Big 3 Gets Gromyko's Proposals

Summit Conference Agenda Outlined

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has given the Western Big Three ambassadors a 15 page outline of Russia's proposals for a summit conference, usually informed sources said Tuesday.

Allies Urge Caution on Red Talks

Latest Soviet Note Creates Little Stir

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The NATO foreign ministers established a solid front Tuesday on summit talks by agreeing that Secretary of State Dulles was right all along in his cautious approach.

A diplomatic source said Russia's recent maneuvers have opened the eyes of many Europeans. He reported a marked change in Western thinking since the North Atlantic Council meeting in Paris last December.

Now, the informant said, not one of America's allies believes it wise to rush to top-level meetings with the Russians.

All agreed during two days of consultation here that any summit meeting must be adequately prepared and must show some prospect of East-West agreement on a basic point of world tension.

That is what Dulles has insisted on from the start. But last December, in the wake of the launching of the Soviet Sputniks, there was a disposition among some of the 15 NATO members to try out the summit idea regardless.

The latest Soviet note on summit preparations created little stir in the NATO council. French foreign minister Christian Pineau said it contained absolutely no new element.

The French, making an independent assessment of what Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was up to, came to the same conclusion as the Americans: the Russians were still stalling.

Eisenhower Hurries to Shelter Make-Believe Enemy Planes Sweep U. S. in Mock Attack

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Make-believe enemy bombers by the hundreds swept across the United States Tuesday in a massive test of the nation's ability to recover from a nuclear attack.

First reports flashed to civil defense headquarters here indicated nearly 300 mock bombers were dropped on white spots across the nation's defense and industrial points in the imaginary invasion.

More than half a million civil defense workers went into action when the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) at Colorado Springs, Colo., went on alert at 10:05 a. m. that morning.

Washington, D. C., was bombed at 12:30 p. m.

Bombings at Cleveland, Ore., San Diego, Minneapolis, Boise and Rochester, N. Y., followed quickly.

The 48th annual test called "Operation Alert 1958," will continue through today. Chiefly it is an exercise for civil defense workers at national, state and local levels.

President Eisenhower hurried to a secret bomb shelter at Washington, D. C., shortly after the alert was sounded. In actual fact the shelter would serve as his emergency headquarters for the duration of government affairs.

Thousands of New Yorkers hurried for cover when sirens signaled start of the test. Nine patients were arrested for refusing to take part.

Busy Times Square was cleared of pedestrians within three minutes. All vehicular traffic, including funeral cars, came to halt during the 10-minute take-cover alert. Planes ready for takeoff remained motionless until the drill was over.

Only Michigan and Indiana failed to take part in the general exercise. Michigan is celebrating Michigan Week and Indiana has scheduled an election, but both states will conduct separate tests later.

Action Seen On Benefits For Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats today took action to speed a bill to extend unemployment compensation benefits.

Johnson told an informal news conference that despite previous reports that he is ready to support a bill approved by President Eisenhower and passed by the House, he has made no decision on the measure.

Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, said after a White House conference that the House bill, which would make available loans to states to extend the period of jobless benefits to those who exhaust their rights before April 1, 1959, is "entirely satisfactory to the administration."

Knowland noted that the House bill varies from Eisenhower's proposal in that it makes it optional on the states to accept such loans, whereas the President has suggested the extension program be made mandatory.

A new effort is expected in the Senate in behalf of a jobless pay bill rejected by the House. This bill, estimated to cost $1.5 billion, would make federal grants to the states for distribution among the unemployed whether or not they were covered by unemployment insurance.

Not Even Missed

Shortly after giving your 16 ounces of blood this week at Dem Hall, you'll probably find yourself not even missing it. But you may wonder where it goes, and what is done to it.

The average adult has 12 pints of blood in his body. About 45 percent of the blood is comprised of cells suspended in a liquid. The remaining portion is plasma.

Plasma, a pale yellow fluid, is mostly water (about 92 percent), containing some protein and small amounts of fats, mineral salts and sugar. It is separated from the cells by settling or centrifuging.

The blood is placed in a centrifuge and spun around. After about an hour, the cells—every pint contains two and one-half trillion—settle on the bottom,

MSU Nurses Gain Standing

The MSU School of Nursing has received full national accreditation from the National League for Nursing, according to Florence C. Kempf, director of the school.

The accreditation means that graduates are fully qualified to take positions in public health as well as hospital nursing. The prestige will aid the graduates in obtaining positions after graduation, according to Mrs. Kempf.

The school, established in 1930, awards bachelor degrees in nursing to qualified students. Clinical training is provided at St. Luke's Hospital, Saginaw.

Folsom Wants To Quit Post On Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare is to get a new secretary this year, the third in its 85-year existence.

Secretary Marion B. Folsom has informed President Eisenhower he wants to leave the post, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday.

Wide-spread reports that Arthur S. Flemming, now president of Ohio Wesleyan University, would come back to Washington to succeed Folsom drew neither confirmation nor denial from Hagerty.

Folsom, a Georgian who made good in a big way with the Eastman Kodak Co. at Rochester, N. Y., has headed the department since the summer of 1955.

As Secretary, Folsom has guided activities ranging from distribution of 9,300,000 social security checks each month, to water pollution and to what to do about retarded children.

Folsom was born a Democrat 64 years ago, but through the years shifted first to being an independent and then a Republican.

Flemming, who will be 53 in June, is a Republican. He is well known in Washington, having served as a civil service commissioner, and director of defense mobilization.

Counseling Center Library Available

DITON'S NOTE: This is the third in a five-part series compiled in cooperation with Counseling Center officials.

By MITZI KENT

IN ORDER to provide one of the important resources for using students with their future plans, the MSU Counseling Center maintains an occupational library, where a lot of vocational and educational information is available to student use.

This material is of pertinence to college students and of career interests.

In an attempt to provide material that will give an objective description of a career, information presenting both negative and positive aspects of a field is available. Such information as personal qualifications, education, training, salaries and earnings, employment opportunities and unattractive features related to particular fields may be found on file in the library.

WHERE THE Placement Bureau releases information relating to specific employment situations with certain agencies, the Counseling Center gathers material related to the occupations themselves.

Publications such as those from the U. S. Department of Labor are on file in the occupational library. Selected materials are purchased from leading publishers of occupational information.

The Counseling Center periodically discards outdated material and is constantly searching for new sources of information of interest to college students.

Various departments of the university cooperate by providing up-to-date publications describing career opportunities in their professional fields.

STUDENTS MAY visit the library in the Counseling Center and go through the material on their own without appointment.

It is not necessary to see a counselor before using the library.

However, usually after a student has read about various occupations, he wishes to discuss with a counselor what he has learned through his reading.

Counselors familiar with all curricula are prepared and willing to assist students who are in doubt as to which line of study they wish to pursue.

If a student wishes to see a counselor, an appointment is necessary.

The Counseling Center's location in the new Student Center building not only permits needed expansion of occupational library, but also provides for more convenient use of it by students.

Olin Ethics Defended By Staff Observer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was written by an Olin Center employee—not the nurse or doctor who was contacted.)

"TO THE EDITOR: There are always two sides to every story. In Monday's State News you printed a letter from a Richard Hicks on 'Olin & Ethics.' The papers and TV made a big issue about 'Doctor Not Available' I would like to give you the facts of the situation at the other end of the line.

"About 2 a.m. Friday the nurse at the Health Center answered the phone and was told that a boy had fainted. The person making the call was told to call the campus police and that they would bring the patient to the hospital where he could receive immediate attention.

"May I inject at this point that all the published news to this point has neglected to mention that this first call was made. Now this is either due to the fact that the student who made the call forgets making it in all the confusion, or else he prefers not to mention it. The reason I give for the hospital remembering the call is that the nurse gave the person calling the campus police phone number when asked for it, and I'm sure she would remember this incident since she was not present at the scene and consequently would not be affected by the confusion.

"I now go back to the actual incidents. About 15 minutes later the nurse at the hospital received a second call and was requested to send a doctor. She asked if this was the same party that called about 15 minutes ago. The party said yes that it was, and asked if a doctor could be sent. When asked again what was wrong with the boy the party at the other end of the line was unable to give any information.

"THE NURSE THEN told them that it was somewhat irregular for the doctor to go out on call but that she would contact the doctor and call the Sigma Chi house back. When the nurse called the doctor, his first question was 'What is wrong with the boy?' The nurse was unable to give him any information because for some unknown reason the party calling the hospital was reluctant to give any symptoms as to the boy's condition. (And don't tell me you have to be trained in the medical profession to tell that a patient has stopped breathing.)

"The doctor wanted the patient brought to the hospital where he could take care of the patient adequately. Two have a resuscitator, oxygen, emergency drugs and all facilities necessary for emergencies of this kind. The nurse then called the Sigma Chi house back and stated the doctor would like the boy brought to the hospital immediately. At this time she was told 'Never mind. We've already called another doctor.'

"The nurse on duty then called campus police to check the incident and they told her that they had not received a call but had picked up the East Lansing Police transmission on their radio and were sending a car to investigate. At this same time she also learned that the Inhalator Squad had been called for.

"She then called the Sigma Chi house and told them she understood that the Inhalator Squad had been sent for and she inquired as to the boy's pulse. She was told the boy had no pulse.

"This was the first clue the hospital received as to the seriousness of the boy's condition. The rest we all know—the boy was dead and our deepest sympathies to his family. You know we of the medical field also come from families and have lost loved ones too so we value human life from an emotional standpoint as well as the medical side."

We feel this letter does much in the way of clarification necessary before any mature judgment of the incident can be made.

The problem, basically, is that no doctor was with the patient for at least 50 minutes after Lloyd Weller was brought into the Sigma Chi house (according to Hicks). This could be the fault of Olin Health Center's no-house call policy. It could be the fault of the nurse on duty. It could be the fault of a doctor who said he would not come since he understood Olin didn't think it was an emergency situation.

It appears, however, that whoever called Olin, if the above letter is correct, is at fault, first for not explaining the seriousness of the situation, and second for refusing to move the victim. Campus police have explicit instructions to bring a patient to Olin where a doctor will be dispatched. But a higher authority, apparently East Lansing police, saw fit to refuse the victim be moved, while refusing at the same time to explain the emergency to a nurse who according to Dr. Clifford Menzies, was dispatching a doctor. (Thursday: We will discuss Olin's no-house-call policy.)

Letters to the Editor

Obligations of the Press Stated

To the Editor: Good editorial material every once in a while for newspapers is freedom of the press, need for all the news, every side of the news, keeping the public informed, etc.

As far as the public is concerned, however, there is also what is called the obligation of the press in that not only should publications be allowed to present the truth, all the news, both sides, but have an obligation to keep clear of yellow journalism. The State News policy concerning the freedoms and obligations are in evidence from printing both sides of the Olin hospital story, as I am sure is being attempted.

But for an example of obligations of press and what results when this obligation is ignored, let's get to the heart of my letter. Last week, WJIM radio and TV broadcast a story about a doctor at Sparrow hospital, who was fired after 20 years of service to Sparrow. An out-cast group of pathologists came to Lansing to investigate the alleged firing or dismissal, and the doctor was quoted as saying, 'There was no reason given.' The doctor left after the investigation giving no comment.

But here's the punch line. The Lansing State Journal, serving the best interests of the people of Lansing did not, while the news was timely, print any type story as of yet. One may draw his own conclusions as to why, when it is known that Paul Martin, publisher of the Journal, is also on the board of directors of Sparrow, and course would have participated in the firing, dismissal, retirement or whatever.

Actually, whether the doctor was wronged or not is not the real violation of the press, but rather the refusal of the Journal to print the story at all. Yellow journalism, if I remember correctly, is when news is slanted, but what do they call it when no side is presented?

The State News can do well to remember this example of an obligation of the press, when next they write of Freedom of the Press.

Stop Bombs

To the Editor: The prospective use of nuclear weapons in warfare has concerned us all for a long time. We of the Society of Friends (Quakers) wish to abolish such weapons entirely. A good way to begin such a process is to discontinue immediately the testing of atomic and hydrogen bombs.

It would appear that defense against attacking airplanes carrying nuclear bombs is no longer possible. Suppose that 100 jet planes suddenly attacked the United States. An efficient air force might destroy, perhaps, 90 of them, but the remaining 10 planes which penetrated our boundaries could do us enormous damage with their hydrogen bombs.

It is claimed that we must keep on testing and making 'bigger and better' nuclear weapons that can kill or injure more and more human beings, or that we must submit to atheistic communism. The American people will not accept either alternative.

The assumption is commonly made that if the United States is fully armed with nuclear weapons, other nations will not dare to attack us, even if they also possess such weapons. There are a number of serious objections to this view. First, any person with the self assurance to believe that he can be a wise dictator of millions of

Election Chairmen

All dormitory election chairmen will meet in 311 Student Services at 7 p.m. tonight to pick up ballot boxes and instructions.

people, is likely to have a paranoid personality which can believe that "I can destroy them, but they can't possibly destroy me." Napoleon, Hitler and the Kaiser showed such symptoms, and the doctor was quoted as saying, 'There was no reason given.'

Secondly, one irresponsible person might start a nuclear war. The French bombardment of the Tunisian village of Saket-Side-Youssef on last Feb. 8 suggests that an impulsive officer might start such hostilities by the unauthorized use of a nuclear weapon.

In the third place, during the 19th and early 20th centuries, increasing armaments did not decrease fighting, though some advocates of military preparedness claim that such a decrease should follow.

Finally, the time is probably not far distant when the smaller nations, too, will have their nuclear weapons. A little man with an automatic gun becomes for a time the equal of several much larger men. Perhaps Russia and the United States could both be destroyed simultaneously, in the not-too-distant future, by a small nation like Egypt.

We will abolish nuclear weapons somehow, sometime, or they may abolish us. A good beginning is to stop the testing of nuclear bombs at once. That can be the first step in a series of acts leading to the complete abolition of such weapons.

Senator Humphrey says there is evidence that the latest test explosions of nuclear bombs in Russia caused so much radioactive fallout that public clamor to cease the tests, giving its aid to propagandists the chance to don the mantle of virtue and challenge us to stop the experiment too.

Such a reaction of the Russian public is a factor working in our favor. We should take advantage of it regardless of whether the motives of the Soviet government are morally pure or not. Let us cease the testing of nuclear weapons now, so that the Soviets will not have a valid excuse for resuming them.

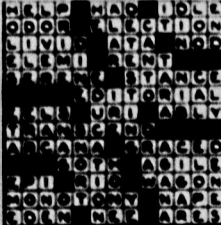

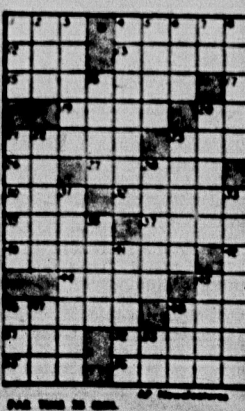

These tests can not be justified on the ground that we are trying to make "clean" bombs. Any instrument of destruction that can kill and maim millions of human beings of any race or nation, and severely damage the heredit of millions yet unborn is "dirty" by any sane standard.

Each of us should at once consult his conscience on this issue, and if conscience so dictates, he should ask the President and our Congressmen to stop the tests.

LOST AND FOUND

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) - A Marine Corps hat emblem has been returned to Col. Charles S. Todd 16 years after he lost it when he was taken prisoner by the Japanese on Guam in 1941. The emblem was found by Maj. R. G. Gilmore, then a platoon leader, when the island was retaken by U.S. forces in 1944. He learned at a social gathering here late in 1947 that the emblem had been lost by Todd and returned it to him.

Experts Disagree on A-Tests

Bethe Says Stop While U.S. Ahead

Strauss Insists On Defense Need

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of President Eisenhower's science advisory committee has told senators today that the United States would be "very considerably to our advantage" to reach an agreement with Russia suspending nuclear weapons testing.

Hans Bethe, professor of physics at Cornell, said if testing continues "then they will get the same capabilities as we" and that it is simple to "stop when you know you are still ahead."

The views, in sharp conflict with those of Chamberlain Lewis Strauss, director of the atomic energy commission, and Dr. Edward Teller, a developer of the hydrogen bomb, were pointed up in testimony made public Tuesday by the Senate's special disarmament subcommittee.

Strauss challenged Bethe's position at a secret session of the committee April 17. Some of Bethe's testimony became known at that time.

Strauss said that on "matters of judgment" his position had "much validity" as Bethe's. He reiterated his belief that suspension at this time would be a disadvantage to the United States.

Bethe testified he does favor suspending the present U.S. tests and then getting an enforceable suspension agreement. Strauss, under questioning by Sen. Alexander Wiley (Wis.), said he did not agree they should be halted even if the Pacific tests are completed.

It would be a disadvantage the defenders to stop the production and development of atomic weapons," Strauss said, "because they have to be more sophisticated than the weapons attack."

Bethe, asked flatly whether the United States should make an agreement with Russia, replied: "That is my opinion, provided I agreed to a good inspection system."

And I should like to add that inspection system in itself would be of value, because it would to some extent open up the area and help to reduce tension between the two countries."

It also emphasizes French willingness to seek a cease-fire premises the Algerians parself-government once calm is restored.

The new home of Phi Kappa Tau Will Accommodate 44 Phi Tau's Get Ready To Move Into New Home

The men of Phi Kappa Tau are looking forward to a home of their own this fall as their new house nears completion.

The fraternity has been homeless since it moved from its old location at 223 Delta St. two years ago, expecting the immediate building of a new residence. However, unexpected problems delayed construction plans.

The new house, located on the corner of Old Canton Lane and Hagadorn Road, is now under construction and is scheduled for completion August 15.

The structure is three-story brick and is equipped to accommodate 44 men. The floor plan is broken into 11 apartments with each unit housing four men.

Included in these units are built-in closet and dresser facilities, air conditioning, individual telephones and adjoining ceramic tile baths.

A four-room fully-furnished suite, including dining facilities, is provided for the chapter's housemother.

Parking facilities at the rear of the house will hold 35 cars. The MSU chapter of Phi Kappa Tau, now in its 33rd year on campus, will hold a special rush tonight, 8-9:30, in Parlor A. Union, for male students interested in membership.

The week will be climaxed with a military ball May 17 at the National Guard Armory. It is for all officers of the military services and their guests.

Armed Forces To Feature Jets

Zooming jets, an Air Force-Army ROTC parade and open houses at several military units will mark "Power for Peace," Lansing's observance of Armed Forces Week May 10-18. Colonel G. V. Davis, professor of Air Science at MSU and project officer for the week in this area, announced the program Tuesday.

The Air Force will show its strength at 11 a.m. May 17 over the Lansing area with a flight of jets from Selfridge Air Force base at Mount Clemens. The aircraft will pass directly over the Capitol.

A parade of 3,300 servicemen will march down Grand River avenue in East Lansing at 5 p.m. Tuesday. Military and civic officials will be assembled in the reviewing stand.

The 50th Infantry Company, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, will stage an open house with the Naval Reserve at the Navy Marine Corps Reserve Center.

The National Guard's program calls for all three of its armories to be open to the public on regular drill nights during the week. An open house at the U.S. Army Reserve Center also is slated.

The week will be climaxed with a military ball May 17 at the National Guard Armory. It is for all officers of the military services and their guests.

Soldierly, Man! Army Cats Dig Presley; He Swings!

ET HOOD, Tex. (AP) — How is the Army getting along with Elvis Presley after five weeks? "Apparently very well. In the words of a lieutenant colonel spokesman for Ft. Hood:

"We're all proud of him. The rock 'n roll kind of millions of teenagers and a few chandmas already has been promoted to acting assistant squad leader.

That would correspond to the rank of sergeant, but no one gets a rank in basic training.

He is an above average trainee," said Lt. Col. Marjorie Schulten, chief of information for Ft. Hood.

He does everything expected of him in a soldierly way," she said. "He is very well liked by his associates and his officers."

Does Elvis sing? "Probably around the barracks," Col. Schulten said, adding that he has made no official appearances at Ft. Hood as a singer.

Williams to Open International Fair On 'Brotherhood'

"MSU's Own World's Fair," the 1958 International Festival, will be opened officially by Governor G. Mennen Williams at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Theme of the 14th annual affair is "The Brotherhood of Man Transcends the Sovereignty of Nations."

Booths displaying the cultures of the 66 countries represented on campus will be on exhibit continuously from 9 a.m. until 11 p.m. in the Aud. basement.

Three stage shows, beginning at 10:30 p.m., 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. will offer viewers an assortment of talent ranging from cha cha cha to Chinese lantern dancing to French love songs.

Chinatown Tongs Lay Away Hatchets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chinatown put away its hatchets Tuesday and sublime peace reigned over the tongs that had been about to go to war.

It all started on Chinese New Year's even when three Hop Sing tongmen lopped two Bing Kong tongmen and lopped them considerably.

The rest of the two Chinese associations' members fingered their hatchets.

The Bing Kongs demanded an apology from the Hop Sings. But the Hop Sings would not apologize for it would mean losing face.

Blasphemed was threatened. Police were alerted for the first time in many years in San Francisco.

Older heads prevailed among the Chinese. A call went out to the Hop Sings in Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles to come here for a meeting.

The Hop Sings from the four cities got together in San Francisco and decided discretion was the better part of valor and apologized to the Bing Kongs.

The Hop Sings and Bing Kongs spoke Tuesday—in a most polite way.

Idaho Falls Police Accused of Theft

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Seven members of the Idaho Falls police force were charged with burglary yesterday.

The seven made up almost the entire night shift of the city's police force of more than 40 men.

Police Chief, A. L. Cramer said that under questioning all seven admitted they had participated in the looting of business firms and a motel home.

Chief Cramer said the investigation failed to show any of the men tried to sell the loot. He said they took most of it home for their own use.

Summerlin Eyes Title Shot

DETROIT (AP)—A crack at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson may be the prize if Johnny Summerlin can defeat Nino Valdes in their 10-round bout here May 24.

Promoter C. W. Larry Smith said he has talked with Gus D'Amato, the champion's manager, and has been assured that Summerlin "will be included high in our plans" if he gets by the veteran Cuban.

Summerlin, once was ranked among heavyweight contenders but dropped out of the ratings when he was idle for a year because of managerial difficulties. He has won four straight in his "comeback."

Smith said that while D'Amato would not go on record as saying that the winner of the Valdes-Summerlin bout would get a title shot "I'm certain Summerlin will be considered for a title bout if he can win this one."

In Houston Tonight Brown, Dupas Meet For Lightweight Title

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Joe Brown and Ralph Dupas, a couple of New Orleans boys who wouldn't meet in their home town, will battle here tonight with the World's Lightweight Championship as the prize.

Brown, a Negro, holds the title and is making his first defense of the year. He says he wishes he could have done it in New Orleans but the Louisiana interracial law prevented it.

The champion said he'll win the fight, probably by a knock-out and early. In fact, Brown was so confident of victory over Dupas that he was already talking about when he would defend his title against Kenny Lane, the No. 1 contender Dupas is slated to fight.

"By the time I get to Lane they'll have it worked out so we can fight in New Orleans," said Brown. "That will be the big money."

The champion said he thought Dupas would be easier because he has had to take off weight. "When a fellow has to take off six or seven pounds and get down from 142 he's bound to have weakened himself," Brown observed.

"I'd beat him anyway but this way it'll be easier," Angelo Dundee, Dupas' manager, disputed the contention that his boy had been having trouble making 135 pounds.

The largest gate for a championship on any other fight in Texas apparently is assured. Ticket sales Tuesday indicated a turnout of 11,000 paying $60,000 in the Sam Houston Coliseum at 9 p.m. (EST) for the nationally televised fight.

Defeat Wayne Tuesday, 7-2 Netmen Travel to Kalamazoo

Michigan State Tennis Coach Stan Drobac hardly had a moment to relax Tuesday. "Drobac wasn't certain whether to rejoice over the resounding 7-2 victory over Wayne State or begin worrying over facing Western Michigan on the road this afternoon.

"Western is tough, I know," pointed out Drobac. "I don't know what their record is but they defeated Indiana, 7-2, and Indiana beat us, 6-3. It's going to be a rough match."

The match with Wayne was hardly a thorough test for the Spartans' talents on the court. The same Detroit team was State's victim last season, 9-0.

Hill Bisard and Foster Hoffman did the heavy work to help boost the team's slate to an even 500 at 2-2. Neither lost a set in winning their singles matches then combined to turn back Wayne in a doubles contest.

Wayne's lone victories came with a victory apiece in singles and doubles.

The summary:

Singles: Bill Bisard (8) def. Bob Stiegerwald, 6-3, 6-1.
Bill Hotchkiss (8) over Dan Brown, 4-6, 6-4, 9-7.
Foster Hoffman (8) over Vitalis Seputa, 7-5, 6-0.
Doug Smith (8) over George Havland, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Doubles: Bisard-Hoffman over Brown-Seputa, 6-3, 6-0.
Stiegerwald-Spanberger over Hotchkiss-Smith, 6-3, 6-1.
Sassack-Green (8) over Lena-Phillips, 6-2, 6-3.

Coed Netters Host Western Bosox Win 7-5, Gain 6th Place

The Women's Varsity Tennis team will entertain a coed squad from Western Michigan University here Thursday, at 2 p.m.

Monday the team will travel to Hamtramck for a return match. Last Thursday only Joyce Pniowski and Marian Graves were able to garner wins in their singles matches as Hamtramck captured the remaining six singles matches and two doubles matches.

Following the Hamtramck defeat the coed netters traveled to Kalamazoo where they swept five singles matches and one doubles match.

In the singles at Kalamazoo Miss Pniowski defeated Pats Lather 6-3, 6-3; Elaine Ohr won over Mary Force 6-2, 6-3; Loris Alto downed Ann Wagner 5-7, 6-2, 9-7; Sue Beckman defeated Mary Lewis 3-6, 6-4, 6-4; and Miss Graves was victorious over Joan Wood 6-2, 4-6, 14-12.

In the doubles match, Miss Lather and Miss Force teamed to defeat Miss Pniowski and Roberta Schmid, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6. Roberta's second doubles team of Sue Overmeyer and Bev Mike was unable to play due to lack of time.

The Red Sox moved into first place in the American League standings with their fifth triumph in the last six starts while Chicago was buried deeper in last place. The White Sox have won only four while the Cubs Top Reds.

Spartan Nine Blasts Wayne State U., 13-2

ish Tilt cheduled or Today

The Spartan baseball team riding on the crest of a four game winning streak fresh from a 13-2 win over Wayne State University, will play a doubleheader with Notre Dame at Old College Field, today at 3:30 p.m.

Spartans unleashed an unrelenting hitting attack, blasting three Wayne State pitchers for 15 hits and an easy 13-2 victory at Northwestern Field in Detroit.

The Spartans have now scored 44 runs in their last four contests, including 10-3 last Friday, and 11-0 and 14-0 and 7-1. John Kobs used three innings against Wayne State, while Craig VanSlyke, Ron Baski and Bob Rabias, each hurled the middle innings and received credit for a win. VanSlyke pitched against a lone defeat.

Kobs allowed both Tartars to score, but struck out three and gave up only two hits, walking two. VanSlyke started on the hill and pitched three innings, allowing three hits, Rabias pitched two innings, retiring three in order both times.

Baski and Rabias combined to pitch the last 16 Wayne State batters in order. Starter Joe Francis allowed five hits, when he pitched for a pinch hitter. He gave up seven hits, Rabias and Paul Jackson appeared on the mound for three innings.

Pitcher Gerry Stifler pitched the last 16 Wayne State batters, each collecting a hit. Palamata collected six hits in six trips to the plate, and catcher Don Gilbert collected four runs with two hits in four runs with two hits in three trips to bat.

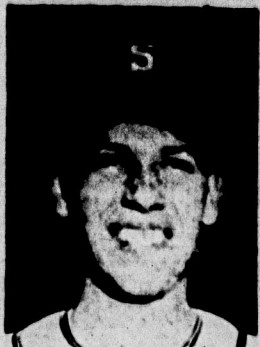

Palamata scored four runs in the second and ninth innings, a single in the second and fifth and added a single in the ninth.

Tartars jumped on Perrier for their only two runs in the fourth inning on a single, and passed ball. Perrier homered with one out in the second, and Fleser also homered in the same inning as he stole second base, and on a one-base hit by Gilbert.

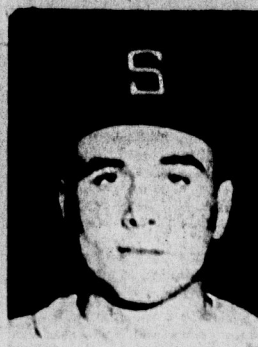

Palamata blasted his home run in the fifth inning, when State was up with two runs. Palamata followed Kearsy with a home run and scored all the way around base on a long sacrifice fly by Dean Look.

In the seventh frame, the Spartans sent 10 men to the plate, they scored four runs. A single by Gilbert loaded the bases, loaded on a three out strike count with two outs, and scored for three runs.

Palamata added four more runs in the eighth on three singles, and two walks. John Kobs substituted in the game, using 17 pitches.

Yank Visit a Success

Russian Cage Squad Agrees to Tour U. S.

MOSCOW (AP)—American and Soviet basketball players and officials Tuesday night agreed that the Yank tour was a rousing success. As a result the Russians agreed to repay the visit with a series of games in the United States starting next Feb. 1.

All concerned with the six-game series played in three Russian cities by Yank men and women's teams exchanged glowing words of praise at a friendship dinner marking the conclusion of the tour.

"In the entire tour I didn't notice a single unhappy incident from either the players or the fans," said Bert Horn, touring star of the Peoria Cats and a former Kansas U. ace. "The Russian fans were almost too polite—we sometimes felt we were playing some other game. There weren't many raspberries in Russia."

"The players and fans showed fine sportsmanship in both winning and losing," said Margaret Holloran, of Nashville Business College and McEwen, Tenn. "When the Soviet girls beat us they did it gracefully and when they lost the crowds still cheered us."

That about summed up the sentiments of all the players, who played two games each in Moscow, Tiflis and Leningrad. The American men swept all six of their games, only one being close. The girls lost their first two games to an all-Soviet team in Moscow but captured the four other games outside the capital.

In announcing the completion of arrangements for the Russians to play in the U. S., Kellum Johnson, president of the U. S. Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), said: "We hope to show them the same hospitality they have given us. We know we can show them some good basketball."

Johnson said the Russians will play at least six games in the U. S.

MSU Singers Finish Strong

Harp Soloist, 2 Tenors Charm Small Audience

By JOSEPH HOFFMAN

A strong finish by the Michigan State Men's Glee Club in a concert Tuesday night gave a clear indication why the group was twice selected to appear on national TV and sing in last year's inauguration ceremonies in Washington, D.C.

The glee club more than proved its versatility by singing everything from "When Jesus Wept" to the perennial favorite, "The Rose."

A disappointing audience of less than 1,000 loudly applauded soprano Harri Griffin, Detroit Junior, and Tom Wagner, Bryan, Ohio senior.

Griffin, an outstanding harpist, showed he had an equally outstanding voice as he bounced through a three-song calypso medley in true Belafonte style.

Wagner, who doubles as vocal director of the glee club, was at his best in vocally leading his charges through "Dixie."

The first half of the program was devoted primarily to religious and spiritual songs with a slight diversion to "Student's Schamus," a German drinking song, and "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair."

But the group blossomed forth in the second half with a variety of entertaining numbers. The "Dix Bones" ditty highlighted the program along with a tenor solo of "Cindy" by Charles Hartow, Michigan, N.J. junior.

Edward L. Richmond directed the glee club.

Death March Leader Gets Promotion

CHERRY HUNT, N.C. (AP)—Matthew J. McKee, convicted of negligent homicide after six members of his special platoon drowned on a rescue march in April, 1956, during a night march he led.

The 35-year-old McKee subsequently was convicted by a court-martial board of negligence and drinking in the barracks before the march. He was sentenced to nine months at hard labor and was returned in March to active duty.

McKee, a native of Worcester, Mass., is an administrative clerk with Marine Fighter Squadron 124 at this Marine base.

The public information office said McKee was promoted May 7 as a regular procedure.

THE STYLE SHOP PRESENTS... Judy Natten of Mason Hall. La Vie en rose! Life is rosy when you're going to a spring term party wearing this lovely cotton cord tail dress covered with cascades of tiny ruffles. You have your choice of blue buds or pink buds off on a background of white. The tiny shoulder straps make your shoulders their loveliest and the bouffant skirt makes you feel fresh as spring. Judy is wearing a rope of dewdrops at the neckline to show she knows spring fashion. Come in and choose your spring term party dress from our petal fresh fashions! Judy is a Winnetka, Illinois, junior, majoring elementary education. Her interests include swimming, tennis, and water skiing.
