House Hits Filter Tip Cigarettes

False Advertising Hoodwinks Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fast filter-tipped cigarettes produce as much or more nicotine and tar as cigarettes without filters, a House committee reported Wednesday.

The congressmen accused cigarette manufacturers of having hoodwinked the American public with filter-tip advertising.

Unanimously approving a report made by a subcommittee hearings last year, the House Government Operations Committee also took the Federal Trade Commission to task. It said that the FTC, by not passing the advertising, allowed smokers to become "brainwashed" that filters would furnish health protection.

The FTC announced Saturday it had invited manufacturers to help develop uniform specifications for determining tar and nicotine content. It said its aim is to end confusion over various claims.

While the tobacco industry denied there were any health hazards in smoking, the committee said, at the same time the industry made the hazard charges appear true by implying that the tips remove alleged causes of cancer and heart disease.

Filter-tips accounted for 40 percent of cigarette sales in 1957, the report said. The figure in 1952 was only 14 percent.

When many people didn't like the taste of their first filtered smokes, the report said, the manufacturers loosened the filters and used lower grade, longer tobacco to let more smoke particles get through. But they still charged two to six times more a pack for filter-tips, the report said.

"The filter cigarette smoker, in most cases, getting an inch or more nicotine and tar from the filter than he would get from the regular cigarette, has been hoodwinked into believing that the filter is his health's friend," the report added.

These statistics were included in the report.

The tobacco industry's sales in 1957 were more than five billion dollars a year, having exceeded 2 1/2 billion and more than 100 million a year is spent on advertising.

Being cancer deaths shot up 2,500 reported cases in 1957 to 29,000 in 1956. Various diseases were advanced for this disease.

In 1953 cigarette sales dropped for the first time in 21 years. The report said the cancer reports were responsible for that, and that filter-tips helped the industry to recoup.

Camps, Resorts Discussed Summer Job 'Kickoff' Scheduled for Tonight

The Summer Employment Kickoff program for students interested in job opportunities at camps and resorts will be held tonight from 7:30-9:30 in the Union Ballroom.

Representatives from camps and resorts will be present to answer all questions, including those of job qualifications, salaries, and duties. Information on the procedures necessary to follow in securing such a job will be given.

Catalogs listing the open positions in camps and resorts will be available the night of the program and later at the Placement Bureau's part-time employment desk. Students may check out these catalogs by making a request at the desk and depositing their ID cards.

The annual program has included industrial jobs in past years, but because of numerous requests in this more limited area, the program is being restricted to camp and resort openings this year, according to Jack Kinney, Placement Bureau director.

The program itself will be on an informal basis. Students may drop in any time between the scheduled hours and two short speeches will be given at 7:45 and 9.

Ten representatives from camps and 10 from resorts will be present.

Though some of the openings require experience, many do not, Kinney stated. There are jobs for camp counselors, resort waitresses, and many others.

Though the representatives will not be hiring it is important that the interested student attend this kickoff meeting to have his questions on summer work possibilities answered, Kinney said.

Library Displays 300 Old Books On Vet Medicine

One of the world's best collections of early books on veterinary medicine is on public display at the library.

Exhibited are some of the nearly 300 items obtained from the library of the late Fred R. Beauquette. Works from the 15th-19th centuries are included. One, a work on agriculture, was printed 10 years before Columbus sailed.

The library display includes a great deal of pictorial material, much of it about the horse, for centuries the only animal treated medically. Visitors will see such rare books as a 1517 edition of Pliny's "Natural History" written in the first century.

The exhibit, assembled in recognition of National Rare Book Week, was drawn from the MSU Veterinary Historical Library, one of the finest collections in the English-speaking world, according to Vet Med officials.

Banquet to Honor Top Ag Students, Faculty Members

The Ag Honors banquet will be held Feb. 27 in Peoples Church this year and will feature Paul Miller, director of the extension service, as the main speaker, according to an announcement by the publicity chairman, Larry Sneed, Eaton Rapids senior in ag mechanics.

The banquet is sponsored each year by Ag Council which represents the ag fraternities and clubs, to honor outstanding students and faculty on the School of Agriculture.

Research Grants Given Michigan, MSU Scientists

MSU and University of Michigan scientists have been given grants totaling $14,000 to carry out basic research in the constant search for a cure for cancer.

Grants of $5,000 for cancer studies at Michigan State and $9,000 for other cancer studies at the University of Michigan by the Ingham County Unit, American Cancer Society, were announced by Seth Bidwell, thirty unit president.

Dr. Lloyd C. Ferguson, chairman of the MSU fund-allocation committee, accepted the $5,000 gift to Michigan State from Bidwell and Andrew Langebaumer, director of the cancer-fighting organization, at the cancer detection center in Lansing.

Ferguson, head of microbiology and public health and director of biological science, said the cancer society's contribution will be allocated to several research projects dealing with mutation and cellular growth.

French Theme Set For Continental Club

"Chez Emeralde" will theme the Union Board's Continental Club Saturday night from 9-12 in the Union Parlors.

Erving Roberts and his band are scheduled to provide music for this French night-club event.

A seldom-seen, but much discussed feature of the post-war days is this convenient method of transportation from distant sorority houses to the central campus area. (See story, column two.)

Ike Fears Aid Reduction

Red Terms Don't Jibe With U.S.

East-West Meet May be Doomed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States suddenly stiffened its attitude toward an East-West Summit Conference Wednesday. A high official ruled out a meeting on terms dictated by Moscow.

In Washington summit conference policy was discussed by Deputy Under-Secretary of State Robert Murphy, the top diplomatic adviser to Secretary Dulles.

His comments, which were tied in with new denunciations of the double game of policy and propaganda played by Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist Party boss Khrushchev, emphasized the possibility of failure to arrange a summit conference.

This emphasis represented something of a new tack. In recent months President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles had been stating U.S. policy in positive terms, with much more stress on American readiness to join in a summit conference.

The change of atmosphere is attributed by best informed officials to reaction all over the free world to President Eisenhower's message to Premier Bulganin last Monday. In this letter to Eisenhower he said negotiations for a top level session had reached an impasse and he called for negotiations privately through diplomatic channels.

Holds Three Hour Session AUSG Defeats Aid Bill

By LIZ TROESTER
State News Night Editor

Student Congress stretched consideration of bills and resolutions into a three hour session Wednesday night as they succeeded in passing two of the three bills and five resolutions.

Congressional debate centered, however, on Bill 33 which was not passed. The bill, introduced by Al Stone, East Shaw, would appropriate $110 for grants for foreign students to attend the UN seminar in New York spring vacation. The money would be administered by the campus YM-YWCA, co-sponsor of the project with the political science department.

The argument that a grant of money had just been refused the Fresh-Soph Council was brought up. The difference was pointed out that the Council has an agreement with the university on which it can draw. The Campus "Y" does not.

AUSG personnel who had attended the seminar in previous years were divided on the value of the project. The discussion needed with the bill being tabled for a week so that the matter Amendments to the 1957-58 Elections Ordinance contained in Bill 37 (Bernhard Schumann, Armstrong and Ted Robinson, East Shaw) was passed without opposition. It deletes the section on winter term elections which are limited to Student Congress representatives, allows married students to vote in the primaries and sets a time defeated candidate can ask for a recount of ballots.

Bill 38 (Carroll Sattler, West Shaw, Bill Jensen, Lansing, Gerry Butz, West Mayo, and Lyle Sumner, married housing) was defeated. It would have required a roll call vote on the third reading of all bills unless a voice vote was requested.

Bill 39 (Sattler) which would make grad students voting members of AUSG with one representative on Congress was sent to committee.

Resolution 45 (Sumner) to have the legs of the library table adjusted to prevent their wobbling was passed.

Three resolutions on parking regulations sponsored by Sumner were also passed. Resolution 46 requests that parking lots designated in dark blue on the map of Student Motor Vehicle Regulation No. 10 be changed to a brighter color so that they will stand out better against the blue background.

The elimination of 'blue' designation for the bays in front of and adjacent to the Music Building was asked by Resolution 47. Student parking in the east bay on the street west of Anthony Hall was requested by Resolution 48.

Resolution 49 which would set up a warning system to remind violators that they must pay their fine or appeal the summonses within 15 days or lose their parking permit for 90 days was sent to the traffic committee.

Resolution 50 (Sumner) that the Star Spangled Banner be played before all home basketball games was passed.

WKAR Begins 338th Book On 'Radio Reading Circle'

In the fall of 1936 a new program called the "Radio Reading Circle" appeared on the WKAR schedule. On this program, full length books were read to the listeners. Since that date 337 books have been read over the air.

Larry Frymire, who has been doing the show since 1943, has started reading this week the program's 338th book. Six mornings a week at 9. Frymire will read "They Came to Cordura" by Glendon Swarthout, of the MSU faculty.

The story which has been sold to Columbia Pictures for over a quarter million dollars, is based on the U. S. punitive expedition in 1916 against the famed bandit Pancho Villa. The novel concerns itself with Major Thorns, awards officer of the campaign and how he forces his way against fearful odds to Cordura.

The National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters has announced the nationwide selections of 101 men and women to serve on the operating committees of the NAB throughout 1958.

Included from the WKAR staff were: Larry Frymire, announcer, appointed to the grants in-aid and the public relations committees; R. J. Clemon, director, appointed treasurer for the 1961 term; also a member of the executive and the awards and citations commissions; Wayne C. Wayne, production supervisor, appointed to the Radio Network Acceptance Comm.

NAB is a 32 year-old professional organization for radio-TV departments in schools and colleges throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Plans Journey to World's Fair Junior to Take 'Chance of Lifetime' Trip

By LYNN CARDWELL

Ever say to yourself, "Boy, this is a chance of a lifetime?" That's what Chuck Butterworth, Royal Oak junior, has been telling himself ever since he learned he will be going to the World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium, this year.

"I was flabbergasted," Chuck said, "when I found out I was going." "It seems everyone knew he was going before he did."

He was working on Campus Chest at the time and while in ROTC he was talking up the drive when the major came up and congratulated him. Chuck didn't realize what he was talking about and thinking the officer was pulling his leg he offered an unknowing "thanks" and went on talking about Campus Chest.

Then he overheard the officer tell someone, "Butterworth's going to Brussels."

From there it was dashing around to make sure it was true. He called his family only to find they already knew too. It was in his hometown newspaper, (How's that for efficiency of the press!)

Chuck will be among several hundred American students who will board the S.S. American at New York on March 28. They will act as guides and demonstrators for the United States Exposition.

Selection of students was made after an oral exam and interview. Chuck said the entire application process took about two and a half months.

Ability to speak French fluently was a major requirement for selection. He said this was all right but also some knowledge of the Scandinavian languages, Spanish, Italian and others was needed. Chuck said he was self-taught (this came in a laughing, doubtful voice) on most of these—picking up words and phrases here and there.

Interviewing was done here on campus but the final selection rested with the Michigan State Department in conjunction with the U.S. State Department. Michigan has approximately 500 applicants from which 10 were chosen.

Students from all over the country will go together to Brussels where they will be in the employ of the U.S. government. They will work at the Exposition 40 hours a week with the remaining time their own. Chuck said he plans to take full advantage of this time to see the country and meet the people.

He plans to return to MSU sometime in November to finish work for his degree.

Says Cut Would Spur Tax Boost

Call Program 'Critical Margin'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday higher taxes, but draft cuts and a "massive increase" in defense spending would result if Congress sharply reduces his request for $3,942,160,000 in new foreign aid funds.

He drew this grim picture in a special message formally requesting "urgency continuation" of the government's global aid program for an 11th straight year.

The sum requested was about a billion dollars more than an economy-minded Congress provided last year but 600 million dollars less than the administration sought in 1957. Nearly 30 billion dollars in foreign aid money has been sent overseas since 1948.

Eisenhower contended this new program, for the year beginning July 1, represented "the critical margin of assistance" needed to assure American and free world security against Red threats.

"It is my duty to make clear my profound conviction that the vigorous advancement of this program is our only logical course," Eisenhower said. "Our mutual security program is of transcendent importance to the security of the United States."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, commented: "The mutual security program has become a major part of the foreign policy of the United States. With that thought in mind, the President's message will receive careful and thorough study."

Indicative of the trouble that an aid program faces in Congress was a report today from the House Government Operations Committee. It called for a "hard-headed re-examination" of arms aid, and said "the wastage is too great to be ignored."

Eisenhower prominently displayed in the first page of his 3,500-word message what he viewed as the impact if Congress voted "in dissonance or sharply reduce" the program. He said these things would result:

1. A "severe disposition" of free world strength against Red aggression and economic subversion.
2. A "crumbling under" under-Soviet pressures" of America's network of overseas bases.
3. A vast increase in the U.S. defense budget, "necessitating increases in taxes."
4. A "heavy increase in inductions of American youth into the Armed Forces."
5. Eventually a beleaguered America, "almost alone in a world dominated by International Communism."

Council Votes To Support Ride Planning

Pan-Hellenic Council voted Wednesday night to support the work of a four-member committee seeking a solution to security locale transportation problems on Harrison Road.

A motion was brought up and passed, according to Mary Lou Mausteller, president of the council, to support the committee and add representatives to the committee.

"We are supporting this program, because we would like to improve certain aspects of the situation," said Miss Mausteller.

She added that the council as a representative of students living in East Lansing realizes the responsibility of maintaining good relations with the city of East Lansing.

Miss Dee VanHala, a representative of the committee, also talked to Roger Forbush, president of Inter-Fraternity Council, and Mrs. Mabel Peterson, director of women's division about the ride situation Wednesday night.

For the present the four houses involved are curtailing hitch-hiking as much as possible and having crews that must hitch-hike go to a spot on the crest of the hill where oncoming motorists have a clear view, according to Miss VanHala.

Spartan Spirit Slates Basketball Send-off Rally

The second basketball pep rally in Michigan State's history will take place Sunday at 2 p.m. in Jensen Fieldhouse.

It will give students a chance to send-off the Spartan eagles headed for Lafayette, Ind., to play Purdue Monday night.

Students are cordially invited to attend the rally, according to Russ Fitzgerald, Spartan Spirit publicity director.

Two Union Board acts, a Dixieland combo and a skit, "Get Me to the Dorm on Time," will provide the entertainment.

The basketball team, currently in first place in the Big 10 race, and the cheerleaders will be on hand for the occasion.

State News Wants New Drinking Laws

ONE OF THE MOST SERIOUS problems on the nation's campuses is drinking—and it concerns some colleges more than others.
College authorities vary in their approach to the question of drinking, especially when college policy in the matter is not rigid.

During prohibition the country learned, the hard way, that morals can be legislated only within limited bounds.
The present state, county and university laws prohibiting drinking do not stop students under 21 from drinking since the laws encourage hypocrisy and a disrespect for law itself.

This position has been substantiated 100 percent by a Yale university study of the drinking habits of college students published in 1953.
The study, which took investigators to 27 colleges, and included the questioning of 17,000 students revealed that:
1) A large majority of students who drink start doing so BEFORE entering college—79 percent of the men and 65 percent of the women.

Letters Praise Given Music Staff

To the Editor:
Aware of the fact that the State News does not publish reviews of Friday concerts in Monday editions, I felt compelled to extend my personal thanks and appreciation to Dr. Underwood and the staff of the music department for providing Michigan State concert-goers with an unusually fine musical experience in the form of mezzo-soprano Christa Ludwig.
Her concert at the Music Auditorium Friday night was not only her American debut, but was one of the finest examples of leadership I have ever had the pleasure to hear. It is most heartening to note the Music Department's foresight in signing a comparatively little-known artist of this calibre.

Rain, Snow Hit Nation, 236 Dead

Florida Records Coldest in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Relief workers struggled on many fronts Wednesday to get transportation, business and school systems back to normal in the snow and cold-beleaguered eastern part of the nation.

The intense cold moderated somewhat in the East and the weather bureau warned that quick thaws could create ice perils. Drifts up to 25 feet cover parts of New York.

Heavy rains splattered north and central California causing snow flooding in that area.

The twin assault from snow and cold was blamed for at least 23 deaths in 25 states and the death of Columbia. The toll came from accidents on snow-covered highways, over-exertion clearing away snow and fire.

The arctic siege produced the results:

A 24-mile ice gorge caused 90 westbound lanes of the mighty Mississippi River near Cairo, Mo., to be blocked entirely.

Traffic was blocked entirely on the Ohio River.

North Carolina had its worst snow freeze in half a century. County schools were closed.

Records at the Tampa, Fla., weather bureau indicate that this winter — from December 1 through February — will be the coldest in the history of west central Florida, averaging 54.8 degrees.

Incomplete records date back more than 100 years. The previous coldest winter was in 1885-86, averaging 56.3 degrees.

Many rural families still were without power in New York state, being aided by air or by snow shovels.

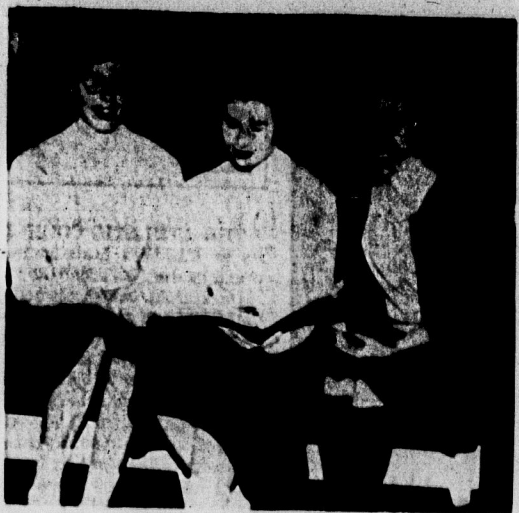

Large numbers of birds were reported dying of starvation and exposure in Florida. Citrus that were off to the ground were being fed to hungry cattle.

Dancers, Singers Needed for Show

Dancers, singers and other talented persons are in demand for the Senior Council Touring Talent Show. Especially needed are male tap dancer, over 5'7"; a male pop singer, and a quartet trio, according to director Elaine Gezon.

Interested persons should call Elaine Gezon at ED 2-5081. Rehearsal will be held tonight, 8 p.m. in the Union Mailing Room.

Last year the show toured Jackson Prison, Veteran's Hospitals, Children's Hospitals and included with a campus show. Schedule plans are incomplete at present, according to Miss Gezon.

WIC Elects President, Veep

Women's Inter-Residence Hall Council Wednesday elected Marlene Echlinau, Lakewood Club junior, and former vice-president of the Council, to head the group as president for 1958-59.

Marlene Memler, Woodstock, Ill., sophomore, was elected vice-president. She served as the WIC historian this year.

Reserve Level Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board lowered the reserve requirements of member banks by one-half of one percent Wednesday, thereby creating a theoretical increase of three billion dollars in lending capacity.

Only the president and vice-president are chosen from the present council, and the remaining officers from among new council members in office spring term, according to Linda Malita, Allegan junior, outgoing president.

Both cords take office spring term and will be installed next Wednesday.

Explosion Rips Burning Ship

BAHRAIN, Persian Gulf (AP)—An explosion Wednesday ripped through a crack new British cargo ship that has been on fire in Bahrain harbor for two days.

More than 30 persons were reported killed in the blast. It occurred aboard the 7,440-ton Seistan at 9:45 p.m. (1:45 p.m. EST).

The explosion rocked the island, a major oil center off the coast of Saudi Arabia.

Sudan, Egypt Still Feuding

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP)—Sudan announced early this morning it will ask the UN Security Council to act on the Sudanese-Egyptian dispute over a border area both claim.

Officials said Egypt had rejected Sudan's proposal made in Cairo that Egypt not hold a plebiscite in the area Friday. A plebiscite is being held throughout Egypt then to name Egypt's President Nasser as president of the New United Arab Republic (UAR) of Egypt and Syria.

Red Rocket Info Analysis 'Incomplete'

The head of the Office for the International Geophysical Year said he suspects Russia has not turned over data from its satellites because it has not yet had time to properly analyze it.

Dr. J. W. Joyce, speaking at an Engineer's Week program here, commented that it takes a long time to interpret telemetered data, especially if electronic computing systems are not used.

A rocket firing last July, he stated, revealed that a factor in radio blackouts is apparently due to an additional ionized layer (electrically charged layer of air) extending some 12 miles below the lowest normal layer of the ionosphere.

He said experiments indicate this may have been caused by a major solar flare June 28. Normal layers of the ionosphere were not materially affected by the flare, contrary to earlier beliefs, he said.

Another tentative finding, Joyce said, is evidence that the earth's atmosphere may extend much further beyond the level where it was previously thought to end and that the very tenuous atmosphere of the sun, its corona, may fill all the space between the earth and the sun.

Meteorological observations from Antarctica, he said, have already improved southern hemisphere weather forecasts.

Joyce stated that analysis of cosmic ray and geomagnetic data may materially change our concept of the earth's magnetic field.

A MESSAGE TO THE SENIOR WITH TOMORROW ON HIS MIND

Melpar's sure, swift growth during the past eleven years — we have doubled in size every 24 months — is due, in large part, to the outstanding performance of our engineering staff.

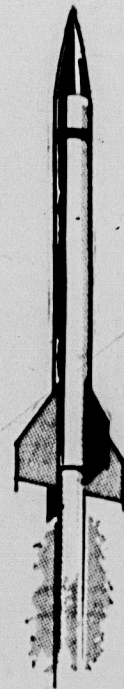

As a leading R & D organization, we are constantly called upon to perform tasks which have never been done before. Thanks to the creative talent which forms the backbone of our organization, we have grown rapidly both in stature and size. Members of our staff have enjoyed similarly rewarding growth.

Performance Determines Advancement. Individual recognition is a fundamental policy at Melpar. Each engineer is advanced on the basis of his performance. The average age of our engineering staff (one of the industry's youngest) and the rapidity of growth of above-average staff members, are clear indications of what Melpar's individual recognition policy can mean to you.

Project Teams. As a Melpar staff member you will enjoy the opportunity to participate in entire projects, from conception to completion of prototype. Our project team basis of organization gives you the satisfaction of seeing your own efforts materialize, and helps you acquire experience essential to eventual managerial responsibility.

Fine Living Conditions. Melpar laboratories are located in choice suburban areas near Washington, D. C. and Boston, Massachusetts. These areas were selected because of their proximity to outstanding educational, cultural and research facilities. Fine housing in all price ranges is readily available.

Facilities. Melpar offers complete facilities for creative research and design. Our headquarters laboratory near Washington, D. C. encompasses 265,000 air-conditioned sq. ft., is ultra modern in design and equipped with an eye to both future and present needs.

Swims Because He Likes It

Patterson Enjoys His Work

By MARY WATSON

Athletes who compete simply for the enjoyment of a sport are rare today. But tankard Don Patterson is a good example of such an individual. As he says, "I swim because I like it, practice hard because I want to—enjoy it."

He continues, "Many colleges place too much emphasis on the professional aspects of swimming. Here at State the squad is comparable to a big happy family, a family with a common goal. Any individual wants to give his best performance to contribute to the attainment of this goal."

Patterson began his competitive swimming in high school and developed an extremely good background. As a sophomore last season he was one of State's outstanding prospects and today he is the backbone of the team in sprint events.

Coach Charles McCaffree calls this Spartan "as hard a worker as we have on the team; he wants to do it." As a sophomore he swam the 100 yd. freestyle in 50.0, we expect the same this year. In the 400 yd. freestyle relay this season his split was timed at 49.3.

In 1957 Patterson was classified as All-American material in the 50 yd. and 100 yd. freestyle relay. He holds the varsity record, 50.7, for the 100 yd. freestyle in a 20 yd. course pool and the 50 yd. mark, 22.6, in the short course pool. He is also a member of the record holding medley and freestyle relay teams.

This season Don rounded out the 400 yd. freestyle relay team which set new dual meet, varsity, and pool records in the Purdue meet. The new mark is 3:24.6. In addition, he has consistently performed well in his individual events.

When he is not swimming this Glenview, Ill., junior, spends a great deal of his time studying. A marketing major, he is aiming for a berth in Northwest State's graduate business school. His latter interests revolve around Varsity Club, his fraternity, Phi Delta Theta, of which he is an officer, and his summer love, golf.

Patterson is undoubtedly up to the Michigan meet and is anxious to help his teammates bring home another victory, the most important victory of the season. Here is one who has worked hard and wants to see a record swimming championship come State's way.

Is Boxing Doomed?
By LARRY GUSTIN
State News Sports Editor

THE ATHLETIC COUNCIL, governing board of athletics at Michigan State announced last spring that boxing would be dropped from the varsity program after this year.

Dr. Harold Tukey, council chairman, told me Wednesday night some of the reasons for this decision.

"Boxing has virtually dropped out of the Big 10," he said. "Only Wisconsin still supports it in the varsity program. We (the Athletic Council) are really interested in building up sports between Big 10 schools. The proposed new hockey league is one result, and we may have a conference soccer league in the near future."

"I agree that boxing is a fine spectator sport, but it doesn't seem to be much interest in meets with San Jose (Calif.) State, Idaho State and some of the other teams we have to schedule—even though these are the best in the country," he said.

While Dr. Tukey does voice some pretty good arguments, there is, I think, another side of the story. There is interest in boxing here. Not so much as in hockey, football and basketball, to be sure, but more than in many of the minor sports which seemingly continue because there is competition between others schools in the conference.

The sport has been with us since 1933, and schools west of the Mississippi and Collegiate boxing is flourishing. Michigan State is a big opponent out there and crowds of up to 6,000 turn out for the bouts. The Spartans used to draw crowds like that too, when fighters such as Chuck Davey and Chuck Speiser were in the lineup.

Dr. Tukey did not rule out the possibility of a review of last spring's decision. Perhaps if good-sized crowds turn out for the final two meets, boxing can be kept in the varsity program.

Cagers Meet Badgers, Purdue

Green Tops Conference Rebounders

Heading into its final Saturday-Monday series of the year, Michigan State's basketball team went through a stiff practice Wednesday in preparation for Wisconsin's invasion Saturday night.

After the Badger game the Spartans will fly Sunday afternoon to Lafayette, Ind., to oppose second-place Purdue.

Coach Fordey Anderson's Spartans, perched in first place in the sizzling Big 10 chase, held a one-game advantage over next nearest foes Purdue and Ohio State. Both the Boiler-makers and Buckeyes are favored to win, so a Spartan victory is unmerited.

Center John Green, State's All-American candidate, is tied with Northwestern's Phil Warren for seventh place in recent Eastern Conference scoring statistics.

The lithe-jumping pivotman is averaging 17.4 points a game. Green tops the league with 165 rebounds an average of 16.5 per contest.

In first place in the scoring derby is Indiana's Archie Deiss who is hitting at a 24.4 clip.

Battling for the second spot are Minnesota's George Kline and Illinois' Don Ohl. Kline is plying at a 23.2 pace while Ohl has a 21.6 average.

Iowa's Dave Gunther and Michigan's Pete Tillotson are closely bunched for the fourth and fifth places as they boast 22 and 20.4 averages respectively.

A rare coincidence is that no first-division club holds a lead in the important statistical departments of scoring, defense, shooting accuracy or rebounds.

Football, cross-country and

letter winners will be awarded monograms at halftime of Saturday's game, according to Athletic Director Biggie Yohn.

FOR THE RECORD: Center Chuck Bencie came off the bench Saturday to replace the injured Green and got nine points, his high for the year.

In 18 games to date the Spartan offense has scored 1,328 points, an average of 73.7 points a game. The defense has given up 1,184 points for a 65.7 average.

"Ya gotta get 'em over the plate," is what Coach John Kobs (left), is telling four of his pitchers. The strike zone is designated by the rectangle of twine just over the plate. Pitchers work with this target to improve their control during winter workouts in the Livestock Judging Pavilion. The pitchers, left to right, are: Dick Radatz, Ron Perranoski, Bill Mills (kneeling), and Bob Rabias.

The Baseball Outlook...

Pitchers Hold Key to Success

It has been said many times by managers from the major leagues down to the worst sandlot team that pitching is perhaps 80 percent of a baseball team's success.

If this holds true, varsity baseball Coach John Kobs' team should be one of the best in the Big 10 this year. He can boast of having five returning lettermen toiling again from the mound during the approaching season.

And Coach Kobs doesn't have to stop thinking about his pitching staff here. Many of the youngsters who will prove valuable to the squad this year will be making their first appearances in a varsity uniform.

The five letterwinners, Ron Perranoski, Dick Radatz, Bob Rabias, Dick Griffin, and Bill Mills will form the nucleus to the mound corps.

Tom McCormick, who was with the team last year but saw limited action, also will be counted heavily upon, as will Dean VanderWal, an army veteran, who returned to school this year.

From the freshman team of a year ago, Larry Foster has the brightest future. Others who could easily earn jobs include Don Pisanski, Don Sackett, Craig VanSeiver, and Jim Edwards.

Of all the hurlers, Perranoski should once again be the dean of the staff. "He was the workhorse of the team last year," stated Coach Kobs, "and will probably be the top pitcher again this season."

Perranoski was the top winner on the squad, possessing an eight win, two loss record. The Spartan lefthander also led the team in strikeouts, fanning 36 batters. His earned-run average was a meager 2.47.

The two big righthanders on the squad, Dick Radatz and Bob Rabias, also show much promise. Last year they each saw action in both relief and starting roles, and both had identical one win, one loss, records. Being mainly fastball pitchers, they also sported impressive strikeout records.

Mills and Griffin, a pair of lefthanders, will add much support to the staff. They both got off to poor starts a year ago.

Mills having a sore arm and Griffin recovering from a knee operation. But Mills' 0.93 earned-run average was tops on the squad, and Griffin's 1.53 ERA wasn't much worse. Mills boasted of a 2-1 season record while Griffin had one win and one loss.

McCormick, a senior, was used mostly in relief-roles last year. He lost one game and had no victories.

Foster, the top prospect up from the freshman team, is mainly a fastball pitcher. If he can cure his control troubles, he will be a valuable asset. "This year's mound staff should be one of the best ever at Michigan State," commented Kobs. "All of them have great potential, and it will be a hard job to pick the right ones to start our games."

The coach's words couldn't be truer.

'Honey, They Mean Us' Across Continent And Back Again for Porter

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Catcher J. W. Porter was wowed at a breakfast table Wednesday after traveling 3,500 weary miles from California to learn he had been traded by the Detroit Tigers to Cleveland.

Now he, his wife and two daughters have to turn right around and head for Tucson Ariz. pre-season training base for the Cleveland Indians.

"I've read about such things happening and thought, never thinking it would happen to me. But here I am and there I go!"

Porter, 25, whose home is at Oakland, and rookie Hal Wesoelshick were traded to Cleveland.

Tuesday for veteran Jim Hegan and pitcher Hank Aguirre. The pitcher tells the story on himself.

'Assorted' Stands For UB Week

"Sorta Smooth" is the theme of Union Board Week, to be held March 2-8, it was announced by Paul Alms, chairman of the UB week committee.

The Union Grill, transformed into a New York restaurant to tie in with the "typical New York City" theme, will be named "Societa Sarda's." Sketches and caricatures of UB members will decorate the walls.

A foreign sports car will be on display in the Union grill during the week. "Sorta Sketchy," a student art show on display in the lounge during the week, includes oils, water colors, prints and sculpture. Poetry, crafts and ceramics. Prizes go to first place winners in these divisions.

A dance marathon in the Union Ballroom initiates the week's activities. March 3 at 7 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to the winning couple. In case of a tie a dance contest decides the winner.

Sixty displays parade New York City in the fashion show. "Societa Sarda's," March 3, will feature City, the Wildcat and Sarda's in the background.

"Sorta Smooth" is a full show featuring seven acts. Prizes will be awarded by Eric O. Lansing director.

A nightclub atmosphere is the theme of "Club Boheme" to be held Friday night. Entertainment and favors highlight the evening's continental flavor.

"Societa Sarda's" variety show in which college life and a housewife's routines are satirized climaxes the week.

Tickets for the dance and variety show are available March 3-7 from 10:4 p.m. at Gentry Hall and the Union grill.

Prison Escape Puzzle Solved

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The disappearance of "baby-ban-dit" Paul Joe Payne baffled state penitentiary authorities for 18 years. How did he escape?

Apparently he didn't. A skeleton, tentatively identified as that of Payne, was discovered Tuesday night beneath a three-inch layer of concrete and two feet of dirt in the prison metal shop.

A murder charge was filed Wednesday against an ex-convict named Jack Youngblood in the slaying.
