"Turnabout" is the word for today. Spinster's Spin sponsors, Mortar Board, Tower Guard and Spartan Women's League, have proclaimed it.

Big 10 Meeting To Discuss TV And Eligibility

A pair of ineligible athletes and a television committee report are the main points on today's Big 10 business meeting agenda at Kellogg Center.

Meeting first, the faculty representatives will consider the eligibility cases of Michigan State high jumper Doug Stuart and Ohio State's Joe Morgan, a shot putter.

Stuart was declared ineligible because he had competed in his native Australia at both Sydney Teachers College and Sydney University.

Morgan's case involves the waiver of the freshman rule in the 1950 season. Since the NCAA hasn't released its 1955 television plan, the only TV action today will involve a report of the TV committee to the joint athletic director-faculty representatives meeting in the afternoon.

The NCAA TV committee is scheduled to meet Monday in New York and no Big 10 action can be taken until the NCAA plan is released.

Today's meeting will be the first for Les Scott, new Michigan State faculty representative.

Goldman Set For Concert

The Michigan State Concert Band will celebrate the Centennial year by welcoming guest director Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman at its concert Sunday.

The program will begin at 4 p.m. in the Auditorium. It is open to the public free of charge.

Goldman, the first guest conductor to be brought for a concert, will direct the last half of the program. Five of his march compositions will be played.

Goldman, the leader of the famous Goldman Band, is the best professional band leader in the country. Leonard Falcone, Michigan State band director said.

All that remains is for coeds and fellows to change places for the day—courtesy-wise, at least. Spin chairman Sally Garvin, Beaver, Pa., senior, says she hopes that coeds will take the lead all day long, not just at tonight's dance.

Part of the Spin's 10-year tradition, she explained, is that coeds take the initiative in planning the entire date.

Thus, a gal picks her date up at his living unit, provides transportation, takes him to a pre-Spin party or out to dinner, designs a corsage for him and foots the entire bill.

But the men would like a little something more. Hence, "Turnabout Day."

What courtesies will fellows expect before the doors of the Auditorium open tonight at 9?

Most would like to have their coffee bought for them. One set a two-cup minimum for the day.

Another man said, "If they aren't going to pay for the coffee, they should at least go up to the counter in the Grill to get it."

"If we're walking to the same class, she should walk on the outside and carry my books," one fellow said.

When asked how a coed should treat him on a "Turnabout Day," another male said briefly, "Buy my breakfast."

One Spartan thought his Spin date should be sort of errand girl during the day by volunteering lecture notes and mailing letters.

Other bits of recommended behavior for coeds today are:

"Open doors, of course."

"Whistle at fellows going by."

"Pay for the TGIF parties."

And, "Call me 'dear.'"

The event that "Turnabout Day" leads to, the Spin itself, will be from 9 p.m. till 1 a.m. Coeds have 2 a.m. permissions for the dance.

Tickets are still on sale at the Union Ticket Office.

Johnny Long's band will play for dancing and the Deep River Boys quintet will entertain at 11.

State 'Central' Name Change Denied by Officials as Rumor

State Group Waits Action By U of M

Discussion Delayed On Compromise

By LOUIS GROFF
State News Associate Editor

Michigan State's committee set up to discuss the proposed name change with a similar committee from the U of M was still waiting Thursday for the Board of Regent's to follow up their proposal.

The idea of a joint committee to study the proposed name change was the suggestion of Harlan Hatcher, president of the U of M.

After waiting two days for the U of M to take action, Clark L. Brody, chairman of State's committee, left Saturday for his Florida vacation.

Appointed to his post as chairman was Frederick H. Mueller of Grand Rapids, member of the committee and of the State Board of Agriculture.

Arthur K. Rouse, Boye City State Board Member, was appointed to fill Brody's seat on the three man committee. The other member is State Board member Dr. Conner D. Smith of Standish.

Michigan State's committee was appointed immediately after Hatcher's suggestion was received on Feb. 12. The Board of Regents appointed their committee on Feb. 25 and since then no action has been taken.

State Joins GMC Scholarship Plan For Universities

General Motors Corporation awarded Michigan State entrance in their university scholarship plan this week, Robert J. Stewart, director of scholarships, announced.

The plan, to begin this fall, provided for five scholarships for entering freshmen, varying from a $200 honorary award to a $2,000 grant. After four years the plan will include 20 scholarships.

State was one of the 139 universities and colleges selected to participate in the scholarship plan.

General Motors will permit State to make the final selection of the scholarship candidate. Sufficient money will be allotted to the students for all college expenses, determined by his expense account submitted to the university scholarship service.

The student may renew the scholarship until he graduates, if his requirements meet those set up by Michigan State's scholarship committee.

If the recipient of the General Motors scholarship drops out of school the award would be granted to a student in the same class.

Annual Honors Banquet 70 Receive Ag Awards

By HERBERT HORSLEY

Nearly 70 Michigan State students were honored with awards and scholarships at the annual Ag Honors banquet held Thursday night at the Peoples Church.

The top awards were given to John Ronald Brake and Berton S. Sheppard.

Brake, Stanton senior and son of a former state treasurer, D. Hale Brake, received the Borden award, which carries a $300 top prize. In four years of study, Brake has compiled a 3.85 grade point average.

A freshman from Wooster, Ohio, Sheppard was given the $200 cash award by the Detroit Agricultural Engineering Committee.

The sophomore award was presented to Alan Butchbaker, from Macellus. This award carries a prize of $125 in cash.

Drippy Dates Spinsters, Take Your Umbrella; Showers Ahead

Attention! All spinsters! To make this night one of the most memorable it would be wise if you were to take an umbrella with you to the spin, that is if you don't want to be escorted by a big drip.

Yes, according to all reports, it will be colder and moisterly cloudy tonight with a high of 36 and low of 28. Rain is expected Saturday.

A feature of the banquet was the presentation of the Harvest Ball Queen award to Judy Bradley, Pontiac sophomore.

The award, consisting of an Ag Council key and a loving cup, was presented by Ted Leipprandt, Ag Council President.

Earlier, Miss Bradley had been named Miss Michigan State and Over Weekend

State Enters 5 Big 10 Title Meets

By DONN SHELTON
State News Sports Editor

Five Spartan teams will be in action in Big 10 title meets this weekend, with one of them favored to win.

The gymnastics team, competing at Minneapolis, are favored to bring home a title, led by Big 10 all-around champ Carl Rintz.

Also at Minneapolis, the wrestlers will be strong contenders, with defending champ Purdue, to stop favored Iowa's title rush.

Here at East Lansing, the track squad is rated as a first division prospect, with several top individual performers capable of winning crowns.

The swimmers, at Ohio State, will be favored to finish their perennial third, behind Michigan and OSU.

The fencing team, at Wisconsin, should improve on last year's sixth place finish.

competed in the Miss Big 10 finals.

The coveted Michigan State Horticultural Society award was presented to Louis Kerlikowski, Coloma senior. The award is $100 in cash.

Eugene Scott, Ashton, Ind., senior, received the Virginia Dare award.

Dixie Marie Keppel, Pontiac senior, and first coed member of the dairy products judging team, was given a $25 award by the Wayne County Medical Milk Commission.

Other scholarship awards went to: Larry R. Ewing, Marquette senior, ag economics; John Janowitz, Menominee senior, ag engineering; Melvin Thompson, Ravenna senior, and Dorothy Mollenkopf, Coldwater junior, ag extension.

Thompson was also named the outstanding member of the campus 4-H Club.

A trip to the FFA convention in Kansas City is the reward for the four top students in ag education. They are: Burlough Schroeder, Ada senior; Gerald D. Roberson, Reed City junior; Walter C. Search, Ivyland, Pa., junior, and Philip Roberts, Milford senior.

Jan Vosburg, of Climax, won the short course scholarship and activity award.

World Travel Film Stars California

"My California," a color travelogue, will be shown by Stan Midgley, veteran cameraman and lecturer at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Auditorium.

The film, a World Travel Series presentation, includes stops at Yosemite, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, Palm Springs and Death Valley.

Midgley has been filming the North American continent for seven years. "My California," his latest picture, shows the geographical and climatical extremes of the state.

Students will be admitted by showing ID cards.

Advanced ROTC

Students requesting admittance to the fall term Advanced Army ROTC program must submit application and complete an interview before next Friday.

Students should contact Lt. Col. Robert L. Dickerson for application and interview.

Denison Says Idea Unfounded

Phone Calls Fail To Find Source

By GENE RITZINGER

A rumor stating Michigan State's name might be changed to "Central Michigan University" or "Michigan Central University" spread throughout the campus Thursday.

The rumor apparently is just that. Attempts to find out where it started met with complete failure.

James H. Denison, administrative assistant to President John A. Hannah, said he had not heard of the rumor and that such an idea would be preposterous because there already is a Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant.

The rumor was not confined to students only, but also spread in faculty circles. Phone calls to various professors revealed they had heard it from someone else and so on down the line.

The bill requesting State's name be changed to Michigan State University is still in the House Committee on Education.

Leland Carl, State's attorney, said he did not think any action would be taken on the bill until committees from the U of M's Board of Regents and the State Board of Agriculture, State's governing body, had met to discuss the name change.

When and where the two committees would meet was still a moot question Thursday.

State officials are awaiting word from the Board of Regents concerning the proposed meeting, but so far no information has been advanced.

Signatures on the MSU petitions circulated by student Government are still incomplete.

Government has about 8,000 signatures, but petitions are still out in several home units. Bill Hurst, student government president requested they be returned to Government offices immediately.

The job of addressing 11,000 envelopes with names of parents of State students is over half finished, Hurst said. The letters will be mailed as soon as the job is completed.

East Shaw men Tuesday voted to have their incoming mail addressed "Michigan State University" and their idea is evidently beginning to spread.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Israel Threatened

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt threatened Thursday to hit back in force against Israel if border clashes between the two countries continued. In Damascus, Egyptian and Syrian officials announced the signing of a new Arab defense pact aimed at the Jewish state.

Election Time

Better Check April Ballots

Spartans over 21 years old, and residents of Michigan, will be "big wheels on campus" April 4. Their ballots cast on that day in the state elections will help to elect candidates for two seats on the State Board of Agriculture, Michigan State's governing body.

Several other state officers will be chosen in the elections. They include the state superintendent of public instruction; two justices on the Michigan Supreme Court; two regents of the U of M, and a member of the State Board of Education.

A referendum ballot will give citizens a chance to vote on important changes in Michigan laws.

Election day has another significance too—it's the first day of regular classes in spring term. That means that many students won't be able to vote in person in their home election districts.

In some districts, absentee voters can register and vote as long as 10 days before the election. So many students will be able to vote during spring vacation.

For those who aren't going home for vacation, or whose districts don't allow early voting, absentee ballots will be necessary.

The ballots can be obtained by writing to the city, village, or township clerk in your home district. If you sign your name as it appears in the registration records, your letter can be used as a formal application for the ballot. Otherwise, you will be sent an application which you will have to fill out and return to the clerk.

Once your application has been received, the absentee ballot will be sent to your university address.

The sooner you apply for your absentee ballot, the sooner it will be processed and returned to you. Don't wait until it's too late before deciding you want to make your vote count.

No Ballot...No Vote!

Just Plain Funny

Bibler Cartoon Ban Doesn't Make Sense

Professor Snarf has been "fired" down at Wheaton College in Illinois. Wheaton's administration recently put the clamps on cartoonist Dick Bibler's famous character when it slapped a ban on the publication of "Little Man on Campus" cartoons in the weekly student publication, The Wheaton Record.

The administration called the cartoons, which are run periodically by the State News, "laughably in poor taste," and "generally unwholesome" in philosophy.

In imposing the ban, the administration reasoned: 1. The cartoons are crudely drawn, Wheaton students could draw much better.

2. The cartoons are largely in poor taste and the philosophy behind them is generally unwholesome.

3. Campus atmosphere is not reflected in the cartoons. In discussing the ban editorially, The Record pulled enough punches to indicate that it has much fear of further adverse action—almost recognizing the administration as all powerful.

"We appreciate the opportunities we have had for discussing this matter, especially since we recognize and acknowledge the authority behind this action and realize there is no obligation on their part to defend such moves," the newspaper stated.

Which to us, is a direct admission by the paper that the Wheaton administration holds positive views over the students—without ever having to explain the reason for its actions.

The Wheaton paper said it was "disappointed rather than resentful." "... in this area of publication college students are considered incapable of deciding, selecting and thinking," the Record complained.

"We are still trying," it concluded. Michigan State students who have often laughed at Bibler's cartoon antics via the State News probably sympathize with the "disappointment" of the Wheaton editors.

To Spartans, "Little Man on Campus" is just plain funny.

Final Same Night as Graduation

What Do We Do? Seniors Ask

To the Editor:

We read your editorial concerning winter graduation and final exams, and we fully agree with your views on the subject.

It seems ridiculous to us to attend our own graduation this term, since it will cause us to lose valuable time needed to study for our next finals which are scheduled for 8 a.m. the morning after graduation. It is quite probable that the time lost from studying by attending the ceremony would lower our final grades.

We can see no reason for this situation. It not only makes things hard for the student, but it also holds attendance at the graduation to a minimum. It is also contradictory to the spring term graduation policy.

We are sure that the administration must have some reason for the policy of having fall and winter graduations and exams so different from those in the spring. There must be some reason why the fall and winter graduates are not given a chance to enjoy their own graduation.

We, and most other students, we believe, would like to know "why?"

Jack M. Goldberg Beverly L. Goldberg Jerrold D. Widling James E. Suhanic

To the Editor:

Having read your editorial, "Caps, Gowns and Exams Just Don't Go Together," we would like to express the opinion of a few graduating seniors.

To support your editorial and to illustrate sentiments on the matter of taking exams, we would like to cite a few of the conflicts which are arising.

A certain number of graduating seniors are enrolled in a required senior course which will have its required final exam at 7-9 p.m., March 17.

It is obvious that these unfortunate seniors will not even be able to attend their own graduating exercises as the graduation will be held the same evening on March 17.

The average parent has a desire to see his sons and daughters graduate after four years of college. If a student has a final exam the morning following the night of commencement, how is he expected to attend?

After all, some of us do have to study for our finals. We're not all perfect students. Believe us, it certainly would prove quite embarrassing to attend graduation with our parents and then find out that we have not graduated.

Another item that troubles us are the June graduates. Why is there discrimination between graduates of spring term and graduates the 1 or 11 or winter terms. We thought that Lincoln had proved that there was no room for discrimination in a democracy. Must we again fight for equality?

If the June graduates are exempt from final exams, so should the graduates of fall and winter terms. A few instructors have expressed sympathetic feeling to us. Why can't the university?

Richard W. Kriner Robert E. Olmsted Salvatore Malore Bruce A. Fox Robert G. Kay Everett Johnson M. Branoff Robert Taylor Peter F. Hein William P. Fishback Richard Zandegialomo

To the Editor:

As a graduate of a non-Michigan university and mother of a former Michigan State student, please may I answer Mr. Lee Neugent who implies that Michigan State is not yet entitled to university status.

Perhaps his attitude toward State is based largely on ignorance of facts, since his letter reflects the statements and thinking of some of my own U of M friends and acquaintances who seem to have absolutely no idea of the many forms of higher learning going on at State which have little or no publicity either on or off the campus.

"UN Seminar" Trip Planned

If you think you might have a little money left over at the end of this term, here's a chance to spend spring vacation in New York City with other Michigan State students.

The YW-YMCA and the political science department are again sponsoring a United Nations seminar for the first 50 students who sign up. Application deadline is Friday, March 11.

Cost of the five-day excursion, is $90, with partial scholarships available to a few Spartans.

Fifty Spartans have made the trip for the past two years, giving different reporting, department heads, publicity chairman, simply a definite policy of administration. I have no of knowing; but, there many important scholarly searches, studies, publications, etc. being carried on within the School of Science and by both faculty and graduate students which are only about by accident.

Most of the publicity centered on popular short courses, conventions, special events, even beauty contests—all very interesting and worth while, no doubt, but hardly representative of the regular work which on at the university which is to be letting the Michigan know about the progress to Michigan State being qualified as a center of learning and culture.

And please let Michigan be named Michigan State University and called Michigan State, without any appendage tacked on to shut its meaning.

Mercer will advise representatives of new clubs as to the organizational procedure that must be followed.

At present there are five new organizations nearing recognition. Ellwood A. Voller, assistant to the dean of students, who originally set up SOPC, attended the banquet.

The proposed leadership training course, which will be offered spring term for two credits, was discussed at the meeting.

Students planning to take the course must fill out petitions, which may be picked up at the Centennial desk in the Union Concourse.

The deadline for these petitions is next Thursday. Information about the course may be obtained by contacting any member of SOPC or Nan Olin at the Student Government office.

WDA Finishes Constitution

The constitution for the newly-formed Women's Dormitory Assn. was finished Monday night at a meeting of the WDA Executive Council.

Work on the constitution was started immediately after the meeting of the Women's Inter-Dorm Council and Dorm Presidents' Board at the beginning of this term.

The constitution must be passed by a three-fourths vote of both the Presidents' and Representatives' Councils of WDA, and submitted to the Board of Agriculture for approval before it can go into effect.

The Representatives' Council passed it unanimously at their Tuesday night meeting, announced Shirley Pressel, president.

The purpose of the Women's Dormitory Assn., as stated in the constitution is to foster a residence hall program which will (1) give further unity in each dorm, (2) strengthen relationships between dorms, and (3) permit cooperation between dorms and campus organizations.

Take the right step toward a good future

You engineering students who graduate this spring have a big and important decision to make. You will decide where to invest your knowledge of engineering acquired through years of study.

Working here at International Harvester's Melrose Park Works near Chicago are graduate engineers conducting research on an experimental diesel engine to obtain basic combustion data.

The engineer who joins International Harvester joins a sound, long-established but progressive company—that represents opportunity for advancement. Harvester has long been associated with leadership in new and improved products that increase agricultural productivity; result in better transportation, assist in construction and the handling of heavy materials; protect and preserve food through refrigeration.

IH needs mechanical, industrial, metallurgical, chemical, agricultural, and electrical engineers. IH is looking for engineers for training programs, for product design, for tests and developments, for research and experimentation in nearly all its divisions. IH wants to hear from you.

Representatives from IH will be on your campus on March 1 & 2, 1965. For personal interview, contact your Placement Director.

If unable to meet with IH representative at that time, write to F. D. McDonald, Director of Personnel Department, International Harvester Company, 180 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Beaudette Wins 2nd Straight Cue Title

John Beaudette won his second straight intercollegiate pocket billiard championship in the telegraphic tourney just completed. Beaudette had a score of 98, followed by OSU's Roger Boyd with 95.

Michigan State, with 258 points, was third behind Ohio State and Florida, who tied for the team title with 259. Beaudette and Boyd are eligible for the national tourney, to be held at State April 30.

The telegraphic three-cushion tourney will be staged Tuesday and Wednesday.

Events are as follows: Side horse, horizontal bar, parallel bar and flying rings, with contestants using seven or more stunts in each.

Also, trampoline with 10 stunts, doubles tumbling with eight stunts, singles tumbling with four stunts and a 20-foot rope climb using hands only.

An extension until 5 p.m. Monday has been granted to entries in Epee fencing competition. Sabre and foil entry deadline is still 6 p.m. today, in the fencing room.

The meet will start at 7 p.m. Monday in foil, 7 p.m. Tuesday in epee and the sabres will cross blades at the same time on Wednesday.

Detroit Wins, But So Does Montreal

Howe's Hat Trick Paces 6-1 Victory

DETROIT (AP) — Goldie Howe broke out of a 10-game scoring slump Monday night and drilled in three third-period goals to lead the Detroit Red Wings to a 6-1 romp over the Chicago Black Hawks in a wild National Hockey League game.

In other action, Montreal held its four point edge over the second place Wings by whipping Boston, 4-1.

Alex Delvecchio bulged the twine twice and Red Kelly once to account for the other Detroit markers.

Hawk goalie Hank Bassen had 37 saves, to 19 for Wing netminder Terry Sawchuk, who is now four goals down on Toronto's Harry Lumley in the race for the Vezina trophy.

The goals were Howe's 25th, 26th and 27th of the season.

Jerry Toppazzini scored the lone Hawk marker, in the first period.

Sinadinos Leads Matmen in Final Only Undefeated Grappler On 7-Man Tourney Squad

Facing the best in the Big 10 will be the job of the State's wrestling squad as it journeys to Minnesota for the conference championships this weekend.

Heading the seven-man, heavyweightless, Spartan team will be undefeated Jim Sinadinos, who was second in the 130-pound class. This year his main opposition will come from Illinois' Bill Mellon and Minnesota's Ron Malem, who he defeated earlier, 9-5.

In what acting coach Gale Mikles calls the conference's toughest division, 130-pounder Bob Gunner will carry the Spartan hopes against an experienced field.

Gunner, who had an 8-1-3 dual meet record, will have to face Bill Hunt, 1954 123-pound runner-up from Minnesota, and Iowa's NCAA champ, Dick Govig.

In previous meets, Gunner drew with Govig and split a pair of bouts with Hunt, winning by a pin.

Favored in the 123-pound division is Iowa's Terry McCann, with an 11-1 season record.

His loss, however, came at the hands of Spartan sophomore flash, Dick Ioke.

147-pounder Norm Gill will have to dethrone defending champion Bud Weick of Purdue to win the title.

Ted Lennox and Dick Abraham, the two Spartan seniors in the tourney, will return to their normal weight classes for the meet.

Lennox will go at 157-pound while Abraham will be at 167 pounds.

John Shehigan will round out the squad, competing in the 177-pound spot.

The Spartans will not enter the heavyweight division.

Big 10 Championships Ready to Go at Jenison

Trackmen Start Tonight at 7

Finals Scheduled for Saturday at 1

ED BRABHAM

... carry Spartan title hopes in Big 10 Meet ...

The Big 10 closes the indoor track season tonight Saturday with the 45th annual Big 10 championships in Jenison.

Finals and preliminaries begin at 7 and the finals start Saturday afternoon.

There is $1 general admission and $1.50 for reserved seating. They may be purchased at the Jenison ticket office.

Over 200 athletes from 10 schools are entered and the meet has all the prospects of the top collegiate meet of the season. Four champions and 100 winners are back from last year's meet.

Monday night's basketball game was moved to Saturday night.

The ground crew removed the track and hauled the track has been called by Head Coach Karl Schladehan and Indiana that some conference American marks are in danger of being broken.

Michigan Wolverines are the team to take top honors in the defending champion Illinois. Expected to make a tight race.

Monday night's basketball game was moved to Saturday night.

Spartan Entries Rated High

Team Slated For 1st Division

Track coach Karl Schladehan has entered a team that, although not given a chance for the title, can take its share of individual titles in this weekend's Big 10 Track Championships.

Capt. Kevan Gosper, entered in the 600-yard and mile relay, is the leading Spartan entry. Gosper has the fastest times in the conference in the 300-yard, the quarter-mile and the 600.

He may run in the quarter-mile depending on the heat drawings today.

He is listed as the favorite in the 440-yard and the 600.

Ed Brabham, State's top sprinter, is listed for the 60-yard dash and the broad jump. The 20-year-old junior may also run in the 300 yards.

Travis Buggs is also entered in the 60 while Howard Neely is listed for the broad jump.

Other sprint entries are Ron Sues in the 60 and 300 and Jim Bigelow in the 60.

Joe Savoldi is again the all-around man of the meet, being entered in the 70-yard high and low hurdles, the shot put and the high jump. The Spartan decathlon hope should be among the top finishers in the hurdle events.

John Coleman is in both the high and low hurdles while Neely will run in the lows.

Bob Brown will run the quarter-mile and the mile relay and Tom Flynn is listed for the 300 and relay.

Dave Hoke, third place finisher in last year's outdoor 880-yard, is entered in that event and will be the other member of the mile relay.

Ted Tetzlaff is a 600 entry while Bob Baird is listed as 880 entry and Dick Stutsman will run in the 1000 yards.

Tom Goretzka will carry the Spartan hope in the mile and Terry Block and Ron Davis are the two-mile entries.

Assisting Savoldi in the shot will be Dave Goodell and Dick Muesig and Jim Vrooman, conference champion in 1953, is in the high jump.

Chuck Cokendall and George Best will form State's strong pole vaulting duet and both should score.

"CAMPUS CLASSIFIEDS... HIGH READERSHIP!"

Dubinn Hal Picks 'Em

Editors note: Hal Bateman, State News track reporter, here lists his picks for the team and individual winners in Saturday's Big 10 Indoor Track Championships. Bateman won last fall's Lushwell A.C. football poll with a .712 mark.

The Big 10 championships tonight and Saturday promise to be a record-breaking affair with any number of men given a chance to take any given title.

Predicting the team to win is hard enough, but picking the individualist titlist is even worse. However, I'll stick my neck out and see what happens.

60-yard dash-A good field that could tie the American record. Spartan Ed Brabham was runner-up last year and should be the winner.

300-yard dash-An event in which the conference record is definitely in danger. It looks like Illinois' Ralph Fessenden.

440-yard dash-Conference record threatened in this one also. The winner will be either Spartan Kevan Gosper or Fessenden, the defending champion.

600-yard run-Conference record will be broken with Gosper the heavy favorite.

880-yard run-Conference record in danger. Michigan's Pete Gray has the fastest collegiate time of year in this event and should win easily.

1000-yard run-Conference record will be difficult to break. Gray is the favorite in this one also.

One mile-Conference record could be broken. Michigan's John Moulie has fastest collegiate time of season and should win.

Two mile run-Illinois Swedish sophomore, Karl Jonsson, looks like the winner.

70-yard high hurdles-both American and conference records threatened. State's Joe Savoldi is capable of winning.

70-yard low hurdles-American and conference marks threatened in this one. Abe Woodson of Illinois should successfully defend his title.

Broad jump-All records look safe and Iowa's Earl Smith should successfully defend his title.

High jump-Records look safe. Tie between Michigan's Mark Booth and Illinois' Dick Wham.

Pole Vault-Illinois Dale Foster should add indoor crown to his co-outdoor title.

Mile Relay-Looks like the best race of the day. Will be a battle of anchor men with State's Gosper winning.

Shot Put-Many men have been around 50 feet. Indiana's Jerry Lane looks the best.

Although lacking individual winners, Michigan looks like the top team, on superior team depth.

What'll You Have? Politics Ruled Out of Bounds

KIEFELD, Germany (AP)—Referees of the World Ice Hockey Championships, tired of watching others play, have decided to play a friendly match against each other Friday.

East European referees will play referees from the western side of the Iron Curtain.

To take any political effect out of the game the referees agreed to play under the slogan "vodka versus whiskey."

Season's Finale on TV

Cagers to Battle Wolverines

Michigan State's basketball squad travels to Ann Arbor Saturday for its final basketball game of the season.

State's opponent will be its most bitter rival, Michigan. Spartan fans will get a chance to see the game as it is being televised nationally. Locally, station WJIM-TV will carry the game beginning at 3 p.m.

State is still in a close struggle with Northwestern for fourth place in the Big 10 race. Both teams have 7-6 records, with one game remaining.

The Wildcats are host to third place Illinois Saturday, and a Northwestern loss coupled with a State victory would give the Spartans undisputed possession of fourth spot.

Earlier this season at Jenison, the Spartans edged the Wolverines, 84-82. With two minutes remaining, the Spartans put on a dazzling display of control basketball and successfully retained possession of the ball until the final buzzer.

Starting for the Spartans will be Al Ferrari and Julius McCoy at the forwards, Duane Peterson at center, and Bob Devenny and Pat Wilson at the guards.

Leading the Wolverine attack will be Ron Kramer. The 6'6" sophomore is averaging 19 points a game.

Until Al Ferrari set the Big 10 game foul shooting mark against Indiana, the only Spartan in the conference record book was Bob Carey, who has the second top fouls per game average—4.4 game in 1952.

State Leaders May Receive Scholarships

Student leaders at Michigan State may win a scholarship for their efforts.

The student government scholarship committee delivered their plan for a leadership award to Robert J. Stewart, director of scholarships, Thursday.

Student Congress passed a resolution Feb. 2 to organize a scholarship committee that would investigate the possibility of such an award.

Stewart hopes to present the idea to the university scholarship committee Tuesday. Final approval of the scholarship will be received from the State Board of Agriculture.

The value of the grant would consist of tuition payment to one junior and one senior each quarter. The student may continue the scholarship as long as he meets the requirements.

To qualify for the scholarship the student must have a 2.6 grade average and have earned distinction in extra-curricular activities.

The board, which would choose the candidates would consist of Dean Tom King, an assistant to the dean, Stewart and one student from one of any specified student organizations.

Committeemen Urge Early Reservations

Students are urged to make room reservations now at Kellogg Center for their parents over May 7 and 8, Parents' Day weekend, committeemen said. Parents will be invited to attend the Engineering Exposition, the International Festival, the Green and White football game, various open houses, and other functions.

Name Change

Brody, on leaving for Florida, said he had delayed his trip as long as he could and seeing that he had received no communication from the U of M decided to leave on his two-day delayed vacation. Earlier he had informed U of M officials of his intentions of leaving for Florida in the near future.

When Michigan State's governing body first appointed their committee they did so under the impression that the U of M wanted to meet immediately, said James H. Denton, administrative assistant to the president in charge of public relations.

In suggesting the joint committee meeting, Hatcher restated the U of M's position on the name change. He said they wouldn't object if a name could be found that wouldn't conflict with the U of M title.

The Board of Regents reaffirmed this stand when it appointed its committee. They said they would object to any name that combines the words "Michigan State" and "University."

Included in names suggested outside of any committee meetings are "Michigan State University at East Lansing," "Red Cedar University" and Michigan State Land Grant University.

Selected by the Regents as their committee members were Roscoe P. Bonsteel, Dr. Charles S. Kennedy, and Otto E. Eckert.

'Clipper Girls' Spin Flannel

"The Clipper Girls," owners of the Cedar Springs Clipper in Michigan's Red Flannel Town, spun a red flannel story Wednesday night from the threads of their 20 years in country journalism.

Nina Babcock and Grace Hamilton, editor and publisher of the Clipper, a popular weekly newspaper, jumped their circulation from 403 when they bought the paper in 1935, to its present 2,400. Cedar Springs' population is about 1,400.

Twenty years ago, Miss Babcock was working for a true detective magazine in New York City and Miss Hamilton was on the advertising staff of the Jackson Heights News. It took them five years to learn that New York wasn't for them.

They scanned the business opportunity columns in the trade papers and saw an ad from Cedar Springs, Michigan. It looked good.

The ladies packed all their furnishings into an old Buick, and headed for Michigan. A few miles north of Grand Rapids they came upon a cluster of houses.

"Is this a suburb?" asked Miss Babcock.

"This is the whole darn town!" Miss Hamilton remarked.

It was. But the two friends decided to stay. They bought the Clipper from Col. Max Sellers, who started the paper in 1869. The depression was on. People bought their newspaper subscription with a ton of coal or a promise that an egg a day keeps the editor away. But the Clipper weathered the storm.

In 1936, a bright New York Sun feature writer unwittingly began something that only the Clipper Girls could finish. He said that red flannel drawers had disappeared from the American scene. He conducted a nationwide search for the longies before he drew his conclusion.

But he was wrong. Cedar Springs merchants still had red flannels on their shelves, hangers from lumbering days, and some local folks still wore them.

The Clipper immediately took up the story and wrote the York Sun, saying Cedar Springs was the last stand of the flannel days.

In a matter of weeks, the nation was red flannel country. And Cedar Springs was determined to keep alive the flannel tradition by building a story in town to handle all the orders for the comfies.

Now the red flannel flannels up thousands of dollars a year in underwear sales.

Today the Clipper Girls back on their crusading with pride. Miss Hamilton, that one of the most important duties of a newspaper is to promote the town.

As to the editing side, Babcock said the main reasons for news, a lively interest in fairs, and a liking for people

1st Oral Interp Festival Slated For Spring

Spring term's apple blossoms will herald State's first annual oral interpretation festival, May 25 through 27.

"A festival of this type has never been done in the United States before," Dr. Moore Compere, head of oral interpretation, said.

Student tryouts will be held the first week of spring term, Miss Compere, also director of the program, said.

Fifty colleges and universities from all over the nation have been invited to participate in the first of the festivals. Although the registration deadline is April 25, 14 schools, including UCLA and Brooklyn College, have returned applications, Miss Compere, said.

The Apple Blossom festival, named for Michigan's state flower and its presentation date during the apple blossom season, will have six events open. Students can prepare for and enter any and all of them.

They are: drama, poetry, serious prose, humorous prose, a speech and news reports.

Albert Dekker, Broadway and Hollywood actor, will be the special guest of the festival. He will read selections from various literary masterpieces and appear on WKAR-TV as part of the program.

Exam Error

A mistake in the spring term exam schedule, as shown in the spring term schedule book, was announced by the Registrar's office.

The exam date for all Tuesday and Thursday classes between 2 and 4 p.m. is given as 10-12 a.m. Thursday, June 16. Instead, the date should read 10-12 a.m. Friday, June 17.
