Bobby Firm: 'No Pushing'

Attorney General Cool On VP Nomination

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy made it emphatic Sunday he doesn't want anybody to push him for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

The late President's brother disavowed slates of candidates entered in his behalf in two New York City districts in Tuesday's primary election.

California GOP Race Near Tie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Apparently running nearly abreast, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller bring their battle for California's vital 86 GOP presidential nomination votes to a blazing finish today.

The two candidates, busy with family matters, took Sunday off from campaigning for Tuesday's primary balloting when upwards of two million Republicans might turn out to give their verdict on a conservative - versus - liberal contest.

State managers for the Arizona Senator and the New York Governor kept the pot boiling with a scheduled national television clash. This pitted Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., head of the Rockefeller slate, against former Sen. William F. Knowland, top man on the Goldwater delegate list.

Rockefeller, the exuberant father of a 7 pound, 10 ounce boy born to his wife "Happy" Saturday, arranged to fly back to California to begin a 12-hour prop-stop tour that would take him to rallies at 14 airports across the state.

$12 Student Fee To Be Charged

Shuttle Service To Be Provided From Commuter Lot To Campus

The University will begin operating its own bus service when the new restrictions on campus parking and driving become effective next fall.

A fleet of 10 buses will provide transportation to all major points around campus and a shuttle service from commuter parking lot Y on Mt. Hope Road.

A central bus exchange will be located at the gated parking lot west of Shaw Hall. The commuter shuttle service, scheduled to run at intervals of approximately five minutes, will terminate at Shaw.

Buses will circle the campus about every 10 minutes in two separate routes. Route A will service the Fee-Akers complex, the Brody group and major points on East and West Circle Drive. Route B includes married housing, the Case-Wilson complex and points near Spartan Stadium.

The buses will cost the University an estimated $250,000 according to Philip J. May, vice-president for business and finance. Initial purchases will be made with University funds, but the money will be paid back by profits from the bus system.

An extra student fee is expected to contribute heavily to subsidy of the bus system. Students who only wish to use the shuttle service from the commuter parking lot will have to pay a $5 fee per term.

Any student who wishes to ride the buses around campus will be charged $12 a term which also entitles him to use the commuter shuttle service. The basic car registration fee of $6 will not be affected by the bus fees.

Whether faculty will have to pay to ride the buses is undecided.

The respective fees will enable students to use the shuttle service or campus bus system as often as they want for the entire academic year.

President John A. Hannah said it would be "futile" for students to pay each time they ride the buses.

"This takes too much time," Hannah said. "It would not enable us to efficiently transport the large number of students who will be riding buses as classes change on the hour."

See Shastri As Nehru's Successor

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India's ruling Congress Party gave its president Sunday the extraordinary power to advise it who should succeed the late Prime Minister Nehru.

The successor will be named on Tuesday, and the favorite appeared to be Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Shastri's high command, determined to avoid open political warfare, refused to settle the issue itself or to go the membership.

It asked Party President Kumaraswami Kamaraj to "render his advice" on who should be elected.

Kamaraj immediately began polling party officials from throughout the nation and reportedly he found growing support for 59-year-old Shastri, a middle-aged often called a miniature Nehru.

Shastri's primary challenger, former Finance Minister Morarji Desai, was reported slipping fast. Gloom spread among his backers.

"We've lost the fight," one of his leading lieutenants was quoted as saying.

Onetime challengers such as Finance Minister T.T. Krishnamachari and acting Prime Minister G.L. Nanda were considered by many observers to be almost out of the race.

But the spirited challenge from Desai, a tough 68-year-old member of the party's right wing, had thrown a scare into the high command, which was worried about the party's image of unity.

Annual Event Revitalized

Plans Set For Homecoming

A revitalized Homecoming program is in the works for next fall.

Its theme will be "Morris-Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow, and if things go according to present plans, it could attract more interest than any other program in recent MSU history.

Homecoming will be Oct. 24, and the football opponent will be Northwestern.

Warren Platt, St. Johns, Ariz., junior and co-chairman of the event, said the Homecoming activities will get under way with a "kickoff" on the Friday afternoon preceding the game. Campus singing groups will be present and there is a possibility of having some organized games such as those at South Campus Weekend.

An elaborate pep rally is planned for that night, and efforts are being made to obtain a name entertainer such as Jerry Lewis, to emcee the rally.

For the first time in several years a parade will be held on the morning before the game, Platt said. Floats built by the major governing bodies, class governments and other student organizations will be in the parade.

Platt said the Homecoming committee is trying to obtain a more "student-oriented" band for the dance. Also, he said, there will probably be a reduction in ticket prices. The dance will be the result of student-alumni cooperation, instead of being an alumni-run affair as it has been in the past.

Living units will have stationary displays instead of floats, he said, unless considerable interest is shown in having floats.

The committee is trying to arrange tours of campus buildings, such as Computer Center and the planetarium for parents and alumni during the weekend. It is also seeking to promote alumni activities in each living unit.

Platt and Sue Lindsay, Romeo junior, are co-chairman of the event. Miss Lindsay is also in charge of living unit displays.

Chairmen for the dance and half-time committees have not yet been chosen. Anyone interested in these committees may call 3-2830.

Indianapolis On 500 Day:

Picnic Baskets, Speed, Death

By OYARS BALCERS
State News Staff Writer

Screaming engines...whining tires...lunch baskets and beer coolers...death-shocked spectators...a cheer for the winner. This was the Indianapolis 500 Saturday.

Hours of pre-race activity drew crowds as early as 7 a.m. Main highway arteries leading to the city were clogged with fast-moving bumper-to-bumper traffic by 6 a.m. Most of the seats were filled an hour before the first cars entered the track.

"Gentlemen start your engines." The spectators swept into a flurry of anticipation as the motors leaped to life filling the air with a dead throb punctuated by occasional backfiring.

Spectators rose in the stands to meet the cars as they curved around the asphalt oval for two laps paced by a white Mustang. In the middle of the 33 race cars, one in particular drew the spectators' eyes. The waving hand of happy-go-lucky 500 veteran Eddy Sachs drew murmurs of surprised delight and returned waves from the spectators.

Then, the green flag. People watched on tip-toe as the cars streaked by, once--twice. Then came the announcement of the pile up, accompanied by smoke and flames belching to the height of the grandstand.

"It has to be bad," a fellow spectator noted. "They've stopped the race. They're not even saying who's involved."

Then came cautious announcements over the loudspeaker. First were interviews with a number of drivers who narrowly avoided involvement. Then the cars involved in the wreck were identified.

An hour passed. "It is with deepest regret that we make the following announcement. Driver Eddy Sachs was fatally injured in the crash just off the northwest turn."

Faces blanched and went expressionless. Heads shook in disbelief--no one spoke or moved. It seemed as if a crowd of gladiator-baiters had suddenly been conscience stricken.

Forty-five minutes later the race resumed.

Jim Clark, driving a dark green-yellow green rear-engined Lotus-Ford continued in the lead, soon to be overtaken by Bobby Marshman, Roger Ward, Parnelli Jones and A. J. Foyt followed.

The race was barely a half hour old when the second note of tragedy was announced. Dave MacDonald who had been flown by helicopter to a nearby hospital from the speedway hospital had succumbed to the injuries and burns he received when his car spun and hit a retaining wall and exploded on the second lap.

The tragedy of the moment was somewhat dispelled by the continuing race.

Speeds of 155 miles an hour by the two leaders set lap records as the cars battled for positions.

Malaysia Summit 'Way To Peace'

MANILA (AP)—Philippine Ambassador Salvador P. Lopez said Sunday "the way to peace has been paved" with a decision to hold a summit conference on Malaysia in Tokyo June 8, 10, or 15.

If all goes as planned it will bring together, President Sukarno of Indonesia, Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia and President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines, along with their foreign ministers.

Then in paradoxical order the lead cars ran into trouble.

Marshman, leading the pack, was forced out of the race with leaking oil. Ward dropped to

Pro-Red Rebels Attack Congo Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Pygmy-like warriors with spears, backed up by uniformed rebels with machine guns and mortars, have defeated two companies of Congolese commandos in an ambush in eastern Congo. Fears spread of a rebel attack on the key provincial city of Bukavu.

Radio messages reaching Leopoldville Sunday from the rebel-trooped province of Kivu said 60 Congolese soldiers including the field commander, a Maj. Vangu, were missing. Since the rebel attacks started early in May, an estimated 400 Congolese soldiers have been killed, wounded or are missing in Kivu. The rebels are led by pro-Communists.

Rights Debate Goes Into 13th Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate starts its 13th week of debate on the civil rights bill today with an air of expectancy that a show-down vote is on the horizon.

June 10, maybe, says Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

The third week in June, says Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. But at the same time he suggests the possibility that some members might have to charter planes for quick returns to Washington from long-scheduled commencement speeches.

Pathet Lao Withdraws Recognition Of Phouma

TOKYO (AP)—The pro-Communist Pathet Lao in Laos has announced it no longer regards Prince Souvanna Phouma as premier of the coalition government, the New China News Agency said Sunday. The statement was broadcast by the Pathet Lao radio Friday.

"Prince Souvanna Phouma is now only a prisoner held by the United States and their lackeys. Toeing the line of the United States, he has undermined the national union government," the agency quoted the Pathet Lao as saying.

The Significance Of A Party

We think it significant in one of the country's largest universities that such a thing could happen as the party which Latin and Greek students gave last week to honor their professors. William M. Seaman and Alfred P. Dorjahn.

What does it signify? That even in a large university, a closeness exists between excellent professors and their students. Professor Seaman, for instance, president of the Central Michigan Society of the Archaeological Institute of America, director of the Service Bureau of the American Classical League, and associate director of the national magazine, "Classical Outlook," was cited at the party for his devotion to teaching and for his boundless faith in the intelligence and ability of his students, a faith which inspires them to greater efforts.

Professor Dorjahn, finishing a four-term stay here after retiring as classical languages chairman at Northwestern, was cited for the influence he exerted over his students, which many of them judged would be lifelong.

Stanley R. Townsend, foreign languages chairman, saw the party as significant, too, of a general rising interest in the humanities: "I'm delighted that students in the classical program have honored their professors in this way," he said. "I consider this a tribute not only to competent and productive teachers, but a tribute as well to the importance of Latin and Greek. Professor Seaman has taught Classical Languages in years when it wasn't easy to arouse student enthusiasm in the subject. But now there is a new enthusiasm for the classics."

"It is a privilege to have had Dr. Dorjahn with us this year. He has charmed many students with his keen interest in each of them and his love of antiquities."

With M.S.U.'s student population setting new records each year, it is heartening to look around the campus and realize that there are many professors of the high calibre and genuine interest of professors Seaman and Dorjahn.

Primary's Lessons

Last week's mock primary election may hold some lessons for those students who support such activities, and for those who cry "student apathy!" at the slightest hint of disinterest in anything that interests them.

The primary was poorly-organized, and the campaigning was scanty and incomplete. In spite of this there was a heavy turnout, indicative of rather strong interest and enthusiasm among students, even though they were not prodded on by campaign publicity.

The lesson is that this type of election need merely be announced and organized, and student interest will make it succeed even without the trappings of a student government election.

An additional lesson is that students are interested and informed enough in national politics to rescue even a poorly handled mock election from obscurity and make it a clear indication of political preferences.

Strengthening The Big Ten

Athletic Council Chairman John Fuzak, in his report to the academic Senate Wednesday, outlined some of the problems the Big Ten Conference will face in the future.

Fuzak, MSU's league faculty representative, told the Senate that the league is concerned over the trimester plans at several member schools.

He said the University of Michigan's spring term will end on May 1 next year, forcing the conference to grant special eligibility to U-M athletes so that they may compete after school is closed, and in some cases after they have graduated.

But the trimester trouble is only one of the problems that faces the conference.

Fuzak and many Big Ten athletic administrators are concerned about where the league is headed.

Because of this, the league has scheduled a private summer seminar, a retreat, where the faculty representatives and athletic directors can get together without the usual legislative problems, which take up most of their time, and meditate on the future of the Conferences.

Fuzak is one who believes the Big Ten must adjust to the dynamic college scene by making changes--big and small--in its rules and actions.

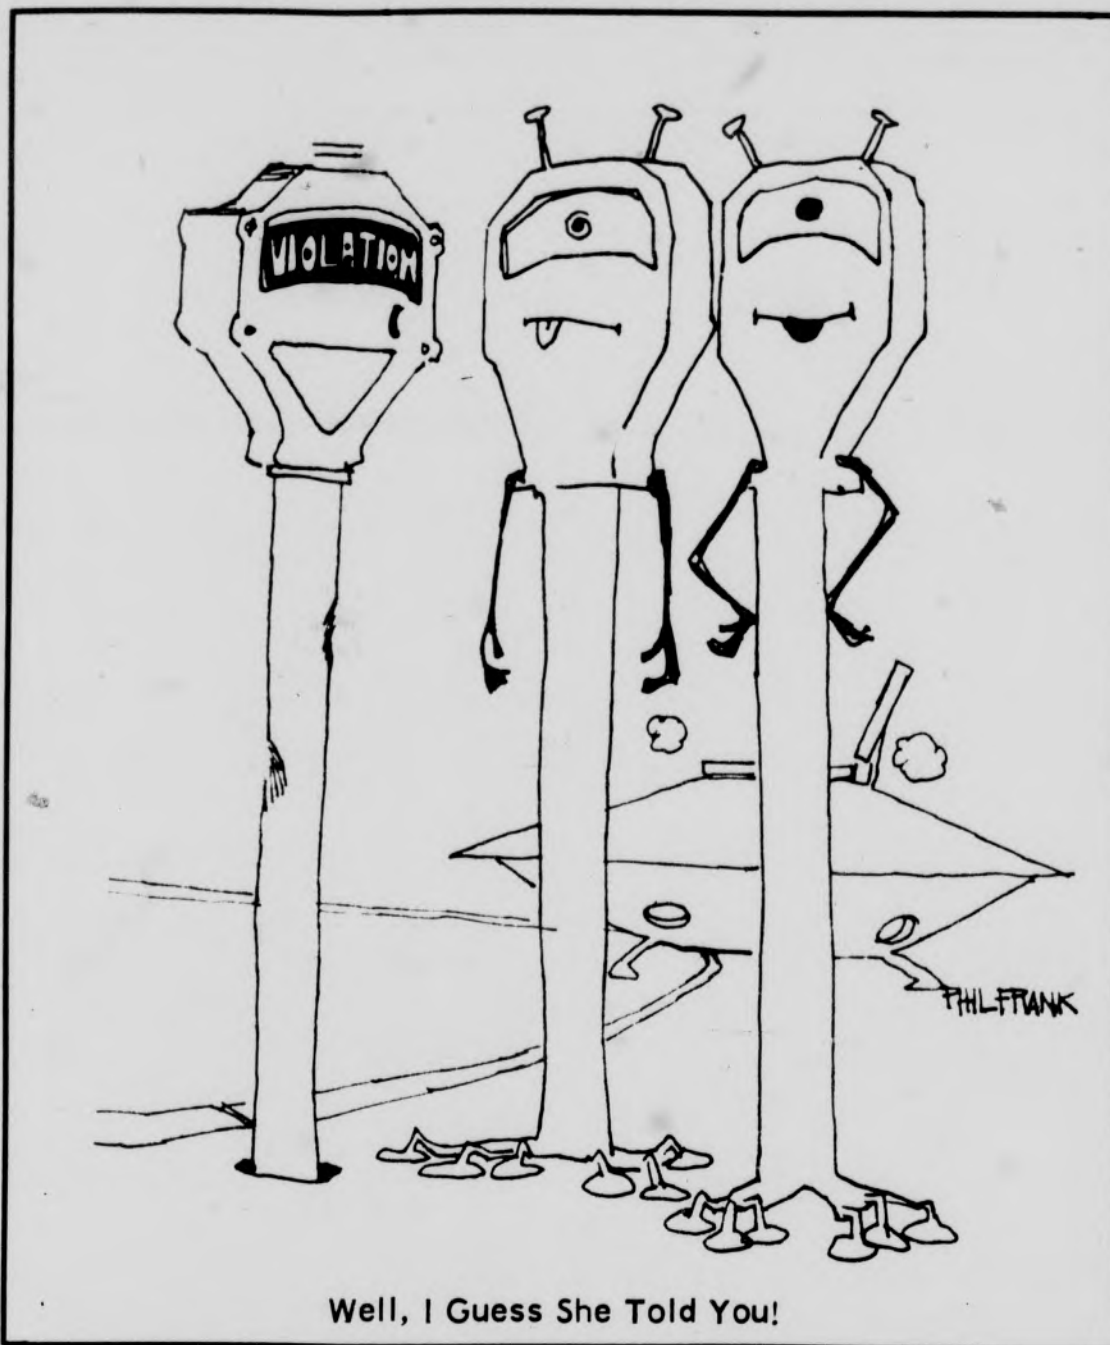

He foresees the possibility of summer sports, of new eligibility rules and of an expanded varsity sports program.

"Michigan State has become a respected member of the Conference," Fuzak told the Senate.

But it appears that Fuzak and Athletic Director Munn want more than to be just another member.

They want Michigan State to become a leader in the conference, not only on the track or football field but on the policy level.

Fuzak's summer retreat may be the start of a new phase in the life of the Big Ten.

Well, I Guess She Told You!

Letters To The Editor

God Brought Us What?

To the Editor:

The bringing back of the old religious, traditional social mores that Mr. George Romney advocates is a cowardly statement of conservative futilism. What has the "world under God" brought us?--nothing but a stagnant, neurotic social stratification of creeds and races.

Witness the Southern Negro under the benevolent protection of the very traditional Southern White Protestant. Ask that Negro what he thinks of these "chosen children of God" that Mr. Romney so eloquently praises.

The "moral degeneration" that our governor sees as so pervasive I say is a good thing--maybe it will bring that ultimate ideal of social equality along with its freeing of spirits from the binds of religious hypocrisy--those restricting codes of sexual and social ethics which are so basically opposed to the realization of man's reason for being, which someone defined as "a life the world would have been cheated if not lived."

A few brave men call for a new morality for this new world--why not?--it certainly could do no worse than the existing decayed standards imposed upon a supposedly "free" society.

Student Freedom: Where Is It?

To the Editor:

Something is amiss in the dormitory system.

At a school where we are taught our individual rights and freedoms in the classrooms, we girls are locked up every night in our living units. At a school where it is openly professed that girls are as intelligent, responsible and as equal as boys, our rights to come and go as we please are blatantly denied.

In a society where our 18-year-old sisters who didn't go to college because they were perhaps not so bright or persevering are allowed to live in privacy in their own apartments, we must endure continual 'bed checks' to see if we're tucked in and 'room checks' to see if we've neatly pushed the dirt under the rug.

Our society is based on the concept of freedom for the individual. In order to attain the responsibility and judgment necessary for becoming productive responsible citizens, we must be given the opportunity to exercise and learn the proper use of our freedoms.

Many colonies were denied this opportunity to exercise their freedoms and as a consequence didn't know how to use them properly when they became free. To deny us this opportunity is to defeat the purpose of this university.

I am writing this letter in the knowledge that many girls agree with me at least in part and in the hopes that they will make their opinions heard.

Point Of View

Pakistan Stung By U.S. Policy

By T.A. Khan

Editor's Note: T.A. Khan, author of the point of view is presently the secretary of the campus Pakistan Club.

"Stand upright, speak thy thought, declare. The truth thou hast, that all may share. Be bold, proclaim it, everywhere. They only live who dare."

We would not have written today but for the fact that somewhere "the Devil's Workshop" is working overtime to make the situation more complicated and to create as much suspicion, ill-will and hatred between as many of the countries of Asia as possible--the principal target being, of course, Pakistan.

Recently a plan for the settlement of the Kashmir dispute has been publicized. As this has been done through the Washington Post, we have reason enough to believe that the plan has the blessings of the U.S. Government.

In reality, however, it is more of an attempt to alter the foreign policy of Pakistan to solve the Kashmir issue. However we do not intend to discuss the Kashmir dispute. Rather we intend to analyze the U.S. attitude towards Pakistan. This crude plan is much more than "stupid and sinister," it is absolutely diabolical. The timing of the publication is also significant.

It is a tragedy indeed that at least some of the people who wield considerable influence in shaping the policies of one of the world's most powerful nations should be capable of such folly. If the authors of this fantastic "plan" thought it likely that anyone in Pakistan would consider it even as a basis for discussion, he should consult his psychiatrist. Our people reject this nefarious plot with the utmost contempt.

U.S. Blinded By Power

It bodes no good for the world that elements in the U.S. Administration should be so blinded by the consciousness of America's economic and military power that they refuse to recognize the right of smaller and poorer nations to have souls of their own. Pakistan will not be coerced nor bribed nor stampeded into abandoning the fundamentals in which she believes.

It is in vain that some people in Washington continue to persist in their pressure and even shock tactics to prevent Pakistan from normalizing her relations with all her neighbors--the People's Republic of China, the Soviet Union, Afghanistan and some other countries of the Asian community. That is a course on which this country is firmly set and along that path, we shall continue to advance and never retreat.

As they unfold themselves, recent American policies in the international sphere seem to be based on the motto that America's global interests alone must prevail and all other countries and peoples must be prepared to subordinate their freedom, their independence, their own interests and even their conscience to provide grist to the mill of America's global designs.

American Image For Asia

That is the image which America has been increasingly projecting to the rest of the world, and particularly to the peoples and nations of Asia. In South Viet-Nam the Vietnamese must die because America's global interest calls for the sacrifice of their lives. There is enough printed literature in America itself now to prove that the Vietnamese are anxious for peace and do not wish to fight anymore.

Only a few days ago columnist Walter Lippman once again highlighted these facts. The US Congressional Record (Senate) of April 28 contains extracts from a U.S. Captain's last letters from Viet-Nam, placed on the Record by a Senator who bluntly declared that "the United States has no business in Viet-Nam."

The Captain, who died in Viet-Nam allegedly for his country, wrote to his wife: "How our Government can lie to its own people--it is something you wouldn't think a democratic Government can do." He also wrote: "I am sure nothing will be done over here until after the elections. Why? Because votes are more important than my life or any of my buddies' lives." And of Vietnamese he said: "They are stupid, ignorant, sacrificial lambs."

That is the situation in South Viet-Nam according to Americans themselves, but the Asians there must die because some dreamers of the dream of American world domination think it is necessary for the fulfillment of that dream.

So we ask our American friends, what is the difference between your kind of world domination and the other kind of world domination against which you keep on warning us?

Blazing A Terrible Trail

Surely, there must still be left a few men in the higher echelons of the executive as well as the legislative branches of the American Administration who ought to be able to realize the terrible trail which present American policies and attitudes are blazing across the world?

There is one thing that must be clearly stated so that there is no misconception in anybody's mind. That Pakistan will not sacrifice her sovereignty nor her independence to pursue policies which she considers to be in her own interest and conducive to Asian solidarity and world peace.

Our American friends should remember that Pakistan is not for sale.

Israel Defends

To the Editor:

In Wednesday's State News Ira Spar stated as his point of view that both the Arabs and the Israelis are to fault for the present tension in the Middle East.

I do not share Mr. Spar's opinion concerning this matter. I think it is the Arab leaders (Nasser as a good example) and not the people who are to blame. Mr. Spar says that both sides should get together to improve the situation. Israel has been trying to reach an agreement with her Arab neighbors since her creation in 1948.

At present Israel has a large standing army for only one reason, and that is defense. What possible benefit would a nation of 2 million people obtain if they take the offensive against 100 million people in over 10 nations. In 1948, on the very day that Israel was created as an independent state by the United Nations, she was attacked by the Arab nations.

Consider the situation Mr. Spar. A country populated by survivors of Europe's death camps, who only want a chance to live in peace without the threat of gas chambers hanging over their heads, are immediately plunged into a war. A war that they did not want. Who is to blame?

Another example Mr. Spar. A few days ago 11 Jewish pickets were arrested in front of the Jordanian Pavilion at the Worlds Fair. They were protesting a mural in that pavilion showing objectionable subject matter and comparing the Israelis to Hitler.

New Forestry Building Set On Farm Lane

Construction of a new forestry and conservation building to be located off Farm Lane, will begin about October 1.

The new building will house the residential construction curriculum of the department of forest products.

Within this curriculum, a student can specialize in the areas of design, construction, estimating, business management, finance and real estate and sales of homes.

The curriculum is connected with a research project, MARC (Methods Analysis in Residential Construction). The project deals with the application of industrial engineering, or time and motion studies, to the manufacturing process of building a house.

Application of industrial engineering to construction is a relatively new field in the curriculum.

The residential construction curriculum and research program was established at MSU in 1954, at the suggestion of a group of Michigan builders, concerned with the growing need for technically trained college students in their industry.

School Days Start Again For Alumni

MSU alumni will again go to college to develop their cultural interests at a week-long vacation study program in July.

Grouping together to sponsor the program, July 13-17 are the Continuing Education Service, the department of alumni relations, and the Colleges of Arts and Letters and Social Science.

"The program will give graduates a once familiar view of the campus from the classroom and will enable them to keep abreast of the latest University research and teaching," said Jack Kinney, director of alumni relations.

Paul A. Varg, dean of the College of Arts and Letters, T.B. Strandness, professor and chairman of American Thought and Language, James B. McKee, professor of sociology and Charles F. Wrigley, professor of psychology and director of the Computer Institute for Social Science Research, will teach courses for the program.

"We believe this program will add a new dimension to our total alumni services," said Jack Kinney, director of alumni relations.

Kinney said there will be two afternoon sessions scheduled at the Abrams Planetarium. Others at the Computer Center are also planned.

Poet John Ciardi, dancer Erick Hawkins, and folksinger Alan Mills are among the attractions of the Fine Arts Festival, which is to be held in conjunction with the alumni program.

Summer Registration Set For Off Campus Courses

Students taking field courses off campus this summer will register Tuesday and Wednesday in 106 Administration Building.

"Students should have their permit to register, enrollment card and registration material with them then," said Victor V. Henley, assistant registrar. Field work courses include accounting and financial administration 468, one credit; art 353, three to six credits; 465, three credits, and 800 which will be given at the Leelanau Art School, Leland, for three to six credits.

Others are business law, insurance and office administration 468, three credits in conjunction with education 884, section 301 with six credits; forestry camp at Camp Dunbar 404, two credits, 421 for two credits, 447 with three credits and 449 with five credits; geology 445 with varied credit and 344 for six credits; and health, physical education and recreation 402 for variable credit.

Marketing and transportation administration will offer 409 with variable credit, management 468 will be given for varied credit, medical technology 400 will have varied credit, and courses in nursing will be 304, 305, and 306 all for 12 credits each.

Music therapy 400 will be offered for variable credit; resource development 350 for two credits; social work 311 series, 897 and 898, all for variable credit; and textiles, clothing and related arts 405 B, three credits in conjunction with education 884, section 301 for six credits.

"Since several groups of students will take these courses off campus this summer, it is desirable to register them at the end of this term," Henley added.

Seniors Cited For Language Study

Eight seniors in foreign languages were cited as "outstanding seniors" Thursday, and 22 others were cited for their oral command of a language.

The outstanding seniors are Jane Lytle and Marjorie Beatty in French; Carol Christian and Peg Frye in German; Carolyn Matzke and Christopher Hill in Latin and Mary McInnis and Barbara Rainey in Spanish.

After poetry recitation contests, those recognized for oral achievement were: William Davis, Diane Reeser, Karen Mathis, Bill Thyngenson, Edith Kramer, and Susan Muschell in French;

Susan Kobel, Petra Voigt, Stephen Taggart, Carol Christian, and Mary Jo Lindsey in German; Richard Lindley, Jerry

Snyder, Valentina Chorenko, Jennifer Winn, Eric Goodman, Stephanie Martysz, and Carol Mason in Russian, and Vicki Baker, Jack Armistead, Carol Ann Stanovoj and Delores Waak in Spanish.

Fuzak - Government Hopes Unrealistic

One of the big problems with a central student government is that the expectations of it are often unrealistic, Dean of Students John A. Fuzak said Friday. Speaking before the Student Government Re-evaluation Committee, Fuzak explained that the kind of things a central student government should do is not always clearly understood, and, as a result, it sometimes undertakes projects in areas where it has no authority.

Fuzak said he thought "Sometimes students want delegated to them areas which are not within their competence."

He added that there is only one policy making body for the University, the board of trustees, and various powers are delegated down from there.

However, he said, as student governments demonstrate more and more responsibility, they will receive more responsibilities.

Another problem, Fuzak said, is getting student interest and participation in student governments. Some causes he listed were apathy, lack of glamor, and lack of recognition for work done.

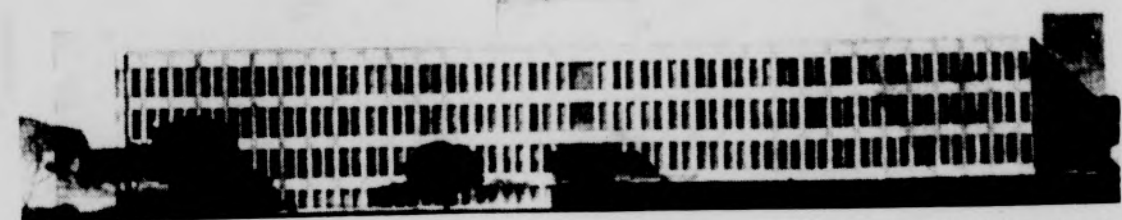

He expressed hope that the committee could come up with ways for correcting this situation and also find ways to bring the major governing groups together and "head them in the same direction."

Fuzak also emphasized more contact between student governments and the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs. This, he said, could be beneficial to both in terms of each knowing what the other is doing and being able to offer suggestions.

He warned the committee, which is seeking to find a more workable system of student government, that it should not expect to come up with the final answer.

School Bells Control Wedding Bells' Toll

The American girl marries when she pleases and whom she pleases. This year there will be about 1.8 million marriages in the United States. Some 220,000 brides will utter fervent "I do's" in June. And the majority of them will be teen-agers. Their grooms will be only slightly older.

Surveying marriage trends, the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D.C., issued a hot tip for worried parents who hope that their daughters will stop, look and listen before taking an impulsive plunge into matrimony: Get here into college fast!

Students of population have long recognized that education affects time of marriage and fertility. Commenting on the current trends, Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, said, "The average age at marriage has been declining in the United States over the past fifty years. Today, the model age of marriage--the most frequent age at which women get married--is 18. Girls who graduate from high school tend to marry somewhat later, though the marrying high school student is no longer a rarity. Girls who attend college marry considerably later than those who do not. This is true even though a goodly number of coeds marry before they graduate.

"It may seem paradoxical that a college education delays marriage for a girl since she is constantly in contact with boys her own age. One can imagine several reasons for this. Familiarity with many young men may breed, if not contempt, at least a more choosy, critical attitude.

"Furthermore, while a good many young college men marry while in school, the majority do not. The amorous goings-on in college campuses have been the subject of wide discussion in recent months. But these changing campus mores seem not to have caused the college marriages to skyrocket."

Cook noted that college graduates who delay marriage tend to have fewer children than women who marry in their teens. "This is not to be attributed to any lessened biological fertility on the part of college and high school graduates," he said, "but rather to the deliberate choice to have a small family.

"A return to large families would not only swamp the average family dedicated to responsible parenthood, but would also swamp the U.S. economy, creating almost insoluble problems in education, medical care, housing, employment, etc. For the welfare of the nation, the small-family pattern is eminently sound and is on the way to becoming universal."

Language Society Founds Chapter

An MSU chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, national romance language honor society, was established last week. Georges J. Joyaux, professor of foreign languages, made arrangements for the founding of the chapter.

Twent-six foreign language department faculty members and students were initiated. Initiates are: Juan A. Calvo, assistant instructor, Edith A. Doty, assistant professor, Joyaux, Carlos G. Del Prado, assistant professor, and Donald A. Yates, assistant professor.

Initiate graduate students are: Ruth Adams, Patricia Avila, Nancy Beck, Sheila Carter, Ursula Franklin, Margaret Hoppe, Beula Kampen, Jane Lytle, Susan Neal, Ethel O'Connor, Barbara Rainey, Petra Rodriguez-Roig, Susanna Strickland, Amedeo Tenablia, David Vila and Richard Wall.

Undergraduate initiates are: Mary McGillivray, Cinda Smith, Sally Steele, Esther Short, and Margaret Walton.

Dress Regulations

MHA Passes Rules

Men's Halls Association Thursday night gave unanimous approval to the recommended changes in men's evening meal dress regulations made by its special investigating committee. The recommendations must now be submitted to the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs for final approval. It approved, the changes will probably go into effect Fall term.

The committee recommended that men be allowed to wear sport shirts with collars and sleeves, any dress or conventional wash and wear pants, and leather shoes "of a type acceptable to present day standards." Emphasis would be placed on cleanliness and neatness of clothing. Checkers would be the final authorities, but effort would probably be made to standardize requirements more than they have been in the past.

The recommended changes would affect evening meals Monday through Friday and no others. The recommendations were made following an investigation which lasted over a term.

The changes were recommended, according to the report made by the committee, because "The present dress regulations on dining hall attire for men during the evening meal during Fall and Winter terms in residence halls seem to be unsatisfactory in the eyes of the men and... these regulations seem to lack any educational benefit and are difficult to enforce."

The committee also said it thought the "benefit derived from these regulations in any area except appearance seems to be negligible" and "some additional cost is imposed upon the men."

Buses

(continued from page 1) system must be subsidized by its own profits because the Board of Trustees decided there is no justification for using academic funds to build parking lots and run buses.

The University will not operate any bus system off-campus Hannah said. "The bus service will be strictly confined to the campus. We owe it to the students to provide an adequate mass transportation system."

The Board of Trustees is expected to give formal approval to the plan at its next meeting. Announcement of University plans for a mass transportation system has been delayed because of long negotiations with the Lansing Suburban Lines Co., which now provides the only bus transportation on campus.

May said negotiations fell through because the Lansing line would have required a guarantee of $100 a day per bus over a three-year contract period. "We just couldn't guarantee this kind of a subsidy," May said.

He estimated the bus system will cost the University approximately $40 a day to operate. There is still a possibility that the Lansing bus firm lines will lease buses from the University. Hannah said the Lansing Suburban Lines will still be able to come onto the campus and provide transportation for students to points off-campus.

SENIOR SWINGERS--Anticipating this coming Sunday's traditional Senior Swingout, Mary Jane Walker and Jamie Blanchard get some pointers on piping from Pipe Major Jeff Roth and Band-leader Ron Higgins of the Scots Highlanders. The ROTC Highlanders will be joined by the pipers and drummers of the Flint Scottish Band to provide a 75-piece Scottish unit for the annual event which begins at 2:30 p.m. The massed bands will present a special exhibition beginning at 1:15 p.m. at Beaumont Tower before leading the senior parade to Fairchild Auditorium. Cornea Operation Can Help Others

Your eyes can't do you any good when you're dead, so why not let them be used to help save the sight of living persons with diseased eyes?

This was the gist of a message delivered by Charles L. San Clemente, professor of microbiology and public health.

If you sign a special pledge card now in front of two witnesses, he said, your eyes may be removed soon after death to help save the vision of persons suffering from diseased or injured corneas.

Disease or injury may cloud the cornea, the transparent "window" of the eye, resulting in impaired vision or total blindness. Transplanting a healthy cornea usually restores sight.

Pledge cards donating eyes to the Michigan Eye Collection Center in Ann Arbor may be obtained in San Clemente's office, 285 Giltner Hall.

The opportunity to pledge parts of your body for medical use and research after death came last year when the state legislature passed a bill which modified an old law patterned after English common law.

The new law allows a donor to pledge his remains for use after death, while the old law left the body for disposal by the heirs.

Willing one's eyes to medicine was possible under the old law, but by the time a will was executed the eyes were no longer useful for corneal transplants. Eyes must be removed within two hours after death to be fit for corneal transplants. Transplanting must be done within 48 hours.

Removal of the eyes does not mar the appearance of the body because "morticians close the eyes skillfully so that they appear normal," according to information on the eye pledge packet.

"Pledging the eyes is a wonderful opportunity for college students to continue charitable acts like contributing to Campus Chest and donating blood," San Clemente said.

Eyes not used for corneal transplants are studied to help find causes and cures for blindness.

Information from the Michigan Eye Collection Center says eyes from persons of any age--including those who have had a cataract operation or corneal transplant, or who wear glasses--are fit for donation.

Phi Kappa Phi Initiates 200

Nearly 200 juniors and seniors with high grade point averages will be initiated into the honor society of Phi Kappa Phi tonight in the Union.

In addition, seven graduate students and eight faculty members will be inducted, Thomas H. Osgood, professor of physics and astronomy and vice president of the MSU chapter, said.

The 156 senior initiates have grade point averages of at least 3.4. Juniors needed a GPA of 3.7 to qualify. Graduate students at the doctoral level required 3.95, while 3.85 qualified a master's candidate.

Paul A. Varg, dean of the college of arts and letters, will deliver the initiation address.

Faculty initiates are Arthur E. Adams, professor of history; Edward Devereux, professor of microbiology and public health and assistant dean of veterinary medicine; Arthur Farrall, professor and chairman of agricultural engineering; Kenneth Hance, professor of speech; Herman Koenig, professor of electrical engineering and engineering research; William Lazer, professor of marketing and transportation; Donald Montgomery, professor of engineering research; and Lawrence Sommers, professor and chairman of geography.

Graduate students are Thomas Baldwin, East Lansing; Greta Borgstrom; John Reley, Haslet; and Buford Grigsby, Michel, Pettit, Carl Sandeen, and Daniel Weiss of East Lansing.

Seniors to be honored include Mary Alegria, East Lansing; Walter Arnold, East Cleveland, Ohio; Linda Bakke, East Lansing; Evelle Bakken, Royal Oak; James Ball, East Lansing; Susan Bartels, Kalamazoo; Charles Bauer, Detroit; John Beasley, Lansing.

Marjorie Beatty, Grange Point Woods; Florence Bednarski, Flint; Richard Beegle, Muskegon; Beryl Benschop, Royal Oak; Nola Blunk, Lansing; Julia Bock, Baltimore, Md.; George Boughton, Detroit; Nancy Briggs, Greenville; Linda Brody, Downers Grove, Ill.

Jean Buchanan, Birmingham; Jean Bullock, Bethesda, Md.; Kay Carlson, East Lansing; John Choulochas, Lansing; Josephine Cleveland, East Lansing; Daniel Coulson, Detroit; Kirk Curtis, Stockbridge; Larry Dalton, East Lansing; James Davis, Wayne.

Patricia Dedula, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Gordon DeMeester, Grand Rapids; Jane Ellola, Pelkie, Donald Gaffke, Bay City; Wayne Gates, Davison; Russell Gingras, East Lansing; Charlene Graves, Ingalls; Helen Graves, Herbert; Oliver Grin, Sr., Bay City.

Joyce Groenleer, Lansing; Norma Haas; William Haines, Hastings; Sally Hartzell, Lansing; Paul Heimbach, East Lansing; Susan Hogg, Saginaw; Jane Hornaday, Chicago, Ill.; Sandra Hukkonen, Haslet; Lewis Hutchison, Midland.

Finer Calls Nationalism Top Concern

Nationalism is one of the great problems facing the United States in its determination of foreign policy, a noted political scientist said Thursday. The individual demands of the 120 sovereign nations of the world are the basis of many of the overseas problems of this and other major nations.

Herman Finer, visiting professor of political science here this term, spoke on America's commitments in the world at a meeting of Delta Phi Epsilon professional foreign service fraternity.

He said, "The most remarkable thing about the United States today is the enormous commitments it has everywhere in the world."

These commitments include investments, defense agreements, treaties and our own strategic and economic needs.

Finer said the expanding force of nationalism which has spread to nearly every area of the world is one of the most difficult problems. "Both a blessing and a curse."

He said the "corporate feeling" of a nation that wants to keep its own constitution, economy, armaments, foreign policy and complete sovereignty prevents the cooperation between nations that would otherwise make better relations possible.

Finer is on leave this term from the University of Chicago, where he is a professor emeritus of political science and economics.

His recent book, "Dulles Over Suez," is a study of the American role in the 1956 Suez Canal crisis. It has spurred controversy both in this country and in Europe.

Spartans 15th In IC4A Track

Spartan trackmen earned a pair of third-place finishes in a strong field at the IC4A meet at Villanova Saturday.

Mike Martens placed third in the 880, and broad jumper Fred Garrett was third in his specialty.

Half-miler Ron Horning and hurdler Ayo Azikiwe failed to qualify for the finals in their events.

The MSU showing was good for six points and a tie for 15th place in team competition which was won by host Villanova with 45 points.

Martens was timed in 1:51.2 in the finals to finish a few steps behind Tom Farrell of St. John's who raced to victory in 1:49.5.

Garrett missed first place by less than four inches with a leap of 24' 3/4". Maryland's Mike Cole won the event with a 24' 1/2" effort.

Ron Horning ran a creditable

1:52.9 in his preliminary heat of the 880, but three runners finished ahead of him with times of less than 1:52 to make the race the fastest half-mile heat of the meet.

Azikiwe was nosed out for third place in his heat of the 440 high hurdles with a 54.2 clocking.

"I'm well pleased with the performances," said Coach Fran Dittrich.

A half-miler must have run 1:52.0 or better to qualify for the NCAA, and a broad jumper must have gone at least 24 feet once during the season.

The boys are running better every week."

Dittrich will send a Spartan delegation to the Central Collegiate meet at Notre Dame this weekend.

He also plans on sending at least Martens and Garrett to the NCAA finals in mid-June. Both athletes have already qualified by bettering the national standards set for their events.

The NEWS In SPORTS

Foyt To Pocket $155,000 For Indianapolis Victory

Winning Indianapolis 500 driver A. J. Foyt and his crew are expected to earn about $155,000 dollars for Saturday's victory.

Foyt, who won the race with a record setting 147.35 miles per hour average, captured his second 500 on Memorial Day, defeating another two-timer winner Roger Ward.

Ward drove a rear-engine Ford powered special, while Foyt drove a conventional Offenhauser.

"A lot of people laugh at me and say I drive an antique engine, but all I can say is the antique made me a lot of money," Foyt said.

The race was marred by a second lap crash which took the lives of veteran driver Eddie Sachs and rookie Dave MacDonald. Sachs and Foyt duelled down to the wire in 1961, when Foyt scored his first victory by eight seconds.

Two Deaths Silence City TV Audience

The crowd watching the Indianapolis 500 on the closed-circuit TV screen at Lansing's Civic Center Saturday sat silent on only three occasions.

Like much of the race-watching world they respected death. In the darkness the announcement of the death of driver Eddie Sachs brought silence.

The announcement of the death of Dave MacDonald did the same.

And when Parnelli Jones roared along the pits trying to quench the fire on his burning pant legs they quieted again. Somehow they now sensed the value we put in our lives.

But the crowd viewing the morning then - late afternoon affair was sullen only momentarily.

They cheered long and often, although not always at what one might think would be the right things.

They didn't seem to care who won, but only who went out of the race. They cheered when Jimmy Clark's Lotus Ford went into the infield.

Foyt said the tragic accident that took the lives of Sachs and MacDonald "shook him up."

"I regret the accident, both were real fine people. If it weren't for the wreck, it would have been a much better race."

At the finish there were only 12 cars out of the original field of 33 still on the track, the lowest number since 1961 when Foyt beat Sachs.

Following is the official finish of Saturday's speedway race at Indianapolis as posted by the United States Auto Club:

- 1 -- A. J. Foyt,
- 2 -- Rodger Ward,
- 3 -- Lloyd Ruby,
- 4 -- Johnny White
- 5 -- Bud Tingelstad
- 7 -- Dick Rathmann
- 8 -- Bob Harkey
- 9 -- Bob Wente, and
- 10 -- Bobby Grim.
- 11 Art Malone
- 12 -- Don Branson,
- 13 -- Wal Hansgen,
- 14 -- Jim Hurtubise,
- 15 -- Len Sutton,
- 16 -- Bill Cheesbourg,
- 17 -- Dan Gurney,
- 18 -- Tony Ruttman,
- 19 -- Bob Veith, and
- 20 -- Jack Brabham.

Movie Features Spartans

Plays from last fall's Michigan State-Notre Dame and MSU-Southern Cal football games have been included in a film made by the National Collegiate Athletic Conference (NCAA).

The motion picture, titled "Best Football Plays of 1963," was produced by the NCAA in conjunction with a chemical company. It illustrates offensive plays from nine different games, including the two State contests.

In addition to being shown in game films, the plays are diagrammed and then run off in show motion. Dave Nelson, University of Delaware head football coach and originator of the wing-T formation, narrates the film.

The seven other games selected are the Illinois-Northwestern, Nebraska-Air Force, Mississippi-Houston, Washington-Pitt, Pitt-Syracuse and Texas-Texas A&M.

Also featured on the film, which is available free to all NCAA member institutions, is the award presentation to the winning coach in the 1963 DuPont "Play of the Year" contest. Over 900 coaches entered the contest, which was won by an Indiana high school mentor.

Net, Grid Seat Sale Starts At 9

Tickets for both the NCAA tennis and 1964 Spartan football games go on sale this morning at 9 in Jenison Fieldhouse.

The net show will be held at MSU from June 15-20 and will include the top amateur tennis players in the country.

Admission is free for first day's action, but Tuesday through Thursday sessions will be priced at 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

Student tickets will be $1 for the Friday semifinals and $1.50 for the Saturday finals with adult prices set 50 cents higher than the student rates each day.

Students may purchase a ticket for the entire week for $3 with a similar ticket selling at $5 for adults.

Applications for single or season football tickets will be taken at a cost of $5 a game or $20 for a season pass for four home games.

Ducats for away games will also be sold for $5 with the exception of the North Carolina game at $4.50 and the Notre Dame game at $5.50.

Special sections will be reserved for students, who may pick up their tickets through the usual distribution process in the fall.

MEN'S All-University Play-Offs

5:20 p.m. -- Z.B.T.--Keystone Kids.

5:20 p.m. -- C.S.O.--Farmhouse

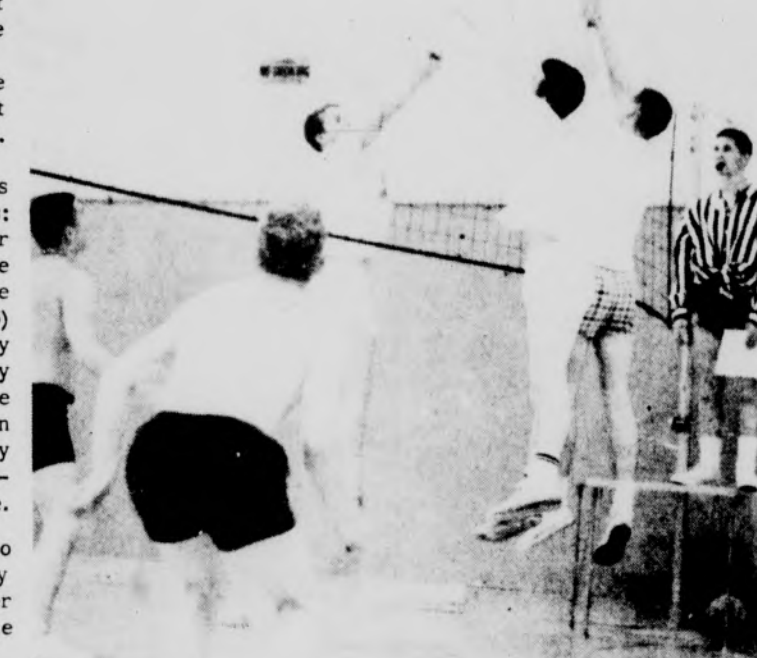

The four remaining teams in the all-university softball play-offs are the champions and runners-up of both the fraternity and independent leagues. Z.B.T. advanced to the all-university semi-final by defeating Wolfram House of Wonders Hall in a come-from-behind victory.

Trailing at one point 5-0, Z.B.T. fought back and overcame the seemingly unsurmountable lead piled up by Wolfram, and won 6-5. Z.B.T.'s opponents, the Keystone Kids are the independent runner-ups, who gained the semi-final by edging Snyder (16) 2-0.

The other two semi-final berths are occupied by C.S.O., independent champions and their opponents, Farmhouse, who were runner-ups to Z.B.T. C.S.O. defeated Six Pak 5-1 while Farmhouse toppled Winchester who were representing the residence hall champions, Wilson Hall, 8-3.

The winners of tonight's games will meet in the final of the all-university play-offs at the same time tomorrow.

Residence hall volleyball play-offs will also be held tomorrow evening and that play-off schedule will appear in tomorrow's State News.

Notice: All student lockers in the men's intramural building must be cleared out by June 8th. Anything left in the lockers after this date will be considered abandoned.

Casting Clinic: The annual Michigan State Shakespeare Casting Clinic will be held at the outdoor pool. There will be exhibitions of trick casting, instructions and contests, with prizes including rods and reels. A film on the skills of casting will be shown to close the clinic.

Fencing Results: William Sniechowski won the foil fencing title by edging Michael Tetlow. In the sabre competition, Jonathan Marshall was victorious over 16 other contestants and Clarence Chapie was runner-up.

WOMEN'S: The exercise clinic will be closed for the remainder of the term due to increased outdoor activity and warmer weather.

fifth place when he made an early pit stop.

Clark's lead lasted for only seven laps as he left the track with rear-axle trouble. Jones' car burst into flame after refueling.

The battle for the lead between Foyt and Ward began. The pace was now at 147 m.p.h. Ward was frustrated by excessive gas consumption when his fuel injectors wouldn't work properly on "lean." He made a total of five pit stops during the race. Only 12 cars finished the race. Though all made stops for fuel, none had tire changes.

As the race reached the halfway point, first-time Indianapolis spectators dropped their lap score cards as confusion overtook them. They found pit stops hard to account for in keeping track and satisfied themselves with watching the individual battles or keeping track of the first three or four cars.

M.S.U. Students and Faculty,

All of us at STUDENT BOOK STORE would like to extend our sincere thanks to you, the students and faculty of Michigan State University, for your patronage this past academic year.

With a feeling of pride, we have been happy to have been able to serve you.

We hope that you have had a most enjoyable year and will be back again with us soon.

And for those of you who will be graduated, we congratulate you and wish you lots of success in your chosen profession.
