Labor Laws Stew in Senate

Corruption, Union Curbs Hot Issues

Senators Clash On 'Bill of Rights'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration Thursday threw President Eisenhower's labor law proposals into an already boiling senate debate over union corruption curbs and other restraints.

The move promised a battle running for several days over a wide range of proposed labor law changes.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the democratic leader, sought to confine consideration to the single bill before the senate—a plan to regulate labor welfare funds.

Sen. Knowland of California, the republican leader, pushed a series of amendments he described as labor's bill of rights but classed by Johnson as anti-labor.

Thursday afternoon, after visiting the White House, Secretary of Labor Mitchell announced that since Knowland was pushing his amendments, the administration has decided to offer Eisenhower's proposals as amendments too. They have been hanging fire since January.

Mitchell said the welfare fund control bill, although generally acceptable to the administration, is "by no means enough to give adequate protection to American workers against the corruption and abuse of trust and power which have been disclosed in the labor-management field."

The labor secretary spoke of Eisenhower's "earnest desire for the passage of his total legislative program in this area" and said the administration urged quick senate approval. Johnson objected that there had been no senate committee hearings on either the Eisenhower or Knowland proposals.

The senate Thursday night worked overtime on the pending welfare fund control bill. In the first test on it the chamber defeated 59-28 an amendment of Sen. Albert (R-Colo.) to knock out the proposed controls on 90 percent of the benefit plans.

The administration opposed the Albert amendment. Secretary of Labor Mitchell said that all of the benefit plans should be covered by the registration, disclosure and federal criminal penalty provisions of the pending bill.

WINDY DAY: All campus knew it was windy Friday, but the seeds in the Zeta Tau Alpha were positive about it. Seems the wind shed a big picture window in their house to smithereens. Judy Wiles, Kalamazoo sophomore, pops through the canvas which is temporarily covering the hole.

Fire Hits Petroleum Products

Explosion Starts Esso Plant Loss

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—A raging waterfront fire destroyed millions of gallons of petroleum products at the deepwater terminal of the Esso Standard Oil Co. Thursday. An Esso spokesman said damages will run "into several million dollars."

Triggered by an explosion in the steam generating plant shortly before 11 p.m. Wednesday, the inferno destroyed 12 of the terminal's 21 storage tanks and damaged several others.

The flames, fed by gasoline, kerosene, ship bunker oil and home fuel oil, spread through most of the plant's five-acre tank farm and were still raging at 3 p.m. Thursday.

At 2 p.m., Newport News Asst. Fire Chief T. Price said the fire at the two million dollar Hampton Roads plant was "confined but not under control. It probably will be late tonight before it is under control."

Four tanks were still burning and firemen concentrated their efforts on hosing the unburned tanks to prevent their contents from igniting.

The terminal storage capacity is 25,400,000 gallons. When the fire broke out the tanks contained between 12 and 13 million gallons.

Plus a Water Show

Young Animals, Music, Drama Provide 'Filler' for Weekend

Although officially there is nothing doing this weekend, Spartans won't find time on their hands. Music, drama, and a water show are some of the events listed for the next three days.

The young and "young at heart" can drop in at the annual College of Agriculture open house. On Saturday from 9-12, the spring crop in lambs, calves, colts and piglets will be on display in the barns. An information booth at the corner of Farm and Shaw lanes will have a map available for those lost among the barns.

For the musicals inclined the State Singers will present a free concert at Peoples Church Sunday evening at 8. The Madrigal Singers will also be on the program.

Included on the program will be two numbers backed by a chamber orchestra. Also on Sunday the University Chamber Orchestra will feature a Bach concert at 4 p.m. in the Music Aud.

"He Came Seeing," a one-act religious drama directed by Harold Edwards, Lansing junior, will be presented at 7 Saturday evening in Peoples Church social hall. The play,

TUESDAY: 7 p.m., 32 Union.

WEDNESDAY: 7 p.m., Brody Multipurpose D.

A situation comedy, will mark the spring series debut. The play, written by Mrs. Gladys Stahl, East Lansing grad student, will be directed by Kay Ingram, Plymouth senior, and Gerald Bates, Chelsea senior.

PAKISTANI STUDENTS will celebrate the second anniversary of their country's status as a republic tonight. In the back (l-r) are Nazir Abbas Bokhari, Khurshid Anwar and Myser Ali. In the front (l-r) are Nurul Islam, Saanullah Kirmani and S. H. Vigan.

Pakistanis Hold Late Celebration

The second anniversary of the Republic of Pakistan will be celebrated tonight at 8 p.m. in 146 Giltner Hall.

The program, sponsored by the Pakistani Students Assn., will begin with a recitation from the Holy Koran, Moslem holy book.

Singing of the Pakistani national anthem and a talk by Dr. Glen Taggart, Dean of International Programs, will follow.

A movie, "Some Facts About Pakistan," will be shown.

Snake charming music will be played on the flute by Dr. Narsimham of India.

Melodies from the Land of Rivers will be performed by Ghulam Sarwar and Nurul Islam.

Climaxing the program will be a group Qawali, showing the influence of the Moguls, who occupied India for four centuries.

Hand clapping and playing of the tabla, a native type of drum and the harmonium, an instrument similar to a hand organ, characterize the Qawali. Dr. Narsimham and Saanullah Kirmani, Pakistan sophomore, will play the respective instruments.

Native costumes will be featured in the program.

Pakistan was separated from India August 14, 1947 and declared itself a republic March 23, 1956.

The celebration is being held now because the anniversary occurred during spring vacation.

Days of Lectures Slated

Ag Expert Visiting Campus

James G. Maddox, Latin America specialist in agricultural economics, is on campus for a day schedule of lectures on economic, political and social problems of Latin America.

Maddox has been in the Latin American Field since 1949, when he became assistant director of the American International Assn., a non-profit organization founded by Nelson Rockefeller to administer privately-financed technical assistance projects in Venezuela and Brazil.

Maddox has been engaged in professional activities dealing with agricultural problems for the last 20 years. He worked with the U. S. Department of Agriculture for 13 years, and was secretary to the American delegation at the founding conference of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

Delegates Sent to Big 10

Big 10 Residence Halls Conference will be held today and Sunday at the University of Illinois. Fifteen MSU delegates will be attending, representing women's residence halls will be Marilyn Echeverria, Lakewood Club junior, president of Women's Inter-Residence Council, Marilyn Memler, East Lansing, sophomore, WIC president; Beverly Rossow, Haven junior; Marsha Levy, Indianapolis, sophomore; Helen Heier, Detroit sophomore; Bonnie Listello, Detroit senior; and Mary Eberhardt, Grand Rapids, sophomore.

Final Contests Scheduled Today In Interstate Oratory Competition

Final contests will be held today in the 84th annual Interstate Oratorical Assn. oratory contest.

Men and coeds from 15 states are competing in the contest which was first held at MSU last year. At the time the group voted to return this year and again in '59.

Oratory involves the presentation of a memorized manuscript speech. Participants are all winners of their state contests. They represent 125 colleges and universities.

The women's final contest is scheduled for 3:15 this afternoon. Finals for the men will be held at 8 tonight. Both will be held in the Music Aud.

Divisional primary contests were held Wednesday afternoon.

Entrants have come from Colorado, Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

Topics for the contest range from the "Sound Track of Modern Man" to "One Hope, One World, One Everlasting Peace," and from "The Young South" to "College Days and Haze."

Foreign Language English Modernized

By BILL CALLAMAN
Modern methods are the keys to the MSU system of teaching foreign language. Student's first experience in learning a new language should be near the new sounds and reproduce them, according to William Schwab of the Department of Improvement Services.

Learning a new language involves learning new sounds and patterns. At MSU this is done through repetition and drill to make the new language habits automatic. Materials are carefully selected to compare the student's native language, point by point, with the language to be learned, English.

Students will be most likely to make. The department of improvement services of the Basic College has recently added a language laboratory to its course in English as a foreign language. Classroom instruction is reinforced in the lab sessions which give students the opportunity to practice hearing and reproducing new sounds through intensive drills.

Vocabulary is also important and involves many problems. Some students are unable to "hear" a particular word or sound because such a sound simply does not exist in their native language. Differences in meaning according to stress or intonation

Cardinal Ball

'South Specific' Heads Weekend Social Whirl

By KAY WOODCOX

In spring the social whirl begins anew and this weekend various campus living units and organizations have set up parties and picnics in keeping with the season.

Newman Club is sponsoring an all-university "Cardinal Ball" Saturday from 9-12 p.m. at the Student Center. The theme, "South Specific," will be carried out in the ballroom complete with a colonial picnic, with the Mississippi running its way south to a formal moonlight garden. The garden will serve as a dance floor where couples will dance to the music of the Earl Henry orchestra. Tickets are $2 a couple.

Alpha Sigma Phi's are continuing their social trip around the world Friday from 9-12 p.m. when they will stop in Spain to visit with Picasso and his collection of the blue period. There will be dancing in the Picasso Blue Room. The decorations will be carried out in monochromatic theme, and blue and their dates will dress in blue in commemoration of painter.

"A Spring Garden" will be the theme of the Chi Omega picnic party Friday from 7-12 p.m. at the Olds Hotel. The dining room will be decorated with flowers and couples will enter the room through a garden. After dinner there will be dancing to the Kenny Harris orchestra.

Delta Tau Delta's have planned a "Come as Your Idol" costume party Saturday from 9-12 p.m. Coeds and their dates will be as a favorite or well-known personality. There will be record dancing in the recreation room.

Delta Gamma will hold their annual term party, "The Angel Ball," Saturday from 7-12 p.m. at the Lansing Civic Center. After dinner the couples will dance to the music of the Delta Gamma orchestra. "Sweet Ball" will be the theme of the Delta Delta Delta party to be held at Archie Spofford's Saturday night. Following dinner there will be dancing to the music of Jerry Brown's orchestra until midnight at the Tri-Delta house.

Well Worth Watching

The Spartan nine is a team worth watching this year. Comments from scouts who attended last Saturday's doubleheader against Albion College indicate that the Spartans have some stars who could sign contracts with major league teams if they desired.

Ron Perranoski and Capt. Frank Palamara, two of the Spartans' top performers, both have impressed big-league scouts in the past. Both are playing their third season as regulars on the squad.

Catcher Don Gilbert, who played fullback on the Spartan grid team last fall, first baseman Gerry Stifler, third baseman Gary Warner all have that added incentive that goes with a championship team.

The pitching staff, which is about 85 percent of a team's value, is also one of the best that has been combined on a Michigan State team in many years. It boasts of such stars as Perranoski, Dick Radatz, Bob Rabias, Bill Mills, and others who will prove valuable throughout the season.

This year's Spartan nine is an exciting team. A lot of good baseball will be played, and there will be a lot of thrills for Michigan State students if they back the Spartans to a Big 10 championship.

Championships, however, can't be won late in the season. It takes confidence by the students from the start for a team to win a title.

Athletics Get Even;
Plaster Tigers, 7-2

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The brash Kansas City Athletics continued their robust hitting Thursday, launching a 12-run attack against Bob Shaw and two other Detroit pitchers as they coasted to a 7-2 victory.

The Athletics, backing up the seven-hit pitching of knuckleballer Wally Burnette and reliever Tom Gorman, jumped into a two-run lead in the first inning and were never behind Burnette, battling to stay on the Kansas City staff after a poor season last year, held the Tigers in check on four hits and a single run through six innings but had to have help in the seventh when the Tigers scored one run with the help of an error by shortstop Joe DeMaestri.

After Jim Hogan got on via DeMaestri's poor throw with one out, singles by Gail Harris and Frank Bolling brought in the counter. Gorman came on to top the Tigers with only one hit—Ray Boone's single in the eighth.

In the first inning, Mike Baxes singled, Bill Tuttle walked and both moved up on Lee Lopez' sacrifice. Power's ground-out to third brought in Baxes and Bob Cerv drove in his 15th run with a whistling double to left that scored Tuttle.

Shaw held the A's in check after that until the fifth when Tuttle again walked with one out and successive doubles by Lopez and Power brought across two more. Manager Jack Fliehr brought in Vito Valentinetti, who went out for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Joe Presko finished up on the mound for the Tigers, and gave up single runs in the seventh and eighth innings.

Billy Martin, ex-A's infielder who started at shortstop and at bat for the Tigers Wednesday night, was on the sidelines with a pulled leg muscle.

RON PERRANOSKI DON GILBERT
... Spartan battery for today's game ...

Big 10 Opener Baseball Team Faces Wolves

Michigan State's baseball team will open its bid for a championship this weekend, and it will face a tough assignment. The Spartan nine must meet a strong variety of Michigan squad in a three-game series.

The Big 10 season will officially open today, when the teams meet the Wolverines in the first game at Old College.

Game time is 3:30 p.m. The two teams will then travel to Ann Arbor for a doubleheader Saturday at Ferry.

The series will probably be long in determining the conference fate for both teams.

John Kohn's Spartan will take an 8-4 record in today's contest, while the Wolverines have won 10 of 13 games.

Michigan played a two-game series against Notre Dame University early this week. They won the pair, with Michigan winning the first one, 13-7, and losing the second, 18-11.

Ron Perranoski, the pitcher on the Spartan staff, is slated to start the opening contest. Coach Fisher plans to follow with Bob Kohn and either Dick Radatz or Mills in the doubleheader.

Michigan's mound plans are still in flux. Coach Fisher indicates that his team has won offensive power, but is weak in the mound department.

Herstein, fullback on Wolverine grid squad, appears to be the best hurler. He led a 10-inning no-hitter on spring training trip.

In addition, Fisher is planning to use upon Bob Sealby, Laaksonen, and Dean Fink.

Seidler, playing his first season as a Michigan pitcher, will do the catching.

In the infield, Capt. Ernie Smith will start at shortstop, Roman at first base, Bob Kohn at second and Dave Miller at third. All but Myers are sophomores.

Herstein and Sealby will be in the outfield when Smith is on the mound. Ralph Smith and Jim Dickey also will be in the outer gardens.

Gilbert will start behind the plate for the Spartans, Gerry Stiffer at first base, Capt. Frank Palamara at second, Dick Golden at shortstop and Gary Warner at third.

In the outfield, sophomores John Fieser and Dean Look are sure starters. In right field either John Russell or Ted Kearnly will get the nod.

Fisher will be honored by the Spartans before the game today. He is completing his 38th and final season as head baseball coach at the Ann Arbor university.

Today's game will be carried by both WKAR radio and WKAR-TV. Saturday's pair will be broadcast by the radio station.

Two-Mile Squad Eyes Record Thinclads Enter Penn Relays

Michigan State's finest two-mile relay team in history will travel to the famed Penn Relays at Philadelphia Saturday with hopes of equaling their record-breaking performance of 7:24.8 in last week's Kansas Relays.

The Spartan quartet of Capt. Dave Lean, Brian Castle, Bob Lake and Willie Atterberry clipped 7.5 seconds off the old Relays mark set by Kansas in 1957. This is only 2.1 seconds slower than the world mark set by Occidental last year.

A 12-man squad including the two-mile team will accompany Coach Karl Schladeinan to the relays.

State's chief competition in the two-mile relay will be Manhattan University, a team which MSU defeated soundly two weeks ago in the Quantic Relays with a 7:37.4 performance.

Concentrating primarily on winning the two-mile event, Schladeinan has entered Lean, Atterberry, Lake and Fordy Kennedy in the distance medley in hopes of challenging Villanova and the great Ron Delany.

Kennedy will be pitted against Delany on the anchor leg of the event. Kennedy has defeated the Irishman in five miles but not in one. Schladeinan's strategy will depend upon Lean and Atterberry getting enough lead in the early legs of the race to enable Kennedy to have a large margin over Delany, discouraging the famed come-from-behind finish that is his trademark.

The program at Philadelphia Saturday will get under way with Ohio State's Glenn Davis pitted against MSU's Lean in the 400-meter hurdles. In every meeting in this event, Davis has come off the winner.

State will also compete in the four-mile sprint medley, and the mile.

Sam Elowitz and Ron Lustik will vie for honors in the shot put and discus events while Jack Crowell is entered in the two-mile run.

Sigma Chi Hurler Gets Season's 1st No-Hitter

Sigma Chi's Tom Deal tossed the first IM no-hitter of the season Thursday, as his team dumped Psi Upsilon, 18-0, in a three inning contest. Deal struck out eight of the nine batters he faced, and has allowed only two hits in three games.

Netmen Open Season With Four-Way Meet

Bolstered by four returning lettermen, the Spartan tennis squad opens its season today and Saturday at Evanston, Ill., in a quadrangular meet with Northwestern, Purdue and Chicago.

Back from last year's team are Bill Bisard, Mike Zarembo, Luis Vela and Foster Hoffman. All are seniors except Hoffman, a junior. Two sophomore additions are Bill Hotchkiss and Doug Smith.

ZAREMBA BISARD

Bisard will play the No. 1 singles spot, with Zarembo, Hotchkiss, Vela, Hoffman and Smith following in the second through sixth positions.

Bisard and Hoffman will comprise the No. 1 doubles team. Zarembo and Vela (No. 2) and Smith and Hotchkiss (No. 3) are also paired up for doubles competition.

Coach Stan Drobac, in his first year at the Spartan helm, ranks the Wildcats as a seasoned and powerful team, and probably State's toughest competition in the four-way clash. Northwestern was second in the Big 10 in 1957, while MSU placed sixth.

Although Purdue finished last in the conference race, Drobac says the Boilermakers have an improved team worthy of respect this season.

The Spartans had a 3-3 record on their spring vacation southern road trip this year.

Pistol Team Wins Triangular Meet

Michigan State's Army ROTC-sponsored pistol team won a three-way match from Wisconsin and Purdue last weekend. State's total score of 1,339 out of a possible 1,500 points topped the Badgers' 1,325 and the Boilermakers' 1,261.

MSU shooters Richard D. Holmes and Charles McComb took top honors with 828 and 823 point outputs, respectively, out of possible 900's.

Golfers to Meet Wildcats Saturday With Sophomore-Studded Lineup

Michigan State's golf team will tee off against Northwestern Saturday morning at 9 on the new golf course. It is the season opener for both teams.

Seniors Arlin Dell and Otto Schubel, and sophomore Tim Baldwin, Steve Miller and Jack Sitons, while the sixth spot will be filled by Bob Walsh. Marty Reynolds have cinched their po-

The Spartans will be out to Kieva or Bill Dorman.

Improve their standing after posting an 8-6 record last season, good for seventh place in the Big 10. Among the triumphs was a 21½-14½ win over the Wildcats.

Coach Ben VanAlstyne says "There is one unique thing about our team: each boy has equal ability." He is confident that "Our golfers have the punch for a highly-successful season."

Power Hitter

Look's home run in the first game Saturday was one of the hardest hit that Coach Kobs has ever seen. The ball was a line drive, going over the fence at the 352 foot mark.
