'Lysistrata' Ready; 6 Weeks Preparing And 3 Nights to Run

Term Play Curtain Rises On Greek Comedy Tonight

After six weeks of rehearsal, five to seven days each week, "Lysistrata," winter term play, is ready for Michigan State's theater audience.

The show, under the direction of Prof. John Walker, opens a three-day run tonight with curtain time at 8:15 on Fairchild Theater's stage.

Tickets at one dollar are still on sale at the Union ticket office and will be available at Fairchild's box office, an official aid. He urged, however, that theatergoers pick up their reserved seat tickets early at the Union.

The Greek comedy unfolds about the quarrels of old Athens in the twentieth year of war between that city and Sparta. Athenian women had tired of the endless war and put about to make an end of it by result.

The Grecian ladies informed their men they'd no longer have a thing to do with them until peace returned. They succeeded in capturing and holding the government treasury.

With "Lysistrata," played by Kay Martin, leading the women, attacks from the male sex were repelled.

But, in keeping with Greek drama, the comedy ends on a happy note. Peace is declared, and Athenians (men and women) and Spartans join together in a revelry for the closing scene.

Spears, helmets and armor have been manufactured in the theater group's studio workshop as well as have most of the lifts. Baskets and tree limbs were located and even vegetables were procured from a local grocery counter.

Choreography credits for this production go to Ruth Malburg and Dorothy Cleveland of women's HPR department. Musical notes are composed and directed by Mrs. Robert, music department.

Health Reasons Stop 61 Students From Donating

The total number of pints collected in the three-day-old blood drive has reached 781 as 271 pints were contributed Wednesday.

According to blood drive officials some 332 donors actually showed up Wednesday but 61 were turned down due to health reasons.

The drive will be open 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. today, and 10-5 as previously announced. Fairhouse still leads with 100 percent followed very closely by Alpha Epsilon Phi with 98 percent and Alpha Sigma Phi with 90 percent.

Results of the drive through Wednesday are as follows:

Along With Varsity Team

German Gymnasts Perform Tonight

West Germany's touring gymnastics troupe, the Dentster Turner-Bund, will present an exhibition of precision exercises at 7:30 tonight in Jenison Fieldhouse. Also included in the program are members of the Michigan State varsity gymnastics squad and Ernestine Russell, Windsor, Ont., sophomore and one of the world's foremost woman gymnasts.

A highly diversified show is the way Spartan gymnastics Coach George Szypala describes the Turner-Bund's performance. Women members of the team do drill movements and folk dance numbers, while the male personnel work the same type of events as American gymnasts, "only better than most of them," according to Szypala.

Most of the German team's members have been trained in gymnastic skills since childhood, and some are now in their late 20's. "It's a big sport in Germany, and they turn out some brilliant performers," the MSU coach said.

Miss Russell, four-time winner of the "Outstanding Canadian Woman Athlete" award and member of the 1956 Canadian Olympic team, was the first woman to win all events in a U.S. Women's Gymnastics Championship meet, taking eight firsts at the meet in 1955.

Miss Russell, a petite, five-foot, 110-pound 19-year old, enrolled at Michigan State to continue her training under Szypala. She will be joined in the exhibition by members of the varsity team, who have compiled a 3-1 record this season.

Tickets for the show are on sale at the Union and Jenison Ticket Offices and may be obtained at the door. Students and children will be admitted for 50 cents; regular adult admission is $1.

Phil Wahl, Toledo, Ohio, senior, gets some well-appreciated moral support in the form of hand-holding from Miss MSU Denny Donover, as he donates a pint of plasma in the winter term blood drive. Dick Reiner, East Lansing senior, and nurse Margaret Sneed watch the proceedings.

Defeats $150 Allotment

AUSG Hears Freneau, Discusses Seven Bills

By LIZ TROESTER
State News Night Editor

Student Congress defeated one bill, sent six to committee and passed, defeated and table resolutions in its regular meeting Wednesday night.

Don Freneau, ATO president, gave Congress his view of the facts leading up to his fraternity's recent suspension by the administration. An extremely irritating, though minor consequence of the action, Freneau said, was the many phone calls from pranksters to the fraternity's housemother asking when the next party will be held.

Congress defeated bill 29, (Bill Jensen, Lansing, Gentry Hut, West Mayo) which would have appropriated $150 to the Fraternity Council.

Bill 33 (Al Stones, West Shaw) was sent to the finance committee. It asked that $100 be set aside for foreign students expenses traveling to the UN seminar.

Three bills were sent to the organization committee. Bills 31, 32 and 36 asked temporary quarters for the Campus Farm, Bureau Young People's Club, Sigma Epsilon Phi and Sigma Phi professional engineering fraternity.

Bill 37 (Richard S. Hamann, Armstrong, Ted Robinson, East Shaw) amending the elections ordinance was sent to the elections committee.

Bill 38 (Carroll Sattler, West Shaw, Lyle Sumner, married housing Jansen and Butz, asking that all bills be decided by a roll call vote at the third reading.

A resolution to investigate installation of a different type of fire alarm system in Williams and Mayo was tabled.

Resolution 42 (Stones) asking some way of getting rid of the ice in Parking Lot K and other hilly lots, was passed.

Congress defeated Resolution 41 (Carol Findly, Van Housen) on the subject of adding a free day between classes and finals.

Price Announced For U of M Trip This Monday

The price for the Michigan basketball game and round trip bus transportation to Ann Arbor has been set at $3.30, according to Sunny Keller, Spartan Spirit member.

The bus will leave the Union at 4:30 p.m. Monday and return immediately following the game. Tickets will go on sale at 9 a.m. today at Union ticket desk.

The number of tickets available is extremely limited, Keller said. Seats going to the game must take late pers but if the bus is delayed, no late minutes will be given. AWS decided at its meeting Tuesday.

House Gets Documents On 'Graft'

Morse Blasts Administration

WASHINGTON—House investigators reviewed three hours of secret files Wednesday from Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), who said the documents show the Eisenhower administration is honey-combed with political immorality.

At the same time the investigating group subpoenaed Dr. Bernard Schwartz, its chief counsel, to testify today about his charge that a member of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) received a money payment in connection with the award of a TV license. Schwartz turned what he called his "personal working files" on a six-month investigation over to Morse after Schwartz was fired Monday night by the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight, which is looking into FCC and five other regulatory agencies.

In returning the files to the subcommittee, Morse called for a separate Senate investigation of alleged pressure on the agencies by White House and other high Republican figures.

Morse's proposal got the immediate support of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who said the inquiry should be the House's top priority. Schwartz said Tuesday the subcommittee filed his own report, though he had not even finished it. He said he had not even finished it. He said he had not even finished it.

J-School Hosts MPA President

Today is president's day in the School of Journalism. The president of the Michigan Press Assn., Robert S. Marshall, is a special guest for the day. He will meet students informally at the weekly coffee hour, 4:30 to 5 p.m. in the periodical room of the Journalism building.

Marshall is publisher of the Ogema County Herald, West Branch.

Interviewer Lee Tussing explains a "Spartan" feature magazine survey form to Sue Bauer in the Union Grill. Jim Mayer, in background studies the readership survey blank, which will be part of a 200 student sample.

Referred to Committee

Pledging Proposal Considered by IFC

Delta Chi hosted the IFC meeting which was called to order at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday by President Roger Fortush. Mr. John Mausteller, fraternity advisor, and Mr. Norman Kiehl, an executive from the national headquarters of ATO, were introduced as guests.

Deferred pledging will open the main topic of the evening. Many letters from other fraternities were read by various members concerning the proposal. General discussion followed that many members felt the proposed proposal would be a good idea. It was referred back to committee.

A general meeting took place Thursday. The general session of the fraternity advised, some opinions were shared by the members. A motion was passed to create.

The March 24-25 seminar will take place to acquaint students with the UN in organization and function and to sensitive students to the decisions of the UN in relation to their own lives.

Highlights include a tour of the UN building, small group discussion with representatives of member countries, talks with the staff of the UN and the secretary-general, visits to the Russian, U.S. and Indian embassies, and a tour of New York City.

The cost of the trip is approximately $113 with a few possible scholarships available. Applications must be sent to the Y House by March 7 and the bus.

Fortush announced that no more fraternities would be admitted to the expansion program until "October next year."

"Greek Week" plans were discussed and it is planned to concentrate on creating better working conditions during the week which would be a big event.

Various interesting activities during Greek Week were planned by the houses. Vice President Hamann's organization committee of the membership committee were extended to the group.

Plans concerning the Michigan IFC Workshops were also discussed. The University of Michigan is host this year.

Training Begins For Sailing Club

The Michigan State Sailing Club will launch its beginner training program at an open push coffee hour tonight from 7-9 in parlor A Union.

Members will be taken of the Big 19 regatta hosted by Michigan State last spring. The following week those who had done with little or no sailing experience will begin. Interest of people who do not know how to sail are welcome as well as experienced sailors, the club said. The winter term shore school gives a chance to learn sailing fundamentals before the season's start.

Short Week For Labor Worries Ike

P.O. Modernizing Offered As Cure

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower in an optimistic statement of the economic situation, said Wednesday that March "should mark the beginning of the end of the downturn."

From other quarters, however, some predictions that the downturn will get worse before it gets better. Some economists expressed doubts that the downturn will come to a quick end in the administration's lifetime.

Eisenhower's statement comes in the wake of a report that the House will vote on a bill to modernize the post office.

The President issued what he called a "fact paper" showing that the government is doing to foster economic recovery. He listed public works projects and highway programs, new defense contracts, housing aids and other credit policies.

As new means of improving the economy, Eisenhower announced Wednesday a two-billion-dollar program for modernization of post office buildings and equipment during the next three to five years.

Postmaster General Sutherland outlined the plan Wednesday in the Senate. It is a two-year program, which would be a two-year program, which would be a two-year program.

Private capital would finance about 75 percent of the program, under the administration's plan, and the government's proposed contribution of 25 million dollars a year would be contingent on congressional approval of a 5-cent rate for inter-city first class mail.

Robert Woodrow A. W. Zellinger said he figured the new post office program will be a success. "It will be a success," he said. "It will be a success," he said.

Eisenhower gave his response to the program. "The program will be a success," he said. "It will be a success," he said.

"First, it is a program that the country needs. It is a program that the country needs. It is a program that the country needs."

"Second, it is a program that the government is doing. It is a program that the government is doing. It is a program that the government is doing."

Thrones Stay In Jordan-Iraq Unification

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan and Faisal II of Iraq will retain their thrones when the two nations unite under a single flag, Iraq through talks which the king 24 hours, authoritative sources said Wednesday night.

An official announcement said after a day of negotiations between the king and his minister.

"To our satisfaction the discussions took place in a spirit of brotherly understanding and complete agreement on national objectives which the two parties work to reach."

The two Arab kingdoms reportedly will share single foreign, defense and economic ministries, as well as one army. There will be one parliament for the two countries, but each also will have its own legislative body.

Sprucing Up the Chariot

Doris Stevens, Lee Barnett and Pat Hortler add a woman's touch to a typically masculine job before picking up candidates for the first "Master MSU" judging last night. The 16 semi-finalists selected from 33 candidates are: Bob Harvey, W. Shaw; Don Polard, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Joe

What Are Schools Really Turning Out?

LET'S TAKE A LOOK at education—ours. There is, as we all know, a minority of students anywhere who have the capacity and desire to learn and to think...

Just as the teenager battles his parents for his independence, so the outstanding, thinking college student battles society for his right to think, to inquire, to live.

This is a small group. These are the leaders of our intellectual life. If they chip conformity's walls, we should repair it and forget it. This does not happen here.

The number of students at this school who simply pack up and move on because of pure unadulterated disgust is not large in relation to the total student body...

The personality of outstanding ability does not lend itself to red tape, filling out the same forms every term, term after term...

POINTLESS SOCIAL STANDARDS irritate these people. The year's stand television. Memory tests leave them unimpressed with their teachers or the school.

One think piles on another and finally they go home, or try another school, or skid row, or just throw all their books away and start delivering mail or shoveling coal.

The question is, what do we do about this kind of person? The head shrinkers say they are not "adjusted."

We are turning out in masses, "adjusted" members of society. But... and a big "but" are we brainwashing and twisting personalities to make them run smoothly or are we turning out educated people?

The final question is: can you exist as an individual in our society without wearing a buckle in the back?

This Is Freedom?

THE MICHIGAN COUNCIL of Churches recently endorsed a bill to be introduced in the State Legislature which would, if passed, outlaw most types of retail sales on Sunday.

It seems strange indeed that in a country set up to preserve freedom of religion the churches themselves are becoming lobbyists for legislation which would, in effect, remove Sabbath Day temptations from before the masses...

Going a little deeper than the Protestant leaders who proposed the bill did, the "traditional meaning of Sunday" certainly must be preserved—by opposing exactly the sort of legislation they have suggested.

And speaking of commercialization, what's the difference between a dealer who keeps his store open on Sunday and a church which tears down all barriers that might hurt "box office"?

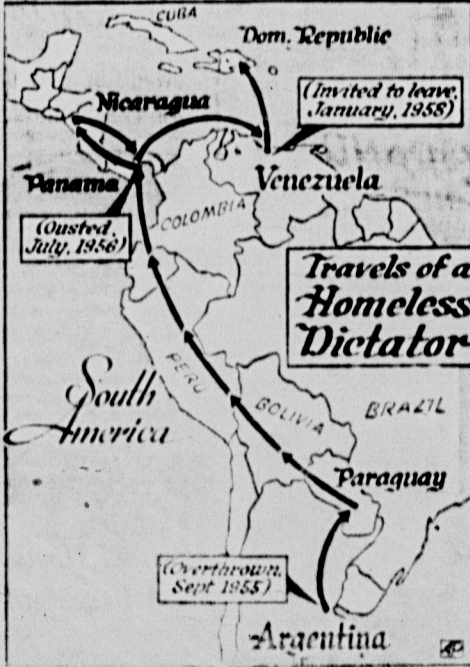

Nothing can be gained by forcing a "tradition" on the people, and besides the dissenters can still sleep Sundays—until the next law goes through!

Byrd's Quitting A Big Surprise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate must be slipping. Sometimes it has seemed that only death or a political knockout could pry a senator from office.

But when Harry Flood Byrd (D-Va) said Wednesday he will not run for re-election this year, he became the fifth senator to reach such a conclusion.

Previously Sens. Edward Martin (R-Pa), who is 78; Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), 77; William Knowland (R-Calif), 49, and William Jenner (R-Ind), 49, had said they had had it.

They gave various reasons—Byrd, for example, has an ailing wife—but they add up to a surprisingly large group to leave the Senate voluntarily.

Biggest Shock
In some ways Byrd's decision is the biggest shock. True, he will be 71 on June 10. But he has made such a career of going his own, and often lonely, course that he had become an institution.

During the 25 years he has been in the Senate Byrd's statements calling for more economy in government have become a part of the scenery, like the reading of Washington's Farewell Address in Congress every Feb. 22.

Successful in the newspaper business, successful as an apple grower—he and his partners raise such a large crop every year in this country could have one of their apples—Byrd brought into government this fiscal philosophy:

You don't save money by spending it, Junior.

So in 1938 he was saying: "We have at Washington today the most costly, the most wasteful, and the most bureaucratic form of government this republic has ever known or ever been afflicted with."

And though government has steadily become larger and costlier, Byrd has fought it stubbornly every step of the way.

All Alone
But it wasn't only in monetary matters that Byrd often seemed to be playing a lone hand. He brought this up himself in 1952 when he announced he would not support his fellow Democrat, Adlai Stevenson, for the presidency.

Byrd pointed out that in 1924 he had been one of the few senators to oppose the National Recovery Act, that in 1935 he was one of five to vote against the Wagner Labor Act...

But if Byrd had his troubles on the national scene, he did well at home.

Few senators manage to retain their hold on state politics, Byrd did.

The so-called Byrd organization can't be compared to one with a city machine, but political observers have pointed out it has been effective.

Generally speaking, what Byrd has wanted, so has Virginia. And what Byrd hasn't wanted, Virginia wanted no part of either.

Byrd, of course, is too smart to admit this.

MSU 'Nine' Has Experience

A well-experienced and well-balanced team will be representing MSU on the baseball diamond this spring. Although a few of last year's regulars will be missing, it shouldn't be too hard to fill their shoes.

On the mound, the Spartans can rely on five left-handers, including Ron Perranoski, Bill Mills, Bob Rabus, Dick Radatz, and Dick Griffin.

Edwards should help the mound corps.

With no left-handers returning, the catching position will be one of the hardest positions to fill. Five men are fighting for the job, although none has any Big 10 experience. Senior Don Gilbert, making his first appearance in a Spartan baseball uniform, is given the best chance for the starting nod.

Competing with Gilbert are senior Hal King, juniors Jim Conlin and Hardy Christ, and sophomore John Hendee.

Heading the list of infielders is second baseman Frank Palamara, the team captain. Junior John Carter is expected to be an able replacement for Palamara.

Gerry Stiffler, Gerry Mersdith, and Ron Bietz are fighting for first base, while Gary Warner and Dick Schiesel will be playing third base.

At shortstop, letterman Gerry Korwek is returning, but is being pressed by sophomore Dick

Also, senior Tom MacCormick, junior Dean VanderWal, and sophomores Larry Foster, Don Plekmann, Don Sackett, and Jyn

The preliminaries to the intramural fraternity swimming meet were held Tuesday and Wednesday night. Finals in the fraternity competition will be held tonight in Jenison Pool.

Qualifiers to Compete Fraternities to Collide In IM Swimming Meet

The intramural fraternity swimming meet will be held tonight at 6:30 in Jenison Pool. This will be the main event after two nights of qualifying competition.

The public is invited to attend the meet, and for those who are planning to attend the West German Gymnastics team performance, the meet should be over in time to see the German show.

Two fraternity records were broken during the preliminaries, and another was tied.

Delta Tau Delta's Bo Miller smashed both records in the 100-yard and 200-yard freestyle events. During the preliminaries, Miller was the winner in three races.

The 100-yard freestyle was broken by Miller with a time of 57.7. The old mark was held by Dick Drewver of Sigma Nu in 1954. Drewver had swum the route in 57.5.

Miller's new fraternity mark in the 200-yard freestyle is 2:14.6. He broke the mark set previously by Dick Wallin of Psi Upsilon in 1953.

Miller won his other event for the Delta in the 50-yard freestyle event with a time of 25.5.

Beta Theta Pi tied the fraternity record in the 75-yard Medley Relay with a time of 38.0. Last Chi had set the mark in 1954.

Beryl Hill of Delta Tau Delta had the best qualifying time in the 50-yard backstroke with 25.5.

In the 50-yard breaststroke event, Dick Hennessy of Beta Theta Pi came out on top with a winning time of 30.0.

Bob Polz of Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the diving competition and the 100-yard freestyle relay event was won by Psi Upsilon, with a time of 4:48.

For The Record

The Big Year

By PETE WALTERS
State News Editorial Page Editor

THE DEUTSCHER TURNER-BUND (German gymnasts if you prefer), who will perform at Jenison Fieldhouse tonight, are the first of two top-flight gymnastics features at Michigan State this year.

The second attraction, the National Collegiate Championships, are still a couple of months away (April 11-12), but "approaching fast," as Spartan Coach George Szypula puts it.

These NCAA meets aren't the sort of thing you just clip a coupon and send in for. Just ask Szypula, himself a former NCAA tumbling champ and head of the Michigan state squad since its beginning in 1947.

"Plenty of coaches go a lifetime without getting a championship meet at their schools," he admits. "You've got to go to the NCAA rules committee that your facilities and location are especially suited for the meet, and even then you've got a lot of competition."

This is the first year Michigan State fans will be able to watch their gymnasts in competition with some of the nation's finest without traveling some distance. It is also the first time in two years that an international touring group will perform on campus. The Swedish counterpart of the German Turner-Bund presented its show during the 1955 season, thrilling confirmed gymnastics enthusiasts and first-time onlookers alike.

The German group promises to do the same this year.

THE SPARTANS STAND a good chance of combining a "big" year as far as home events go with a big year in the nationals. In nine years of NCAA meet participation they have finished between fifth and 12th place and have hosted two national champions, Mel Stout and Carl Rintz.

This year State will have the advantage of competing in the nationals at home plus a promising array of performers. Stan Tarshis has beaten all comers on the horizontal bar, including former National AAU champ Abie Gross, of Illinois, and twice fouled the old Jenison Fieldhouse going record with 290-point outfits. Then there's star gladiator man Cal Girard, Ted Muzevyko, Dick Becker, Jack Festa and . . . well, what you might call a real strong team. You'll be seeing some of those names in the headlines, come April 13.

State Enters National Cue Tournament

Michigan State is entered in a national Air Mail Billiard tournament this year, and State's team has been selected through a local tourney.

With some 40 colleges entering the tournament, each college will have a three-man team representing them.

The three top men in each class of this national tourney will meet in a playoff series at Iowa State College to determine the national champion in each class.

State's three-man teams for national competition include Roger Overway, Edward Daniels, and Bob Altenhof in the pocket billiards competition; Al Sarris, Heracio Valdes, and Wayne Miller in the straight rail division, and Overway, Jack Kammeraad, and Eugene Dykstra in the three-cushion event.

Stroud, Maidlow Lead Matmen

Lansing Products Make Good

By CHUCK RICHARDS
Michigan State's athletic line-up includes athletes from all over the United States and even some from foreign countries.

For instance there's All-American football star Walt Kowalczyk from Massachusetts, basketball center John Green from Ohio, trackster Dave Lean from Australia and the fleet-footed Kennedy brothers from Canada.

With such a group of performers from distant parts of the world, it is perhaps ironic that two of State's best athletes live but a stone's throw from the campus in Lansing.

Although their names may not be as well known, Don Stroud and Ken Maidlow are still tops on the wrestling front.

Maidlow boasts a magnificent dual meet record. The six-foot, two-inch, 265-pound strongman has rung up 16 victories in three years of dual competition, interrupted only by four ties.

Stroud takes a back seat to no one in the 130-pound weight division. The quick little (five foot, five inch) lightweight points with pride to a 19-3 slate in the same period. Both are undefeated this season, their senior year.

The pair has other similar-ties, too. Both attended Lansing Sexton High School, both were coached by Iggy Konrad and both won state prep mat titles two years running.

The similarity doesn't stop there, either. Both are married and both are hampered by outside activities, which include Stroud's two children and Maidlow's part-time job.

Probably their biggest booster is Coach Fendley Collins. "Maidlow's one of the best heavyweights I've ever had," he said. "In fact, he has more potential than any heavyweight I've seen."

"He's so fast," Collins pointed out. "It isn't often that a man his size has such tremendous speed. If it wasn't for a few handicaps he could have been the best."

Maidlow has had knee trouble for the past two years. This is the first year he has not had the problem. Collins blames the frequent injuries for Maidlow's failure to produce a "badass" performance. "He hasn't been in good enough condition to get the whole way," he commented. "But on a match-a-week basis, he can't be beat."

Maidlow's biggest triumph was when he won the National AAU Greco-Roman event in 1956. He is a residential building major.

Stroud has run into some handicaps, too. "He's a very hard worker, but he does have his wife and two children to take care of," Collins explained. "In addition, he's majoring in civil engineering, which keeps him awfully busy with the books."

Despite the time-consuming ways of a family and a exciting career he has maintained a 2.6 average, which earned him a combination athletic-scholastic scholarship.

Don also found time to win the Big 10 title as a sophomore and finish third in the National AAU the year before.

Detroit Pistons Lose

DETROIT (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks tied up an early lead and maintained it through the second half in defeating the Detroit Pistons handily, 122-105 in a National Basketball Assn. game Wednesday night.

Virginia Selects Coach

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—In a surprise move, the University of Virginia Wednesday named Richard Voris, 34-year-old assistant football coach at West Point, as its coach. Voris will get a three-year contract at an undisclosed salary.

It had been rumored earlier in the week that Michigan State's offensive line coach,

Burt Smith, had been offered the job, but the Virginia university said Wednesday that "The unanimous choice of the athletic council was Voris. The job was not offered to anyone else."

The selection of Voris climaxed a 13-day search for a man to replace Ben S. Martin, who resigned to accept a similar post at the Air Force Academy.
