Atoms to Yield Electric Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced Thursday it has approved four proposals to build electric power plants that would be run by atomic energy.

The plants would have a combined generating capacity of 455-kilowatts. They would be located in Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan and Nebraska.

The cost would be about 150 million dollars in all, with the proposal bearing 80 to 90 per cent of the expense.

The AEC would share some of the expense, under what it calls its power demonstration program.

The fund of 75 million dollars for general acceleration of civilian power program.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said in a statement: "We established this program in January in the hope that it would encourage wider participation in the development of nuclear power technology."

The plan was to advance the nuclear power will be economically competitive. The amount of electrical capacity involved is comparatively small—less than one per cent of the present electrical generating capacity.

However, the projects could have a significant effect on the rate of the electrical industry, public and private.

The general areas of the proposed plants, their capacity and estimated dates of completion are: Chicago, 180,000 KW, 1960; Massachusetts, 100,000 KW, 1957; Detroit, 100,000 KW, 1958; and Nebraska, 75,000 KW, 1959.

Three are to be built by private power groups and the Nebraska one by a public power trust.

The two proposed plants in this state are: Detroit, 100,000 kilowatts, to be completed in late 1958.

Proposed by Detroit Edison Co. is a group of associates including Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., Cincinnati Gas & Electric Corp., Consumers Power Co., Power & Light Co., Island Lighting Co., Philadelphia Electric Co., Rochester Electric Co., and Toledo Edison Co.

Chicago, 180,000 kilowatts, to be completed in 1960.

Proposed by Nuclear Power Corp. organized by American Electric Service Corp., New York, Bechtel Corp., San Francisco, Commonwealth Edison, Chicago, Pacific Gas & Electric Co., Electrico, and Union Electric Co., St. Louis.

SU Bill Meets Delay

Committee Members to Yield Electric Power

Michigan's name-change bill met with another delay in the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday.

The action on the bill was postponed until the next committee meeting, Tuesday at 10 a.m. The bill will now probably pass the Senate for a final vote at the end of the week.

The postponement was caused by the chairman of the committee, Harry Hittle (R-East Lansing), was unable to attend the meeting.

Hittle said he wanted to have committee members present for the bill was discussed.

The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee rather than the Education Committee, as there were some questions as to its constitutionality.

Frosh-Soph Vespers Set For Chapel

Churches Ready Easter Devotions

Frosh-Soph Council will present its annual Easter Vesper Service on Sunday in the College Alumni Chapel from 7 to 9 p.m.

Reverend George Kennedy of College House will speak on the "Walk to Emmaus" at the evening service.

Yvonne Jackson, East Lansing junior, will be soloist. John Rogers, freshman class president from Lansing will lead the congregation in prayer.

Three East Lansing churches will present morning devotions in celebration of Easter.

The People's Church at 200 W. Grand River will present morning worship at 8:30, 10, and 11:30 a.m. The Rev. C. Brandt Tefft will give the sermon. The services will be televised.

Masses at St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church, 601 Abbott, will be the regular Sunday schedule with a High Mass at 10 p.m.

The College Lutheran Church on the corner of Division and Ann streets will also hold the usual Sunday services. Holy Communion will be administered during each service.

Heat Wave?

Spring Magic To Take Over Once More

Spring magic will force a hasty exit to the snow flurries of Thursday and push the mercury to 54 degrees. A forecast of fair and warmer is expected.

Even the wind will admit defeat and still its pace to 10 miles per hour.

Even Accents Don't Stump 'Em

State Speakers Talk About Anything

Like some tips on decorating a cake? Want to know how to hunt with a bow and arrow or to learn about the Seminole Indians of the Everglades?

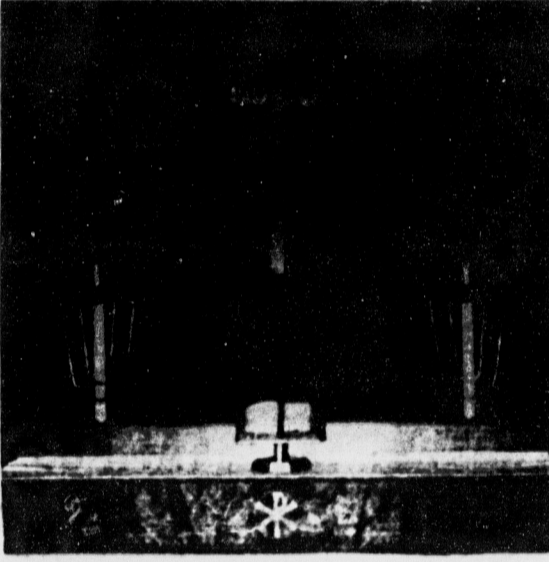

The Student Speakers Bureau can probably furnish a speaker for your special interest group or hobby club. Dr. David C. Ralph, assistant professor of speech, directs the 150 student speakers.

The Bureau was originated in 1938, with Paul D. Bagwell, now head of Communication Skills, as the first director.

In the Bureau's 17 years of operation, more than 3,500 programs have been presented to 400,000 people. The campus organization is considered the largest of its type in the United States, Ralph said.

The Bureau has two primary purposes.

First, it provides speeches on numerous topics to Michigan

"And on the third day, He rose again from the dead."

Rearmament Assured

Eisenhower Signs Paris Agreements

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, who had a big hand in crushing Nazi Germany's military machine 10 years ago, Thursday signed the Paris treaties on rearmed West Germany as a member of the North Atlantic defense pact.

"This is what we have been working for for a long time," he said.

The President addressed his remarks to Secretary of State Dulles who also signed the agreements at a simple ceremony in Eisenhower's White House office.

Asserting that "this is the biggest treaty signing I've ever had," Eisenhower told Dulles with a smile that it was "a little like the old days when certain heads of royalty had to be present at the christening."

One of the treaties, which Dulles helped frame in conferences at London and Paris, admits the Federal Republic Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The other restores its sovereignty and gives it the right to reararm under limitations imposed by a third treaty.

Only the first two treaties required ratification by the U.S. Senate. This was voted 76-1 last Friday.

Belgium and Luxembourg completed their parliamentary approval of the Paris package agreements Wednesday and only Denmark and the Netherlands have yet to act on parts of the agreements.

Plans call for a West German army of 12 divisions, an air force of 13,000 jet-type planes, and a small coastal navy.

Other requests have come from groups who wanted a magician, ventriloquist, folk dancer, tumblers, a Girl Scout from India, hula dancers, a speech on deer conservation, and a talk on how square dancing helps to combat juvenile delinquency.

So far the Bureau hasn't been stumped by any request.

The student service provides four general types of speakers, Ralph said.

First, foreign students who speak on the customs and culture of their native countries. About half of the requests are for foreign students.

Second, the travelogue, given with illustrated movies or colored slides by students who have traveled abroad or in the United States. This type usually draws about 25 per cent of the requests.

Third, a general category of topics ranging from astronomy to zoology. About 15 per cent of the total speeches are of this type.

Fourth, interpretive readings from books and poetry.

Most of these requests come during special holidays or anniversaries, such as Lincoln's birthday, Ralph said.

If a student is to give a speech in an academic area, his talk is first cleared by the proper department to insure its accuracy.

Hannah Asks Public to 'Messiah'

Chorus, Orchestra Perform Oratorio

The passion and resurrection music of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented by the Michigan State Chorus and Orchestra at the annual Good Friday Observance tonight.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium, and will consist of Parts Two and Three of the oratorio.

"The Lamb of God," "His Crucifixion, Resurrection and Glorification" and "His Triumph in Heaven and Among Men" are the three sections told in the music in the second part. The third part presents the "Redemption and Resurrection in Christ."

In his Easter message President John A. Hannah said, "On Good Friday, the college will pause in the midst of its centennial celebrations to observe an occasion whose significance transcends all temporal observances.

The Community is invited to attend a performance of a sacred oratorio to be presented by the Michigan State chorus, orchestral and music department soloists under the direction of Prof. Gomer L. Jones.

"I commend to the attention of the whole college community the annual Michigan State Good Friday observance."

The soloists will be soprano, Joan Pierce, Jerome graduate student, contralto, Pauline Greenwell, a member of the music department, tenor, Edward Richmond, instructor in the music department, associate professor of music.

Kresge, Dow Heads to Speak At Symposium

"Business in the Future" will entitle the Centennial symposium to be presented by the School of Business and Public Service April 12 to 13.

Major speakers for the symposium will be Stanley S. Kresge, vice-president of the Board of Education, and Leland I. Dow, president of Dow Chemical Co.

The past and future of automation will be the topic discussed by a panel of experts.

Students in the School of Business and Public Service will be excused from classes to attend the two-day session.

Registration blanks for the program are available in the Michigan State News office.

Final Tally Leaves 3 Races in Doubt

DETROIT (AP)—The last remaining precinct reported its vote Thursday for Monday's Michigan spring election and it left three of the eight races with margins averaging about a vote per precinct.

Michigan has 4,783 precincts—1,956 of them in heavily Democratic Wayne County.

With the final unofficial figures tabulated the Democrats led in five races, the Republicans in three. This was the first time the Democrats had finished ahead in any race in any spring election since 1933.

The three races in extreme doubt, in the order of their closeness, were the battle for a seat on the State Board of Education, the race for Superintendent of Public Instruction and the contest for one of two seats on the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State.

For the State Board of Education, the incumbent, Republican Stephen S. Nisbet of Fremont had a margin of 978 votes over John M. Veale of St. Clair Shores. Nisbet's total was 508,691. Veale had 507,713.

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, running for reelection as Superintendent of Public Instruction, finished 2,184 votes ahead of his Democratic opponent, Dr. Lynn Bartlett of Gross Pointe. Taylor had 315,384 to 313,400 for Bartlett.

In another tight race, Dale Stafford, Greenville newspaper publisher, trailed by 1,661 votes in his bid to gain a seat on the State Board of Agriculture. He had 505,006 votes while Democrat Connor D. Smith had 507,755. The other seat went to Democrat William Baker.

Here's how the other races went:

State Supreme Court (non-partisan)—Chief Justice Leland W. Case rejected with Republican backing. Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black, running with Democratic support, gained the second seat.

University Board of Regents—Democrats Paul E. Adams and Eugene Power were elected. Adams, former mayor of Sault Ste. Marie, polled the most votes of any candidate in the election—321,553.

Four amendments to the state constitution method for judges, A second set 70 as an age limit for judicial candidates, a third authorized the state to issue 100 million dollars in emergency school bonds and a fourth set up a board of bipartisan supervisors for elections.

Says UHF Decreases Audience

Hearings for VHF Channel Continue

By JERRY JENNINGS
State News Associate Editor

President John A. Hannah Thursday denied reports that Michigan State would have to close its television station, WKAR-TV, if its request for a VHF channel was rejected.

Dr. Hannah was quoted in Detroit newspapers as telling members of the Senate Appropriations Committee that WKAR-TV was a failure, and "If we can't make this other arrangement, we'll have to salvage what we can from our present facilities and drop television."

"What he had actually said, Dr. Hannah commented, was that it would be difficult defending the large expenditures for educational television in view of the small number of people served.

The reason for the small video audience, he said, was that WKAR-TV is now operating on a UHF channel. Most families have sets equipped only for VHF reception.

That was why Michigan State asked the Federal Communications Commission last fall for permission to operate a VHF station in the Parma-Onondaga area, on the still-unallocated Channel 10.

Under this arrangement, WKAR would share its telecasting time with a Lansing commercial station operated by the Michigan Television Corporation.

Three other commercial companies also applied to the FCC for the use of the channel. Hearings are now being held in Washington, D.C., and a decision is expected by midsummer.

Dr. Hannah and Michigan State Comptroller Philip J. May explained details of the proposal to appropriations committee at hearings Wednesday.

The hearings were called three weeks ago when the committee asked the heads of all state-supported colleges and universities to appear before it and outline their plans for radio and television broadcasting.

In a letter to the committee, Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Birmingham), chairman, requested it to "place special emphasis" on budgets for any institutions operating in the radio and television fields.

Porter said the legislature should know fully about any institutions plans for commercial operations, an obvious reference to Michigan State.

Thursday Dr. Hannah said the hearings were "another effort on the part of the other companies to keep us on the UHF channel."

The overall plans for WKAR-TV if it gets the use of the VHF channel are:

Michigan State would build a transmitter and tower for the new station at a cost of $424,000 of borrowed funds. It would rent the telecasting facilities, on a part-time basis, to the Michigan Television Corporation, receiving $20,000.

Angeli Repeal Discrimination Gets Set-Back

The much discussed Angeli Bill is at last a thing of the past.

Student Congress repealed the ordinance Wednesday night, substituting for it a new anti-discrimination ordinance which, though not radically different from the unworkable Angeli Bill, at least does not ask student government to enforce a law it never has had power to enforce.

The Angeli Bill would have had student government remove the charters of any organization that had discriminatory clauses in its constitution by April 1, 1956.

It included fraternities and sororities, groups that do not have charters issued by student government. It was, therefore, unworkable.

The new bill eliminates this clause. It does, in effect, leave the whole problem of discrimination up to the fraternities and sororities, the only campus organizations that have discriminatory clauses in their constitutions.

The Greek groups have been working on the problems, and they maintain they can solve it if they are left alone. Here is the stand taken by the President's Assembly of the Interfraternity Council on March 2, 1955.

"The Greek-letter societies of Michigan State for a number of years have been keenly aware of the problem of discrimination as it affects their groups. In 1948, the combined interfraternity councils of the Big 10 schools, recognizing the need for advice and guidance in this problem, organized the Big 10 Counseling Service to give aid to individual chapters which were interested in making progress in this area.

"Clear evidence is available that progress has been made. No national sororities now have discriminatory clauses.

"In the last six years, discriminatory clauses in the constitutions of national fraternities have been reduced from 25 to 10. On our own campus less than one in five of the Greek-letter organizations have such clauses in national constitutions.

"Fraternities are not static. They have changed and will continue to change. Like all socialized change, this is likely to be slow. There are no quick and easy solutions. Intercession must stem from the sincere feelings of fraternity members themselves.

"Such feelings cannot be pressured by outside organizations, or by legislation—no matter how well-intentioned. In fact, such pressures may well impede the very progress they hope to encourage.

"In order to keep the gains in this area, the President's Assembly of the Interfraternity Council moves that:

1. A joint committee, consisting of members from the Pan Hellenic and Interfraternity Councils be set up to assist Greek-letter groups in an attitude self-examination program.

2. No new Greek-letter chapters whose national constitutions restrict membership because of race or religion, will be allowed to organize on the Michigan State campus.

"Such a course, we believe, will be in keeping with the trend throughout the land which is breaking down the barriers of race and creed. Such progressive change is better accomplished by voluntary reform from within than by coercion from without."

The Greeks have stated their stand. They want to be left alone. They are, evidently, working to end discrimination, at least in their national constitutions, through their mention nothing about their rituals.

They're carrying the ball now. Nobody's bothering them. Perhaps they should even be commended.

The issue of discrimination is best torn out at the roots

The Meaning of Easter America Documents Easter's Message

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final in a series of five articles in keeping with the Lenten season, on "The Meaning of Easter," by East Lansing church leaders. The State News thanks them for their cooperation.

Easter represents the most stirring fact in the history of Christendom. It commemorates the Resurrection of Christ from the dead, which was the final argument for Christ's Divinity.

In the language of St. Paul, "If Christ be not risen again, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain." (I Cor. 15:14-15).

Certainly if Christ had not risen, Christianity in all its variations would have been buried with the memory of a man who claimed to be God.

So deeply and indelibly etched on the hearts of man are the facts of the first Easter, that nothing has had the power to destroy or defer its observance.

It is ironic, however, that while we have not forgotten the Easter date, many have neglected and some have rejected that for which Easter stands.

The theology of the resurrection no longer rules the hearts and minds of a large segment of our citizenry. That, indeed, is unfortunate for America, because when a nation surrenders its ideals, its future is in jeopardy.

As the ideas of a man will determine the individual's conduct, so the ideals of the people will determine its history.

The American ideal is based upon truths inherent in the theology of Easter, which we learn from Easter is that God and not man is to be worshipped.

When we speak of God, we do not mean mystic forces of black magic.

But when we speak of God, we mean a Supreme Being Who is infinitely perfect; we mean the Creator, the Architect of the Universe Who creates and sustains. Who loves and Who rewards and punishes.

It was the God to Whom Washington prayed at Valley Forge; the God to Whom Lincoln entrusted the destiny of America when threatened by Civil War; we mean the God of the preamble to the Declaration of Independence.

If the worship of God had its rightful place in the hearts of men and nations, the false gods of the 20th century which threaten civilization would never have come into existence.

If God is given His rightful place in the affairs of men and nations in the future, the absolute state of totalitarianism and dictatorship and all its variations will be ended. Premiers, prime ministers and presidents will become the servants of the people and the people will be the servants of God.

The second fundamental truth inherent in the theology of Easter is that man has a supernatural destiny.

Needless to say, man has a dignity that belongs to him as a human being. He is made in the image and likeness of God, which is a guarantee of man's immortality.

In this concept of human dignity, the individual counts; you count; children count; family life counts. Governments in all its branches are important insofar as they serve to preserve the rights of the individual and the family in the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

The third fundamental truth we learn from the theology of Easter is that man has duties to his neighbor.

Christ made it clear that we are our brother's keeper. Only through personal and reciprocal effort does man fulfill the duties of his fellow man.

The individual must make sacrifices for the common good. If this principle is recognized and practiced, both capital and labor get justice; if ignored, both suffer.

"In God We Trust," the motto of our country inscribed on the coins of our land, is pagan mockery unless that motto is inscribed on the heart of the man who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow and the employer who pays the living wage.

It is in the rejection of this principle of brotherly love that prejudice is born. Prejudice breeds hatred, and hatred is one of the greatest sins against the American ideal.

Easter then is the time for us to deepen our reverence for the things of God; a time to reaffirm our belief in the dignity of man; and a time to rekindle hope in the hearts of the oppressed through charity and justice of Christ.

This is one of the lessons we learn from Easter. That is the American ideal.

Right Rev. Magr. J. V. MacEachin, St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church

Letters to the Editor Professor Offers Facts In Grand Rapids Issue

To the Editor:

Here are the facts: A Michigan State Junior, not a freshman, handed in a term paper copied almost word by word from books she had taken from the Grand Rapids Public Library without checking them out.

This term paper was adorned with illustrations cut out of the Grand Rapids Public Library books.

Thus it might be argued the student committed plagiarism, theft and mutilation of public property.

On top of all this, she appears to have smeared the good name of State, if it is true that she told Mr. Kohlstedt, director of the Grand Rapids Library, she turned in 22 slips at State's library and received only one book.

State's circulation staff denied that any student had ever presented 22 book requests and had received only one in return.

Checking our records it was found that Michigan State has two copies of each of the books the student "borrowed" from Grand Rapids. Of the two copies of book "A," one was checked out for one week, the other for two weeks during the entire term.

Of the two copies of book "B," one was used for two weeks, the other for four weeks. Thus both books were readily available at State.

Besides, there are here a great many other books on her subject, including many on open shelves in the reference room and in the art department. The student's theme had not been selected by any other member of the course. She had the field to herself.

Mr. Kohlstedt of the Grand Rapids Public Library, in a board meeting, quoted the unsubstantiated accusations of the student.

Michigan State's Auditorium will become the United Nations day room for one day on April 16.

Centennial International committee headed by Andy Green Bay, Wis., sophomore, has invited 60 foreign ambassadors to participate in the program.

The Russian Embassy recently notified that it would send a student editor from Moscow to attend the program.

Auditorium will be arranged in typical UN style with main visitors seated around a table. Each speaker will have a microphone as they speak.

Topics have been selected for morning and afternoon sessions of the program. The authorities on current affairs will discuss "Less Development" and "Acceptance of China."

The Runs Out Ordering Announcements

Now or never on graduation announcements. Today is the last day the bookstore will accept orders. Manager Russel L. said.

White bound booklets have a centennial seal surrounded by a sun dial radius on the cover and white tassie on the design.

Orders in either leather or covers the announcements with the names of all 1954-55 graduates in the order of their class.

Photographs of President John Hannah, the Senior Council and the campus complete the booklets.

Students must pay when they place their orders. The book store will be open until 12 p.m. Saturday.

Informal Rush Period to Start For Sororities

Informal spring rushing will begin Monday, April 11, and extend over a five-week period, ending Monday, May 16, Pan-Hellenic Council has announced.

Officers of the Council will act as counselors to the rushees. Office hours will be from 2-3 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. On Wednesdays the PanHel office will be open from 1-2.

Information sheets containing facts about the background and financial policy of all campus sororities will be available in the office.

Letters will be sent out at the beginning of next week explaining the rushing rules to the coeds who have signed up for spring rush.

In this five-week period rushees will be contacted personally by sororities and may accept as many invitations as they desire.

Coeds who would like to participate in this informal period may still sign up at the Women's Division of the Dean's office, said Sharon Beyer, president of Pan-Hellenic Council.

"I used to think accountants wore green eye shades and sat on high stools," John Merrick will tell you. "That's before I started working in a modern accounting department."
"I trained for about a year and a half in different phases of telephone accounting. Then I was placed in charge of the section which maintains telephone service records. I have more than 60 people in my group with four supervisors reporting to me. Our job is to keep a running record of monthly charges for 140 exchanges in Central Massachusetts. That comes to 440,000 different customers."
"Customers expect their bills on time and they want their charges to be right. So on my job my primary concern is to maintain constant and rapid production and at the same time keep our work accurate and reliable. One of the best ways to do this is to be sure that 'the right person is on the right job at the right time,' an old cliché. But I found it works and it gives me a chance to use my Sociology training since it means handling all sorts of personnel situations."

Boone's Arm Worries Over

TOLEDO (AP)—Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers said Thursday club trainers have assured him that third baseman Ray Boone will recover completely from a sore right arm.

Boone has been troubled with a muscular inflammation in the right shoulder. It kept him out of action for about 10 days early in the exhibition season.

He started coming back gradually, however, and has been much stronger since the club left Florida.

Boone said Thursday his arm still "hurts a little," in the late innings but agreed with trainer Jack Homel that it "should recover completely."

The Tigers game with the Milwaukee Braves in Toledo Thursday night was cancelled because of cold weather.

Homel disclosed after the Tigers were frozen out of the Milwaukee game that Boone's arm was in poorer shape early this season than anyone cared to admit.

"It's the same thing Virgil Trucks had in 1951 and Ted Gray went through last year," Homel said.

"Everyone knows how stubborn their cases were and I was afraid Boone might have the same long pull."

"But he went about it the right way. Bucky let us give him plenty of rest. He didn't pick up a ball for a week and didn't throw hard for two weeks. That, and some X-ray treatments, did the job."

"But Boone is really lucky to get well this fast. He could have had a very sore arm for a very long time."

"I don't like to talk about cases like this until I can tell what is going to happen so that's why we weren't saying anything about Boone's arm earlier. But I can tell you I was plenty scared for a while."

Giants Even Series

The New York Giants defeated the Cleveland Indians, 6-5, Thursday at Knoxville. The two teams wound up their spring series all square at nine victories apiece.

Bill Wight's wild pitch in the ninth inning permitted rookie infielder Ronnie Samford to score from third with the winning run.

Phils' Rally Wins

The Philadelphia Phillies jammed over a run in the 10th inning Thursday to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 4-3, as the two teams ended their spring training series in Portsmouth, Va.

The Phillies scored two runs in the ninth to send the game into overtime.

Pirates Walk Plank

Bob Purkey gave only two hits but the Baltimore Orioles took advantage of his wildness and an error Thursday to ring up a 2-1 exhibition victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Danville, Va. Purkey gave up eight bases on balls.

JACKIE BURKE ... Masters pace setter ...

Burke Leads Masters Field By 4 Strokes

Shoots 67 Round In First Day Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Two golfers who have known plenty of frustration in their playing careers showed the way Thursday through the first round of the 19th Masters Tournament on a day which was frustrating to most of the favorites.

At the end of the first day's play on the menacing 6,950-yard Augusta National course the leader was Jackie Burke, the grown-up "boy" wonder, with 34-33-67. Julius Boros and Mike Souchak tied for second with 71s.

Meanwhile defending champion Sam Snead had one of those horrendous nights that have dogged his playing career and wound up five strokes behind with an even par 72.

And Ben Hogan, the favorite this year even though he lost the 1954 playoff to Snead, was one stroke farther back.

For the 32-year-old Burke, a pro since he was 21, it was especially gratifying to take a big lead over the men who have dominated the Masters in recent years.

Jackie shot a 67 here in 1952 but he only finished second to Hogan. Since then Burke seldom has been able to finish on top.

Boros, the golfer of the year in 1952, has had similar painful experience since then. He slipped back into semi-obscurity for a while and last year, just when he was beginning to win again, a couple of crippling accidents took him off the tournament trail.

It's just the other way for Souchak, who has become the current golden boy of golf. He's the big winner in money and tournaments this season.

Dublin Rebellion

By DONN SHELTON State News Sports Editor

Having disagreed violently with my major league hostilities, the sports staff has rebelled and picked their own separate lists.

Here is how they see the whole thing— Joe Hoffman, the leading rebel and a baseball writer, picks the Red Sox and Giants to play in the World Series.

He drops Detroit to seventh with Cleveland second, York third, Chicago fourth, Baltimore fifth and Washington sixth. We agree that Kansas City will trail the pack.

In the National League he ranks Milwaukee second, followed by Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and he again agrees on the cellar dweller, the Chicago Cubs.

Joe picks Gene Woodling to win the AL, batting with Jackie Jensen on top of the home run field and Larry Doby leading the RBI field. Pacing his Boston pen is pitcher Frank Sullivan.

His NL leaders are Stan Musial, batting; Willie Mays, homers and RBI's, and Harvey Haddix, pitching.

Jack Berry, our other baseball writer and a sane Tiger figure it will be Cleveland and Milwaukee in the series. He can't see the White Sox downfall and picks them to follow the Yankees, with Detroit fourth. Boston is followed by Washington, Baltimore and, that's it, Kansas City.

The Giants are his second place NL pick, followed Brooklyn and Cincinnati with St. Louis, Philadelphia, Chicago and a new cellar dweller, Pittsburgh.

Jack and I see eye to eye on the American League individuals, Harry Kuenn to lead the hitters, Ralph Kiner home run slugger, Al Rosen the RBI field and Bob Lemon the pitchers.

In the senior circuit, Jack has Willie Mays on top of batting field, Ted Kluzewski in homers, Duke Snider RBI's and Johnny Antonelli leading the pitchers.

Track writer Hal Bateman sees a Dodge-Indian in the AL, he sees no change in the 1954 final standings with New York second, followed by Chicago, Boston, Detroit, Washington, Baltimore and Kansas City.

His NL standings have the Braves second, followed New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Chicago and Pittsburgh.

His batting leaders are Snider and Bobby Avila. Rosen win both the homer and RBI titles in the AL, with Snider leading the NL homer race and Kluzewski the RBI leader. Top pitchers are Mike Garcia and Warren Spain.

Former Sports Editor and now a man of leisure, Jack Williams returning to active play. He picks Thumping Theodore to win all three AL bat races, with Garcia as his top hurler. In the National League Musial will cop the bat crown, Ed Mathews the homer and Mays the RBI race and Bob Buhl the pitching derby.

His junior circuit standings have Cleveland second, followed by Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Washington, Baltimore and the standard pick, Kansas City for last.

In the NL its New York second, followed by Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Chicago and Pittsburgh. That's the rebellion and all I can say is, "Wait 'til September."

Sack's Three Hits Pace Green Squad Victory

Ups Pair of Doubles 8-5 Win

Mansfield Ends Matsock Streak

By JACK BERRY
The Greens, scoring in five of six innings, defeated Whites, 8-5, in an intra-college baseball game Thursday afternoon. Jim Sack's pair of doubles and a single led the winners.

Johnny Matsock ran his hitless streak to nine when he struck out in the second on a drive to first.

Sack's first double and Matsock's single produced one run in the first two were out when the Greens put together hits, two errors, two walks, and a wild pitch to score four runs in the second.

In the third, Earl Morrill led off on an error by Johnny Ruttenbur, and moved to second when Russ Lupow executed the hit-and-run with a single through second.

Charles Bodary and Chuck Matsock walked, forcing in Morrill on another error by third baseman Ruttenbur produced two runs.

Sack's second double, a high fly along the left field line, and a high fly to center by Danny Greenman just managed to get his glove on after a throw moved George Smith to center.

Matsock scored on a wild pitch. Sack took third bringing home the run. The Spar shortstop lined out to left and the inning and his streak.

Bodary pitched hitless ball in the first two innings for the Greens. Although Matsock shared the lead like a sure hit from center field, the sharply batted drive was only a few feet from home, and Matsock lunged for the ball.

Collard opened the third with a bunt. Green scored on the bunt and stole second base. When the covered catcher Luce's throw to second Collard went to the outfield. A sacrifice fly to center by all scored Collard. Lupow scored with a single but southpaw Jack Wenner struck out Bodary for the third out.

The Whites scored four runs in the first half of the third when Jim Rosenberg walked Gene Green and Greenman, the first men up. Roscoe Davis popped out to short but Bob Powell led off over second, driving in Green.

Greenbrook got John Polomsky to ground out and then Luce led off on an error by Morrill. Greenman and Powell led off. A walk to Greg Lamley produced a double to left center by Ruttenbur produced one more mark. Larry Gresy flied out to center.

The Greens scored one in the fifth when Wegner walked Matsock to start the inning. Mathews scored and came in on Sack's lead.

Students competed in the 100 yard touch football season.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Niles Bowlers Lead

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Two young contenders making their first appearance in the American Bowling Congress crashed into the doubles lead Thursday with a sparkling 1,290 total. George Hilligoss, 23, Niles, rolled 685 and his partner, George Lutzen, 21, added 605 as they took the top 20 pins.

Ice Veteran Dies

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—One of the best-known figures in Canadian hockey, veteran Carson Cooper, died in general hospital here Thursday. He underwent an operation Wednesday for a deep-seated eye condition that hospitalized him a week ago.

Detroit Buys Tribe Infielder

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers Thursday purchased Harry Malmberg, a utility infielder, from the Cleveland Indians for an undisclosed amount of cash. Malmberg, 28, played with Cleveland's Indianapolis farm team last season. He hit .286 in 122 games. He primarily is a second baseman and hits right-handed. He has no major league experience.

Tennis Capt. John Brogan is a three-time city of Lansing champion.

Boon Boon, 3 Times Geoffrion Paces 4-2 Montreal Upset

MONTREAL (AP)—Bernie Boon (Boon Boon) Geoffrion put together the three-goal hat trick Thursday night as the Montreal Canadiens defeated the Detroit Red Wings, 4-2, in the third game of the National Hockey League final Stanley Cup playoffs.

The victory, snapping a Detroit 15-game winning streak, left the Wings with a 2-1 advantage in the best of seven series. Geoffrion put the Canadiens out in front with two goals within 12 seconds of each other in the first period and they were never headed as they got back in running for the coveted trophy before a crowd of 13,572.

Detroit, winner of the first two games on its home ice, got one of the goals back later in the period on a tally by Red Kelly but Geoffrion scored again at 16:23 of the second period, to complete the hat trick.

Vic Stasiuk picked up the Wings' second goal at 16:16 but that was as close as the defending champions got. Jackie LeClair wrapped up the game at 7:50 of the final period with the Canadiens' fourth goal.

Geoffrion tallied his first two goals, the first at 8:30 and the second at 8:42, with Gordie Howe, Detroit winger, in the penalty box.

For No. 1 Boon Boon deflected Jean Beliveau's shot past goaltender Terry Sawchuk. Detroit's Red Kelly actually kicked the second in as Geoffrion tried to slide the puck across the ice while Sawchuk was flat on the ice.

In the second period, Geoffrion took a pass from Beliveau and lifted the puck into the net. LeClair's goal came from a seemingly impossible angle.

Kelly's goal was a screen shot while Stasiuk took Marty Pavelich's pass out from the back boards to beat Jacques Plante.

It was a rough, jolting game, especially in the first period. Referee Bill Chadwick handed out 14 minor and two misconduct penalties.

The misconduct penalties were assessed Howe and Bert Olmstead in the opening session.

The fourth game will be played here Saturday night and the fifth Sunday in Detroit. Future tentative dates have not yet been announced but if a sixth game is necessary it likely would be Tuesday in Montreal.

Fort Wayne Wins

By The Associated Press
Fort Wayne moved into a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven National Basketball Assn. finals Thursday night with a 74-71 win over Syracuse at Indianapolis.

150 Expected Out

Spring Grid Drills To Open Monday

Football Capt. Buck Nystrom will take his first official action Monday when he leads his squad into the secret practice field for the start of this year's spring practice sessions.

Nystrom, who operates from the left guard slot is a senior from Marquette.

An all-state halfback in high school, he has played both tackle and guard at State, moving to the guard post to fill in for the injured Ferris Hallmark last season.

Upwards of 150 players are expected out for practice, including 18 letterwinners, three returned servicemen who have played here previously, and a big crop of freshmen.

The veterans are Rocco Marzarella, a fullback; Don Cutler, tackle; and Tom Saidock, an end and tackle.

The most watched letterman will be Clarence Peaks, who rose to stardom as a sophomore right halfback last year.

He will be shifted to left half in an effort to replace LeRoy Bolden.

Peaks started last season as a quarterback, shifted to right halfback and now moves to left halfback.

Students who haven't previously played football at State, and want to, must have a physical at the campus health center and have the physical card okayed by a coach to draw a uniform for Monday's drill.

The drills will start at 3:30 and are closed to the public.

President Hannah receives $1,000 check for the Veterinary Loan Fund from Dr. Lewis Newlin of the Michigan State Veterinary Medical Assn.

Vet School Honors Students at Convo

Outstanding students in the School of Veterinary Medicine were recognized at an Honors Convocation Thursday night in Giltner Hall.

Fourteen different awards were presented and the School of Veterinary Medicine itself received $1,000 from the Michigan State Veterinary Medical Assn. for a student loan fund.

The Saver Award in Bacteriology for proficiency in bacteriology went to Marian Steinbauer, East Lansing senior.

Patricia Palenske, St. Joseph junior, and Joyce Trier, Owosso junior, shared the Medical Technology Alumni Award for the student doing the highest grade of work in that curriculum.

Honored for over-all professional scholarship were Ronald Waldby, Concord senior, who received the $300 Borden Award, William Casler, St. Petersburg, Fla., senior, who was given the Michigan State Veterinary Medical Association Award of $25 for the student with the second highest scholastic standing, and Joseph Sewell, Crown Point, Ind., senior, awarded the Phi Zeta Award for the third highest average.

Four students received the $25 Veterinary Faculty Award, given to the student making the highest scholastic standing during the first year of the professional course.

They are: Francis McGrady, Rising Sun, Md., senior; William McQuillan, Howell senior; Robert Russell, Kensington, Minn., senior; and Robert Shelts, Homer senior.

Russian Itinerary Released

8 Schools Agree To Host Editors

NEW YORK (AP) — The hosts to 11 Russian editors who will visit the United States this spring announced Thursday night the names of eight schools they will see.

Included are three in New York: Tuskegee, Ala., Institute and Chicago, Michigan, New Mexico and Stanford universities.

Other schools will be added to the list when they formally agree to receive the Russians—the first nondiplomatic citizens of the Soviet Union to tour coast to coast, with U.S. government approval, since 1946.

The Russians call the visitors "student editors" though the youngest is 26—past the age of most Russian university students. Three of the group are over 35—the oldest being 39.

Eight of the 11 have responsible editing positions on important Soviet publications issued by adults for young people.

None of the publications is a college or university newspaper in the American sense. Several are issued by the League of Young Communists, junior branch of the Soviet Communist party.

They will arrive April 19 and tour this country until May 18.

Arrangements for the tour are being made by the Institute of International Education, a private group. The State Department asked it to act as host.

The present Soviet group is paying its own expenses.

The State Department will not have anyone accompanying the editors but how they get along may have considerable bearing on the U. S. attitude towards a visit by a Soviet farm delegation later this year.

Several groups of American students have visited the Soviet Union since Joseph Stalin's death in 1953.

In addition groups of editors of American newspapers and radio station executives have visited the Soviet Union.

Life Saving Help Offered

Porpoise Fraternity, swimming honorary, will offer life saving instructions beginning Tuesday to May 10.

The swimming lessons will be taught at Jenison Pool on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Interested students should report to their first lesson Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Queen, Court Chosen for Pushcart Race

Roberta Jeffers, Battle Creek junior became Lambda Chi Crescent Queen Thursday night. She and her court will reign at the fraternity's Junior 500 pushcart race, May 21.

Miss Jeffers received a bouquet of white roses at a special dinner for five final contestants Thursday night. She will receive a trophy at the Lambda Chi term party, May 27.

Toyshop Theater To Hold Tryouts

Cast tryouts for a spring Toyshop Theater production, "The Rose and the Ring," will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the Auditorium. Senior Toyshop members may try out.

The play, an adaptation of a Thackeray story, will be directed by its author, Mary Jane Watkins, Eau Claire, Wis., graduate student. Performances are scheduled for June 2 through 4.

Robert Hazzard, Westminster, Md., graduate student, will be in charge of set construction and Herbert Camburn, Morenci senior, will supervise set design.

Junior Toyshop members will usher at the performances.

Wedding Rumors Denied

Archbishop Hits English Papers

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury Thursday denounced as untrue reports that Princess Margaret and group Capt. Peter Townsend will be married.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, highest prelate in the Church of England, stated:

"There is no truth whatsoever in the rumor that Princess Margaret and group Capt. Peter Townsend are to be wed.

"The rumor was purely a stunt—and a most offensive one at that—by a few English newspapers.

"Most of the London newspapers had nothing to do with it."

The archbishop and his wife arrived in South Africa Thursday. The statement was his first public comment on the reported romance between the 24-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II and the handsome 40-year-old Townsend, a divorced father of two children.

Townsend formerly was an aide to the royal family. He is now air attache at the British Embassy in Belgium.

He had no comment on the archbishop's statement.

The Church of England has a ban on the marriages of divorced persons. Only two months ago Dr. Fisher defended that ban as necessary to make couples think more seriously before they marry the first time.

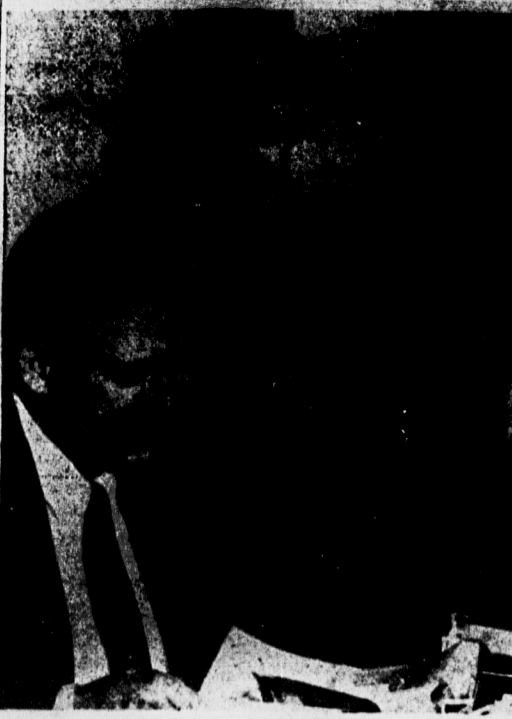

Elizabeth, as reigning monarch, is head of the Anglican Church, which is the state church in England. One of her titles is "defender of the Faith."

In the absence of official statements from Buckingham Palace or the Conservative government, there has been a great mystery about whether Margaret and Townsend are really in love and plan to marry.

Dr. Fisher's statement today is the most authoritative thus far.

Scientists have discovered there have been changes in ocean temperatures off the U.S. West Coast in the past century large enough to change the kinds of fish that are found near various ports.

Television

The two groups using the station would have separate call letters and separate staffs. WKAR would have 38 hours a week of telecasting time.

Dr. Hannah said the rentals from the commercial station would eventually pay for the educational program.

Although WKAR-TV would have less telecasting time than it has at present, use of the VHF channel would nearly double the station's viewing audience.

At Wednesday's hearings, Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) inquired if Michigan State would be willing to share its time with the U of M and other institutions. He said Michigan State's plan was being attacked as "unfair competition."

"We would give it very serious consideration," Dr. Hannah stated. Some lawmakers suggested

Wednesday that the role of the state in educational television be studied by a special committee. It would report at next year's legislative session.

Scientists To Present Salk Report

Test Evaluation Due Tuesday

ANN ARBOR, (AP) — Tuesday morning, the report will know the success or failure of the Salk polio vaccine.

At exactly 9:10 a.m. in the Rackham Building on the University of Michigan campus, 100 men will be given the vaccine immediately.

What they will receive is a Summary of the Summary of the evaluation made by Dr. Jonas Salk, Jr. of last year's vaccine test on two million children.

Newsman, television men and radio announcers expect to bring the happy news of the four-hour proceedings waiting audience across country.

Dr. Francis read a prepared text, keyed to his scientific audience, on the details and degree of effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the vaccine.

He will be followed by Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, who developed the Salk vaccine.

University officials expect to have complete copies of speeches available in the room, including a release of actual polio study.

At the most recent news afternoon papers, seven newspaper agencies were sending representatives to cover the event.
