PRICE 5 CENTS

Happy days are here again as railroad representative Douglas A. Keller takes applications from Spartans Ron Tuber and Sharon Duncan for the Rose Bowl trip.

Coeds Outnumber Men, 2-1 250 Spartans Sign Up For Rose Bowl Special

More than 250 Spartans, in the ratio of two girls to every guy, signed up for the Rose Bowl tour Monday as the reservation desk opened.

There was a small but steady line at the second floor Union ticket booth as the Union Board-Spartan Spirit committee swung into action.

Members of the joint committee handling all planning and operations for the trip include General Chairman Don Gillette, Spartan Spirit Commissioner, Bill Waite, Activities Director representing Union Board and Art Underwood, Public Relations Director.

School committees will be appointed by the directors as needed according to Gillette.

The ticket booth will be in operation from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m. today and will operate Nov. 28, 29 and 30. A deposit of $15 is required for registration. Checks should be made payable to Spartan Special.

The game ticket situation was clarified for students and faculty Monday afternoon when Bizzie Mann, athletic director, announced the policy covering sales.

Olds to Send Band to Bowl

General Motors Division of General Motors announced Monday it will pick up the check to send Michigan State's 100-piece Marching Band to the Rose Bowl game Jan. 2.

Waller to Answer Trip Questions

Questions about the Rose Bowl trip will be answered by Elwood Waller, assistant to the dean of students, 7-8 tonight on WKAR-TV channel 16.

The work on "You Wanted to Know" students will receive instructions and general help that will aid in making their trip most successful, said Lawrence E. McKee, associate professor of continuing education services.

New York Opera's Peg Bonini Young Soprano Marks Second Visit

Her dark pony tail swinging, the pretty young girl bounced across the Kellogg Center auditorium stage Monday afternoon during a rehearsal of the New York City Opera's "Die Fledermaus."

She is Peg Bonini, a fast rising star in opera who has been singing professionally almost all her life. This soprano has been with the New York City Opera for two years, playing versatile roles in both New York and touring productions.

Tonight will not be the first time Peg has performed at Michigan State University as she sang the lead in last year's City Opera production "Hansel and Gretel."

Although a native of Los Angeles, Peg's actual preparation for opera began in the east when she won an Atwater-Kent audition in Philadelphia in 1951. "This was the last year they sponsored the show so I was extremely lucky," said Peg.

With her cash prize, Peg went back to Los Angeles and enrolled at the University of Southern California. She studied under Carl Ebert who came from Europe to set up a unique opera workshop at USC. During her two year training period, Peg appeared in numerous workshop-Los Angeles Opera Guild productions—often singing leads.

She then decided to study in Europe. While stopping at New York, she was encouraged to audition for the city opera. Her manager got Peg into the company, and the trip to Europe was postponed.

Opera members leave Wednesday for Cleveland, the last city on their fall tour which has included Boston, Detroit and other large cities. After the Cleveland performance, Peg will make her debut with the Chicago Lyric Theatre in the "Masked Ball."

And then back to California for the holidays, and the Rose Bowl, she added with a laugh, but failed to comment about which team she'd be cheering.

When vacationing in Los Angeles, Peg says she turns domestic "puttering in the garden and making rhubarb pie." She also finds time for swimming—a sport she misses very much. During the season there is nothing but the opera for Peg.

"We have many rehearsals and I also try to vocalize daily," Peg added that she should probably get eight hours sleep but with hectic schedules, usually gets about four a night.

Michael Pollock, who plays the role of the eccentric Russian prince Orlofsky in the "Fledermaus," says, "Peg is typical of the opera singer of tomorrow—a fantastic and versatile actress with a great voice."

Peg thinks the opera needs excellent acting as well as singing, especially with TV movies and Broadway shows as competition.

Although Peg turned down the lead in the Broadway show "The King and I" and a part in "Plain and Fancy" to stay in opera, she says she wants to eventually try a Broadway show. "This would give me the chance to do some excellent acting," she said.

But for now, Peg is happy with her exciting career as a young star in the New York City Opera Company.

PEG BONINI ... a rising star...

MSU Acquires New Center To Study Labor, Industry

Board Asks Participation In A-Study

These were among other matters approved Saturday by the State Board of Agriculture.

1. The Board moved for "enthusiastic participation" and that the necessary steps be taken to join the Midwest Universities Research Association, composed of leading colleges and universities in the midwest.

Purpose of the association is to serve as a focus and catalyst on atomic energy and physics research.

One of the association's main aims will be to develop plans and methods for building a large atom smasher. MSU is to appoint two members to serve on the association's board of directors.

The university also will be asked to assign from one to three faculty members to a study group developing plans for the atom smasher.

2. A Department of Public Safety will be established Jan. 1, 1956.

The new department will be charged with the administration and supervision of the safety and security of the university. This will include the present police department and fire inspection service and all other phases of safety and security including industrial safety, disposal of hazardous materials, accident prevention, etc.

3. Effective Jan. 1, 1956, the Department of Journalism will become the School of Journalism. The Department of Police Administration will become the School of Police Administration and Public Safety, and the Department of Social Work will become the School of Social Work.

4. The Board approved funds to offer some experimental courses on the campus, beginning winter term using closed circuit television. The fund will be used for purchase and installation of equipment, maintenance and operation. The receivers will be in Giltner Hall and Berkeley Hall. Details of the closed-circuit program are to be announced later.

5. The Board voted to award a contract to the Francis J. Carr company of Lansing for the low bid for expansion of the Ohm Memorial Health Center, subject to approval of the Federal Housing and Home Financing Agency. Carr was the lowest bidder among five contractors, with a bid of $1,118,900. The board voted to accept bids Nov. 29 on construction of the additional 170 units of married housing.

6. The Board approved the out of the Beeland-King Fund Producers of Atlanta, Ga., for the production and distribution of a new film stressing counseling aspects of college selection.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Trail Oklahoma Spartans Vault to 2nd in Poll

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma remained the nation's No. 1 football team in the weekly Associated Press national college poll Monday, but Michigan State vaulted to second place in the rankings by only six points.

With 209 of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters sending in ballots, the Sooner State ranked 114 first place votes and stacked up 1,489 points on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc. Oklahoma, unbeaten in nine games, drubbed Nebraska last week 41-0.

A week ago Michigan had seven and placed in eight points over Michigan State, but last Saturday the Spartans thumped Max Baucus 37-0.

Students performing will be Joan Pierce and Carol Munich, soprano; Mary Savage, alto; David Mitchell, tenor; and Carolyn Mason, trumpet. Faculty members participating will be Stanley Fink, pianist; Byron Avery, conductor; and Merrill Sturheim, trombone.

The group, under the direction of Dr. Hans Nathan, associate professor of the literature and fine arts department, will perform at 8 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of a Mass. Convention and Three Songs from William Shakespeare, Stravinsky.

Station to Give Music Show

Music by Johannes, Giacomo and Igor Stravinsky will be featured on the "Workshop of Early and Contemporary Music" over WJAE-TV, Thursday, at 9:30 p.m.

Warmer Today Vacation-Bound Students Get Weather Boost

Chilly Spartans will have a chance to warm up a little today as the weatherman has promised a slight drop in the temperature. The sky will be cloudy, though, and winds will blow from 10-22 mph.

Thanksgiving Convocation Set In Alumni Chapel

The annual Thanksgiving convocation, sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA, will be held in the Alumni Chapel at 7:30 tonight.

Geographers' Assn. Hears MSU Profs

Professor Clarence L. Vining and Lawrence M. Seavers of the geography department, spoke recently at the East Lansing Division meetings of the Association of American Geographers held in Ann Arbor.

Holiday Begins at 5

The Thanksgiving Holiday for students will begin at 5 p.m. today. According to the president's office, those classes meeting from 3-6 or 4-6 this afternoon will run through to completion.

Ag Board Approves Proposal

New Program To Aid Research

Establishment of a Labor and Industrial Relations Center at MSU was approved Saturday by the State Board of Agriculture, MSU's governing body.

Purpose of the Center would be to correlate instruction in the labor and industrial relations fields, developing new programs as needs are identified and fostering research.

The Board approved appointment of Prof. C. C. Killingsworth, head of the economics department, as head of the Center.

He will have an assistant to charge of research and planning. There will be two associate directors, one in charge of the labor program and one in charge of the management program. Various program coordinators will also be appointed.

President John A. Hannah pointed out many colleges and universities have active programs in the industrial relations area.

Several times in recent years, Dr. Hannah said, the establishment of such a center at MSU has been discussed.

It is felt appropriate that Michigan, one of the leading industrial states, should be served by a labor and industrial relations center at its largest university.

Dr. Hannah said the Morrill Act which established the land-grant system of education, indicates land-grant institutions to serve the industrial as well as the agricultural classes.

MSU, he continued, "is one of the leading proponents of the land-grant philosophy, has seen the great potential for service in this field, and has undertaken to develop appropriate programs within the limits of its resources."

He said the time has plainly arrived for us to consolidate the gains we have made, and to establish a firm basis for future development in the service of our increasingly complex social and economic structure.

The faculty committee which drafted the proposal for the center suggests the following subjects among those which might be taught in the labor education program:

Principles of administration, communications, local, national and international affairs; citizenship education, arbitration and dispute settlement; labor history, basic economics, pre-retirement planning, problems of collective bargaining and labor relations, and general cultural subjects.

Among the subjects suggested for the management program service were:

Arbitration, grievance negotiation, wage and motion study, wage administration and incentives, testing and placement, citizenship education, general economics, collective bargaining, industrial psychology, and industrial sociology.

The Center will utilize MSU faculty members for both teaching and research.

Wolver to Draft It E. Lansing To Commend Gridders

The city manager and attorney were instructed to draft a resolution commending the victorious Spartan football team and Coach Duffy Daugherty on the East Lansing city council at a meeting Monday night.

Heard Us Coming?

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Two earthquakes were recorded by the seismograph at California Institute of Technology Monday.

No Apologies Needed Mass Education Finds Defender

Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of Rutgers University and retiring head of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities, made some succinct but nevertheless highly enlightening remarks last week in his presidential address.

He defended the land-grant college philosophy from would-be detractors, and he urged reforms in higher education.

Both should be of primary interest to MSU students, the first because MSU is the pioneer land-grant institution, and the second because what Dr. Jones said might someday affect each college student directly.

In his own words, this is how Dr. Jones defended the land-grant colleges:

"We have had great men emerging from every type of educational institution. The same is unfortunately true of dopes. The idea that individuality is suppressed in the so-called mass education institutions and is fostered only in the smaller colleges does not hold water.

"The products of some of our eastern colleges are so recognizably alike that they have inspired a style in men's clothing, the Ivy League Cut. I have yet to hear of a Land-Grant College Cut.

"I am fed up with the tone of apology or disparagement one often hears concerning our most typically American educational institution, the large, publicly supported university. Its record needs no apology. It is being imitated, for good reason, all over the world."

Amen, Dr. Jones, amen.

On the matter of reforms, Jones was influenced by predictions that institutions of higher learning will be swamped by a "tidal wave" of students within the next 10 or 15 years.

He said a true demand for mass education is coming, and can be met, provided colleges ruthlessly discard outmoded educational practices.

He urged acceptance of new technological advances to aid the teacher, such as the use of closed-circuit television to expand each teacher's productivity.

Perhaps the most unusual—or at least the most intriguing—aspect of Jones' remarks on reforms was that he urged they start not with the means, but with the end product.

In short, with us—the students.

Educators, said Jones, agree a major aim of education is to teach students to think for themselves. But he is against what he called "intellectual baby-sitting."

"We tend to overteach, to spoon-feed our students," he maintained, "and forget that education is an active process which students must undertake for themselves.

"We don't want to prolong infancy, but to develop maturity."

And how to develop maturity?

Get "tough" with the non-serious student. "Request" those students merely filling up space to "move out, making room for those who really want an education."

Then, said Jones, start pruning the deadwood from the curriculum. Throw out "snap" courses.

He advised leaving the narrow specialties to the graduate, professional or trade schools, to short courses, extension work, or on-the-job training.

These reforms, he claimed, would effect economies to help meet the expected "tidal wave" of students.

It would also improve the product of colleges and universities, he said.

To which we can but humbly add: Amen, Dr. Jones, amen.

Cap and Gown Aid to Scientists

The National Science Foundation plans to award approximately 700 graduate and 80 postdoctoral fellowships for advanced study and training in the natural and applied sciences for 1956-57.

Those eligible to apply are U.S. citizens who are college seniors or graduates and postdoctoral students or faculty members. Holders of medical, dental and veterinary medical degrees are also eligible.

Stipends are graded from $1,400 to $1,800 per annum (plus payment of necessary fees for predoctoral students). Postdoctoral fellows are paid $3,400.00. In all cases, additional allowances are made for married students with dependents.

This fellowship program of the National Science Foundation is operated by the National Academy of Sciences—National Research Council, 1101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington 25, D.C. Fellows may study at the institution of their choice, provided appropriate facilities are available there.

Selection of fellows will be based on academic records and recommendations regarding each candidate's abilities. All applicants for predoctoral awards will be required to take an examination designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement. The examination will be administered at a large number of centers throughout the U.S. on the Jan. 21, 1956.

'Let Us Praise God...' Thanksgiving Means A Time for Worship

To the Editor: One year ago, I was in Africa. It was the only Thanksgiving Day that I ever spent away from the United States.

Speaking of Thanksgiving I often wonder if we realize the true significance of that word.

Many are under the impression this means "glorification of the gullet," which is the average American attitude. Yet how many realize that it was a day originally set aside to worship and thank Almighty God, for His wondrous preservation of our Pilgrim forefathers?

I am thankful that I am in this country, the finest on earth. I am thankful to God for what He means to me. I am thankful for God's blessings. I am thankful for freedom to worship God as I see fit. I am thankful for God's providing solace and comfort and friends in the midst of tragedy. Every one should praise God "from whom all blessings flow."

We should be thankful of our heritage. We should praise God for our forefathers and the faith of our mothers whose prayers and hopes have produced an America as we now know it.

We should be thankful for a staunch generation of God-fearing men and women of this present time, who are true to their ethics, morals and standards, and to God. These are composed of the John who you know, or the Lucille I know, who are brothers and sisters in the family of God. These are friends on whom we can count, in time of need.

Let us take notice of God's Word as revealed through the prophet Isaiah. "Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yes, I will help thee; yes, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness." (Isaiah 41:10).

Let us take notice and be thankful. Let us take notice and be happy that He is always with us. Let us join the Psalmist of old in his plea, "Let us praise God for His wonderful works to the children of men."

How Come Off-Campus Ticketing?

To the Editor: There is, in all likelihood, some purpose for having a police organization on the campus of MSU. There is also some disciplinary purpose probably served by restricting to some degree the possession of cars by the students.

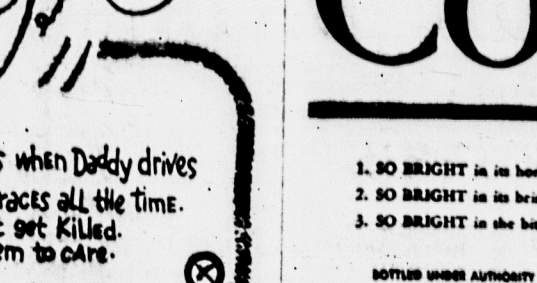

However, the legal logic behind the ticketing of student cars, when off campus, utterly escapes me and a lot of other people I know!

Since when do the campus police have jurisdiction over Lansing, East Lansing, and surrounding territories? Is there a part of the state where we can drive and park without the approval of the MSU police?

I realize that the rules, at present, state that certain students may not register their cars. But, if these unregistered cars never enter the campus, where does the school derive any authority over them? We contribute to East Lansing parking meters, and pay the tickets. If more is desired by the residents of the surrounding areas, whom we support at least in part, let them say so.

Vandenberg Supported It 18-Year-Old Voting Is Sign of Progress

To the Editor: I think voting for 18 to 20-year-olds is a well-founded idea. Education has made a lot of progress since 1776. We teach many millions of teen-agers the basis for American government. We teach them to think for themselves, as well as to respect the rights of others.

Twelve years of schooling for almost all 18-year-olds in 1955, as compared to two to six years for a few, and 12 years for even fewer, 18-year-olds in 1800, shows the progress we have made in educating our 18-year-olds in community, state, and national affairs. Now, an 18-year voting age would indicate that we believe our teaching has some value.

One of Michigan's and America's finest statesmen, Arthur Vandenberg, worked hard for a lower voting age. If he felt before his death, that 18-year voting would not hurt our country, I see no reason why a lowered voting age would be disadvantageous now.

"Votes, education, and work," according to Mazzini in 1844, are the pillars of a nation. Our 18-20-year-olds have work and education. Should we neglect the first pillar—a vote?

For Fine Record Congratulations to 1955 Spartan Football Team

To the Editor: I would like to take this opportunity, on behalf of the Inter-Residence Hall Council, to congratulate the Spartan football squad of 1955 on its fine record of wins vs. losses, spirit and sportsmanship. We are proud of you in every respect and wish you success for a decisive victory on Jan. 2. We will be there supporting you on the Coast as we did at home.

The student body, too, deserves a pat on the back, but we would like to withhold that pat on the back until after the trip to Los Angeles, and instead give it a word of caution. The eyes of the nation will be upon us, and this is our chance to prove once and for all that we are level-headed, clear-thinking, mature individuals.

The last time Michigan State represented the Big 10 in the Rose Bowl, it was a commendable trip in every respect. A repeat of that trip would show the consistency of a stable student body. Keep in mind that you are diplomats, in that you represent Michigan State University, and I am sure that your conduct will be of the highest character.

Butterfield Says Thanks

To the Editor: The residents of Butterfield Hall wish to express their heartfelt appreciation and sincere thanks to the men of Bry-er and Rather Halls.

You exceeded your duties as hosts last week, and we indeed felt the gesture.

We also were happy to learn from members of the Assn. of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities that their convention was successful, our campus is friendly and beautiful, and they thoroughly enjoyed their sojourn at Michigan State University.

Stricter Rulings For 13 Months

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Law enforcement agencies agreed today on a 10-point program to highlight a 13-month campaign against traffic accidents in Michigan.

Nearly 150 representatives of city, state and township police departments and sheriff's offices met on the program of stricter enforcement at a meeting called by Gov. Williams.

It is to be followed today by a similar meeting for mayors, prosecutors, city attorneys and judges and on Wednesday for so-called public support groups, television and civic organizations.

The police and sheriffs agreed to adopt a strict enforcement program aimed at stopping every motorist detected violating the law.

Arrest and "vigorously prosecute" every driver involved in an accident who contributed to or caused the accident by violating the law.

Make more frequent and more thorough inspections of autos as part of regular enforcement programs and arrest all drivers found to be operating unsafe vehicles.

Enforce pedestrian laws more strictly.

Increase of such scientific aids as radar and electric speed measuring devices.

Increase the use of chemical tests for intoxication.

Permit officers to report to the Secretary of State the names of drivers whom they believe are not safe drivers.

Use unmarked or semi-marked police cars for traffic law enforcement whenever necessary.

Step up the training of traffic officers at established schools and seek more funds from local governments for such training.

Ask local governments for more traffic officers.

In addition, the group agreed to report to the state police each morning the number of fatalities in their jurisdictions on the preceding day.

The daily box score of fatalities would be reported to Gov. Williams each morning so that the next 13 months state agencies can keep close track of the proposed crackdown on traffic accidents.

Where Bomb Burst

The baggage compartment of the United Air Lines plane which was reconstructed from pieces of wreckage from the Nov. 1 crash in which 44 persons died, is shown by W. C. The FBI said the wreckage in this section clearly showed powder burns.

Drive to Open Monday 'Klothes for Korean Kids' Awaits Students' Return

A "Klothes for Korean Kids" drive will await Spartans when the return from Thanksgiving vacation, Nov. 28.

Sponsors of the "Three-K" drive, Bethel Manor, religious living unit, announced plans for the drive today in hopes that students will be able to bring contributions back to campus on their return.

A boxcar load of clothes by Dec. 4 has been set as the drive goal. Clothes collected will be sent to the 8th Army Chaplain in Korea who will distribute to the children.

Students who return with contributions are asked to call ED 2-1427 and the clothes will be picked up by Bethel Manor members.

Figures in the Kangsa Press, Seoul newspaper, show that there are over 100,000 orphans now in Korea, Bill Branta, drive committee member said. Of this total 53,000 are homeless, he said.

Cooperating with the campus group is the Lansing Junior Chamber of Commerce.

KAPS Elect Officers At Organizational Meet

The KAPS Club held their organizational meeting Nov. 29. Club officers were elected.

Another organizational meeting will be held Dec. 4.

To Provide Better Local Service

There's A Reason for Campus Police

By BARRIE ALLEY

Ever stop to wonder why we have a separate police force on campus or simply what their purpose is?

In 1947, the State Board of Agriculture decided the university should have a separate police force. Before that time the East Lansing Police patrolled the campus. It was at this time Arthur F. Brandstatter was appointed Chief of Police, a position he still holds.

The reason for the creation of the campus police was that it was believed a police department on campus would be more interested in the affairs of the students than a city police force. It was also believed a separate department could provide better service to the residents of the university.

The University Police derive their authority from the State Board of Agriculture which has the same power a city does in that it may create a police department to enforce the ordinances it passes. The campus police are also deputized by the Igham County Sheriff.

The campus police are salaried employees and work the standard 40-hour week. According to Lt. A. S. Ellis, the campus police salaries are about equal to those of the other departments in the area.

Contrary to popular student belief the police do not spend all their time writing student violations. In fact they spend less time at that than they do on their other activities.

Football games present a unique problem of traffic control, and other law enforcement agencies in the area have to be called in to assist the campus police. Student help is also hired for the games.

Patrols are called on to make property inspections of campus buildings and equipment valued at over 60 million dollars. Included within the 3,725 acre Michigan State campus are 84 permanent buildings and 490 temporary buildings which have to be inspected regularly. This figure does not include buildings, barns, and sheds in the farm areas.

Transportation of the sick and injured is another community service performed by the campus police. Last month they made 86 hospital runs.

If possible motorists are aided at any time assistance is called for. The police are also called on to deliver emergency messages to students and staff members when other means of communication have failed.

According to Lt. Charles Becker, head of the detective bureau, the women's dorms have twice the amount of stealing the men's dorms have. The investigation of larcenies and any criminal activity including murder, is the job of the detective bureau.

Also a part of the campus police is the fire prevention bureau headed by Fire Inspector Richard Bernitt. Under Bernitt are two equipment servicemen. It is their responsibility to maintain all fire prevention equipment and all parking meters on campus.

Summer Job Kick-Off Set

Plans are underway for a summer job "kick-off" meeting Feb. 1, according to John Kinney, assistant director of the Placement Bureau.

Speaking at the meeting will be representatives of business and industrial firms, recreation departments, boys' and girls' camps, resorts, and hotels.

Each will discuss available openings, wages, and qualifications needed by student applicants. Application blanks will be distributed after the meeting.

Last year the Placement Bureau handled 8,000 offers of summer jobs. Because of the increase in students, there will be a substantial increase in the number of positions available this year, Kinney said.

State to Enter Livestock Show

Michigan State has entered 56 head of livestock in the International Livestock Exposition competition in Chicago Friday thru Dec. 3.

Animals from the MSU flocks and herds will compete in 10 of the 24 breeds of animals shown. Two student judging teams will compete in intercollegiate meets and livestock contests. Their coach is A. M. Pearson of the animal husbandry department.

Between 5 and 10 per cent of normal children are far sighted.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance - cellulose - found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

- Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
- The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
- Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
- Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip - and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Top Teams in NCAA Meet

By HAL BATEMAN
State News Sports Editor
Next Monday when the entries for the NCAA cross country meet line-up one of the finest fields in the history of the meet will be assembled.

hawks have a squad that is undefeated this season and with team depth good enough to finish five men within a 50 second period.

The Kansas team of Frame, Jerry McNeal, Hal Long, Bob

The entry list has teams from Boston University to Southern California and from Michigan State to the University of Texas.

Michigan State will enter the same team that carried them to a Big 10 title and a runner-up position in the ICA.

The teams that will give the Spartans the most competition will be Kansas, the Big Seven champion, Pitt, the ICA king, and Notre Dame, the Central Colleague titlist.

Of these three teams Kansas has the best potential to walk away with the top honors. Paced by the defending national champion, Al Frame, the Jay-

AL FRAME seeks repeat win...

Nicholson and Bernie Gay is a formidable aggregation. Many of the stronger teams have experienced trouble in placing a good fifth man but the Jayhawks haven't had that trouble and the difference could mean the national title.

The individual entries are a list of some of the top runners in the world. In the pre-meet speculations Michigan State's Henry Kennedy is the heavy favorite.

The Scots-Canadian has run the Spartans NCAA course in 19:28.3, a course record which is also under the NCAA record of 19:36.7 set in the 1932 meet by Georgetown's Charlie Capozzoli.

The fastest four miles on the course other than Kennedy's time is the 19:54 posted by Frame in winning last year's race. Frame, another fine runner produced by Kansas coach Bill Easton, will be attempting to give Kansas three individual winners in a row.

In 1933, the fabulous Wes Santee walked away with the top honors. Last year it was Frame and this year the Kansas senior has only been defeated once.

Other entries that could turn the race into a wide open affair are Pitt's Arnie Sowell, Boston University's George Terry, Southern Cal's highly-touted Max Truex and Villanova's fine pair of runners, Ron Delaney and Alex Breckenridge.

Last year one of the finest fields ever entered turned the race into a strategic battle among the front runners. This year the entry list is even better but the man to watch will be a Scotsman wearing the Green and the White.

Taylor Hedges To Pick Victor In Rose Bowl

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The one football coach in the country who possibly could know first hand, indicated Monday he thought Michigan State might have an edge over UCLA in the Rose Bowl game.

Chuck Taylor of Stanford, in the unique position of being the only coach whose team played—and lost to—both of this year's Pasadena contestants in regular season play, hedged a little on naming the winner of the Jan. 2 game.

"You're not going to get me to stick my neck out clear down to Pasadena," he said, grinning. "I'm not going to pick the winner."

"We lost to Michigan State 38-14 and to UCLA 21-13. On the days we played both teams, Michigan State was the better."

"It was better because it hit harder and had more balance and overall speed. It also had more good running backs and a quicker line and those two things could make the difference."

"Both of them have tremendous offenses, but from my experience I'd say that Michigan State had the edge."

Washington State Fires Al Kircher

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Al Kircher was fired as football coach at Washington State College Monday night after one of the Cougars' worst seasons in history. The school said it is buying up the one-year left on his contract for $12,500.

President C. Clement French said the action also affects two of Kircher's assistants, line coach Mike Sears and end coach Dale Gentry.

'Gee, Gang, We're Really Awful Sorry'

Kramer, Sigman - Apologize to Team

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan said Monday the two players expelled from the Michigan-Ohio State football game Saturday have apologized to their teammates and coaches.

Oosterbaan stressed, however, that tackle Al Sigman and end Ron Kramer were ejected for arguing with game officials, not for fighting.

Oosterbaan made his statement after a coaches meeting Monday. Ohio State won its second straight Big 10 title Saturday by whipping Michigan 17-0.

A victory would have given the Wolverines the conference crown and a Rose Bowl bid.

The Michigan-Ohio State game erupted in a rash of penalties to both teams as partisan fans of both schools crowded the field before the game was over.

The three minutes of penalties that closed the game ran in this order:

- 1. Illegal use of the hands against Ohio State—15 yards.
2. A double penalty against both squads eight plays later—play nullified.
3. Illegal use of the hands against Ohio State two plays later.
4. Personal foul against Michigan two plays later. In the resulting arguments, Sigman and Kramer were ejected from the game for unsportsmanlike conduct. Michigan was penalized to the 18-inch line.
5. Personal foul against Ohio State two plays later, following an Ohio score—15 yards.
6. A double penalty nullified.
7. Illegal use of the hands against Michigan on the next play.
8. Personal foul against Michigan on the final play of the game.

A fair catch signal means the safety man will not attempt to run back the punt, but desires possession of the ball at the point of his catch. If an on-charging lineman tackles the safety man after the fair catch signal is given, his team is penalized 15 yards.

A check of NFL statistics shows that in any NFL game there are no more than three punt returns. Almost invariably the safety men throw up their hands signaling a fair catch.

Blank Greens, 18-0

Whites Win Frosh Tilt

In the season's second and final freshman intra-squad football tilt, the White team rebounded from last week's 12-0 loss to subdue the Greens, 18-0 at Macklin stadium.

Led by the fine quarterbacking of Oarie Lemanski, the Whites broke into the scoring column in the opening quarter. After Lemanski returned Tony Dicenzo's opening kickoff to his 25, the Whites moved 75 yards to register their first touchdown.

After penetrating to the Green eight, the Whites scored on an end sweep by halfback Henny Young who had taken a pitchout from Lamanski. Key play in the scoring drive was a 15 yard pass from Lemanski to Tony Polosky.

The White defense took over to hold the Greens in check throughout the balance of the period.

In the second period, Lemanski faded back to pass from his 34 yard line, couldn't find a receiver.

Unable to move the ball, White's Dake punted to the Green 31, where the ball touched a Green player and hobbled past him. Ellison Kelly, White guard, fell on the loose ball to set up the second touchdown.

After Young had moved the ball to the six, quarterback Greg Montgomery scored on a keeper play.

Early in the fourth quarter, with the Greens in possession of the ball, quarterback Art Johnson fumbled twice, with White halfback Lou Gorisk's recovering the second. From there it was Lemanski, as he carried the ball on several running plays. On the down, Lemanski was chased by the Green 35, but broke away from several would-be tacklers and scored a TD.

Trailing 18-0, the Greens came to life, moving to the White 30 on a 28-yard pass from Peatross to Bill Brozovic. However, the superior White defense came to the rescue, and the Whites were again in possession as the game ended.

thrown for a 10 yard loss by linebacker Mark Tate.

After Bill Drew carried to the Green two on an end around play, the Greens displayed some defense of their own, holding the opposition steady as the first half gun sounded.

Opening the second half, Harry Guydan, White fullback, kicked off to the Green five where Bill Ricucci received and returned the ball 18 yards. Quarterback Bill Peatross threw a 12 yard pass to Ricucci, but the offense bogged down, and he had to punt to the White 33.

THE TRUE AND TRAGICAL TALE OF HAPPY JACK SIGAFOOS
Who would have thought that Happy Jack Sigafos, the boy the sky never rained on, would ever teeter on the edge of a life of crime?
Certainly there was no sign of it in his boyhood. His home life was most tranquil and uplifting. His mother was a nice plump lady who hummed a lot and gave baskets to the poor. His father was a highly respected citizen who could imitate more than four hundred bird calls and once saved an elderly widow from drowning in his good suit. (That is, Mr. Sigafos was in his good suit; the elderly widow was in swimming trunks.)

Happy Jack's life was nothing short of idyllic—until he went off to college.
In college Happy Jack quickly became a typical freshman—tweedy, seedy, and needy. He learned the joys of rounding out his personality, and he learned the cost. His allowance vanished like dew before the morning sun. There were times, it grows me to report, when he didn't even have enough for a pack of Philip Morris—and you know how miserable that can be. To be deprived of Philip Morris's gentle flavor, its subtly blended tastiness, its trauma-repairing mildness, its ineffable excellence—why, it is a prospect to break the heart in twain!

Happy Jack tried to get more money from home. He wrote piteous and impassioned letters pointing out that the meagre allowance he had been given could not be maintained on his meagre allowance. But all Jack got from home were tiresome homilies about thrift and prudence.

Then one day a sinister sophomore came up to Jack and said: "I know how you can get more money from home." Jack said, "How?" and the sinister sophomore handed him a sheet of paper. "For one dollar," said the sinister sophomore, "I will sell you this list of fiendishly clever lies to tell your father when you need extra money."

- Jack read the list of fiendishly clever lies:
1. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a new house for the Dean of Men.
2. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a headstone for Rover, our late, beloved dormitory watchdog.
3. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy the college a new fullback.
4. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to endow a chair of fine arts.
5. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to build our own space satellite.

For a moment, poor Jack was tempted; surely his father could not but support all these worthy causes. Then Jack's good upbringing came to the fore. He turned to the sinister sophomore and said, "No, thank you. I could not deceive my aged parents. And as for you, sir, I can only say—Fie!"

Upon hearing this, the sinister sophomore broke into a huge grin. He whipped off his black hat and pasty face—and who do you think it was? None other than Mr. Sigafos, Happy Jack's father, that's who!

"Good lad," cried Mr. Sigafos. "You have passed your test brilliantly." With that he gave Happy Jack a check for a half million dollars and a red convertible containing four noble maidens.

Crimé does not pay!
The makers of Philip Morris, sponsors of this column, could not agree more. But we'll tell you what does pay—smoking America's great cigarette... new Philip Morris, of course!

AP Honors 3 Spartan Gridders

CHICAGO (AP)—Sweeping eight from Michigan State, Ohio State dominated the Associated Press 1955 all-Big 10 football team as they did in the conference drive.

Michigan State and Ohio State each landed three berths, and placed two on the No. 1 lineup chosen by AP staff writers in the Big 10 Monday.

The Spartans placed quarterback Earl Morrall, guard Buck Nystrom and tackle Norm Masters on the honorary eleven.

In addition, two of State's top ball carriers were selected on the second team. Fullback Gerry Planulis and halfback Walt Kowalewski gained second squad backfield berths.

One place on the first team went to Purdue, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Seven seniors and three juniors were named, with only one sophomore making the grade — halfback Bob Mitchell of Illinois.

Mitchell's selection was an unprecedented gesture, for until the last two weeks of the season his status at Illinois was that of a reserve. He got his big chance when Harry Jefferson, who he understudied, was injured.

Buck Nystrom Named Most Valuable Player

By JACK BERRY
State News Night Editor

Visibly shaken with emotion, Capt. Buck Nystrom humbly accepted the Most Valuable Player award from Gov. G. Mennen Williams Monday night at the football banquet.

Earlier in the evening Coach Duffy Daugherty, a former guard at Syracuse, said Nystrom "is the finest guard I've seen in my nine years at Michigan State. I've never seen an individual contribute more to a team."

Gov. Williams said that football teams from the state have established a reputation for good squads, and usually it's MSU that's carrying the tradition.

"We're all mighty proud of Michigan State," the Governor said.

President Hannah said "it's been a great year for this university." The President went on to outline the events that have been so significant in MSU's Centennial year, from Founder's Day to the recent Assn. of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

"But no one could have planned a climax as you have arranged it," Hannah said.

Daugherty said the Rose Bowl squad would be limited to 44 players and that they would leave Lansing Dec. 16. But he added the other 25 members of the varsity would also go to Pasadena traveling with the bonus train.

"The 69th man on the squad who has been out there holding a tackling dummy all season and running opponents' plays was just as valuable as the first stringer," Daugherty said.

The "Olean Award" given to the player who combines athletic prowess with humor was given to Emory Robinson. The injured guard, who kicked off for the Spartans in their first Rose Bowl appearance, said "I trust for the award about three years ago."

Appropriately, the speaker's table was decorated with a large vase of American Beauty roses.

It's Official: UCLA Is State's foe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Happy over the formal selection of the UCLA football team to represent the Pacific Coast Conference against Michigan State in the Rose Bowl, Bruin students staged an impromptu celebration on the campus in the rain Monday.

But Coach Henry R. (Red) Sanders contributed a cautioning note when he observed:

"Michigan State may well be the best team in the nation."

"I saw them twice on television this season and they were the most impressive team I saw all year."

Sanders intimated that Michigan might have presented slightly less of a problem for his PCC champions, but he insisted "we'd rather play the best."

Frosh Team Loses 2 Races

The freshman cross country squad hasn't had the success of their varsity teammates. In two postal dual meets the Spartans' frosh lost to Kansas freshmen, 23-32 and were downed by Drake, 24-31.

Ron Wheeler, two-time Detroit city champion, was State's leading runner in the two meets. His 9:24.1 two-mile time was good for first in both meets. The time is only three seconds off the freshman record of 9:22 set by Henry Kennedy last year.

Ron Lorton, from Montclair, N.J., was the Spartans' second best runner with a 10:25.3 clocking. The other yardings are Jim Armit, 10:25.1, Mike McGevey, 10:32.2 and Bob Hughes, 10:36.7.

'Mural Results

Because of the closing of school today, the semi-final touch football games will be played Monday, Nov. 28, and the finals will be on Tuesday.

The Bruins wound up the regular season with a 17-7 victory over Southern California and an overall record of nine wins and one loss, to Maryland, 7-6.

The Spartans beat UCLA team in the bowl 28-29 in the 1954 edition.

Sanders said he does not as yet know whether his throwing ace, injured Bonnie Knox will be ready to play against MSU.

Play Thanksgiving Day Icemen Open Season in East

By JUNE TURNER
Michigan State hockey team will leave for New York today to open the 1955 season against St. Lawrence University, Thanksgiving Day.

"This trip will see us playing the best in the East," hockey coach Amo Bessone commented. "We're hoping for the best but we've got a tough row to hoe."

On their Eastern trip the Spartans will meet two other schools in the New York league, Clarkston Tech and Stauderbury College.

According to Bessone the eastern series is a good training trip and will give him an opportunity to know more about the team under game conditions.

"Our team is coming along," Bessone said. "We've had flashes of good hockey, spirit is good, and the boys are hustling."

Last season State defeated St. Lawrence, rated number one team in the East, by 5-3 score. Although St. Lawrence lost three key men who were All-East selections, they have three promising sophomore defensesmen.

Clarkston, the pre-season favorite in the East, expects the best team in their history State lost to Clarkston 10-5 last year.

Captain Eddie (the Moose) Schiller, who finished last year's season with a 4.3 record per game, will be assisted on defense by two dependable sophomores, Gordie Lassila and Butch Miller. Art Barker will be substitute defenseman.

Defenseman Ned Werner will not see action this year because of a back condition which won't permit him to play.

Cocaptain John (Bud) Polomsky, who will see double duty on offense and defense, will team with wings Bert Pomerleau and Karl Jackson on the number two line.

2 Home Cage Games to Be Televised

Two of Michigan State's Big 10 home basketball games will be televised this coming season, according to a recent schedule set up by the NCAA.

The games with Purdue Jan. 14 and Illinois, Feb. 18, will both be seen nationally and will be played at 3 in the afternoon instead of the evening time.

The Big 10 TV schedule gets under way Dec. 3 with the televising of the Nebraska-Iowa game.

Anderson Rumored New Warrior Tutor

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Bay Herald Monday night said Massachusetts football coach Dr. Ed Anderson is seriously considering an offer to become head coach and athletic director at Marquette.

The thought is immediate, according to Anderson, who said "I have never talked to anyone connected with Marquette University. I am very happy here at Boston College. I can't understand where such rumors would originate."

To Increase Reception 55 Miles Frequency To Climb At WKAR

WKAR radio is looking forward to the installation of a new antenna and increased FM frequency this coming spring.

The State Board of Agriculture authorized the radio station to apply to the Federal Communications Commission for increased power, and a construction permit was granted on Sept. 29.

According to R. J. Coleman, director of WKAR radio, the new power will increase the reception area from 45 miles radius to approximately 100 and will make the university station comparable to other high educational stations.

There is an indication that FM listeners are increasing, he said. People who enjoy hi-fidelity music are turning to FM radio for static free reception, he added. About 20 per cent of WKAR's radio audience is on the FM cycle, according to Coleman.

The FM frequency is the only way that WKAR can broadcast at night. Concerts and basketball games are scheduled for night broadcasts next term.

In order to produce the increased power, it is necessary to take down the present antenna, which is atop the 300 foot radio tower, and replace it with a more efficient one. An amplifier will be attached to the transmitter.

At present WKAR has 9.7 kilowatts of effective radiated power. The new antenna will produce as much as 100 kilowatts.
