

Two MSU Men Off to Hawaii

Two university men will help develop a long range program for the University of Hawaii's East-West center, which serves as a training unit for Asia.

Edward W. Weidner, political science professor, was chosen by the University of Hawaii to go there as a consultant for a week beginning Feb. 23.

Following a consultation period, he will deliver a paper on the education and training of foreign students at a three-day conference which begins Feb. 27.

Dean Glen L. Taggart of International programs will represent MSU at the conference. About 13 mainland and 13 Hawaii delegates will meet.

The East-West center was established in 1960 by an amendment to the mutual security act which provides its funds from Congress.

The East-West center serves two purposes, Weidner said. It will educate and train students coming to the U.S., and it will provide for American students going to Asia.

The first state to have come to — has an interesting population composed of Japanese, Chinese, Mainlanders, who are now citizens, Weidner said.

Weidner will demonstrate to Asians how the new state is developing and American democracy at work, he said.

There has been a delay in getting the center's program pending the development of a long-range plan of operation, he said.

Barry Goldwater of Arizona, recognized leader of the U.S. Conservative Club, will speak at MSU's Conservative Club on March 7 at 8 p.m. in the Student Center.

Goldwater's appearance here is part of a series by the club, which has won a George Washington Honor Medal for its 1959-60 campus program.

Goldwater's interest in college students stems from the feeling that the political questions of the future should be presented to them in a formative years, said Goldwater in a special state address on his visit to MSU.

Goldwater's book, "The Conscience of a Conservative," is a topic of discussion in many political groups on campus and at universities known as the "Goldwater phenomenon."

The truth would seem to be that the college generations in America may be at the beginning of another big swing, away from the State's political ideas that dominated campus arguments, said John Chamberlain in the Wall Street Journal.

Senior awards available

Applications for Outstanding Junior Awards are available in the Student Center, according to Myers, junior class vice-president. The deadline for application is Saturday. "Any junior who has been active in any campus organization during their junior year is eligible," said Myers, chairman.

Up to fifteen juniors will be named by a committee composed of members of Junior Council, Student Board, Executive Board, Key and the faculty. The awards will be presented at Spring Commencement.

Questions concerning the awards may be directed to Judy at the Delta Gamma 16 bills were listed in order of priority. Later he said all were priority measures and should be undertaken at the earliest opportunity.

The House Ways and Means committee already has started hearings on the Emergency Unemployment Compensation bill and the Aid for Children Measure. Committee action is under way on the Depressed Areas Aid bill.

The Social Security bill reached Congress from the White House Monday.

"I think now that we are going to have full steam ahead," Rayburn told reporters after today's White House breakfast meeting. He said he thought Congress already is "moving pretty fast—as fast as is judicially possible."

MANSFIELD SAID he agreed that Congress is moving as rapidly as could be expected.

Dag Calls for Additional UN Troops To Help Avert Civil War in Congo

Katangans Ordered To Arms

ELISABETHVILLE, KATANGA. (AP)—President Moise Tshombe Tuesday ordered all able-bodied Katangans mobilized against the U.N. Congo command's new-won authority to use force to prevent a civil war.

Blacks and whites alike of this secessionist province got their orders by radio, as they did last August when Tshombe used the threat of bloodshed to stall the entry of a U.N. vanguard for a week.

In bitter reaction to the Security Council's newest decision, the Congo leader called U.N. troops enemies and told a news conference that U.N. experts could have lived through the test and quickly named three candidates for a space flight expected within two or three months.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the overwhelming success of the flight bolstered the chances of sending an astronaut on a short rocket ride "in the near future" and into orbit around the earth late this year.

Authorities emphasized, however, that much testing remains before a human can be launched. The developments Tuesday made it obvious the trials are entering the final stages.

THE THREE chosen to begin training for the first U.S. manned shot are John J. Glenn Jr., 39, a Marine Lieutenant Colonel from New Concord, Ohio; Virgil E. Grisson, 35, an Air Force captain from Mitchell, Ind.; and Alan B. Shepard Jr., 37, a Navy commander from East Derry, N.H.

All were on hand for Tuesday's launch. But none was immediately available for comment.

The flight one of them is expected to take will be similar to that which Ham the space

Officials Name Three Candidates Successful Rocket Ride Puts Manned Test in Near Future

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—America's man-in-space capsule survived its most severe test Tuesday, a tortuous 12,850-mile-an-hour rocket ride. Officials said a man, apparently could have lived through the test and quickly named three candidates for a space flight expected within two or three months.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the overwhelming success of the flight bolstered the chances of sending an astronaut on a short rocket ride "in the near future" and into orbit around the earth late this year.

Authorities emphasized, however, that much testing remains before a human can be launched. The developments Tuesday made it obvious the trials are entering the final stages.

THE THREE chosen to begin training for the first U.S. manned shot are John J. Glenn Jr., 39, a Marine Lieutenant Colonel from New Concord, Ohio; Virgil E. Grisson, 35, an Air Force captain from Mitchell, Ind.; and Alan B. Shepard Jr., 37, a Navy commander from East Derry, N.H.

All were on hand for Tuesday's launch. But none was immediately available for comment.

The flight one of them is expected to take will be similar to that which Ham the space chump survived on Jan. 31. Ham rode 136 miles into space and 414 miles down range. Its capsule was boosted by a Redstone Rocket, smaller than the Atlas used Tuesday.

Glenn Grisson and Shepard were selected from among seven astronauts who started intensive training for rocket missions 22 months ago. The other four—Scott Carpenter, Leroy Cooper, Walter Secaira and Donald Slayton—will be eligible for later, perhaps more ambitious, space assignments.

ALL SEVEN are veteran military test pilots, skilled in wringing out all types of aircraft for the design engineers.

Their spacecraft was wrung out for them Tuesday when the Atlas hurried it 197 miles high and plunked it on target 1,425 miles down the Atlantic range.

A helicopter fished it from the sea and deposited it on the deck of the recovery ship USS Donner—just 36 minutes after the Atlas blasted off from Cape Canaveral.

During the 18-minute journey, the one-ton spacecraft was subjected to the worst conditions an astronaut could expect to encounter on a return to earth from an orbital mission. The space chamber, except for a few systems not carried Tuesday, is identical to those the space pilots will ride.

Temperatures of 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit scorched its metal body, 900 pounds of pressure buffeted every square foot, and forces 16 times the force of gravity pushed upon it as it rammed into the so-called "heat barrier" of the earth's atmosphere.

Robert Gilruth, Project Mercury director reported the bell-shaped line gray capsule apparently came through this severe test in excellent shape.

"Everything in the flight appeared to work perfectly," Gilruth said. "On the basis of what we know so far of the cabin pressure, temperature and aerodynamic experience, a man could have survived this flight. But without close examination of the capsule, I would like to make some reservations."

HE SAID temperature inside the capsule did not exceed 90 degrees, despite the blistering exterior heat.

Secessionist Katanga Threatens Opposition

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld Tuesday called for additional U.N. troops to carry out a new Security Council peace plan aimed at averting civil war in the Congo.

Hammarskjöld's appeal came as secessionist Katanga Province threatened defiance of the 11-nation Council's directive that the United Nations use force, if necessary, to prevent military clashes between rival Congolese factions.

Provincial president Moise Tshombe has ordered a general mobilization to oppose any attempt to carry out the U.N. resolution adopted at the early morning hour.

Hammarskjöld welcomed the plan—sponsored by the United Arab Republic, Ceylon and Liberia—as giving a stronger and clearer mandate for much-criticized U.N. Congo operations. The United States backed the resolution. Many opponents were encouraged by the fact that the Soviet Union withheld a threatened veto and simply abstained.

The Russians backed to African-African pressure after they found no support for a Soviet demand for the liquidation of the U.N. Congo operation and dismissal of Hammarskjöld as Secretary-General.

Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin insisted that the three-nation resolution gave Hammarskjöld no new instructions, but neither the Secretary-General nor the Western powers accepted this interpretation.

Hammarskjöld, in remarks to the Council, spoke of the "new duties that would be required of the United Nations force in the Congo." He expressed belief that countries now contributing contingents—mostly Asians and Africans—would strengthen the U.N. force by further contributions.

His appeal came as he struggled to hang onto the forces he has at present. The force has dwindled from a high of nearly 20,000 men to about 17,500, with other sizable contingents scheduled to withdraw in the next two weeks.

SUN officials and Hammarskjöld had no plans to go to the Congo.

Dems Promise Speedy Action

Kennedy Submits 16 Bills to Congress;

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gave congressional leaders a priority list of 16 bills Tuesday with heavy emphasis on helping the unemployed.

The Democratic leaders, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana and House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, promised speedy action. Topping Kennedy's list were these measures:

1. EMERGENCY extension of unemployment compensation.

2. Making the children of unemployed parents eligible for Federal-state aid.

3. Providing more liberal Social Security benefits and extending coverage.

4. Setting up a program of Federal aid for economically depressed areas.

5. The Social Security bill reached Congress from the White House Monday.

"I think now that we are going to have full steam ahead," Rayburn told reporters after today's White House breakfast meeting. He said he thought Congress already is "moving pretty fast—as fast as is judicially possible."

MANSFIELD SAID he agreed that Congress is moving as rapidly as could be expected.

In calling for speed on economic recovery measures, Kennedy said last week that "only by putting millions of unemployed back to work can we expand purchasing power and markets."

The Emergency Unemployment Compensation bill would provide up to 13 weeks of additional benefits for those who have exhausted their rights under existing law.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has estimated that three million more persons will suffer long term unemployment in the next 18 months.

THE HOUSE BANKING Committee decided today to start hearings Friday on the Aid for Depressed Areas bill. A Senate banking subcommittee is due to wind up its hearings on a similar measure next Tuesday.

The bill would set up a $300 million revolving fund for loans to finance industrial plants and facilities, $75 million for outright grants for public facilities, and smaller amounts for planning and restraining of workers.

Here are the 12 other bills on Kennedy's 16-point list:

Price Support and production controls program for feed grains; raising the $1 minimum wage; Federal aid to education; medical care for the aged under social security; aid for college education; aid for medical education and research; Federal support for expansion of community health facilities.

Extension of the government reorganization act; ratification of U.S. affiliation with the organization for Economic Co-operation and Development; creation of 50 new Federal judgeships; establishment of an office of international travel; easing of restrictions on trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Post Article Says Michigan Has Problems

Michigan: The Problem Show featured article in the 25 issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

The article, written by Harold Martin, discusses the financial problems the state faces and suggests solutions she might.

"Michigan is a mess, but her problems are not insurmountable," with the flexibility she has demonstrated in time of crisis she is already beginning to find ways to pull out of them," says.

Unemployment, particularly in the Detroit area, is also discussed.

Although Martin wrote the article some time before Governor H. Swainson presented his package to the legislature, Martin sensed an income tax bill would be proposed.

"We don't know yet how he's (Swainson) going to turn out," Republican said. "It may be we are going to get along pretty poorly. But if he starts pushing for an income tax or a corporate profits tax, the fight is going to start all over again."

Gov. Swainson recommended types of taxes. And, as forecast, this makes but a renewal practically inevitable.

Switzerland: Land of Will Tell, Gessler, Hohle Gasse

When thinking of Switzerland, most people think of a beautiful country with a small area of 15,000 square miles. Dieter Braunshweizer, assistant professor of great religions and world history, said.

He said that the Swiss people are very hardworking and that they have a very high standard of living.

He said that the Swiss people are very friendly and that they are very hospitable to visitors.

Three Astronauts Undergo Final Training; One Will Be First Man in Space

In a couple of months or so three American men will be launched on a short rocket trip into space and lasting glory. His name will be either Virgil G. Grissom, John Herschel Glenn Jr. or Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr.

These are the three astronauts whose selection by under-standable training to become the first American space travelers was announced at Cape Canaveral Fla., Monday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Just who will actually make the first ride will not be known until immediately before the launching, possibly in late March or April.

Whoever it is will undoubtedly be recorded in history as an explorer on the level of Magellan and Columbus—men who traveled the unknown and found new worlds.

The selection of the three of whom in time will take a space trip—came just a few minutes after the successful 1425-mile flight of an unmanned space capsule from Cape Canaveral.

FOR THE THREE, the selection was almost the end of two years of intensive training for just such a mission. They are among seven originally selected to undergo grueling mental and physical tests for space flight.

Glenn, 39, is a Marine Lieutenant Colonel; Grissom, 34, an Air Force Captain and Shepard, 37, is a Navy Commander.

Glenn was asked once why he volunteered for a mission so dangerous as any ever attempted by man. With a grin the red-haired marine replied:

"I figured it would probably be the nearest I'd ever get to heaven. I thought I ought to make the most of it."

None of the astronauts has ever expressed the slightest fear of taking a rocket ride. Glenn, the most valuable of the seven, said in an interview:

"If you didn't know what to expect, you would be like the things in mid-Africa, suspicious of everything, jumping at every rust that moves. When you get situated you are no longer fearful. In this field there are only a handful who understand and they are not fearful."

DURING THIS time, Shepard observed, "Christopher Columbus" engineers told him the world was flat and when he came to the rim he was going to fall off. "I was confident that I would not."

How does it feel to be among the select? Glenn asked. "We are catching the glow, but we are just trust men for a tremendous amount of time."

We are like the first guy on the expedition, he said, after crossing a bridge, the first boatman, the first one to see the deal for the first man, but the importance of the mission transcends any individual performance."

The astronauts and their wives are under exclusive contract to a magazine to write about their experiences and their emotions.

In the last few days aided by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's public information officials at Langley, Va. One such official reported, "The wives of the three preferred not to be interviewed. He has made similar statements in the past."

NASA did protect the wives and astronauts from interviews by the press. "I thought I ought to make the most of it."

NO SUCH restrictions on the interviews been in the parents of the three, however. Mrs. Dennis D. Grissom of Mitchell, Ind., proud of everything turns out mother of Virgil, "oh, all right."

Grissom's father, a signal maintainer for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, could not be reached.

The reaction of Mr. & Mrs. Alan B. Shepard Sr. was, "we are very proud that he has been chosen." The father added,

"We're confident that the government will take every precaution to make sure that there will be no trouble."

Glenn's father, John Glenn, Jr., of New Concord, Ohio, was not available for comment. His father, whatever they were from the time of his childhood, in duty near the Yalu

Washington Stores Offer Everything But Moon For 88c in Celebration of Washington's Birthday

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission, which admits to no holidays in its war against sharp dealers and traders, takes one today. It's Washington's birthday.

And, in the nation's capital, that's the traditional, frenzied time of Washington's birthday sales.

On the day honoring the man who never told a lie, stores in Washington each year offer their customers everything but the moon for about 88 cents.

THIS YEAR, the FTC, which usually frowns on such practices, promises to look the other way.

Karl W. Kitcher, chairman of the FTC, said no one is really fooled when stores bait customers by advertising a few items at a very low price on Washington's birthday.

"Tomorrow will be the one day in the year when Washington shoppers and merchants can tackle each other with unrestrained enthusiasm," he said.

IF A SHOPPER survives the unrestrained enthusiasm, he has a chance to buy a 1953 automobile for 99 cents, a portable sewing machine for 99 cents, a typewriter for 99 cents, a used television for 99 cents, a television table for 44 cents, a hi-fi tweeter for $1.95, a red armless chair for $1, or a book for one cent.

But these items are in short supply. And a shopper has to arise mighty early to get his chance to buy them.

W. Townsend Raplee, for example, has been sitting in front of one typewriter store since 6:20 p.m. Sunday. The 64-year-old Raplee wants to buy a 99-cent typewriter.

RAPLEE, during the past six years, has been first in line at this particular store four times. He sells the typewriters at a profit after he buys them. And, although rain is beating down in Washington today, Raplee says he doesn't intend to lose his lead place in line.

Newspapers are so brimming with sensational, glaring ads that it takes a hefty shopper to cut them home to read. The Washington Star, which put out 16 pages last Tuesday, had 132 pages Tuesday. And the Washington Post, which also had 46 pages last Tuesday, came forth with 92 Tuesday.

Almost every store gets into the act. One swanky men's clothing store, for example, opens its ad by noting: "We're sure that even the father of our country, great gentleman that he was, set aside his wig once in a while." And so for today, the store continues, it is "letting down its hair" and offering shoppers the usual holiday bargains.

MOST ADS have no inhibitions in using the first president to attract customers. Page after page show Washington chopping down prices with his little hatchet.

But some twinges of conscience crop up, even without the restraining hand of the FTC. One ad depicts a bust of Washington saying "If I were buying Martha a fur coat I'd surely go to" the advertising store. But the bust is winking and a footnote explains: "We cannot tell a lie. . . this quotation is a figment of our imagination."

And another company admits, in tiny type, that its 22-cent power mowers are "actually in pretty bad shape."

U of M Band Plays For Enthusiastic Russians

MOSCOW, (AP)—The University of Michigan band, using a number of borrowed instruments, opened an eight-week tour of the Soviet Union last night with a warmly received concert at Moscow's sports palace. The audience couldn't get enough of Gershwin tunes.

The Soviet news agency Tass hailed the concert and said "This sensitive, fluid and disciplined student orchestra is well on a par with many professional groups as regards the standard of performance."

About 6,000 Muscovites—mostly young people—attended but the turnout was about 10,000 short of filling the hangar-like sports palace.

THE TOUR was to have opened Monday night but bad weather delayed the band's arrival. Several band members felt the postponement was partly to blame for the relatively light attendance.

Class night is sponsored by the Promenaders, a square dance group.

"Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess," and a medley from "My Fair Lady."

Selections by American composers such as Robert Bennett received only polite applause, as did pieces by the Italian Verdi and the Russian Rimsky-Korsakov and Prokofiev.

Conductor William D. Besse got warm applause when he thanked the audience and said "Music is the greatest instrument in the world for peace."

The band had to leave Moscow about Moscow and managed to borrow four tubas, four baritone horns, three cornets, four trumpets and one snare drum. Several bore Communist East German makers' markings.

Close Games Highlight Fraternity Play

By ED KOTLAR
State News Sports Writer

Last Thursday was a good night for fraternity basketball. There were several very close and exciting games.

All five starters for Triangle hit in double figures as they managed to squeak by Theta Chi 60 to 59. It was a close game all the way, with Triangle being ahead at half-time, 33-31, and the score tied at the start of the fourth quarter. Top men for Theta Chi were Kris Shoemaker and Bill Spule with 21 and 17 points respectively.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO led Phi Gamma Delta 11-7 at the end of the first quarter and that proved to be their margin of victory. The two teams virtually traded basket for basket the rest of the way and AGR won 47-43.

The big guns for the winners were John Nye, 19 points, and Robin Balderston 16 pts. Dave Daugherty and Al Matousek paced Phi Gamma Delta with 16 points apiece.

With 35 seconds left to go Dick Svkes sank a 'basket and that made it unanimous—every player had scored in Sigma Nu's 55-38 victory over Beta Theta Pi. It was a case of not being able to get started that cost Beta Theta Pi the game. They

Grapplers Upset Wolverines, 20-16

By RICHARD ZEMMIN
State News Sports Writer

Michigan State's upset-minded grapplers, taking advantage of several weak spots and showing good all-around strength, handed the arch-rival Wolverines their first defeat of the season, 20-16, in Ann Arbor Monday afternoon.

The Victory, termed "the best team performance of the year" by head coach Fendley Collins, boosted the Spartans' dual meet record to 7-1 this season.

MSU's George Hobbs and Dave Wolfert each pinned their opponents. Hobbs pinned U of M's Nick Armelajos at 2:59 in the 123-lb. class. Wolfert achieved his fall over John Hollenbeck at 4:32 in the 157-lb. class.

THE OTHER SPARTAN victories came in the 113-lb. class where Okla Johnson decimated Willard Root, 4-1, and in the 175-lb. class in which State's captain Norm Young decimated Alfred Hilderbrandt, 5-2.

Michigan captured the 147, 165, 177 and 191-lb. classes. Three of their victories were won by their defending conference champions. Jim Blaker, 147-lb. champ, decimated MSU's Dave James in a closer match than the 4-0 score indicates.

Doc Courier overpowered State's Bob Schuler at 167-lbs., 6-0 and Denny Fitzgerald, Big Ten 157-lb. champ, beat John McCray 4-0.

The final Wolverine win came in the 191-lb. class where Jack Harden edged MSU's Merle Probst, 6-5, in a match that was decided on riding time.

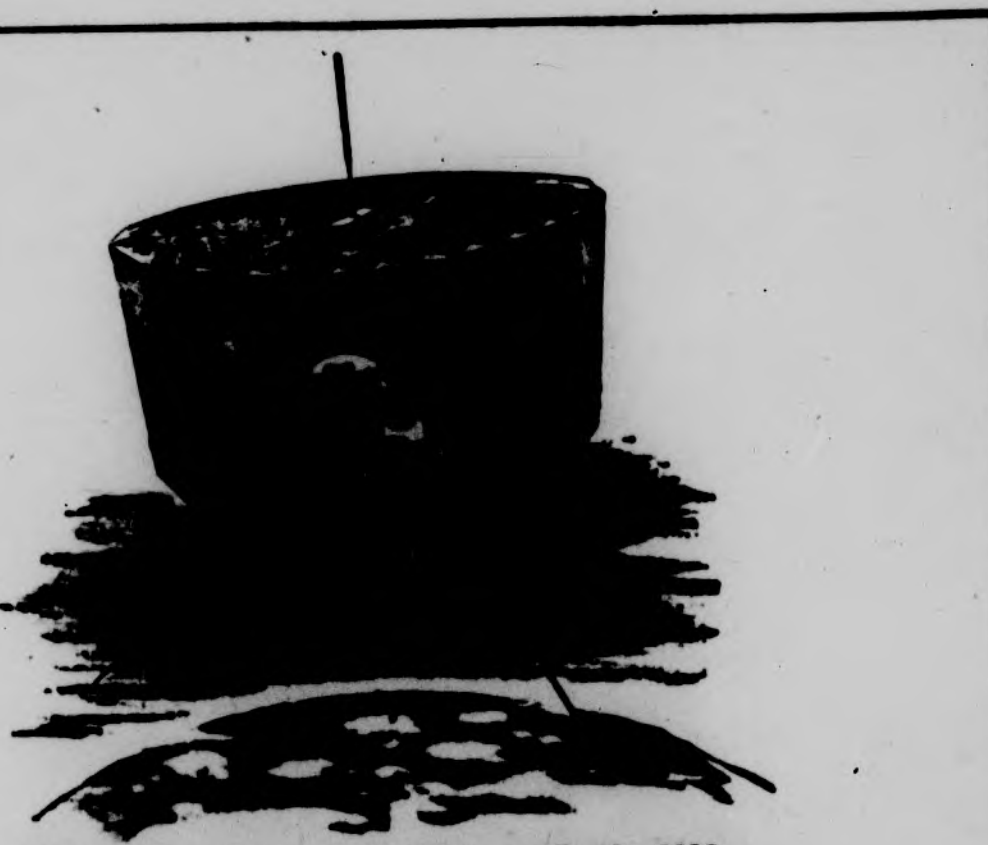

THE TWO MATCHES that ended in draws were big factors in the outcome of the meet. Spartan Jerry Hobe held Michigan's Fritz Kellerman, the defending Big Ten 150-lb. champ, to a 1-1 tie.

In the heavyweight division, Mike Sanzig of State drew with Carl Fink, 1-1. Fink defeated the Big Ten champ from Northwestern, Rory Weber, last week.

The Spartans were never behind in the meet. They captured three out of the first four matches, and after Wolfert's pin led 24-5.

COACHES COLLINS and Gray Pennington were jubilant over defeating the defending Big Ten champions. "It was a well-balanced team victory, and our biggest win of the year," Collins said.

Michigan's team is made up of individual performers who are weak in some spots and very strong in others. By pinning their weakest men and holding two of their strongest men to draws, our over-all strength goes for us," Collins said.

RCA, builder of Tires Satellite, needs young engineers today for spectacular achievements tomorrow

Tires has broadened man's scope of the heavens and earth. From an orbiting observation post high in the sky, it transmits a new wealth of meteorological information to earth-bound stations below.

Tires is only one of many RCA successes in the wide, wide world of electronics. And as the horizons of electronics steadily expand, the need for more and more competent and creative engineers increases in direct ratio. That's why RCA, now in the forefront of electronic progress, offers such tremendous opportunities for Electrical Engineers, Mechanical Engineers, and Physicists.

If you already know what you want to do in engineering... and are qualified, RCA can offer you direct assignments in your chosen field, and back you up with training and guidance by experienced engineers.

If you're not quite sure which direction you want to go... RCA's Design and Development Specialized Training will help to point the way. You'll receive full engineering salary while you progress through engineering assignments that give you a clear picture of various fields you might choose.

Or, if you'd like to continue your graduate study... RCA will pay full cost—tuition, fees and approved text—while you go to school or study two days a week, and work at RCA three days.

These are only a few of the many reasons for getting all the facts about a career with RCA. See your placement officer now about getting together with an RCA representative, for an interview on:

All You Gotta Have Is Heart! Hey, Hey, Hey!

Photographed by Ron James

Forddy Anderson, energetic and verbose head basketball coach of the Michigan State Spartans, has brought two Big Ten championships and a second place finish to MSU since his arrival in 1955.

Anderson, the master of the continuous motion style of offense, is rated one of the finest basketball mentors in the country. His record of 293 wins against 133 losses during his fifteen year coaching career speaks for itself.

During each contest, Anderson becomes immersed in the action taking place on the court, directing his players and rising to protest a questionable ruling by a referee. Spartan fans are used to see Anderson jumping to the court during a moment of tension, player friction or to gain a time out for his squad.

During the season, Anderson's charges have fallen on lean days, with many sophomores forced to start against many experienced foes. Anderson suffered with them during the early games, looking for signs of maturing and development. Finally it began to appear—against Ohio State, Iowa, Notre Dame and Illinois, the Spartans gave stellar performances and showed much promise for the future of Michigan State basketball.
