Untried Performers Show Much Poise

Over 60,000 watched MSU open its 1963 football season at Spartan Stadium Saturday. All but a few dozen went home thinking it had been a very pleasant afternoon.

The Spartans' 31-0 victory was savored by everyone but the North Carolina Tar Heels who watched helplessly while coach Duffy Daugherty's squad picked apart their defense piece by piece and never gave the offense a chance to operate inside the MSU 28 yard-line.

Motel Dwellers Move In

Students began moving into their new apartments during the weekend, after unexpected stays in East Lansing area motels at the beginning of the term.

About half of some 100 students who had been waiting for their apartments to be completed at the River's Edge and Cedar Village were able to move in Saturday and Sunday.

Pat Pulte, co-owner of J. Pulte Incorporated, a Birmingham construction company building Cedar Village, said approximately half of the 60 students who had been living in motels were able to occupy their apartments there this weekend.

"We expect that the rest of them can move in between Wednesday and Friday," he said. At the beginning of the term, 24 apartments in Cedar Village were not completed.

An official of University Properties Limited said about 30 students moved into apartments in the River's Edge this weekend. Located on Victor Street near River Street, the River's Edge is planned to be a three-building complex. One building is completed now. The rest of the students will move into the River's Edge early this week.

The students found their accommodations at several area motels. The students paid their rent to the apartment owners, who kept them in motels at a loss of $2 - $6 per day. The Pulte Company gave each student a food allowance of $2 per day.

merely resulted in an equally cold reception by the MSU eleven who seemed determined to make their visit completely miserable.

Fans entered the stadium with question marks in their minds but left singing the praises of a guy named Lou Bobich, who kicks the ball off the side of his foot; a Hawaiian fullback named Roger Lopes, and a kid from Northville named Steve Juday who was loaded with poise in his first game for the Spartans.

It took Juday only seven minutes and 35 seconds to prove that sophomores can make good quarterbacks. The signal-caller led the squad to a touchdown in 13 plays after the Spartans had taken the opening kick-off.

The march began on the MSU 27 yard-line and reached the Carolina 35 with the aid of a series of gainers by hard-driving fullback Roger Lopes and half-back Sherm Lewis. Juday then fired a 13-yarder to Matt Snorton and Lewis followed with a two-yard gain to put the ball on the Tar Heel 20 and set the stage for some razzle-dazzle touchdown heroics.

End Tom Krzeminski grabbed a Juday aerial on the Carolina eight yard-line and lateraled to an alert Lewis who carried the ball into the end zone. The touchdown brought cheers from the crowd, but even the extra point created special interest.

Fans had an opportunity to watch Lou Bobich demonstrate his Soccer-Type kicking technique when the extra-point play unfolded.

Busy Traffic Control Staff Handles Football Crowds

One man on campus who doesn't have to worry about getting a seat at Spartan football games is Richard O. Bernitt, director of the Department of Public Safety.

He has a reservation at every home football game--for a perch 106 ft. high in the extreme southwest corner of Spartan Stadium's west side upper deck. But Bernitt's not there to enjoy the game; his job is controlling the traffic that swarms to campus for the ball games.

From his vantage point in the stadium, Bernitt can observe traffic as it flows onto the campus from various directions. He can see when problems are developing and can dispatch men to the scene.

Bernitt remains at his post until traffic has been cleared from the campus after the game. While Bernitt remains in the stadium it is the official headquarters of the Department of Public Safety.

Football games bring thousands of cars to the campus. The control of their flow and the problem of parking them is all part of the Department's job. The problem of traffic control was first tackled in 1946 and since then has progressed to the point where it is a highly organized and efficient operation which gets the traffic onto the campus and into parking spaces in a minimum of time.

Traffic control is influenced by many things. One very important factor is the physical change the University is always undergoing. New dormitories, removal of old parking lots and the construction of new roads all have a great deal of influence on the traffic problem. As these changes come about, the control pattern for traffic must change. Police must find new places for parking and figure out new routes and flow patterns for traffic by utilizing new roads.

In addition to physical changes, there are many outside influences on the volume and direction of traffic which may congregate on the campus on a football weekend. Events such as Band Day and Homecoming present special problems in themselves. Parking space must be found for buses, and the problem of milling traffic as alumni poke around the campus looking at displays and

Industry Blamed For Race Crisis

Big industry in the North must bear a major share of the blame for the racial unrest in this country today, says Ernie Green, former NAACP President and the first of his race to graduate from Little Rock, Ark., High School.

Green, who is now a graduate student here, contends that most of this country's major industries, with their major offices located in the North, are doing nothing to ease the problem of Negro employment.

"United States Steel controls a large percentage of the jobs in Birmingham," he said. "Yet from their offices in New York, company officials have done nothing about providing jobs for the Negroes of Birmingham."

"Even around here, the big industries hire Negroes only as laborers. Very few can be found in white collar positions." Green said that the business community's lack of action in the area of civil rights intensifies one of the basic problems which is finding housing for the Negro.

"When a Negro moves into a white residential area, the whites panic, as they did this summer in Philadelphia. There's no reason for this, because to get into such a residential area a member of a minority has to be nearly perfect in the first place."

Green said that here in East Lansing there is "open and flagrant discrimination in housing," yet the City Council believes it can solve the problem merely by appointing a Human Relations Commission.

"And the University, by its reluctance to speak out, is underhandedly sanctioning the housing discrimination in East Lansing," Green believes.

"The apathy, or reluctance to speak, on the part of supposedly friendly whites in the North supports the system of segregation as much as does any racist in the South, he said.

Some of these apathetic people look at the problem and ask, "What can I do? I'm only one person. How can I change the situation?"

"If they really want to do something about it, all they have to do is try. They can make an attempt to know people for themselves, not just by their religion or skin color."

"Here on campus there are several organizations the students can join if they are sincerely interested in helping the cause. Students for a Democratic Society, the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee (SNCC) and the NAACP are all working on the problem of civil rights."

Green thinks that a proposed Christmas boycott of business establishments throughout the country would help to awaken the business community to the role they play in discrimination. Everyone, everywhere, can become involved in this Green said.

"Caucasians in this country are the ones who can institute change. It can't all be done by executive order. Things have to start at local levels."

On the question of executive leadership in 1964, Green expressed apprehension at the thought of Barry Goldwater's being elected.

"If Goldwater is elected and brings back the old states rights theory, it will show that the American people would rather see the Negro in his present position of 'second-class citizen' than have him involved in American life as an equal."

Ecumenical Council Resumes

Vatican City--Pope Paul VI opened the second session of the Ecumenical Council Sunday in Vatican City. The Pope urged the Assembly to work towards building a bridge to the contemporary world. He also appealed for a reunion of the entire Christian family under one universal church. "The principal concern," he said, "of this session of the council will be to examine the intimate nature of the church and to express in human language, so far as that is possible, a definition that will best reveal the church's real, fundamental constitution."

Bosch Heading For Guadeloupe

Washington reported Sunday that deposed Dominican President Juan Bosch is headed for the French controlled island of Guadeloupe in the Lesser Antilles.

Bosch, ousted in a bloodless military coup last Wednesday, left the Dominican capital of Santo Domingo last night in a Dominican navy frigate. With Bosch was his wife, Carmen, and Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, ironically one of the leaders of the military junta. Bosch was charged with being soft on Communists and having chaotic administration.

Socialist Forces Oppose Ben Bella

Algiers, Sept. 29 (AP)--The clandestine front of socialist forces (FFS) in Algeria announced tonight it is starting an all-out fight against the government of President Ahmed Ben Bella.

The announcement was made by leaders of the opposition group shortly after crowds of angry Berbers spilled into the streets of several towns in greater Kabylia shouting "down with Ben Bella."

Leaders of the FFS, who met newsmen in a farmhouse surrounded by armed guards outside Algiers, said underground combat groups now exist throughout Algeria.

A proclamation issued by the FFS called the Ben Bella regime "illegal" and said: "We undertake a struggle against this government in every possible way. This government is leading Algeria toward Fascism. It is based on force and mystification."

Dominican OAS Ambassador Resigns

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)--Arturo Calventi, the Dominican Republic's ambassador to the Organization of American States, resigned today to protest the military coup that ousted Dominican President Juan Bosch last Wednesday.

Earlier in the week, the Dominican ambassador to Washington, Enrique Del Rosario, announced his resignation after denouncing "the illegal coup d'etat" in the Dominican Republic.

Calventi said he was not a follower of Bosch's political party but a diplomat in his country's service. He added he thought legal procedures were the best way to solve any problems in his country.

Rosario said, "Nothing that has happened during the last year is as beneficial to Fidel Castro, the Communist dictator of Cuba, and Communists generally as the disappearance of democracy in the Dominican Republic."

(Paris)--Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin said today a Russian would land on the moon before an American astronaut. His remarks have been taken to mean Russia is not eager to accept President Kennedy's proposal of a joint U.S.-Soviet moon shot.

Two of Fischer Quintuplets Gain

Two of the Fischer quintuplets were weighed for the second time in their lives today and tipped the scales at substantially higher figures than their first weigh-in.

A hospital bulletin from Aberdeen, S.D., reports that four of the five now are taking artificial milk formulas by bottle instead of the plastic tube used since their birth two weeks ago yesterday.

U.S.S.R. In No Hurry To Discuss Berlin

(New York City)--United States officials say the Soviet Union, because of its current power struggle with Red China, is in no hurry to tackle explosive East-West issues such as Berlin. The remark came after yesterday's big three foreign ministers conference in New York City attended by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

Fraternities Begin Rush

Fraternity rush starts tonight for the houses east of Abbott Road. Fraternities west of Abbott Road will greet aspiring Greeks Tuesday night.

All 33 fraternities will hold open rush Wednesday.

Rushing times will be from 7 to 10 p.m. every evening for all men with a 2.2 all college grade point, other than first-term freshmen.

About 1,500 students indicated an interest in joining the Greek system during registration this fall.

"The Interfraternity Council coordinates rush for the fraternities," said Frank Marxer, IFC president. "We set the rush dates and establish the rules and procedures."

IFC is organizing a deferred rush for first-term freshmen to familiarize them with the entire fraternity system before the rushing of individual houses begins, according to Marxer. At that time IFC also provides fraternity brochures for general information.

Hannah Resigns Defense Position

President John A. Hannah has resigned his position on the Canada-U.S. Permanent Joint Board on Defense.

His resignation several weeks ago came after 10 years of service on the board. He was appointed in 1953 under the Eisenhower Administration.

"I enjoyed my work on the board," he said. "I asked to be relieved to devote more time to University problems."

Rights Commission Threatened

The future of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission is in jeopardy unless legislation is passed extending its life.

The six-year-old commission, of which President John Hannah is chairman, expires today. However, there is a 60-day phase-out period provided for the group to complete its affairs.

The commission was established by Congress in 1957 and extended for two-year periods in 1959 and 1961. It has continued investigation into the status of civil rights in voting, housing, employment, education, and the administration of justice. The work of the commission has particularly been concerned with studying charges that Negroes have been deprived of the right to vote.

The commission's reports, issued in 1959 and 1961, have formed the factual basis for much of the action taken by legislative and executive officials. The last report issued by the Commission is now in the government printing office.

According to President Hannah most of the present civil rights bill is made up of recommendations made in commission reports.

The future of the youthful commission hinges to President Kennedy's civil rights bill, with a section of the bill calling for extension of the unit. However, while the present bill's section regarding the continuation of the commission's life is not a controversial one, defeat of the bill would mean death to the group.

The services rendered to the nation over the past six years by the commission have been extremely useful in legislation. Its value has even been realized by some of the most violent critics of civil rights.

There is little doubt that the commission has done a good job in a difficult field. It now remains for President Kennedy and Congress to join in the effort to keep the commission alive.

Senate Aligns For Peace

The United States Senate by supporting ratification of the limited test-ban treaty, aligned itself with the international majority. Had the senators balked they would have found themselves in company with DeGaulle, Castro and Mao Tse Tung.

The manner in which the treaty was passed deserves special praise. Six weeks of testimony from military, scientific and foreign relations experts, plus extended debate on the Senate floor produced a truly democratic decision at the final rollcall vote. Rarely does such a major issue receive the sincere bipartisan support this issue achieved.

The immediate effect of the treaty will be to limit further contamination of the atmosphere with radioactive debris. This in itself is ample justification for international accord. For while only a few nations were exploding bombs, all were subject to the descending fallout.

In addition, the treaty represents a crucial departure from the pattern of recent years. It substitutes an attitude of cooperation for what was previously an impregnable atmosphere of polarization. It is the first significant East-West agreement since the Austrian settlement of 1955.

Recent years have seen a succession of dead-end moves. At best only a shaky peace has been maintained.

Perhaps this will be the first of many steps leading to a better world.

Spartans Aim For California

It's "California Here We Come," for the Spartans of MSU. And for a change the thought is not of "roses" but simply of winning what promises to be a tough football game.

Saturday's victory was a big one for Coach Daugherty as the team, despite the loss of three All-Americans, showed a lot of improvement in some important areas.

Juday at quarterback, Lopes at fullback, and Bobich at outside left, whoops we mean inside kick, showed the kind of strength "down the middle" that it takes to win in close ball games.

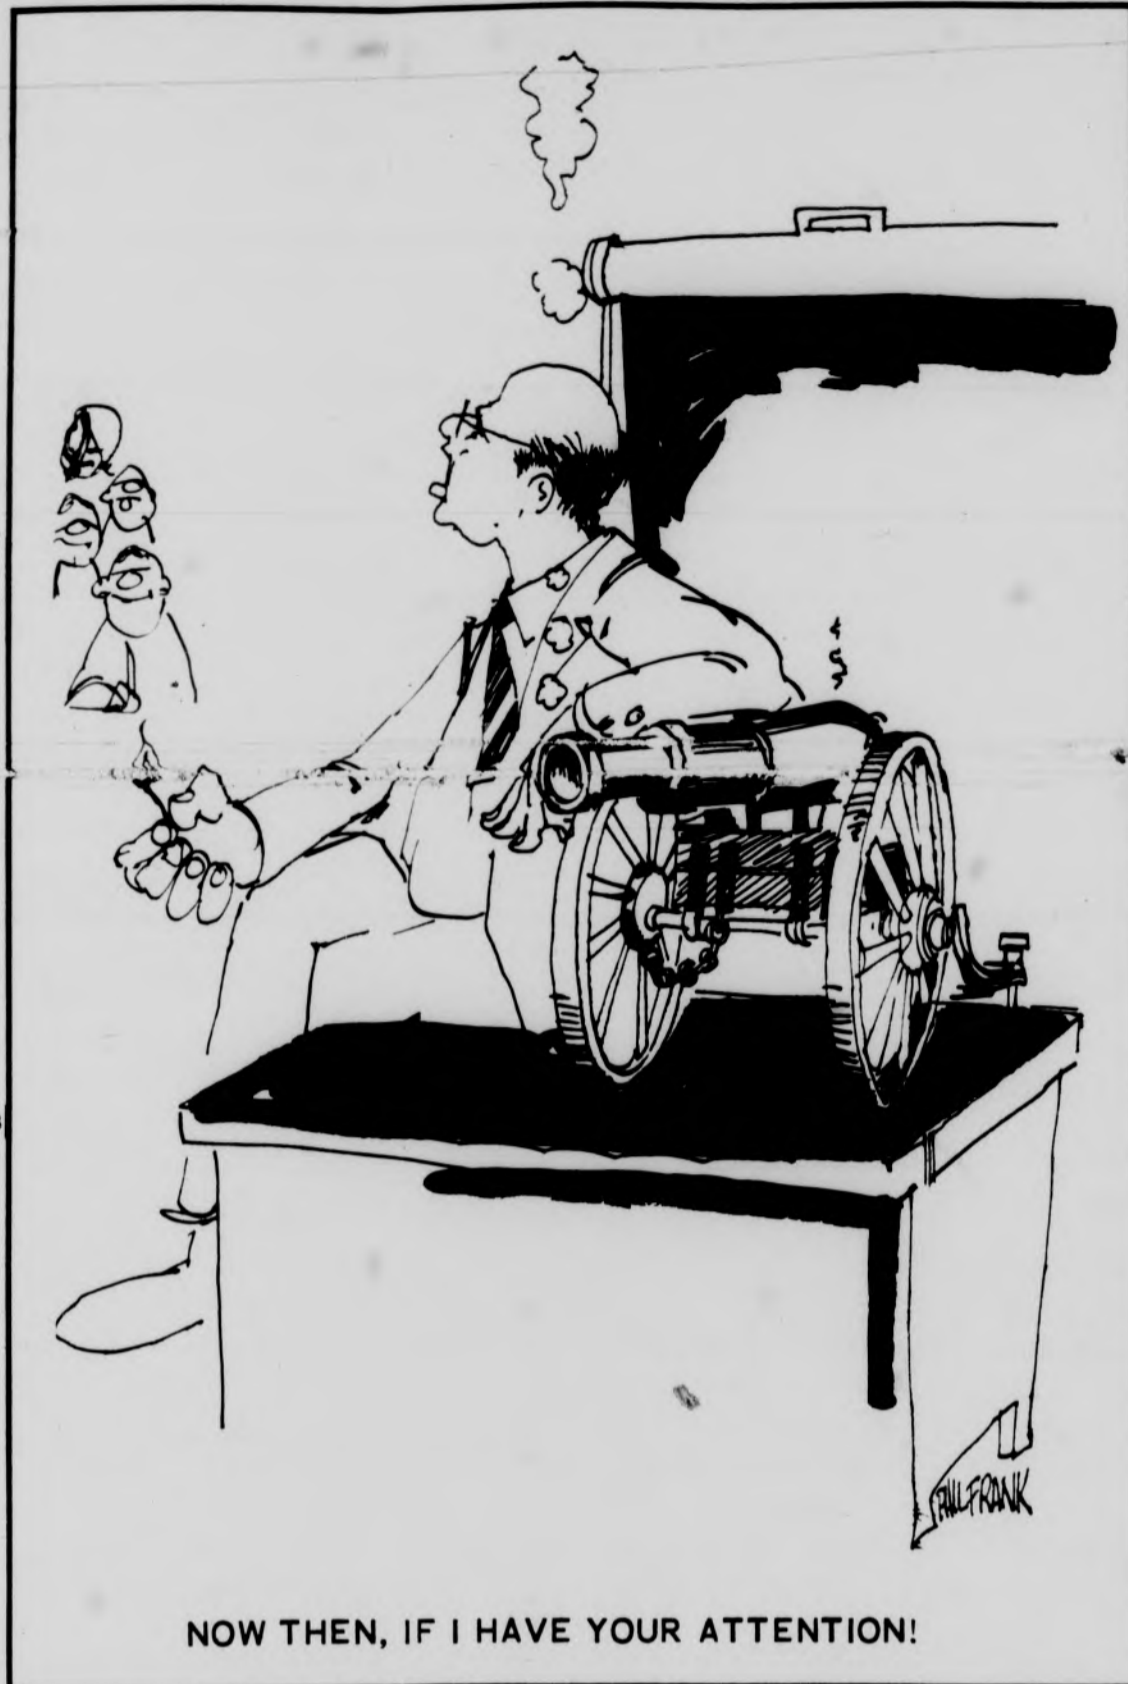

Next Friday night the Spartans are going to need this strength... in abundance. Southern California is a powerhouse and will be stinging from a hard fought loss to Oklahoma. They will be looking forward to using MSU as a springboard back to their number one rating in college football.

Between their dream and the reality of the situation, comes our football team. What say the Spartans are going to have on the coast depends on what kind of an effort they put out.

Last season we didn't show the coast much more than a lackadaisical attitude. Belabored by All-America ratings and by headlines, we put on a shoddy show that gave "Duffy" his biggest disappointment of the year.

This gives us a score to settle. And led by the "fighting fourteen" there are a lot of people hereabouts who figure this is just the team that can do the job.

Profs Praise Treaty

The limited nuclear test ban treaty is now a fact of the land. Following are the comments of several faculty members noted for their interest in, and concern for the condition of East West relations.

Discussing the new treaty, Thomas Greer, professor and Humanities department head, said that he was "heartily encouraged."

"It represents an historic turning point away from the cold war and its dead-end arms race toward a more rational and humane approach to world problems."

Greer, in lauding the performance of the United States Senate, said, "in spite of partisan politics and highly charged emotions, the Senate debate was on a high level of sincerity and logic."

"Every one of us has a right to feel cheered by this decision and to hope for further steps in the direction of insuring peace and security in the world.

Greer is also chairman of the Great Issues program of the University College.

David Booth, assistant professor of political science, while strongly favoring the treaty, added a note of caution.

He stressed that the treaty was just a "preliminary step."

"It is not a step that can affect the basic policies of the U.S.," he said, "nor can it affect the need for civil defense."

The treaty does not "reduce the risk of war or the use of nuclear weapons," Booth said.

Lawrence Battistini, professor of Social Science, called the conclusion of the treaty the "most hopeful development since the end of World War II."

"The treaty does not end the cold war or even begin to partially solve the many problems that divide mankind," he said, "but at least it makes a beginning possible toward serious efforts to effect compromises that will make peaceful competition possible without destroying mankind itself.

"In more ways than one, the uncertainties and risks unleashed as a result of the bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki have been partially reduced and brought under hopeful control."

Red's Wall Hurdled

Student Visits East Berlin

By JACKIE KORONA
State News Staff Writer

Hostile stares and the deserted streets behind the infamous Berlin Wall helped make a European summer vacation a memorable one for a former MSU student this year.

Thomas H. Brand, a 1963 Michigan State graduate, visited the two-sided city this summer while on a pleasure tour of Europe.

"While in Berlin, I stayed in the Western sector, but made four trips into the Eastern zone," he said. "Getting across the border usually is no real problem though it involves a lot of waiting while papers are processed and guards ask questions."

Brand said that the fourth and last time he crossed the border, the Eastern guards did cause some trouble.

"It was the first anniversary of the death of Peter Fechter the young German boy who died so dramatically while trying to swim from East to West. Everything was tense on both sides of the border."

"When I got to the Eastern check point, the guards examined my camera, asked me non-routine questions and even had me sign papers which I couldn't read."

"I went to one of the official buildings to get the necessary papers to get me out of Germany, and while I was there someone threw a rock through the window. This is just one more example of the intense feelings of the Germans concerning those who have died trying to escape."

"On my way out of East Berlin, the guards again held me for special questioning. I don't know if they just happened to pick me again, or whether they were really after me."

Brand said that although this was the only such trouble he had in crossing the border, the experience was enough to keep him from returning to the Eastern sector again.

During his first three trips into the area behind the wall,

AUSG. Loyalty Or Cooperation

By JACK SHEA

The AUSG puts on its opening show this week under the baton of Robert Hencken, Speaker of the Congress. Hencken, who has been around the halls of Student Congress long enough to qualify to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, is anxious to get things off to a flying start.

Accordingly, he paid the State News a visit last week in an effort to start the publicity wheels grinding. Complaining that the AUSG doesn't get the kind of coverage in the paper it should, he offered to solve our problem by writing a weekly column himself.

It has been true in the past that it's been hard to get good coverage of Congress sessions. Part of the explanation there lies in the fact that too often there has not been anything of any substance to report on.

Castigating members of the administration is not newsworthy. Student Government almost collapsed last year when its leaders chose to dare the administration to enforce rules adopted by the Board of Trustees. Unfortunately, this seems to be the course that Hencken wants to follow.

He feels this is the only way AUSG can remain loyal to the student body. It is for the new congress to decide whether this confused sense of loyalty is to be its goal, or whether intelligent cooperation can serve as a better lever in achieving student needs.

Texans Get NAACP Branch

Brooker T. Bonner, Austin, Texas integration leader, Thursday wrapped up final details of a planned youth branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Austin, home of the University of Texas. Bonner hopes his NAACP youth group can encourage the older generation to play a more active role in local political affairs.

Drug Charges Changed In Indiana

Thomas Hoadley, Monroe County prosecutor, dropped narcotics charges Friday against two former Indiana University students, Miss Nancy C. Dillingham and Fred C. Fisher, at the same time filing new and similar charges. The pair were arrested last April for illegal possession of narcotics.

CORE Disrupts Syracuse Classes

The Daily Orange of Syracuse University blasted the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) in a front page editorial last week, claiming that the group disrupted "teaching to propagandize." The editorial stated that CORE members, equipped with portable public address systems, entered classrooms while classes were in progress asking students to join in pickets and marches on behalf of the group's beliefs.

Stanford Profs Aid Integration

The families of two Stanford University professors and a research chemist have taken four Negro children into their homes so that the youths may attend school in the all-white community of Portola Valley, Calif. near Palo Alto. The three families involved decline to discuss their move for fear it might damage their chances of success.

Illini Mourn For Negroes

Nearly 350 students and faculty of the University of Illinois, at Urbana-Champaign, stood silent with bowed heads last Monday noon to protest the murder of six Negro children in Birmingham, Ala. Plans were laid for daily 15 minute silence vigils, and soon student leaders from a reported 22 university campuses had announced they would carry out similar action.

Letters To The Editor

On AUSG

To The Editor:

In an otherwise fine edition of the Welcome Week State News you erroneously stated an old procedure concerning the granting of charters by AUSG to student organizations.

Bill No. 4 of the 13th Congress was passed which among other things, deleted Section 9 of Ordinance 8-1-25 which provided for the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs to pass further on an organization's charter after AUSG had approved it. The Congress felt this to be an unnecessary delegation of its authority and simply took back a power it had originally granted. Now AUSG, as it should, has a final say in the granting of charters.

This bill was one of many introduced last spring to support Bob Kerr's campaign promise that AUSG shall cease to be an appendage of the Administration and that only the interests of the student body shall be represented in the Congress.

was cool, to the point that he describes the people as "discourteous."

Taking pictures of unrestricted areas in East Berlin is permitted, Brand said. With the advantage of a fast closing camera he was able to take pictures of the wall and Eastern guards, both of which are restricted.

The guards did not bother him at all, Brand said, except on one occasion. While walking through the streets of the city, he discovered a machine rifle-carrying guard behind him.

"I realized I was being followed but pretended I didn't know it. The guard never said anything to me, he just followed."

Brand's adventures were not restricted to the Eastern side of the wall. While in Berlin he stayed with a German student in the Western sector.

After asking for a room at a university, Brand was assigned the vacant half of a two man room in one of the student dormitories.

"I never knew my roommate's name and he didn't know mine, although we became good friends."

"He was spending the summer smuggling money and cigarettes to the people in East Berlin. And since we both were crossing the border, it was best that we knew as little about the other as possible."

Brand said that the overall attitude of the Germans concerning the wall is one of toleration. Most Germans still think in terms of being superior, Brand said, but until they are entirely free and the wall no longer exists, this attitude cannot be openly expressed.

"I found that most non-Germans don't really care that the wall exists," Brand said. "They seem to feel that the wall separates the Germans enough so that they are not prone to make war."

'S' News Adds 3 Departments

Three new departments to provide increased coverage of campus housing areas have been added to the State News staff this fall.

Men's, women's and married housing are each covered by a coordinator who also serves as an assistant to Campus Editor Gerry Hinkley.

Oyars Balcers, Golden, B.C., Canada, junior, men's housing, Liz Hyman, Baldwin, N.Y., junior, in charge of housing, and John Van Gieson, Morris-town, N. J., junior, married housing.

Men's and women's housing includes all on campus living units as well as off campus units such as fraternities and sororities. Married housing includes the three University apartment areas and off campus married housing.

Increased news and feature coverage of dormitory and Greek activities is planned by the men's and women's housing coordinators, but both areas are so large that cooperation from individual units is necessary.

It is hoped that each housing unit will have someone call that unit's news into the appropriate department.

Married housing residents are also asked to keep the State News informed of happenings in that area.

A column of campus birth notices is planned, but parents will have to call in the necessary information. Also, help is needed in covering University Village and Cherry Lane.

Class Change Schedule Announced By Registrar

Today is the first day class changes can be made, according to Registrar Horace C. King.

The Registrar's office needed time to move equipment and files back to offices in the Administration Building from the Intramural Building before starting work on class changes, he said.

Wednesday is the final day for late registration, class additions or section changes. Late registrations and adds submitted after Wednesday must have a Dean's signature of approval.

Students may drop courses through Oct. 8. After that date, all drops will need the signature of the student's dean.

Carnival Info Available

Plans for the 1963 Activities Carnival, "State Fair," are being formulated by a committee under Associated Women Students. A wheel of activities will line the concourse Oct. 10 from 7 to 10 p.m.

Representatives from campus organizations will be at the booths to explain what their clubs offer and to answer questions posed by visiting students. Members of political, religious, service and social groups, sports, music, drama and science clubs and publications will explain their purposes and requirements.

No admission fee will be charged for the event.

Commission Tour

The East Lansing Planning Commission will tour campus Oct. 10 to study University traffic and construction, which has a direct bearing on the city.

Harold Lautner, director of MSU's physical plant planning department, will guide the party which will include John M. Patriarche, East Lansing city manager, and G. Michael Conlisk, city planning commissioner.

The nine-member commission makes the tour annually to see in the field what it usually sees only on paper.

like to keep the University routes under private enterprise if possible."

The secretary said there is no validity to reports that Michigan State is planning to operate the service itself. "I think the service will be quite adequate under the new schedules," he said.

One of the reasons that Cole outlined for slow bus service is that students give the driver large bills and he has to change them before starting the bus. He said service would be expedited if students would have the correct change ready when they get on.

Another problem is that many streets and corners on campus were not built to take the wide buses. Particularly bad is the intersection of Farm Lane and Haslett Entrance.

"However, we will make every effort to provide MSU students with efficient on-time service," he added.

Cole said the company may take the seats out of buses operating on campus. This, he believes, will speed up receiving and discharging passengers.

"This type of service has been successful at the University of Illinois," he explained. "On our longest run from Spartan Village to Circle Drive, students would only have to stand from seven to eight minutes."

Actually most students are on the bus for only two to three minutes, he commented.

Movie Series Begins Tonight

The Foreign Film Series will kick off its season tonight with "Only Two Can Play."

The British comedy is the first in a series of six films to be shown this term. Beginning at 7 and 9 p.m., it stars popular comedians Peter Sellers and Mai Zetterling.

The plot centers around a small town librarian, played by Sellers, who becomes involved with a curvaceous socialite. It will also be shown Tuesday.

Second in the series is "The King and I," with Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner. It is a remake of the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical and will be shown Oct. 3 and 4.

The Shakespearian Festival Players of Stratford, Ontario, will be shown in the film version of Sophocles' "Oedipus Rex," Oct. 7 and 8.

Italian film star Marcello Mastroianni will headline the fourth film, "Divorce Italian Style," Oct. 10 and 11. It won the best comedy award at the 1962 Cannes Film Festival.

The French made "Sundays and Cybele" will be shown Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. It is the story about the poignant relationship of an Air Force veteran and a child.

Last in the series is the Irish classic, "The Playboy of the Western World," Nov. 4 and 5. Siobhan McKenna stars in the film version of John M. Synge's turn of the century story.

Both season and individual tickets are available at Fairchild Theater.

GRE Exams In November

The Educational Testing Service will conduct Graduate Record Examinations, required of applicants for admission to many American graduate schools, at centers throughout the United States on Nov. 16, Jan. 18, March 7 and April 25.

Applicants should inquire which tests and dates are required by the schools of their choice. GRE tests cover general scholastic ability, as well as advanced level achievement tests in 17 major fields of study. The aptitude test and one advanced test may be taken on any one administration date.

Bulletins of information are available at the Testing Office, MSU Counseling Center, or from Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, or 1947 Center Street, Berkeley 4, California. The completed registration must reach ETS at least 15 days before the testing date.

3 Educators Attend Meet At Racine

Three MSU and U-M educators are participating in a meeting on productivity and economic growth being held by members of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation at Racine, Wisconsin, today and Tuesday. Eleven Midwestern universities are taking part in the conference.

Eli P. Cox, Bureau of Business and Economic Research director, is representing Michigan State. Dean Floyd A. Bond, Graduate School of Business Administration, and Professor Alfred W. Swinyard, Bureau of Business director, are attending from Ann Arbor.

Give Game Ball To Manager's Father

By DAVE HARFST
State News Managing Editor

Death dealt a quick but painful blow to the football team a week ago in claiming the life of head football manager John Howard Clupper. Whether in sports, work or life, attitude and spirit play an important role in the success one achieves.

The Spartan football team displayed an attitude and spirit Saturday that has been missing in the local camp for several years, but one that was typical of the late football manager. And in an expression of their feeling for the young man who had contributed much to this year's gridders behind the scenes, co-captains Dan Underwood and Sherman Lewis gave the game ball--symbolic of the "Spartan of the Week"--to the father of John Howard Clupper.

Prior to the game, John's father visited and spoke to the gridders. With the memories of their close friend and manager in their minds, the Spartans went out and displayed a superb team effort.

In a manner that would please most coaches for an opening game, the Spartans--though inexperienced at most positions--showed a good deal of poise.

Two of the most pleasant surprises came in the backfield. Sophomore Steve Juday, who got the starting call at quarterback and senior Roger Lopes, who drew his first starting assignment at fullback, carried out their duties well. Juday, who called all the plays when in the contest, mixed up the offensive attack and kept the Tar Heels wondering what was coming next.

Coach Daugherty praised the play of Juday, as did the North Carolina coaching staff after the game. Daugherty said, "he (Juday) was calling audibles at the line of scrimmage and North Carolina picked up that quickie pass. Sending the big tackle in with his hands up."

Tinnick signals Juday's TD

Daugherty added: "I thought he showed a lot of poise for a first performance."

With his usual humor in the locker room, the affable coach praised Lopes' running by saying slyly, "he ran fairly hard on occasions."

On a more serious note, Daugherty said that State would be going into the Southern California game Friday night a big underdog (that was before the Trojans loss to Oklahoma), and that the Spartans would have to improve their passing. However, he added that they were going to throw whether the receivers catch them or not.

The North Carolina dressing room was stone silent after the game, and the few words expressed by the coaching staff showed signs that the Tarheels had hoped for more success after winning their opener last week.

The most notable quote came when asking about the injuries and one of the Tarheels replied: "The only thing hurt was our pride!"

The local lads came through in good physical shape according to team physician, Dr. James Feurig. The injured list numbered four--none serious. Lewis required several stitches to close up two lacerations on the left side of his face, Tom Krzmienski suffered clear wounds on his calf, Mike Currie received a neck strain and John Karpinski a knee strain.

Cross Country Runoff

Michigan State's hopeful harrriers will hold a position runoff at Forrest Akers this afternoon in preparation for their 1963 season debut.

The defending Big Ten champs will oppose Ohio State and Ohio University in a triangular meet in the Spartans' backyard this Saturday.

Ten positions are at stake. Sophomores and veterans are expected to capture spots.

USC Upset By Oklahoma

The Sooners of Oklahoma served notice that they are gunning for top ranking in collegiate football this fall, when they topped MSU's next foe, Southern California, 17-12.

Southern Cal, 1962 champions, couldn't contain the Sooners who had a 17-6 halftime lead.

The Los Angeles playing field temperature at game time was 109 degrees. Next Friday the USC-MSU clash will be played in the evening, and it's hoped in cooler weather.

again later in the quarter barely missing a distant field goal attempt from the Tar Heel 33.

John Karpinski intercepted a Junior Edge pass late in the second quarter on the Carolina 35, and when the drive bogged down four plays later at the 18, Bobich was once again asked to come up with a three-pointer. This time he obliged with a boot which covered 35 yards and made the score 10-0 with 2:02 remaining in the first half.

The Spartans marched to the visitors' 20 with 12 seconds to go in the second quarter, but a third-down field goal try by Bobich was unsuccessful.

The kicker also demonstrated his ability as a pass defender by picking off two Carolina aeriels and running them back for a total of 23 yards.

After fans had finished watching 2,800 prep musicians perform in the annual Band Day half-time ceremonies, the Spartans charged back onto the field with the idea of increasing their 10-point advantage.

They succeeded at the 9:47 mark of the third quarter when Juday blasted over the goal-line from two yards out. The touchdown effort culminated a 26-yard drive which had begun after Dan Underwood snowed Carolina punter Bill Edwards on a fourth-down kicking effort. Bobich's conversion gave the Spartans a 17-0 edge.

Roger Lopes was a valuable asset to the Spartan attack early in the game by driving for key yardage on several occasions. The MSU fullback had his greatest moment in the final stanza, however, when he galloped 76 yards to score the Spartans' third touchdown of the afternoon. The TD was made possible with a perfect block by Tom Krzmienski taking out the last Carolina pursuer on the 10 yard-line.

Lopes, a resident of Honolulu, finished the day with 150 yards in 19 carries to lead the Spartans in the rushing department.

Junior quarterback Dick Proebstle neatly guided the Spartans to their final tally after Ron Goovert recovered a fumble for MSU on the Tar Heel 19. Proebstle scored from the two and contributed an 11-yard run during the goalward assault.

The touchdown came with 1:10 left in the game and Bobich's fourth extra point of the day ended the scoring.

Carolina's offensive attack was inert--almost unnoticeable.

The Tar Heels were outrushed 332-30 and Junior Edge was forced to settle for ten short pass completions for 84 yards. Last season against MSU the North Carolina quarterback threw for 244 yards and a touchdown.

The visitors' deepest penetration came early in the second quarter when they drove to the State 28. After the attack slowed down, Max Chapman attempted a field goal but the ball went low and wide of the uprights.

Giants, Packers Winners; Orioles Fire Billy Hitchcock

Philadelphia--Y.A. Tittle was back in top form today and he passed for three touchdowns as the New York Giants walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, 37 to 14.

Tittle, who sat out last Sunday with an injury, connected for two touchdown passes to give the Giants a 14-0 lead in the opening period. Joe Morrison was on the receiving end of an eight-yard screen pass from Tittle for one score. He plunged one yard for another touchdown and romped 70 yards for a third score in the final period.

Packers Triumph
Green Bay--Quarterback Bart Starr passed 35 yards to Boyd Dowler for a touchdown on the first play of the final period to give Green Bay a 31 to 20 triumph over Baltimore.

The Packers trailed 7 to 0 at halftime, but scored twice within six minutes in the third period to take a 14 to 7 edge. Starr passed four yards to Dowler for one score and Tom Moore plunged three yards to climax a 47-yard drive.

The Colts tied the score on a steal and 34-yard field goal by Jim Martin. Then Starr connected to Dowler to give the Packers the lead for good.

Orioles Bounce Hitchcock
Baltimore--The Baltimore Orioles have announced that Billy Hitchcock will not be back as manager next season.

General Manager Lee MacPhail says that Hitchcock has been offered another job in the Baltimore organization. But Hitchcock did not indicate whether he will accept the other position.

This season the Orioles finished in fourth place with an 86-76 record, compared to a seventh place finish a year ago. Baltimore--figured to give the New York Yankees a battle in the American League--But finished 18 and one-half games out of first place.

Hitchcock--47-years old--becomes the third American League manager to be fired this season. Mickey Vernon of Washington and Bob Scheffing of Detroit were fired earlier.

Tigers Cop Finale
The Detroit Tigers wound up their season by beating Baltimore, 7-3, as 19-year-old Dennis McLain struck out 11 Orioles.

SLIPS WITH NEW LUBRICANT WITH ORDINARY OIL

MAKING ALUMINUM SLIPPERY-ER

Industrial designers are excited about a great advance in lubricants from G-E research. Aluminum, though popular with metal fabricators, has always been tough to lubricate. A new family of lubricants now developed has friction coefficients about 1/5 those of conventional lubricants. This produces an affinity for aluminum which assures a wear-resistant film that adheres to the surface.

P.S. During 1962, 6,871 G-E employees gave $330,544 to the colleges they had attended in appreciation for what their education had done for them. This was matched dollar for dollar by the General Electric Foundation.

Rally Wins Opener

Booters Nip Earlham

Richmond, Ind.--Rallying to a whirlwind finish, Michigan State's booters came from a deadlock in the final quarter of Saturday's opener to turn back Earlham College, 3-1.

With less than eight minutes remaining, and the score knotted 1-1, Louie Eckhardt of State penetrated a stiff Quaker defense for the winning goal. Forty feet to the right of the net, Eckhardt leveled a hard shot at his opposite side, sealing the victory.

Only 28 seconds had elapsed before Van Dimitriou, manning the inside left position for MSU, scampered to the right for a reverse of Eckhardt's run. When 15 feet from the cage, Dimitriou discharged the ball to give the Spartans a two point edge.

State held a 1-0 advantage from the outset of the first period on a boot by Clare Deboer at 11:42. Jim Decou of Earlham erased that mark with a third quarter score on a center from the left wing.

"The overall play was very spotty," commented State Coach Gene Kenney. "But this is usually the case with little practice and new men at many positions.

"Earlham had a very good ball club which never let down," said Kenney. "They kept the pressure on us all the time. Their third quarter press was especially effective."

"Our boys did a fine job of settling down," noted Kenney. "They maintained their composure and played steady soccer. This is one thing which you can never tell about new men and we certainly have our share of them."

"Everyone looked good at certain times. For one, Louie Eckhardt played well throughout the game. And I was most pleased to see that Sam Donnelly, while still suffering from an injury, worked the entire time. He was very slow in testing the knee but still stood up well at center half.

"On the forward line," Kenney continued, "Bill Schwarz turned in a good performance. When you consider that it was his first try at collegiate soccer, you have to credit him with an outstanding game.

"We didn't play bad at all," he concluded. "We have a long way to go--a real long way. I think we'll improve quite a bit--in fact, I know we'll have to."

Bears Easily Top Lions, 37-21 To Take NFL Western Lead

DETROIT -- (UPI) Quarterback Billy Wade fired three touchdown passes and scored a fourth today to lead unbeaten Chicago Bears to a surprisingly easy 37-21 victory over the Detroit Lions.

The Bears, who scored a touchdown against the Lions for the first time in four games and ran up their highest point total against Detroit since 1956, poured across 28 points in the second period to retain the Western Division lead in the National Football League with a 3-0 record.

It was the second straight loss for the disappointing Lions whose once vaunted defense has allowed 68 points in the last two games.

The Lions held opponents to an average of only 12 points a game last year.

The 37 points were the most run up against the Lions since San Francisco's 49-0 win in 1961.

Lion quarterback Milt Plum had another off-day in the first half as he hit on only three of nine passes and had two intercepted. Earl Morrall came off the bench to complete three long touchdown passes in the second half.

Wade, who completed 41 of 56 passes while leading the Bears to their first two wins hit on 11 of 20 passes for 144 yards and a 35-0 lead in the first half.

Wade directed an 80-yard touchdown drive the first time the Bears got the ball, capping it with an 18-yard touchdown pass to Angelo Coia.

A fumble and a pair of pass interceptions helped make it easy for the Bears as they rolled up 28 points in the second period.

After Ritchie Peterson recovered a fumble, he hit Johnny Morris with a 16-yard pass in the end zone on the first play.

Bennie Mcrae then intercepted a Plum pass that went through Terry Barr's hands on the Lions 36 and Wade completed the drive with a 13-yard pass to Mike Ditka to make it 21-0.

Peterson intercepted a Plum pass and dashed 66 yards for a touchdown to boost the margin to 28-0 and Plum spent the rest of the day on the bench.

Wade sneaked over from the one yard line with 20 seconds left in the half to make it 35-0 and the Bears played it safe the rest of the way.

Morrall, replacing Plum, directed the Lions to three consolation touchdowns. One was a 60-yard touchdown pass to Barr and two others were to Gail Cogdill, one for 67 yards and the other for 38 yards to make the final score 37-21.

The Bears picked up two points in the fourth period when Morrall was tackled in the end zone as he went back to pass.

THE DEAN YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Colleges are complicated and bewildering places, filled with complicated and bewildering people. Today let us examine one of the most complicated and bewildering--yet fetching and lovable--of all campus figures. I refer, of course, to the dean of students.

Policeman and confessor, shepherd and seer, warden and oracle, proconsul and pal--the dean of students is all of these. How, then, can we understand him? Well sir, perhaps the best way is to take an average day in the life of an average dean. Here, for example, is what happened last Thursday to Dean Killjoy N. Dampier of the Duluth College of Belles Lettres and Pemmican.

At 6 a.m. he woke, dressed, lit a Marlboro, and went up on the roof of his house to remove the statue of the Founder which had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

Dean, Policeman, Confessor, Shepherd, Seer...etc.

At 7 a.m. he lit a Marlboro and walked briskly to the campus. (The Dean had not been driving his car since it had been placed on the roof of the girls dormitory by high-spirited undergraduates.)

At 7:45 a.m. he arrived on campus, lit a Marlboro and climbed the hill tower to remove his secretary who had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 8 a.m. he reached his office, lit a Marlboro, and met with E. Phloxius Ewbank, editor of the student newspaper. Young Ewbank had been writing a series of editorials urging the United States to annex Canada. When the editorials had evoked no response, he had taken matters into his own hands. Accompanied by his society editor and two proofreaders, he had gone over the border and conquered Manitoba. With great patience and several Marlboro Cigarettes, the Dean persuaded young Ewbank to give Manitoba back. Young Ewbank, however, insisted on keeping Winnipeg.

At 9 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with Robert Penn Signafors, president of the local Sigma Chi chapter, who came to report that the Deke house had been put on top of the Sigma Chi house during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 10 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and went to umpire an intramural softball game on the roof of the law school where the campus baseball diamond had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 12 noon the Dean had a luncheon meeting with the proxy, the bursar, and the registrar, at the bottom of the campus swimming pool where the faculty dining room had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates. Marlboros were passed after luncheon, but not lighted, owing to dampness.

At 2 p.m., back in his office, the Dean lit a Marlboro and received the Canadian Minister of War who said unless young Ewbank gave back Winnipeg, the Canadian army would march against the U.S. immediately. Young Ewbank was summoned and agreed to give back Winnipeg if he could have Moose Jaw. The Canadian Minister of War at first refused, but finally consented after young Ewbank placed him on the roof of the metallurgy building.

At 3 p.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with a delegation from the student council who came to present him with a set of matched luggage in honor of his fifty years' service as dean of students. The Dean promptly packed the luggage with all his clothing and fled to Utica, New York, where he is now in the aluminum siding game.

The makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, don't claim that Marlboro is the dean of filter cigarettes--but it's sure at the head of the class. Settle back with a Marlboro and see what a lot you get to like!

1. Excuse me, sir, I'm conducting a poll for the college newspaper. I wonder if I might ask you a few questions?

Be my guest.

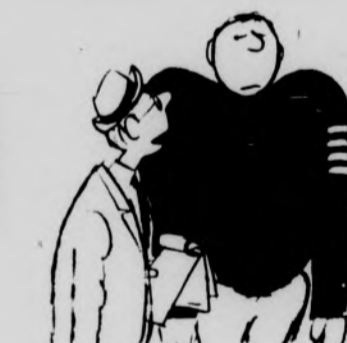

2. In your opinion, what are some of America's most significant achievements in the past 50 years?

Huh?

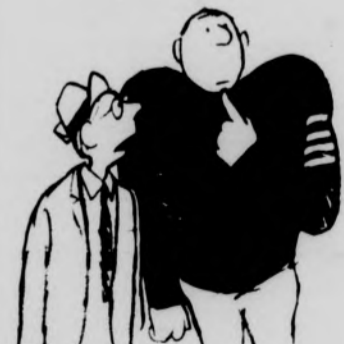

3. Let me put it this way. During the last half century what new ideas have led to important benefits for the American people?

Well, uh--there's the two-platoon system.

4. I'll rephrase the question. Since 1912, what developments can you think of that have made the lot of the working man easier?

Now you're getting tricky.

5. Give it a try.

Well, speaking off the top of my head, I might say stretch socks.

provide protection for those who need it most and can afford it least. Pioneered and developed by Equitable, it has proved most efficacious. Today, the working man and his family enjoy a broad spectrum of protection provided by Group Insurance. For that reason, I would most emphatically suggest its inclusion among the significant achievements. But I still think the two-platoon system is pretty important.

For information about Living Insurance, see The Man from Equitable. For information about career opportunities at Equitable, see your Placement Officer, or write to William E. Blevins, Employment Manager.

Elephant Carcass Creates Problem

Workers secure chains to Rajjee

By JOHN VAN GIESON
State News Staff Writer

How do you dispose of an elephant?

No, that's not the latest elephant joke; it's the plight the department of veterinary pathology found itself in Friday.

The elephant, a mere babe, of 16, though it weighed in at 3,000 pounds, was the loser in Lansing's "Great Elephant Hunt" Thursday night after it went berserk at a shopping center circus and lumbered across the city's south side leaving thousands of dollars of damage in its wake.

Police finally cornered the beast and killed it by firing three dozen shots into it.

But then the problem became one of what to do with the huge corpse. Surely a university as large and diverse as MSU must have facilities for disposing of the carcass, or so someone reasoned.

The Museum, noted in recent months for assembling an elephant's skeleton, was called in hopes it might need another one.

"I told them we already have a couple of elephants," said Rollin H. Baker, director of the Museum. "What would we do with another one?"

But it turned out the ponderous pachyderm was wanted by someone, the Department of Veterinary Pathology.

"This is an unexpected opportunity for our people, and we're glad to take advantage of it," said Kenneth Keahey, assistant professor of Veterinary Pathology.

The animal was taken to the post mortem laboratory in Giltner Hall, he said.

Friday afternoon University pathologists, biologists and microbiologists swarmed over the body removing specimens to be used for classroom demonstrations, and research, Keahey said.

The beast had tusks, he said, but they were only three or four inches long. They were left on the head which is being sent to the University of Kentucky's medical school where it will be used for research.

The bulk of the carcass was burned late Friday afternoon in the Giltner Hall animal destructor, Keahey said, but it had to be sawed into sections.

But curiosity seekers will still be able to view souvenirs from the wild elephant who ripped through Lansing, Keahey said two feet and the beast's tail were donated to the Museum.

Meanwhile, why do elephants have big, flat feet?
Oh, forget it.

Rajjee gets towed away

Here's Elephant Recipe

Ever have a yen for elephant meat?

Carl Phillips Birmingham senior in zoology, happened to be in Giltner Hall shortly after the elephant was brought in, said Julian Donahue, East Lansing graduate student who helped eat the meat.

Phillips cut about 10 pounds of meat from the animal's thigh, Donahue said, and distributed it to about 10 or 15 people.

Four attended Phillips' own dinner party including Donahue, Stuart A. Marks, Chapel Hill, graduate student who served as cook, and Adhemar Byl, Belgium graduate students.

Just in case you are ever faced by a similar problem, here's how Marks cooked it:

Slice into thin strips, sprinkle with garlic powder, and fry in butter.

"Just like minute steaks," he said. "We could hardly tell it from beef."

of meat from the animal's thigh, Donahue said, and distributed it to about 10 or 15 people.

Four attended Phillips' own dinner party including Donahue, Stuart A. Marks, Chapel Hill, graduate student who served as cook, and Adhemar Byl, Belgium graduate students.

Just in case you are ever faced by a similar problem, here's how Marks cooked it:

Slice into thin strips, sprinkle with garlic powder, and fry in butter.

"Just like minute steaks," he said. "We could hardly tell it from beef."

Counselors Face Rush

Make Center Date

Students who anticipate visiting the Counseling Center this term are advised to make appointments soon to avoid the rush which always occurs the second half of each term.

Donald L. Grummon, director of the Counseling Center, urges students who feel they will need counseling services during the next ten weeks to come in for appointments as soon as possible so they will not be faced with the crowds which experience has shown always come the last five weeks.

"The work load at the Counseling Center varies regularly each term," Grummon said. "During registration week, it is quite heavy. Then it tapers off at the beginning of the term. But from mid-terms until finals, we are simply packed."

"Our personnel just can't keep up with the students who want

Students who need help in changes of major fall into this category, Grummon added. Although they cannot officially change their major until next term's permits to register are issued, they can get the decision-making part of the process over by making an appointment at the Counseling Center during the early weeks of the term.

Students who wish to make use of the testing services offered by the Counseling Center can also get part of the work out of the way early in the term, he added.

The Counseling Center is an operation which will deal with close to half of the student body if summer counseling clinics for freshmen are taken into account. More than 5,000 students are counseled individually by the Center each year.

The main problem of the Counseling Center is its limited personnel, according to Grummon. The Center has 17 counselors. No additional positions have been authorized at the Counseling Center since 1957.

Radio Hams To Meet

The Amateur Radio Club will hold an organizational meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in 100 Engineering Building.

The club is open to any licensed ham radio operator or interested student, according to Thomas L. Drake, instructor in electrical engineering.

Club members communicate with amateur radio buffs anywhere in the world over their station, WSSH, which has a 2,000 watt transmitter.

The transmitter, along with all of the equipment club members will use, is new.

Drake said that club activities for the year will include contests and theory and code classes for radio operator candidates, if there is sufficient student interest.

Women's Halls Get New Decor

There has been a change of scenery at two women's dormitories.

Campbell was almost completely refurbished, receiving new furniture in the dining room, lounge, sunroom, and lobby. The girls' own rooms have new desks, chairs and chests to match beds replaced two years ago.

Work at Campbell is being completed this term.

Mayo has new furniture and carpeting in the dining room, and a fresh coat of paint. Work is now in progress on recarpeting Mayo's living room, which will also have new furniture. Landon Hall has been repainted.

Romney Backs Beef

Michigan's meat industry got a boost Wednesday night when Gov. George W. Romney proclaimed Sept. 30 through Oct. 5, "Michigan Meat Week."

The event took place at a meat week kickoff dinner in Kellogg Center's Big Ten Room. Michigan produces 35 per cent of its own red meat supply and the Michigan Livestock Improvement Association has set out to up the figure.

Scheduled are three events to make the housewife aware of Michigan meat.

Monday, a meat display trailer and live animals will be on the Capitol lawn for exhibition.

Leaders in the state-wide industry will come to Michigan State to break ground for a cattle research station located at Benning and Edgemont Roads. The ceremony will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

On Friday, daughters of meat producers will be at supermarkets all over the state handing out publicity about the merits of Michigan meat.

Speaking to about 300 people attending the dinner, Carl F. Neumann, general manager of the National Livestock and Meat Board, Chicago, told them about the future of the meat producer.

"Talk about acres of diamonds, you have them here in Michigan," he said. "Talk about potential payrolls, employment and bank deposits—you meat producers must gear yourselves to meet this expanding market."

He urged a greater effort be made to increase the consumption of red meat. With ever expanding populations, meat production can be increased from 30 billion pounds in 1963 to over 40 billion pounds by 1975, he added.

"I am convinced that the future of Michigan meat, and the future of American agriculture in general, lies in the market place," Neumann said. "Greater effort is needed to promote our industry if we are to accomplish our goals."

Folklore Society

Michigan State's Folklore Society will hold its first meeting of the term Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the Tower Room of the Union Building. The meeting will be supplemented by folk music and singing.

Experimental ROTC - 100 Begins Second Year

By MIKE KINDMAN
State News Staff Writer

For the next five weeks, all entering male freshmen not enrolled in a two-year basic ROTC program will attend a series of lectures as part of an experimental ROTC orientation program being conducted by the University.

A joint project of the Army and Air Force detachments here, the RO-100 orientation course is designed to acquaint freshmen with the Reserve Officers' Training Corps programs on campus.

This year's entering freshmen are the second of three entering groups at MSU for whom the only ROTC requirement is the five-week course, with regular programs remaining voluntary.

Formerly, two years of either Air Science or Military Science were required of all male students. The current program may become permanent policy if it is considered successful when evaluations are made.

Capt. Ralph C. Waara, Army ROTC, explains, "RO-100 is designed to give the students an orientation on the military in general, their obligation toward military service and the advantages that can be gained by taking Army or Air Force ROTC, not only from the leadership training they receive here in college, but also through the attainment of a commission and subsequent executive work."

Maj. John M. Engebretsen, of the Air Force wing here, adds, "We feel that entering freshmen are faced with many problems and decisions when they come to a large campus such as MSU. The natural tendency is to refrain from signing up for activities which are not required."

At the end of the orientation course, students are given a chance to sign up for first-year basic ROTC, in either the Army or the Air Force.

"Last year, 27 per cent of all entering male freshmen signed up for ROTC in either Army or Air Force. Already this year about 100 more freshmen are enrolled in ROTC than were initially enrolled last year."

Traffic Control

visiting their old fraternity houses is always present.

The Department force of 28 men are all used in control. In addition the services of 36 Lansing Special Police, and 100 students are utilized.

Some of the regular campus police and students go on duty at 5 p.m. the night before the game and work all night. They are relieved in the morning and go back to work Saturday night. The night before, they are busy putting up directions and no-parking signs, and guarding parking spots.

"If we don't watch the spots, the next day will roll around and we'll be short of parking," Bernitt said.

Once the traffic is parked and the game under way, the men are brought to posts in and around the stadium. Posts such as Bernitt maintains are set up in three corners of the stadium and from there surveillance of the parking lots is maintained for car-looters. From these posts any looting can be spotted while it is going on and arrests can be made on the spot by a call from the two-way radios in the stadium to the patrol cars.

Bernitt said that this practice came about as a result of a professional thief from Detroit, who, a few years ago netted himself over $6,000 in merchandise.

"After this happened, we climbed to the top of the press box during each game to prevent a recurrence," Bernitt said.

Soon observatories will have to be established on the tops of other buildings on campus, as MSU spreads south and east.

The Police are always looking for new and more efficient ways to handle the traffic problem. Each officer on duty makes suggestions after the game.

Q. Why buy a pen this good when you might just lose it?

A. Parker won't let you lose it. If you do, it will be replaced*

SPECIAL REPLACEMENT OFFER

If you buy a Parker 45 for $5 between now and October 31, 1963, it will be protected against loss for one full year at no extra cost. Just register its purchase by mailing one-half of the Parker 45 Registration Certificate to the insurance company listed on the certificate. Then if the pen is lost, the insurance company will replace it at no charge. All you have to do is mail the other half of the certificate, properly notarized, and describe how the pen was lost.

Here's why this is such a good pen for a college student:

- It's "convertible". You can load it with a cartridge or you can replace the cartridge with this ingenious little "converter" and fill it from an ink bottle. Hard to run out of ink during an exam.
- Solid 14K gold point. You get a choice of seven widths from extra fine to extra broad. And if you damage a point, your dealer can replace it instantly.
- For only $5 you get: The pen, a "converter," a cartridge, and free exchange of any undamaged point within 30 days of purchase. PLUS Parker's special replacement offer. This guarantee against loss will be offered until October 31st only, so better see your Parker dealer right away.
