Michigan Writer Pessimist

By TOM WEBBER

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom Webber is sports editor of the Michigan Daily and is exchanging columns with the State News sports editor.

ANN ARBOR.--An enjoyable part of being a sports editor comes when you walk into a barber shop, drug store or establishments of liquid refreshment and are asked to select some Saturday winners. It usually makes up for the drudgery of editing copy, writing headlines and interviewing coaches who don't say anything.

It's enjoyable, that is, for any sports editors except those of us in Ann Arbor. Here when we walk into said places we get, "Are we going to beat State this year," or "Are we EVER going to beat State," or "How much are we going to lose by this year."

It gets a little distressing after a while, and after watching four previous sports editors seek refuge by bottle after four successive losses to Michigan State, it makes me look forward to this week's game with something less than apprehension.

I even know of one old sports editor who has stayed in school, just waiting for the time when Michigan beats Michigan State. He's been here seven years now and the win had better happen quick because there's not many courses left that he hasn't taken. Sadly, with the big week at hand, I've prepared a list of stock answers to give the barber, salesmen, friends and bartenders.

"Well I don't know, but it should be a close game. Yes, it sure has been a long time. Yes, Michigan did look good last week but they still made a lot of mistakes. Yes, State does have a great first team. No, I don't know how Stanford ever beat them.

"I thought Dave Glinka has looked all right so far. Don't forget he had a lot of passes dropped against Nebraska. Yes, Bob Timberlake is a very good runner.

"It sure has been a long time. Yes, it was good to see Bump Elliott stick with three teams. It should help them. No, the last time was in 1955--we beat them 14-7. Yes, that was a long time ago.

"That shouldn't matter much, we always seem to play better up there anyway. Yes, Dave Rainey is a very good halfback.

Brown Wolverine Captain

By ED BLOOM

Of the State News Staff

Robert M. Brown, University of Michigan football captain and son of Robert Brown, Sr. will be following, or trying to, in his father's footsteps in Saturday's game.

Robert Brown, Sr. will be remembered as one of the finest centers of his day and led the Wolverines to the 1925 Big Ten championship.

Brown, Jr. is a 6-foot-5, 220-pound engineering senior at Michigan.

Under Jim Marks at Kalamazoo, he won all-state high school honors in football and basketball. He also won the district hurdles in track.

At Michigan, he has earned two varsity basketball letters in addition to his football letter.

Brown recovered from a water skiing injury to earn a reserve letter in 1960 and a varsity letter in 1961.

After a year playing in the No. 2 spot behind George Mans, he has now moved up into the top end position.

His total playing time for last year was 192 minutes. He caught six passes and averaged 21.1 yards, scoring three touchdowns.

MICHIGAN'S FIELD CAPTAIN--Bob Brown, end and captain of Michigan eleven, will be trying to follow in his father's footsteps. His dad was center and captain of one of the maize and blue's Rose Bowl winners.

Behrman Moved to First Unit

By Wayne Lobbell
Of The State News

Coach Duffy Daugherty and his staff, looking to Saturday's crucial battle with rival Michigan, have had a busy week in hopes of grooming the Spartans for a peak performance.

Seeking privacy in preparation, Daugherty closed the gates to all spectators for this week's practice sessions.

Last Saturday's 38-6 performance against North Carolina produced only one change in the starting lineup. All-American center Dave Behrman returned as the number one center.

"Dave played one of his best games last Saturday and we expect him to continue this type of play," stated Daugherty. The MSU coach also expressed satisfaction with the performance of Jim Kanicki.

Although dropping to the second team in favor of Behrman, Kanicki is expected to see plenty of action as an alternate.

Despite the closed practice, Duffy insisted that he wasn't planing any surprises for State's Big Ten opener. His big concern is getting the squad in the proper frame of mind.

Pass defense was stressed highly in this week's practice. Both the Stanford Indians in their 16-13 upset and the North Carolina Tar Heels in their 38-6 loss demonstrated some success in their aerial attack against the Spartans.

With Bump Elliott's excellent depth in the quarterbacking department, there is speculation of a Wolverine passing attack Saturday.

Physically the green and white will be missing only one regular, Jim Bobbitt. Bobbitt is suffering from a sprained ankle and is expected to see little if any action.

Dave Herman, Bobbitt's replacement, will continue as his starting role. Herman has played well since taking over on the first unit and could make things tough for Bobbitt when he returns.

Herb Paterra, who took over as the number one right guard in last week's shakeup, took advantage of his promotion and demonstrated some fine play Saturday and is expected to stay with the first team.

Charlie Brown, an early season starter, will stay with the second team.

Although Sherman Lewis will still be the starting tailback, Coach Daugherty has expressed that Ron Rubick will be considered as an alternate first stringer and will see plenty of action.

13 Stunts on Block 'S' Card

Each Saturday that football booms in East Lansing, 1,000 seats in sections 10 and 11 of Spartan Stadium become the subjects of intense intrigue, and tomorrow will be no exception.

For "Block S," a brigade of card-flipping enthusiasts under the directorship of Bill Volmar, Cleveland Heights junior, makes its habitat within these rows. Later until half-time, the Block suddenly assumes its appearance and commences with a 13 stunt program. It intermingles traditional tricks with five or more original feats.

Just off the drawing board and designed for video viewers, will be a sketch depicting a television set with the initials "TV" centered.

Concoctions such as these are the creation of Volmar and staff chairmen Dick Perry and Jim Senke. Sketches are first mapped out on graph paper. Then comes the intricate step-by-step scheming of each maneuver. With the assistance of Phi Mu sorority, instruction sheets are stamped indicating individual sequences.

At game-time, participants in the Block find a packet of 10 colored cards awaiting them and, with the donning of green or white "bibs" creating a great "S", all stages of preparations are discharged.

Support for the card section comes from the Men's Hall Association.

Biggie Munn, MSU athletic director, said that last week's demonstration was one of the most elaborate displays he's witnessed.

Approximately 20 colleges and universities sponsor similar organizations, many of these being Big Ten schools.

IM Gridiron Well Lighted

Football and softball teams will play under new mercury arc lights on the Intramural fields across from Case. Situated 45 feet above the ground instead of 35, the new lights offer many advantages.

The fields can be used for softball, when the season arrives, as well as football. They provide the 200 foot radius recommended for softball fields. Speaking on the placement Dr. H.F. Beeman said, "In addition to the dual purposes of the fields, the arrangement will allow us to add a fourth field in both sports at little extra cost."

With the addition of four more posts on the West side of the fields, an additional field in both sports can be created.

Due to the superior properties and special reflection techniques, the new lights will provide about five times the illumination of the old lights with the same wattage.

Commenting on their usefulness Dr. Beeman said, "This should improve the playing conditions, making the games more enjoyable to the players and the spectators."

In the past, the Intramural program has been adding one pole at a time, buying a few lights each year. With 12 new light poles finished and 4 more to be completed as soon as they arrive, it means a big step forward for the IM program.

Season as U-M Mentor

In his fourth season as head coach of the University of Michigan football squad, Bump Elliot has yet to celebrate a victory over the Spartans of Michigan State.

Though Michigan trounced State 55-0 in 1947 when Bump played right half-back for the Wolverines, the Ann Arbor team has only managed to tie once since Elliot joined their coaching staff. That was the year before he became head coach.

Last year Elliot, whose first name is Chalmers, coached the U of M to their best season since 1956. While winning three and losing three in the Big-Ten, the Wolverines compiled an overall record of 6-3, placing sixth in the conference.

The previous year graced Elliot's team with a fifth place tie in the Big-Ten as they finished with a 5-4 over-all mark. His first year as head coach was his worst. The Wolverines finished seventh with a 4-5 season record.

Though Elliot was a comparatively small player, weighing only 162 lbs., Fritz Crisler called him the greatest right half-back he ever saw or coached. As a Wolverine, Elliot earned many honors, including the Chicago Tribune Trophy for being the Big Ten's most valuable player. Playing on Michigan's 1947 Rose Bowl championship team, Elliot was the Big-Ten's high scorer with 54 points. He also was named to the coaches All-America team.

Coach Elliot began his career at Oregon State in 1948. Four years later he switched to the University of Iowa as backfield coach under Forest Evashevski. Returning to his Alma Mater in 1957 as backfield coach, he became the head man when coach Bennie Oosterbaan retired.

Under Elliot the Wolverine coaching force consists of Hank Fonde, the backfield coach; Bob Hollway, line and defensive coach; Jack Fouts, interior line coach; Jack Nelson, end coach; and Dan Dufek, freshmen coach.

A teammate to Elliot, Fonde played the same position with him for two years. As a three-letterman in football, Fonde was a hard-running back weighing around 160 lbs. He averaged four yards per play and scored three touchdowns on the undefeated untied Wolverine team of 1947.

Fonde began his coaching career at University High School. After a winning season, he went to Ann Arbor High School. During his ten years there he compiled a spectacular record of 69 wins, 6 losses and 4 ties. Hollway, another teammate of Elliot's, played defensive end on three title winning Wolverine teams. After graduating in 1950, Hollway took charge of the U of M freshmen team for a year. His next stop was a season as backfield coach and assistant to basketball at the University of Maine.

After coaching in the East, Hollway went to Eastern Michigan University as line mentor and basketball coach. In his eighth season since returning to the U of M, Hollway handles the line and defensive planning.

Fouts, a three sport star at Ohio Wesleyan, started his coaching career at Fairmont High School in Dayton, Ohio. In six years as head coach, he compiled a record of 38 wins, 13 losses and 3 ties.

After Fairmont High, Fouts moved to coaching the middle of the line at Bowling Green. He joined the U of M staff when Bump Elliot became head coach.

Jack (Jocko) Nelson starred in football, basketball, baseball, track and hockey at Gustavus Adolphus College in Minn. After graduating in 1950, he began coaching at Grand Marais High School in Minn. In his first season Grand Marais went undefeated for the first time in their history.

After Grand Marais, Nelson spent two years at Mora, Minn., three years at Utah State as end coach and two seasons as the end coach of the University of Colorado. He came to the Wolverines four years ago.

Dufek has been in U of M service since 1954, four years as assistant backfield coach and the last three as freshmen coach. Before coming to the Wolverines, he was assistant coach at Ann Arbor High School for a season.

Like Hollway, Dufek played on three championship Wolverine teams.

LEAD'S WOLVERINE PASSING ATTACK--Michigan's quarterback, Dave Glinks will be at the helm in huddles against Spartans. He has made quite a name for himself with his roll-outs and passer in two games to date.

Governor's Trophy At Stake Saturday

This Saturday's contest with the University of Michigan will find the Spartan's shooting for more than their second consecutive victory of the season and their fourth straight triumph over the Wolverine's.

They will be trying to retain their hold on the "Paul Bunyon-Governor of Michigan Trophy." The trophy, presented annually to the victor of this fierce 55 year old intra-state grudge battle, was initially put into circulation in 1953 by Governor G. Mennen Williams.

The trophy consists of a four-foot wooden statue of the legendary figure of the north woods astride an axe, mounted on a majestic five-foot stand. An "S" flag is implanted on one side and an "M" flag on the other.

The Spartans were the first to lay claim to the trophy as the result of a 14-6 win in 1953. U of M assumed possession in 1954 with a 33-7 conquest, and retained it in 1955 with a 14-7 victory.

But in 1956, the Spartans reclaimed the trophy, as they scored a 9-0 triumph, and since then the trophy has been resting comfortably in Spartanland; although, in 1958 the trophy was shared.

Besides the "Paul Bunyon-Trophy," the Spartans also possess the "Old Brass Spitoon," presented annually to the winner of the MSU-Indiana game, and the "Megaphone Trophy," awarded to the victor of the State Notre Dame game.

The undefeated Spartan booters will have no chance to rest on their laurels, as they swing hastily back into action tomorrow. They journey to Wheaton, Ill., to encounter the Wheaton Crusaders. It will mark State's third game in eight days.

Wheaton's coach, Bob Baptista, has been bothered over the Crusaders lack of scoring punch, which has produced a meager total of two goals in the like number of games. Baptista, on the other hand, willing praises the performance of his stiff defense. They have allowed only

A number of Spartan kickers are bothered by various ailments, but most of them are expected to see some game action. The same starting lineup as in previous games will be intact.

State Harriers Home

By JOHN VANGIESON

Of the State News Staff
State's cross country squad will be trying to even its season record at 1-1 when the harriers encounter a strong Wisconsin team at Forest Akers Golf Course Saturday.

Starting time is 10:30 a.m., instead of the usual 11, starting time but this one has been moved forward a half hour to avoid the crowds expected for the Michigan football game.

Coach Fran Dittrich will field a squad of 12 men. The eight runners who made the trip to Athens, Ohio last Saturday will be back. They are co-captains Roger Humbarger and Don Castle. Orlin Larson, Mike Kaines, Ron Berby, Bob Fulcher, Jack Amie, and Bill Stewart.

He could be an All-America if he had a little more drive. Well, yes, Bob Chandler is a very good passer, but he can't run any more after the knee injury and he doesn't direct the team very well. Yes, it sure has been a long time.

"The defensive ends looked a little better, but they'll have to improve a lot to stop those power sweeps of State's. I thought Bob Brown would be a lot better than he has been. I don't know when they'll start throwing to him. He's been in the open a lot, but I guess Glinka isn't accurate on the long ones.

"Yes, it's been a long time. Possibly my spirit is lowered even more this year because I can't even lie myself into picking Michigan.

Michigan. The last two years there were those two opening victories to think of and wishful thoughts led to a choice of Michigan. This year even optimistic wishful thinking only brings me to a touchdown away. The loss to Nebraska and a less than a rout victory over Army makes it obvious that Michigan is worse than last year, while the Spartans are stronger.

Where Michigan has one good back, Michigan State has four. Where Michigan has 14 average linemen, Michigan State has seven great ones and seven average ones. Where Michigan has spirit via three platoons, Michigan State has seven great linemen.

All one can do is stock up the proverbial cabinet, find some courses to take next fall and wait for the usual.

Humbarger is the leading runner, at this stage of the season with a seventh place and a time of 22:08:8 in the losing effort at Ohio University.

Jan Bowen will return to action Saturday after missing the Ohio race with a sprained ankle, and, if he can avoid stepping into any holes, should be one of State's leading runners.

To fill out the field of 12 Dittrich has selected Pat Stevens, Michael Gass, and Dick Gyde. Stevens was rated one of the team's best runners before the season started, but he has been slow getting into shape.

Coach Dittrich concedes a slight advantage to Wisconsin since the Badgers have had two races to State's one.

"Right now they are ahead," he said, "but we have a good, strong, sound team and eventually we will be better."

Wisconsin has looked sharp in winning its two meets by large scores. In their first contest the Badgers clobbered Platteville (Wisc.) State 15-49, and last Saturday racked up Minnesota by a score of 21-40.

However, in either case the quality of the opposition wasn't up to what it will be for the Badgers this Saturday.

Although Wisconsin's opposition hasn't been strong, the Badgers do have some fine runners who can't be regarded lightly. Leading the team are senior Don Loker and sophomore Greg Gard. Loker took first against Minnesota with a time of 20:44.4. Gard, who is the all time Wisconsin high school mile champion, finished second to Loker.

Last year the Spartans and the Badgers met twice. In dual competition Wisconsin won 22-33 to hand State its only loss in dual meets, but the Spartans came in second at the Big Ten meet, with Wisconsin 18 points back in fourth.

1962 Athletic Budget Munn Announces

By TERRY GOMOLL

Of the State News Staff
Announcing the 1962-63 athletic budget, Athletic Director Biggie Munn stressed that the MSU athletic program is entirely self-supporting, a fact not generally known by the students. This year's budget of $1,163,473 illustrates the adequacy of the self-supporting system without aid from the State Legislature.

The sale of tickets to the various athletic events supplies most of the income. In contrast many other universities and colleges must subsidize their athletic programs. Sometimes they may have to drop some sports as the University of Detroit was recently forced to do.

Munn and John Laetz, business manager of inter-collegiate athletics, set the budget at $1,163,473 depending upon the additional income beyond the anticipated one million dollars. The budget covers four major areas: varsity athletics, Spartan Stadium, the MSU golf course and the intramural program.

SHERMAN LEWIS—Spartan's first string tailback, junior Sherman Lewis, is second in team rushing behind Ron Rubick, his replacement.

Duffy In Ninth Year at 'S'

Eight men spend the year around seeking new plays and drilling the Spartan football team on techniques of the game. They are members of the Michigan State coaching staff.

As coaches, each has a distinctly different task aimed at a distinctly common goal—Michigan State victories.

At present in his ninth year as head football coach is Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty—one of the nation's most personable, as well as successful college mentors.

Serving under Daugherty are three MSU graduates—Gordie Serr, Henry "Hank" Bullough, and Vince Carillot. Completing the staff are Dan Boisture, Cal Stoll, Burt Smith, and John McVay.

Since Daugherty took over, Spartan squads have experienced but two losing seasons, but his overall mark is 48-23-2.

Constantly in demand to coach in post-season games, Duffy has three times directed North teams in the North-South Shrine game, and twice led East squads in the annual East-West Shrine classic.

Daugherty came to Michigan State with Biggie Munn in January of 1947. Serving as line coach under Munn for seven years, Daugherty's traditionally devastating forward walls became known as "Duffy's Toughies."

Daugherty produces probably his finest football team in 1955 when, in his second year as head coach, he directed State to a 9-1 season record, including a 17-14 win over UCLA in the Rose Bowl. Duffy was named "Coach of the Year" in a landslide vote for his accomplishments that season.

Daugherty was a standout lineman in his college days at Syracuse.

Gordie Serr joined the MSU coaching staff in March of 1957, and was assistant coach and freshman coach before being appointed offensive line coach.

While a student at Michigan State, Serr won three letters in football and was the starting left tackle on State's 1952 unbeaten national champions.

Defensive line coach Hank Bullough returned to Michigan State as an assistant in 1959, and served as freshman coach before taking over his present duties.

An outstanding lineman in his undergraduate days, Hank was a starting guard on State's 1953 Big Ten co-champion eleven that clipped UCLA in the Rose Bowl, 28-20.

Vince Carillot, also a former Spartan gridder, took over the MSU defensive backfield this year after two seasons as assistant backfield coach.

Dan Boisture also acquired a new position this year as he now handles the offensive backfield, a job vacated when Bill Yeoman accepted the head coaching position at Houston.

In his fourth year at Michigan State is end coach Cal Stoll, a former star at the University of Minnesota.

Burt Smith, a member of Daugherty's staff since 1954, is in charge of the Michigan State freshman squad.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Burt won three letters in baseball and hockey.

Newest member of the MSU coaching staff is John McVay, assistant backfield coach. McVay takes over the duties previously held by Carillot, and is primarily responsible for handling the scouting team.

A former Miami University standout, McVay was coached by present Big Ten mentors Woody Hayes of Ohio State, and Ara Parseghian of Northwestern.

DETROIT—Detroit Lions coaches rate Gary Lowe, seven year defensive halfback veteran, as one of the game's most "under-rated" performers.

'One Game at a Time' - Saimes

By Wayne Lobdell

Of The State News

"Forget about past and future games; think about one game at a time," is the philosophy of Spartan fullback George Saimes. Saimes, the MSU captain and sters Ron Rubick and Sherman Lewis.

"The rest of these backs wouldn't gain the length of my nose without the blocking of Saimes and Lincoln," added Daugherty.

The MSU fullback, now in his senior year, is undecided as to his plans for the future. He will consider pro football but has other possibilities in mind as well.

George, who rooms with teammate Dave Behrman, is one of the better students on the team. He is a social science-divisional major.

When asked what he liked about football, George explained:

"There is a lot of money things in life, but this game of football as well as all sports is for real. There is no pull or influence; everything you get, you earn."

Spartans Hold Rally

State's annual pep rally, marking the Michigan-Michigan State rivalry, is slated for this evening at 7:30 P.M. in the rear of Jenison Fieldhouse.

Seldom on the Spartan sports scene is spirit so pronounced as when the MSU Marching Band and students harmonize to the strains of the fight song.

Athletic Director, Biggie Munn, will host the occasion. Coach Duffy Daugherty will be on hand to introduce members of the Spartan eleven.

An added attraction will be a performance by Sharon Shutty, nationally known baton twirler.

The rally is one of the major events sponsored by the Spartan spirit, an organization under AUSG supervision.

STATE'S 1962 CAPTAIN--George Saimes, All-Big Ten fullback, has been termed as "bread and butter back" by Coach Duffy Daugherty. He scored both touchdowns in the 16-13 loss to Stanford, and played an all-important blocking role against North Carolina.

All-Big Ten Fullback, hopes that the Spartans can clean up the rest of their schedule without another defeat but insists that any ideas of post season honors should be ignored until the final game is played.

Saimes feels that the fans can help the team by taking the same attitude. He referred to last year when the fans got excited over the No. 1 rating and thought State was on the way to a Rose Bowl game.

"This type of excitement has a bad effect on the team," explained George. "I know they were rooting for us, but I think this kind of excitement does more harm than good. We have to think about one game at a time."

In discussing Saturday's traditional encounter with Michigan Saimes said he hopes the team can work up the kind of enthusiasm they had for last year's game at Ann Arbor. In recalling the 28-0 victory, the Spartan Captain said, "never in all my experiences with athletics can I recall being on a team that was so worked up and enthused for a game as we were for that one."

Saimes has been a major asset to the Spartan football team since his sophomore year. Football fans frequently see a star only in terms of touchdowns scored or yards gained. But Saimes is valuable to his team without scoring touchdowns--not that he doesn't get his share. In addition to hard running, he contributes to his team as a blocker, a defensive standout and a leader.

These contributions have earned him much praise from coach Duffy Daugherty. "My bread and butter back," says Daugherty.

Noting that the Ohio fullback isn't receiving the plaudits he used to, Duffy pointed out that George's blocking has paved the way for the running of speed-
