AUSG to Sponsor Panama Relief Drive

Plan to Collect Clothes For 3,000 Homeless

Student Congress Wednesday night provided an example of what a student governing body can do if it is alert. Putting their organization behind the Panama City relief drive, they appointed Tom Kimen, AUSG administrative vice-president, to coordinate the program.

The drive will collect clothing for the 3,000 left homeless by the fire which raged through the city last week. AUSG President Maure Gleason emphasized that this should be an all-University project like the Hungarian relief drive of last year. Student Government's role will be to coordinate the contributions. Funds will be used for the collection.

(Chuck Walther, Spartacade director outlined the project that will replace Spartacade. The annual carnival which contributes 10 percent of Campus Chest's funds had to be abandoned because no suitable date was available.

Instead a stage show with "show boat" theme will be presented in the Aud April 18. Men's and women's living units and organizations will work together on skits or acts which will be limited to five minutes.

An advantage of this program, Walther said, is the economy. Since no booths will be built, there will be less expense involved for those participating.

Deflection compellingly ordinary amendments contained in Bill 17 (Robinson) were approved and will go into effect.

Bill 19 established a committee to check on Congressmen's representatives' leaves and absences.

Bill 25 (Collinson) repealed Traffic Appeals Court to fill out ordinance 18 which required the form on each defendant for AUSG records.

An additional $150 was appropriated out of unappropriated students funds to produce a movie in color on Student Government operations, by Bill 26 (Walther, Mough).

Bill 27 (Miller, Moore, Pinter and others) appropriated an additional $100 for additional space in the Wolverine to show Student Government in its new quarters.

Resolution 37 (Brigham, Sumner, Lavin, Farley, Henderson, Bagh et al.) to introduce Motor Vehicle Regulation No. 11 and amend No. 10 was sent to the Traffic committee.

Resolution 39 (Schumann) to investigate having the schedule of finals published before registration was passed.

Resolution 40, introduced from the floor by Schumann to thank President Genshu Asato of the University of Hawaii for attending the meeting.

Field Services Hold Anniversary Four MSU men will attend the tenth anniversary observance of the Michigan colleges and services committee today in Ann Arbor. The delegation will include Dr. H. R. Neville, director of continuing education, Herbert Berg, assistant director of cooperative extension, Dr. Duane Gieson, continuing education co-ordinator, and Robert E. Kline, continuing education staff member.

The University of Michigan will host the program, which marks 10 years of voluntary cooperation in serving the educational needs of Michigan youth, according to Mr. Sharr, chairman of the statewide committee.

The South Carolina preacher posted bond at his hometown of Marion, S.C. It appeared that an extradition hearing would be necessary to get him back here for trial on charges stemming from Saturday night's battle between Klansmen and Lumberjacks near Marion.

A Klan rally headed by Cole broke up before it started and gathering Klansmen were dispersed by Indian gunfire.

The Indians said they broke up the rally because it was being held as a warning against race mixing, and after two cross-burnings on Indian property the same week.

Meanwhile, a second Klansman drew a suspended 60-day sentence and a $30 fine at Marion before an Indian judge for carrying a concealed weapon and for public drunkenness.

Martin, along with the South Carolina preacher, Cole — still faces a charge of inciting to riot in connection with the Marion rally.

At Marion, the 33-year-old southern Free Will Baptist Church preacher posted $1,000 bond in fighting extradition to North Carolina to face trial.

Psychoanalyst Slated to Talk On 'Creativity'

Dr. Rollo May, New York psychoanalyst, will speak on "The Meaning of Creativity" as part of the 1958 Interdisciplinary Symposium on Creativity at 10-10 a.m. Saturday in the Music Aud.

This second of eight meetings suggests criteria for recognizing the process of creativity in the biological, social and natural sciences, according to Dr. Harold H. Anderson, head of the research program and chairman of the Symposium planning committee.

Dr. Anderson and Abba M. Gershen, associate professor of art, will be on WKAR-TV at 8:30 p.m. Friday to discuss the creatively composition. Dr. David Potter, of the speech department, will be moderator.

Dr. May is presently on the faculty of the William Alanson White Institute of Psychiatry, New York City. He formerly taught at American University, Washington, D.C.

He worked with the Peoples Church and the YMCA, and was connected with MAU.

Dr. May is the author of "The Springs of Creative Living," "The Meaning of Anxiety," "Man's Search for Himself," and many scientific papers.

The meeting is open to students, faculty and the public and is sponsored by various colleges, divisions, schools and departments of the university.

Says U. S. Minds 'Clouded'

By LYNN CARDWELL

In his discussion of the Middle East Arab-Israeli conflict at a coffee hour Wednesday afternoon in Old College Hall, Dennis Baly, visiting lecturer, stressed the need for developing a plan to prevent the "have" countries of the Middle East from overpowering the "have not" areas in the existing struggle for oil profits.

Baly told the small gathering of faculty and students that the present Israeli conflict has so clouded our minds that we can't see other existing struggles. He then counted off several other conflicts which he considered of major importance concerning this hot spot of the world.

A redistribution of the tremendous wealth from the oil reserves of the Middle East is one of the major problems facing the Arab countries. This is essentially the struggle of the "have not" countries against the "have" of the oil countries.

Taxes would not be administered by any outside countries but by a board of representatives of all the Arab countries.

Not only the oil countries, but also the smaller countries of Europe would also be represented on the board.

Baly believes that in the next ten or fifteen years Iraq will challenge all other Middle East countries for leadership in the region because she is now doing such a good job of using oil money for improvement of the country on such long range problems as flood control and irrigation.

In his opinion, the West has greatly complicated the tension in this region by transferring its own historic quarrels to the Arab countries. Britain and France are trying to outdo each other for political influence and, he says, the American Revolution is still working itself out in the Middle East.

There is a struggle on the part of all Asian countries to resist imperialism from the West. Pre-

'Air Poor For Talks' — Reuther

Proposes Unusual Contract Dealings

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther warned his United Auto Workers Wednesday that their 1953 contract negotiations will be conducted in an unfavorable atmosphere because of uncertainties in the domestic economy and world conditions.

"These are unusual times and that is why we have proposed an unusual approach," he told 3,000 delegates to the UAW's special three-day convention here.

The convention will decide whether to support recommendations by Reuther and the UAW International Executive Board that a unique profit sharing plan be one of the main demands on the auto industry's big three this year.

In the closing hour of Wednesday's session, delegates began discussion from the floor on the Board's recommendations. Chairman Reuther recognized supporters and opponents of the plan in alternate order with 11 voting their opinions.

Those who opposed the profit sharing plan questioned whether the UAW should not make the 30-hour work week with 40 hours pay the No. 1 goal in view of current economic conditions. Reuther in a 10-minute keynote speech attacked big business for jeopardizing the national economy by taking so much in profits.

He said the nation's economic troubles in 1958 are the same as those which marked 1929 and the start of the Big Depression.

Reuther gave a detailed explanation of the UAW's proposed 1958 program which features a unique plan for sharing profits of economically healthy companies. It would provide a sharing of all profits of over 10 percent on net, split 50-50 before taxes.

Corporate stockholders and executives would get 50 percent of the profits with 25 percent going to the workers and 25 percent in the form of rebates going to company customers at the end of the year.

Defense Effort Criticized

President Withholds Two Secret Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower refused Wednesday to give Congress a look at two secret reports on the national defense situation. He said Congressional committees had access to the same information and implied they could draw their own conclusions from it.

A Senate Preparedness Subcommittee headed by Sen. John F. Kennedy has been trying for several weeks to get reports by Dr. James R. Killian, the President's scientific adviser, and the Gaither Committee.

Reuther said he was sharply critical of the present defense effort. There have been published stories that the Gaither Report, drawn up by a Presidential panel appointed last spring, portrays the United States as facing the greatest danger in its history.

But James C. Hagerty, White House Press Secretary, has said the report does not depict this country in a position of military weakness "at this time."

Eisenhower wrote Johnson Wednesday I have concluded that I cannot properly furnish these reports to the Congress or release them for publication.

The President told Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, that throughout our history the President has withheld information whenever he found that what was sought was confidential or that its disclosure would jeopardize the national security or the proper functioning of our government.

Wednesday will be highlighted by discussions on poultry management, suburban and the farmer, taxes, home landscaping and the market hog show. A talent show will be staged by the 4-H club in the afternoon.

Similar programs will continue on Thursday and Friday.

Three of Michigan's outstanding rural leaders will receive "distinguished service to agriculture" awards at a special ceremony Thursday afternoon. They are Malcolm G. Dickerson, Bloomhedge certified seed producer, Marshall Wells, Detroit radio farm editor, and Luther C. Klager, Manchester poultryman.

He said Egypt enjoyed great prestige in Arab eyes because she defied the West to her face in the Suez episode and got away with it.

A solution to these problems is not probable in the near future, according to Baly. "The situation is one of tension with which we will have to live for our lifetime."

Baly, member of the political science department of Kenyon College, will conclude the "University Under God" series with an address entitled "The Christian and the Campus" tonight at 7:30 in the Union Ballroom.

100 Killed, Many Hurt In Outbreak

Rebels Prepare For Mass Battle

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Foes of President Marcos Perez Jimenez, already mourning 100 dead and hundreds of injured, renewed battle here Wednesday with government security forces.

Hospitals were jammed with casualties.

In the new street fighting operation, groups were reported preparing to mass all their machine guns and rifles for a major battle in one section of the city, attempting to draw troops and police under a concentration of fire power.

The first bloody rioting attended a general strike Tuesday. The capital showed visible damage of this protest against the strongman rule of Perez Jimenez.

The initial outbreak Tuesday was accompanied by heavy rifle and machine gun fire. Gasoline fire bombings destroyed at least 50 buses and 20 other vehicles. A textile factory was reported burned. Several houses were set afire. Windows of the closed shops were broken.

While reliable sources gave the death toll of at least 100, the censored government radio acknowledged that 24 civilians were killed and 273 wounded in the first clashes, and said the toll was growing.

The government acknowledged that what it called minor disturbances had occurred Tuesday in five interior states, but it said calm was restored to the country Wednesday. Then it announced another curfew in effect from 6 p.m. Wednesday to 9 p.m. Thursday.

A tinge of anti-foreign sentiment was reported directed against Italians, of whom there are more than 100,000 immigrants in Venezuela.

The damage in the city stretched from Catia in the west to the La Florida section in the east.

Anti-Missile Work Cited By Gen. Wood

WASHINGTON (AP)—Excellent progress toward the development of two weapons to destroy enemy missiles was reported Wednesday by Maj. Gen. Robert J. Wood, the Army's Deputy Chief for Research and Development.

Wood disclosed that 1. Components for the anti-missile Zeus, designed to intercept long range ballistic missiles, are "now in being." Previously the defense department has said only that the Zeus is under development.

2. Another anti-missile called Plato is being developed for use "in the field, in defense of our fleet armies." Up to now the Pentagon has said only that Plato anti-missile is under development, without disclosing its intended use.

Wood, in a speech prepared for a meeting of Army's Medical Service Corps at nearby Ft. Myer, Va., said the Zeus is an answer to the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM).

Good Old Apathy Shows Itself Again

One of the most controversial and sometimes overused words on any college or university campus these days is "apathy." When no other good cause for criticizing students can be thought of, apathy can always be counted on to serve as a topic for a few minutes of chit-chat. Sometimes, however, there's no other word to describe the condition.

Take the case of Michigan State's Student Government, for instance. In spite of all that can be said about the accomplishments of AUSG in recent terms, grass roots interest in the organization is lousy.

It's so lousy in nine Student Congress electoral districts that there isn't even any need for final elections. And this is good petitioning turnout—compared to some other elections when Congress couldn't even scare up anyone to seat automatically. In three other districts a total of two whole people per district petitioned, necessitating a final ballot, and in another—where people must have thought they got prizes for petitioning—they'll need a primary to weed out one of the THREE candidates!

It's about like the person who wrote in his name after what he thought was a funny-sounding job on an absentee ballot from his home town—and found himself elected in the absence of any other votes. Of course it didn't matter, because the position had no duties connected with it and besides it didn't pay anything. Same as MSU: no responsibilities, no loot, so what the hell, you get your name in the paper when you're elected and besides it might even be fun!

Three candidates in a district the size of West Shaw (where the miracle occurred) is hardly a healthy figure, but then neither are the vote totals in our little constitutional apathy.

What it boils down to is the simple fact that not too many people care about what happens in their government. If they suddenly discovered that they couldn't have any type of self-government they'd send letters to the editor, scream at all sorts of injustice and in other ways bemoan their plight, but as long as good old AUSG exists it doesn't matter how effective it really is: "It's the principle of the thing that concerns me."

The representatives feel about the same way in far too many instances. They're doing their job for school and democracy by sitting at the meetings, and they just hope Pres. What's-His-Name will guide them in the right direction and that they say "aye" at the right time.

Of course Student Government is not the only offender when it comes to inability to function vigorously. There are few if any organizations on campus whose membership in general has the right attitude, but it is the occasional overt display of blarney such as the Student Congress petitioning which brings the general subject to the front.

Luckily there always seem to be enough people like AUSG Pres. Marne Gleason and the few workers in other groups to keep their organizations from withering up and blowing away, but they are far outnumbered by the "what the hell" gang.

"It's the principle of the thing that concerns me."

Things Are Looking Redder and Redder

Joint Return Often Practical

Using Right Taxpayer Class Can Give You an Advantage

EDITOR'S NOTE: Advantages of the various classes of returns are listed in this third article in an eight-part series on your income tax. Exemptions, non-taxable income, deductions and other topics will be dealt with later. Clip out all the articles for use when you file your return.

By G. K. HODENFELD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

We've seen how you can save money by picking the right form on which to file your income tax return. In the same way, you can save money by correctly choosing the taxpayer class into which you fall.

Basically there are four classes of returns:

1. The separate return.
2. The joint return.
3. The special joint return for certain recent widows and widowers.
4. The special "head of household" return for certain single persons or those legally separated from their husbands or wives.

Joint Return Advantages

The separate return is for single taxpayers or those married taxpayers who prefer to file in individual returns. In practically all cases married couples do better by filing a joint return. However, they must file separate returns if:

1. Either the husband or wife was a non-resident alien at any time of the year.
2. Husband and wife use different tax years. The husband, for instance, may report on a fiscal year basis such as from July 1 to June 30, while the wife pays taxes on a calendar year basis.
3. The husband and wife became divorced or legally separated at any time of the year, rated at and including Dec. 31.
4. If the separate return is used, each individual must report his own income and list his own exemptions and deductions.

Community Property Laws

If husband and wife file separately, both must have income under the laws of their state. Many states have community property laws where the wife has half the family income even though she earns nothing herself.

In these states, where expenses are paid from community income, the deductions may be split equally between man and wife. In all cases where husband and wife file separate returns, if one itemizes the deductions, the other must also itemize.

If you file separately you may either use the form 1040 or the 1040A, depending on how you qualify as outlined in the previous article.

There are normally just two situations in which married couples can benefit by filing separately instead of jointly. Both are comparatively rare.

If both husband and wife are working, and both had capital losses of $1,000 or more, it might pay them to file separately. The law provides that no more than $1,000 in capital losses may be deducted on any one return. By filing separately, they could get a total deduction of $2,000.

Medical Expenses

The second situation involves medical expenses. Suppose that the husband had an adjusted gross income of $10,000 and no medical bills, and that the wife had an adjusted gross income of $5,000, with medical bills of $500.

The law provides that you can deduct only those medical and dental costs which exceed 3 percent of your adjusted gross income. If this couple filed jointly they would be able to deduct only everything over $450 (3 percent of their combined $15,000), or a deduction of $50. However, if the wife filed separately, she could deduct everything over $150 (3 percent of her $5,000), or a deduction of $350.

Even so, in practically every case the advantages of splitting income with a joint return outweighs any savings made by separate reporting of medical and dental deductions.

Dual Income Unnecessary

A husband and wife may file a joint return and get the advantage of the lower tax rates even if one of them had no income during the year. Both husband and wife must sign the joint return, and it must include all the income earned by both of them. You can file a joint return if you were married any time during the year, and remained married for the balance of the year.

The joint return is a financial boon to most married couples because of the way the tax rates go up as income increases—not because you pay on any less income. In effect, the joint income is split into two equal parts and the tax is then doubled. Your total tax, then, is the combined tax on the two halves, usually considerably smaller than it would be at the tax rate on the total income.

If your husband or wife died anytime during 1957—even on the first day of the year—you can still file a joint return and claim an exemption for your deceased spouse. In general, you file just as you would have had your spouse lived through the year.

If your husband or wife died during 1955 or 1956 you still can get a tax break from Uncle Sam if you meet certain qualifications. That brings us to the special joint return for certain recent widows and widowers.

Split Income Benefits

This return cannot be filed on the short and easy form 1040A; you must use form 1040. On the return you claim only your own exemption and deductions, but you use schedule two on page 11 of the instructions in figuring your tax and thus you get the benefit of the split income provisions.

Providing that your spouse died at anytime during 1955 or 1956, you get this tax break if:

You have not remarried through the end of 1957 (if you have, of course, you can file jointly with your new spouse);

You were entitled to file jointly with the deceased spouse at the time of death (he or she was not a nonresident alien, etc.); and

Since that death you have maintained a home which is the principal living place of a child or stepchild for whom you are entitled to claim a dependency deduction.

If your spouse died earlier than in 1955, you may still get a tax break if you qualify as a special "head of household."

This return, which can be made only on the form 1040, is for single, divorced or legally separated persons who maintain a household. It also applies to anyone married during 1957 to a nonresident alien.

If you qualify as a "head of household" your tax bill will be lower than if you filed separately. Your special rates will be found in schedule three on page 11 of the instruction booklet that comes with form 1040.

You will note that they are lower than those in schedule one for single taxpayers.

Requirements Listed

These are the requirements you must meet:

1. You must maintain a home which is the principal residence of a dependent child, stepchild or grandchild, even though not a dependent of yours, or any other relative whom you are entitled to claim as a dependent, or

2. You must pay more than half the cost of maintaining a separate household for your mother or father, if either qualifies as your dependent. The test here is whether you pay more than half the cost of keeping the home, including such things as mortgage interest, rent, taxes, insurance on the home and the like.

The next article will deal with exemptions, the biggest single tax-cutting device in the book.

Michigan Medics Few and Far Between

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan falls far below the rest of the nation in the ratio of private physicians to its population, a member of the Michigan Health Council said Wednesday.

Dr. R. W. Spaulding, chairman of the council's Doctor Placement Committee, said Michigan ranks 35th among the 48 states.

He told the 11th annual Michigan Rural Health Conference the state has one practicing physician for every 1,218 residents, according to 1956 estimates. The national average was one for every 772 people.

Several Michigan cities, however, are above the national average, Dr. Spaulding said. Kalamazoo has one doctor for every 307 and Pontiac one for every 294.

But Spaulding said Oakland County as a whole has just one doctor for every 4,645. He said the West-Central area of Michigan is one of the best with a physician for every 1,112 people—still below the national norm.

Air Force Cadets Bound for Florida

Plan Tour of Test Facilities At Eglin Air Force Base

Thirty-five Air Force cadets, mostly freshmen and sophomores, will depart from Capital City Airport at 2 p.m. today in a C-119 aircraft—bound for Florida.

Gaillard Gets Okay On Policy

Assembly Adopts Confidence Vote

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly Wednesday night adopted 343-221 a motion expressing confidence in Premier Felix Gaillard's foreign policy.

The vote followed a two-day debate on foreign affairs.

It involved parliamentary approval of Gaillard's handling of East-West relations, the future escalation of rocket launching operations in France, and a whole series of North African problems ranging from French-Tunisian relations to French seizure of a Yugoslav cargo of arms allegedly consigned to the Nationalist Rebels in Algeria.

Foreign Minister Christian Pineau had told the deputies French defenses must include launching ramps for missiles able to reach Soviet territory.

Gaillard supported Pineau in demanding rockets as a military necessity.

"Who should those in the other camp who possess these missiles already, and who doubtless have them already installed, fend us to possess them ourselves?" Gaillard demanded.

He also said a prerequisite for any East-West summit meeting would be concrete promises by the Soviet Union that it would seek new zones of influence.

Gaillard said the military problem in Algeria is practically solved and the rebellion would be left to itself.

These cadets, accompanied by Capt. Clifton Nieland, trip coordinator, will visit Eglin Air Force Base, one of the largest in the country.

Eglin, headquarters for the Air Proving Ground Command, is responsible for testing all the equipment used by the Air Force, including such varied components as weapons, aircraft, clothing, bombs, and instruments.

During their two-day visit, the cadets will see testing facilities such as the climate chamber, capable of simulating conditions from arctic to tropic temperatures, altitudes and humidities.

The 246th Air Reserve Flying Center, at Bakalar Air Force Base, Columbus, Indiana, is supporting the flight by furnishing aircraft and crew for the 1600-mile round trip visit.

This base visit is one of a series to various Air Force installations throughout the country to provide firsthand information for cadets of Air Force operations and activities.

Labor Counseling Program Set Up

A new labor counseling program has been developed by MSU's labor and industrial relations center and representatives of the Michigan United Fund.

The program, designed to teach AFL-CIO leaders serving with United Fund and Community Chest groups, was instituted last year.

Similar institutes are being planned by Ohio State University, Colorado, Penn State, Cornell University of Connecticut and Roosevelt University in Chicago.

Fred Hoeler, Jr., of MSU's labor and industrial relations staff, and Julius F. Rothman of National Community Services, and other members of Michigan United Fund developed plans for the program.

Pakistan Specialist to Talk

Dr. Phillips Talbot, executive director of the American Universities Field Staff and specialist in India and Pakistan will speak on Pakistan at the International Club Friday at 8 p.m. in Parlor B and C-Union. The public is invited.

He has taught courses on India and Pakistan at the University of Chicago and Columbia University.

A film on Pakistan will be shown following Dr. Talbot's talk. Folk dancing co-sponsored by the International Club and the Christian Student Foundation will conclude the evening's program.

Refreshments will be served in the International Center.

Ike Meets Russian Blast By Denouncing 'Imperialism'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower met Russia's newest blast against American Middle East policy Wednesday by denouncing "Communist imperialism" for threatening the independence of the area.

Eisenhower fired back at Russia's accusations as Secretary of State Dulles left for a 10-day flying visit to Turkey, Iran and Morocco.

Accompanied by seven advisers, Dulles took off in a special Air Force plane after issuing his own farewell denunciation of the Russians for advertising his trip as aimed at forcing American missiles on Mid-East nations.

Such charges, leveled by the Soviet Foreign Office yesterday, are "totally false," he said. He went on to blast a Soviet statement that if the Moslem nations of the Middle East are armed with nuclear weapons it will be an "insult" to their religion.

It is incredibly arrogant, Dulles said, for "aggressive atheists" to insist that those who believe should, on that account, be militarily inferior to them.

Eisenhower firmly backed Dulles' mission in a separate White House statement which expressed the "deep concern of the United States for the security and economic development of this part of the free world."

Eisenhower authorized Dulles to express the government's "constant and unwavering support" for the principles of collective security which Mideast countries are seeking to strengthen via the Baghdad Pact.

Dulles' main purpose will be to sit in as observer at the top level meeting in Ankara of the Baghdad Pact alliance which links Turkey, Iran, Pakistan, Iraq and Britain.

Top Designer Opposes Controversial Chemise

ROME (AP)—The "sacco"—that's the sack—is not quite in the bag in Italy. Some fashion designers now showing here are holding out against the controversial chemise.

No less a couturier than Fontana opposed the sack today as the Roman dressmakers went through a busy day of five showings.

The Rome designers crowded their showings in today to avoid an overlap with the Florence openings, beginning tomorrow. Until only a few days ago the two rival cities had scheduled showings in direct conflict with each other.

Fontana wanted nothing to do with the figure-concealing sack style. Her dresses clung to the body in graceful twists from the shoulder to the hip.

The Fontana "boutique" collection — not intended as high fashion — was designed for voyages into outer space. Inspired by Sputnik, her creations were strictly from space fiction and comics. Flowing zebra-belted substitutes for skirts, and draperies darted from the shoulders of blouses.

But for haute couture, Fontana prescribed the clinging line. Giarretti's "arrow line" was almost as straight as an arrow. In the main, her suits were narrow-skirted with brief hip-length jackets that curved down an inch or so from front to back.

Chaplain in Third Army Rabbi Zemach Directs B'nai B'rith Foundation

By PAT FOSS

Rabbi Abraham Zemach has now assumed full-time duties as Director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at MSU. He is also a lecturer in the department of religion.

Shindig Features Beard Contest. 'Kickapoo Juice'

What was life like during the frontier days when Paul Bunyan and Babe the blue ox roamed the forest? The answer was enforced at the heart of a gun?

You can capture a glimpse in to this frontier atmosphere Saturday night from 9-12 in Demonstration Hall at the Foresters' Shindig. Of special interest Gov. G. Mennen Williams is scheduled to be a guest.

Amid a forest of pines along the walls, will be a thirty foot figure of Paul Bunyan. In the center of the forest will be room for dancing to the music of Jim Voorheis and his orchestra. For refreshment, the guys can take their gals into the "Sleepy Bear Bar" for a toast of "Kickapoo Joy Juice."

The intermission entertainment will be provided by the MSU promoters in a typical old-fashioned square dance.

Prizes will be awarded to four men for the best, longest, shaggiest, and poorest beards. Additional prizes will be given for the best frontier costumes. However, costumes are not required for the dance, according to Reinhard Schumann, Temperance junior, publicity chairman. Tickets can be obtained from any forestry club member or at the door for $2.

RABBI ZEMACH
Hillel Director

Pennsylvania and University of Colorado and was President of the Religious Workers Association at Colorado. He is a member of President's Committee on Religion on the campus.

At the present time he is residing with his wife and two children at 1524 Birchwood Drive, Okemos.

Rabbi Zemach now directs a few programs of religious, cultural, social, and interfaith activities here at Hillel Foundation. Committees are being formulated for the rest of winter quarter.

JOB FACTS FROM DU PONT

YOUR INTERESTS, SPECIAL ABILITIES ARE IMPORTANT WHEN DU PONT MAKES YOUR FIRST JOB ASSIGNMENT

ROOM TO GROW

There's plenty of room to grow at DuPont. One reason is that the very diversity of our products and processes requires specialists in almost every area of science and engineering. Another reason is that DuPont continues to expand in many new directions.

For example, in 1957 sales reached $2 billion. Four new plants were being built. New research projects were launched, new products marketed.

In 1957, too, new technical men joined DuPont in chemical, civil, mechanical, metallurgical, electrical, industrial, petroleum and mining engineering; in atomic energy, instrumentation, chemistry, physics, mathematics and many other fields.

All this activity points to as bright a future today as ever before in our long history. There's a place for the good graduate in this picture. If you would like more specific information on opportunities at DuPont, we invite you to sign up for a DuPont interview with your placement director. Jan. 27-31.

Personalized Training Relates to Policy of Promotion from Within

Where do your interests lie? What courses have you taken? What are your special abilities? DuPont tries to match these factors with available jobs to determine your first job assignment within the Company.

Once the assignment is made, the Company helps you apply your knowledge to a problem right away. You learn by doing—in consultation with your supervisor and others working on various phases of the same project. Your performance on the job is evaluated periodically, so you always know where you stand in the eyes of your management.

As you might guess, DuPont's personalized training is closely related to its promotion policy. Almost all advancement is made from within the Company, so if your supervision has indicated that you are ready for promotion, and an opening occurs for which your training has prepared you, you are sure to be considered.

Although DuPont employs about 90,000 people, management authority is decentralized through many departments into small groups—small enough so that the new man's capabilities can be recognized quickly. This type of organization, plus the Company's steady growth, produces many opportunities for the new man.

DuPont, over the past 25 years, has spent $1 on research for every $3 on production facilities.

DU PONT SUMMER JOB GIVES YOU A CHANCE TO EARN AND LEARN

DuPont offers college juniors and qualified sophomores in technical fields the opportunity to earn college expense money this summer while they learn more about the kind of work that will be open to them when they graduate.

The Company has 75 plants and 93 laboratories located across 26 states—a spread that often gives the student a chance to work in or near his own section of the country. Some of these locations have openings for summer employment in 1958.

Students work side by side with practicing engineers and scientists. In this way they gain valuable experience to supplement classroom theory.

Last year, 407 students from 113 colleges took advantage of this program. DuPont pays round-trip transportation expenses from home or school to place of employment. Students are not obligated to continue with the Company after graduation.

For complete details on this program, check with your college placement director.

SEND FOR INFORMATION BOOKLET

Booklets on jobs at DuPont are yours for the asking. Subjects include: mechanical, civil, metallurgical, chemical, electrical, instrumentation and industrial engineers; atomic energy, technical sales, business administration, research and development. Name the subject that interests you in letter to DuPont, 2494-E Nemours Building, Wilmington 98, Del.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Westport's "Mr. Telephone Company"

The Westport, Connecticut, office of Southern New-England Telephone Company is managed by John F. Lehr, A.B., Yale '52. In Westport, John is "Mr. Telephone Company."

"This job has everything," John says: "responsibility, independence, a chance to contribute to the community as well as the company. I have 3000 accounts in my office, and every one of those accounts is a person who has to be pleased with our telephone service. I'm in close contact with the town officials, and take part in many civic activities. Needless to say, it's a very interesting assignment."

"How I happened to choose a career with the telephone company tells you something about the business. After a dozen or so interviews with various firms, I picked the telephone company because it offered two things I was looking for—immediate opportunity, and long-range opportunity, too."

"You see, I was married in my senior year at college, so I wanted a career where I could start with a good salary, and get the training I'd need to advance in the shortest possible time. That's what I wanted immediately."

"The rapid expansion of the telephone business assured me of the long-range opportunities, because that expansion is creating more and more management positions to be filled. In fact, here I am, Manager in Westport, after only five years in the company. I don't know of another business where you can find more opportunities to get ahead."

Leafs Beaten By Canadiens

TORONTO (AP)—Leftwinger Dickie Moore and center Jean Beliveau scored late in the third period to give the Montreal Canadiens a 2-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday.

The two-ace Montreal forwards broke up the game in the last six minutes and handed the Leafs, tied for fourth place with the Boston Bruins, their 21st loss in 45 games this season.

The Canadiens extended their lead at the top of the league to 19 points over the second spot New York Rangers.

Moore, who has scored nine of his 25 goals this season against Toronto, sent the Leafs into a 1-0 lead at 14:04 of the wretched period before 13,734 fans.

Beliveau put in the clear by Doreau St. Laurent inside the Montreal blue line, made it 2-0 at 17:21.

Does History Repeat Itself?

Cagers Face Almost Same Game Situation of Last Year

By LARRY WROBLEWSKI

Is it possible that history can repeat itself?

A year ago Michigan State's cagers were in a precarious spot. They had lost their first three conference games, the first two by one-point margins. The outlook was mighty bleak.

Then the Spartans put a brace to their rapid decline and settled down to defeat the next 10 league opponents and gain a share of the Big 10 crown.

The amazing, unpredictable Spartans didn't stop and rest on their laurels. They continued their winning ways by taking the national NCAA championship at Lexington, Ky. Gaining the right to the semi-finals at Kansas City, Coach Forddy Anderson's team played the eventual NCAA champion, North Carolina, in three overtimes only to lose, 74-70.

This year it's another thing entirely. State rolled up seven consecutive non-conference victories, and many observers had conceded the Big 10 title to the co-defenders.

In league competition so far, however, the cagers have broken even in four starts. Currently, they are a member of a four-way occupation for fourth place. But as Anderson said earlier, "The conference this year is too balanced, and it looks like the teams will fight right down to the wire."

At the present it looks as if his prediction is very valid. Every circuit contingent has

Managers Needed

Anyone who is interested in becoming a freshman baseball manager should get in contact with John VanHavel at the baseball office immediately.

this Saturday. For there are games remaining on the schedule.

It would certainly be an understatement to say that Anderson wouldn't like to see his squad triumph in the final contests.

The Spartans will host western Saturday at 8 p.m. at Jonsson Fieldhouse, and, one time will tell if they'll repeat Big 10 titleholders.

Spartan Ski Club Selects Squad

The Michigan State Ski Club recently participated in the first Open Ski Meet held in Michigan this year.

Held at Bear Hill, five out of eight Michigan State skiers placed among the top ten. Four skiers were present in all.

The Meet enabled the Spartans to select members for the Ski Team. They were sponsored by the IM Club.

Ross Hohn set the two fastest times when he won the Slalom and the Downhill for MSU. The other four winners for MSU were Homer Greer, 6th, 100 Yards; Keith Johnson, 8th, 100 Yards; and Dick Huey placed 10th.

Slater Martin Out Of Hawks' Lineup

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Little Sam Martin of the St. Louis Hawks, who gave a good account of himself in the National Basketball Assn. All-Star game Tuesday, will be out of the Hawks' lineup this week.

He suffered torn ligaments in the back of his right knee during the All-Star action and had to be taken from the game.

Ahoy there!

They've just docked at GREEN'S—trim and shipshape middie blouses—the favorite of every college girl!

You'll find these middies have followed fashion's forecast — with elasticized or tabbed waists and split sailor collars.

They're good in any season—with skirts and sweaters now or your new sea-blues in the spring.

So, while they're a plenty, steer your course to GREEN'S. Be nautical—and nice.

Javits Claims:

Filibusters 'Paralyzing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Javits (R-NY) said Wednesday that with "issues of peace or oblivion" to be decided, the Senate cannot permit itself to be paralyzed by filibusters.

In a report to the Senate Rules Committee, he said the rules group has "a duty" to recommend elimination of what he called a roadblock not only to legislation on civil rights but other subjects.

Specifically, he called for modification of Senate Rule 22 requiring the votes of 60 senators, or two-thirds of the entire membership, to put a time-limit on debate.

Javits said the present rule gives a small minority veto power and urged that it be changed to permit filibusters to be choked off by the votes of 49

Senators, or a majority of the 96 members.

He said that in recommending its modification, he was not seeking to abridge "the liberty of speech" but to put "a just and necessary restraint upon an abuse which hinders or frustrates" the Senate in carrying out its constitutional duty.

Javits also said that "the ability to carry on a filibuster can affect the kind of legislation passed by the Senate even though no actual filibuster is undertaken."

This is what happened during Senate debate on the 1957 civil rights measure, he said.

Under the Javits proposal, debate could be limited by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present and voting two days after 16 Senators filed a petition for cloture.
