Arms Shipments Blocked by Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles disclosed today he has told Russia that Communist arms shipments to Egypt would not "contribute" to lessening of the world's strains.

He said American officials "still hope it will be possible to avoid" getting into any arms race in the Middle East.

At the same time, Dulles said "there is every reason to anticipate that before long it will be possible to talk to the President" about any foreign policy matters that may become urgent.

Dulles stressed that Eisenhower's illness has not interfered with carrying out the nation's foreign policy because the National Security Council has continued to operate along lines previously approved by Eisenhower.

Dulles was appearing at his first news conference in a month.

He said he personally told Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in New York that Communist weapons deliveries to Egypt "would not contribute to relaxing tensions."

Dulles declined to reveal Molotov's reply but said this problem was discussed on two occasions during the past two weeks when he was in New York to attend United Nations meetings.

Dulles said his remarks to Molotov were similar to a statement he issued at his news conference today in which he said "it is not easy or pleasant to speculate on the probable motives of the Soviet bloc leaders" in shipping weapons.

Red Czechoslovakia in exchange for cotton.

Dulles left open the possibility of the United States sending arms to Israel to balance any Communist military shipments to Egypt and other Arab countries.

He said, in reply to questions, it was impossible to say whether American arms shipments were a "likely prospect," because it would depend on the amount and type of Communist arms provided Arab countries.

Dulles reports he has no reason to believe, despite Asst. Sec. George Allen's talks with high Egyptian leaders, that Egypt would abandon its announced plan of buying Czech weapons.

WKAR Series Joins Network

A 13-week radio series entitled "Great Lakes Pathway to Progress," was resumed Oct. 3, for the second year, on WKAR radio.

The half hour programs are to be heard at 2:30 p.m. each Monday and will have, for the first time, a nationwide audience through simultaneous broadcast over a 42-station network, according to Robert J. Coleman, WKAR director.

The program was produced in East Lansing by the MSU broadcasting service in co-operation with the National Association of Educational Broadcasters. It is financed by a grant from the Fund for Adult Education established by Ford Foundation.

The program will trace from week to week the geographical, sociological, economic and historical growth of the Great Lakes region into its present day importance to the nation.

Greek Premier Papagos Dies

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Marshal Alexander Papagos, Premier of Greece, died Tuesday night. He was 71.

The marshal, a hero of Greece's fight against Mussolini's armies during World War II, had been ailing for some time but his death was unexpected.

Earlier Tuesday, the Premier signed a paper nominating Foreign Minister Stephan Stephanopoulos as a provisional substitute during his illness.

There was no immediate indication of the cause of death.

Which Coed Will It Be?

Condition Still 'Satisfactory'

Ike, Adams Confer, Set 2nd Session Today

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower was described as relaxed and cheerful Tuesday after "another good night" and his doctors agreed to let his chief assistant, Sherman Adams, see him on business again this afternoon.

He continued to make satisfactory progress toward recovery throughout Tuesday and signed half a dozen more official documents, the most since his heart attack.

One of the papers on which Eisenhower put his name in a 10-minute business conference with his top assistant, Sherman Adams, releases $500,000 of disaster relief funds which the Agriculture Department will use for conservation measures in the hurricane-flood damaged states of Connecticut, Massachusetts and North Carolina.

Three of the signatures were on commissions for federal positions and one was on a letter accepting the resignation of Jack K. McFall as ambassador to Finland.

Like the President, McFall has a heart condition and that was the reason for turning in his resignation.

A second consecutive night of good rest—eight hours of it—dispelled the last traces of concern over the President's Sunday night weariness. His aides began looking forward to the time when his damaged heart will be strong enough to let him leave the hospital.

Medical bulletin No. 60 from Fitzsimons Army Hospital repeated a theme of satisfactory progress "without complications."

Student Rates Caribou Over Pork

By PATRICIA NELOY

Fresh caribou meat or beaver steaks may not appeal to the average person for an ideal main course at dinner, but to Douglas Bixby, MSU student from Palmer, Alaska, they are enjoyable dishes.

"Good beaver steak is much better eating than most pork," says Bixby. Such dishes as this one are eaten in many homes in his territory, where hunting and trapping are very popular.

Don't expect to identify this freshman on campus by the stereotyped parka and snowshoes. He's really a product of the Midwest. Born in Brighton, and a former resident of Detroit, he didn't emigrate to Alaska until July, 1946, when he was nine years old.

The Bixby family were pioneers in the Matanuska Valley, which only 11 years previously had been opened for colonization under a homestead act. The valley reaches inland from Anchorage and is used primarily for agriculture. Because of its mild climate it is known as the Alaskan "Banana Belt."

80 Clubs To Join In Carnival

Macklin Stadium To House Displays

By BARBARA ZUEGL

More than 80 campus clubs will describe their activities and organizations to new students and old-timers Thursday night as the 1955 Activities Carnival opens in the Macklin Stadium Concourse.

The annual event, sponsored by AWS and Men's Council, will begin at 7 p.m. Coeds will be given 11 o'clock permissions but must have a program from the Carnival to be admitted to their living units.

A variety of displays will be presented by the MSU organizations, including a continuous show by the speech major honoraries, a square dance demonstration by the Promenaders and performances by the Spartan Bellringers.

Other unusual booths will be the Pre-Vet Club's display of the skeleton of a large bear and trampolines demonstrated by the Aerobatic Club. Several comedies will be played in the concourse and movies and slides will be shown by several organizations.

At least 4,000 Spartans are expected to attend the free event, according to Jim McGuire, Carnival Chairman.

Entertainment will be provided at the south end of the concourse at 8:30 p.m., 9:30 and 10:30. Master of ceremonies for the three shows will be George Paris, Dearborn Junior.

The Kenny Davis Combo will perform and the Phi Kappa Tau quartet will include, "It's a Blue World" and "Moments to Remember" in its performance.

The Kenny Davis Combo will also play two 15-minute shows in the Union Concourse Thursday afternoon. The first performance will be at 6 p.m. with the second session shortly after.

Approximately 90 organizations are expected to participate in the Carnival, McGuire said.

Groups wishing to sponsor booths may still reserve space by contacting McGuire at ED7-9731. Organizations participating may enter the stadium at 9 a.m. Thursday. An information booth, operated by AWS representatives, will be set up at the northeast entrance. Booth assignments and locations may be obtained at this booth.

All displays must be completed by 6 p.m.

The $5 fee must be paid by 5 p.m. Thursday at 309 Administration Building. Organizations with university account numbers may transfer the payment.

Each group must dismantle and clean its booth immediately after the Carnival in order to receive the $2 refund. Brooms will be provided at the information booth.

JOHNNY PODRES SANDY AMOROS ... lead Dodgers to jinx-snapping triumph ...

Win Finale, 20 Bums Beat Odds, Yanks, For 1st Series Crown

By JACK BERRY
State News Sports Editor

The Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday proved the age-old axiom "if at first you don't succeed, try, try, try again," is true. After experiencing frustration seven times, six against the Yankees, Brooklyn won their first World Series title.

Johnny Podres, although he gave up nine hits, blanked the American League champions 2-0 in the final game of the series.

Podres was joined in the hero's circle by Sandy Amoros. Amoros made the play of the series, a catch in the left field corner that he turned into a double play snuffing a Yankee rally.

The victory was worth approximately $9,684 to each of the Dodgers who were voted full shares. The losing Yankees will receive in the neighborhood of $3,729 each for their seven days' work.

A series record was set by diminutive Phil Rizzuto. The Scooter played in his 32nd fall classic game, surpassing the record held by another Yankee, Joe DiMaggio.

Sentiment at Michigan State seemed to be all pro-Brooklyn and when the final out was made the news spread throughout the campus like a forest fire.

Going into the last game the Dodgers were 7-3 underdogs. No team in baseball history had ever lost the first two games of the series and come back to take the title.

Elections Meeting Slated for Today

Carolyn Roth, student government elections commissioner, will hold a meeting for dorm presidents and dorm elections commissioners this afternoon at 4 in 42 Union.

The meeting will explain elections procedures. Petitioning opens Thursday for freshman class officers and student government members.

He related an incident which occurred while he was in the fourth grade, shortly after his arrival.

His class received letters from a California grade school geography class asking such questions as: "I sleep in a bed with four legs, do you?" "Do you use refrigerators or put your food in the snow?" and "What kind of an igloo do you live in?"

In order for students to be better informed, he recommends the lecture, "North to Adventure," which will appear on the World Travel Series for Dec. 17.

Fred Machetanz, the speaker, is Bixby's neighbor in the Matanuska Valley, and Bixby says he is "extremely well qualified" for his topic.

Discussion Next On Agenda

O'Hara Reverses Handling Charges

By LOUIE GROPP
State News Campus Editor

Question marks still surround UMOG today as heads of Michigan State's living areas returned Tuesday evening from their meeting to discuss the "ugliest man on campus" campaign for this year with their constituents.

Before submitting suggestions for improving UMOG, Campus Chest Director Bob O'Hara listed the main complaints he had gathered on the traditional event in its present set-up.

The three main complaints were:

1. Women's living units are brought under heavy pressure by way of assessments to provide assessment is made in women's votes for their candidates. (No dormitories, but there is in other units.)

2. Members of men's living units are brought under individual financial pressure by a deluge of coed solicitations.

3. Men's living units point out that the purpose of Campus Chest is to provide one united solicitation on campus a year. They say that UMOG creates a second solicitation, thereby defeating the original aim of the chest.

On this third point, O'Hara explained that only the fall solicitation is counted as such. In UMOG and Spartacade, although profits go to the Chest fund, students receive a direct return, via entertainment, from the funds they give.

Following the listing of objections, O'Hara then presented the suggestions he had received for changing the present set-up.

1. To have UMOG as an integral part of Spartacade, with the following set-up: a separate booth, collection jars for each candidate, pictures of each candidate above the respective jars, and votes by money.

2. To have UMOG as part of Spartacade, but by this method: collection jars for each candidate, pictures of each candidate above the respective jars, the voting place to be just inside the entrance doors to the field-house, and votes to be cast by placing admission tickets in the desired jar. This would cut out Campus Chest profit from the drive, except through the possibility of added tickets sold because of their use as vote getters.

3. Having the type of campaign remain as is, but eliminating the commercialism.

4. Fun contest, with the possibility of finalist determined by voting at a dance.

O'Hara praised APO's "efficient, as usual," handling of the campaign, adding, however, that participating groups "forgot the spirit, as commercialism took over."

Claude Watson, APO president, said his group preferred to keep UMOG out of Spartacade, but added:

"If money is involved, it has to be de-emphasized."

He said APO favored the third idea in the list of suggestions offered by O'Hara.

George Snyder, speaking for IFC, said they advocated UMOG.

Contract Deadline Set for Yearbook

Organizations and living unit presidents are requested to sign picture contracts for the Wolverine by Oct. 19 if they wish to be included in the yearbook.

Contracts can be signed in the Wolverine office, third floor of the Union, after 1 p.m. Organizations are asked to bring their college account number.

So far only 10 organizations out of the 200 listed on campus have signed contracts, Editor Chuck Pardon said.

Press Seeks Right to Report

This is National Newspaper Week. The theme this year is "Your newspaper fights for your right to know."

Too many times, these obscure "weeks" honoring some phase of American life go unmentioned in the rush. Indeed, many of them are so ridiculous they don't deserve mention, such as "National Baby Food Week" and "National Goldfish Week."

In the case of Newspaper Week, particularly when the topic is as important as this year's, some reflection on the status of the press in this country is in order.

As J. E. Wiggins, editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, recently said:

"History does not record a free government that was secret or a secret government that was free. So the press, in defending the right to know, in a practical way is defending freedom and self-government."

Wiggins, in his position close to the heart of our federal government, must feel very closely the press of complications that have encompassed our freedom of the press in the past 30 years.

The constant menace of war, the growth of government, the transfer of powers from legislative bodies to private agencies—all have weakened press freedom.

There is good reason for some of the secrecy that develops because of these things—they have come about not through the efforts of a man or group or an administration.

They are truly a conspiracy of circumstance—circumstance that has made democracy difficult in many ways.

The danger is that the people, in considering the reasons for secrecy, will allow so much that the government becomes unworkable.

As "Your newspaper fights for your right to know," so must you fight for your newspaper's right to report.

Letters to the Editor

Writer Questions South's Attitude Toward Negroes

To the Editor: I feel fully as qualified to comment on the "Southern attitude" as Mr. Henry Paris (Letters to the Editor, Oct. 4) since I was not raised in the South, hence have no "there's no place like home" affection for it. On the other hand, I have lived a year just across the line from Mr. Paris' beloved Mississippi in Memphis, Tenn., and I have traveled extensively in the South.

"To begin with, Southerners do not hate Negroes," Mr. Paris says. I will not quibble with him over his choice of words, although I must maintain that Southerners do intimidate, oppress, and humiliate Negroes.

Mr. Paris points out that Negroes must join all-colored fraternities and societies. True, and I am ashamed of this evidence that the influence of narrow, bigoted people can be felt among us. But only in the South is the Negro intimidated at the polls, made to bear the brunt of attacks by a society devoted to keeping the Negro a second-class citizen.

Only in the South would an entire plant go on strike rather than allow a Negro to earn his living among white workers on a production line. It may not be hate, but what feeling does Mr. Paris believe motivates white Citizens' Councils formed in Mississippi to intimidate Negro leaders? I have seen it all, and more!

Concerning the Till case, Mr. Paris argues quite rightly that none of us were there, and therefore we are not qualified

STUN Helpers Lauded

To the Editor: Although STUN is only half-way through its operations for the fall term, we would like to thank all the students who are helping us so much. The time they have given us has enabled STUN to serve many students who sold and bought books in the last two weeks.

Those who work at STUN are not full-time employees, but students who have classes to attend and jobs to fulfill.

At this time, we would like to extend our apologies for the hours STUN was advertised to be open and was not.

We are happy to offer this campus service. However, because of the nature of the program, we can not be held responsible for books lost or receipts turned in later than a term after the book has been sold.

We regret that books sometimes are lost, but we feel that the present system at Quonset 52 is a considerable improvement over any previous methods.

STUN has done a tremendous volume of business this term, and we expect to be even better organized for the remaining terms this year. Thanks again to those who helped us.

Band Day Set for Saturday

Prep Marching Units Parade Before Game

Exciting Band Day spectacle awaits football fans early for the Stanford-Michigan State football Saturday at Macklin Stadium.

The second annual Band Day program begins at 12:30 p.m., 1½ hours before game time, to allow each of 24 participating Michigan high school bands to parade individually on the gridiron.

Led by the well-drilled MSU marching band at half time, the massed bands will present huge field formations and play the music of their distinguished guest conductor — Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman.

About 1,000 Michigan high school musicians will have the thrill of performing under Dr. Goldman's baton. They also will witness the intersectional grid clash.

Goldman, making his second appearance this year on the Michigan State campus, will direct the massed bands in two of his own famous compositions — "March Shenandoah" and "On The Mall." The bands meanwhile will spell out "GOLDMAN" from end zone to end zone. Their other formation will be a gigantic "MSU" for the playing of the Spartan "Fight Song."

The MSU band will play "MSU March" and "National Emblem" while the massed band formations are set up on the field. After concluding with the traditional "MSU Shadows," the Spartans will play "In My Merry Oldsmobile" while the field is cleared.

Prof. Leonard V. Falcone, MSU band director, and drillmaster C. Oscar Stever will conduct a 9:30 to 11 a.m. rehearsal to prepare the bands for their afternoon performance.

Each of the high school marching units should not lose its individuality in the big mass, but should have a chance to parade alone on the field," the directors say.

At two minute intervals, the bands will appear in the following order: Owasco, Elton, Holt, Mason, Flint Beecher, East Lansing, Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, Durand, Flint Bendle, Harbor Springs, Fowlerville, Albion, Ludington, Big Rapids, Lansing Sexton, Grand Haven, Belding, Ithaca, Caro, Okemos, St. Johns, East Rapids, Lansing Eastern and Grand Rapids Wyoming.

After the pre-game warm-up by football players, the MSU band will present its salute to Stanford University.

Entering from the north tunnel, the Spartans will spell out "H I S" in formations facing each side line in turn, playing the Stanford fight song "Come Join The Band." The Spartan "Fight Song" and the "Star Spangled Banner" lead up to the 2 p.m. kickoff.

New Scholarship

U of M Acts To Alleviate Student Flood

ANN ARBOR (AP)—With everything increasing except a place to operate, the University of Michigan Tuesday said it will ask the state legislature for 111 million dollars to expand its physical plant over the next five years.

This new capital outlay program, already sent to the state controller, includes $12,473,000 for construction, remodeling and additions to the University Hospital, said Wilbur K. Pierpont, University vice president in charge of finances.

He said educational facilities will require $98,568,000 for new construction, remodeling and additions.

Through the 1960-61 school year, the university said it expects at least another 7,500 students added to its current total of almost 21,000. Housing shortages on campus already are acute.

The Board of Governors of U of M residence halls met Tuesday night to consider two proposed dormitories that would alleviate student housing shortages at the university.

The board considered a new women's unit to hold about 1,600 coeds, and this in turn, they explained, would release three men's units now occupied by women.

These three men's units would accommodate 400 men students.

Fears Delay Governor Ponders State Speed Law

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams said Tuesday he is still mulling over whether or not to submit a proposal for a state speed law to the special session of the legislature.

Rep. Fred W. Zinn (R-Battle Creek) has proposed a maximum speed of 60 miles an hour during the day and 50 miles per hour at night.

"I told Rep. Zinn that the session would certainly be open to debate on the subject, but I still do not know whether I'll have any recommendations on the speed law," Williams said.

Williams has been reluctant to bring the speed law up at the session because he reportedly feels it might start a lengthy battle and prevent action on other matters.

Congress to Vote On Elections Plan

The new elections ordinance will be discussed and decided upon at the Student Congress meeting this evening at 7:30 in Room 32, Union.

The possible abolition of the organization loan fund set up last winter will also be discussed.

Stocks Rally Before Series Break

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rushed ahead Tuesday in a spirited recovery movement, and then took time out while Brooklyn won the World Series.

For instance, trading in the fifth hour was only 27 per cent as great as in the first hour. That's a good indication of where the customers' attention was centered.

Prices were ahead 1 to 3 points generally with some gains going to 5 points. There were quite a few losses, but none were large.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 50 cents at $176.00. The average now stands only 10 cents under the low reached in the drastic break a week ago when $11.40 was lost.

Monday's second reaction since the news of the President's heart attack reached Wall Street cut away $3.80 from the average.

Columbus established the first Spanish colony on the mainland of the New World in what is now Panama in 1502.

So the physicians attending Eisenhower told Adams to drop in at the hospital, after Eisenhower awakens from his afternoon nap, with any routine papers that might require signature or approval.

This is in line with a daily pattern the doctors and the Denver White House are setting up.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Adams will fly to Washington Wednesday evening to attend sessions of the National Security Council Thursday and the Cabinet Friday. He will return Saturday with the Boston heart specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White, as previously announced.

Congressional Library Exhibit

LANSING (AP)—The Library of Congress Tuesday night has an exhibition marking the anniversary of the establishment of the territory of Michigan.

McNamara (D-Mich.) presided at the ceremony in the Coolidge Auditorium.

John Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, was principal speaker.

The exhibit is one of a series of similar exhibits commemorating significant dates in the history of various states.

Books, manuscripts, maps, and photographs from the collections of the library and other archives make up the exhibit.

The display is a manuscript book kept by Col. John F. Mackin, commandant of the Detroit, in 1802.

The exhibition will continue through Oct. 10.

Sales Tax Changes Proposed

Treasury May Lose Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration was described Tuesday as "much concerned" lest the government lose revenue through proposed changes in the excise or sales taxes.

The administration position was expressed by Dan T. Smith, special assistant to Secretary of the Treasury, Humphrey. He was the first witness as a House Ways and Means subcommittee opened hearings as a possible preliminary to overhaul of the century-old excise tax system.

Federal excises are levied on a wide variety of goods and services including liquor, cigarettes, furs, automobiles, admissions and cosmetics.

They now account for nine to 10 billion dollars of revenue annually. And unless Congress steps in, this amount will be reduced by around a billion dollars from reductions scheduled April 1 in the levies on automobiles, trucks and buses, gasoline, tobacco, beer, and liquor.

Congress has postponed these reductions several times, although it cut many other excises in 1954. The House subcommittee, headed by Rep. Forand (D-R.I.), has restricted hearings to administrative and technical problems, leaving rates as such for future consideration.

At the outset, Smith said the Treasury will balk at any changes which would cost revenue.

"To the extent that there is any adverse effect on the revenue from the proposed changes," he said, "the Treasury Department will withhold favorable recommendations at this time."

His use of the words "at this time" left the way open for a shift in position next year. Administration officials have hinted they may recommend some tax cuts then if the budget is balanced or nearly so, but the general supposition is that any such recommendation will involve income taxes.

Costing Lives, Money

Michigan Road Dangers Hit

By The Associated Press

Sec. of State James M. Hare told the State Safety Commission Tuesday that for every fatal accident on Michigan highways, three persons are permanently injured and eight persons are partially disabled.

Hare said that the current year's expected total of 2,000 highway deaths meant that 6,000 persons would be permanently injured and 16,000 partially crippled.

In a review of Michigan's highway safety program, Harry Porter, field representative of the National Safety Council, said that in 1954 the economic loss to Michigan was $15 million dollars—much of it preventable.

Porter said that Michigan could save 200 lives a year by adopting tested safety methods.

Michigan, he said, had a greater increase in highway deaths this year so far than any other state of comparable size.

He said Michigan faces a "serious" situation and that he hoped the Nov. 1 special legislative session would consider Gov. Williams' 14-points for highway safety in a nonpartisan manner.

A 10 per cent reduction in deaths, he said, would reduce Michigan's economic loss to one-third of the cost of the Governor's legislative program for the special session.

However, the National Safety

Councilman refused to say whether they endorsed all of the governor's program.

Another Safety Council representative, Robert Shmal, said Michigan does not conform to the National Uniform Safety Code because it lacks a highway speed limit.

He urged legalization of chemical tests for drunken drivers, asserting they were not as severe as most people thought.

Film to Combine 7 Short Stories

Seven shows for the price of one.

The foreign film series is offering this bargain tonight in the movie "Seven Deadly Sins," a compilation of seven short stories, ranging from the comic to the ironic. Conversation by such stars as Michele Morgan and Noel-Noel will be in French or Italian on the sound track, with English subtitles.

Two showings, at 7 and 9 p.m. will be held in Fairchild Theater.

STUN to Distribute Money in AWS Office

Money for books sold at STUN will be available for the last time today at Quonset 52.

Thursday and Friday the AWS office, third floor, Union, will be open from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 3 to 5 p.m. to distribute the money. Students are reminded the newly initiated tax of five cents will be deductible from each book sold.

Students will forfeit the money on sold books if it is not picked up by Friday.

IF YOU'RE UP A TREE about what cigarette to smoke, there's a pleasant point of view in the Doodle at left. It's titled: Davy Crockett enjoying better-tasting Lucky as seen by b'ar in tree. Luckies taste better for a hatful of reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that that tobacco is toasted. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better... cleaner, fresher, smoother. So set your sights on better taste—light up a Lucky yourself!
