Spartans Top Unbeaten Pitt

Williams, Johnson Star; Defense Stops Air Attack

By HARDY CHRIST
State News Sports Editor

After sputtering to a tie against the University of Michigan a week ago, the Spartan gridder regained some football prestige with a 22-8 victory over previously undefeated Pittsburgh Saturday at Spartan Stadium.

A crowd of 56,793 chilled spectators watched State rally from two quick touchdowns in the first two periods and then add a determined Panther rally in the second half for the victory.

It was a complete reversal of form of that played against Michigan last week. Starting fast, the Spartans opened the game with only seven and one-half minutes gone in the first period, and added another on the first play of the second period.

Against the Wolverines, State was held scoreless during the first half, but came back to score two quick touchdowns in the final 30 minutes.

Also a difference was the ease with which State was able to add extra points. The Spartans were successful on two of three tries Saturday, both running plays, compared to the 1-2 figure against Michigan.

It looked as if State would receive its share of the breaks from the opening whistle. The Spartans kicked off, and on the first Pittsburgh play from scrimmage, Capt. Sam Williams pounced on a fumble on the Pitt 10-yard line.

After quarterback Mike Panitch threw one incomplete pass and was smothered for a seven-yard loss attempting a second, State tried a fake quick kick but lost more ground, back to its own 47.

Halfback Dean Look then sent a booming punt which sailed dead on the Pittsburgh one-yard line. The Panthers, unable to dent State's forward wall, punted to Art Johnson, who returned to Pitt's 23-yard line.

Six plays later Panitch sneaked over from the one-yard stripe for State's first score. On the extra-point try, Panitch pitched a shovel pass to Johnson, who went over tackle and into the end zone to make the score 8-0.

Later in the first quarter the Spartans started another scoring drive from the Pitt 34. They penetrated to the Panther two-yard line as the quarter ended.

With fourth down and two yards to go for the touchdown, Look went over right tackle on the first play of the second quarter to make the score 14-0.

On the extra-point, the Spartans ran from a single wing. Look handing off to Johnson on a reverse, Johnson added to the end zone unopposed.

After this surge of power, which was a trademark of the 1956 team that went to the Rose Bowl, the Spartans punted until the waning minutes of the fourth quarter. Meanwhile, the Panthers gave pitiful Michigan State some anxious moments in the second half, dominating the game and threatening to tie the game.

In the third stanza, Pitt made a determined bid for a comeback, driving from its own 43 to State's seven-yard line. But State linebacker Ellison Kelly stepped in to intercept a pass from quarterback Ivan Tomic, intended for end Ron White on the MSU two.

Another team scored in the third quarter, but Pitt halfback Dick Haley went over right tackle for nine yards and a touchdown early in the fourth quarter. It took the Panthers eight plays to drive 58 yards for the score.

Look, on a fake kick, passed complete to end Bettine in the end zone for a successful two-point, extra point to cut the lead to 16-8.

The Spartans picked up their final touchdown late in the third quarter. Halfback Roger Donahoo circled Pitt's left end at midfield and raced to the three-yard line before being run out of bounds.

Three plays later quarterback Larry Biehl passed complete to end Dick Barker for the touchdown to make the score 22-8.

On the extra-point try, Look's pass intended for Johnson was incomplete.

State threatened once again in the final seconds, taking over on downs on the Pitt 10-yard line. Quarterback Greg Williams threw a 34-yard pass to end Fred Arbanas, who carried to the six-yard marker.

Depot Tom Wilson went in at quarterback for State. He was tackled while trying to pass at the Pitt 14. State was penalized 15 yards, and Biehl returned to the game. He was tackled while attempting to pass as the gun sounded.

It was the fourth consecutive victory for the Spartans over the Pennsylvania eleven in a series which started in 1917. It also marked the 14th victory in 15 games for the Spartans over non-conference competition since Duffy became head coach.

Reds Continue Cease-fire In Formosa Straits Area

TAIPEI, Formosa, (P. Red) (China) state guns opposite Quemoy remained silent today after the Communists announced they were extending their original seven-day Formosa Strait cease-fire for two more weeks.

Nationalist China—reacting as it did to the first cease-fire—viewed the Red action with "great surprise."

In Washington, President Eisenhower called the extended cease-fire announcement good news.

The first seven-day cease-fire deadline expired at midnight.

Early today Peiping radio broadcast an order to Communist forces opposite Quemoy to hold their fire "for another two weeks starting from today."

The broadcast said the order was for the benefit of all Chinese and was issued because "it hurt only the Americans."

Red China is a bitter opponent of U. S. support of President Chiang Kai-shek's nationalist government on Formosa.

The Peiping radio broadcast asserted the new cease-fire is "to enable our compatriots on Quemoy, both military and civilian, to get sufficient supplies, including food and military equipment to strengthen their entrenchment."

The first cease-fire ordered last week was declared to have been based on humanitarian considerations for the Quemoy islanders under Red siege since Aug. 23.

That cease-fire was conditional, effective only if U. S. ships halted convoy support for the nationalists.

The Reds, meantime, have been reported reinforcing their mainland batteries and air force.

Hayride Turns Tragic After Highway Mishap

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bob Jones, State News Assistant Night Editor, was on the hayride Friday night when an automobile struck the rear end of the wagon injuring 18 students.

By BOB JONES

Little did I realize when I organized an innocent Rather Hayride that it would erupt into the tragic accident that it did.

But the accident, which was caused by the terrible impact of a 2,000 pound mass of steel crashing into an open wagon carrying 26 persons, was a tragedy with no happy ending.

What had happened? How many people were dead? Injured?

I had been thrown against a steel beam around the wagon, and I realized all over.

Finding a blanket to cover my face, I moved to the rear of the wagon. Most of the people there seemed hurt in some way.

New York Ballet Opening Tonight

The New York Ballet tonight at 8:15 in the Auditorium will perform "The Sleeping Beauty" by Tchaikovsky. The cast includes: "Fairy" by Sylvia Fae, "The Duke" and "Western Prince" by students. Students are requested that they must be present at the door.

George Balanchine and Jerome Robbins are artistic directors for the production; the former trained in the Russian Imperial Ballet. At 20 he was ballet master and choreographer of Daugherty's ballet in Paris.

Founder of the American School of Ballet, he made a professional dancer of Robbins who has often danced here, a following in every phase of artistry of the ballet.

One-Act Tryouts Begin Tonight

Tryouts for the term's one-act studio presentations will be held tonight and Tuesday night from 9-10 in 40 Aud.

An exciting bill is planned for this term. The plays include: "The Russian Expressionist" by two Tennessee Williams, one Russian expressionist drama, and two original scripts by MSU students. The former three plays will be presented on Nov. 5, and the latter two original scripts on Nov. 12.

We are looking forward to a good turnout. These plays will offer much to both the beginning and experienced student actor," said Larry Barr, student director.

Remove Old Stickers

Students are again reminded to remove all old parking stickers.

A number of violations have been issued, according to Lt. Earle Roberts of the campus police. The fine is $2.

NEW YORK, (P)—Seventy percent of the doctors in the Soviet Union are women.

"They have gentle hands."

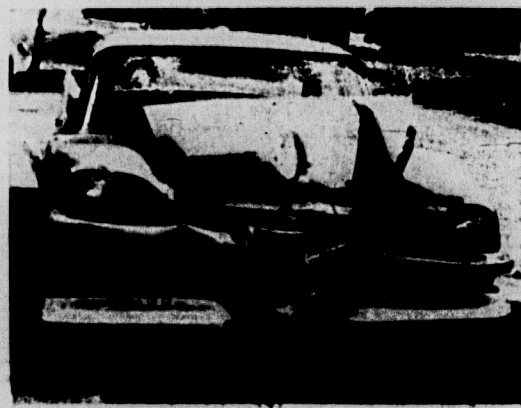

This was the reply Sunday from Victoria Zhdanov, Soviet deputy minister of health, Zhdanov appeared on the NBC-TV program, "Youth Wants to Know," in a filmed interview.

All medical treatment is free and while most of the population prefers to select the physician who serves the district, there is no limitation for choice of a doctor.

Hypnosis is being used for treatment of diseases and during childbirth.

In answer to students' questions, Zhdanov said:

The three most prevalent diseases in the Soviet Union are cardiovascular diseases, cancer and tuberculosis.

Auto Hits Hay Wagon, 18 MSU Students Hurt

By WALT SQUIRES

A hayride ended in near-tragedy late Friday night when a speeding auto crashed into the back end of a horse-drawn wagon, injuring 18 MSU students.

The hayride, sponsored by a student group, was returning to the rather hall when it was hit by a car driven by Oscar Garcia Ros of Lansing.

The car, which was carrying 26 persons plus the driver, Gilbert Fones of East Lansing, was traveling at a speed of 30-40 m.p.h. when it struck the wagon.

He stated to the officers that he was passing another car when he suddenly saw the wagon a few feet ahead of him. An analysis by the officers investigating the accident showed that the impact shoved the wagon ahead and sharply to the left where it came to rest in a deep but sloping ditch.

Some of the students were thrown from the wagon and it was a general conclusion that only the fact of the wagon being constructed of steel saved the party from any fatalities.

Don Hale, of 4007 Lake Lansing Rd. an Ingham county deputy sheriff for four years, owns the wagon and has been offering the hayride service for 10 to 12 years. He states that this is the first accident that he has ever had on the hayrides. Under normal driving conditions, Hale feels that anyone could have saved the wagon from a half mile distance.

Those injured besides Squires, Lott, and Truitt are: Thomas, Catharine, Teague, N.J. John Vanier, Whiting, Ind. Pete Roudsaw, Axtion, Ind. Felling, Buena Vista, Santa Monica, Calif.

Others included: Carol Berg, Rochester, Ind.; Cheryl Truitt, Dunlap, Ind.; Larchmont, N.Y.; Jan Hagen, East Lansing; Anon Szabados, Des Plaines, Ill.; Nancy Schudring, Placida, Fla.; Diane Allen, Adrian; Kenneth Hikes, Vicksburg; Daniel Gorned, Detroit; Lyle Walcott, Gilbert Fones; driver; Hideo Chapa, Lansing, rider with Rose and her husband.

Physicians manage the hospital. DeWitts receive enough money to live good.

Russia is using Salk anti-polio vaccine, but we are improving it and trying to obtain a live vaccine because it will solve the whole problem of combating and prevention of disease.

The use of fluoridation is being discussed, but there is no agreement among our dentists as to whether it is necessary or not.

'Pioneer' Experiment Falls Short

Vital Information Sent Via Radio

WASHINGTON (P)—America's short-for-the-moon missile plummeted back toward earth and almost certain destruction Sunday after a record-shattering 78,270-mile surge into space.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (P)—America's Pioneer moon missile plunged back into the earth's atmosphere at about 11 p.m. (EST) Sunday after knocking through space to a record-smashing altitude of 78,129 miles.

The U. S. scientific autopsy, given in a news conference at the national academy of sciences, reported two main things wrong with the effort to send the 83-pound instrument carrier within TV range of the moon.

1. Pioneer didn't have quite the enormous rocket push needed to make the pushing of more than 200,000 miles to the moon. The moon missile was supposed to develop a speed of 35,250 feet per second after launching from Cape Canaveral, Fla., early Saturday. Dr. Louis Dunn, president of the Space Technology Laboratories, said it looked as if the space craft didn't hit more than 24,400.

2. The projectile went a bit off course. Brig. Gen. O. J. Rittland, vice commander of the Air Force ballistic missile division, is what the scientists call it—deviated above the planned trajectory—that is, didn't quite follow its flight plan. Another expert said the missile began its bullet-like course 3 1/2 degrees higher than expected.

There had been earlier speculation that Pioneer might orbit around the earth after failing to become the first moon satellite.

"Nonetheless, Pioneer fed back by radio a considerable amount of data vastly beyond the reach of other measuring devices. In so doing it undoubtedly brought nearer the day when man may venture into space."

In New York, President Eisenhower congratulated all those responsible for launching Pioneer into space.

"Already it is clear," the President said, "that it will yield knowledge of great benefit to mankind."

Are Military Tactics Only Means to Use?

ONE OF THE MAJOR problems that has plagued every administration in the past few decades, be it Republican or Democrat, has been how to cope with world communism. Threatened by this diametrically opposed ideology, Western nations sought serious and stern measures to arrest its influence.

One of the most effective methods chosen by Western diplomats was the development and maintenance of strong military power.

This, in itself, is not a bad thing. Surely any nation will at least think twice before it attacks a strong country. The danger to the West lies in the fact that military strength is the sole effective method we have devised to fight communism.

As a result of our decision to increase military power, we have become extremely military minded. The rapid spread of communism in all parts of the world, fanned by the flames of McCarthyism at home, developed an attitude of panic towards all things Chinese and Russian.

LACKING ANY GREAT knowledge about Russia and most of Asia, we suddenly found that the battleground of the desperate struggle between capitalism and communism would be fought in areas we had long mistakenly termed "backward" and "uncivilized."

Desperately we clutched at the one method we felt would stop communism fast—military strength.

We built the greatest military force which has ever existed. We have every reason to feel proud of this accomplishment. We certainly are a much more secure nation because of it.

The only trouble is that military strength is not the complete answer. While it is a necessity, it is simply a means to an end, not the solution of our problems as we have tried to make it.

Every time the communists have made political gains, our main solution has been to increase military spending. Military force has practically become an obsession with us, as is evidenced by the great influence that professional military men have in our federal government.

A STATEMENT by President John A. Hannah, a former Under Secretary for Defense, may serve as an example of the influence that military strength has on our foreign policy.

Addressing Army and Air Force ROTC cadets Thursday, Hannah said military strength is the only "language" that Russians understand today. He further stated that 75 percent of all government income is now used for military expenditures.

Despite our great military force, however, the communists have continued to win converts in all areas of the world.

Why does this continue? We feel it is because the communists concentrate more on the spreading of their ideology than on use of military force.

It is precisely in this area that the U. S. has been weak. We have programs such as the Voice of America. Too often these programs have been weak and hampered by a lack of financial support.

We feel that the only way to combat an ideology is to fight it with an ideology. American democracy does not have to take a back seat to any form of government. We would like to see more emphasis placed on informing other people in the world about the merits of democracy and the Western way of life.

Milan Jakubec, President of the Executive Council of the Mutual Co-operation League of Canada, summed up our position when he testified before the House Un-American Activities Committee last April.

Stating that communism is not basically a military threat, he said "In the opinion of all those who have lived under communism, we are aware that its greatest danger is its ideology and devotion to its goals."

Let's fight communism with our own ideology.

Burial Ceremony Set for Pope Pius

His Holiness' Bier Visited by 2 Million

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Princes of the Roman Catholic Church were gathering from the far corners of the globe Sunday night for one of the world's most profoundly solemn rituals, the burial of their celebrated sovereign, Pope Pius XII.

Now wearing the symbolic black cord to denote their sorrow, 15 of the score or more of cardinals already on hand met in conclave to prepare for the funeral rites this afternoon. While the cardinals deliberated, hundreds of thousands of people continued to pour in a steady, unending stream past the bier of the Pontiff under the night dome of St. Peter's Basilica.

By Sunday evening, the number who had taken a last lingering look at the remains of the beloved bishop of Rome had reached more than two million. There was a tribute to a Pontiff who in his lifetime had seen more visitors than any Pope in history, and never before had such vast mass homage been paid a departed sovereign of the church.

Many of the mourners had seen him in life in these same surroundings. But now there was no thrilling blast of silver trumpets, no deep-throated roar of cannon from the multitudes. Now there was a deep, brooding silence.

At 6 p.m. Saturday night and through most of Sunday Roman Catholics were almost hopelessly clogged with traffic.

An hour before the great doors of the Basilica were closed Saturday night, hundreds still were waiting to enter. Mourners began gathering in the huge square again at dawn Sunday, and as the doors opened, the crowd surged into the Basilica.

At 1 p.m. today the doors will be closed in preparation for the Pontifical funeral.

The rites begin at 4 p.m. (10 a.m. EST) and continue for 90 minutes.

"The Basilica will be filled with thousands of mourners, all robed in black. Its tradition is followed—as probably it will be—the Archbishop of St. Peter's Basilica, Federico Cardinal Tebaldi, will begin the rites by blessing the body of the Pope."

The Archbishop reads the names of the prelates who are flocking and then, in a somber, hoarse voice, he informs the congregation that the body of the Pontiff is being placed in the coffin.

In an atmosphere of profound sadness and intense grief, three coffins are placed together—an open one on the outside, then a casket and finally a cypress coffin with scarlet silk. There is no religious connotation to the three coffins. They are intended to preserve the Pope's remains.

Gruenther Defends Red Cross

By MARY BASING

General Alfred M. Gruenther, former Supreme NATO Commander, was the keynote speaker Sunday night at the two-day, state-wide Red Cross conference held at the Civic Center.

In his address, Gruenther emphasized the importance of economic and spiritual support as well as military expansion in our national defense.

He feels that the Red Cross can and should promote the idea that the peoples of the world must have an understanding and a certain unity with each other in order to live together peacefully.

Gruenther is optimistic about war affairs and does not feel that World War III is inevitable.

Several programs were cited concerning the National Red Cross.

1. Of great importance is the expansion of the Junior Red Cross to include an extensive program in colleges and universities.

2. The biggest concern of the Red Cross leaders is not lack of funds, but lack of voluntary workers. Many feel that volunteers could be found in our nation's colleges.

Gruenther gave a run down on how Red Cross funds are spent. One of the biggest items and hardest to raise money for is the unspectacular type of work that the organization does. Though this work does not receive a great deal of publicity, it is vital to the people.

He served under President Eisenhower in World War II and was appointed to NATO in 1953. Last year he was appointed president of the National Red Cross after retiring from a five military life.

As president, Gruenther has been very active in expanding and promoting the scope of Red Cross work both nationally and internationally.

When Congress Reconvenes

U. S. Military Code Slated for Revision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The code of criminal laws for the armed services is scheduled for a new congressional overhaul early next year.

One reason is a suspicion by some members of Congress that many young men are being turned out of uniform with less than honorable discharges, rather than given the trials contemplated by the uniform code of military justice. The services strongly deny that this is so.

The code, now eight years old, cut down the authority of commanding officers to hand out punishments without trial for minor offenses. It requires that all except the most trivial of these cases be handled by special or summary courts martial, somewhat simplified forms of military trial. General Court Martial continues to be the tribunal for serious crimes.

However, the code did not end the authority of the services to discharge men by administrative action, without trial. Some administrative discharges carry the tag "undesirable." These deny veterans' privileges to the recipient and permanently blacken a service record which may be needed later in civilian life—for example, when applying for a job.

Thus, an undesirable discharge can well be a more severe punishment than many meted out by courts martial after conviction.

A congressional source, citing correspondence from constituents, said there has been an alarming increase in the number of administrative discharges.

The armed services have not conceded they are guilty of any abuse of the administrative discharge procedure to cut down on courts martial. But when preliminary hearings on changes in the uniform code were held

Integration Question May Formulate Third Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility that the school integration controversy may trigger a third party movement in the South was raised Sunday by Sen. Russell Long (D-La.).

But Sen. Sessard Holland (D-Fla.) predicted that despite wide disagreement with their Northern colleagues, Southern Democrats will not bolt the National party.

Long said in a recorded television program (WDSU-New Orleans) that if the Democratic National Committee persists in recognizing Camille Gravel Jr. as its Louisiana member "that, of course, could lead to all sorts of misunderstandings."

Asked if there might be a third party movement brewing, Long replied:

"If the national committee sought to retain a representative of the Democratic Committee in Louisiana, whom the Democratic Committee says does not represent them at all, it is entirely possible that the state committee might tell the national committee, 'sorry, you fellows don't represent us either.'"

The Louisiana committee voted to remove Gravel from his national party job because of his reputed moderate views on integration. But National Chairman Paul Butler said Gravel will continue to be recognized as Louisiana's member unless two-thirds of the national group votes to oust him.

Butler also has been at odds with Democratic Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas who spoke Saturday of the possibility of a third party movement in the South by the time of the 1960 presidential election.

Faubus said he personally has

Army, Navy 'Elevens' Pull Surprise Upsets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A couple of military gridiron coaches, Army and Navy, sent Eastern college football prestige skyrocketing today to its highest peak in 13 years.
Army's 14-27 conquest of Notre Dame and Navy's 20-14 upset triumph over Michigan brought the East visions of its first National College Championship since Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis ran rampant for West Point in 1945.
Coach Earl Blaik's present military academy team is being compared in speed and striking power, if not in depth, with the famous Blanchard-Davis wrecking crew of the 1940's.
"They should be No. 1," Notre Dame's Coach Terry Brennan said after his No. 4 ranked Irish were beaten Saturday in South Bend.
Since 1945, Army's best showing in the final Associated Press Poll was second to Oklahoma in 1950 and seventh in 1951. Navy was fifth in 1954 and again in 1957.
The two service elevens emerged as strong title contenders after a rugged week-end which saw mighty Oklahoma tumbled by Texas 15-14 and top-ranked Auburn, the defending champion, pressed to win over Kentucky 8-0.
A 37-yard pass play from Joe Tranchesi to Dick Zembruzski in the final five minutes gave Navy its decisive touchdown over the Wolverines.

IC4A CHAMPION FORDDY KENNEDY, Michigan State cross country captain (center), won individual honors in Saturday's meet with Western Michigan, with a 19:57.3 performance.

Harriers Lose to Broncos In Close Race, 27-30

The Michigan State cross country team, seemingly the target of fate, was edged Saturday morning by Western Michigan, 27-30.
Despite a brilliant performance by Spartan Captain Fordy Kennedy, the IC4A titleholder who ran the four-mile course in 19:57.3, the Broncos outpointed the green-and-white harriers by virtue of an unfortunate accident at the half-way mark of the race.
Teammates Dave Lean, who captained last year's track squad, and Jim Hosen were running well up in the front of the field when Hosen attempted to pass Lean on the inside of a curve.
Colliding, the two Spartan runners fell forward into a heap of tangled legs and arms. Hosen suffered only superficial bruises to his knees but Lean was spiked in the thigh.
Uninjured by this Lean got up and finished 15th in a field of 20. Hosen, a junior who has improved from last year, failed to finish.
If either runner had not been involved in this holdup, Coach Fran Dittman feels that the result of the meet could have been different.
Bob Lake and Bill Reynolds finished fourth and fifth respectively while George Tatu and Jack Crowell filled out the scoring column for the Spartans.

How Great Is State's Team?

Daugherty Discusses One-Half Performance

By LARRY WROBLEWSKI

When a football coach is in the process of rebuilding after his veterans graduate, it's sometimes difficult to accurately evaluate a team's complete potential.

This strange circumstance presently baffles both MSU's Duffy Daugherty and State fans everywhere.
With 22 lettermen and a promising crop of juniors and sophomores to fill their vacancies, Daugherty turned to a promising crop of juniors and sophomores to fill their vacancies.
Missing from last year's line-up were five ends, six tackles, two line centers and the entire starting backfield.
However, Daugherty was optimistic about his "problem." He felt "last year's outlook was bright, although some players hadn't performed in a college game."
Newspapermen, in their secret, mystical way, rated the Spartans as one of the nation's power teams.

"I'm half satisfied. We played good in the first half against Pitt and California, and well in the second half against Michigan. One of these Saturdays I hope we can put the two halves together."
"We can't stand prosperity playing only one outstanding half each game."
With one Big 10 game ending in a deadlock, the true potential of State will have to be steady in the next two weekends.

For the Spartans head into the toughest segment of the Western Conference race, Purdue, who upset State last year, 20-13, will enemies. Certain sports writers had already expected the mythical national championship, Big 10 title and the trip West to MSU.

When the Spartans humbled California in their opener, 22-0, the outlook was one filled with high hopes. But did State really meet a challenge in the Golden Bears? Or had the Spartans matured too quickly for such a "green" team?

Last Saturday Michigan, underdog by three touchdowns, stunned State with its alert and smart play. The Wolverines balanced a fine defense with a daring type of offense to tie MSU, 12-12.

Now Spartan fans looked the early reports of State's vaunted attack.
Even Daugherty expressed slight dissatisfaction with the squad's play Saturday after

Fresh Basketball

There will be a meeting for all freshman basketball candidates on Tuesday, in room 209 at Jensen Fieldhouse at 4:15 p.m.

In the final period Williams broke through and dropped Pitt Ivan Tondic for a 12-yard TD.

Daugherty was repetitious of Williams' flawless performance.

Sam was tremendous. He was responsible for making the short side stuff go. He was the one that opened up the way for Roger Donahoo to go before our last score.

Continuing, Daugherty said on to clear the five-yard line of game penalty charged against State which set up Pitt's last score.

"I sent a substitute in for number Jim Wulff was hurt, and I made a substitution at the time when one of our backs hurt even if it costs us a half game."

Lions Lashed by Rams,
Take Over Last Place

DETROIT (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams choked off a pair of bold scoring threats, then scored twice in the final 55 seconds of play and defeated the Detroit Lions 42-28 Sunday in a furious National Football League struggle witnessed by 55,648 spectators.

Twice in the final quarter the Rams turned back Detroit victory bids.

They stopped one drive on the one and halted another with an interception on their 12.

Getting the ball with only two minutes left and the score tied 28-28, Los Angeles drove 51 yards with reserve fullback Joe Marconi bulging over the final 24 yards for the winning touchdown.

Seconds later rookie Dan Lewis fumbled the kickoff and the Rams took over on the Detroit 17. On the first play fullback Joe Marconi rolled 17 yards against his own left end and scored his third touchdown of the game.

was all over, Michigan had won again, 1-0, in a tough Pittsburgh game. The Spartans' 16th game without a loss. Coach Gene Kenney was pleased with his team's win. He hinted that could be some "shakes" in starting lineup before important game at goalie Ron Goga was in the second period. A cove, Noel Diaz, a prominent netminder, was taken out diving at the end of the third quarter.

and some came late in the period. Bonnie Cook, a 15-year-old, centered the ball into the net. Art Vander Horst and the ball was in the left of the field. A sophomore, Goga, headed it in at the end of the game.

And Art Southan, leading scorer a year ago, was ineffective at center forward. Southan was bothered by leg injuries most of last season and so far this year. Although he played most of the game Saturday, he was not a scoring threat.

Still, the score could have been higher. Art "Phantom" Southan, star inside right, missed on a penalty shot. On other occasions, the ball was just wide or too high. But the Panther goalie was the main reason for the close score.

Leo Vander Horst, Spartan captain and right halfback, turned in the most brilliant performance of the game. An untiring workhorse, Vander Horst stole the ball and set on the Spartan offensive — what there was of it — all through the game.

Besides extending State's unbeaten streak to 16 it was the Spartans' fifth straight shutout and seventh straight victory.

It was only the second time in five years that the Panthers have been held scoreless. They defeated Pittsburgh, 1-0, in 1955.

$200,000 Damage

Temple Blast Rocks Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP)—A thunderous dynamite blast ripped a gaping hole in a wall of an Atlanta Jewish temple Sunday. The dynamiters fled undetected in the predawn darkness.

Damage was extensive—one estimate was $200,000—but no one was hurt. The tremendous explosion in a fashionable section on Peachtree Rd. shook houses a half-mile away.

It was the second straight Sunday dynamite in the South. A series of blasts shattered an integrated school in Clinton, Tenn. last Sunday. It was the fourth southern city in which Jewish worship centers have been dynamited this year. Earlier blasts were in Miami, Jacksonville, Fla., and Nashville, Tenn.

The explosion at 3:55 a.m. (EST) made a hole 15 to 20 feet square at what had been a side entrance near the rear of the Temple B'nai B'rith Congregation of Atlanta.

Police Capt. J. L. Moore estimated that 40 to 50 sticks of dynamite were placed just outside the heavy wooden door. Det. Capt. R. E. Little examined a portion of the door lock and said it had not been tampered with prior to the explosion.

The blast wrecked a church office and the study of Rabbi Jacob Rothschild, head of the congregation of more than 1,000 families. An auditorium used for religious education and social activities was severely damaged.

Beautiful stained glass windows littered the floor of the main sanctuary in the front of the building. A door at the rear of the sanctuary hung crazily by one hinge.

Several plate glass windows, a Jewish community center four blocks from the synagogue, were kicked out during the night but it was not known whether the incidents were related.

Mayor William Hartsfield said he believed the dynamiting was an international organization. He offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the conviction of persons responsible.

Five persons were arrested here July 27 while picketing the Atlanta Journal-Constitution building and carrying signs with anti-semitic themes.

No other anti-Jewish incidents have been reported, although the mayor said the city had been flooded at times with what he called "hate magazines and other literature."

Rabbi Rothschild said his first feelings were of "sheer horror." He shook his head and said "It's just impossible to believe."

Gov. Marvin Griffin said "I can't conceive that this is just an isolated thing. We have been free from this kind of thing in Georgia. We don't want it and we're not going to have it."

The White House announced President Eisenhower was graveled and anxious about the incident. The FBI offered full cooperation in Atlanta authorities.

Ike Raps Bombing In Speech

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower Sunday angrily condemned the bombing of a synagogue in Atlanta.

The President interrupted a speech about civil and religious liberties to declare:

"We must all share in the feeling of horror that anyone would want to desecrate a place of religion, be it a chapel, a cathedral, a mosque, a church or a synagogue."

If we believe in the tradition of freedom of worship, then we must not countenance the desecration of any edifice symbolizing one of the great faiths."

He was visibly angry as he made the remarks at a cornerstone-laying ceremony for an interchurch center.

The Atlanta temple was heavily damaged by a huge dynamite blast early Sunday morning.

The President, here for a rapid round of ceremonies and politicking, called on all Americans to exercise self-discipline because "We must think of our self-respect as a nation."

Eisenhower, who had referred to the work of George Washington in protecting religious freedoms, said:

"Can you imagine what the first president would say to this outrage?"

The President spent most of the day with Nelson A. Rockefeller and Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-NY) at his elbow.

MSU United Chest Fund Begins Today

The university portion of the United Community Chest drive begins today and will continue through Tuesday, Oct. 26.

The university drive is part of the government and education division of the United Community Chest. This division is headed by Edward Vernon, vice-president for off-campus education.

MSU's quota for the drive is $61,345, the amount raised by the university last year. In last year's drive 17 of the 19 university divisions either reached or exceeded their quotas.

The goal of the United Community Chest drive for Michigan County is $1,872,206.

The Community Chest serves 34 agencies including the Catholic Social Service, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Lansing YMCA and YWCA and the American Red Cross.

VICENTE G. SINCO, (L) president of the University of Philippines, meets with President John A. Hannah during the past week. The Philippine University may revise its program to make it more responsive to the needs of the Filipino people, similar to MSU's land grant institution.

Queen Contest

Council Plans Homecoming

Homecoming plans dominated Sunday night's Senior Council meeting.

Principal item was the Homecoming Queen contest which closes to entrants today at noon.

All contestants will be hosted at the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house Thursday night at 5:30.

This year, as last, the court will be composed of the queen and nine runners-up, each representing another Big 10 school. The queen of Excalibur will act as escorts at the Homecoming game.

Judging for the contest is set for Oct. 19 with Bill Campbell of Campbell's Suburban shop, Mrs. Isabel Weesner of Jacobson's Beauty Salon and Les O'Berry, finance officer of the Michigan Dept. of Agriculture, serving as the judging panel.

The 10 winners will be announced Oct. 20 and their respective positions on the court will be given the following week.

She Campbell, Asheville, N.C., member-at-large, reported on the progress of plans for an International Student Center.

The court will decide to combine forces with Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service, honorary, and International Club, which are also interested in this subject, initiated last year by the class of '59.

Don Langlois, Detroit, chairman of Water Carnivals, announced a push for committee chairmen is scheduled for the end of the month.

Marines Seeking Officer Trainees

Interviews will be held today through Friday for students interested in becoming Marine Corps officers.

Capt. Reginald Saults, USMC, the officer selection officer for Michigan, will be available in the Union Concourse to interview and provide information to those interested in the Platoon Leader's Class for undergraduates and the Aviation Officer Candidate Course for graduates.

Qualification tests will also be conducted on campus.
