Arms Build-up Request Seen

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Kennedy disclosed Wednesday he is considering a request to Congress for a build-up of nuclear weapons strength—without necessarily reducing reliance on nuclear power.

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara urged the increase in study reappraising the nation's whole defense strategy, Kennedy told a news-embroidered news conference.

The President said he will make his decision on overhauling the military programs in the next few weeks, then send recommendations to Congress.

MEANTIME, he sought an advisory of State Dean Rusk Tuesday to allay fears of European allies that an increase in conventional forces meant less nuclear capability to combat a possible attack.

"We have reached no decision yet which would indicate that there is a change in our policy," the President said.

In a half-hour exchange with newsmen was an all-out, no-nonsense affair. Sentences were simple and unadorned—almost without changing tones—Mr. Kennedy gave these disclosures and opinions.

For the first time since July of last year, the President would indicate that there is a change in our policy," the President said.

CHANCELLOR Konrad Adenauer of West Germany has invited a Kennedy invitation to Washington April 12-15 in exchange of views.

The visit will be a further step in President Kennedy's efforts to reduce the tensions of the West-European democracies.

Phillips' Defacers Arraigned

The defacers were arraigned in the Township Justice Court Tuesday morning on charges of malicious destruction of university property.

Mary A. Williams, Pontiac, Mich., and Erlene Bradford, Lansing, La., graduate students, were charged with causing estimated $700 in damage to Phillips hall last Wednesday night.

Williams waived examination and $500 was not needed and she was taken to the Ingham County Jail. She is arraigned Friday in Circuit Court.

Bradford demanded examination and was released on $500 bond. Her examination has tentatively set for March 9.

Investigators also are looking for another Phillips resident involved in the case who left the dorm last week.

Williams' furniture and laboratory in the lobby were damaged with writings, and she also spilled on carpeting.

It says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, it was like this: Scientists were locked up in a room before they were let out to split the atom.

The story was told by the Soviet Premier in a speech broadcast Wednesday.

THE SPEECH was given Feb. 23 in Moscow at a meeting of Soviet experts studying methods to put the U.S.S.R. ahead of the United States in atomic production.

U-M Song Proposed For State

By KIT ERICKSON
State News Staff Writer

The prides of the University of Michigan football team may be echoed across the state tomorrow if a bill to make "The Victors" the official state song passes the legislature.

Sen. Charles S. Brady, (D-Detroit), who introduced the bill said that he picked the U of M fight song because it is "thrilling, inspiring, and contains real heart, life and feeling."

Michigan has never had an official song," he pointed out. "Most of the other times proposed have been ballads which are very nice but have no real spirit."

The words, originally written for the football stadium, have a meaning for the state of Michigan, he said.

"We would like to be victors in every endeavor we undertake, whether drawing new industries to Michigan or attracting more and happier tourists."

Bills have been introduced periodically for many years to name an official state song. Michigan now has an official flower, flag, motto, bird and tree. Last year a bill to name an official dog was defeated in the legislature.

Brady said he realized that students and alumni of MSU might not like his idea and challenged them to come up with a state song that would be better than "The Victors."

The bill has some sure supporters in the Senate.

The committee called Rusk to a closed door meeting to discuss reports that he favors a shift from a policy of "massive retaliation" to a big increase in conventional military forces. (AP Wirephoto)

Congo Premier Lacks Total Support, But Makes Strong Bid

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Premier Joseph Ileo Wednesday heralded the Congo's new anti-Communist pact as proof Congolese politicians can tackle their own problems without foreign help.

The Congolese people are 200 per cent against Communism, Ileo said in a news conference.

Ileo firmly denied that the military coup he signed Tuesday at Elisabethville with Kabongo President Moise Tshombe and President Albert Kalongo of the young state of South Kasai implied any recognition of their claims to independence. Not does the pact weaken President Joseph Kasavubu's claim to be the head of all the Congo, he added.

THE WARY little premier said he hopes the leftist rebel leaders of Stanleyville will attend the round table conference called for March 5 in Tananarive, Madagascar—even though these are the Communist influences he is opposing.

"In that neutral atmosphere of a friendly hand we should be able to iron out our differences with only a few days of discussion," Ileo said.

Antoine Gizenga, the Soviet-supported rebel leader in Stanleyville, his military strongman Gen. Victor Lundula and Antoine Kasambira of Kivu province have been invited to attend. Gizenga has given no indication of whether he will accept.

It could be another step toward solving the problem of an African and Asian nations who have contingents in the UN force reached Geneva to draft its response of a survey of Congo problems and a spokesman said that an agreement would be signed in Leopoldville.

The spokesman said the group believes that until both houses of parliament adopt a vote of confidence in Ileo, he cannot be regarded as the Congo's rightful premier.

IN CLOUDY language, Ileo said the same pact conference "will surely signify if necessary as a step in halting the wave of rape, beatings, arrests and general harassment that Congolese soldiers have inflicted on UN military and civilian personnel."

Although he did not elaborate, Ileo went on to demand that the United Nations close up a camp in Leopoldville, sanctuary for refugee sympathizers of the rebel ex-President Patrice Lumumba.

A new cloud appeared, meanwhile, on the horizon.

A communication made 40 of 11 African and Asian nations who have contingents in the UN force reached Geneva to draft its response of a survey of Congo problems and a spokesman said that an agreement would be signed in Leopoldville.

SUPPORTERS of Ileo's anti-Communist pact have always claimed that the commander-in-chief would support the pact.

In other cases developments, these are a report of last night that in Stanleyville, Ileo's supporters made an outward show of sympathy with the UN force, but only for the purpose of plotting to force Congolese arms out of UN personnel hands.

No Salary or Draft Excuses For Members

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Kennedy Wednesday ordered creation of a peace corps on a temporary basis and asked Congress to make it permanent. And he cautioned those who want to join that their life will not be easy and their pay will be low.

The volunteer peace corps, Kennedy said, will provide a pool of Americans—mostly young men and women—to go overseas and "help foreign countries meet their urgent need for skilled manpower." Members of the corps, he said, "will go only to those countries where their services and skills are genuinely needed and desired."

Kennedy said service in the corps will be exempt from the military draft. The program was helped drive home the message and no decision on whether any of the program would be approved.

Members of the corps will be paid a stipend of $375.000 per year. The program will be approved by the Senate and the House of Representatives.

A committee of the House of Representatives will study the program and report back to the House by the end of the year.

The effects of Zen Buddhism on Haiku poetry and the conflict between Eastern and Western culture in Japanese literature were discussed by Dr. C. David Mead, professor of English, at the forum on contemporary literature, Tuesday night. Haiku poetry, explained Mead, is a short poem composed in Japan by the hundreds of thousands a year. Mead said that the board appears to have a high regard for the nature of Haiku poetry. He said that the following Haiku poem is an example of the form and content of the poetry. On a winter night, a snowflake falls on a pine branch. The interpretation of this poem is that the snowflake is a messenger from the East, and the pine branch is a messenger from the West.

Impractical for State to Feed Michigan's Hungry Deer Herd

Large scale feeding of deer in Michigan would be impractical and would add to the problem of conservation, according to the conservation department.

In most winters, this one being a happy exception so far, the department figures there are 300,000 hungry deer in Michigan. Each deer would eat five pounds of hay per day, and the average deer winters last 70 to 90 days.

SINCE the cheapest hay for proper feeding of deer (bald alfalfa-brome grass) costs about $30 a ton, hay costs alone would come to a rough minimum of one and a half million dollars.

ACCORDING to the department however, even if it could be cost in chicken feed compared with how much it would cost to have food hauled into the swamps in winter.

The first years feeding program would require tractors, sleds, trucks, and men to make over 20,000 trips into the woods to reach the thousands of deer yards.

Wisconsin spent $632,000 on a trial feeding program, but it had not worked. Many deer still starved, because reaching the deer at the right time was physically impossible.

According to the department, however, even if it could be done on a large enough scale to reach all the deer, the next season the headline would only be bigger. The larger herd would then completely decimate the already scarce natural browse, and then be completely dependent of the feeding program.

"So you see," Bartlett said, "our controlled deer shooting is the best possible solution to keep our White-tails from eating themselves literally out of house and home. The whole future of our deer herd depends on our convincing the people of that."

The Conservation department has said, however, that it takes twenty years, usually more, to get a conservation principle across to the people. Waiting this long to get our deer herd under control would be disastrous.

"ONE GREAT help to our herd," Bartlett said, "has been our timber-cutting. The only trouble is there hasn't been enough of it." Bartlett explained that with increasing use of paper and pulp and the resultant cutting, our deer range would become healthier. He said deer are creatures of the brushland, and big trees are poor for them.

As our forests grow up, the big trees shade out the undergrowth and this important source of food and cover is lost. Also, the deer can't reach the foliage in the higher trees.

"Lumbering and fires around the beginning of this century," Bartlett said, "created good deer range because it gave us a lot of second growth cover which deer thrive in. As our forests grow up again, deer will decrease due to loss of food and cover."

THIS DECREASE in actual numbers of deer due to timber growth is the main reason for the steads decline on our herd. This is what the department is trying to get across to the public.

Bartlett and David H. Jenkins have written an impressive 80-page booklet on all phases of Michigan deer-herd condition and management. The booklet, MICHIGAN WHITETAILS, is a complete, up-to-date report on our herd, and is free from the department.

Perhaps if the half-million Michigan deer-hunters read the booklet, those who are against deer-shooting would change their mind. In any event, there is a lot of information packed into the 80 pages.

On the other hand, there are thousands of Michigan hunters who feel strongly that deer-shooting is doing great damage to the herd. Their voice is being heard in Lansing, State legislators, as a matter of practical politics, must listen to the roar of protest against the deer-season.

Should the Nakalla bill be passed, and the power of veto fall into the hands of the county boards of supervisors, the recommendations of the conservation department may in some cases be ignored. Where this happens, politicians will replace biologists as recognized authorities on deer-herd management.

Small wonder the department is watching with a great deal of worry.

Matmen Set For Title Clash at Home

Four former champions on its roster insure Michigan of the favorite's role for the Big Ten wrestling championships Friday and Saturday at East Lansing.

However, strong Michigan State and Illinois squads should make it tough for the Wolverines who seek their second straight conference team title and their fifth since 1953.

THE HOST Spartans have a former champ in 137-pounder Norm Young, who won the 130-pound class as a sophomore in 1959 and placed runner-up in that division last year. They also have George Hobbs, 1960 runner-up at 123 and unbeaten in ten dual meets this season.

The Spartans defeated Michigan, 20-16, in a dual meet two weeks ago. Last year MSU finished third in the conference. The Illini won eight of nine dual meets during the season, losing only to Colorado State.

Spartans Schedule Notre Dame In Season's Football Finale in 1965-66

Michigan State has taken over a slot on Notre Dame's football schedule that Iowa has cherished for the past few seasons. This move is a victory in strategy for the Spartans.

THE SPARTANS are to play Notre Dame on the season closing dates of the 1965 and 1966 seasons, it was revealed when Iowa announced schedules for those years.

Previous contracts will carry Iowa and Notre Dame through the 1964 season, always in the season-ending contest. But in 1965 Iowa will play North Carolina State at Iowa State and in 1966 will engage University of Miami (Fla.).

MICHIGAN STATE has had difficulty finding a satisfactory closing opponent since joining the Big Ten. It was an awkward date for the Spartans to fill since other major midwestern schools, including all conference teams except Iowa, were engaging traditional opponents on that date.

Illinois has given the Spartans relief in their trouble spot for the next four years, being scheduled on a home-and-home basis. But the prospect is that Illinois will resume its traditional game with Northwestern, starting in 1965.

The arrangement means State plays Notre Dame at South Bend in 1965, when Michigan and Ohio State are playing at Ann Arbor. The next year the arrangement revolves assuring the state of Michigan fans a top game for the season's end. Prospect is that dove-tailed scheduling will prevail for an indefinite period.

Ann Arbor Plays Host To Nation's Outstanding Gymnasts

By NANCY KOECHENBERG
State News Sports Writer

Michigan State, Michigan and Illinois are sending their strongest gymnastic teams in recent years to the Big Ten Championship Meet in Ann Arbor, Friday and Saturday.

At the beginning of the 1961 season, Coach Ralph Pipher of Michigan predicted that Illinois would win the Big Ten title, while MSU, Michigan and Indiana would fight it out for the runner-up spot.

Now that the regular gymnasium season has come to a close and the Big Ten Meet is only one day away, Spartan coach George Szypula, thinks that the meet will be a tossup between Michigan State, Michigan and Illinois for the championship.

Michigan is the favorite, said Szypula. "The Wolverines are undefeated and they will be competing on home grounds. However, we are in good physical condition and have been steadily improving since our loss to Michigan."

The Spartans have an excellent chance of taking free exercise, trampoline, and tumbling since these are events they have dominated during the season.

John Daniels is States number one title contender in free exercise. So far this season, Daniels has remained undefeated in his win column in triumph over last year's NCAA exercise champ, Ray Hatfield of Illinois.

In the trampoline contest, Tom Osterland of Michigan and MSU's Chuck Thompson and Steve Johnson will battle it out for the championship. Osterland has the edge on Thompson and Johnson because he defeated both of them in a dual meet here in Lansing. However, both Thompson and Johnson are championship material, and could easily come out Osterland for the winners spot.

STATE'S GARY—Michigan does a good routine in the pommel horse, and could give the Spartans a lot of points in the event.

Michigan State has a strong pommel horse trio, with Don Johnson, and Thompson, who have the potential to place as high as the top. Hal Helms of Michigan is virtually assured of winning the tumbling title. The State tumbler could take the second, third, and fourth spots.

LARRY BASSETT

been undefeated on the parallel bars in the Big Ten, this season. He is looking forward to winning the first Big Ten championship. He will have some powerful opposition in Ray Hatfield and Ron Horworth of Illinois.

At the Spartan, Bob Carman, could be a threat, as all of these men if he hits his routine.

Lucas, Stith Dominate AP All-American Vote

NEW YORK—Jerry Lucas of Ohio State and Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure, regarded as college basketball's greatest players this season, top the 1961 college basketball all-America announced by the Associated Press.

Named to the first team with three top standards were Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Roger Kashe of Georgia Tech and Chuck Walker of Bradley.

Lucas and Stith were far out in front in the voting as 415 sportswriters and broadcasters from all parts of the country ranked the nation's top players. Lucas, a senior, led with 100 first team votes and 236 points. Stith, a junior, followed with 88 first team votes and 214 points.

DISCHINGER—The 6-foot-5, 165-pound forward from Indiana averaged 18.6 points per game during the season.

Michigan State's Gary Lucas does a good routine in the pommel horse, and could give the Spartans a lot of points in the event.

LARRY BASSETT

noted vaulting WAYNE BERGSTROM, an experienced performer on the side horse, and a consistent winner in the dual meets, will team up with Capt. Bob Denny to strengthen MSU's chances in this event.

According to Coach Szypula, the Big Ten is the best gymnastic conference in the country. This year's Big Ten Meet should be the finest in the meet's history, since many of the competitors are Olympic team material.

The preliminaries will take place Friday at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. in the U. of M. IM building. Finals for the meet are being held Saturday at 2 p.m.

State has a fine 100-yard medley relay outfit ready for this week's Big Ten meet. From left to right are Jeff Mattson (backstroke), Mike Wood (freestyle), Carl Shaar (butterfly), and Dennis Ruppert (breaststroke). The best time for this quarter was a 1:40.3 in the win over Michigan. Only Indiana has topped this in the conference this year.

Taylor's Unbeaten Buckeyes Rewrite Big Ten Basketball Record Book

Undefeated Ohio State, with a record of no less than a 30-0, yet its second straight Big Ten title, can cite reason for its success.

The Buckeyes lead the Big Ten in scoring and rebounding. Taylor's story-book team is the Ohio State team. Four of the Ohio State regulars are among the top 14 individual scorers in the Big Ten.

LARRY NEFRID, the Ohio State forward, is the most reliable of the Buckeye team.

Signaling Taylor's surprising record, Don Nelson of the Hawks has moved into third place in scoring, just behind Ohio State's Jerry Lucas and replacing Walt Bellamy of Indiana. Lucas has resumed the lead in individual rebounds with 283 per game.

Dischinger is the nation's top scorer, averaging 18.6 points per game. He has been hitting on 92.5 per cent.

Love in Reverse

"Love in Reverse"

The day I met her, she was sitting in a car. She was wearing a red dress and she was looking at me. I was sitting in a car, too, and I was looking at her. She was looking at me and I was looking at her. She was looking at me and I was looking at her.

"You're looking at me?" she asked when she saw the car. "I'm a little late for work, I'm sure, but I've come over to see you."

And away they drove. All that day and night they drove and finally, tired but happy, they parked in front of a building.

"Marlboro," he said.

"Yum yum," she said.

They lit up. They puffed with deep contentment. "I know," he said, "you are like a Marlboro—mild and fresh and relaxing."

But there is a big difference between Marlboro and me," she said. "Because I do not have a substrate filter nor do I come in soft pack or flip-top."

They laughed. They kissed. He remained.

"What do I do about the tired, alarmed?"

"Look at the speedometer," he said. "We have driven 170 miles and that cost only 10¢ a mile and I have only $20 left."

But that's exactly enough," she said.

"Yes," he said, "but we still have to drive home."

They fell into a peaceful dream. He started the motor and looked out at the parking place.

"It's dark," she said. "The speedometer doesn't show when you're backing up."

He looked. "Hureka!" he cried. "That solves my problem. I will back up in reverse. Then no more miles will register on the speedometer and I will have enough money left."

"I think that's a marvelous idea," she said, and she was right. Because today, in the country, you can find a car, a car that's safe and reliable and a good one, too. It's a good idea. It's a good idea. It's a good idea.

Backward or forward, a fine, new experience in smoking is yours from the makers of Marlboro—the unlimited king—see Philip Morris Commander. Welcome aboard!

Restoration of Ike's 5-Star Rank?

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Wednesday urged congress to restore former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to the five-star rank he gave up nearly nine years ago.

In a letter to the chairmen of the House and Senate Armed Services Committees, Mr. Kennedy said his predecessor should be reappointed a General of the Army because of his "outstanding military record and the great affection and regard that the people of this country have for him."

Eisenhower resigned his commission and severed all ties with the Army in 1952, before announcing his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur and Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz are now the only surviving holders of the five-star rank. Seven were promoted to the super-grade before the end of World War II.

Admiral William Halsey, deceased, was given his fifth star after the War as was General Omar Bradley.
