Giant Strike Threatened By French Red Unionists

Mobilized Reserves Called Out

De Gaulle to Hold Paris Conference

PARIS (AP)—A giant strike threatened Paris today with the appearance of Gen. Charles de Gaulle for a news conference that may spell out his terms for taking power.

The strike call was issued by the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor.

It asked all its members and other workers in the Seine-Department (Paris region) to stage a sit-down strike at 3 p.m. the hour of de Gaulle's news conference, and be ready to reply en masse to any attempt at a Fascist demonstration.

Premier Pierre Pflimlin's government, seeking to suppress all demonstrations, was caught in the middle.

Hundreds of mobilized police reserves were called out to strengthen the government's hand in dealing with the political turmoil sweeping the nation.

Thousands will be on guard in Paris streets throughout the day.

Jules Moch, stern new Interior Minister, denounced the Committees of Public Safety established in Algeria.

Irresponsible committees have usurped public power, Moch said in a radio speech to the nation.

Some persons have set themselves up against the nation's unity and against the Republic.

The fate of the Republic is at stake.

Information Minister Albert Gazier officially notified all newspaper publishers and the heads of French and foreign news agencies that all news is subject to censorship under the new emergency powers bill, though that provision has not yet been invoked.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, storm center of the current crisis, is coming to Paris today for a news conference that may spell out what he meant when he said last week he was ready to take power.

Asked whether he would censor any of the statements made de Gaulle, the minister said he would make no ruling on that in advance.

Guards around de Gaulle's home 150 miles east of Paris were heavily reinforced. Police questioned all persons passing or approaching the house of the Gen. right at hand, but their purpose appeared mainly to prevent any demonstrations in violation of the government's ban on all gatherings.

Premier Pierre Pflimlin, fighting for the government's political life, spent a busy day in conferences with President Rene Coty, and with three of the right-of-center members of his cabinet. There were unconfirmed reports that these three might pull out of the government, endangering its parliamentary majority.

Court Orders Huff To Accept Position

Following Contempt Conviction For Neglecting First Mandate

By JOHN BARTON

The Michigan Supreme Court ordered Circuit Judge Eugene Huff to report to the Wayne County bench today after it convicted him of contempt Friday and fined him $250 for failing to obey a similar order issued May 12.

The Saginaw jurist has refused to obey the court's order, which would transfer him from Saginaw to Detroit for one month.

Chief Justice John Dethmers offered Huff a chance to "purge" himself and obey the court order, and assured the judge that "this court is even now patient and indulgent."

Huff refused to alter his stand after he conferred with lawyers for 15 minutes.

"I take the position that I cannot abdicate my office for the purpose of letting another judge take my place," Huff said. "I would like to have this decided by the highest available court."

The fine and day court order were then served on Huff. Dethmers warned Huff he could expect further contempt proceedings if he refuses to comply.

Huff said he defied the court order because he does not believe the Michigan Supreme Court has the authority to order a judge from the circuit in which he was elected to another circuit.

The high court bases its authority to issue such orders on the belief that the state constitution gives it fundamental power over the state's court system.

Prof Denies U.S. Inferiority In Education

Any assertion that American education is deficient is false, Dr. Walter Johnson of Michigan State University said Sunday.

Speaking on Viewpoint over WKAR radio, the professor of administrative and education services said that elementary school achievement tests show that children today outperform their fathers in reading, mathematics and language usage.

"As for gifted students, he said that while educators would be the first to suggest that we must do more for them, we are definitely not 'brainwashing' them, as some would have us believe."

He cited Dr. Lewis Terman's studies which indicate that nine out of 10 of the 1470 gifted men and women included in the studies went to college and a large proportion completed at least one postgraduate degree.

In addition, he said U.S. Dept. of Health and Education records show that the proportion of class enrollments in science and math has increased significantly since 1900.

Faculty Proposes More Science

Instead, the report emphasizes, "It will be assumed that only those students will be admitted who have demonstrated in their high school record that they have the proper training and ability to do college level work."

The report further states that, "The faculty will place strong emphasis on writing in all the general education courses, and the quality of a student's writing will be evaluated in grade determination."

For those students who do come to the college inadequately prepared in one or more of the basic tools of learning, including the mechanics and usage of the English language, remedial courses will be taught on an after-school schedule by high school teachers recruited for this purpose, the report states.

No students at the new extension will be required to take such courses, but those who choose to do so will be required to pay $15.00 a term per course.

Vice President for Off-Campus Education Darwood Varner stated when questioned about the students' most stop learning the mechanics of the English language. Re-Entry Test a Success

Jupiter Nose Cone Recovered by Army

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A space age milestone was passed Sunday when the Army launched a thundering Jupiter rocket through space and recovered its elaborately equipped nose cone in the Atlantic Ocean 4 1/2 hours later.

It marked the first time that a full scale nose cone—the heart of a ballistic missile—had been retrieved intact after apparently functioning perfectly during its flight.

The Defense Department announced in Washington that a preliminary evaluation indicated the re-entry test was a complete success.

Jupiter, an intermediate range weapon, surged aloft from the nation's missile test center with an ear-splitting roar at 12:06 a.m. Its fiery ascent illuminated the Florida coast for miles around.

"The mission was to prove the warhead of a lightning-fast ballistic missile can withstand the intense friction when it cuts back from space through the earth's atmosphere on the final leg of its trip on target."

"The nose cone, which would shield a nuclear warhead under operational conditions, is traveling 9,000 miles per hour when it encounters the severe atmospheric heat."

It was reported unofficially that the 69-foot Jupiter traveled more than 1,600 miles along the south Atlantic test range before the nose cone hit its predetermined impact area.

Waiting near the spot in shark-infested waters were navy ships, planes and frogmen. The defense department said Army and Navy observers aboard the auxiliary submarine rescue ship Escape spotted the twisting white nose cone as it plunged into the depths.

Even though the missile's re-entry course was sighted, the recovery operation took several hours.

Teacher Blacklisting Charges Scrutinized

TO THOSE WHO CLAIM academic freedom has been violated within our higher educational system, a recent editorial in The Nation affords added ammunition.

The editorial, prompted by another article by educator Louis Hacker which was in turn the offspring of the fourth annual observance of Academic Freedom Week, evaluates Hacker's charge that "a virtual blacklist exists in the American University world that is as mean and cruel as any inquisition."

Among the interesting things The Nation's editorial, "Academic Freedom: Some Unfinished Business," had to say concerned the blacklist of those who blacklist. Special committees have reported violations of academic freedom at nine institutions involving the career of 13 teachers.

WHAT STANDS OUT as significant here is that from the nine accused institutions, which include the likes of Reed College, Dickinson College, Livingstone College and Texas Technological College, the only Big 10 school, in fact the only Midwest institution of any note, to appear on the blacklist is our Ann Arbor cousin, the University of Michigan. This brings the issue pretty close to home.

The fact that Academic Freedom Week was sponsored by the National Student Assn., and that both Michigan State and the University of Michigan are members of this organization (MSU on one-year trial basis only) gives indication that this subject may be cast in our midst again and soon, whether the involved universities are looking forward to refuting such charges or not.

ALTHOUGH THIS UNIVERSITY did not appear on The Nation's blacklist, recent rumblings from the history department serve notice that this occasion may not be too far away. Just how well-founded charges of academic freedom violation may be, we cannot yet say, but from what we do know, some of those persons involved in the rumblings prefer to point to the university's "austerity" appropriations as the cause of severed contracts (or, to be more correct in the history department case, contracts not renewed).

Now, it appears that the typical blacklist case The Nation is concerned with and the situation in which the MSU history department finds itself are two entirely different things.

The loyalty oath cases The Nation seems primarily concerned with are nowadays as infrequent as the 1958 fellow travellers who eight years ago marched in droves before the McCarthy, Jenner, Veide and Clardy congressional committees.

THE NATION, in its editorial denounces the loyalty oath obligation certain instructors face "to purge themselves before investigating committees by giving names of associates; and to surrender an important protection against self-incrimination—the safeguards afforded by the Fifth Amendment." The Nation cannot honestly be called illiberal.

The history department case stands on much more shaky grounds—despite the opinions of some flagwaving extremists. No loyalty oaths are involved here. No coercion of any sort has yet been proved, and until it is, those who feel "contumacy is dead" had better hold their thunder.

On the other hand, if and when such claims can be accepted as more than mere rumor, then it will seem that miasmas do indeed pervade, and that some earnest flag waving will indeed be in order.

Letters to the Editor

Ex-Speaker Defends Congress

To the Editor: This is an open letter to your editorial in response to your editorial of May 16 concerning the elections of the officers of Student Congress.

able and well-qualified officers, there were others as well qualified that should have had the intestinal fortitude to oppose those that were nominated and thus received the office.

why am I afraid to write what I really feel? Maybe if you could spend some more time here you would know why?

I feel that I have to defend not only my own actions but also the rules of procedure of Student Congress.

The State News' editorial, I feel, was quite unjust not only to myself, but to all concerned. They have a reporter that attends all of Student Congress meetings and if they had approached him, the editorial staff would not have written the accusations they did without having all the facts.

It's a vending machine that takes paper money.

In respect to holding the election of officers the first meeting, I am quoting from Resolution 1, which establishes the Congressional By-Laws.

This editorial has hurt the functions of AMSG and I hope the State News will have the social good will to apologize for the wrong they have done to Student Government.

"A major breakthrough in automatic vending," says its inventor, William Patzer. "In the next three to five years automatic vending will be bigger than the automobile industry."

"Article 1 - Rule 5. The Congress shall meet in extra session as prescribed by the Constitution. For two consecutive meetings following spring term final elections, and proceed to organize the Congress. The Speaker of the former Congress shall preside until the election of officers at the conclusion of the second meeting of the extra session.

Patzer, head of a Chicago firm that makes vending machines, came here the other day to demonstrate his bill-changing machines.

How does the machine work? Patzer won't say. The patent is pending, but the machine is expected to be in production in September. Then the secret will be out.

"Rule 6. The first meeting shall be called by the Speaker during the week following final Congressional spring elections and shall be an internal organizational one at which:

Let's think how many other events in the past this statement could have applied to. In no way wish to imply that Dr. Hannah's activities outside the university are improperly conducted, but only that his time should be more fully devoted to his duties here as head administrator.

Although all the machines do now make change for paper money, Patzer forces the day when supermarkets will be nothing more than huge banks of vending machines. Feed a dollar bill into the slot and you get a can of peaches plus the right change — what there is of it.

As presented by the Constitution, nomination for Speaker, Secretary, Pro-Tem, and Secretary shall be held:

Dr. Hannah's what about many of the controversial policies of Dean Tom King and others. Olin Health Center perhaps. Here is where and when the hand of Dr. Hannah should have been ready to reach in and give guidance to those whose actions all should to his main concern.

From this you can see that the Speaker cannot set the nominations and election meetings when he so chooses. He is held responsible to set that all bills and resolutions affecting Congress and passed by them are enforced.

This Dr. Tukey matter is not in my mind, the only event which required the actions of Dr. Hannah, what about many of the controversial policies of Dean Tom King and others. Olin Health Center perhaps. Here is where and when the hand of Dr. Hannah should have been ready to reach in and give guidance to those whose actions all should to his main concern.

As for the charge that after the nomination were closed at the end of the first meeting, this was the result of a motion passed at the beginning of the meeting which stated there would be no nominations accepted next week. This motion was proposed by the members of Congress and passed unanimously by them.

After presenting the facts to you, it becomes your decision as to the guilt of myself and Student Congress. I believe that we acted in good faith both in passing the laws that effect Congress and in carrying them out. Maybe there is a need to change the laws somewhat. In my opinion there is and I hope that this Congress will do something about it.

Mobile Home Owners Assn. Spartan Trailerites Form Unique Group

By SUZETTE RAMSEY

What are the benefits of a united effort? The Mobile Home Owners Assn. is finding many.

Residents of the nearby Mobile Homes Manor formed the MHOA in September. It is believed to be the only organization of its type in Michigan. Over the United States there are only 50.

The 130 trailers are divided into eight areas. A representative from each section attends the bi-monthly meetings, and discusses whatever grievances there may be from his section. There is a general meeting once each year for all tenants.

The MHOA has outlined its aims as:

1. Better relations between management and tenants.
2. Better relations between people who live in the park and those in the nearby community.
3. Improved trailer court facilities and services.

The association originated as an idea of the manager and owner, Tom Katalenich. He meets with the MHOA and helps settle any grievances. President of the association is W. Ray Brown, East Lansing junior.

The Mobile Homes Manor is approved housing for students. About 95 percent are MSU students, most of them married.

The association is presently conducting a "Park Beautiful" campaign. Tenants are beautifying their trailer yards by building fences and planting flowers and shrubs.

The management is donating prizes to the best trailer and yard at the end of the campaign. First prize will be three months free rent, second prize two months, and third one month.

Golfers Beat U of M, Titans

Playing their regular season final, Michigan State's golfers had no trouble in notching a double win at Gross Lake country club in Detroit Saturday. The Spartans defeated Michigan, 26½-24, and the University of Detroit, 32-4, in posting their fifth and sixth triumphs of the year. Michigan whipped Detroit, 28-8, in the three-way play.

George Wakulsky netted the maximum 12 points in his two matches with rounds of 71-71 over the par 71 layout for a 145. Arlin Bell shot the best round of the day with a two-under-par 69. He closed with a 77 and 146 total, and captured 10½ points.

Entering the Big 10 conference next weekend at Ohio State, Coach Ben VanAlstine's team has a season record of six wins, two defeats and one tie.

Spartan Track Team Loses To Ohio State, 80½-51½

Relay Team Breaks World Mark; Loses

Michigan State's two-mile relay team broke the world record set by Occidental college at 7:22.8, as it raced to a 7:21.4 finish in Friday's Los Angeles Coliseum Relays.

Unfortunately for the Spartan squad, they finished second behind the University of California, who also broke the world mark and established the new one at 7:20.9. The two-mile team, composed of Capt. Dave Lean, Brian Castle, Bob Lake and Willie Atterbury, was edged out by three yards in its last chance this year to run in this event.

Occidental set the old mark last year at 7:22.8, running in the same Coliseum Relays.

In a tight race, Bowden outlasted Atterbury on the last leg, as the tall Californian ran a 1:45.5 half. Willie received the baton from teammate Lake six yards behind Bowden and challenged him throughout the closing stages of the race but could not overcome him.

An interesting note to track experts was that this event was run on hard packed grass. As far as it is known, this is the first major relay event to be held on grass in the United States. Because Memorial Coliseum is also the home of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the former running track has been replaced with grass.

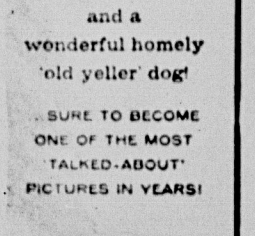

Crewmen Defeat Minnesota; Lose To Boilermakers

The newly-formed Spartan rowing club defeated the University of Minnesota club Saturday, but was lost to Purdue University in a triangular meet at Lafayette, Ind.

The meet marked the visiting Michigan State crewmen's first attempt in the morning, but they won by four lengths over the Gophers in the afternoon.

In another race, the Purdue varsity team defeated the University of Wisconsin's freshman team.

Duke Maas Shuts Out Detroit, 2-0

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Duke Maas shut out Detroit on two hits Sunday as the Kansas City Athletics defeated the Tigers, 2-0, for a sweep of their three-game series.

Charlie Maxwell's single in the fifth and Charlie Lutz's pinch triple with two out in the ninth were Detroit's only hits. Maas, traded away by Detroit last November, struck out four and maintained perfect control facing only 29 batters.

The victory was his first after three consecutive losses. Paul Foytack, who went all the way for Detroit, is now 3-3, including two victories over the A's.

Kansas City scored both its runs in the second inning.

Vic Power led off with a double against the left-fielder. He tried to go to third and would have been an easy out, but Charlie Maxwell, who pitched the throw from the outfield, fired wildly to third and power went all the way home on the two-base error.

Bill Tuttle grounded out but Woods held down a base on balls and scored when Frank Thomas doubled off the right-field fence.

Foytack gave up only one hit the rest of the way. It was a three-out double in the eighth by Joe DeMaestri.

The mile relay was won by Ohio State's Big 10 Indoor title holding squad, composed of Davis, Jack McClain, Bob Payne, and Ted Storer. The Buckeye team won the relay in 3:17.6, five yards ahead of the Spartans' anchorman, Dave Lean. Running in the event for MSU were Bob Hughes, Ken Dafoe, Brian Castle and Lean.

Saturday marked the last of six departing seniors who perform before Spartan's Big 10 season. Besides Lean, the team counts Michigan State will have services of Henry Kennedy, Ellowitz, Dafoe, Oswald, and Glenn Burgett.

Coach Karl Schaldemeyer now prepare his squad for the Big 10 Outdoor Championships at Lafayette, Ind.

MSU Takes Undisputed Possession of 1st Place

The Spartan baseball nine, after winning three straight games, climbed to undisputed leadership of the Big 10 last weekend. The Spartans disposed of the University of Illinois, 2-0, Friday, and copped both ends of a doubleheader against Purdue University Saturday, 8-5 and 3-1.

Ohio State, which had been first place with Michigan State, won two of three games, but the one loss dropped the Bucks' full game behind the Spartans. The Bucks won Northwestern, 6-0, Friday, and split a twin-bill with Wisconsin Saturday, losing the first game 7-1, but coming from behind to win the nightcap, 4-3. Minnesota's Gophers won three straight over Iowa to move into second place and only one-half game behind the front-running Spartans. They beat the Hawkeyes 5-1, Friday, and took both ends of Saturday's doubleheader, 4-1 and 6-1.

The stage is now set for the Spartans and Gophers to clash next weekend for the Big 10 championship. State plays last night Iowa Friday, and two games against the Gophers Saturday.

It is the first time since 1954, when they won the title, that the Spartans have been in undisputed possession of first place. Dick Radatz, Ron Perranoski, and Larry Foster pitched the Spartans to the three wins. Radatz shut out the Illini Friday, and Perranoski and Foster were the winners against the Boilermakers.

State's hitting attack, which led the Big 10 with a .324 team average before Friday's games, continued to blast opposing pitchers.

The hitters drilled 11 hits in the game against Illinois to score the three runs and give Radatz his third Big 10 victory this season. Radatz hurled the best game of his collegiate career, allowing only four hits and striking out 14 Illini batters. The 14 strikeouts were only four short of the conference record, set by ex-major leaguer Marv Pate when he was pitching for Illinois in 1948.

In the Friday contest, Ted Perry led the Spartan offensive back with two hits in three innings at bat, one of those safes being a single which scored two runs.

John Fleser led off the Spartan scoring in the second inning with a home run over the field fence.

The Spartans collected 13 hits in the first game against Purdue Sunday, and Perranoski coasted to his fourth straight Big 10 play and seventh of the season. He has yet to lose a conference encounter.

Five State players had two hits to apiece in that first game. Foster batted both the Purdue team and the weather in the nightcap as he pitched five innings for the seven-inning header.

Minnesota took second place with 27 points, and the Spartans captured 15 points to nose out Ohio State, which had 14 points, for third place.

The Spartans' best performance was staged by Doug Smith. He was the only State player to reach the finals, but was dropped by Iowa's Don Middlebrook, 7-5, 6-2.
