Bennett Breaks Election Laws

By GENE RITZINGER
 The Elections Review Board student government Thursday night disqualified Roger Bennett, Oak Park, Illinois sophomore, from the race for class president.
 Bennett was found guilty of a violation of the All-College Student Government election laws with specific regard to the campaign regulations.
 Charges were brought against Bennett for having a campaign poster in the dormitory ahead of the scheduled office campaigning to start.

The sign, which Bennett placed in an open house for Abbot at the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house, contained Bennett's name and the office he was running for.

In his defense, Bennett said the sign was put up without his knowledge, and should have been considered as an invitation, not a campaign poster.

Bennett asked for a statement after the board's decision was in, Bennett said: "There has been a misunderstanding and I will appeal the decision to the all-university jury."

Wade Watson, a member of the three-man reviewing board, said Bennett was found to have violated section 13 of the election laws.

Section 13 subjects a candidate for office to disqualification if he violates the letter or spirit of the ordinance.

The pertinent articles in section 13 state that no campaign literature or posters shall be distributed before 6:01 p.m. of the day preceding the election, that a candidate must receive written permission of the election commissioner at least 24 hours before any means of publicity other than that specified in the ordinance is used.

Bennett's disqualification left two candidates running for class president.

All of the other class officers eligible with the exception of the class secretary, have at least three candidates running.

Six prominent speakers honor Runnells and Stafseth

Department Heads Retire

Runnells, Stafseth Honored at Banquet

Gifts, talks and a banquet played their part Wednesday in "Runnells-Stafseth Day" when the School of Veterinary Medicine honored two of its retiring members.

Honored were Dr. R. A. Runnells, retiring head of the department of animal pathology, and Dr. H. J. Stafseth, retiring head of the department of microbiology.

A look backward was taken at the banquet in the Union Parlors Thursday evening when Dean C. F. Clark of the Veterinary School spoke of the teaching careers of the two men.

In his talk Clark praised Runnells for his years of service in staging the commencement exercises.

Stafseth was lauded by Clark as the organizer of the first modern veterinary college in China. He also organized the nursing education curriculum here, Clark said.

Each man received a gift from the school.

In the afternoon academic program six State alumni who have achieved prominence in the veterinary field presented papers.

The six papers have been published in a 71-page booklet. The book's forward was written by President John A. Hannah, and Charles San Clemente, associate professor in the bacteriology and public health department, wrote the preface.

Presenting papers were: Dr. Gerald Dikmann of Iowa; Dr. L. M. Hutchings, department of veterinary medicine at Purdue; and Dr. W. R. Hinsaw, Camp Dietrich, Md., winner of the Borden award.

Others were Dr. F. S. Markham, of the Lederle laboratories division of the American Cyanamid company; Dr. R. A. Pecker, Iowa State College, and Dr. W. H. Riser, operator of Stokie, Ill., veterinary clinic.

Runnells will retire in 1955 and Stafseth will end his term at Michigan State in 1956.

Male Singers To Give Concert

The Michigan Male Chorus Association comprised of approximately 20 choruses from Michigan and Canada, will present a concert Saturday night at 8:15 in the Auditorium.

Michigan State's Men's Glee Club will sing Scott's "Norah," a medley of three Negro spirituals. The concert is being sponsored by the music department and the Lansing Orpheus Club.

Young Things to Star In Animal Open House

The young 'uns will have a field day at Michigan State Saturday.

It's the Open House sponsored by the School of Agriculture for faculty and students and their children.

On display will be just about all the young animals in the university barns.

There'll be about 50 lambs, some 50 calves, two young colts, and lots of little pigs and chicks.

Showers, Maybe

Spartans Face Cloudy, Cooler Weather Today

Partly cloudy and cooler weather will greet Spartans on this, the last Friday in April.

The weatherman reports there is a slight possibility of showers also.

High will be from 60 to 65, with westerly winds ranging from 15 to 20 mph.

Knowledge Of Orientals Stressed

"A real understanding of the Oriental people—their philosophy and ideals—is important if we seek an enduring world peace" Charles W. Morris of the University of Chicago told the American Philosophical Association Thursday.

As the opening speaker for the 53rd annual meeting of the Association's western division, Morris maintained that "the Western world is more interested in exploring outer space, while the Oriental world is delving into the inner man."

Declaring the Oriental session as the first of Philosophical Association meetings to deal with Oriental philosophy, Morris said: "There is a steady growth in America to understand Oriental thought."

Approximately 225 people attended the afternoon session in Kellogg Center. Attending the views on Oriental philosophy the program included meetings on the history of philosophy and a discussion on logic.

Today's program will stress the philosophy of religion, morals and history. "The Meaning and Explanation of Philosophy" will anchor the second day's program at 9 a.m. in Brody Hall Lounge.

"Induction" will be the topic of a 2 p.m. panel in Kellogg Center Auditorium. Henry Leonard, head of Michigan State's philosophy department; Everett J. Nelson from Ohio State University, and Thomas Storer from University of Nebraska, will comprise the panel.

The three-day conference will close with the annual election of officers. Saturday Max H. Fisch of the University of Illinois will succeed Perry as president.

Union Board To Hold Convo

A Union Board leadership conference will meet Saturday in the Union to acquaint Board members with the purposes, functions, and public relations of the organization.

Betty Case, former president of Union Board, said the first meeting will be held from 8:45 to 9:45 a.m. in Room 22. Individual group meetings will follow, with a final meeting from 11:30 to noon in the Old Chapel.

Matsu Islands Alerted For Red China Attack

Diem Fights For Life In Saigon

Rebels Start War; Shooting Kills 100

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's pro-Western government waged an all-out shooting battle for survival this morning against the private racketeer army of Binh Xuyen.

More than 100 persons were killed and about 500 wounded in the first nine hours of fighting.

The rebel organization of former river pirates opened the battle early Thursday afternoon with mortar fire on the Premier's palace.

For hours, shellfire rocked this French-Oriental metropolis of two million people. Once the city was called the "Paris of the East." Now it is an unkept place packed with refugees from Communist North Viet Nam.

A square mile of the city has been put to the torch by the shooting of open civil war.

As a police force the Binh Xuyen has controlled the South Viet Nam capital's gambling, prostitution and other vices.

The Binh Xuyen accused Diem of having dictatorial ambitions and seeking to plunge South Viet Nam into civil war.

To the West, the No. 1 question is whether South Viet Nam can be made strong enough, despite warring factions, to stand up against the threat from the Communist Vietnamese in the North.

An American source, who declined to be quoted by name, said Premier Diem now had to meet the Binh Xuyen challenge "firmly and with force."

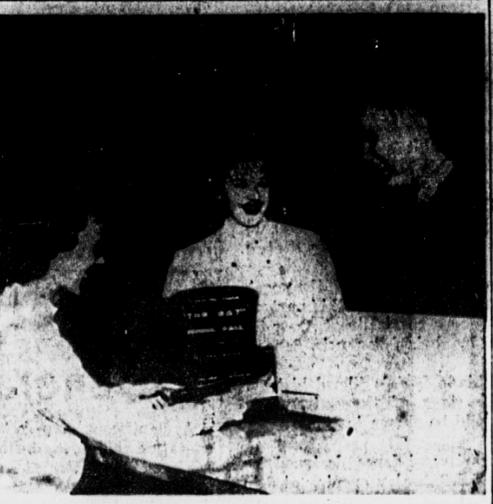

"If he stops now he might as well resign because he will not be able to govern again," the American said.

But a few hours after the fighting broke out, Chief of State Bao Dai, from his home on the French Riviera, summoned the Premier to an emergency conference in Cannes before May 3.

The French have been lukewarm in their support of Diem.

The chief of state, who has been bombarded by appeals for support from the Binh Xuyen and allied religious sects, also canceled Diem's military powers and handed them to Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, who a few days ago took refuge with rebellious forces. Bao Dai was reported dissatisfied with Diem's handling of the crisis.

There were no indications what Diem's reaction would be to the call from the Riviera.

Year's Last Dance Seniors to Sponsor 'Top Hat' Saturday

The last all-university semi-formal dance of the year will be held Saturday as the senior class sponsors "Top Hat."

Red, black and white will be the colors decorating the Kellogg Center ballroom for the dance. Two carnation arrangements will adorn the band stand.

The backdrop will feature the theme of the dance and black silhouettes will line the wall.

Brick Rider, Cleveland, Ohio, junior, will act as master of ceremonies for the intermission entertainment. Joan Sundstrom, Chicago, Ill., senior, will sing and Bill Thistle, senior class president, will speak during the intermission.

Tickets for the dance may still be bought at the Union ticket office or they may be purchased at the door.

Coeds attending the dance will have 2 a.m. late permissions. Special parking space has been provided at Kellogg Center for students.

Fred Crissey's orchestra will provide the music for the dance, which will be held from 9-12.

Committee chairmen are: tickets, Verne Hampton, Pontiac; program, Sally Garvin, Beaver, Pa.; entertainment, Bill Peters, Lansing; decorations, Peggy Kullison, Lansing, and Paul Phillips, Birmingham, and publicity, Jeanette DeClerey, Detroit.

Money Found

The campus police are holding a sum of money recently found and turned over to them, according to Det. Lt. Charles J. Becker.

Becker said the owner may claim it by contacting him and giving an accurate description of the amount and its container.

Air Patrols Over China Increased

Feverish Activity Seen On Mainland

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Matsu Islands Thursday were alerted for a possible Chinese Red attack and air patrols were multiplied over the nearby mainland, where feverish activity was reported.

One wave of Nationalist patrol planes caught and set afire a 300-ton landing craft about 20 miles north of the Matsus, Nationalist air force headquarters reported.

The Defense Ministry's military information service said the Communists in a rush job had finished two new roads on Huangchi Peninsula. The peninsula is only four miles north of the nearest island in the Matsu group.

The service said two Communist ships loaded with supplies Tuesday slipped into the port of Huangchi. The port is 10 miles north of Matsu main island in the group 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

The service said the garrison of the seven islands in the group—believed to number 11,000 or more—had been ordered to be especially vigilant.

The China News said Russia was stepping up deliveries of twin-jet bombers to Communist China. The Defense Ministry, however, had nothing to confirm this.

The News said when the Reds finished their air base at Luk-lao, 220 miles north of Formosa, they were estimated to have about 200 IL-28 twin-jet fighter bombers. This number now has been doubled, it asserted.

In any case, Formosa now is within Red bomber range and the plans for dispersal of civilians from Taipei were stepped up.

Political quarters, meanwhile, were dismayed by press reports that President Eisenhower had widened the scope of possible talks with Red China to include easing world tensions, not merely a cease-fire.

Eisenhower told his press conference Wednesday the United States would be willing to talk to Red China without the Nationalists being present on such subjects as easing tensions, advancing world peace, and getting back U.S. airmen held prisoner in China.

The Nationalists oppose a cease-fire.

Men Suggest New Name For Yearbook

A recommendation that the name of Michigan State's yearbook be changed from "The Wolverine" to "The Statesman" was passed by the Men's Inter-Residence Hall Council Thursday evening.

The proposal will be presented to Student Congress next week, said Dean DeWesse, president of the council.

The council's recommendation said an informal pool among the men's dorms revealed a "practically unanimous" endorsement of a title change to "The Statesman."

The council recommended the change become effective with the 1954 yearbook, and suggested Congress take necessary steps to achieve a new yearbook title.

"The term 'Wolverine' is connected with the University of Michigan," DeWesse said. "The present yearbook title confuses people, especially when they first see the book."

A change in the title of the book would help increase its prestige in the eyes of the public.

State White Pine Tree Planted on Capitol Lawn

An 18-inch specimen of white pine, the state tree of Michigan, was planted Thursday morning on the northwest corner of the state capitol lawn in Lansing.

The tree was presented by Michigan State as one of 2,500 pines planted in Michigan this year as part of the university's Centennial celebration.

La. Gov. Philip A. Hart, acting in place of Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is on a trip to the Near East, spoke at the ceremonies. Another speaker was Rep. Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo), speaker of the state House of Representatives.

The tree was planted by Prof. W. Ira Bull, superintendent of Michigan State's conservation nurseries, and John A. Mousfeld, university forester.

A plastic tablet, fastened to the tree, reads: "White pine—Michigan tree of the century. Presented by Michigan State College in its Centennial year, 1955."

Dr. Harlan Hatcher, told the executive office that "One possible explanation is that a local club, or several of them, could have given names and addresses from their lists, or part of them."

Many university alumni had not received the leaflets, Dr. Hatcher said. This must mean, he added, that the mailing "was irregular, and was not directed to all alumni."

"The problem presented, however," Hatcher said, "leads us to insist that there be stronger security applied to the lists, and that the university's regulations be strictly enforced."

An invocation was given by the Rev. N. A. McCune, pastor emeritus of People's Church in East Lansing. The Rev. Charles M. Diggs gave the benediction.

Parents' Day —Y'All Come!

Go on home and tell your mother!
May 7 and 8, Michigan State will throw its doors open to an estimated 3,800 parents for the fifth annual "Parents' Day." Spartans should urge their parents to take part in the programs.

"Parents' Day" is more than a day—it's a whole weekend. Beginning on Saturday, May 7, parents will be given a chance to see just what their Spartan is doing at Michigan State.

After a president's reception by Dr. John A. Hannah, Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m., parents have a choice of events that will keep their minds off the 30-odd miles of sidewalks they will face.

Saturday events include a football game, tennis matches and a double-header ballgame.

The Spartan Green and White football teams will meet in Macklin Stadium in the afternoon, which will bring to an end spring grid drills. Tennis matches between State and Purdue will be held at 10 a.m. and State's defending Big 10 baseball champions will play a double-header with the Iowa Hawkeyes.

The 10th annual International Festival will be held at Demonstration Hall Saturday from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., to attract parents to exhibits and entertainment by State's foreign students.

The Festival last year proved to be one of the most popular attractions for parents, and missing this part of "Parents' Day" would be missing a special treat. Over 50 countries will be represented by their folk music, dances, arts and crafts.

Throughout Saturday, Michigan State's filmed history, "The Second Hundred," the story of the university's growth from 1855 to today, will be shown in the Kellogg Center Auditorium.

A "Collegiate Comeback" party and dance, designed for the parents, will also be offered Saturday evening at 8 in the Union Ballroom.

Sunday, May 8, is Mother's Day. Students are urged to attend church with their parents.

Dormitories, sororities and fraternities will hold open house Sunday for parents, many of them holding dinners and providing entertainment.

A carillon concert in Beaumont Tower and the annual Sorority Sing in the Auditorium will highlight Sunday's special events.

A 12-item packet will be given to all parents when they arrive. It includes Centennial information, a campus map, a calendar of Centennial events, a copy of the State News, and a full program of "Parents' Day" events.

This is the weekend set aside at Michigan State once a year to help parents feel a stronger part in the university by attending its programs. Tell your folks to come up for the weekend.

"It's only Ed's sister with his laundry."

For All Levels State Leads the Way In General Education

A significant step forward was taken in the field of education this week, during the Centennial symposium on "General Education" at Kellogg Center.

Sponsored by Michigan State's Basic College, the three-day symposium drew almost 400 educators from all parts of the nation for speeches, group meetings, and panel discussions on the subject.

Presenting their opinions on the goals and methods of general education in the future were representatives from business, law, medicine, labor, and agriculture.

General education is that knowledge, gathered from all fields of human thought, which is essential to every college and university student to make him a well-rounded, intelligent individual.

It is the opposite of specific education, which deals with knowledge each student must have to excel in his own particular profession.

It is a critically important field, particularly today. We often hear that modern educational institutions are training out masses of technicians skilled in one field, but ignorant of all fields. These reports suggest that we are only a step away from the rigid, specialized society pictured in Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World."

To prevent such a situation is the aim of general education. As Clarence H. Faust, president of the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education, pointed out at the symposium:

"Although this is a highly specialized civilization, men are not merely doctors, or lawyers, or engineers, but citizens and human beings.

"The essence of education at all levels is the development to its fullest possibility of man's peculiar capacity for talking about himself, about what he is doing, about future possibilities, and about his choice of alternatives with respect to them."

For a university which has traditionally specialized in technological subjects, Michigan State has made an outstanding name in the field of general education. Its Basic College is one of the pioneers of general education in the nation.

In sponsoring this symposium, Michigan State has shown that it is still leading the way. We congratulate the Basic College for providing American scholars with an opportunity to discuss a topic of such vital importance.

Walt's Wallow S'News Room

By WALT OLEKSY
State News Editorial Assistant

Today's Wallow is going to touch on the subject of putting out a newspaper. This is a chore I swore myself to do before I become a vagrant in June, so you're in for it.

I don't intend to take you on a personally-conducted tour (so to speak) of the State News office and tell you how a story is born and how a paper lands on your breakfast table. Other great men like Sammy Clemens and Dame Runyon have quite adequately covered the subject.

So I won't tell you what happens to a story from the time a reporter gets it from his "beat" until the paper is "put to bed" in the wee hours. You'll never know that the story is typed up, edited by the night editor, assigned for a headline by a headwriter, sent to Campus Press linotype machines, "dummed in" on a blank facsimile of a State News page, the type checked for errors on a galley proof from the line, and the story, now a few inches of lead type, is set into a page form and ready for a final proofing before it is put on the press.

Instead, I want to tell you what we do in the time between. Send a photographer out to get a picture of a duck, and he's back with it in fifteen minutes. I sent one photographer for a picture of Roberta Peters last fall term, and I got it back about two weeks ago. (It was an 8x10 glossy for my private files.)

And if you want to come up here and work, I'll put you wise about who the top personnel is: Jean, the seductive voice on the other end of the telephone, who takes ads. She is the acknowledged boss, because she knows the combination to the safe, in which are kept copy pencils and faculty directories.

This is no graveyard or cannibal camp, but you will hear us talking about "tomb stones" and "head breakers." It's part of the jargon. Like on the sports staff—a "thinclad" is someone who would get arrested if he looked like that in Lansing, and a "tank man" has not necessarily spent the day at Gabies.

There is a little room, part of the five-room office of the S' News, which is off-limits. To the editorial staff of a paper, it is where fallen angels hang out. To the publishers of a paper, it is the sweat-box in which the money is made which keeps the newspaper alive from day to day. To the world, the people who inhabit this room are called advertisers.

The most intriguing part of the newspaper office are the sounds on floors. Two Associated Press wire machines tick away, each typing out 60 words a minute, bringing in the news as it happens...telling of wars, polo matches, the Pope's illness, Barbara's murder, and Paul Bunyan's theft.

Over the rhythm of the teletype machines are six or seven reporters typing up their stories, telephone conversations and interviewees trying to be heard.

There is too much happening at once on a paper to see it all. Everyone on the paper has his favorite chore.

Some like to leg it and get a story. Some hate interviewing a person, but love to sit down and write it up. Others prefer to rewrite, or write headlines, or other jobs.

My favorite is make-up. Few people stop to realize that the way a paper is made up, the layout of stories and headlines and pictures, is a very respected art, and few jobs are more rewarding.

Now the story is almost over, although this is just a brief picture sketch of newspaper life.

To really appreciate it, the office should be seen in the early morning hours, with the lights turned off. Then the room is dark and quiet, and in the stillness of a room emptied of recent activity, the sounds of the typewriters and the teletype machines seem to return.

University To Receive Bible Pages

Benton to Present Gift at Vespers

Michigan State will be presented with original pages from two hand-lettered Bibles Sunday afternoon, during the weekly candle-light vesper services at Alumni Memorial Chapel.

The two highly-valued Bible leaves, one of which is known to have been hand-lettered by an early Italian monk, date back to 1350 and 1400.

A reproduction from a page of the Gutenberg Bible and a page from a Bible printed for the 1933 World's Fair will also be presented to the university.

Gamma Phi Beta sorority will sponsor the 4 p.m. service. Included on the program will be talks by the Rev. C. Brandt Trift of Peoples Church and David Dickson, assistant professor of English.

Wanted ATO's Plea For Mascot—Great Dane

The campus' largest mascot, a thoroughbred great dane named Thor, has been placed on the "wanted" list by the ATO fraternity house.

Thor was last seen at the house on the evening of April 11, and an intensive search has failed to turn up his whereabouts.

He is golden brindle in color and stands approximately three feet high.

Besides being the biggest mascot around, he is also the biggest eater, and anyone who may have picked him up as a stray should be advised that he consumes three-fourths of a dispan of dog biscuits twice daily along with a half can of horse meat.

Any information as to his whereabouts would be appreciated by the ATO's.

Faculty to Hear 'Scholar's Duty'

Fr. Leo R. Ward, S. J., chairman of the graduate philosophy department at the University of Notre Dame, will address members of the Michigan State faculty Friday at 8 p.m. in Newman Hall.

Fr. Ward's topic will be "The Duty of the Catholic Scholar." The meeting is open to the public.

The author of numerous philosophical and sociological publications, including "Blueprint of a Catholic University,"

Music will be provided by the university Madrigal Singers.

Chandler Benton, Milwaukee, Wis., senior, will make the presentation to William L. Davidson, director of the State's Fund. The pages were given to Benton by a Chicago lithographer for the work he has done to organize the vesper services.

The program is open to the public.

Nursery School beds Study Pint-Sized 'Spartans' at Play

By JEAN DAVIS
State News Secretary

The smallest Spartans on campus are 36 children who attend the Michigan State nursery school located inside the fence east side of the Home Development House.

The nursery school is in the management and child development department of the Home Economics.

The children, from families in Lansing and East Lansing are divided into three groups according to age. The youngest group is 2½ to three years two months; next is the group ranging from three years three months to four years; and the oldest group is from four years to four and a half.

A trained teacher is responsible for teaching the children and supervising the students working with each group. The two youngest groups meet in the morning and the oldest in the afternoon.

The children of all three groups use the same toys, but their motives and methods differ, Dr. Borgman said.

"At three, a child runs to be running. At four he is chasing something or playing 'horse.' The motives differ with each activity," she said.

Swings, tricycles, slide and saw are used for outside play. A large sandbox with pails and shovels is provided, as well as tools for digging in the ground.

Several types of ladder arrangements are supplied for climbing. In addition, there is a playhouse with a door and two windows, low enough to climb through. A ladder leads to the roof, so that the children can play on the top and inside.

A white birch tree trunk with several limbs furnishes a new climbing experience for most children, Dr. Borgman said. The tree was moved from behind the Library Annex to the nursery.

Besides climbing on it, they invent games around it, by straddling the limbs and pretending it is a horse, she said.

The children are encouraged to be creative. Blocks, 4 foot crate-like boxes and planks are available for building. The imaginary houses, trains, cars, or boats created are popular for climbing or crawling into, because the blocks and boxes are hollow.

Wheelbarrows and wagons are used to transport the building materials to the spot chosen for construction.

was moved to its present location to make room for the new Library.

The nursery school is a laboratory used about 270 student hours a week by students who observe and study the children at play, at rest and at meals," said Dr. Bernice D. Borgman, associate professor of home management and child development.

Wheelbarrows and wagons are used to transport the building materials to the spot chosen for construction.

After their outside play, the children have a rest period.

The nursery is divided into two units, one downstairs, the other on the second floor. In each unit are two large playrooms, a cloakroom and a bathroom. If more room was available observation booths would be provided for the students to study the children.

Each unit is equipped with a piano, record player and drums and bells for rhythm music. The nurse's examination room is also a quiet room with a rack for children's books for those wishing to read. There is a reading period when the teacher reads to them.

Small pictures of different animals doing different things mark the lockers in the cloakroom so each child knows which is his.

The versatile playrooms can be used for play, rest period and lunch by rearranging the furniture.

Inside play also encourages creative activity. Within easy reach of the children on low open shelves are jigsaw puzzles, crayons, paints, paper and blocks of different sizes and shapes. Stored near the blocks to encourage use together are cars and small figures. A large area of the playrooms is used for block building.

One very popular corner of the playroom surrounded by low screens is equipped for "house-keeping." The children live the situation, using stove, table, chairs, dressing table and other furniture built to their size.

The doll's bed is large enough for a child to replace the doll as the baby of the family. Besides a chest of drawers containing clothes for the dolls is one with dress-up clothes for the children.

"Often the roles of parents are taken and a third child becomes the baby. When more children participate a fourth or fifth child may be anything from grandma or grandpa to the cleaning lady or baby sitter," Dr. Borgman said.

The morning groups have lunch at the nursery. The same children and teacher eat together every day.

"They like simple, unmixed foods. For example, they love raw carrots, celery or lettuce alone, but they don't like them as well in a salad. Fruits and most meats are favored, and they try most vegetables," Dr. Borgman said.

Children would rather have foods which they can pick up in their hands than something they must eat with a fork or spoon, she added.

That which was lost is found. The manikin which disappeared Saturday night from an A E Pi, A E Phi and ZBT party, turned up Monday under circumstances almost as mysterious as its vanishing.

It was found, unhurt, in "a room in one of the men's dorms," by a ZBT member. Now returned to its home in an East Lansing store, the manikin is keeping quiet about its kidnapping. No charges are being pressed. A ZBT member said.

George Hopes to Join Hal

George Smith, the youngest of the Smith boys, is now a catcher with the Baltimore Orioles and the youngest one in the new Michigan State's ace second baseman, George Smith.

George says that baseball was always an important part of the Smith family life, to the point where the family was almost built around baseball.

to his quick pair of hands as one of the keys to his baseball success.

Smith, who hit 306 in his first season of Big 10 competition last year, learned their lessons well. The eldest boy, Hal, is now a catcher with the Baltimore Orioles and the youngest one is in the new Michigan State's ace second baseman, George Smith.

GEORGE SMITH

The youngest Smith got his first taste of competitive ball in the eighth grade when he started playing for an organized sand lot team.

A nine letter winner at Detroit Redford high school, George won three letters in baseball, football and basketball. In his senior year, he hit the ball at a .476 clip to establish a Redford record.

Brother Hal was also a Redford product, as is assistant baseball coach Frank Pellerin.

And it was Pellerin who was a major factor in George's attending State.

While he was still in high school, Smith was looking forward to a professional career. But, in his senior football season he injured his knee and had to shelve the idea of joining the pro ranks for awhile.

It was then that he met Pellerin and cast his lot with the Spartans.

Pellerin calls Smith a "natural looking ball player" and points year, started every game except the opener with Wayne.

"Shortly after our first game Bill Hopping sprained his ankle in practice and I got a shot at the open position," Smith recalls. He not only got a shot at it but stayed there for the rest of the season.

Following graduation from State George plans a pro diamond career. "I'd like to join my brother Hal with Baltimore," he said.

"However, if anything happens that I don't make it, I'd like to coach high school sports or utilize my radio-TV major," he continued.

During the summer months Smith spends his time working with his father as an interior decorator and playing ball in Detroit's sand lot circuit.

Smith is currently leading the Big 10 hitters with a .727 average, collecting eight hits in 11 trips in the first three Spartan games. His .482 all games average also leads the Spartan hitters.

His homerun against Northwestern ranks as his biggest thrill while playing ball for State. Smith is the hustling player on a hustling squad. He points out that Coach John Kobs demands hustle from his players and Pellerin claims Smith is top man on the club in that department.

Pellerin points out to a single play last year as exemplifying Smith's spirit and hustle.

State was playing OSU in the game that could mean the Big 10 title. Trailing by two runs in the last inning, the Spartans loaded the bases with one out, and Smith was on second.

A ground ball to the shortstop produced a force out at second but the relay to first wasn't in time to complete the game-ending doubleplay.

Not only did the runner on third score but Smith raced all the way in from second to tie the game and make it possible for State to win the game, and title, in extra innings.

3 Golfers Tied In Champ's Meet At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Knocking three strokes off par, National Open champion Ed Furgol, PGA title holder Chuck Harbert, and newcomer Gene Littler tied for the lead with 69's Thursday in the first round of the $37,500 Tournament of Champions.

Sam Snead, the favorite, shot a disappointing 74 to land in 16th place in the field of 21 professional golfers.

Playing under bright, warm skies over the Desert Inn Country Club course, which measures 7,102 yards and has par of 36-36-72, the windup of the first 18 holes found 11 players shooting under par.

Launching a bid for the $10,000 top money, Furgol made the tour with a card of 34-35-69. Harbert and Littler did it in 35-34-69.

As an undergraduate at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minn., Spartan diamond coach John Kobs won 13 letters in four sports—football, baseball, basketball and track.

JOHN BROGAN
... staves off challenge ...

Netters Set For Indiana Invasion

Brogan to Play At No. 1 Position

Dave Brogan will be the No. 1 man Saturday when Michigan State's tennis team meets three-time Big 10 champion Indiana at 2 p.m.

Brogan successfully defended his position against a challenge by Dick Mencil at Thursday's final practice.

Indiana has held the conference tennis title for the last three years and held a 22 meet winning streak until they lost to Kalamazoo Monday, 6-2.

The Spartans lost twice to Indiana in that streak and were the last team to beat Indiana before Kalamazoo turned the trick.

The Spartans posted a 6-3 win over the Hoosiers in 1953.

Leading the Indiana attack will be defending Big 10 No. 1 Champion and Hoosier captain, John Hironimus.

During his college career, Hironimus has held, or shared, five Big 10 titles.

Bob Martin, the Indiana No. 2 man and the 1954 No. 3 champ, is expected to cause the Spartans trouble. Carl Dentice, the No. 6 champion, is the other Hoosier ace.

Spartan Coach Frank Beaman will field the same team that racked up a pair of wins over Detroit and Wayne last weekend.

Brogan will be at the No. 1 position and Mencil will face Martin in the No. 2 spot.

Capt. John Brogan, who won both matches last week, will man the No. 3 spot for the Spartans.

In the No. 4 spot will be Jim Beachum and sophomores George Stephanovic and Ralph Braden. They will get their first taste of Big 10 competition in the bottom two spots.

The No. 1 doubles contest will pit Indiana's Hironimus and Martin against Dave Brogan and Mencil.

Tigers Edge Nats, 4-1, On Six-Hitter by Hoef

Dodgers Win, 4-2, Over Cubs

Jablonski Snaps Redleg Loss String

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, limited to one hit in the first six innings, scored four times in the seventh and whipped the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, Thursday.

Carl Furillo's three-run homer in the seventh overcame a 2-0 lead the Cubs had gained when pitcher Bob Rush slammed a home run with Eddie Miksis aboard in the fifth.

Carl Erskine started for the Dodgers and went six innings in a tight duel with Rush. He was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Clem Labine finished to get credit for the victory.

Labine gave up only one hit and his teammates backed him with two double plays to check possible Chicago threats.

Labine started one after his low throw had let Gene Baker reach first in the eighth inning and Ernie Banks grounded into the other in the ninth after Hank Sauer's single.

NEW YORK (AP) — Shoddy fielding by the St. Louis Cardinals during a four-run third inning helped the New York Giants to a 6-4 victory Thursday before only 2,662 fans.

Rightfielder Rip Repulski, third baseman Ken Boyer and shortstop Alex Grammas made errors during the Giants' big inning.

New York used singles by Ray Katz, Whitey Lockman and Al Dark, a double by Don Miller and the three errors to hand Harvey Haddix his first defeat.

Marv Grissom, taking over for Jim Hearn, made his eighth appearance in 13 Giant games and stopped the Cardinals after they had loaded the bases on singles by Wally Moon and Bill Virdon and a walk to Stan Musial with two out in the seventh.

Repulski lofted Grissom's first pitch to Mueller for the third out.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Willie Jones hit a lead off ninth inning homer Thursday night to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 win over the Milwaukee Braves—Robt. Roberts' third victory of the year against one loss.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Third baseman Ray Jablonski snapped the Cincinnati Redlegs' six-game losing streak Thursday night, driving in all of the Redlegs' runs as they edged the Pittsburg Pirates, 3-2.

He homered in the fourth to send the Redlegs ahead and doubled home the tying and winning markers in the eighth.

The Pirates tied the score in the sixth and went ahead in the seventh on a triple by Dale Long and a throwing error by Jablonski.

Kaline Extends String to 13 Games

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers streaked to fifth straight victory Thursday night as Billy Hoef struck the Washington Senators on six singles for a 4-1 win before 20,820 fans at Briggs Stadium.

Harry Malmberg, reserve fielder, broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning with his first league hit—a single to left which knocked in two runs. Hoef's victory marked the end of a losing streak which blanked the Cleveland Indians on three hits last Sunday.

The slender 22-year-old southpaw, who says this is his year to become a winner, has three losing seasons, but only one batter while with his second game against loss.

Dean Stone, Washington's year-old lefty, worked the sixth inning and was charged his second loss against no runs. He gave up a home run to Bill Tuttle in the fifth, then rattled in the sixth and seventh.

J. W. Porter opened Detroit with a single to left, raced to third on Bob W. double to left. Both scored Malmberg's safety.

The Tigers added their sixth run in the seventh on a double by Al Kaline, a field out, and Ray B. sacrifice fly.

Kaline had a perfect night, picking up a double and two walks, to his streak of hitting in every game this season—13 runs. He also pushed his average to .400.

Yanks Win, 11-4

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Don sen pitched the New York Yankees into the American League lead Thursday night with a victory over the Kansas Athletics before a crowd of 556, largest of the home season.

The Yankees battered five Kansas City pitchers for 14 hits and the Athletics' choppers about their own downfall by hitting nine bases on balls, three New York batters, missing a wild pitch.

Mickey Mantle hit his home run of the season on fourth with Andy Carey on Vic Fower smashed his homer for the A's with the empty in the fifth.

Chicago Fall, 3-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Ivan Dr the Boston Red Sox rookie hander, fired a three-hit check the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

The 25-year-old hurler allowed a hit until the seventh the White Sox tallied their run.

Bob Nieman walked and Dropp slashed a ground past short for the first hit. Took third as Faye Thross juggled the ball, then Sperm Lollar smashed another homer for the A's with the empty in the fifth.

The only other Chicago hit by Clint Courtney in the Throssberry topped the hit Boston attack off Jack man with a single, double triple.

KOBBSMEN HIT ROAD TO FACE PURDUE, ILLINOIS

Godfrey Oppose Purdue

Hobaugh, Wenner To Hurl Saturday

By JACK BERRY
Walt Godfrey was named to oppose Purdue this afternoon as the Spartans' first Big 10 road game of the season. Assistant manager Frank Pellerin said Hobaugh and Jack Wenner would pitch against Purdue this afternoon's opponent, in sixth place in the Big 10. The Illini are in seventh place.

Boilermakers have a 1-2 record against Purdue. They edged the Boilers 4-3, and then ran into a 4-3 loss in the second game. In a hit—a single to center field—knocked in two runs. The Spartans' victory marked a strong showing in an effort to knock the Cleveland Indians from three hits last season.

Slender 22-year-old Malmberg, who says this is his last season, broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning with a home run. He hit a single to left field in the eighth, and a double in the ninth to give the Spartans a 3-1 lead. Malmberg's safety.

Peters is currently leading the Spartans with a .455 batting average. His five hits were all singles.

Baseball Coach John Kobs, who has won one and lost four in his career, is expected to head for streams for their first weekend of fishing.

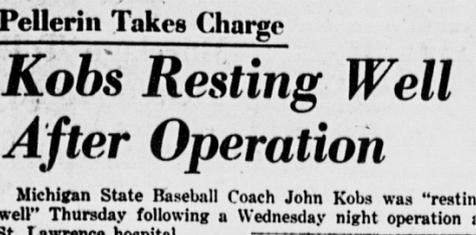

Back roads are reported passable, streams are below normal levels and the warm weather has pushed spring ahead of schedule this year.

Only a downpour of rain could spoil the opener. Based on last year's sale of 310,000 trout stamps, the opening turnout is expected to top 150,000 according to the state conservation department.

Spurian outfielder Ray Collard was voted the Ki Ki Cuyler award as the "most valuable" player in the Michigan American Legion tourney in 1952.

Kobs Resting Well After Operation

Michigan State Baseball Coach John Kobs was "resting well" Thursday following a Wednesday night operation at St. Lawrence hospital.

Operated on for gall bladder trouble, Kobs will miss this weekend's trip to Purdue and Illinois. It is not known how soon he will rejoin his ball club.

In his absence, assistant coach Frank Pellerin will direct the team, aided by freshman coach Amo Bessone.

Kobs was in pain for the last week. He was originally stricken with the trouble at the Pan-American games, where he coached the U.S. baseball team.

Pellerin also directed the team during the last stages of the winter drills and for the first part of the spring trip due to Kobs' assignment at the Pan-American games.

He has been on the Spartan staff for three years and is a grad of State and a former baseball captain.

Conditions Fine For Trout Season Opening Tonight

All early indications are that conditions will be favorable for the opening of the trout season at midnight tonight.

More than 150,000 anglers are expected to head for streams for their first weekend of fishing.

Back roads are reported passable, streams are below normal levels and the warm weather has pushed spring ahead of schedule this year.

Only a downpour of rain could spoil the opener. Based on last year's sale of 310,000 trout stamps, the opening turnout is expected to top 150,000 according to the state conservation department.

Stage Set For Pool Tournament

2 Spartans To Defend Titles

Preparations were completed today for Saturday's national intercollegiate billiard tournament.

The tourney will be held in the Union Ballroom, not in the basement billiards room, starting at 9 Saturday morning.

Two pool tables—one billiards table and a pocket table—have been moved into the ballroom and bleachers for 300 spectators have been set up.

Two Michigan State students, John Beaudette and Bob Strange, will defend titles won last year in the national meet at Purdue.

Beaudette, Strange and Bob Blackham, of Utah, are the No. 1 men in the pocket, three cushion and straight rail divisions.

They gained their ratings in the regular season of telegraphic tournaments.

The straight rail competition will begin at 9 a.m. with John Wilson, of Oregon, facing Purdue's Solomon Nader.

Blackham will then play the loser and the winner with the division winner being determined by total points.

At 1:30, Stan Williams, of Oregon, will oppose Ohio State's Len Longo in the first round of the three cushion play.

Following that, Strange will play the loser and at 8 p.m. he will play the winner with the title being decided by total points.

The same time schedule will govern the pocket competition. OSU's Rod Boyd will face Bill Snowden, of Texas, at 1:30 and Beaudette will play the loser after the first match.

At 3 p.m. he will oppose the winner for the total-points title.

After the collegiate competition, 11-time world pocket champion Willie Mosconi will give an exhibition.

Grid Drills To Hit Peak Saturday

Michigan State's football team will reach its pre-green and white game peak Saturday with a long scrimmage in Macklin Stadium.

The squad will be in its best physical shape of the spring drills with everyone that is in uniform scheduled to scrimmage.

Following the Saturday scrimmage, the work will taper off next week as the squad is divided into teams for the Green-White game May 7.

Two players were lost this week for the balance of the spring drills.

Karl Perryman suffered a rib separation and tackle Hal Pendley injured his knee. He will undergo an operation on the bad knee Saturday.

In Thursday's big scrimmage, linemen Les Rutledge and Mike Carlson suffered broken noses but will be back in action Saturday.

Center Don Berger went through his first contact work of the spring drill. He is recovering from a knee operation.

The Green-White game, which is played under full game conditions, will be open to the public and will be held in Macklin Stadium.

A three-day football clinic for high school and college coaches will precede the game.

While coaching at Washington State, Track Coach Karl Schlade-man won nine straight Northern Division Pacific Coast Conference championships.

Santee Aims at 4 Minutes Thinclads Face Best at Drake

By HAL BATEMAN
The Spartan track team will send 14 athletes, 12 varsity and two unattached, to the Drake Relays at Des Moines Iowa today and Saturday.

The Drake classic, the Midwest's top relay carnival, will draw some of the finest college teams in the nation. Schools are entered from coast to coast with Georgetown University of Washington, D.C. the Atlantic coast entry while the UCLA Bruins are the Pacific coast entry.

This afternoon the Spartan spring medley team of Capt. Kevin Gosper, Ed Brabham, Julius McCoy and Dave Hoke will run for championship honors.

This same team posted a good 3:24.6 at last week's Ohio Relays but the quartet will have to be at their best to beat the Oklahoma A&M team. The Argles squad came within one-tenth of a second of the world record at the Texas Relays several weeks ago.

Last year the Spartan relay team finished third in the event. The 440-yard relay team of Joe Savoldi, Travis Buggs, Brabham and McCoy will be out to improve the runner-up place they captured at the Buckeye meet.

BRABHAM GOSPER

Opposing the team will be the Texas Longhorns, world record holder in the event.

The 880-yard relay will be chosen from Ron Sues, Savoldi, McCoy, Brabham, Gosper or Buggs.

The team of Sues, McCoy, Brabham and Gosper won the Ohio Relays title with a new variety record of 1:26.4. The Spartan entry, along with Texas and Oklahoma A & M, ranks as one of the teams to beat in the event.

The mile relay team of Sues, Bob Brown, Hoke and Gosper will be attempting to lower the 3:15.8 third place time run at Ohio last week.

The Oklahoma Argles ran a 3:11.6 at the Kansas Relays last week and are the team to beat. Other good teams entered are Rice, Texas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and UCLA.

Selwyn Jones and Henry Kennedy, the two unattached runners, have been invited to run in the special mile event.

Wes Santee, the Kansas cowboy, will be attempting to crack the four-minute mile in the race. Jones, who has run 4:13.4, and Kennedy, a 4:13.5 miler, are in a select field that will include Santee's rabbit, Art Dalzell; Billy Tidwell, a 4:12 miler, and Iowa freshman Deacon Jones who has run the eight furlongs in 4:11.

Selwyn Jones ran against the American mile record holder at the Cleveland Knights of Columbus meet indoors, finishing fifth while Santee won in 4:04.6.

The strong pole vaulting duet of Chuck Coykendall and George Best are entered in the pole vault while Don Hillmer will attempt to improve last year's runner-up place in the high jump.

Ray Eggleston will compete in both the 120-yard high hurdles and the broad jump.

The Spartans will not defend the shuttle hurdles title won last year.

International Program To Open Wednesday

By DENNY HALL
The Centennial International Program will swing into view May 4 and remain there until May 21.
"International Week," as the program has been entitled in the past, has been extended to include almost two weeks of activities in honor of the Centennial.
Joe Hoffman, South Orange, N. J., sophomore, and chairman of the first major Centennial program sponsored by student government, hopes "to further integrate foreign and American student relations through the International Program."
Assisting Hoffman is Pat Clancy, River Junction freshman.
Opening the International activities will be the concert band directed by Leonard Falcone in a Band Shelter concert May 4 at 8:30 p.m.

"Democracy and Dictatorship" will take the stand May 5 in 33 Union at 8:30 p.m. Richard Nulty, of the American University Field staff will deliver the lecture, sponsored by the student International Relations Club.
Demonstration Hall will be turned into a globe of the world May 7 when 45 countries are represented in colorful booths for the International Festival. Foreign students at Michigan State will stage native dances and demonstrate their native customs in an all-day program.
Fraternalities and sororities will set foreign students for dinner from May 9-20 as part of the Good Neighbor program.

"Our American Heritage" will appear on film for the benefit of the International Program May 13 at 8:30 p.m. in 31 Union. Three films will depict the United States president, Congress and the Supreme Court.
The International Program will turn religious on May 15 for a special program in the Michigan State Alumni chapel. The program will present a series of services representing the major religions.
The foreign film series will donate its efforts to the International program by showing a Japanese movie "Ugetsu" in Fairchild theater May 16. The showings are scheduled at 7 and 9 p.m.
The Activities Band, directed by Oscar Stover, will take its turn in the Band Shell May 17 at 8:30 p.m. Music from all over the world will be represented in their program.
A highlight of the International Program will be May 18 when 60 foreign ambassadors are expected to join in discussions on "Lesser Developed Areas" and "Acceptance of Red China."
The foreign diplomats will turn the Auditorium into a miniature United Nation assembly room for the day. No tickets are necessary for the event.
A luncheon in the Union will also be featured for the guest ambassadors, foreign students and Michigan State department heads.
An International All-Star Revue will climax the program with noted record stars. Disc jockey Robin Seymour, from Detroit's "Bobbin with Robin" record show will emcee the show in the Auditorium.
Tentatively planned for the 10-a.m. show are "The Gaylords," current record stars. Admission for the show will be $1 a person.
Throughout the International program all sports activities will be featured as the "International Sports Festival."
All events during the International program will be open to the public. Hoffman extended a special invitation to foreign students to participate in as many events as possible.

Food From Many Lands On Menu

Lt. Governor to Speak At International Dinner

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart will be the guest speaker at the International Club dinner tonight. Food from far away places will be featured on the menu.

The meal will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of People's Church. Tickets, which are $1.25, may be purchased from International Club members or at the International Center.
Nationality clubs and small groups of foreign students will prepare the meal, which will begin with Hawaiian punch as an appetizer. Indian and African students will prepare two types of chicken dinners, while Japanese and Philippine students will cook two fish dinners.
An Arabian beef dish will be prepared by the Arab club and American ice cream will end the meal.
Japanese, Indian, Peruvian, Brazilian, and Hawaiian dances will provide entertainment. An Iranian student will play the accordion, and an African student will play the musical saw. A student quartet from the music department will add a touch of American music to the program.
Also attending the dinner will be consultants from the Netherlands and Germany.
"E Pluribus Unum," meaning "out of many, one" is the theme of the dinner. This motto can be found on U.S. coins.

Play A Hit French Program Delights Audience

By ANN TUKEY
A near capacity crowd of 250 was charmed by a delightful program of French music, poems and vaudeville, presented in the Music Auditorium Thursday by the foreign languages and music departments.
Highlight of the evening was the play, "Un Jeune Homme Presse" by E. Labiche whose cast of Frank Serresse, Detroit graduate student, Ron Neubert, Detroit sophomore, and Bill Keough, Lima, Ohio, freshman, displayed their versatility and skill, acting at their best, completely in French.
All three have appeared in dramatic productions previously.
Serresse's performance as "Dardard" was particularly enjoyable, with the veteran actor playing the role of the "Young Man in a Hurry" to the hilt.
As well as acting, the cast sang several songs specially transposed for the occasion by Dr. Paul Harder of the music department.
A feature of the pre-play entertainment was the recitation of a poem, "Black Walnut" by Fred Abbey, six-year-old student of Madame Marguerite Miller, director of the performance.
Patricia Waters played two piano solos, "The Sunken Cathedral" by Debussy and "The Swan" by St. Saens. Mrs. Ureta Holland pleased all present with her presentation of two light country songs, "Mignon"

Studio One Production Cast Chosen

Selection of the cast and crew for the Studio One production of "Katerina," to be presented May 6, 6 and 7, has been announced by Bob Hazzard, Westminister, Md. graduate student.
The play, a Russian tragedy by Leonid Andreyev, will be presented in Room 310, Home Ec.
The plot centers around a woman's search for strength of character. This role, Katerina, will be portrayed by Janet Rose, Detroit sophomore, who received the Spartan actress award last year.
Playing the male lead of Katerina's husband George, will be Paul Moore, Owosso junior.
John Goetz, Benton junior, seen on the television program "Snow on Sixth Moon" will play George's brother Alexey. Judith Lookanoff, Detroit freshman will portray Lisa, Katerina's sister.
Roger Birtwell, Detroit junior, has been cast as the artist, Paul, and Ronald Newbert, Detroit sophomore will perform as the parasite Menikov.
Other members of the cast include Martha Loomis, Lansing sophomore, Shirley Gogolek, Roseville sophomore, Bill Young, Milwaukee, Wis., freshman and Fred Kuekes, Pontiac senior.
State manager is Alice Sherwood, Spring-Valley, N.Y., sophomore. Lenore Namey, Lansing junior, and Nancy Ryan, E. Moline, Ill., senior compose the stage crew.
Nancy Greening, Alma terminal student, will supervise costumes. Nancy Brown, Western Spring, Ill., senior, and Paul Moore, Owosso junior, are on the committee.
Herb Camburn, Morenci senior, Pauline Schmooker, East Lansing senior, Frank Braman, Bay City senior, and Lou Parker, Detroit junior, are make-up committee members.
