Delegates Assemble for UN Session

Students Urged to Participate

Instructors May OK Class Cuts

By WALT OLEKSY
State News Editorial Ass't
Students may take class time off today to attend the United Nations Day sessions in the Auditorium, if they first receive permission from their instructors.

William Barry, director of the Student Centennial Commission, said the final okay has been left in the hands of the individual instructors.

United Nations Day today brings to the campus ambassadors and other diplomats from 12 foreign countries and the United States.

"It is the only really student-controlled function of the Centennial year," Barry said.

He urges not only participation in two mock UN sessions from 3 to 4:30 this afternoon and from 8:15 to 10 tonight, but said that tickets are still available for the special luncheon at noon in the Union Parlors, A, B, and C.

The foreign dignitaries will sit among the luncheon guests and exchange ideas. The luncheon will be informal and is open to students, faculty, and the general public. The luncheon was erroneously reported as a formal function on Tuesday. Tickets are available at $1.00 in the Union Ticket Office.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon wired student government Tuesday that he may attend the UN Day program. Gov. G. Mennen Williams will attend the banquet, among other distinguished guests.

Tickets for the UN sessions will be available free at the Auditorium.

His Excellence C. L. Simpson, Liberian ambassador, arrived on campus Tuesday morning and was present to inspect the review of caucuses at the afternoon parade.

The other diplomats are expected to arrive on campus by noon today.

The Auditorium will be arranged like the United Nations Security Council, with microphones and UN flags.

Master of ceremonies at the luncheon will be Bill Hurst, student government president. Guest speaker at the luncheon will be Dr. Wesley H. Fisher, who will discuss his experiences helping the Viet Nam government with stabilization problems.

A panel of diplomats at the afternoon session will discuss "Lesser Developed Areas" of the world. Moderator will be Lyle Blair, director of the Michigan State College Press.

The panel discussion at the evening session will be "Recognition of Communist China in the United Nations." Moderator for the panel will be the Colombian ambassador to the U.N., Ambassador Francisco Urrutia.

Programs for the sessions will be printed in the Student News. For more information, contact the Student Centennial Commission, Room 400, Union Building.

Stakman Calls for 'New View'

Duty to Man Outlined in Talk

The responsibility of creating a better man in a better environment was turned over to education and science Tuesday at the second session of the School of Science and Arts Centennial symposium.

Elvin C. Stakman, professor emeritus of the plant pathology and botany department at the University of Minnesota, stated two problems in his "New View of Man in His Biological Environment."

"Man is menacing himself with two tremendous powers; the power of Atomic Energy and the power of human reproduction, Stakman warned.

"Man's intellect has given him partial control of energy that can either destroy or benefit the world," Stakman said.

Referring to man's control over his biological environment, Stakman said, "He has learned how to feed more people and how to keep them alive longer."

With 25 million new mouths to feed every year Stakman asked, "Can man increase food production fast enough to keep pace with the increasing population?"

Stakman invoked the wisdom of science and ethics to solve the problems of subsistence.

Science must serve society, but society must enable science to

Frost Fright Hits Michigan

Grim-faced farmers, fight frost!
Fruit and berry crops stunned by frost!
Uplate cherry crops bitten by frost.

This is the big news in today's Farmer's Journal.

And, according to the weatherman, frost will be the big news at Michigan State.

Official forecast predicts chilly weather today and tonight with the low dipping to 30.

Don't fret though, the sun should be shining.

At Speech Banquet

Rose, Braman Get Top Drama Honors

By JUNE TURNER

Outstanding students in drama, television, speech and radio received awards at the annual Speech Honors banquet held Tuesday night.

Janet Rose, Detroit sophomore, was awarded the Spartan Drama Award for the outstanding female lead of the year while Frank Braman, Bay City senior, received the trophy for the outstanding male lead.

Judy Lookanoff, Detroit freshman, and Herb Camburn, Morenci senior, were named outstanding female and male supporting performers.

Dave Froh, general manager for WJLA radio, presented the radio award to Gloria Ann Henry, Grand Blanc senior, and Will Wright, Pontiac senior.

Madge Mezey, Plandome, N.Y., senior, and Myron May, Grosse Pointe senior, received the TV award from Armand Hunter of WKAR-TV.

Before the banquet, which was sponsored by the Speech Majors Club, Pi Kappa Deis, national forensic honorary, held an initiation ceremony and elected new officers.

June Turner, Farmington sophomore, was elected president, and Mary Connine, Traverse City junior, vice president.

Other new officers are Joan Hefflin, Birmingham junior, recording secretary; Bill Martin, Jackson junior, corresponding secretary and Steve Oram, Adrian sophomore, treasurer.

Mary Erwin, Grand Rapids sophomore, was reappointed Pi Kappa Delta's representative to the Speech Council. The Speech Council is the coordinating agency for all departments of speech.

Special citations for scholarship to two speech majors in the graduating class with the highest grade average went to Nancy Ryan, and Gloria Henry.

Citations for 1955 speech honors went to Bill Thistle, for his leadership in student government; Marilyn McBride, for excellent work in forensic activities; Ann Tukey and Joe Rhea for work in extempore speaking, and Carole Rafferty for work on the Speech Majors Club.

Three students, Margaret Boulder, Elizabeth Eller, and Francis Thomas received awards for work in the speech clinic. Bob Jones and Suzanne Rouse were cited for their work in oral interpretation.

Words similar to this will introduce the mystery coed at the PanHellenic "This is Your Life" show tonight at 8 in the Union Ballroom.

The show will be similar to Ralph Edward's program appearing nationally on television, according to Gloria Richardson, chairman of the show.

PanHellenic Coed at Show

"This is your life—you are a student at Michigan State, a coed, and a graduating senior."

Words similar to this will introduce the mystery coed at the PanHellenic "This is Your Life" show tonight at 8 in the Union Ballroom.

The show will be similar to Ralph Edward's program appearing nationally on television, according to Gloria Richardson, chairman of the show.

One-Act Plays Staged Tonight

Two original one-act plays written by Michigan State students will be presented tonight at 7:15 in room 49 Auditorium by the Studio Theatre.

The presentations were written by Herbert Camburn, Morenci senior, and Warner Conarnt, Lansing junior.

Directing Camburn's comedy, "The Shorn," is Nancy Lou Parker, Detroit junior, Suzanne Rouse Lansing senior, will direct Conarnt's "A Ticket to Chicago."

"The Shorn" tells the story of an American family and their problems.

"A Ticket to Chicago," tells of an encounter between two men which changes the course of their lives. It has been entered in the Samuel French Playwriting Contest.

Martin to Speak To Republicans

John B. Martin, former state senator and auditor general, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Young Republicans Club tonight at 7:30 in 33 Union.

Martin will speak on "Principles and Philosophy of the Republican Party."

Coffee will be served after the meeting. Everyone is invited.

Carts to Get Slots

All living units' representatives in the "Junior 500" are asked to attend a meeting tonight at 8:30 in 33 Union for the purpose of drawing starting positions for Saturday's race.

Another first this year is that the event is being covered nationally. Publicity chairman, Renold Klavren, Belleville junior, has received word that Besta's Greek Exchange, The Fraternity Month, Compact, People and Places, and Tempe will feature the race in their issues.

Biggie Munn will start the race and the judges will include Tom King, dean of students; Miss Mabel Peterson, assistant to the dean of students; women's division; Al Schweizer, vice president of Motor Wheel, and Dr. Digby Hall, traveling secretary of Lambda Chi.

Four trophies, including two for men's speed and two for women, will be offered. Men's and women's living units will compete for the two mixed humorous trophies.

Defending champions in the various divisions are speed, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; women's speed, Abbot Hall, and humorous, Phi Kappa Sigma.

Michigan State's only individual living unit to sponsor an all-college event, Lambda Chi has also initiated the derby at three other chapters. The schools are the University of Utah, the University of Kentucky and San Jose State College.

Not Apparent Chou Cancels Talks With U.S.

BEIJING (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China has called off possible Formosan cease-fire negotiations with the United States and has implied he will talk only about drawing U.S. forces guarding Formosa.

"There is no war between China and the United States and so the question of the so-called cease-fire does not arise," he told the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress in Peking last Friday.

Chou was making his report to the committee on the Asian-African Conference at Bandung, Indonesia. It was at Bandung that Chou on April 28 first offered to negotiate with the United States to "relax tensions" in the area of Formosa.

Four days later, President Eisenhower held a news conference in Washington in which he said the United States would be glad to meet with the Chinese Communists about a cease-fire.

Chou stated in Peking that the Chinese Communist claim to Formosa and said that its "independence" was a "domestic affair."

Chou declared that Red China never would sit down at any international conference with Chiang's Nationalists.

The United States has announced it never would discuss with Red China matters affecting Nationalist interests directly unless the Nationalists were present.

In Washington, officials said they saw nothing new in Chou's latest statement.

In Peking, a spokesman for the Nationalist government's Information Bureau said that the Chinese Communists want a "total American surrender in the Formosa area as the price for peace."

A Nationalist Foreign Office spokesman predicted the Chinese Reds would set a deadline for the withdrawal of U.S. forces and threaten large-scale action if it is not complied with. The United States guards Formosa from Red invasion under a mutual security treaty.

Creeks to Feast At Annual Affair

Greens and independents will feast and dance together at the annual Creek Feast Friday night.

The all-college event will be held at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house beginning at 3 p.m. In case of rain the feast will be held Saturday night at the same time.

The buffet-type dinner is scheduled to last until 7 p.m. with entertainment following.

Dancing on the Phi Delta Theta house to the music of Earl Henry will last from 8 to 11 p.m.

Webster Receives Education Award

Herb W. Webster, Jr., East Lansing senior, Thursday night was presented the annual Kappa Delta Phi Senior Award as the outstanding education student in this year's graduating class.

The recipient of the award is chosen by the honorary on the basis of scholastic average, and interest in education as a profession.

They're Off to the Races Living Units Prepare Pushcart Racers

One, two, three... and 30 pushcarts will be off Saturday afternoon at 1:30 speeding around West Circle Drive in the annual "Junior 500."

For the eighth consecutive year, Lambda Chi Alpha will sponsor the competition among fraternities and women's dorms.

In spite of their interest in the sport, the Lambda Chi's cart has been stolen every year. This year they have conceded defeat.

The history of the annual event extends back to 1947 when Lambda Chi challenged Phi Kappa Phi to a contest in a pushcart race around West Circle Drive. The carts at that time were cumbersome devices and not too speedy.

In the years following, the model was gradually changed to its present sleek-out speedster form.

Humorous entries have been a part of the race since 1948 and have grown from small cart-size entries to huge tractor-towed models. In fact, last year one of the entries was so large it could not pass under the pylons at the start and finish of the race.

New this year will be women's living units driving the derbies they enter, although male pushers will still be recruited.

Army Leads ROTC Blood Drive

Day Pint Total Numbers 695

The Army lengthened its annual ROTC blood drive Tuesday with 273 cadet donors to Air Force's 66. Only nine donors volunteered.

Total pints collected for the day was 330. In all there were 695 donors, but 18 were rejected.

The drive is being held in Detention Hall throughout the day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Day's total collection was 330 pints. The Army carried 311 donors, the Air Force 66.

As inducement to students, cross station wagons will be provided to transport donors to the west door of the Union Auditorium Hall every 15 minutes past the hour from 8:15 to 3:15 p.m. today.

ROTC drive last year set a record with 2,129 pints. All total of two days last year had been collected and sent to 695 pints this year. The Air Force won last year's

Fraternities Sign Up for Annual Sing

Trophies are polished and ready to be presented to the winners of Inter-Fraternity Sing, held Thursday night at 7:30 in the Auditorium.

Seventeen fraternities are sign-up to compete in the 10th annual Sing. In case of rain the event will be held in the Auditorium.

Trophies will be awarded to the three top fraternities with a special trophy also going to the first place winner. Phi Upsilon has placed first in the last two years.

Phi Kappa Delta and Kappa Gamma sororities, first winners of Sorority Sing, will entertain during intermission.

Senior 500 Trade OK'd

East Lansing City Council passed a measure Monday night to allow a parade through downtown East Lansing Saturday as a preliminary ceremony to Lambda Chi Alpha's annual "Junior 500."

For 1 p.m., the parade will start at M.A.C. from Burdick down East Lansing to the intersection of East Lansing and then south onto the main street.

45th Victim Claimed by Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Manuel Ayulo, a veteran of auto racing and the nation's second race car driver last year, died Tuesday of injuries he suffered in a crash at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 33-year-old driver of Burbank, Calif., rammed into a retaining wall on the southwest turn Monday as he was making a practice run in preparation for this year's Memorial Day 500-mile race. It would have been his sixth race here.

His death was the 45th fatality at the Indianapolis track since it opened in 1909. Chet Miller, Glendale, Calif., driver, was killed in practice in 1953, and Carl Scarborough, Clarkston, Mich., driver, died of heat prostration during the race that year.

His crash puzzled racing officials. Technical officials of the American Automobile Assn. said examination of his wrecked car showed a broken axle and a pin jarred from a steering arm but they could not say just what caused the accident.

Spectators said the big red Kurtis-Kraft, which Ayulo drove to 13th place in last year's "500," came down the main straightaway and smashed into the concrete wall without turning even slightly into the curve. There were no skid marks on the track.

In his starts at the Speedway Ayulo finished 13th in 1953 and 1954. In 1951, driving as relief for Jack McGrath, he finished third.

AYULO, of Peruvian ancestry, began his racing career shortly after World War II. He piled up his points to finish second to Jimmy Bryant of Phoenix, Ariz., in the AAA big car standings last year by winning the 200-mile race at Milwaukee and Darlington, S. C., and placing second in the 100-mile races at Milwaukee and Phoenix.

Cornet Trio Highlights Activities Band Concert

The Michigan State Activities Band, under the direction of Oscar Stover, presented the second spring concert in the band shell for a small, but appreciative, audience that braved the chilly night air.

The concert was a pleasing arrangement of selections by the old masters and contemporary composers.

One of the highlights of the program was a cornet trio composed of Carolyn Mawby, a Belding freshman; Elizabeth True, Armada freshman; and Sheryl Bryant, Fairfax, Va., freshman. Their interpretation of "Trifolium" by Leidenz merited an encore of the popular "Bugles Holiday" by LeRoy Anderson.

"Military Symphony in F" by Gossec-Goldman combined the traditional march time and slower symphonic style in three movements.

A change in mood followed with Witney's "Bazaar" which brought to life the bustling activities of the near-eastern bazaar.

The "Suite of Old American Dances" by Bennett included such lively and familiar pieces as "The Cake Walk" and "Rag." Another Anderson piece, in collaboration with Lang, was "Fiddle Faddle" in which the violin part was interpreted by the clarinet section.

The concert concluded with the imposing "Swedish Symphony" by Leidenz and an encore.

President Council Of Coed Dorms Elects Officers

A new set of officers were introduced to the Women's Dorm President Council Tuesday night.

The newly elected officers are chairman, Georgia Demopoulos, Buffalo, N. Y., junior; second-chairman, Nancy Dennis, Western Springs, Ill., sophomore; corresponding secretary, Barbara F. Pluecke, Grand Rapids, junior and recording secretary, Yvonne Brown, Chicago, Ill., sophomore.

The group also discussed plans for a fall term orientation program for new students. Repeating the program of last year, coeds will be appointed to hold two conferences with six new students to discuss the dorm system.
