State Meet Slated for Here Saturday

Bill Foster, Lansing sophomore, was recently selected as chairman of the Intercollegiate Associated Women's State National Convention at Michigan State in 1957.

The announcement of Miss Foster's election was made following the hour in which interested women who petitioned for the chairmanship met with members of the activities and jury boards of AWS.

Carolyn Shattuck, Birmingham freshman, was chairman of the interviewing committee. Present, Miss Foster is president of Tower Guard, a part of Spartan Round Table, an education major.

Her position of chairman will be a two year job consisting of planning all the participating school committees and working with representatives of schools throughout the country.

Committees for the convention include housing, program, and social, and will be held Saturday at State and beginning at 10 a.m. representatives will be making plans for the convention.

Michigan schools participating are: Albion College, Alma College, Ferris Institute, Michigan Normal College, Northern Michigan College, Olivet College.

Carrol, Van Join 'All-Star' Company

Two female vocalists, Mona Carrol and Gloria Van, have been added to the bill of the "Centennial International All-Star Revue."

This brings the number of acts to 11. The "Revue" is set for Saturday night at 8 in the Auditorium.

Starring in the two-and-one-half hour show are the Gaylords, Mercury recording artists, Richard Malby and his orchestra will supply the musical background.

Featured on the show are Frankie Lester, Bill Darnel and Eddie Fontaine.

Other acts include the Classmates, Bob Crewe, the Loreleis, Jimmy Walters and Gene Shepherd.

Robin Seymour, Detroit disc jockey, will emcee the show.

An added feature will be the appearance of Hank Thompson, king of the hillbillies.

Twenty-five record albums will be given away as door prizes during the show.

Tickets are on sale at the Union ticket office. The price is $1.

Red China's Entry to UN Debated in Panel Session

Aid Need Shown by Panelists

Ask for Financial, Technical Help

By DEBBY HALL

A unanimous display of universal understanding was demonstrated Wednesday afternoon when representatives from 13 nations agreed that, "Lesser developed countries must be primarily aided from the people within that area."

The first session of the United Nations program, directed by Andy Foeller, Green Bay, Wis. sophomore, drew a portrait of the United Nations session room in New York, with the Michigan State auditorium for its canvas.

Seated in a semi-circle and surrounded by national flags of the countries represented, the foreign ambassadors offered suggestions for aid to "Lesser Developed Areas."

Lyle Blair, director of Michigan State's Press and moderator for the discussion, specifically stressed at the opening of the program that the foreign dignitaries would present their personal opinions on the international issue.

Liberian Ambassador C. L. Simpson started the globe revolving with his appreciation of the United States' aid to his country for a higher standard of living.

A request for more technical aid was made by the Liberian representative.

Spartan Guard members guard the entrance to the mock UN session in the Auditorium.

Webster Gives Oath To 41 Congressmen

Forty-one student congressmen were sworn into office Wednesday night at a special Student Congress session.

Daniel Webster, chief justice of the All-University Judiciary, administered the oath of office. Eight congressmen were absent. The new Congress, which will meet three more times this term, organized a special committee to set up its rules of procedure.

Congressmen heard the student government constitution explained by student government president Bill Hurst.

One committee report, from Ben Whitehead, chairman of the International Festival Review Committee, was also heard.

Whitehead said ticket sales for the show, scheduled for Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium, are not moving as well as expected.

He expressed optimism that the show can be a financial success "if each Congressman will sell as many tickets as possible."

Class officers were not sworn in at the session.

Speaker Bill Conrad said they will be sworn in at the Orientation Dance fall term.

Conflicting Views Given by Delegates

Communist Charged With Lack of 'Desire for Peace'

By JERRY JENNINGS

The pros and cons of admitting Communist China to the United Nations were debated by representatives from 14 UN member countries Wednesday night in the Auditorium. The panel session was the final activity in the Centennial United Nations Day program.

Opinions expressed by the ambassadors, consultants, and other distinguished representatives who took part in the session were usually their own, and not necessarily those of their countries.

Presenting two extremes of view on the question were V. P. Carpio, legal consul from the Philippines, and Leo Mates, ambassador to the UN from Yugoslavia.

Carpio, whose government does not recognize Red China, said the UN's charter provides that the members must be "peace-loving" states, who are willing to accept the obligations of the charter. "Is Communist China a peace-loving state?" he asked.

In reply to his own question, Carpio pointed to instances of Chinese aggression in Korea, Tibet, and French Indo-China.

If Communist China is admitted, Carpio said, "We might as well scrap the charter and forget about the United Nations."

Yugoslavia's Mates said that much had been quoted from the UN charter to show why a nation should not be admitted. However, he said, China is already a member of the UN.

"The question is not whether or not China should be admitted to the UN, but which government should we recognize?" he said.

Referring to arguments of other representatives that Red China should show a change of heart before being admitted, Mates said, "I'm not impressed with the idea of admitting Communist China as a prize for good behavior."

"The United Nations is not some kind of an exclusive club," he said, but rather a meeting-ground for nations with widely different views.

Wednesday night's discussion was UN DAY, Page 4

UN Banquet Honors Delegates

Centennial Movie Highlights Dinner

Michigan State's part in international affairs seemed to keynote a formal banquet held for the UN delegates, special guests and the student committee.

The dinner Wednesday evening was highlighted by a showing of the Centennial movie, The First Hundred.

Master of Ceremonies, Bill Barry, Student Centennial Commissioner started the proceedings by introducing the Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. V. MacEachron who gave the invocation.

After the dinner, Barry introduced in turn the Ambassadors and presented each with the Special Centennial Award on behalf of the student body.

After a few brief remarks regarding Michigan State's position in relation to international understanding and the part the university was attempting to play in bettering educational standards throughout the world, Barry introduced the director of the UN day program, Andy Foeller, who took the opportunity to express his appreciation to his staff, Bill Boutell and Gordon Spink, chairmen of the events, and their staffs.

Following the general remarks of thanks Barry introduced the Centennial movie. The attitude of the university was reflected in the movie, as was reflected in the remarks expressed by those present in the screen portrayal of Michigan State's goals.

Body Gets Award for Good Service

Plaque Presented at National Convo

Body Hall received a first prize in the ninth national service contest sponsored by "Institutions Magazine," Chicago, Ill.

Presented were the best kitchen and dining rooms among restaurants, hotels, hospitals, in-lane plants, schools, colleges and other types of feeding establishments. Winners came from all parts of the United States and were to receive their awards.

The presentation was made at the 56th annual convention of the National Restaurant Association this month.

A Foxworthy, executive vice president of "Institutions Magazine," presented the award to C. Mark, manager of the Body Hall of dormitories.

Michigan State entry in the contest was on display during the convention, along with hundreds of other entries and blueprints of kitchen and dining rooms of the winning entries in the contest.

Competing entries were evaluated by leading authorities in the food-service field.

Arguments were based on high standards of sanitation, superior efficiency and superlative service in serving food.

Body Hall's award, a handsome metal plaque mounted on a base, is on display, at Body Hall.

de Professors Author Books

Michigan State faculty members, Clyde W. Wilkinson, professor of journalism, and Lawrence M. Sommers, associate professor of geography, are co-authors of new books in their respective fields.

Wilkinson's book is "Writing Letters." It presents a new approach to business letter writing with an emphasis on brevity and more important facts of style and psychology. The book is co-authored of "Out-Readings in Geography." The book contains readings from past current literature of geography.

From 1839 until 1955 when the Canal was built, ships often moved overland around the St. Mary's River from Lake Superior and Lake Michigan.

Shortage Seen in Asia

Books for Asia Drive Opens Today in Berkey

A "Books for Asia" drive will open on campus today as part of a nation-wide campaign to help inform Asian peoples of Western democracy.

Collection boxes will be available in Berkey Hall today and in the Union Concourse next week to receive the books. The drive will continue through Saturday, May 28.

Alpha Phi Omega, which is sponsoring the drive on campus, has sent over 200 letters to heads of departments and faculty, soliciting used texts.

The books, which will be sent to Asian students, should be in good condition and currently useful.

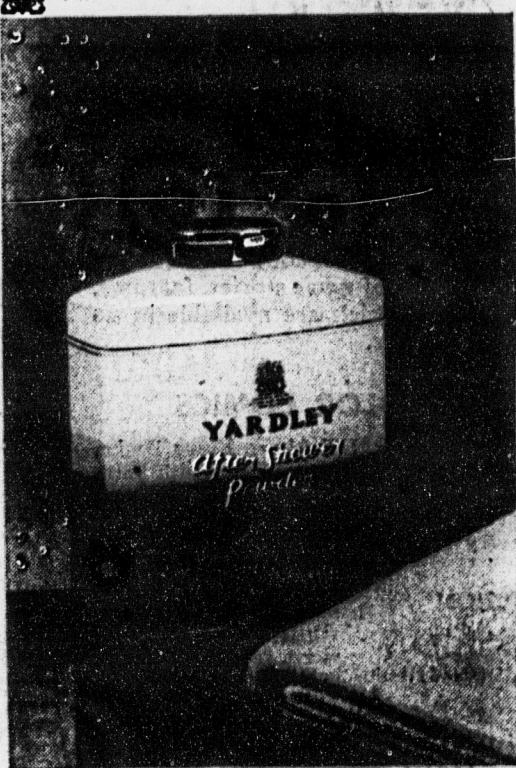

The subjects needed are history, philosophy, psychology, literature, classics, art and music, comparative religion, education, anthropology, sociology, social welfare, economics, business and law.

The book drive is sponsored nationally by the Asia Foundation of California, a non-profit organization with representatives in 12 Asian countries.

The Foundation said that professors and students returning from Asia have emphasized that lack of textbooks is one of the most pressing problems of Asia.

The drive is expected to help strengthen and preserve the ideals of democratic freedom.

Indian Coed Honored by PanHel

Sarojini Gadre, Hawa Bagh, Jabalpur, India, senior, is the mystery coed who was honored Wednesday night on the Pan Hellenic "This Is Your Life" program.

Miss Gadre is a graduating senior who was the recipient of the Pan Hellenic scholarship paying her room and board for her four years at State.

Master of ceremonies for the show, which was similar to Ralph Edwards' television program was Gloria Richardson, Ann Arbor junior.

Appearing on the program were Mrs. Louise Carpenter, foreign student advisor who was instrumental in bringing Miss Gadre to Michigan State and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Orvis and their daughter Joan, residents of East Lansing and the adopted family of Miss Gadre.

Also participating in the program were Mrs. Keiser, house-mother at Robinson house, Miss Gadre's present residence; and roommates Dorothy Campbell, Cornell freshman; Pat Bloom, Detroit freshman; and Joanne Toback, Mason sophomore.

Telegrams were read on the program from relatives and friends of Miss Gadre.

The script for the program, was written by Gloria Regner, Dearborn sophomore.

The show was planned in connection with International Week.

Prof. Kempf to Speak At Iowa Conference

Florence S. Kempf, professor and head of the department of nursing education, will be one of the key-note speakers at the annual convention of the Iowa League for Nursing at Ames, Ia., May 25-26.

Miss Kempf will speak on "Communication," at the opening session of the meeting. She will also participate in a panel discussion on "Communication in Action," on the second day.

A U. S. Office of Education survey in 43 states shows that nearly half of all school buildings are more than 30 years old and one in five are more than 50 years old.

Blood Total Reaches 376 Pints

Army Holds Lead on 3rd Day

By ROBERT STEPHENSON
The Army set the pace for the third straight day in the ROTC blood drive with 257 donors to the Air Force's 61. A total of 376 pints were collected with civilians donating 58. Out of 404 donors, 23 were rejected.

This brings the total for the three-day-old drive to 1,071 pints, 20 below the three-day mark in the winter term drive sponsored by the Veterans Assn.

The drive, being held in conjunction with Armed Forces Week, is sponsored by the ROTC in Demonstration Hall daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The blood is being collected through the facilities of the American Red Cross and is to be used exclusively by the armed forces.

Last year the ROTC drive set a new collegiate record with 2,195 pints and the first day collection set a Lansing area record with 596 pints.

The three day mark last year was 1,465 pints.

The Air Force won the ownership of an engraved plaque proclaiming the winner of the annual event last year with 57.07 percent of the cadets donating to 22 percent by the army.

The Red Cross is providing a station wagon to transport students from the west door of the Union to Demonstration Hall throughout the day. It leaves at 15 minutes past the hour.

New members for Green Helmet, sophomore men's honorary, presented last year to the University of Michigan, will also be presented tonight.

Members of fraternities for the event will be Bob O'Hara, Buffalo, N.Y. Junior; Bob Gardner, assistant to the dean of students, men's division, will present the trophies.

The 11 choruses will be rated on a 100-point scale, a national scoring procedure for their groups. Final scores will be based on tone, intonation, interpretation and artistic effect, diction, spontaneity, selection and appearance.

Spectators are asked to hold their applause between numbers to avoid extra delay according to Gordon Sinclair, publicity chairman.

The fraternity choruses participating will meet at 7:30 p.m. and march in as a group.

Chairs will be set up at the Band Shell for housemothers and local residents.

UN Day

Why should we fear Communism in the United Nations? asked Sir M. J. Vachell, Canadian Consul and Trade Commissioner.

His Excellency C. L. Simpson, the ambassador of Liberia, was unable to stay for the opening session. Christian E. Baker, a Michigan State senior from Moravia, Liberia, read a prepared statement by Mr. Simpson.

In the seven-point statement, Simpson said the Communist regime had no one to blame but itself for not being in the UN.

Sir Jean Beland, French consul, said his people believe the UN should not give recognition to a nation which has caused it so much trouble.

Great Britain recognizes Communism, China on "de facto" grounds, said Sir J. M. Fisher, Her Majesty's Consul.

"When a new government is formed," Fisher said, "we ask ourselves two questions: 'Who is in charge here?' and 'Is this government likely to stay in power?'"

Admission of Red China is "not a moral issue," said Sir M. F. Tandan, public relations officer for India.

Denying the right of admission to Red China is "absurd," said Sir S. Surjitjondra, consular from Indonesia. "We are faced with the glaring anomaly that 600 million people are now represented in the UN by a government which has no control over that area at all."

Speaking for the United States was Stanley J. Andrews. He is head of the National Project on Agricultural Communications being conducted on Michigan State's campus.

"On moral grounds and perhaps on legal grounds, there is every reason in the world to keep Red China out of the United Nations," Andrews said.

Police, Civic Leaders Confer

Teams of police and law enforcement officials from cities in all sections of the country are considering the human relations trouble spots of modern American communities at a five-day institute being held at Kellogg Center, May 15-20.

Sponsored by the department of police administration, in cooperation with the National Conference of Christians and Jews, this "Police-Community Relations" institute is the first of its kind on a national scale, according to Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Communities troubled by problems growing out of mixed population groups have been invited to send a team to study the policeman's role in community relations, Clinchy said.

Per capita human consumption of grain and potatoes in the United States declined about 30 per cent between 1909 and 1952.

200 Hear Fishel At UN Luncheon

Prof Back From Viet Nam Warns: 'Volcano in Asia'

About 200 guests at the United Nations Day luncheon heard Wesley R. Fishel, associate professor of science, compare "Viet Nam and the Free World."

Recently returned from Viet Nam, Fishel briefly reviewed the background of the Far Eastern problem to 12 foreign ambassadors, faculty members and students.

"We are on the edge of a volcano in Asia," Fishel warned. "Viet Nam is the last hope of a free world in the East," he said.

Pointing out the loss of Asia to the Communists, Fishel predicted an impending crisis to the free world if Communist aggression continues.

"In Fishel's opinion the Indo-China settlement of last July with the Communists will not be permanent. 'The only way to combat Communism is to remove the social decay,' Fishel added.

Fishel pointed out the problem faced by Viet Namese citizens. He explained 99 per cent of the people are bitterly opposed to Communism.

"But the people must either accept Communism or be called traitors of their country," Fishel said.

Enumerating the deficiencies in the Viet Nam government, Fishel urged the American people to emerge from their Anti-Communist vacuum and face the impending threat of Communist domination.

Student Government President Bill Hurst, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., senior, was master of ceremonies for the luncheon.

Special mention was given to Andy Foeller, Green Bay, Wis., sophomore for his work as director of the United Nations program.

Credit was also paid to William Boutell, Bay City freshman, and Gordon Spink, Lansing sophomore, co-chairmen of the United Nations Day.

Promotion Workers Sought by Spartan

Anyone interested in working on promotion for the Spartan magazine should contact Cliff McDermott in the Spartan office, third floor Union, between 3 and 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday.

Ceeds interested in being stand managers should apply at the same time.

Pushcart Gone

The Delta Upsilon pushcart entry for Saturday's Junior 800 disappeared from the fraternities garage Wednesday evening between the hours of 7 and 8:30.

The theft was discovered by Bob Pattison, Wyandotte sophomore, when the relay crew was preparing to practice for Saturday's race on West Circle Drive.

Student cooperation is requested in determining the location of the pushcart. Anyone having information as to its whereabouts should call ED 2-6710.

Crowded Weekend to Include Greek Feast, Pushcart Derby

Queen Appear Parade

Everyone loves a parade! The 7th annual Lambda Chi Alpha Junior 500 parade starts at 1:00 Saturday noon.

Lambda Chi queen and her court will wear dresses matching the colors of the cars driven in parade. The push cart race follows, beginning at 1:30 in the women's gym.

There are 37 entries in the parade. This year for the first time the parade will be able to drive down cars, but the pushers will be men.

Friday night IFC and Pan Hel will sponsor Greek Feast at Phi Delta Theta house. The festivities will include dancing, food, and games. As last weekend, term parties are scheduled. Phi Delta Chi, Theta Chi, Gamma, Sigma Nu, Alpha Omega and Abbot-Mason will have their term parties.

Friday night will find Zeta Tau, Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma House, South and Campbell, Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Alpha and South Will-Hall holding their term parties.

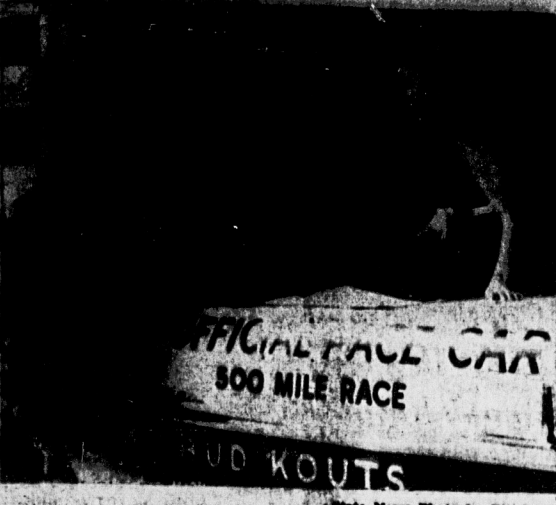

And different type of party will be held by Snyder and Hall's Friday night. The party will sponsor a dance between the two.

On Friday night the pledgeman House are planning a party. Mother Nature will be provided by lights, as the dance will be in the lawn.

And spring go hand in hand. Elsworth co-op members will have their annual picnic Saturday afternoon at Okemos Park.

South Sea atmosphere will be at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Saturday night. Hats, fish nets, pointed shoes and a small pool will be included in the decorations. Members and their dates dressed as natives, and the band will provide the music. The antics of a live monkey will be included in the entertainment.

Y House, College YMCA, will change the pace of the formal-costume party by having a birthday party Friday celebrating the second year of the house's existence. "Be a Rare Window," a film by Phi Kappa Psi, will be featured entertainment. Formal dance Friday night, sponsored by Delta Delta Delta and Zeta, will be held in the Jim Voorheis's quartette provide the music.

Lambda Chi queen Roberta Jeffers, and chairman Bill Waites inspect Chevrolet pace car.

Spring Influences Religious Activities

Picnics, Banquets, Services Provide Campus Functions

Spring fever will affect the religious groups on campus this weekend, and picnics as well as banquets and discussions will be held.

Hillel Foundation announces the annual Inter-School Hillel spring picnic which includes members from U of M, Wayne and Central Michigan. The picnic will be held Sunday at Kensington Metropolitan Park at the Martindale Beach picnic area from 12 to 8 p.m. An old-time box lunch will be featured at noon, and a barbecue chicken dinner is planned for the evening.

Afternoon entertainment will include softball, a tug of war, swimming and races. A trophy will be awarded to the school winning the most games. In case of rain, the activities will be held in the Hillel House at U of M.

Cost is 75 cents for members and a dollar for guests. The Spartan Special truck will leave from the Union at 10:30 a.m. for those needing transportation.

Tonight at 6:30 and 8, Lutheran Student Association will sponsor Ascension Day Holy Communion services. The first service is especially for graduating seniors and will be followed by a reception at 7:30 for students and faculty.

L.S.A. will have a Campfire Social Friday. Students are asked to meet at the College Lutheran Church at 7:45 p.m. On Sunday student-led Vespers will take place at 7:30 p.m.

Spartan Christian Fellowship will have its annual spring term banquet Saturday night at the Union. A guest speaker will give a talk after dinner.

A pro and con discussion entitled "Are Dogmas Necessary to Christianity?" will be led by two faculty members at the Canterbury Club meeting Sunday evening at 6:30 in 31 Union.

Dr. Joseph Mills of the department of sociology will support the statement while Dr. James Orwig of the humanities department will speak on the opposing side.

Newman Club will sponsor a square dance Friday, at 8 p.m. featuring Arizona Blue as the caller. On Sunday, Newman Club will have a picnic at East Lansing Park. Transportation will be furnished from Newman Hall at 2 p.m.

Christian Student Foundation will have its annual senior banquet in the social hall of People's Church Friday evening at 6:30. A special program is planned in honor of the seniors. Marilyn Fleas, alumna of C.S.F. and a teacher at Pattengill Junior High School, is chairman of the banquet, and Jarrold Olsson, Cadillac sophomore, will be toastmaster.

On Saturday, C.S.F. will have the second "Work A Day for Christ." Breakfast will be served in College House at 8 a.m., and devotionals will be held at 8:45 a.m., and community work will begin at 9 a.m. At vespers Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., the Rev. Truman Morrison, minister of Edgewood People's Church, will speak on the topic, "Is It Time to Quit?"

Greeks Plan For 2,000 At Dinner

By SUE ANDERSON

Greek Feast, an annual all-campus dinner and dance sponsored by IFC and PanHel Friday from 5 to 12 p.m., will bring 2,000 Spartans to the Phi Delta Theta fraternity House, 626 Cowley.

Dinner, consisting of ham, potato salad, tuna fish salad, relishes and iced tea, will be served on the front lawn from 5 to 7 p.m.

Entertainment, including a vocal solo by Shirley Cegedy, Allen Park sophomore, and a dance by Bonnie Ederle, Grand Rapids freshman, will also be presented on the front lawn.

Other entertainment will be the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Quartette. Earl Henry's orchestra will provide music for dancing on the back driveway from 8 to 12 p.m. Tom Pishos, Mt. Pleasant sophomore, will be the emcee for the evening.

Fraternity flags and replicas of sorority pins will decorate the yard and the outside walls of the Phi Delta Theta house. Chinese lanterns will be strung around the dancing area in the back.

The dinner, dance and entertainment are free and everyone is invited, stag or drag. The purpose of Greek Feast is to promote relations between IFC, Pan Hel and non-Greeks. The dress for the evening will be casual. In case of rain, the event will be held Saturday, at the same time and the same place.

Foiled Again Exciting Finish Climaxes Yearly Fencing Contest

Cries of "En garde! Ready! fence!" were heard last Thursday, May 12, as the Women's All-University Fencing Tournament proceeded to a late but exciting finish.

Two divisions were represented, junior and senior, according to the amount of fencing experience of the contestants.

The tournament, sponsored by Delta Gamma Mu, Women's fencing honorary, is a yearly event. This year there were 34 participants, composed of 14 seniors and 20 juniors.

In the senior division Naomi Thrower, Flint senior, won first place with Laura Hardin, Ann Arbor sophomore, taking second.

Junior division winners were Joy Jensen, Davison sophomore; and Beverly Weber, Mt. Clemens freshman, taking first and second place respectively.

Tigers Beat Orioles, 6-3 With 3-Run 10th Inning

BALTIMORE (AP)—Frank Lary held the Baltimore Orioles hitless for the first five innings and was reached for only five hits after that, but needed a three-run splurge by his Detroit mates in the 10th inning to win 6-3 Wednesday.

The 24-year-old righthander was on the verge twice of losing the game after the Orioles tied the game 3-3 in the sixth when they scored all their runs.

It was up to Al Kaline, the youngster, two years out of a Baltimore high school, to sew up Lary's third victory in seven decisions. Kaline knocked in Harvey Kuenn from second base with a single and a sacrifice fly by Ray Boone and a Fred Hatfield single each scored a run.

May 1 while striking out 14. Score faded nine Wednesday to raise his total to 65 in 56 innings. He walked three. He recorded 330 strikeouts in the American Assn. with 1,000 in last year.

Score set, Lary's first eight batters before he walked Willard Nixon in the third. He struck out the side in the fourth with a walk sandwiched in.

Cleveland's big fifth in which 15 batters stepped to the plate sealed Boston's fate and chased starter and lower Nixon for his third loss against four victories.

Cards Clip Bums

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harvey Had-dix, continuing sensational St. Louis pitching that has permitted only three runs the last five games, Wednesday night broke a personal five-game losing streak and handed the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers their third straight setback, 3-2.

The Cardinals' fifth straight victory and seventh in the last eight games was a result of two Dodger errors that made two of St. Louis runs unearned.

Southpaw Johnny Podres, who committed one of the two damaging miscues, was charged with his second defeat against four victories even though he yielded only four hits in six innings, just one after the second frame. Only one Redbird reached base after the second against Podres and reliever Clem Labine.

Kuenn's Record Morrall Mighty Mad

Most college ball players, breaking a Big 10 record had been set by Detroit Tiger short stop Harvey Kuenn would be considered a high honor.

Over, this is not the case of Morrall. State's peppery pitcher, who broke a three-10 fielding record by turning five errors in one season.

Morrall considers to be the best day in the field since college baseball. His only error was, "I guess handling chances out of eight isn't a percentage."

all, who is a familiar figure both the Spartan diamond and football field, was graduate of Muskegon school. There he lettered in baseball and basketball and two in football. In his year he was selected All-American high school team.

last year at Muskegon, received invitations from leading colleges and universities around the nation to play for them.

the friendly atmosphere State that really sold me place," he said. "It was more than any of the other schools."

start on the diamond while still in the eighth grade. But that is not all. "My dad used to give me a baseball bat and give us fielding practice. That's where I got my training with the bat."

mechanical engineering he plans to get a job in after graduation. "I'm not saying I wouldn't be the pro-ranks if an offer came," he said. "I'd like to play either baseball or football if given the chance."

summer Morrall took a job at a TV repair shop in Lansing. In addition to his love of baseball with a city league team there and hit the ball around the .270 mark.

"Playing ball out there probably helped me more than anything else," he said. "The more ball you play the more it helps you, and we played a lot of ball last summer."

Earl broke into the lineup last season on various occasions at both short and third. In his few appearances he only hit .183.

"Last year I was taking too long a stride when I swung and as a result I was hitting under the ball," he said. "This season John Polomsky suggested that I widen my stance and I think it has helped as I've been hitting close to .300 since then."

Morrall points to Bill Spangler of Duke as the outstanding college ball player he has seen in action. In looking over this year's team Morrall points out that the squad has all the potential needed for a championship club. "They're all a great bunch to be playing ball with," he said. "We have a team that's as good as any we've played, but at times we just haven't clicked as we should."

Yanks Win Slugfest

NEW YORK (AP)—Chicago outfielder Minnie Minoso barely escaped serious injury Wednesday when he was hit on the head by a pitched ball in a wild home run duel won by the New York Yankees over the White Sox 11-6.

Mickey Mantle's grand slam homer for the Yankees in the seventh inning climaxed the slugfest which produced a total of six homers to plague four Chicago and two Yankee pitchers.

Vern Stephens hit two home runs for Chicago—in the fifth and seventh innings with none on base. Clint Courtney connected for a two-run blast in the fourth and Jim Rivera hit a homer following Stephens' second blow in the seventh, chasing the Yanks' Bob Grim.

VIC WERTZ

double just over Dave Pope's head off the centerfield wall in the fifth was the first hit off Score.

The 21-year-old yielded the other hits in the eighth. Billy Goodman's single off third baseman Al Smith's glove and Ted Lepcio's clean hit to left.

It was Score's fourth triumph, second at Boston's expense. He beat the Sox 2-1 at Cleveland

Mortar Board To Honor Six Alumnae

Six Michigan State alumnae will be awarded Centennial citations, for outstanding work since graduation at the Mortar Board Alumnae Centennial luncheon on June 4. Names of the award winners will be announced at the luncheon.

The luncheon is the first reunion ever held for all one-time members of the Michigan State Mortar Board chapter and Sphinx, its predecessor. It will be given by the student chapter and the East Lansing-Lansing alumnae chapter of Mortar Board.

Mistress of ceremonies will be Miss Doris Humes, last year's president of the student Mortar Board chapter here. Mrs. Fred W. Shaver, 420 Linden street, will present the awards.

Also taking part in the program will be Joan Petrunick, Snyder, N. Y., senior and current Mortar Board president, and Mrs. Arnold Lange of Lansing, president of the local alumnae Mortar Board chapter.

State Receives Award For Campus Planning

Michigan State and Harold Lautner, head of the landscape architecture and urban planning department, received an award for excellence in campus planning and planning at a recent meeting of the Michigan Horticultural Society.

Donald Watson, horticulturist, received the Esther Longyear Murphy bronze medal for his work in horticultural therapy and scientific research.

In 1953, the U. S. auto industry consumed organic chemicals valued at 590 million dollars.

Block 'S' Signups Begin Today

Today students may begin signing up for the 1955 Block S in the Union Concourse from 1 to 5 p.m. Deadline for the signups is Monday, May 23.

With an entirely revamped Block S program underway, Dick Wood, Mt. Pleasant junior and Block chairman, stated that new plans include a dance and coffee hour for members and special recognition cards. Also next fall the block will be televised and balloons, pompons and spirit hats will also be used.

One more presentation is scheduled for this term in the Toyshop Theater. "The Rose and the Ring" will take over the basement theater in Fairchild June 3 and 4.

Also taking part in the program will be Joan Petrunick, Snyder, N. Y., senior and current Mortar Board president, and Mrs. Arnold Lange of Lansing, president of the local alumnae Mortar Board chapter.

The first meeting of the 1955 Alumni Club was held last night, according to Barry Prunick, Chicago, Ill., senior and chairman of the club, plans for Homecoming get-together and stotes for Alumni officers were drawn up.

The names of the 33 Club members will be announced at Senior Swingout. Final elections of alumni officers will also be held then.

Three Matches On Tap For Coed Tennis Team

Michigan State's coed tennis team has three matches this weekend, facing Hope College here on Thursday, and traveling to Western Michigan Saturday and Hamtramck for a return match Monday.

Current expenditure for elementary and secondary schools averages 247.45 per year, per pupil, say the National Education Assn.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Vaccine Held Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service said late Wednesday there will be no further releases this week of Salk polio vaccine made by any manufacturer. A spokesman said "it is holding up for another look-see at this whole very confused picture."

No Reserve Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House quit in mid-flight Wednesday night over President Eisenhower's new military reserve program after defeating a major attempt to change the controversial measure.

East Landon Wins Inter-School Sing

Old winners didn't win the Inter-School Sing Wednesday night in the Shaw Hall, East Lansing.

For the fourth consecutive year, East Landon topped the first place trophy, and South Williams took the second place trophy for the second straight year.

West Shaw, the only entry in the men's division, was the first place trophy. Bryan Hall's chorus was scheduled to appear, but did not.

Directed by Marge Savage, Core sophomore, the East Landon chorus performed before an estimated crowd of 400 and were dressed in pastel-colored cotton dresses.

They sang "Finnish Folk Song" and "Evening Reverie."

The South Williams women, wearing dark skirts and white blouses, sang "Madame Jeannette" and a lively rendition of "Ride The Carousel." Elaine Yano, Hills, Hills junior, directed.

"Good-Bye" and "On the Way" were sung by the West Shaw group, directed by Doug Hoopengardner, Detroit senior.

Eight dormitories sang in the affair, sponsored annually by the Men's and Women's Inter-School Hall Councils. They were: Abbot, East Landon, West Shaw, East Mayo, North Campus, Williams, Mason, and Hills.

An additional group of East Shaw made a solo performance.

The trophies were presented to the directors by Robert Schmitt, president of the Men's Council and John Wozniak, president of the Women's Council.

Judging of the event was by Gean Greenwall, last year's voice department, Bryan Hall, instructor in the music department, and Richard Schmitt, director of music in the East Lansing public schools.
