U. S. Appeals Court Rules

Right to Investigate Communism Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals, splitting 5-4, Thursday upheld the right of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to investigate Communism in the field of education.

The majority specifically held that the Supreme Court did not strike down last June in its Feiner decision the House resolution setting up the committee. "We believe that if the Court had intended to strike down the resolution, it would have said so in many words," wrote Judge Walter M. Bastian for the majority.

"It would not have left so much to inference or interpretation. The far-reaching nature of such a holding would be by action of the entire House of Representatives, would be subject to the veto of the President, and would not be able to summon a witness who might have been his testifier."

The decision Thursday was the first interpretation by an appellate court of the June 24 decision of the Supreme Court reversing the conviction of John T. Walker, a labor union official of New York, Ill.

Thursday's ruling affirmed the attempt of Congress conviction of David Barenblatt of New York, educator.

Barenblatt, who formerly taught at the University of Michigan and Vassar College, refused to tell a subcommittee on un-American activities June 1954 whether he then was or ever had been a member of the Communist party. He was convicted in U. S. District Court in New York and sentenced to six months in jail and fined $250.

Where in the Watkins opinion by Chief Justice Warren, Bastian said, does the Court use language supporting Barenblatt's contention that it struck down the resolution creating the committee?

Watkins appeared before a subcommittee on un-American activities during an inquiry into Communist infiltration in labor. Watkins denied he had been a Communist, but he had cooperated with the labor movement 10 years earlier.

Board Told 'Flunk-outs' Due to Rigorous Policy

About 1,000 students "flunked out" full term, Thomas Hamilton, vice president for academic affairs, reported to the State Board of Agriculture Thursday. The figure is approximately 400 over the total for fall term 1956, Hamilton said.

Exact figures were not available since there are no centralized records, Hamilton said, only departmental.

He indicated there has been no official change in procedure, but stated faculty demands are becoming more rigorous, and there is increasing attention being paid to the quality of work demanded.

Hamilton also announced that fall term only 180 students, compared to 210 the previous year, received all-A report cards.

President John Hannah told the board this indicated not a deterioration of work on the part of the student, but more rigorous demands by the faculty members, Hamilton said the trend "appear to be a good thing."

A new chairman, Dr. Connor D. Smith, was elected by board members Thursday to succeed Clark L. Brody.

Smith, a Democrat, indicated no contemplated policy change on the board, which has a Democratic majority (4-2) for the first time since 1938-39.

The Associated Press reported Smith as answering questions regarding policy changes: "This wouldn't be the time. We wouldn't want to be in the first place. We hope to continue to make this a great university and have every confidence in the administration."

Sitting as board members for the first time were G. Donald Stevens of Grand Rapids and Jan C. Vanderploeg, Muskegon, elected last April.

Durward B. Varner, vice president for off-campus affairs, was appointed director in charge of future developments at the Oakland County branch near Rochester.

Varner reported that bids probably will be taken the last week in February for the first college building to be constructed on the Meadowbrook Farms estate donated by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson.

He said construction on the $2,000,000 building should be started by April.

Varner reported there has been intense interest and enthusiasm for the new branch among Oakland County residents. He said a meeting to discuss plans for the branch attracted 1,200 persons in the small town of Rochester.

In other action, the board approved the appointment of Jack Breslin as assistant to Varner, and appointed John Kinney to succeed Breslin as director of the Placement Bureau.

A 1946 MSU graduate and former Spartan halfback, Breslin was district manager of the Dodge division of Chrysler Corp., Allentown, Pa. from 1946 to 1953. He joined the MSU agricultural placement staff in 1955 and became placement director in 1957.

Kinney, a 1939 MSU graduate, was a professional football player with the Boston Red Sox, 1939-52, and was engaged in life insurance work in Lansing and Flint before joining the Placement Bureau in 1953.

Both appointments are effective immediately.

Gifts and grants for MSU totaling $286,078.72 were accepted by the board Thursday.

Largest single grant was $221,222.30 from the Kellogg Foundation, Battle Creek, for continuation of a national project aimed at improving the distribution of agricultural information.

British Hold Nassau Calm During Strike

NASSAU (AP)—Normally gay Nassau lay silent and virtually empty of tourists Thursday while patrolling British soldiers enforced order in a general strike. Strikers gave no indication they would return soon to work.

A return would take some time, it was estimated, as Nassau's 16 resort hotels have closed and operations of most have gone elsewhere, like most of their guests. An estimated 25 or more tourists found lodgings in private homes and stayed on doing their own cooking and chamber work in some cases.

Almost all ship and air service had stopped between this colorful city of 20,000 and U. S. ports, which ordinarily attract Nassau daily with hundreds of visitors.

Sir Raynor Arthur, governor of the Bahamas, held open his offer of last week for arbitration of a dispute between the Bahamas Taxicab Union and four companies over distribution of business at Nassau International Airport.

The taxicab union, whose walkout Sunday spread to operating staffs of the hotels and to street-cleaning and stevedoring crews—made no open move to reopen discussion of the dispute.

Three planeloads of troops of the British Royal Wiltshire regiment walked past with rifles and sub-machine guns beside the shuttered resorts.

On Their Ornithopters

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union is developing small planes that flap their wings like birds. This throwback to man's ancient dream of flying was reported Thursday by the news agency Tass and Komsomol Pravda, newspaper of the Young Communist League.

Komsomol Pravda went starting off into the future. It pictured a day in Moscow with streets deserted of traffic and pedestrians and the air filled with flapping wings.

"Everybody will take to the air then," the paper said, "even children going to school."

But it was not made clear whether the 13 experimental models Komsomol Pravda says have been built have ever gotten off the ground.

Beth Tass and Komsomol Pravda said the experimental planes had been christened ornithopters—a combination of ornitho from the Greek meaning birds, and pteron, meaning wing.

Tass said a Russian named Pavel Smirnov designed ornithopter with wings like a bird and a German named Rybnikov designed one with wings like an insect.

Komsomol Pravda conceded experiments with ornithopters get no place in other countries a half century and more ago. But it said interest had been revived in the Soviet Union because a flapping wing plane could do things no conventional plane do.

"It is unsuited for short flights," the paper said, "can land and take off anywhere, and its lifting power is three or four times greater than that of conventional planes."

Tass put it this way: an ornithopter capable of carrying 15 persons would need no more power than a conventional plane carrying only two.

President Genshu Asato of the University of Ryukyus, Okinawa, received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree during a meeting of the Academic Assembly Thursday. He is visiting the campus to become familiar with the role of the land grant college.

Big 4 Confer

Dispute Threatens German Rail Link

BERLIN (AP)—The Big Four Powers conferred Thursday night on a train dispute threatening the rail link between isolated West Berlin and West Germany.

U. S., French and British officials sent to Soviet Army headquarters in East Berlin after the Russians delayed four American and two British military trains on their runs Tuesday night and Wednesday through Communist East Germany.

While the supply trains again moved normally Thursday, Western officials were concerned that the rail dispute might lead into a new East-West crisis.

Col. John P. Connor, chief of staff of the U. S. Berlin Command, accused the Russians of trying illegally to tighten their controls on western rail traffic through East Germany. Connor told a news conference Soviet officials at their Marienborn checkpoint on the West German frontier were insisting on the right to stamp documents of western trains in transit.

He said the Russians had been gradually tightening the controls and the Western allies were determined to resist this new "foot in the door."

Similar disputes over so-called technical matters led to the 1948-49 blockade of West Berlin. Western train commanders have refused to comply with the new Soviet regulations. Connor said the train commanders were "walled through Marienborn this morning with a Soviet warning that in the near future the Russians would require stamps on the documents."

For instance, he said, "planes without anybody to fly them, vehicles without gasoline to run them."

And it listed a wide range of specific cases which allegedly hurt the interests of the U. S. taxpayer. The subcommittee made its report after a trip to Europe last fall armed with general accounting office (GAO) findings.

U. S. Must Get Crops On Move

Recommendations Outlined to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called upon Congress Thursday for authority to reduce price supports and to ease production controls on major crops.

In a special message, the Chief Executive said in effect that the government must shift its farm policies away from efforts to restrict production to programs designed to move the expanding production into markets.

"The scientific revolution in agriculture is irreversible and is continuing," he said. "It cannot be avoided and it need not be feared."

Eisenhower asked for authority to set supports for major crops well below present levels, and for power to increase planting allotments.

Eisenhower outlined 14 recommendations—some requiring legislative action and others not—for setting up what he called a new "farm, food and fiber program" to help "our farmers to adjust to today's rapidly changing economy."

Specifically, his major legislative recommendations—which had been outlined previously by both himself and Secretary Benson—asked for authority to set supports for cotton, corn, wheat, rice, peanuts and tobacco as low as 60 percent of parity and to increase planting allotments of these crops as much as 50 percent above levels now directed by law.

The present minimum support level for these crops is 75 percent of parity. The maximum level is 90 percent. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

To the surprise of some farm leaders, Eisenhower also asked that the minimum support level for dairy supports—now 75 percent of parity, be 60 percent. The maximum is 90 percent.

Some leaders had not expected this dairy recommendation in view of sharp opposition raised in Congress to recent action of Benson in lowering dairy supports to 75 percent, effective April 1. Present supports are 83 percent for milk and 80 for butterfat.

The President's recommendations proposed a sharp change in direction in federal policies. Past and present programs put great stress on controls to adjust output to a level that would provide farmers prices designed to give them good income.

Board Drops Spartacade

Plans for a 1958 Spartacade, annual student carnival, were cancelled Wednesday night at a meeting of the Campus Chest board of directors. Spartacade chairman Chuck Walther announced Thursday.

Previously the board had set April 5 as the only date possible to hold the event. Complications arose because Easter Sunday is April 6, and students could not be expected to give full participation.

According to Walther, the cancellation does not eliminate the possibility of 1959 Spartacade. Campus Chest Board is presently working on plans for a substitute event to be held this year which would help raise the $3,000 usually contributed by Spartacade.

E.L. Police Chief Warns Drivers

"Cars parked too close to crosswalks will be ticketed and towed away," said Chief Charles Pegg, East Lansing police Thursday.

The cars affected by this are those parked on streets in the immediate area of Berkeley Hall.

Pegg said the cars have been cutting down the visibility distance for other autos and pedestrians and the situation should be cleared up immediately.

The Gaither Report-Long, Long Silence

For more than a month there have been disturbing reports emanating from Washington about the so-called Gaither Report, a top secret study of what would happen to the U.S. if the Russians attacked.

Named after H. Rowan Gaither Jr., former head of the Ford Foundation who headed the inquiry, the report is said to be of such vital importance to the country that its publication, or at least release of some parts of it, is being vigorously urged by some of those who prepared it.

The Administration, with the alleged exception of Vice President Nixon, appears to be unwilling to divulge its contents even to the Senate Preparedness subcommittee.

As the days go by and the air fills more and more with the menacing blasts of missile tests, the secrecy surrounding the report and the reasons for that secrecy appear increasingly ominous.

At one point there was an unconfirmed rumor that the document recommended, among other things, a $200,000,000 shelter construction program. This sounded utterly mad; it is hard to imagine that what would be left of this country after a nuclear holocaust would be worth that much in cash.

Our reaction was, of course, framed in the ignorance Washington has imposed on us. Facts unknown now might conceivably change our view.

But the folly of a return to the caves pales before a new madness we are now told is implicit in the Gaither report's findings. According to Drew Pearson, the report hints "in guarded terms" that, because the U.S. is on the way to becoming a second-class power, it should not wait to be attacked but should attack Russia first.

In other words, preventive war is being considered the answer to the scientific and foreign policy quandary into which we have allowed ourselves to fall.

We can't vouch for the accuracy of the Pearson story. But if it reflects in any degree the true implication of the Gaither report, there should be an immediate, unequivocal statement by the government that it has no intention of adopting this formula.

We have enough indications that this Administration has been unable to work out an alternative to war. But it is unthinkable that the bankruptcy of its foreign policy, as illustrated in Paris last month, can lead it to contemplate unleashing the final conflict of mankind.

We are sure President Eisenhower would spurn such policy; we hope he knows there is such talk in the air.

'End of the Reign'

Traffic reports received by the State Board of Agriculture Thursday afternoon revealed that 354 students were ticketed for failure to register their automobiles.

Of this total, 230 have since registered, 33 took their cars home, 29 paid the $25 fine in addition to taking their cars home, 48 failed to register and two students were discovered carrying less than six credits.

Of the remaining two automobiles, one was sold for junk and other belonged to a FACULTY member.

And so ends another MSU reign of terror, with additional proof that "crime does not pay."

Aud Set-up Changes Suggested

To the Editor:

Just a few words to the author of the article on Otello, Mr. Laurence Taylor.

First of all, we would like to make a suggestion that has been discussed and rediscussed concerning the use of the large auditorium for such dramatic programs as Otello. Perhaps Mr. Taylor was on the first floor in the front row, and thus to him the play was "brilliantly played" as he put it. However, from where the majority of students were sitting in the balcony, most of the play was nothing but a jumble of meaningless words and phrases they were fortunate enough to catch at intervals. It ruined the entire effect and purpose of the play.

Since the ticket sales for a production such as this are obviously smaller, as was evidenced by the many empty seats on the first floor, provision should be made to let the people in the balcony fill in these positions at the intermission and thus give them the benefit of seeing and hearing the performance as it is meant to be received, or else the performance should be staged in a more appropriate place.

As far as Mr. Taylor's reference to the "audience barbarians" is concerned, I would like to point out that it was a matter of the seats, leaving them or taking a chance of getting late minutes. You see, obviously Mr. Taylor was under the impression that they did not have 10-30 to take late seats. AWS came through with the 10-30 pass permission later, that is true, but the seats weren't informed of this change.

It should have been announced during intermission to prevent the misunderstanding and interruption it caused. We therefore feel that this criticism of the "audience barbarians" was uncalled for and unjust under the circumstances.

These are just a few considerations we would like realized in the future to make performances more worthwhile, enjoyable and to prevent further occurrences such as the ones Tuesday night that embarrassed the actors and the audience.

Roving Rover

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A friendly dog, who seems to have adopted the State Capitol as a home, had state employees mystified Thursday.

The black cocker spaniel trotted into the building in the morning, boarded an elevator, rode to the second floor and walked around the corner to enter the governor's office.

When Gov. Williams called his daily staff conference, the dog followed aides into the governor's private office and stretched out on a rug to listen. The pooch accepted water and a doughnut from office secretaries and spent most of the day jolling on the carpet.

The visitor also toured the House and Senate chambers.

A check of the three principal hotels and a meeting of township officials failed to turn up an owner. The well-groomed cocker was a collar with Clare county dog license No. 1911.

Cops Unfair?

It has come to my attention that the Michigan State police routinely place on a summons the fact that an individual is an MSU student. I feel, as perhaps others do, that this is unnecessary and prevents an individual from having a fair hearing.

DeMaso Wants New Speed Limit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A bill proposing to cut the speed limit on Michigan's highways from 65 to 55 miles an hour was ready for introduction into the legislature today.

Sponsor of the measure is Rep. Harry DeMaso (R-Battle Creek), who also proposed to reduce the night-time driving speed from 55 to 45 miles.

Michigan got its first speed limit two years ago when the legislature imposed the 65 and 55-mile top speeds at a special session called to deal with traffic problems.

Pucksters Face Off Against Michigan Tech This Weekend

Optimistic Despite Loss

By DAVE BARRELL

Michigan State's hockey team tangles with the Huskies of Michigan Tech in a two-game series Friday and Saturday night in Deni Hall.

The Huskies from Houghton are the cellar dwellers in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League, but should not be considered solely on their standing. They have won two and lost eight in the league, but have Spartan Coach Arno Besonen. Tech's record is no indication of their ability. "They have a fast skating outfit and a very good goalie. Another factor to consider is the fact that eight of their ten games were played on the opponents' ice."

The Spartans teared dropped a hard decision at Ann Arbor Wednesday night to the Wolverines of Michigan, 4-2. Most of the action occurred in Wolverines' ice and goalie Ross Childs was kept busy by the constant pouncing of the nets by State skaters.

Besonen complimented the team for a well-played game and said, "We had many bad breaks against the U of M and the score is no indication of the 60 minutes on the ice. One of their goals resulted when a stray puck hit the referee's skate and deflected to a Wolverine skater who flipped it in for a score."

Another of their goals came when a puck is hoisted off Cent. Bob Jasson's skate and into the nets. We outplayed the throughout the game as is indictated by the number of saves made by each goalie. Childs had to stop 11 more shots than State's Joe Selinger.

Besonen singled out wingman Fred DeLuomo and netminder Selinger for being outstanding in the Michigan game. He also added that "the game was clearly played by both teams and that it was well refereed."

The pucksters are in good physical condition and will have to hustle hard throughout the game in order to handle the Huskies.

The Spartans are tied with Minnesota and North Dakota for fourth place and need these two games very badly.

The Huskies, coached by John Marinucci, arrived yesterday and held a one hour skating session without equipment.

Face off is at 8 tonight and Saturday night.

WKAR-FM will broadcast both games from the rink.

Face Tough Foe Tankers Host Iowa Mermen

By DAVE ROGERS

A strong Iowa swim squad, under veteran coach David Ambrose, will be hosted by the Spartans in Jenison Pool at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Ambrose, entering his 42nd and final year of coaching the Hawkeye swimmers, brings an overall mark of two wins and four losses against Michigan State to East Lansing. He has been the only Iowa coach since 1917.

Several outstanding swimmers helped Iowa to their initial dual meet victory against Wisconsin, 61-41, January 11. They picked up seven firsts out of 11 events.

Double winner Earl Ellis swam the 220 and 440 yard freestyle races and along with Big 10 Individual Medley Champ Gary Morris should lend considerable spurring and distance strength in the freestyle events.

The Hawkeyes personnel also include Lincoln Herring, two-time Olympic participant for New Zealand and 100 and 200 yard backstroke Champ in the 1936 NCAA meet.

Morris, who won 16 first places in 1937, will be backed up in the sprint events by Jim Coles who dropped only one loss in 1936 competition, that being the Big 10 100-yard freestyle race.

Jake Quick, Clinton, Iowa senior, is the Hawkeyes top spring-board artist. Quick placed in sixth NCAA diving competition in 1937.

The Spartans, defending Big 10 Champions, will counter the Hawkeyes bid for victory with a squad surprisingly deep in most events.

De Edington in the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke and butterfly races and Don Nichols in the backstroke events should turn in their usual solid races for the Spartans.

Fifth-Ranked Cincinnati Tops In College Scoring Race

NEW YORK (AP) — The University of Cincinnati, led by sophomore star Oscar Robertson, is leading the nation's major college basketball teams in scoring with an average of 86.3 points per game.

The NCAA Service Bureau reported today fifth-ranked Cincinnati with an 11-2 record has tallied 1,128 points. Marshall, with a 7-4 record, is second, having scored 953 points for an average of 86.6.

Unbeaten West Virginia, the nation's No. 1 team, is third with 1,033 points, an average of 85.3 in 12 games.

Robertson, who has averaged 43 points in his last three games, moved into the top individual scoring spot over Walt Chambers, lead of Kansas. Robertson has scored 425 points in 13 games for an average of 32.7, while Chambers, who missed two of his team's last three games because of an injury, has 351 points in 11 contests for a 32.2 average.

In team defense, San Francisco shows the best record, having allowed 640 points or an average of 49.2 in 13 games. Oklahoma State in 12 games allowed 594 points, an average of 49.5. Cincinnati is the field goal percentage leader, hitting at the rate of 48.3, while Marshall tops the free throw leaders with 80.4 percent.

Cagers Face Wildcats, Badgers

Seek Two Victories On Road

Spartans Hope To Raise Position

By LARRY WRUBLEWSKI
Michigan State's cagers leave today for a two-game road trip which will have a direct bearing on their position in the Big 10 standings.

Coach Fendley Anderson's squad is currently ranked 11th in the conference. In the conference, Michigan State is in fifth place, just ahead of this week's opponents, Northwestern, third in the league by virtue of two wins and one loss, will entertain the cagers on Saturday afternoon in Evanston, Ill. On Monday Wisconsin, fourth in the conference with a 2-2 ledger, will host the Spartans in Madison, Wis.

In the traveling itinerary, Anderson has designated 12 men to make the flight at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

The MSU-Northwestern clash is to be carried regionally as the Big 10 game of the week. The local TV station, WHM, will not carry the contest, but cagers may see the contest on WKZZ-TV, the Kalamazoo station. The opening tip-off is slated for 4:30 p.m. (EST).

Bob Shackleton, sports director of WKAR, will be on the spot to report the action and color of the game over WKAR and the local radio stations.

The top offensive and defensive squads in the league will square off at McGraw Memorial Hall.

The Wildcats in three previous contests have totaled 240 points at an output of 80 points per test, against in the Big 10.

The Spartans against 10 foes, including both circuit and non-conference teams, have allowed a respectable 62.5 points a game. If both teams shoot in accordance with their previous performance, each squad has a good chance of a tight ball game.

The Spartans have forwards Bo Anderson and Larry Hedley hitting identical figures of 13 points per game. Capt. Jack Quiggle, guard, holds a 14.5 average and Jumping John Green, center, is averaging 13 points. Guards Tom Rand has scored only one game and tallied six points.

Northwestern also possesses a scoring balance with all its starters in double digits. Center Joe Kuklick is seventh in league scoring with an 18.7 clip. Guard Nick Mantis is firing at a 13 pace, followed by forward Pat Warren at 14.6, forward Willie Jones, 12.3, and guard Dick Johnson at 11.6.

A possible battle on the back-boards will probably take shape when Green and Kuklick meet. Kuklick has hauled in 41 while Green has snatched 34.

Thursday's practice was a hard and lengthy one, said Anderson. "The team played well early in the session, but seemed to slow down in the late stages. Friday the squad will conduct a light workout on the Northwestern floor. This period will be devoted to shooting and getting used to the court. This game will be a real tough one, and we'll have to wait and see."

Seek Second Win

Gymnasts Battle OSU In Jenison Saturday

By JOHN VAND N HEDDE

The Michigan State Gymnastics team will seek its second win Saturday at 8 p.m. when they meet Ohio State in Jenison Fieldhouse.

The Spartans won their first meet last Saturday by edging out the University of Minnesota's 56-55 1/2. In that meet, the Spartans won only three of the seven events but managed to come out on top because of superior points.

Commenting on the meet, Coach Szynula said, "The boys were over confident and didn't perform up to full potential."

These performing events Saturday will be, free exercise, Cal Grant, George Hopely, Dick Becker and Angie Festa. Becker placed first in the event against the Gobblers.

On the side horse and rings, States all-around men, Hopely, Festa and Grant will exercise their talents.

On the high bar the Spartans possess one of the nation's top men, Stan Tarshis. Tarshis won the National AAI in Florida recently, and last week in the Minnesota meet scored 99 points, the highest on record for this event in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Backing Tarshis on the high bar will be Grant and Festa. On the parallel bars, Capt. Russ Paul and Grant will work for the Spartans.

In the final two events, trampolines and tumbling, Roger Temple and Tom Temple will perform. Temple won first place at the trampoline against Minnesota.

'Problems' Praised By Wrestling Coach

By CHUCK RICHARDS

Coach Fendley Collins has a problem on his hands but it's one he rather likes.

The veteran Michigan State wrestling coach has both eyes on his three fine heavyweight matmen in the eye of the year's first home match of the year with Iowa State Teachers College in Jenison Fieldhouse at 3 p.m. Saturday.

"This is the first time I've had more than one good heavyweight," he smiles. "Now I've got three. This is one problem I'm going to enjoy working out."

The first will go to senior Ken Manning, a 250-pound veteran and former National Collegiate second place finisher. Sophomore John Bacon, a strong 215-pounder, has been challenging for the starting position of Manning's father. The two are very evenly matched in practice with only Manning's experience giving him an edge, says Collins.

The third member of the trio is sophomore Tim Woodlin who as a freshman last year placed second in the National Collegiate tournament. Since he is the lightest of the three at 187, Woodlin is trying to make the 175-pound class. He will not wrestle Saturday but will enter the lighter class in a week if the experiment is successful.

Collins has other problems—but these are not ones he can pass off lightly.

Three regulars are out with injuries and only two seniors will start out of eight events. One of the seniors, Don Stroud, is the only undivided performer.

are fighting in the 130-pound division.

Iowa State Teachers' best five matmen, John Vovos is entered in the 137 class and Rich and Helton in 157.

MSU finished third in a quadrangular meet and dropped a dual encounter to Iowa.

Red Wings Down Hawks

DETROIT (AP)—Alex Delvecchio's two goals packed the Detroit Red Wings to their fifth straight victory Thursday as the team retained second place in the National Hockey League by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks 3-2.

Delvecchio set up his own goals both times by stealing the puck from the Hawks in their own zone and then beating goalie Glenn Hall.

Delvecchio got the opener, his eighth of the year, while Detroit was short-handed. He took a pass away from Pierre Pilote and beat the surprised Hall from 39 feet out.

Pilote started Terry Sawchuk with a 15-footer but Delvecchio signaled a two-goal lead a few minutes later after stealing the puck from Eddie Katchur to score himself a 19-foot, straight-on knock.

Basilio, Robinson in Rematch

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight champion Carmen Basilio and unpredictable Ray Robinson, the four-time kingpin, are rematched for a title bout called by the International Boxing Club "the big one we need to keep boxing alive."

The scheduled 15-round war is slated for March 25 in Chicago Stadium. The bout will be shown on home television but will be shown on theater TV. The Chicago area, however, will be blacked out.

Norris also said that both Robinson and Basilio would receive 30 percent of the gross receipts, including television and radio, and that the rematch would be scaled to reach $600,000 with a $40 top.

Basilio, the bruising beller from Chittanooga, N.Y., dethroned Robinson last Sept. 23 in Yankee Stadium in a hard-fought 15-rounder. The battles scarred former union farmer, who subsequently vacated his welterweight crown, won a split decision as Robinson only gained the nod of Referee Al Hest.

Norris said the television package was the major reason the bout was scheduled for Chicago.

We were guaranteed $275,000 from theater TV, he said. "And we expect it to go much higher than that. We considered the fact that there are more theaters in the New York area to show the fight than in Chicago."

Rocketeer Predicts Moon Trip Within Next Decade

WASHINGTON (AP)—A well backed and accelerated effort can put a U.S. space vehicle on the moon in 10 years or so, rocketeer Kraft Ehrcke told a group of senators Thursday.

And from the moon, the scientist predicted, reconnaissance trips can be made to Mars and Venus.

(The moon is an average of 238,562 miles from the Earth, while Venus is 26,000,000 miles away at its nearest conjunction and Mars 48,600,000.)

Ehrcke, a German-born rocket expert, is now the chief space and satellite planner for the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. He expounded on his ideas before the senate subcommittee on aerospace, which is investigating U.S. missile progress.

Proposals have been submitted to the air force, he said, which call for:

1. Putting into orbit within a comparatively short time an earth satellite carrying a heavier load than Russia's Sputnik II. The Soviet second satellite was reported to weigh approximately half a ton.

2. Putting a man into orbit in a recoverable vehicle to set up reconnaissance stations in space. This would come within five or six years.
3. Shooting for the moon in about 10 years and reaching out to Mars and Venus from there.

Ehrcke said the satellite program can get under way with "existing hardware"—missile and rocket equipment already developed.

Shatters Expert Opinion

Doctor Discovers Fingerprint Removing Process

CHICAGO (AP)—A New Orleans physician shattered a belief long held by law enforcement agencies and identification experts—that fingerprints are permanent and unalterable.

Dr. James W. Burks of the Tulane University school of medicine, division of dermatology, described two medical cases in which fingerprints were obliterated with a revolving wire brush of the type used to remove acne or small pox scars.

The technique is called skin planing.

The skin that grew over the denuded area was generally smooth, except for minute, thin, criss-crossed and parallel lines.

John Dillinger, the terror of the 30s, and other criminals attempted unsuccessfully to obliterate their fingerprints to escape identification.

Writing in the Current Archives of Dermatology, an American Medical Assn. publication, Dr. Burks said identification experts considered the post-planing fingerprints of his two patients "worthless in establishing the identity of the subject or even in their general classifications."

He added:

The results herein reported will be somewhat disconcerting to workers in the field of identification who rely heavily on the ever increasing bulk of recorded prints and who advocate making universal fingerprinting mandatory.

"The potential inconsistency of fingerprints renders positive identification by this means uncertain and thus has legal implications which will undoubtedly affect certain judicial decisions."

Dr. Burks' patients were treated with the high-speed electric brush to remove horny growths, caused by exposure to arsenic in industry. Each had a growth on a finger tip. The brush abraded the skin through the top layer or epidermis and part of the underlying dermal layer. The dermal layer can be used for fingerprints.

The skin doctor warned dermatologists against "the hazards of abetting criminals who seek their services for removal of their fingerprints."

On the other hand, he said, dermatologists can aid law enforcement officials by determining what medical reasons, if any, a suspect may have had in removing his prints.
