an advisory capacity on the board of directors, the league is aimed at the junior high school and high school boys of the Greater Lansing area.

The chief aims of the program are to provide the youths with proper instruction, equipment and competition.

The league is expected to take full bloom next winter, with the preliminary work being done this winter and summer.

A group of about 50 boys has been participating in the program in its early stages.

Harbinger of Spring

Major Leagues Start Training Drills

By The Associated Press

Major league baseball clubs waited tensely for Commissioner Ford Frick's iron fist to fall again Tuesday on ice jumpers, but it didn't, and so from Arizona to Florida the big baseball training push opened in routine fashion.

Frick fined the Milwaukee baseball club $500 and 14 of its players a total of $625 Monday for beating the gun on the March 1 workout date. He had hinted other fines were coming.

Eight more players signed contracts, including Cleveland's Larry Doby, leaving 26 listed holdouts. Several in this group were expected to deliver contracts momentarily.

The Boston Red Sox were still uncertain whether Ted Williams, who had said he was retired as of last season's end, would return.

A mystery almost equal to that surrounding the plans of Williams developed in the case of Billy Martin, the New York Yankees' pugilistic second baseman who is in the Army. There were wild reports that Billy might be available right away.

Martin settled this matter himself, however, from Colorado Springs, Colo., where he said he hopes to be out of Army garb and into Yankee uniform by early July.

At Vero Beach, Fla., Brooklyn's Roy Campanella gave his injured left hand a real test at bat and reported it as good as ever. He said it was the first time he had gripped the bat solidly since the 1953 World Series. The hand was operated on a second time last fall.

The Yankees' rookie catcher, Elston Howard, first Negro on the Yankee squad, hobbled through a workout from a knee injury suffered in Puerto Rico two weeks ago.

At Bradenton, Fla., Eddie Mathews, who just signed his Milwaukee Braves' contract, weighed in at 200 and proclaimed himself in better shape than last spring. But at Fort Myers, Fla., Manager Fred Haney warned his cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh Pirates to be careful of the sun—they might get sun-burned.

Lushwell A.C. had a 4-2 cage record this year.

Phi Delt's Edge ATO In IM Action

By JOHN LOFGREN
Playing better basketball under pressure, Phi Delta Theta outlasted a game Alpha Tau Omega squad 33-31 Tuesday night in intramural action.

After leading 12-10 at halftime, the winners found the tail ATO cagers not willing to hand over the decision without a fight. Ron Lang's free toss put the losers ahead for the first time, 16-15, with 11 minutes remaining in the contest.

Led by Dero Prekete's jump shots, the Deltos took over the lead again, 25-18, with five minutes remaining as the losers' shooting reached a low ebb. Rick McDaniel, who led the losers with 10 points, helped an ATO rally to tie the score 27-27 before the Deltos moved in front to stay.

Featured in the fast style of play on the part of both teams was the smart ball handling tactics of the winners. Prekete's high-scoring Delt forward, frequently saved his team from losing the ball on wild passes. Prekete netted 15 points.

Alpha Phi Alpha 64, Kappa Sig 34. Proving that three point gettters can outdistance one top scorer, Alpha Phi Alpha walked over Kappa Sigma 64-34. The winners couldn't stop Larry Brown's 22 points but countered with Bill Reed's 13, Walter Galton's 14, and Ed Milbourne's 15 points.

The speedy winners overcame the definite height advantage of Kappa Sigma. After holding a 24-16 halftime lead, A Phi A solved the biggest offensive weapon of the losers, a high pass to Brown in the pivot. The rangy Brown lost his full effectiveness as the winners over-crowded his zone in the final half.

Reed, who played only the second stanza for the A Phi A, sparked the late scoring surge. Along with Milbourne's tips and Galton's lay-ups, the winners dominated the action. Milbourne was the main factor in slowing the tail Brown under the boards.

Sigma Nu 31, Delta Chi 22. Holding their opponents to but one point in the first nine minutes, Sigma Nu overwhelmed the Delta Chi's 21-22. Don Mortsey led the winners with eight.

Titans Score 2-Overtime Win

DETROIT (AP)—Guard Dan Halling sank a 15-foot push shot in the last second of double overtime to give the University of Detroit a 71-69 basketball victory over Wayne last night.

Detroit snapped a nine-game losing streak in scoring its third victory of the season over its hometown rival.

The game was tied seven times in the first half before Wayne closed the half with a 37-35 lead. Detroit's Guy Sparrow scored 18 points in the first half but he was held to only three points in the second half before fouling out with two minutes left in regulation time.

With the score tied 59-59 at the end of regulation play, Wayne guard Clarence Straughn held the ball for one and a half minutes before trying the last shot. The ball hit the rim and bounced away to send the game into overtime.

Also State's Sprint Ace Brabham Leans to Keyboard

By HAL BATEMAN
"I'd rather be an Artur Schnabel than a Jesse Owens."

This statement expresses the sentiment of Ed Brabham, Michigan State's top sprinter, who is talented both artistically and athletically.

From his high school days, at Brooklyn Boys, until the present the 20-year old junior has ranked as one of the top sprinters in the nation.

While attending Boys High he won the New York City High School sprint championships three years in a row and, in his senior year, set a New York state broad jump record.

Although he hasn't done much jumping at State, Brabham is giving the event serious consideration and, in the Notre Dame dual meet, won the event with a fine 23' 7 1/2" leap.

In 1952 he was honored by the National AAU and the scholastic coaches by being named to their All-American track teams. During the same year he won the national scholastic 60-yard dash title in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Besides his running activities Ed is also quite interested in the arts. While in high school he received dance instruction from Katherine Dunham, world famous dance troupe director. He was good enough to travel with Orchestras, modern dance club, during his first year at State.

Brabham is also an accomplished pianist and has had a recital at the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

Following his high school graduation, Brabham, wanting to go to a good track school in

Red Kelly to Wed Ice Show Star

DETROIT (AP)—The engagement of Len (Red) Kelly, defenseman of the Detroit Red Wings hockey club, and Andra McLaughlin, a skating star of the Hollywood Ice Revue, was announced yesterday.

The 20-year-old Miss McLaughlin, who lives in Colorado Springs, Colo., is a former North American speed skating champion. She has been skating professionally since 1952.

Kelly, who lives in Simcoe, Ont., has been a member of the Red Wings since 1947.

A date for the wedding has not been set.

ED BRABHAM... Spartan sprinter

He enrolled at State in 1952 with a pre-med major.

Ed's action was limited during his freshman year although he did win the Michigan AAU 60-yard dash. During the same year, he was beating Olympic champion Harrison Dillard and NCAA champions Willie Williams and Jim Golliday in the 50-yard dash in the Chicago Daily News Relays when he pulled up lame at the 40-yard line.

Brabham regards this as the biggest disappointment in his track career.

In last year's indoor season he was a member of the mile relay team that set a new varsity record, and, in the Indiana dual meet, he equalled the varsity 60-yard dash record with a .04.2 clocking.

The New York speedster finished second behind Williams in the 60-yard dash in the Big 10 meet.

He again was second to Williams in the Big 10 outdoor meet and was selected on the All-Big 10 team that annually competes against the Pacific Coast Conference.

This season Brabham reached his peak by winning the 60-yard dash, the 300-yard and the broad jump in last Saturday's triangular meet.

Next year Brabham will make an all-out bid for the U. S. Olympic team and following his graduation, plans to go to the Cornell University medical school.

Before all this however, Brabham is looking forward to this week's Big 10 championships at Jenison Fieldhouse.

Williams, last year's champion, has graduated, however Ed will have to battle Michigan's John Vallortigara and Indiana's decathlon star, Milt Campbell for the 60-yard dash title.

DUBLINN A Carpet of Green

By DONN SHELTON
State News Sports Editor

As meet time draws near, Jenison Fieldhouse is undergoing a major face-lifting for this weekend's Big 10 Track Championships.

Already the basketball floor has been disassembled and stored away and the maintenance men are cleaning up the floor and rearranging the track.

The dashes and hurdles events will be run down the middle of the fieldhouse, along with the pole vault, shot put, high jump and broad jump.

These events were moved away from the ends of the course to provide everyone a clear view of the competition.

Meet time for Saturday's finals has been moved up from 1:30 to 1 p.m. to facilitate the spectators being able to see the second half of the televised Michigan State-U of M basketball game.

Ticket sales have been slow, with student reaction almost non-existent. Officials hope for increased student interest, with hopes of a full house for the Saturday spectacle.

While Friday evening's preliminaries will be long, and a bit tedious, Saturday's finals promise to be one of the most exciting and colorful events at State in recent years.

The meet will be staged on a carpet of green, made possible by green dyed sawdust.

On top of this green carpet will be the white boundary lines and multicolored lane lines, with the 10 different uniforms providing a colorful overlay to the scene.

The competition is again great this year, with several broken records in prospect.

Although students must pay the regular $1.50 admission, it is a spectacle those who attend will remember forever.

Three members of the Ski Club team will also remember forever, their recent trip to Houghton for the Central U.S. races.

They made the trip under the joint auspices of the university and the Michigan State alumni club of Ingham County.

The university's support made the team the first ever sponsored by a Big 10 school.

The three-man team, competing against normal five-man squads, placed third in the races.

On the first day of competition, Andy Foeller broke his skis and for the next two days he and Bill Boutell and Carl Snilsberg had to share two pair of skis.

Coming back, their plane got half-way across Lake Michigan and had to turn back because of snowy weather.

But, they took off again Monday and returned to school that afternoon.

Dr. Hannah to Start Alumni Tour of State

Denies Any Political Motive Behind Centennial Speeches

President John A. Hannah will leave today for Benton Harbor to begin a month of special centennial alumni visits covering the state of Michigan.

That Dr. Hannah's speaking tour might have a political motive was suggested after the Alumni Office arranged for him to speak to combined service clubs in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor.

In Benton Harbor, an anonymous political leader was quoted as saying, "He must be running for something."

Dr. Hannah, denying the trip was the start of a "Hannah-for-Governor" campaign, said:

"My interest will continue to be with Michigan State."

The meetings, according to Sagar Keesler, alumni director, are in honor of Michigan State's 100th birthday.

His first dinner-meeting will be with the Berrien County Alumni Club tonight.

After spending the night in Benton Harbor, Dr. Hannah will go to Kalamazoo Wednesday for a dinner meeting with the Kalamazoo County Alumni Club.

On March 7, Dr. Hannah will resume his trip by traveling to Flint for a meeting with the Genesee County Alumni Club.

The Muskegon County Alumni Club will play host to Dr. Hannah at a dinner-meeting in Muskegon on March 9. From Muskegon he will go to Grand Rapids for another dinner-meeting on March 10 with the Kent County Alumni Club.

Dr. Hannah will wind up his visits with trips to Saginaw, Pontiac and Midland on March 21, 22 and 23.

He will meet with the Saginaw County alumni on March 21, then travel to Pontiac for a dinner-meeting with the Genesee County Alumni Club.

Artists to Exhibit Works in Detroit

Four Michigan State faculty members represented the university at Michigan's 10th annual Artists-Craftsmen Exhibition which opened Tuesday in Detroit.

Katherine Winkler and Margaret Yuill, both assistant professors of art, have metalwork shown in the exhibit. Ceramic work by Louis Raynor, assistant professor of art, and Irwin Whitaker, art instructor, was accepted for the regional show.

Mrs. Fern L. Crowe, wife of Dean Stanley Crowe, head of the Lecture-Concert Series, also has textile work on exhibition. The show will continue at the Detroit Museum of Art until March 30.

Coffee Hour Set

A freshman-sophomore coffee hour will be held Thursday from 3:30 to 5:30 in Old College Hall.

meeting with the Oakland County Alumni Club.

On March 23 in Midland, the Gladwin-Midland alumni will have a banquet with Dr. Hannah as the principal speaker.

At the Detroit meeting of the Wayne County Alumni Club last month, over 300 people attended a dinner in the Masonic Temple.

Dr. Hannah was presented with greetings and citations from the city of Detroit, Wayne University, the Detroit Board of Education and the University of Detroit.

Choral Groups To Finish Up Winter Season

Bell Ringers Also Schedule Concert

Public appearances are easing up for Michigan State singing and music groups as exams approach.

State Singers, the university's 65-voice mixed chorus, will give persons in Nashville a taste of "Michigan Dream," State's Centennial opera, Friday.

Accompanied by a 10-piece orchestra, they will sing selections from the opera, written and composed by State faculty members, as part of their regular program.

Spartan Bell Ringers will finish their winter term season Saturday night. State of Michigan employees will hear them at their conference in Kellogg Center.

Sunday, the Men's Glee Club will travel to Portland for an afternoon show sponsored by the Portland Band Boosters, in the high school.

Their final appearance before finals is scheduled for next Wednesday, when the 60-voice choir will sing for the Jonesville Lions Club.

Examinations will not send the groups home for vacations, however. Tours covering many parts of Michigan begin March 23 for the groups.

Court Upholds 2-Point Rule For Activities

A student government ruling forbidding students with less than an all-college 2-point to participate in certain extra-curricular activities was upheld Tuesday by the All-College Judiciary.

The ruling applies to all activities covered by the eligibility ordinance of the student government constitution. It also states that officers appointed by the Board of Publications are activities.

It was invoked in the case of Doug Coulter, business manager of the Wolverine. He had been appointed to the post for a one-year term by the Board of Publications.

Student government President Bill Hurst said Tuesday he "will ask Coulter for his resignation today, and at the same time send a letter to the Board of Publications asking them to uphold the Judiciary's ruling."

Hurst said he was "confident they will agree with the Judiciary's decision, since the Wolverine is an extra-curricular activity, and a student's first responsibility is to his academic work."

East Shaw Men To Start Their Own Campaign

Out-going mail from East Shaw will read "Michigan State University" beginning today.

At East Shaw Tuesday night 440 students pledged they would "use Michigan State University on all my correspondence from East Shaw, except official letters."

The pledge drive was held during dinner meal Tuesday. 440 signatures were obtained out of the 598 students who were available.

The dormitory received the official okay from the East Lansing postal director to initiate the mail campaign.
