Junior President Re-vote Is Ordered

Wednesday Set by Hurst 'If Possible'

Ballot Shortage Found in 3 Dorms

Student government president Bill Hurst Sunday ordered a re-election for the junior class presidency.

Basing his decision on a recommendation of the Elections Review Board, Hurst said a re-election is both "necessary and fair."

The Board made its recommendation after hearing a re-vote request made by Bill Strenge, loser by three votes to Roger Bennett in Thursday's final.

The Board found three dormitories had run out of junior class ballots during the elections for periods from 15 to 45 minutes.

Claude Watson, chairman of the Review Board, said members felt there were some voters who might have been turned away while the ballots were out.

Dormitory elections supervisors told voters to return when new ballots were secured, but Watson said the Board felt some might never have returned.

Hurst said, "because of the closeness of the junior president race, it will be the only election re-run."

He added the re-run will be held Wednesday "if at all possible."

Hurst stressed that neither candidate will be allowed to do any official campaigning.

"It will be strictly a re-vote," he said. "Neither candidate will be allowed to use any posters, literature, or make any personal appearances."

He added that vote-counting at the re-election will be done by hand, not by IBM machine.

Elections commissioner Rex Dawson said Sunday additional ballots were sent to those dorms that had run out "as soon as possible."

In some cases, he ordered makeshift ballots used until the use of official ones could be resumed.

Dawson said no recount of the Strenge and Bennett ballots had been held.

Strenge had originally requested a recount, but withdrew the request after finding out about the shortage of ballots.

The vote Thursday was Bennett 646, Strenge 642.

Commenting on Hurst's decision, Strenge said, "The election was so close that under the circumstances, a re-vote is only fair."

His opponent, Bennett, said, "Since student government has found it necessary to have a re-election, I'm sure the entire sophomore class will once again exercise their right to vote by choosing next year's president at the polls Wednesday."

In a recount for fraternity representative to Student Congress, Larry Trevarrow was named victor over Robert Nelson.

The original count had Nelson the winner by a 99 to 93 count, but the recount showed Trevarrow ahead 93 to 89.

Fishel to Present Viet Nam Talk

Dr. Wesley Fishel, associate professor of political science, will describe "Developments in Viet Nam" before an open meeting of the History Club, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Physics-Math Building lounge.

Fishel spent last fall and winter in Viet Nam, preparing for the Michigan State mission to Viet Nam this spring to aid the government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

Nominations of officers for next year's club will be held during the business meeting at 7 p.m. in the Physics-Math Building lounge.

Wolverine Killer Bob Powell Crosses The Plate After His Homer Saturday.

Spartans Win 3 Straight

Powell Paces Wolve Killers

By JACK BERRY

Playing like champions, Michigan State dramatically swept their three-game series with Michigan, 3-0, 8-5, and 4-3, Friday and Saturday, to remain in contention for the Big 10 title they are defending.

Bob Powell, Spartan center fielder, was the hitting star of the series, pounding out two home runs, a triple, a double, and three singles.

He produced all four runs in the second game of Saturday's doubleheader with a home run with two on and the game-winning double in the last of the seventh.

The Spartans knocked Michigan out of the race and it was only the second time State has taken three from Michigan in one season since the series began in 1894. The last time was in 1912.

The Spartans, with an 8-4 record, are tied with Ohio State for second. Minnesota jumped into first Saturday by winning a doubleheader from Indiana. The Gophers now have a 9-3 mark.

The sweep started in Ann Arbor Friday afternoon as Walt Godfrey, white-washed the Wolverines, 3-0, and drove in the winning run with a double in the seventh.

Ray Collard started the inning with a single to center and advanced to second as Powell dropped in a Texas Leaguer, his second hit of the game.

With two on and no one out, Godfrey made no attempt to sacrifice. He fouled off five of left-hander Mary Winniewski's pitches, one of them far down the left field line, before driving one down the right field line good for two bases to score Collard.

Powell crushed the Wolverines' spirit on a towering 340-foot drive over Ferry Field's left field fence in the ninth.

Godfrey held Michigan to five hits, one each in the first four innings and then he did not allow a hit until the ninth when pinch-hitter Bill Thurston reached first on a Texas Leaguer behind second.

The Detroit junior struck out Winniewski on a 2-2 pitch to end the game.

It was the first time Michigan had been shut out since a 0-0 tie with the University of Delaware in their first spring training game.

Walker predicted that today's shortage of engineers will continue in the future, despite the growth in population.

The automation program will be delayed because of the lack of such people," he declared.

The reason for new interest in automation, according to Walker, is that "we have found a way of giving machines the power of decision."

Pointing out that the most complex computing machine "has a brain which approaches in the number of neurons that of the earthworm," Walker cautioned those who believe machines will soon be able to take over much of man's thinking.

"Let us rest assured that the giant brains have a long way to go before they can displace even children, and much less, engineers, in the performance of their work," he said.

If a single word is used to characterize America's economy, he noted, it is "more"—the need for more materials, more energy, more manpower, and more engineers.

Declaring that "too often, we engineers are accused of changing the face of the world without giving any thought to the social consequences of what we do," Walker said that as automation progresses, "there will be many problems, but the results can only be good."

"Automation," he concluded, "is the mechanism by which engineers will lift the burdens from the backs of men."

Science and Arts Meet Opens Tonight

7th Centennial Symposium To Take 'New View of Man'

By LOUIS GROFFE
 State News Associate Editor
 "A New View of Man" will be taken at Michigan State this week, as conference participants gather today for the seventh of 10 Centennial symposia.

Presented by the School of Science and Arts, the symposium will run for five days, as six prominent authorities speak at Kellogg Center.

All sessions, except for one Friday afternoon, will be held at 8 p.m. They will be open to the public.

The symposium will open tonight with a talk by Talcott Parsons, chairman of the department of social relations, Harvard University. "Man in His Social Environment—As Viewed by Modern Social Science" will be his topic.

"The New View of Man in His Biological Environment" will be discussed Tuesday by Elvin Charles, professor Emeritus of the department of plant pathology and botany at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Henry Margenau, Eugene Higgins professor of natural philosophy and physics, Yale University, will present the "New View of Man in His Physical Environment" Wednesday.

Thursday evening, "The New Use of the Word" will be introduced by Douglas Bush, professor of English at Harvard University.

In the Friday afternoon meeting, Richard Buckminster Fuller, architect, will talk on the "The New Vision of the Artist."

Selections from Fuller's work are on exhibit in the Union Art Gallery beginning today.

The symposium's final session, Friday at 8:15 in the university auditorium, will view "The New Vision of the Composer." Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music, University of Rochester, will be the speaker.

In addition to his lecture, Hanson will conduct the Michigan State orchestra and chorus in a performance of his songs from "Drum Taps."

French Comedy To Run Tonight

"Fan-Fan, the Tulip," a witty French comedy with English subtitles will be shown in the Michigan State College Fairchild Theater tonight at 7 and 9 p.m.

The elaborate tale of fantastic military and romantic adventures takes place in an 18th century setting. Gerard Philippe, Gina Lollobrigida and Noel Roquevert are among the stars of the film.

Single admissions to the event, sponsored by the Foreign Film Series, will be available at the Fairchild box office.

Mexico Students

All students who spent last winter term at Mexico City College are asked to attend a meeting Tuesday at 8:30 in Old College Hall.

'Pushing-Hubby-Through' Degrees

Forty-two women will receive their "PHT" degrees tonight, after many months of training in "pushing hubby through."

The candidates have already received their "Mrs." degrees. They are all wives of students in the School of Veterinary Medicine.

According to Mrs. Ralph W. Haase, publicity chairman for the women's auxiliary of the student chapter of the American Veterinary Medicine Association, the awards have been presented every year since 1959. The club sponsors a banquet

Engineers Win Micro-Midget Race

By BOB STEPHENSON
 In apparent disdain for race track superstition, Arnold East Lansing senior, piloted his green-painted car to victory in the Engineering Exposition's micro-midget race.

Four race drivers, green is of bad luck, but it wasn't. Wearing a green helmet, he led the nine laps around Erie Drive in 16.4 minutes, a pace of 33.8 miles per hour.

Approximately 1,700 spectators lined the track in front of Olds Hall, head of his nearest competitor.

All efforts, Morse and the Society of Agricultural Engineers, got possession of the traveling trophy. It had last year by the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Morse received the trophy and from Miss Engineer, Sue Tuedo, Ohio, freshman, the closing-day ceremonies of the race.

The second was the Society of Engineers' car driven by Allen Rockford, III. Third place honors went to Fred Fulton junior, in a single fraternity car.

A report of the starting line by John D. Ryder, dean of the School of Engineering, the car shot out to a fast start.

Lab Fire Sends Six to Hospital

Six persons were hospitalized for observation Saturday, when a fire broke out in a laboratory in the Horticulture Building.

The fire, caused by sunlight lighting a bottle of ether on a workbench, caused $400 worth of damage.

The patients—three firemen, two horticulture staff members, and a student—were taken to the hospital because it was believed the fire had produced a deadly gas. They were released when it was discovered the gas was not present.

Ministers Sign Austria Celebrates National Independence

Austria (AP) — Austria's freedom was signed by the Big Four Sunday, as the bells of thousands rang joyously across the Alps.

Austria had waited for March 13, 1938, when Hitler annexed her to the new treaty deposing her from the "sovereign, independent" after occupying the Nazis and then the Nazis.

90 days after the United States, Russia, Britain and Austria will be leaving.

Nationalist Jets Clash With MIG's

Red Air Power Growing in China

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP) — Nationalist jets clashed Sunday for the first time with Chinese Communist MIGs, taking them on 70 miles north of the Matsu Islands, the air force reported.

There was no mention of damage to either side in a dog fight between four Thunderjets and four MIG jets.

A communique underscored reports of growing Red air power in South China nearer Formosa.

"The fact that the battle area was close to the Matsus," said the communique, "indicates that enemy air power has gradually moved down south."

It was the second appearance this month of MIGs—and these may be later models in Korea—near the Matsus, 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

On May 4, four Nationalist propeller planes tangled for two minutes with four MIG's 50 miles north of the Matsus. No damage was reported in that battle either.

It was the first appearance of MIGs as far south as the Matsus, and caused official concern.

The communique said the MIGs which showed up today differed from the MIG's and may have been deadlier, later model MIG 17s. Russia is believed to have turned over some of these to Red China.

The communique said two MIGs flying eastward were encountered by the Thunderjets over the Tachien Islands at 21,000 feet.

After a five-minute exchange of fire, two other MIGs showed up at 18,000 feet and joined the dog fight, the communique added. It said the entire engagement lasted 10 minutes and all Thunderjets returned.

A Success Exhibits, Auto Show Highlight Exposition

Michigan State's seventh annual Engineering Exposition closed Saturday with the midget auto race, special closing-day ceremonies, and the "May Hop," an all-university semi-formal dance.

The annual event was a success, according to Lavern Brown, Plainwell senior and chairman of the Exposition. "We had a good crowd and everyone was well pleased," he said.

Student and industrial exhibits were featured in the Exposition, plus a special show by Bell Telephone Co. and an auto show in the concourse of Macklin Stadium.

"Jolly Trolley," a tractor-drawn trailer, was available to transport spectators from Olds Hall to the Agricultural Engineering Building and the stadium.

The Amateur Radio Club maintained a communication system from Olds Hall to the Electrical Engineering Building via teletype, and from there to the Agricultural Engineering Building and the stadium by radio.

The closing-day ceremonies, which followed the midget auto race, were attended by nearly 1,700 persons, according to James T. Anderson, associate professor of mechanical engineering.

Anderson introduced John D. Ryder, dean of the School of Engineering, as an alternate for Jan Somers, last year's Exposition Queen.

He in turn introduced Miss Engineer, Sue Johnson, Toledo, Ohio freshman, and presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

"This is my first opportunity to substitute for a nationally known beauty," Ryder said. He added that he considered it one of his more pleasant duties as dean.

A dynamometer, an instrument to measure horsepower, built by Jack Crane, Durand senior, placed first in the student exhibits.

Otto Grundtvig, Trondheim, Norway senior, placed second with a scale model of a 1946 Pontiac.

A model irrigation system took third place honors for William Abie.

The time of examinations in sections other than Basic College courses is determined by the days and hours the class is scheduled during the term. To determine when your examination is to be given:

(1) Find the block in Cols. 1 or 4 which lists the hour of your class.

(2) Find the block showing the days classes meet.

(3) Cols. 2, 3, 5 and 6 indicate the time of day and date on which your examination is to be held.

Examinations will be given in the same classrooms as assigned for class meetings during the term. All students, instructors and room schedules will be automatically clear.

Examinations will be given in the same classrooms as assigned for class meetings during the term. All students, instructors and room schedules will be automatically clear.

NOTE: At least two of the days and hours must follow the regular pattern. In a few courses, at the request of the department concerned, the final examination has been scheduled by the single hour lecture section and in some instances students may encounter conflicts. In that event, the examination scheduled by the class meeting two hours a week will take precedence over the examination scheduled by the single hour lecture. The examination will have to be arranged between the student and the department requesting the special scheduling of its examination.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young scientist works on new ways to handle "hot" radioactive fuel

Whenever uranium is "burned" in an atomic reactor, certain valuable elements such as plutonium are left behind in the "ash."

These products are highly radioactive, but they must be recovered because of their great value to the atomic energy program.

Alter's Work is Vital, Important

Alter is doing his job well. He has already received the Coffin Award, General Electric's highest honor, for developing an apparatus that makes possible faster, safer, and more efficient recovery of the valuable elements in the "ash."

The work done by Alter and his group helps lower costs, increase efficiency and expand our knowledge of the chemical processing of spent radioactive fuels.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Alter came to General Electric in 1948, he already knew the work he wanted to do. Like each of the 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given his chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company,

Sprint Team Sets New Record

The Michigan State Athletics team, competing in the indoor program, won two firsts and tied for another at the second annual Big 10 Sprints at Evanston, Ill., Saturday.

The Spartans accounted for one Big 10 record, one Dwyer Stadium mark and eclipsed two varsity records.

The sprint medley team of Capt. Kevan Gosper, Julius McCoy, Ed Brabham and Dave Hoke won with a record 3:24.3. The time broke the old conference record of 3:25 set by Illinois last year and was a new field mark.

The time also topped the 2:57.7 varsity record established in 1947 by Jim Fraser, Harold Mayhew, Bob Schepers and Jack Blawie.

Chuck Coykendall, the indoor pole vault record holder, now has the outdoor record as well. Coykendall vaulted 13' 8 5/8" to break the old record of 13' 7 1/4" set by Ted Wench in 1946.

The 880-yard relay team of Ron Sues, McCoy, Brabham and Gosper won the race in 1:24.7. The quartet has been invited to run in the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays this Friday.

The Spartans got their first place tie in the high jump relay.

In the field events the best heights or distances of two men on a team are totaled and compared.

The Michigan State team jumped 12' 8" to tie with the Iowa Hawkeyes. Don Hillmer jumped 6'5" while Jim Vrooman did 6'3". Hillmer's leap breaks the varsity record for the event but the jump wasn't measured.

The jump was the second best of the meet. Iowa's Les Stevens was top with 6'6". The conference indoor co-champions Cal Boyd and Mark Book both did 6'2".

Two individual performances took the spotlight away from the sprint medley record.

Northwestern's Jim Golliday did the world record in the 100-yard dash with 9.2. Spartan Ed Brabham won second in :99.7.

Mel Patton and Australia's Hector Hogan currently share the world record.

Illinois' Willard Thomson ran the 150-yard high hurdles in :12.7 to post the fastest clocking of the season. The time was run in a preliminary heat.

The distance medley relay team of Tom Flynn, Ted Tetzlaff, Davis and Gay Demelow was third in a three team race.

Iowa upset highly regarded Michigan in the race with a 10-18.4 time.

The Michigan State pole vault combination of Coykendall and George Best finished third, behind Illinois and Iowa, in the event.

The two Spartans vaulted a combined 26' 2 5/8" with Coykendall doing 13' 8 5/8" and Best jumping 12'6".

Coykendall's vault was tied with Illinois' Dale Foster as the best jump of the day.

The mile relay team of Hoke, Flynn, Tetzlaff and Pat Sutton failed to place in the race. Michigan was the winner in 3:15.9. Indiana's team failed to enter the race.

The 440-yard relay team of Travis Buggs, Sues, McCoy and Brabham was fourth in its race.

Minnesota, the Drake champion, won the race in a record time of :41.8. Northwestern, anchored by Golliday, was second while Michigan was third.

In Tonight's Title Bout

Marciano Favored By Large Margin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rocky Marciano defends his world heavyweight title against Don Cockell, a plump British hog farmer, at Kezar Stadium tonight with few outside the immediate family giving the challenger a chance.

If Cockell upsets the unbeaten champ from Brockton, Mass., it will be the division's biggest shocker since James H. Braddock, a 10-1 underdog, lifted Max Baer's crown in 1937.

The outdoor fight is scheduled for 10 p.m. (EST) which is only 8 p.m. in San Francisco, about 20 minutes before sunset. A crisp California twilight is forecast by the weatherman who says it will be fair with the temperature hovering around the 50 mark, normal for San Francisco.

McGrath Cops Favorite Spot

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Jack McGrath, almost a permanent fixture in the front row of the 500-mile Memorial Day Auto Race lineup, earned his favorite spot again Sunday with a record-smashing 10-mile qualification run at 142.98 miles an hour.

The lean Ingewood, Calif. driver, who is his own chief mechanic, set a one-lap (2 1/4 mile) record of 143.783 on his first circuit.

Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., shooting at his third straight victory in the May 29 race, held the qualification records less than three hours before McGrath made his scorching run in the big yellow Minkie Special.

Vukovich, driving the Hopkins Special, had a 10-mile average of 141.871 and a best lap of 141.309. McGrath set the old records of 141.653 and 141.267 last year.

The Saturday and Sunday qualifiers and their average speed:
Jerry Hoyt, Indianapolis, Robbins Special, 140.444.
Tony Belton-Hansen, Tinley Park, Ill. Chevrolet Special, 139.305.
Jack McGrath, Ingewood, Calif., Minkie Special, 142.983.
EUGENE BOY
Fred Agnew, Albany, Calif., Federal Engineering Special, 141.253.
Bill Vukovich, Fresno, Calif., Hopkins Special, 143.783.
Sam Banks, Burbank, Calif., Jones & Haley Special, 140.101.

On Radio Here
Tonight's Rocky Marciano-Don Cockell heavyweight title fight will be broadcast over WJIM radio at 10. There will be no home television of the fight.

Because there is practically no betting, it is difficult to get a solid price on the 15-round match. A source in Las Vegas, where gambling is legal, lists Cockell an 8-1 underdog. Other odds range from 5-1 to 10-1.

The poor training camp showing of Cockell, admittedly a "horrible gym fighter" has convinced most observers that he doesn't have the stuff to beat Marciano. The pick here is Rocky inside of seven.

Michigan rapped out 13 hits and the Hobough gave up only one run.

Michigan started the scoring in the second on two singles, including a home run by Gene Snider. Smith and Jim Sack doubled along the left field line, hitting an outside pitch, scoring Mathews and Smith.

Blue Fox walked, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch, one of two thrown by Hobough. He scored as Earl Morrall threw high to first on Don Eaddy's grounder.

Michigan took a short-lived lead in the sixth, the only time they were ever ahead in the three games, on singles by Howie Tommelein, Snider and Thurston.

Hobough was on first as a result of an infield single and Chuck Mathews singled to right. Smith drove in one run, singling to center and Jim Sack doubled along the left field line, hitting an outside pitch, scoring Mathews and Smith.

Sack flied to center but Collard walked and Powell smashed the first pitch over the 340-foot marker for his second round-tripper of the series.

Thurston drove the first pitch into the Red Cedar tying the game. Snider followed with a double and Moby Benedict walked and it looked as if Michigan would win the rubber game but Fox went out, Smith to Mathews to end the inning.

Wisniewski, who lost Friday's duel to Godfrey, came on to pitch the seventh. The Wolverine southpaw walked leadoff batter Smith and Sack sacrificed him to second. Collard also drew a walk.

The hard-hitting Powell stepped to the plate and the crowd of 2,374, the largest of the season, yelled for just a base hit.

On the first pitch the big center fielder slammed a solid line drive over short into left center and Smith sped home with the winning run as the fans cheered and the Wolverines walked dejectedly off the field.

The entire Spartan bench swarmed onto the field pounding Powell on the back, shaking his hand as soon as he had passed first base and Smith was in.

'Michigan Dream' Proves Smash Hit

A segment of the Grand River valley in the 1870's moved into the Aud Friday and Saturday, and from the rousing opening number to the Broadway musical finale it proved to be one of the biggest and best productions Michigan State has ever witnessed.

"Michigan Dream," the special Centennial production by the music, speech and women's physical education departments was a smash hit all the way.

John Jennings, who wrote the book, H. Owen Reed who composed the music and directed both performance, and Marie Eastman, who created and supervised the choreography must all be commended for excellent work.

The staging by Lewis Goff, considering the massive cast, was incomparable.

The costumes, sets and most especially the lighting combined to produce powerful and dramatic effects.

To review the 18 musical numbers in the play is impossible. However, "Michigan Morn," the "Ox Driving Song" and "Seeing You is Believing" deserve special mention as outstanding scenes presented in an outstanding way.

lead. It was followed closely by the electrical engineering car and then Morse.

Morse took the lead in the second lap and held it uncontested for the remainder of the race. Allen and Roe battled all the way for second, with Allen moving into the position in the third lap.

Roe crowded him for the four remaining laps, but could not regain the lost ground. Carl Konkle, Lansing senior, in the chemical engineering car, drove a consistent fourth spot.

Also running were Neil Newman, East Lansing senior in the Society of Automotive Engineers' car; Joe Rathburn, Grand Rapids junior in the mechanical engineering car; and Bill Lawhead, driving the civil engineers' car.

Newman, last year's winner with an average of 20.4 miles per hour, experienced mechanical difficulties with the S.A.E. car as the starting gun sounded.

He and his crew of mechanics had it running in time to join the race a lap late.

There was a general feeling that the middle of the production was too long, that some of the scenes should have been tightened up and speeded up.

The general quality of the entire play, however, more than compensated for the extended running time.

The stage manager and his crews are to be especially commended for a smooth, professional job, well organized and well executed.

Molotov Praises Austria For Policy of Neutrality

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Soviet Union publicly approved its approval Sunday on the Western-proposed Big Four meeting "at the summit" signaling a new phase in the foreign policy of the Communist world.

Using the platform which the Soviet Union helped to build for the signing of the Austrian independence pact, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said:

1. The purpose of the Big Four meeting "to achieve an international relaxation of tension" corresponds "completely with the peaceful policy of the Soviet Union."
2. The Soviet Union is convinced that "other states also will follow the pattern" of Austria in choosing neutrality. The Soviet Union "attaches great significance to the country will not join any military alliance and will not permit foreign military bases on its soil."

French from the Warsaw conference of the world's Communist states, where Communist policy was reviewed, Molotov's 13-minute address at the solemn ceremony of signing Austria's independence treaty was accepted here as one of unusual import.
