Variety Show Slated Tonight

Club Bialous, an all campus variety show sponsored by Christian Student Foundation, will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Social Hall of Peoples Church. According to Bernice Aumann, Chicago, Ill., sophomore, and general chairman of the show, the proceeds of the program will go to Jan Bialous, Polish war orphan. The support of Jan Bialous is one of CSF's annual projects.

The program will be set in a night club atmosphere. Entertainment will include singing, humorous readings, comic ballet, skits, combo and individual instrumental music. Dancing to record music will also be featured.

Refreshments can be purchased throughout the evening. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Briefing Set For Congress

Student Congress will meet tonight in a special session in Union 32, at 7:30. Student government president Bill Hurst will explain the functions of the executive to new congressmen and a special committee will outline rules of procedure.

Hurst said all congressmen are required to attend the meeting. A regular meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 in room 32.

Senior Council

Seniors interested in applying for Senior Council may pick up petition blanks in the Union Conference beginning today. All petitions must be returned Thursday.

The new council members will be chosen this term, according to Dick Wood, Mt. Pleasant junior and newly elected senior president.

Cows and All

A birds-eye view of Michigan State's 640-acre campus will be seen in three dimensional form beginning this week.

A 24 by 31 inch map in color depicting all the buildings and roads of the campus has gone on sale in East Lansing bookstores. The price of the Centennial moment is $2.35.

The second map of its kind published by a U.S. college or university, the project was sponsored by Newton D. Glick and Milton Baron, associate professors of land architecture and urban planning.

The first map was published by Harvard University for their tercentenary celebration in 1938. The artist, Carl D. Johnson, a landscape architect from Detroit, graduated from Michigan State in 1951.

The "isometric" delineation of the university campus gives an accurate view of every structure and walk. The artist includes minute details in the map such as students walking to class and ROTC practice in Johnson Field.

According to Johnson, the map is a "three-dimensional view of the campus as it is today."

University Gets Ford Grant Of $150,000

A grant of $150,000 from the Ford Foundation, to provide for a study of factors affecting the cost of higher education in America, was accepted for the University Friday by the State Board of Agriculture.

The study will consider such factors as growing enrollments, inflation, and the need for wider educational services. It will be carried on jointly with eight of the other Big 10 schools, the University of California, and Washington College.

Other gifts and grants accepted by the State Board brought the month's total up to $310,379.37.

The Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek granted Michigan State $18,000 for the Michigan Institute of Local Government projects.

A grant of $6,000 was received from the Pioneer Hybrid Corn Co. of Tipton, Ind., for research in temperature and humidity factors related to corn hybrids. Prof. E. C. Rossman of the farm crops department will be in charge of the study.

The remainder included gifts of industrial equipment for classroom study and grants for technical research projects.

Senior X-Rays

X-rays will be given for graduating seniors during the next two weeks at Olin Memorial Health Center.

Students may receive X-rays free of charge. Dr. Ralph H. Ruhmkorff, assistant director of the Health Center, said.

The Health Center will contact students that show defects in their X-rays.

GM Locals Vote Strike If Necessary

UAW, GM Meet In Contract Talks

DETROIT, (AP)—General Motors workers throughout the country have voted overwhelmingly to strike, if necessary, to gain a guaranteed annual wage. The CIO United Auto Workers (UAW) union announced today.

John W. Livingston, UAW Vice President and director of the union's GM department, said 108 of 107 General Motors locals have voted 126,559 to 8,955 in favor of a walkout should new contract talks fail.

The vote carried by the necessary two-thirds majority not only as a whole but in each local, Livingston said.

The 103 locals represent 98 per cent of the 325,000 GM workers covered by the current five year contract which expires June 7.

Livingston said 41.2 per cent of the eligible voters in the 103 locals cast ballots. A similar margin but union spokesmen said it is not complete and no figures are available.

The vote was announced at the UAW and GM met in contract talks that extended past 6 p.m. (EST) today. Negotiators scheduled for tomorrow their first full day session since the talks began April 7.

Walter P. Reuther, president of both CIO and the UAW, said in an hour session this morning and GM conferences this afternoon.

A news blackout covered both sets of talks, however, and Reuther and GM negotiators remained mum about the progress of the year-around pay proposal.

The Ford contract, covering 140,000 employees, expires June 1. Reuther will attend both Ford and GM talks tomorrow. GM also resumes new contract talks with the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) tomorrow.

Leadership Clinic Scheduled Tonight

A student leadership clinic, open to all officers, advisors, and interested members of campus groups, will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Union Ballroom.

William Mann, associate professor of counseling and continuing education, will talk on the responsibility of officers on campus. He also will introduce the idea of a leadership workshop for fall term.

Seniors Swingout Tonight At 7:30, Head for Fairchild

For the 45th year, Michigan State seniors tonight will turn out for their annual senior Swingout.

State's Marching Band, followed by the class officers, will begin the parade in front of Ag Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Agriculture major seniors will get in the swing first. The procession will then move to Olds Hall to pick up Engineering students.

Home Ec majors will get in step at the Home Ec Building, Education and Business and Public Service students at Morrill Hall, Science and Art students at Natural Science and Veterinarians at Giltner.

The parade will end at Fairchild.

President John Hannah will give the Swing-out's main address. He will be preceded by short speeches from Bill Thistle, senior class president, Starr Kessler, director of alumni relations, and Jack Breslin, director of Placement Bureau.

The 55 members of the 55 Club will be announced publicly for the first time. They also will be presented with their 55 Club cards by Kessler.

Seniors will elect their alumni officers during the program. They will be chosen from a slate prepared by the 55 Club members last week.

Ballots will be passed out with programs at the door. Votes will be collected and tabulated by members of Alpha Phi Omega.

The results will be announced during the program.

Dr. Hannah will award $100 scholarships to the male and coed with the highest all-university average.

The two seniors of the year, picked from the seniors of the week, will be announced. Two males and two coeds, also from the group will be recognized.

Caps and gowns are not mandatory for marching seniors. Gregg Stecker, Swing out chairman, announced.

In case of rain, seniors can dispense with caps and gowns and go directly to the auditorium without marching.

Seniors of the year will receive a more permanent recognition from this year on.

The senior class has purchased a $150 permanent plaque on which their names will be engraved.

It will be displayed in the Union's Mixed Lounge, opposite the Outstanding Teacher Award. It will be on display for 20 years.

The senior man and coed for 1955 will be announced at tonight's Swingout. They are picked from the seniors of the week, posted in the Union throughout the year.

Proposed coeds of the year are: Judy Streng, president of Pan-Hel; Joan Petrunick, president of Mortar Board; Sally Garvin, Mortar Board treasurer and Spinster Spin chairman; Micki McBride, former student government secretary of state; Betty Gase, Union Board president, and Lou Ellen Miller, fellowship student to Pembroke and solicitations chairman of Campus Chest.

Members of the senior of the year committee are: President John A. Hannah; Mr. Robb Gardiner, assistant to the dean of students, men's division; Mrs. Lurline Lee, assistant to the dean of students; William Davidson, director of the Michigan State Fund; Gabrielle Muhlberg, former AWS Activities Board president, and Rudy Petzold, Men's Council president.

The two seniors of the year will receive trophies and Centennial medallions in addition to having their name engraved on the plaque.

U.S., Red Comparison Requested

Senate Democrats Put on Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats put on new pressure Monday to get what Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson termed the "true story" of how American air power stacks up against Russia's.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), who fired up the controversy last week, demanded in the Senate that the Eisenhower administration answer "the one great question . . . How does our strength compare with the strength of the Communists, those who have so often reiterated their determination to destroy us?"

Johnson, of Texas, said Secretary of Defense Wilson owed it to the people to straighten them out on the question and to see to it that "the generals and the secretaries get together so that the right hand knows what the left is doing."

Secretary of Air Force Talbot 10 days ago issued a release discussing the appearance of new types of Russian warplanes. That led Symington at the time to question whether Russia might not be gaining air superiority. Since then there have been what Sen. Johnson called "a new rash of confusing statements."

He said "there should be clarification as to what is the true story." He reported Sunday that Russian air advancements have shocked "even the top level and the most knowledgeable military aviation leaders in the Pentagon."

The magazine said some high civilian officials in the government seem to have been practicing "a deliberate deception" of the people.

Before the controversy worked up to its peak last weekend, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that "to say we have lost in a twinkling all of this great technical development and technical excellence as well as the numbers in our total aircraft is just not true."

Returning to the debate Monday Symington told the Senate: evidence continues to pile up that Communist air power is moving up to us in offensive striking power, and is moving ahead of us in the fields of defense power, production and technology.

"The warning light is on. Only the blind, or more sinister people, will deny that fact."

Symington was secretary of the Air Force under President Truman.

He will show several of his original paintings at the lecture.

The Rescue

Empty Saddles in the Old Block S

Block S will push for a membership drive this week. The big group with the little cards will try next fall to push itself off the benches, where it fell last year because of its spotty attendance.

With a big Centennial football season ahead, the Block S will get its share of attention. If it doesn't have every seat filled with a card flasher, it could hit an all-time low.

The only thing to save it from an inglorious fate is for students to sign up for the Block and mean it. The usual Spartan trick is to pick up a membership card and sometime before the games start, become part of a vast vanishing crew which is no good to anybody and which turns the card section into a lop-sided half-picture.

Block S has announced it will hold a dance and coffee hours for members, to attract students to join. They also plan to use balloons and other gimmicks to liven up the Block.

These are fine, but the best way to liven up the Block is to put live people in it.

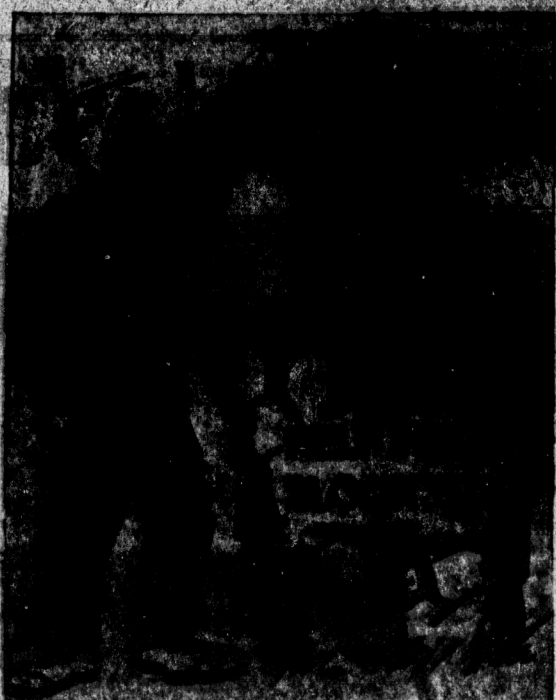

Another twist the Block will innovate will be to give recognition for the outstanding performance. It would have been next to impossible to find anyone to give that award to last year.

The Block will take a limited number of upperclassmen this year and concentrate on freshmen and sophomores.

The Block has always had its most serious troubles because of poor attendance. Often last fall, minutes before the card section went into operation, a frantic call was sent out among the spectators for students to fill in the Block.

This situation can be eliminated at the outset of the new season if the Block has full membership and some ready reserves. This means that Spartans must cooperate.

Many of the Block members will be recruited last term, but now is the time to get the rest of the students to sign up. That is the only way the Block will look like a Block.

Interpreting the News

Slim Concrete Hope In Red Settlement

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

A good many people are asking why Russia is being so tough in her relations with the Allies at Berlin while attempting to spread so much sweetness and light elsewhere.

After the experience of the last 10 years, few people are willing to make categorical estimates of why Russia does anything the way she does.

Diplomats everywhere make it a point not to center their attention on any particular angle, lest they be distracted from others.

Secretary Dulles emphasized in his report to the nation, after his recent round of conferences in Europe, that he wasn't sure about Russia's immediate objectives.

Two factors, at least, seem obvious in the Berlin situation. One is that, by getting her East German puppet government into a row with the West German Republic over the use and maintenance of highways, she is seeking to establish the Eastern government as a concrete entity, an equal entity, in future discussions of the reunification of Germany.

The other is an attempt to demonstrate to West Germany that, while Russia seems to be relaxing pressures in preparation for Big Four negotiations, everybody should remember she is still in a position to cause a lot of trouble if she wishes.

It's a sort of warning that if her Mandarins are spurned she is capable of revenge.

The Russians undoubtedly realize they are in an anomalous position.

They threatened loudly, before plans for West German rearmament were ratified, that such action would foreclose the hope of a negotiated settlement of the German question.

Nevertheless, negotiations looking toward a settlement continue, even though the hope of concrete result is slim.

One curious thing is the quiet that has descended over Moscow after all the threatening noise he made prior to the establishment of Western European Union.

He did carry the word to Vienna, Russia was interested in German neutrality, something the Western diplomats already had guessed, but it was not the same Molotov who a short time before had been predicting World War III if the Allies persisted in West German rearmament.

Regardless of Russia's exact motives at any given point in all this discussion, signs appear more and more clearly through the fog that she is just maneuvering, rather than intending to produce concrete peaceful results.

Consuegra, Arroyo Lead Major Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP) — Luis Arroyo of the St. Louis Cardinals and Sandy Consuegra of the Chicago White Sox, two Latinos with excellent control and only one defeat between them, lead the Major Leagues in earned run averages Monday.

Arroyo, a rookie left-hander, has given up only 5 earned runs in 26 innings. He heads the National League with an earned run mark of 1.25, figures compiled by the Associated Press. Consuegra, a native of Puerto Rico, has won four games and lost none.

Consuegra, a righthander from Cuba, tops the American League with a 1.15 average. He has permitted six earned runs in 47 frames while winning three games and dropping one. His setback was by a 1-0 score.

Boudreau Calls Tigers Dark Horse

Points to Use
Of Set Lineup

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The American League pennant race may look like a knock-down dragout fight between New York and Cleveland with Chicago nipping at their heels, but Manager Lou Boudreau of the Kansas City Athletics is not convinced.

Don't laugh on the assumption Lou is going to make a wild prediction about his A's. He's going to be happy if they can finish in sixth place.

No, Boudreau is sticking with his preseason prediction—dark-horse Detroit.

"I definitely think Detroit has a chance to win the pennant," Lou said on his return home Monday. "They're still a darkhorse but don't count them out."

The Athletics open a three game series with the Tigers tonight. Against the Motor City boys the A's have a 1-3 record this season and that may influence Boudreau's thinking. Also, Detroit is the only team in the league to hold a shutout win against Kansas City.

"The thing that's helped Detroit most is having a set lineup," Lou explained. "They've been able to put their kids in and let them play together and they should improve as the season goes on. A set lineup means a lot."

Al Kaline, Detroit outfielder who in 15 official at bats against Kansas City has collected 10 hits, is of course the most feared Tiger in these parts.

"Kaline helped them a lot early in the season," Boudreau agreed. "For that matter, he's still playing well but he was exceptional then. Now if somebody like Bill Tuttle should get hot the Tigers might really make a race of it."

Kobsmen Tilt With Broncos Canceled

Michigan State's baseball schedule this week has been cut to one game, a Wednesday encounter at Notre Dame.

A scheduled Saturday date at home against Western Michigan has been canceled due to Western's involvement in the NCAA District IV playoffs.

In addition, a game with Detroit rained out on May 10 has been reset for Tuesday, May 31, at Detroit.

Michigan State will send southpaw Jack Wenner to the mound against Notre Dame. Wenner was the starting hurler last week when the Irish were dumped 5-4 in 10 innings at Old College Field.

In his three-inning stint he struck out five and walked one. His season mark is one win and two losses.

Notre Dame's coach, Clarence "Jake" Kline has stated he will use either John Hammett, the starting pitcher here last week or Dick Hunter.

Bender's latest pitching effort was a 2-0 win over Western Michigan last Saturday.

The Spartan team, which finished in a second place deadlock with Minnesota in Big 10 play, is led at the plate by second sacker George Smith. Smith is the apparent Big 10 batting champion with a league mark of .486, and has a season average of .436.

YOU GET MORE deep-down smoking enjoyment from Luckies than any other brand. The reason, plain and simple, is that Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted" — the famous Lucky Strike process — tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. You'll enjoy the Droodle above, too; it's titled: There on a match — Luckies, of course. Whenever smokers put their heads together, they agree you can't match a Lucky for flavor. ## Distinguished Teaching Churchill Gets Alumni Award

Boyd R. Churchill, associate professor of farm crops, last week was given the $500 Alumni Award for his 30 years of Distinguished Teaching.

Churchill was one of eight candidates voted on by the all-college distinguished teacher award committee.

He received his $500 grant from Dr. Henrik J. Stafseth, chairman of the committee, at the spring term staff meeting.

In addition to the grant, Churchill was presented with an engraved certificate, a gold master "S" key and an engraved gold watch. His name will be listed on the bronze Distinguished Teacher Award Plaque in the Union.

The other seven finalists each received a certificate and an engraved gold watch.

They are: Cecil Upham, associate professor of accounting; John A. Fuzak, associate professor of vocational education; James Anderson, associate professor of mechanical engineering; Mary Lewis, associate professor of foods and nutrition; Gerald Prescott, professor of botany and plant pathology; James Stiefel, assistant professor of physiology and pharmacy; and Miriam Scott Lucas, assistant professor of natural science.

First step in choosing the year's all-college distinguished teacher is a vote taken in each undergraduate department, selecting one of the department members.

Then each school picks a candidate from its department selections. The names of these finalists go to the all-college committee.

The committee, composed of one representative from each school and a chairman who may be from any school, makes the last decision.

The senior vote, taken during spring term registration, is given consideration as a "kind of guide," Stafseth said.

"It is interesting that every teacher who has been selected by the committee has been rated high by students also," he said.

"We can't use the senior vote alone, since a senior doesn't cover all the university. The names on the list chosen by seniors are mostly all from general courses," Stafseth said.

Criteria for the department members to use in their selection was set by the first all-college committee, four years ago. It is still in use.

Among the "characteristics of a good teacher," required to meet the specifications of the award are enthusiasm for and knowledge of subject matter, intellectual stimulation, sincere interest in students and their problems and the ability to relate teaching to the practical workings of the American democratic society.

The 53-year-old Churchill joined the State staff in September 1925, as a research assistant. He has written extensively for experiment station bulletins and the "Michigan Quarterly Bulletin." Churchill received his B.S. degree from Kansas State and his M.S. from State. He is a member of Alpha Zeta, Phi Sigma and Gamma Sigma Delta fraternities.

Contemporary French Prints Exhibited

Some peace-time collaboration with the French government brought an exhibition of contemporary French prints to the south campus Lit and Fine Arts Gallery.

The group is on loan from the Boston Public Library, which organized the series in collaboration with the French government.

The prints range from expressionist works of Georges Rouault through cubist prints by Jacques Villon and George Braque and neo-realism by Michel Ciry.

Samples of Picasso's blue period will be on exhibit—in black and white.

Other artists include Raoul Dufy, Henry Warquier, Marc Chagall, Marcel Gromaire, Braque and Fernand Leger.

The prints are of "extraordinary perfection," according to Paul Love, associate professor of art. They will be on display in A2 until June 3.

Shoes shaped differently for the right and left feet were first made just before the American Civil War.

Bird's View

One interesting aspect of the map is that all buildings approved for construction have been completed in the map, Glick said.

The Animal Industries Building, the three dorms under construction on Harrison Rd. and several additions to Kellogg Center are depicted in finished form on the map.

Cows grazing in a miniature pasture, a couple canoeing down the Red Cedar and an action-packed football game in Macklin Stadium tell the story of Michigan State on a pictorial scale drawing.

Even the tree protruding through the roof of the dining room addition at Kellogg Center can be clearly discerned, Glick said in reference to the map's details.

The Michigan State name change controversy caused some consternation to the publisher Glick reported. When the map was prepared for publication in March the problem developed as to what identification to give the map.

But a clever juggling of words entitled the map, "A pictorial rendu of Michigan State, Pioneer Land Grant University."

Framed copies of the first Michigan State "rendu," a designer's term for a finished drawing, were distributed to administration members Friday.

AUSG Banquet

Student leaders should sign up for the annual All-University Student Government banquet before 5 p.m. Wednesday, banquet officials announced.

The banquet will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Green Room, Union. Tickets, at $2.00 each, are available in the student government office, third floor Union.

Governor Signs Bill For U of M Branch

Governor G. Mennen Williams has signed a bill appropriating $37,000 to organize a two-year branch of the University of Michigan at Flint.

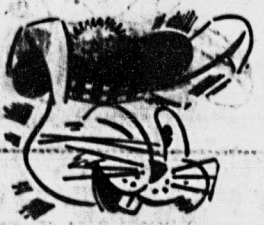

The branch would give the last two years of instruction for the students of Flint Junior College. It would be ready to enroll students in the fall of 1956 under the present plans.

Oral Interpretation Festival Slated

By JUNE TURNER
Michigan State's annual Apple Blossom Festival, the first and only Oral Interpretation festival in the nation, will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

"It is the purpose of the festival to promote the welfare of interpretive reading everywhere because we think it is a very important part of speech education," Moiré Compere, head of oral interpretation said.

The highlight of the festival will be a Reading Theatre program presented by Albert Dekker, famous stage and screen star, May 26 at 8:15 in Fairchild Theatre.

Students are invited to hear Dekker who has appeared in "Cass Timberlane," "Gentlemen's Agreement," "Wake Island," and "Once Upon a Honeymoon." Tickets are $1.50. Dekker will be available for conference and consultation, and will appear on WKAR-TV.

There will be six meetings of oral readers of about eight readers each on Wednesday night, Thursday morning and afternoon, and Friday morning and afternoon. Students are invited to attend these contests.

All contests will be held in or near Kellogg Center. An award-dinner dance will be held Friday night at which time the award certificates will be presented. The festival will be conducted strictly as a festival and not as a contest.

Entrants will be evaluated on the basis of their artistic performance, being rated "not ranked."

Beside Michigan colleges, many schools from out-state have answered the invitation to attend the festival.

North Texas State, North Carolina State, Manchester Indiana, Illinois Wesleyan, Orange County Community College in New Jersey and U. of Pittsburgh are included in the out-state schools coming.

A coaches-critics clinic is planned at which time there will be a full discussion of standards of oral interpretation, suitable material to use, and artistic presentation.

Ag Board Defers State News Plea

The Michigan State News Friday requested admittance to the regular meetings of the State Board of Agriculture. The resolution which opened board meetings to the press in 1953 specifically barred reporters from the State News.

The board deferred action on the request until July, when Dr. Gordon A. Sabine will become dean of the newly-created School of Communication Arts, with the journalism department under his jurisdiction. He will be asked to make a recommendation.
