UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
U.N. Secretary General
Dag Hammarskjöld Tuesday opposed suggestions that the United Nations take up the Formosa crisis at this time.
He told a news conference he preferred at present to leave Formosa to normal diplomatic talks.
The secretary general also noted flaring up of interest in the case of 15 American fliers held by Red China. He said there were no indications to justify any judgment on anyone here in Washington that any of the fliers might be released in the next month or so.
He disagreed with reports that new approaches had been made to the problem of the fliers. But he added it would be correct to say new moves were in progress but not "new approaches." He did not elaborate.
Several correspondents questioned Hammarskjöld about Formosa, apparently injecting into the news conference suggestions of Adlai Stevenson and former President Truman that current problems, including the Formosa crisis, should be brought to the U.N. by the United States.
Hammarskjöld was asked if the U.N. could be useful in regard to Formosa.
"For this moment I do not see any useful purpose would be served by bringing the matter of Formosa up," Hammarskjöld said.
Hammarskjöld has been a believer in quiet diplomatic talks wherever possible to achieve settlements before they reach the stage of public debate.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed Tuesday that the Big Four foreign ministers meet in Vienna in the near future to sign an Austrian state treaty.
In Washington, a State Department spokesman said Russia's proposal was being given "prompt and sympathetic consideration."
He said the United States, Britain and France already are "exploring the most expeditious methods of reaching a speedy conclusion to the state treaty for Austria."
Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov called in diplomatic representatives of the United States, Britain and France and gave them details of the conference held here last week between Soviet leaders and Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab.
He handed them notes which were a result of those meetings and stated that the possibility existed that the Austrian question could be a state treaty.
A communiqué on the Raab-Molotov talks called for an end of the occupation of Austria and the withdrawal of all occupation troops not later than next month.
Raab pledged his country would not join any military alliance which permit any military bases on its territory.

Symposium Studies Adjustment Problem

Goal of Middle-Aged Women Is Healthy Mind and Body

Kellogg Center was the scene of informal discussion groups and a reception Tuesday evening as the second day of the three-day Home Economics Symposium drew to a close.

The day began with a discussion on "Physiological Changes and Adjustments" in Kellogg Center Auditorium.

Catherine MacFarlane, research professor of gynecology, Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, and Pearl Swanson, nutrition professor of Iowa State College, were the main speakers.

"Overweight is a problem which many middle-aged women have to face," said Miss Swanson. "Not only have they lessened their physical activities but they often over eat, thus, reflecting emotional disturbances, disappointments, frustration and sorrow."

The middle-aged women has a problem in consuming low-calorie diets and she should "watch the kind of diets she begins to eat as her home-making tasks lighten and her household diminishes in size," said Miss Swanson.

Speaking from the physician's standpoint, Miss MacFarlane said the middle-aged woman's goal is "A healthy mind in a healthy body."

"Factors in achieving this goal are food, rest, fresh air, exercise, work and play," she said.

"The problems of women in adjusting to middle-age are personal and basically no different from the problems of personal adjustments to other life experiences."

So said Harry E. August, associate professor of clinical psychology at Wayne University, at the afternoon session of the fourth symposium, "Potentialities of Women in the Middle Years."

The other afternoon speaker, Lawrence K. Frank, formerly director of the Caroline Zachry Institute of Human Development, urged that communities use the talents of the middle aged woman.

"If we could devise ways and sanctions, the mature women of a community could help us to establish the kind of community living we need and can so rarely find in the largely masculine dominated city governments of today," said Frank.

Chairman of the afternoon session was Frances Sanderson, of Wayne University.

Discussion leaders in the evening session were Gladys Love Anderson, Psychologist, East Lansing; Beatrice Fressenden, Michigan State Counseling Center; Miriam Lucas, department of natural sciences, MSU, and Ruth Useem, department of sociology and anthropology, MSU.

Seniors To Vote on 'U' Degrees

Seniors will decide whether their diplomas will read Michigan State College or Michigan State University today.

Members of the June graduating class will vote this afternoon at the Senior Coffee Hour from 3:30-5:30 in Old College Hall, to determine whether they shall receive their diplomas June 5, Commencement day, or wait until July 1 when the certificates will read Michigan State University.

If the seniors vote to receive their diplomas June 5 they will be "college" graduates. If the decision is for university status the diplomas will be dated July 1 and be mailed to the graduates after that date.

The State Board of Agriculture, the university's governing body, approved plans to issue university diplomas on July 1, last Friday.

Married Students To Petition Today For Council Seats

Petitions for Spartan Village Council will be available today in the married housing office at Birch Rd. and Shaw Lane, according to Pat Calahan, council president.

Married students may petition for council positions from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

One general election will be held May 3 for residents of Spartan Village and University to vote for 13 representatives in the council.

Qualifications require the petitioner to obtain 25 signatures of residents living in his district and to have a two-point all-college.

Waring's Music, Wit Delights Audience

BY JOE HOFFMAN

"Music is for pleasure." These are the words of Fred Waring and they were highly justified Tuesday night when Waring brought his Pennsylvanians into the Auditorium for his show, "Pleasure Time, 1955."

A highly pleased audience was treated to one of the finest musical productions ever seen on this campus.

"The heritage of America can best be explained in song," stated Waring, and the brilliant maestro proceeded to try and prove this to his audience—and prove it he did.

In addition to skillfully conducting his chorus and orchestra, Waring proved himself a charming and witty master of ceremonies.

As the lights dimmed, the familiar tune of Waring's theme song, "I Hear Music" sounded forth from behind the curtain. Then the curtain quickly opened with the chorus singing their "Get Acquainted" song.

Waring then introduced the 207-piece string section of his orchestra, explaining that 200 of them missed the bus, leaving only seven.

The show continued with the chorus and orchestra, along with soloists, depicting different forms of American music.

The folk ballad was portrayed first, with the best number being, "Across the Wide Missouri." The ballads concluded with the singing of "Barefoot," a lively gay number, which gave the audience a look at some of the magnificent costumes worn throughout the show.

The religious song came next as numbers of the Mohammed, Catholic and Jewish faiths were sung. Waring also paid tribute to the Salvation Army and closed this part with the popular "God of our Fathers."

"God's Trombones" was the featured number in the negro spiritual portrayal. It consisted of sermons by the late James Weldon Johnson set to music by one of the show's arrangers, Roy Ringwald. The preacher in the scene was played by Frank Davis who preached on the "Story of the Creation." The chorus was brilliant in its background music.

The old-fashioned minstrel show was once again revived by the troupe—a minstrel show featuring end men, soloists and a "Mr. Interlocutor."

It was in the minstrel show that the audience was first treated to some fine solos. Among them were Edward Ericson's "I Dream of Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair" and George Geyer's "For Me and My Gal."

Waring closed out the first portion of his show with some very amusing small talk. He stated that he would be checking throughout the show to see if the audience was having a good time. To show its satisfaction, the audience was to clap its hands just once in unison. After several rehearsals, See WARING, page 3

Blames U.S. For Formosa Tensions

Temper Up Over East-West Split

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China told Asian and African leaders Tuesday the danger of war is increasing in both the East and West. He accused the United States of continuing "to create tension in the Taiwan Formosa area" and trying to overthrow the Peiping regime.

Chou addressed the Asian-African conference, where tempers were rising in a growing split along East-West lines. He asserted an "extremely few" people are preparing for war, while Asians and Africans want only peace and national independence.

He insisted the "peaceful co-existence of countries with different social systems can be realized." He declared Red China is not interested in subversive activities, but is being "subverted by the United States of America."

While specifically mentioning Formosa, Chou said he was not making a proposal to the conference regarding that trouble spot. He added that if Peiping had wanted to bring up such matters, it "could raise the question of the liberation of Taiwan and the neighboring islands. We could have made criticism of the unfair treatment of China in the United Nations, but we are not going to do that."

When the conference agenda was finally adopted belatedly Sunday on the eve of the opening session, specific controversial subjects such as the Formosa crisis and the Arab-Israeli dispute were deliberately omitted. The agenda was designed to stress general problems among Asian-Arab countries, such as colonialism, poverty and economic development.

Chou's blast at the West Tuesday was not the only one fired in the war of words. Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, head of the Philippines' delegation and staunch friend of the West, warned the Asians and Africans against surrendering blindly to a "new super-barbarism, a new super-imperialism, a new super-power."

Without naming communism, Romulo said the countries represented at the conference had not fought to end Western colonialism only to surrender to "rulers among ourselves who seize the power to keep us enslaved." He declared the Asian and African countries do not want leadership "subservient to foreign rulers, be they in London or Paris, The Hague or Washington, or, we might add, Moscow."

Chou bore down hard on what he insisted are the peaceful intentions of Asian and African countries, in contrast with tension he said is being created by other powers.

"Following the armistice in Korea, the Geneva conference brought about a cease-fire in Indo-China," he said. "As a result, international tension did relax at that time, and fresh hopes were brought to the peoples of the whole world and particularly to those of Asia."

However, the subsequent development of the international situation runs counter to the hopes of peace. Both in the East and West the danger of war is increasing, and the desire of the Korean and German peoples for peaceful unifications is being frustrated.

April Spartan Issue To Review Spartacade

"Spartacade Revisited" will be featured in this month's Spartan magazine on sale today outside of the Electrical Engineering and Home Economics buildings, and inside the Union, Berkley Hall and Natural Science buildings. Other articles include the secret expose of the new organization chart of all-college "prudent" government.

Spartan Teams Bound to Win

It looks like a great season for Spartan athletes.

Michigan State follows can expect great things from the baseball and track teams, and although the tennis and golf squads are lacking in experience, hopes are high for a better-than-average season.

It even looks good, weather-wise, for the green and white teams.

Handicapped through the early weeks of last spring by wet, cold weather, the net and track teams finished third, the golfers climbed out of the cellar to eighth spot, and the baseball team posted the finest record ever turned in by a Spartan team—winning the Big 10 title and going to the semi-finals of the NCAA tourney on the strength of a 25-10-1 record.

So far this year, Spartan athletes have been blessed with fair weather.

The baseball team returned from their southern tour with a 5-5 record, meeting teams that were weeks ahead in practice, and often loaded with professional players.

In the regular season opener, the Spartans displayed the same heavy hitting that paid off for them last year, as they dribbled the University of Detroit, 16-6.

Friday afternoon they will get their earliest and perhaps toughest Big 10 assignment when they entertain the Wisconsin Badgers who finished second last year.

Spartan fans will get only one opportunity to watch the thunders, but on May 6, they will see one of the toughest Michigan State track teams in several years when Indiana comes to town for a dual meet.

Boostered by the return of five good men to competition, the thunders, who surprised the track world with a strong second-place showing in the Big 10 indoor finals, will be stronger than ever.

In the sprints, State claims the most strength of any Big 10 school, with conference champ

Ed Brabham, Julius McCoy and Travis Rogers.

Big 10 and British Games 440 champ Keven Gosper, and Dave Hoke, third place finisher in the Big 10 in the 880 final last spring who is returning to form after a foot injury, lead the Spartans' middle-distance men.

The Spartans have a wealth of material in the field events. Perhaps the strongest is the broad jump where State claims the indoor champ—Brabham, and last year's runner-up, Ray Eggleston.

With men who finished second and fourth indoors, Chuck Coykendall and George Best, State has one of the strongest pole vault crews in the conference.

All-in-all, a powerful array of track and field talent that is every bit capable of bringing home a title.

Although three lettermen will be missing this year, the tennis team will be relying on the service of three veterans, Dave and John Brogan and Dick Menzel, plus some unproven sophomores, to equal or surpass last year's third place finish.

Once again at a disadvantage for lack of a home course, the golfers will try to hold on to last year's eighth place finish without the aid of a single veteran.

If Michigan State University would see fit to provide its golf team with what would normally be taken for granted—a home course, then perhaps the golfers could match the high standards set by other Spartan teams—all with a roof over their heads.

A Centennial Carnival

Spring has arrived and with it plans for State's annual Water Carnival.

This year the Water Carnival will be much the same as it has in other years—although this year is not the same as other years at State.

It's too bad the Water Carnival committee didn't take the Centennial year into account. When they extended the carnival theme contest, they did mention that Centennial themes would be given preference.

It's too bad students didn't take advantage of the Centennial in submitting themes—only three of the approximately 45 ideas turned in pertained to our 100th birthday. A good idea on the Centennial would have been a sure thing.

It's just another sign of student apathy about the Centennial.

Well, it would have been nice.

Interpreting the News

Einstein—A Man Alone

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Every time a great intellect is removed from the world one wonders when and how it can be replaced.

A man like Albert Einstein, capable of setting up and solving problems which the average man does not even know exist, soon becomes a fetish.

Men worship him almost without knowing why. They merely recognize that here is something beyond them, something valuable, something awe-inspiring, and left free to operate in its own unique way.

For many years the world at large, though accepting the word of scientists that Einstein was a very great man who had produced scientific equations which would lead to a vastly improved and understanding of the forces with which man lives, never understood how anything practical could come of it.

He had added that strange thing, time, to the length, breadth and width by which man was accustomed to measure matter.

In doing so, he discovered that tiny particles of matter could produce vast quantities of energy, and he provided some of the equations from which other men progressed to the harnessing of atomic energy. Yet, 20 years after his major discoveries regarding relativity he said few men understood it, and fewer how to work with it. It was years before scientific observations even confirmed what he once said, quietly, without rancor or sadness, "They didn't understand me the beginning and the end, they understand me in the end."

Gladmer Damaged By Wind

The gust of wind that blew in the west wall of the Gladmer theater Monday night came just ten minutes after the 200 patrons had left the theater after the last show. Bricks and other debris littered the stage and were blown into the theater seats causing an estimated $20,000 to $30,000 damage.

The back-stage area was wrecked, the wide screen was torn to shreds and the loudspeakers and the sound system were smashed. The water pipe, broken by the impact, caused thousands of gallons of water to flood the basement and sub-basement before water and electric crews could shut it off.

Charles Gebhard, the doorman, was the only person in the building. He was locking the front doors when the crash occurred and he said that the concussion blew several of the doors open. No one was injured.

Officials said that the entire theater will have to be closed to remove the dust and that the theater may have to be closed for two weeks while repairs are being made.

The hole at the top of the brick wall, most of which was two bricks thick, measured about 35-feet across and 15-feet high.

That's the Way The Ball Bounces

DETROIT (AP)—The case of the golf ball that took a $5,000 bounce opened in Circuit Court last week.

A damage suit for the amount was brought by George Dicesore, of suburban Dearborn Township, against Walter Haliburda of Detroit.

Dicesore said a member of his foursome drove a ball into Haliburda's foursome at Hawthorne Valley Golf Course in November, 1952.

In the argument that followed, Dicesore said, he was punched in the nose and knocked unconscious by Haliburda. He sought damages for recurring headaches and other physical pain, as well as medical expenses. Haliburda said he acted in self defense.

Chicago University Establishes State Law Scholarship

A University of Chicago Law School scholarship was recently established for Michigan State graduates according to Dr. Harry H. Kimber, head of the humanities department. The award which will be given annually will represent full tuition to the law school for the first year and will be renewable for the remaining two years.

Applications must be submitted by May 1 to Dr. Kimber for consideration for this year's award. Applicants are advised to take the Law School Admission Test which will be given April 23 in East Lansing.

Further information concerning the scholarship may be obtained in 302 Morrill Hall.

Examination Set

selective service examination will be given Thursday at 10 a.m. in Fairchild Theater. Information may be obtained by calling Dr. Harold Dahnke of the Board of Examiners.

Waring Rated High With Jobs

the feat was finally accomplished, although Waring continuously blamed the Democrats in the audience when something went wrong.

In the second half of the two-and-one-half-hour show Waring did justice to the classics with his popular record of the "Nutcracker Suite." During this number, Waring imitated a rather old and tired conductor giving one of his last performances.

On the popular side the company gave forth with "The Happy Wanderer" and "I Believe."

Waring continually tried to sing a solo, but the audience, prompted by the Pennsylvanians, never gave him a chance. He also kept pulling for his favorite number, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," but, here again, the audience and the Pennsylvanians were "agin it."

"Uncle Lumpy," famous for his creation of the "Little Orley" stories on radio, was one of the highlights of the evening with his Herb Shriner type humor.

As the show drew to its end, the entire company gave out one of the most popular numbers the Waring Company has ever sung, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Waring had the audience join in on the chorus.

The troupe closed with "Where Oh Where But in America" and "America Over Heriteage," the latter of which had a beautiful setting of Uncle Sam tipping his hat and a lighted map of the United States in the background.

One reason for the success of the show was the happiness and joy of singing illustrated by the performers. To them, it wasn't a job, but a form of relaxation.

As the orchestra concluded with the theme song, Waring left the audience with this tune and touching thought, "Where else, but in America."

Spartans Rated High With Jobs

For students who "haven't grown out of short pants yet," Michigan State Spartans have shown a better than average ability to succeed in adult activity.

According to Placement Bureau tabulations of 1,115 student work rating cards, over half of the State students employed in on-campus jobs, ranked above average on such points as: work performance, cooperation, courtesy, punctuality, appearance and attitude.

Between 550 and 570 students ranked near the top in work performance, cooperation and courtesy. From 500 to 550 placed high on punctuality, appearance and attitude.

The statistics compiled by Wayne Tinkle, director of part time employment, show that between 100 and 450 students rated average in the six fields and less than 100 ranked below average in any field.

Between 75 and 100 were rated outstanding in work performance, cooperation and courtesy. In punctuality, appearance and attitude fewer than 70 were rated outstanding.

The work rating cards are distributed by the placement bureau to all employers on campus for their evaluations of student employees. The bureau hopes to distribute them to local business and industries soon.

Another group of statistics was not as favorable to the students. Mr. Tinkle estimated that of three students who acquired employment through the bureau, 142 quit, 19 were fired, and 41 failed to show up for work.

Grant to Aid Social Work Program

The U.S. Office of Vocational Rehabilitation has awarded Michigan State a grant of $3,500 to aid in the setting up of a program for training social workers.

Dr. Ernest B. Harper, head of the social work department, said the program, when developed, will train workers specializing in the social rehabilitation of handicapped persons.

The new curriculum will be offered for the first time in the fall term, 1955.

Three graduate traineeships at the annual rate of $1,600 also have been approved by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Try-outs for the one-act play "A Ticket to Chicago" to be presented Wednesday, May 11 in Studio Theatre, will be held today in 124 Auditorium and Thursday in 128 Auditorium from 3:30-5:30. The cast will include four male and two female actors.

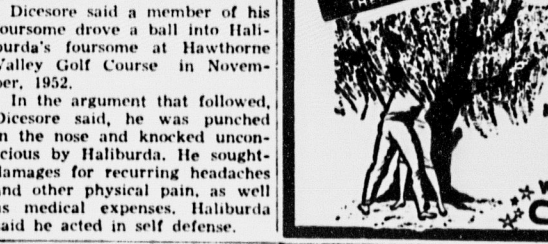

High Winds Weather On Ranspage Today

Spartans will face clouds, winds and thunder showers today; but there's one consolation, it will be warmer.

The weatherman promises winds up to 55 m.p.h. but predicts that the high will be 68 to 75 degrees.

'A Ticket to Chicago' Tryouts Start Today

Try-outs for the one-act play "A Ticket to Chicago" to be presented Wednesday, May 11 in Studio Theatre, will be held today in 124 Auditorium and Thursday in 128 Auditorium from 3:30-5:30. The cast will include four male and two female actors.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young manager handles finances for building of $5,000,000 plant

In the next ten years, the demand for General Electric industrial heating equipment will double. To meet this demand, a giant new plant (model at right) is being built at Shelbyville, Indiana.

The plant will cost $5,000,000, and the man responsible for handling finances for the entire job is 32-year-old R. E. Fetter.

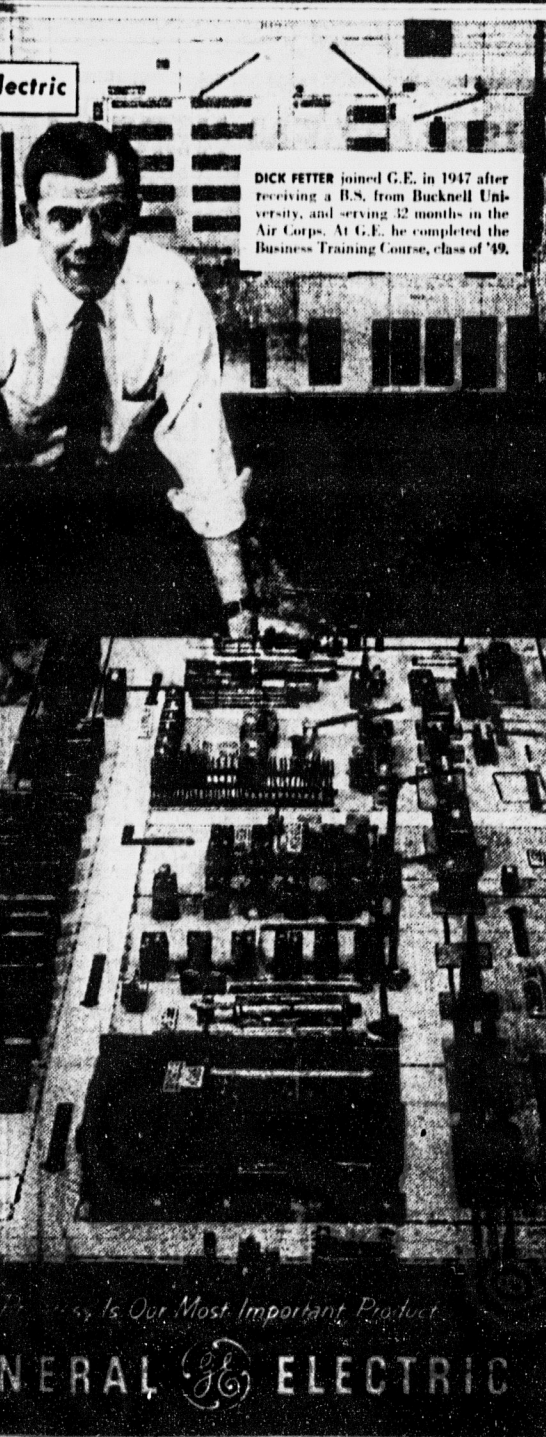

Fetter's job is important, responsible

Dick Fetter's work as Financial Manager of the Department began long before General Electric started building the plant. He and his group first had to estimate probable operating costs and predict whether the plant would be profitable.

Now, during construction, Fetter's chief concern is keeping track of all the expenses on this multimillion-dollar project. When the plant is completed, he will set up a complete financial section and manage everything from tax, cost, and general accounting to payrolls, budgets and measurements, and internal auditing.

25,000 college graduates at General Electric

This is a big job. Fetter was readied for it in a careful step-by-step program of development. Like Fetter, each of the 25,000 college-graduate employees is given his chance to grow, to find the work he does best, and to realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When young, fresh minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

BECAUSE ONLY VICEROY GIVES YOU A PURE, NON-MINERAL, NON-TOXIC FILTER WITH 20,000 FILTER TRAPS IN EVERY FILTER TIP!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. Besides being non-mineral and non-toxic, this cellulose-acetate filter never shreds or crumbles.
3. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
4. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
5. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip... and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Best Vaulted From Pasture to State

Fever Made Runner a Jumper

By JERRY ROBBINS

A home-made vaulting pit in the middle of a cow pasture near Battle Creek has served its purpose well in past years. It was here George Best, an up-and-coming MSU track star, learned how to pole vault six years ago. "I always wanted to be a runner," stated the 20-year-old sophomore, "but one summer I came down with rheumatic fever and was forced to quit."

However, George wasn't to be denied the opportunities of his favorite sport as he began learning the art of pole vaulting and has stayed with it ever since.

At Battle Creek Central, where George lettered for two years in track and one year in cross country, he was able to clear 12 feet and break a three-year-old record in his senior year.

This year's Big 10 indoor meet proved successful for George as he was able to help the Spartans to second place honors. "During that meet I had what I consider my biggest thrill in track," he said, "as I was able to go 13 feet and tie for fourth."

George attributes his success to Big 10 competition where he has learned a great deal from Ohio's Jerry Welbourn, whom he considers one of the Midwest's best. Also, much credit is due his coaches and Chuck Coykendall, MSU's number one vaulter.

Assistant coach Fran Dittrich considers George as one of the better vaulters in the Big 10. "He's a good worker and very conscientious," Dittrich said. "He does a lot of his own thinking which is a factor to his success."

In the summers George spends his time moving furniture and working at Kellogg's in Battle Creek. His spare moments are taken up keeping in shape and teaching his two younger brothers how to vault.

"One of my brothers has shown a great deal of promise."

he said, "He's only a sixth grader and has already done eight feet."

Not being able to master the art of vaulting is George's big reason for his vivid interest in the sport. "There are 34 movements in half a second and they have to be perfect when vaulting," he said. "It's something you have to stay with as it keeps you working every day. Some day I hope to master it."

Dittrich, who praises George as a student as well as an athlete, stated that George was able to place in every indoor meet last winter in which he competed. "His being able to place like this shows his consistency," Dittrich said.

With the potential of this athlete and the hopes of his coaches, it may not be too far in the future when the Big 10 pole vaulting title may go to MSU's George Best.

Bids for TV Regional Taken Soon

CHICAGO (AP)—Bids for a television package of five regional football games will be taken in the near future by Big 10 officials, Asst. Commissioner Bill Reed said Tuesday.

He said the five dates to be sold to a network or sponsor will be selected by the buyer. No school can make more than two regional appearances or more than one national.

Included on the national schedule by the National Broadcasting Co. are Ohio State at Stanford Oct. 15, Notre Dame at Michigan State Oct. 15 and Iowa at Michigan Oct. 29.

Reed said the regional program probably would be announced at the Big 10 meetings in Columbus late next month.

At Kansas Relays This Weekend

Savoldi Preps for Decathlon

By HAL BATEMAN

At the Kansas Relays, this Friday and Saturday, Joe Savoldi will become the first Michigan State track athlete under Head Coach Karl Schladerman to participate in the grueling decathlon, an event that demands the best of an athlete.

Many track and field athletes are good in two, and can compete in 10 events and perform well in all of them.

The decathlon was first developed in the early part of the century and consists of six field and four running events that must be completed in two days.

The performances made by the contestants are then computed according to a scoring table adopted by the International Amateur Athletic Federation (IAAF), the world's track governing body.

The times, distances, and heights posted by the athlete are compared on the scoring table according to the world records of the 10 events.

These figures are tabulated according to the degree of difficulty of the event. Most world records are rated at 1300 points although there are variances in some events.

The pole vault is considered the hardest event and is valued at 1379 points while the 400 meters is considered the easiest and is worth 1,285 points.

The lowest number of points awarded to an athlete is one, and this is given for competing in the event. The contestant does not have to perform in all 10 events, but if he doesn't it goes against him because he will not receive any points while his competitors are adding to their scores.

An example of the scoring would be if Savoldi were to high jump 6'1" at Kansas. The busy Spartan would receive 832 points towards his total score.

The maximum score is 13,233 points for the 10 events while a performance of 7,000 will rank an athlete as one of the 10 best in the world.

The world record of 7,885 was set in the 1952 Olympic Games by Bob Mathias.

Although Savoldi has never participated in any previous decathlons, Schladerman and his assistant, Fran Dittrich, have been estimating Savoldi's score and they figure a conservative total of 6,200 points.

Central Michigan's Jim Podoley won the Kansas Relays title last year with a meet record of 6,123 points.

The first day's calendar consists of the 100 meters, broad jump, shot put, high jump, and the event Savoldi considers the hardest, the 400 meters.

On the second day there is the 110-meter high hurdles, discus throw, pole vault, javelin throw and the 1,500 meters.

The events are run in the order listed but the time interval is determined by the meet officials.

Golfers to Face Wolverines Today At Ann Arbor

Michigan State's golf team travels to Ann Arbor today to meet the University of Michigan in a dual meet.

It will be the first dual meet of the year for the Spartans who finished last in a quad meet at Purdue last weekend.

Larry Johnson will lead off for the Spartans and face an old rival, Bob McManis.

Jim Raymond made the traveling team by beating George Priesskorn in a playoff Monday at Walnut Hills.

All measurements for the heights and distances are made in meters for an easy comparison with the international scoring table.

On many days the decathlon will take as long as 12 hours and, in the meantime, the athletes must have some type of nourishment. Often it is possible to eat a meal but when the circumstances make this unwise the athlete must then resort to some type of quick energy restorer.

Many athletes will use either some form of glucose or honey to acquire the necessary quick energy.

Although the athletes will lose weight during the two-day program it is not as much as might be imagined. A person of Savoldi's size (6'3", 215 pounds) will about five pounds in a day's competition. However the loss mainly body fluids that will be regained during the night through normal body functions.

As an example of what the athlete must undergo, the second day's events at the Olympic Games are a good illustration.

The winner, Mathias, started at 10:30 a.m. with high hurdles. He next took three throws at the discus and then had to wait six hours for the next event, the pole vault. When it was time to vault it was too dark to see the slot for the pole.

It finally got so dark that javelin foul line had to be maintained with flashlights. Finally, 12 hours after Mathias started, he ran the last event, 1,500 meters.

At the present time some of the top decathlon men in the nation are located in the west. The Olympic runner, Milt Campbell, attends Indiana last year's National AAU run up Aubrey Lewis is a freshman at Notre Dame and Podoley is Central Michigan.

Savoldi's trip to Kansas this week may be his first leg on a trip to Melbourne, Australia and the 1956 Olympic Games.

The big right-hander, who cost the Cardinals an estimated $85,000 in February 1954, developed back trouble during spring training this year and failed to start two innings Monday night in his first assignment of the season.

Eddie Stanky, manager of the Cardinals, said "we believe we are compelled to stake the Cardinal chances for success in 1955 on younger pitchers who have shown fine promise."

The 6-foot-1, 210-pound Raschi won 120 games against only 50 losses in his career with the Yankees from 1947 through 1953.

The 36-year-old pitcher won his first five games with the Cardinals but wound up the 1954 season with a disappointing 8-9 season record.

Raschi was reported to have taken a cut this year from the $40,000 salary paid him by the Cardinals last year.

In 1932 Spartan freshman E. Crosbie and sophomore Tom tey were chosen for the U.S. Olympic team.

LUCKY DROODLES! GET 'EM HERE!

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.
Doodle suggested by Norman Gerber, C. C. N. Y.

HAVE A LITTLE FUN when you smoke. Enjoy yourself. Give yourself the pleasure of a better-tasting Lucky Strike. The enthusiasm often inspired by Luckies' famous better taste is illustrated in the Doodle (right) titled: Alphabet soup for Lucky smoker. So why stew over what cigarette to smoke? Luckies' taste is letter-perfect. After all, L.S./M.F.T.—LuckyStrike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better... cleaner, fresher, smoother. When you light up, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike.

Athletics Edge Indians, 8-7, With 5-Run Rally in Ninth

Out Single Gives KC Second Win

Dodger Power Rips Phillies, 7-6

By The Associated Press
Bill Wilson's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning gave the Kansas City Athletics an 8-7 victory over the Cleveland Indians Tuesday.

The rally drove Herb Score, rookie left-hander, off the mound.

Score was riding the crest of a strikeout job and had a 7-3 lead. But before he was knocked out of the box Joe DeMaestri had singled and Wilmer Shantz had doubled to bring in one run and two runners at second and third.

Mike Garcia relieved Score and doubled for a triple by Vic Vachek, a double by Elmer Valo, a single by Bill Renna and Wilson's single pinned the Indians.

Beats Cubs

Left-hander Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs allowed only four hits but one walk too many to lose the run that handed the Athletics a 3-2 victory Tuesday.

The eighth inning, in which the game was decided, was a nightmarish scene for Rush as he let four bases on balls break a 2-2 tie. The game-winning run was given to Johnny Logan by a bases full.

Bruton walked to open the eighth. Hank Aaron sacrificed to second. Eddie Mathews walked intentionally. Both were advanced when Bobby Johnson grounded out. Joe Adcock walked, then the pass to him walked in Bruton with the winning run.

The victory went to Gene Conine, who allowed eight hits. The Cubs caught up the hard way with a run in the fifth and then in the eighth. Catcher Ed Ott scored when Gene Conine singled to center. Lloyd Hunter led off the eighth with a hit and came home on Hank Aaron's single.

Dodgers Make It 8

The soaring Brooklyn Dodgers won Tuesday night for their eighth victory without a loss. Carl Hubbell and Roy Campanella hit back-to-back homers in the sixth. Sandy Amoros walked and Zimmerman hit a two-run homer in the eighth to sew it up.

Johnny Morgan kept the Phils in the game with a two-run homer in the losers' four-run seventh. Willie Jones threw a score into the Brooklyn camp in the eighth. Newcombe got his second of the year, and Owens was charged with the loss.

Spartan Cuemen Cop National Trophy

The Charles C. Peterson billiard trophy will be housed in the Michigan State Union for the coming year.

The trophy was won by Robert Strange, East Lansing freshman, and John Beaudette, New Brunswick, N.J., junior, in the recent national air-mail billiard tournament.

Beaudette and Strange together had the highest number of points in the tournament. Beaudette entered the pocket billiard game and Strange was the 3-cushion entry. The tournament was sponsored by the America Association of College Unions.

The national intercollegiate face-to-face billiard tournament will be held in the Union Ballroom on April 30.

No Argument With Alston, Campy Says

Dodger Catcher Misunderstood

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy Campanella said Tuesday he'd like to make it clear he's never had any disagreement with Brooklyn Manager Walter Alston, he still doesn't like to bat eighth, but he'll be glad to hit before the pitcher if it means the Dodgers will win.

The 33-year-old Brooklyn catcher said he thought his recent outburst about being placed eighth in the batting order was misunderstood in some quarters. He went on:

"I don't like to bat eighth, make no mistake about that. But I want to make it clear that I never had any disagreement with Alston about it. If he wants me to hit eighth, I'll hit eighth."

"I've played for Alston at Nashua, St. Paul and Brooklyn and he knows me well enough to realize I would not argue with him about where I bat. I hope the fans understand that, too."

The husky veteran, sparkplug of previous Brooklyn pennant winners, said again that the hand he injured last year and had operated on last winter, was fine.

He has had nine hits in 26 times at bat, including three doubles, two home runs and seven runs batted in since the season opened a week ago. He's hitting .346.

Campanella said he doesn't like to bat eighth in the lineup because "you don't see as many pitches batting eighth as you do third, fourth, fifth, sixth and so forth."

"After all, if there are men on base and the eighth hitter comes up, you know the pitcher is going to give him nothing good with the opposing pitcher on deck. He'd be crazy if he did."

"You have to try and hit at anything that's close to the plate."

Matsock Favors Baseball

By JACK BERRY

Baseball or football? Johnny Matsock, Spartan baseball captain and football quarterback, said he will have the answer in June.

The world champion Cleveland Browns of the National Football League selected Matsock in the January draft meeting. Johnny has also been contacted by representatives of Canadian professional football teams.

"I would rather play baseball, though," the 5'10", 170 pound shortstop said.

Johnny's proficiency in both sports is well illustrated. He is the only athlete in Michigan State history to be named most valuable player in two sports in a single year.

The feat occurred last year when he was named most valuable to the Big 10 champion baseball team in the spring, and the football squad in the fall.

His 20 runs-batted-in led Coach John Kobs' diamond team and he compiled a .307 batting average. Included in the total were six doubles, three triples and three home runs. His fielding average was .915, second highest of the Big 10 shortstops.

Matsock covers his side of the field well, as Guy Sparrow, U of D first-baseman found out in last Saturday's game.

Sparrow ripped a hard grounder far to Johnny's right in the first inning. Matsock went deep into the hole, gloved the ball, and threw Sparrow.

Johnny got two hits in the East Lansing game as State defeated the Wolverines, 6-4. The teams split on Saturday, the Spartans taking the opener, 8-4.

out by a step, much to the appreciation of pitcher Ed Hobaugh and the fans.

Particularly pleasing to the Spartan captain was last year's three-game series with Michigan, the then defending champions of the Big 10.

The mid-May games started and Michigan took the abbreviated seven inning nightcap, 9-8.

The twin wins were enough to knock the Wolverines out of contention for the conference crown. Matsock called it "a real team effort."

At Detroit Pershing high school the Spartan shortstop won nine letters—three each in baseball, football, and basketball.

He also played in the Detroit Amateur Baseball Federation with Helin's Tackle in the "A" classification. Unlike many other baseball players, Matsock has always played shortstop.

John, a graduating senior, is an economics major. He will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the artillery, May 31, and will probably go on active duty next January.

Before he makes up his mind on the baseball or football question, Spartan diamond fans are looking forward to the approaching Big 10 title race and are confident that Matsock will lead State to another fine season.

The Spartans will face two Big 10 opponents this weekend.

Last year's conference runner-up, Wisconsin, and Northwestern will provide the opposition. The Badgers play State Friday at 3:30 and the Wildcats and the Spartans are scheduled for a doubleheader Saturday at 1:30.

Satterfield Loses In Miami Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Joe Lindsay, 186½, Brooklyn, out-pointed Bob Satterfield, 181, Chicago, in ten rounds at the City Auditorium Tuesday night. Both fighters started slowly, feeling each other out, and Lindsay started nailing Satterfield with sharp rights and stiff lefts early in the bout.

The first world record performance by a Spartan athlete was in the 40-yard dash by DeGay Ernst in 1920.

Economist Tours South America

Claims Communist Influence Strong Only in Guatemala

Labor unions in Bolivia, Mexican peons, the Kiwanis club in Lima, Peru—all are stopping points in the job of James Maddox, visiting lecturer at State.

Maddox, an agricultural economist, is a member of the American Universities Field Service staff. He will be on campus until Thursday.

Recently Maddox returned from a three-month tour in Bolivia, Peru and Venezuela. Now he is visiting schools belonging to the Service, speaking on the conditions and developments he has seen.

"I visited schools, clinics, chambers of commerce, technical assistance workers and ministers of health and agriculture," Maddox said.

One of the biggest and best things the U.S. is doing south of the border is the technical aid program, he said.

"It improves relations, increases our markets for exports and puts countries back on their feet. As a result, we will be able to buy more raw materials, more effectively produced," he said.

The social revolution in Bolivia is perhaps the most important event now happening in South America, Maddox believes.

"Poorer people are no longer content to live as their forefathers did," he said.

Communism is serious for South America only in the sense that poor people with high hopes for future improvement may turn to it in disappointment at slow progress, Maddox said.

Guatemala is the only place where Communism hold a strong influence, he said. He compared the situation there to the U.S. condition after World War II.

Maddox spent five years in and out of Venezuela and Brazil as an assistant director of the American International Assn., a private non-profit organization for financial and technical aid, before joining A.U.F.S.

He also worked in the U.S. department of agriculture 18 years. This included a job in the Federal Security Administration, helping low income farmers.

Officers to Explain WAC Program

Coads interested in becoming army officers after graduation will be able to talk with Capt. Ruth Vogel of the Women's Army Corps today and tomorrow in the Union Lobby.

Capt. Vogel will explain the women's military program in which women with college degrees may enter the Army as first or second lieutenants and serve for a two-year period or more.

There are 47 S. towns called Arabia, Argentina, Bavaria, Belgium, Bohemia, Bolivia, Siberia, Russia, Brazil and Poland says the National Geographic Society.

Writing Contest Under Way

Students will have an opportunity to compete for prizes totaling $165, as the English department is sponsoring a contest.

Any undergraduate student may compete in the contest, submitting original works of fiction, poetry, or essays.

According to the rules announced by the English department, manuscripts of any length may be submitted. A student may enter manuscripts in both poetry and fiction, but may enter only one manuscript in each.

Anyone who has previously won a first prize in either the poetry or fiction divisions is eligible to compete in the other division only.

Poetry manuscripts may consist of either a single long poem or a group of shorter poems.

Two essay contests are open. The Lawson Essay Contest is open only to male undergraduate students. Coeds may compete in the essay contest for undergraduate women.

No entrant may submit more than one essay, and no essay may exceed 2,500 words in length.

Judges for the contest will be announced later. Prize winners will be announced in the State News on or before June 1.

Further information may be obtained from the contest committee or other members of the English department.

Columnist To Speak At Banquet

Sydney J. Harris, columnist for the Detroit Free Press and other Knight newspapers, will be guest speaker at a Matrix banquet for journalism students, faculty and alumni at 7 p.m. April 29 in Lansing's Hotel Porter.

Harris' topic will be "How to Read a Newspaper."

Born in London in 1914, Harris started his career in journalism as a copy boy for the Chicago Herald-Examiner. He continued to work on newspapers while attending Central College and the University of Chicago as a special student majoring in sociology.

He joined the staff of the Chicago Daily News as a reporter in 1940. Later he became a feature writer and began a column, "Here is Chicago." He gave birth to "Strictly Personal," the column which currently circulates in all Knight newspapers, in 1944.

Harris has also been dramatic for the News and an instructor at the University of Chicago for a course on great books.

Long Ones Pay

No Butts About It

CHICAGO (AP)—Flipping away a cigarette butt while it's still long is one of the best ways of cutting down on nicotine and tars, a study indicated Thursday.

Tests in the chemical laboratory of the American Medical Assn. showed that a king-size laminated asbestos-paper filter cigarette screened out the most nicotine and tars among cigarettes tested—if the cigarette was smoked no shorter than an inch and a half long.

A regular-length no-filter brand tested let more tar and nicotine through. However, if a person smoked this cigarette down to about an inch, he would get less nicotine and tars than from smoking a king-size filter type right down to the filter.

This is because the tobacco in a cigarette acts as a rather effective filter.

Bill Designed To Reorganize Campus Chest

Student Congress will vote tonight on a bill designed to reorganize Campus Chest, Michigan State's centralized agency for the collection and distribution of funds for charity.

The bill, if passed, will place Campus Chest wholly within the student government framework. Both the chairman and the board of directors of the organization would be appointed by the student government president, subject to Congress approval.

The bill would also combine the job of Campus Chest chairman and Spartacade director. Spartacade proceeds are distributed to charity through the Campus Chest.

Congress will also pass final vote on the applications of two campus organizations for temporary charters.
