Group Hits Representation

AUSG Plan Opposed

By HUGH J. LEACH
State News Managing Editor

An official group has been formed to oppose the new form of student government proposed by the All University Student Government Re-Evaluation Committee.

Chairman of the group, known as the Committee for Representative Government, is Steve Goodman, Valley Stream, N.Y., sophomore and a member of the University Student Judiciary.

Other officers include Mary Parish, Minot, N.D., sophomore and president of South Wonders; Sue Smith, Highland Park senior and secretary of both Student Congress and the Student class; Linda Boynton, Grosse Pointe Junior and North Case representative to Congress and Jim Graham, Detroit sophomore and congressman from North Wonders.

According to Graham, the committee differs with the proposal on several main points. First, he said, it believes the plan to be one of indirect and inequitable representation.

The committee favors direct election of a student government president, a position that is not included in the proposal, he said.

The committee also favors a senior class government, Graham said.

Class governments are not expressly provided for in the proposed structure.

Under the proposal, a student board composed of presidents of major governing groups, elected representatives and appointed students would head the government.

"We believe this board would become aloof from the students and lose contact with them," Graham said.

"We feel the present problem is student apathy, not structure."

2 MSU Republicans Win Top Posts At Convention

Two MSU students won top posts on the executive board of the Michigan Federation of College Republicans at their eighth annual convention this weekend in Lansing.

Miss Margaret Cooke, Adrian junior, received a final vote of 207 for the office of vice chairman. She opposed Donald Halley from Eastern Michigan University, and John Kessler, from Western Michigan University, who withdrew in favor of her after the second ballot.

James Bradford, Traverse City sophomore, was re-elected treasurer.

"I am very pleased with the election results," Miss Cooke said. "I feel we have an outstanding board for the coming year."

She said Jim Bradford has done an outstanding job as treasurer. Miss Cooke, a social work major, has been very active in politics during her college career.

James Bradford, a 19-year-old social science major, is a transfer from Northwestern Michigan College where he organized and was chairman of the Young Republican club.

Gov. George W. Romney started the convention Friday with a key-note speech on the importance of a two-party system.

He said it's the competition between the two parties that keeps the nation on its toes.

"The political party is governed by consent, not coercion," he said. "You people contribute to the Republican Party because you want to not because you have to."

Speaking later, Mrs. Elly Peterson, new state Republican chairman, urged the college Republicans to accept more of the responsibility for the success of the party.

"I expect to win the 1968 election right down the line," she said, "and I expect the Young Republicans to help."

Buddhists Ask Cease-Fire

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The Buddhists added their influence Sunday to a swelling movement in South Viet Nam for a cease fire in the guerrilla war and an end to foreign intervention.

"Foreign nations insist on continuing the war only for the sake of form," said Thich Ho Giac, a leading Buddhist monk. He addressed several thousand persons at a meeting Saturday night.

As he spoke, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was making political and military soundings in five doubtful provinces in the northern area and U.S. Air Force bombers continued pounding the jungles in hopes of flushing out suspected heavy concentrations of guerrillas. There have been no reports of success, however. The Reds have lapsed into inactivity since the U.S. bombings began a week ago.

Taylor visited Hue, the Buddhist center 400 miles north of Saigon, which seems to have become the hub of a spreading peace movement throughout central Viet Nam.

South Vietnamese military officers claim the peace movement is infiltrated by Communists. In the past week—as U.S. military involvement grew deeper—various political groups issued calls for an immediate cease-fire.

The theme of the Buddhist meeting in Saigon was "peace and an end to foreign intervention." Giac charged that foreigners prevented Viet Nam from gaining peace and freedom.

He did not name any of the foreign countries. The United States is directly involved in South Viet Nam at the request of the government, which claims Communist North Viet Nam is sending men and arms to aid the guerrillas in the South. Red China and the Soviet Union have pledged aid to North Viet Nam.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have found supplies of Soviet and Red Chinese armaments in Viet Cong arms depots. The largest haul was discovered more than a week ago with the sinking of a Red supply vessel off the central coast. Vietnamese air force planes sank a similar vessel off the southern coast Saturday night.

Arnold Isenberg Dies Of Smoke Inhalation

Arnold Isenberg, MSU professor of philosophy, died Friday of asphyxiation at the age of 53.

Fire officials said Isenberg was found slumped over his desk. They said death was from inhalation of smoke from a smoldering fire which began in an overstuffed chair in his second-story apartment at 534 Sycamore Lane in East Lansing.

Funeral services for Isenberg were held in the Levine Chapel in Brookline, Mass. Burial was guished educator and scholar by his colleagues, delivered a number of papers and wrote extensively in the field of aesthetics. He was editor of "John Dewey, Theory of the Moral Life," published in 1960, and co-editor of "Aesthetic Theories," published in 1964.

He joined the MSU faculty as visiting professor of philosophy in June, 1962, and was named professor of philosophy in July, 1963.

Isenberg has held visiting posts at Columbia University, University of Colorado and University of California.

He held A.B., A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University. He was associate professor of philosophy at Stanford University from 1951 to 1962.

Isenberg was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the American Philosophical Association and the American Society for Aesthetics.

A bachelor, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Shirley Soman of New York City and Mrs. Archibald Mann of Marblehead, Mass.

Muslims' Security Tightens

CHICAGO (AP)—Police, alerted to the possibility an attempt might be made Sunday on the life of Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad, placed a tight security guard around the sect's wind-up convention.

Some followers of Malcolm X, Muhammad's defected disciple who was assassinated in New York a week ago, said in New York earlier in the week that Muhammad "might not live out the month."

Anonymous telephone threats were received by Chicago police that a large number of Malcolm's followers were coming to Chicago to make it "a lively convention." Chicago police also were alerted by New York authorities shortly after Malcolm's slaying to be on the lookout for six men who reportedly had been assigned missions of revenge for their leader's death.

The 67-year-old Muhammad, under a heavy guard of police and specially trained sect security specialists, appeared at the opening session of the three-day Black Muslim National Convention at the coliseum Friday. He warned members of Malcolm's rival Black Nationalist group that, "You are inviting your own doom if you try to snuff out the life of Elijah."

Muhammad was billed as a main attraction at the second session Saturday but failed to appear. He blamed a chronic asthmatic condition, but his son, Emmanuel Muhammad, said his father does not "believe in sports and play."

State Dems Plan Romney Fund Kill

State House Minority Leader Robert Waldron, a Grosse Pointe Republican, says he hopes majority Democrats will reconsider their decision to deal a procedural death blow to Gov. George Romney's record $788.5 million general fund budget.

Democrats in both houses of the Michigan Legislature decided in caucus last week to bring the governor's budget bills to an immediate vote and kill them.

They say they plan to take the killing action to fulfill a constitutional requirement demanding that the legislature pass or reject the executive budget before passing any appropriations bills.

The Democrats have also promised to resurrect the budget once pressing matters are cleared away.

Waldron says he feels the Democrats do not understand the importance of what the Democrats are planning to do.

He also promises floor opposition to the efforts to kill the budget bills. Waldron says he and fellow Republicans will continue along the lines of debate

Re-Evaluators Present Bill

The student government re-evaluation committee will present its new constitution in programs around campus this week.

Meetings will be Monday, Landon dining room at 7 p.m. and Wilson at 9 p.m.; Tuesday, Shaw lower lounge at 7 p.m. and the Union Ballroom at 9:30 p.m.; and Thursday, 151 Brody at 7 p.m. and Conrad Hall at 9:30 p.m.

Clinton Jones Named Mr. MSU At Dance

The familiar name of Clinton Jones popped up again Saturday night but this time it was outside the world of sports.

Jones, a 6-1, 196-pound athlete from Cleveland, was named Mr. MSU at State's annual Spinster Spin.

Eight hours earlier, Jones had paced the Spartan track team to a victory over Miami of Ohio by winning both the 70-yard high and low hurdles—tied the Jensen Fieldhouse record in the highs of 8.4 seconds.

Jones also doubles as a member of coach Duffy Daugherty's football team. The sophomore halfback averaged better than three yards a carry to help the gridders to a 4-5 season.

But Saturday night Jones' football helmet was replaced by a crown as he reigned over the three-hour dance in the Big Ten room of Kellogg Center.

Jones, sponsored by South Wonders, was picked as the winner early last month but the selection was kept secret until the crowning ceremonies.

Other finalists included Steve Powers, Delta Tau Delta; Mel Moore, Alpha Kappa Alpha; John Miller, East Fee and Steve Powers, Sigma Kappa.

Negroes Set To Renew Intensive Vote Assault

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—The struggle for equal voting rights will resume in Selma with another "Freedom Day" march today and will spread for the first time into three rural Alabama counties.

Negroes by the hundreds have been summoned to the courthouse in six south and west Alabama counties for the most intensive assault on voting barriers since the campaign began.

Voter registration boards will be open Monday in the three new counties in the target area and three others where the drive has already begun.

Martin Luther King Jr. promised to return after a six-day absence to take command of the movement in Selma again and perhaps also lead it into some of the new counties.

Other Negro leaders, meanwhile, paid tribute to a slain Negro laborer, Jimmie Lee Jackson, who was shot in the stomach during a bloody encounter between Negroes and Alabama state police at Marion in adjoining Perry County the night of Feb. 18.

A memorial service for the 26-year-old Jackson was conducted during the Sabbath worship Sunday at Zion Methodist Church, the headquarters of the civil rights struggle in Marion. It was in that church where 400 Negroes gathered for a night street demonstration which led to Jackson's death and left a dozen others injured, including three newsmen and three law enforcement officers.

King is scheduled to deliver the eulogy for Jackson at funeral services in Selma at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

nesday and again three hours later at Marion.

Jackson told a supervisor when he was admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital in Selma that an unidentified state trooper had shot him. The Negro died eight days later from an abdominal infection.

Col. Al Lingo, state public safety director and chief of the blue-helmeted troopers who had been rushed to Marion to break up the night march, declined to confirm or deny the report that one of his men fired the shot.

Lingo said merely that he had reported his findings to Circuit Solicitor Blanchard McLeod. The solicitor, in turn, told newsmen he had a signed statement from a person whom he described as "the man who shot the Negro" but he refused to identify him by name or occupation.

McLeod said he hoped to submit evidence to a grand jury within a couple of weeks.

Educator From Taiwan On Campus

Chen Shih-liang, president of National Taiwan University in Taipei, Taiwan, will arrive here today for two days of conferences with MSU officials.

They will discuss plans for the "sister universities" agreement between the two schools.

MSU completed a four-year program of advisory assistance in agricultural education at the Taiwan university last year. The schools agreed to keep their academic ties alive on a long-range basis.

Future plans for the agreement include cooperation in research, an exchange of faculty, and graduate and undergraduate student exchanges.

The "sister" agreement began this year with the exchange of two professors. Warren L. Cohen, assistant professor of history at MSU, is currently teaching American history in Taiwan, and Thome H. Fang is teaching Oriental philosophy courses at Michigan State.

Intensified Viet Coast Patrol Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of accelerated action by U.S. Navy ships patrolling off the Indochina coast, this time aimed at heavy shipments of munitions from Communist North Viet Nam to guerrilla forces in the South, increased Sunday in the wake of the new American "White Paper" report on the war.

That document, issued by the State Department over the weekend, includes discussion of the water routes used by North Viet Nam.

It says a North Vietnamese "maritime infiltration group" sends weapons and supplies and agents by sea into the South and in increasing tonnages. The paper mentions a recent specific example of this operation—the discovery and destruction last month by a South Vietnamese air force plane of a 100-ton cargo ship which had unloaded tons of weapons and ammunition near Tuy Hoa, South Viet Nam.

Another possible arms-running ship was reported sunk Saturday night by South Vietnamese fighter-bombers. American reconnaissance pilots who flew over the area 50 miles south of Saigon said the ship, if it was one, appeared to be about 80 feet long.

Austria Loses 3rd President

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—President Adolf Schaerf, who served as host in the 1961 meeting here between President Kennedy and Premier Krushchev, died Sunday of a liver ailment aggravated by flu. He was 74.

The president's office announced he died at 6:15 p.m. (2:15 p.m., EST). Under the Austrian constitution, Chancellor Josef Klaus takes over Schaerf's functions until the election of a new president. A date for new presidential elections will be set by the cabinet.

Schaerf was the third Austrian president in a row to die in office.

Schaerf's predecessors who died in office were Dr. Karl Renner, who died in 1951, and Dr. Theodor Koerner, who died in 1957.

Plate Dates Extended

Motorists have two extra days in which to exchange their old license plates for new ones.

The recent snow storm prevented many car owners from reaching branch license sales offices, and an extension has been given by Gov. George Romney. Sales offices will be open today and tomorrow for late buyers. Law officers have been requested to refrain from issuing tickets until this extra buying period has ended.

A Very Important Event

Tuesday, March 9, could be one of the most important days in the history of Michigan State.

This is the day that the student body will decide whether a new form of student government is to be instituted, or whether the present and often criticized structure is adequate for the needs of the students.

There are many arguments in favor of the proposed new form of government, and many against it. Students will have the opportunity, through specially scheduled meetings and through State News articles, to hear both sides of the question and form their own opinions.

Upon examination of both the present and the proposed forms of government, we believe the arguments for the new system far outweigh those against it.

One of the hottest debates on the proposal centers around the question of representation. The proposal calls for the establishment of a student board, consisting of the presidents of MHA, WIC, IFC, Pan-Hel, SOC, ICC, and AWS, four representatives elected at large, two persons, one male and one female, appointed by the other members, and several non-voting members.

This board would, in effect, replace the present AUSG president and Student Congress.

In other words, the present concept of direct elections would be limited to some degree, in that only the four representatives-at-large would be directly elected by the students. The other members would be indirectly elected by persons directly elected by the students.

But indirect election does not necessarily mean indirect representation as some are claiming. The committee designed the student board to provide more representation of student opinion, not less.

This is accomplished by having representatives from all areas and with diversified opinions. The charge that this would become a "tight little clique" seems unfounded by the very construction of the board.

Although there are those that claim the present Student Congress is the only true representative body on campus, and should be allowed to continue in existence, there is much evidence to the contrary.

At the last unofficial count, only 17 members of Congress were elected in anything that resembled a competitive election. A total of 21 others have been appointed since the beginning of the term without benefit of an election.

The rest are on Congress either because they had no competition for the post or because the competition was such that there was actually no contest.

It is interesting to note that most of those Congress members who screamed loudest for "a truly representative government" voted against allowing the students to voice their opinions on the proposal in an all-University election.

But what could be more representative than allowing each student to express his own opinion?

However, it is impossible to call for a campus-wide vote on every issue. It is therefore necessary to have a group of representative students to effectively present the views of their fellow students.

Student Congress has not done this nor is it likely to. We think the proposed student board, is a giant step in the right direction.

What Are Your Feelings Toward The Budget Cut, Professor?

Visiting Jackson, Miss; Shakes Northerner's Views

Editor's Note: This is the first of a three-part series by State News Staff Writer Jim Sterba on his experiences in Mississippi while covering the recent Civil Rights Commission hearings in Jackson.

By JIM STERBA State News Staff Writer

I sat with two friends watching the morning sun melt the frost off the Detroit Metropolitan Airport cafeteria windows, sipping orange juice and reading about Malcolm X's home being bombed.

I was being sent to Jackson, Miss., to cover the Civil Rights Commission public hearings for the State News.

Then Malcolm X himself emerged from the back of the coffee shop, walked hurriedly by our table, and toward his morning flight to New York City and death.

But I was thinking about Jackson, and the Civil Rights Commission hearings, and didn't realize Malcolm had passed by until after he had disappeared into the early dawn crowd.

Later, on the plane, a Tennesseean who quit his job in Lansing the day before, told of his "daddy's" whiskey still being dynamited by the "revenuers".

"It took 'em 22 sticks of dynamite to blow up that still," he laughed. He said his daddy's whiskey was the best there was around Memphis and he was going home to help out because his dad lost his means of income.

During the trip south, the language evolved from punctual Northern crispness to slurry Southern entanglements. The word "Negro" also evolved to

"nigra" but the most common of the derivations in Jackson was "nigger."

Jackson seemed outwardly pleasant, and most of the white citizens I talked to expressed welcome. The town itself, however, seemed tired and generally rundown. Although sparkling new office buildings and suburbs sprouted around the edge of the city, its old pillar-porched homes reflected old-age from their weathered paint and sagging roofs.

After checking into the motel where members of the Civil Rights Commission were staying, I took a taxi to the outskirts of town and to the Veteran's Hospital Building where the public hearings were to begin the next morning.

I asked the taxi driver how many cab companies there were in Jackson and he said, "Just two companies, except for some nigger cabs."

The hospital receptionist pointed me down the hall and around the corner to the cramped hospital auditorium.

The Civil Rights Commission was in the process of receiving records from some sheriffs in an unexpected Monday hearing. The room was sparsely filled, and technicians were aligning television cameras and microphones in preparation for the official opening of the hearings the next day.

Carl Holman, the commission officer, gave me a press pass and suggested I get there early the next morning since he was expecting a jammed press table.

After the hearing about an hour later, Chairman John A. Hannah, introduced me to the other members of the commission and I talked to a member of the Mississippi House of Representatives.

Holman gave me a press kit containing background on the commission and its members. I pocketed my notes and went back to the motel where I wrote a story and phoned it to the State News office.

After dinner, I went downtown (I had strict orders not to go out after dark, but passed them off as uninformal) to the Western Union office and the Jackson Daily News office.

Both of the Jackson daily newspapers and Associated Press and United Press International had offices in the same building.

One of the men said he was sick of outsiders, civil rights and the distorted image of Mississippi given by the Northern press. I found that the newspapers reflected daily his point of view.

After an hour of wandering around the quiet downtown streets, I returned to the motel, wrote a background story and read some newspapers.

At that time, I had mixed emotions about whether my impressions of Mississippi were accurate. As a Northerner, I resolved that I was overly critical of Mississippi, but the days to follow were to wear away at this resolution.

To Friend And Foe Alike U.S. Really Not So Bad

By Susan Filson

I am becoming thoroughly disgusted with anti-American Americans.

It seems incredible to me that a certain segment of college-age adults could have grown up with little appreciation of this country's cultural and political traditions, no regard for the attempts which are being made to correct the injustices in our social system, and no tolerance for the inevitable failures which accompany any human endeavor.

And it is maddening to see other college students who are terrified that a word in defense of their country will place them in the camp of John Birchers.

America's racial problems are often used as a prime example of the "decadence" of our society. Black nationalists and communists (the Chinese brand) whip themselves and their followers into a frenzy over the issue.

Granted, America's treatment of the Negro is an ugly chapter in our history which is still not over. But we are trying to solve the problem. I don't think we are moving fast enough—but we are moving faster than other countries with racial and religious problems who keep them quiet through a hand police force and a muzzled press.

How much do we hear about the status of the Indians in Peru? The Jew in Russia? The Protestant in Franco's Spain? The handful of white men left in Cuba?

Restrictions on free speech, freedom of the press and travel provide another burning issue for college students. As a journalism student, I am inclined toward the position of Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black, who says that all restrictions on free speech are absolutely unconstitutional and violate the American political tradition. By this standard, the United States still falls short.

Yet it can be categorically stated that this country has the freest press in the world.

Our courts and our laws are now tending to set aside old restrictions on free speech and freedom of the press.

I wonder if the students who marched around the campus urging the U.S. to get out of South Viet Nam would like to try a similar demonstration at Moscow State University—suggesting, perhaps, that the Soviet Union get out of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Hungary, etc.

This country has made a good many bumbling mistakes in domestic and foreign policy. And sometimes I cry for Americans, because we are so anxious that everyone like us. In our eagerness to please everyone, we often please no one.

The many mistakes we make stem not from malice, but from a wistful, often naive hope that it is possible to introduce a concept of freedom in areas where there is no democratic tradition. America isn't "my country, right or wrong." It is my country because we try harder than most to be right and chastise ourselves more severely when we are wrong.

Letters To The Editor

ZBT's Grateful For Fire Help Supports Library

To the Editor:

As president of Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity, I speak for all my brothers when I express a deep thanks to all the wonderful people who have given us help in a time of despair.

We were all amazed at really how nice people can be. When some of the brothers ran from the house the coat they wore was the only possession they had left to their name.

It was at this time we realized how strong the Greek system was. Sororities and fraternities either called or came over to help soothe the burden of our loss. Fraternities offered us places to stay and even one sorority offered to move out of their annex to give us a place to sleep.

A long time to come. Various fraternities became "clothing stores" as they offered each of us clothing to wear. It is this type of help, that allowed the brothers to look to the future rather than the past.

We also must thank the university for helping obtain room and board arrangements for the boys in the house. It was gratifying to know that the university not only administers but aids. We could not close without thanking two others. Our house mother who also lost all her possessions still remained at our side despite her own loss.

To the Editor:

On February 21, the Committee for Students Rights passed a resolution supporting the Sullivan Library Committee Report and adding to the C.S.R. platform a demand for library improvement.

The Canterbury Club of Michigan State commends C.S.R. for this action. We feel that library improvement is imperative if MSU is ever to become a really "great" university. We further believe that students must take an active interest in library improvement and that the action of C.S.R. is a much needed step in arousing this interest.

Chinese Absent From Red Meeting

MOSCOW--With the pro-Chinese parties missing, delegates from 18 nations open a meeting today once billed as of key importance to the future of the Communist movement. But in the wake of the Moscow-Peking split it has become an anticlimax.

The Russians call it a unity meeting. The Chinese boycott showed there is no unity.

It was originally called by the Kremlin to prepare for a conference of the approximately 90 Communist parties in the world. The world conference was planned to lay down a newly agreed policy line for Communists which China would have to accept or be isolated.

But Chinese opposition and fear of some other parties of being forced to follow a Soviet line were so strong they forced the Kremlin to abandon talk of preparations for a world conference.

Malaysia Charges Indonesian Conspiracy

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia--Malaysia accused Indonesia Sunday of backing a far-flung conspiracy to foment revolution in this country and set up a rebel government in exile.

The government also renewed charges that Indonesia is massing troops along its borders for possible "massive military action" as part of President Sukarno's campaign to crush this British-backed, anti-communist federation.

The charges were contained in a 24-page white paper entitled "a plot exposed," prepared for presentation to parliament, which opens a five-day session today. They were expected to stir vigorous protests from opposition political groups.

Indochinese League Proposed

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia--Prince Norodom Sihanouk proposed Sunday the formation in the future of a "League of Indochinese States"--Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. But first, he said, peace must be restored to Viet Nam and Laos, with Communist as well as Western forces withdrawn.

"We would be Indochina: a mass of 40 million citizens, representing a not negligible economic potential and natural resources," the Cambodian chief of state said.

His remarks were included in a speech he prepared for delivery today at the opening of a conference of the Indochinese peoples. The text was distributed by the government Sunday.

Strikers May Wait It Out

GALVESTON, Tex.--The possibility arose Sunday that striking West Gulf Coast longshoremen may not return to work until fellow union members in South Atlantic ports come to terms with shippers.

Negotiators in this district, which covers 11 ports from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex., agreed last night to a new four-year contract.

The agreement signaled the beginning of the end of a seven-week-old strike, the longest and most costly in the Gulf Coast area since 1935.

Union officials said a ratification vote by some 7,000 individual longshoremen will be taken tonight.

Castroites Outnumber Moscow Reds

MIAMI, Fla.--Fidel Castro Communist outnumber old Moscow-line Reds 14 to eight in Cuba's sensitively two-edged party directorate, the survey showed. Of the original 25 directors, Anibal Escalante, Joaquin Ordoqui and Augusto Martinez Sanchez have been publicly purged.

Billie Sol Back In Court

DALLAS--Some once profitable dealings with the government send Billie Sol Estes before a federal judge again today.

It could be the last in a series of trials for Estes, a West Texas promoter once reputed to be worth $150 million, but now a legal pauper and under prison sentences totaling 23 years.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes will preside. She's the jurist to whom President Lyndon B. Johnson repeated his oath of office shortly after the 1963 assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Second Group Fasts In Protest

BERLIN, Ohio--A second group of students will continue a fast started Saturday in protest against the United States' policy in Viet Nam.

Gordon Roberts, a sophomore from Huntington, N.Y., and a spokesman for the 34 students who started a two-day fast, said 10 to 20 more students will take over at 5 p.m. today and fast for 48 more hours, until 5 p.m. Wednesday.

He said the new group would not include any of those who have gone without food since 5 p.m. Saturday.

Debaters Take Second In Invitational Tourney

Michigan State placed second, behind Clarion College, in the 1965 MSU Invitational Experimental Debate Tournament held here Friday and Saturday.

The tournament attracted 14 of the top debating teams in this section of the country including teams from Wayne State University, Albion College, West Virginia University, University of Detroit, Clarion College, of Pennsylvania, The College of Wooster, Hiram College, Purdue University, University of Illinois at Chicago, Northern Illinois University and MSU.

The proposition for debate was: "That the Federal Government Should Provide a National Program of Public Work for the Unemployed."

All teams debated four rounds on Friday and two rounds on Saturday, debating both sides of the proposition by switching sides in alternate rounds.

Both of the MSU teams composed of Ron Smith, Dick Brautigam, Jim Hudek and Ken Newton, finished in the top four. Smith and Brautigam advanced to the semi-finals to meet Wayne State. The fifth place team, Hiram College, moved up to meet Clarion College in the other semi-final match.

MSU and Clarion College both won a split decision and moved on to meet in the finals. Clarion won the toss of the coin, elected to go affirmative, and defeated Smith and Brautigam 3-0 for the tournament championship.

In speaker points Jim Hudek finished first and Ken Newton, second with 303 and 302 points, respectively. Dick Brautigam finished fifth with 289 points.

Recital To Include Rare Piano Work

John Gleason, Lansing graduate music student, will present the seldom-performed original piano version of Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition" in a solo recital at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Music Auditorium.

Gleason will also perform the "Sonata, Op. 26" by contemporary American composer Samuel Barber, "Fantasy, Op. 49" and "Barcarolle, Op. 60." The recital is open to the public.

Students Can't Cover Up Fraudulent Slips At Gables

As well as some, all attempt to enter the Coral Gables Tuesday for Senior Nite.

False identification used by students under 21 to gain admittance to area bars is a constant problem for tavern owners.

Local establishments, including Dagwoods, the KoKo Bar, Mac's Bar and Tom's Party Store, all require three pieces of identification. When in question, students are refused service.

Tom's Party Store, for example, turned down two students Saturday, who presented questionable identification.

The Gables, one of the popular college haunts is not an easy mark for would be falsifiers. Besides using two checkers at the entrances, the Gables Store, all require three pieces of identification. When in question, students are refused service.

The most common false ID is the driver's license. The methods are numerous, changing them. According to local tavern owners, the most common methods include ink eradications, erasing or scraping out and duplicating machines.

Five per cent who try to get into the Gables, present student ID's. Students are warned that numerous customers have had ID's stolen from them at tables and the bar.

Admittance to the Gables can be a complicated and drawn out procedure for those wishing to enter illegally. Students must present two pieces of identification, usually a college ID card and driver's license.

If a checker is in doubt as to its authenticity, students may be asked to write out their signature for a further check.

Once inside, doubtful admittances are watched and asked again to present ID. Many times students will use one set of ID and pass it out to another.

To frustrate such attempts, false ID can be confiscated by the management. When this is done, both the student using the ID and the owner of the ID can be prosecuted.

Three Students Hurt As Car Leaves Road

A trio of Albion College students was injured early Sunday when the car in which they were riding failed to make a turn and hit a tree.

East Lansing police said the car, driven by Carl Arthur Stolberg Jr., 19, of Jackson, was making a turn from Harrison Road to Forest Road about 1 a.m. and slid on an icy surface.

Stolberg and his passengers, Thomas G. Thompson, 19, of Plainwell, and Arthur T. Raymond, 20, of Hesperia, were taken to Edward Sparrow Hospital. The trio suffered cuts and chest injuries.

Although the police report said Stolberg was driving too fast for conditions, no charges were pressed.

University police reported one other major accident that occurred during the weekend.

A car leaving the circle in front of the west entrance to the Union slid into a University-owned panel truck. The accident caused $150 in damages to each vehicle.

Ottie A. Sohn, 632 Whitehills Drive, East Lansing, was leaving the Union when her car slid and hit the panel truck driven by Ray S. Hart, 302 Hulett Road, Mason, a University employe. She was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

In a three-day period, the number of property damage and personal injury accidents increased by 16.

University police records show 54 property damage accidents and four personal injury accidents this year, in comparison to 38 and five for the same period last year.

Heart Trouble Fells Bishop

DETROIT (UPI)--Officials of Saint Joseph Mercy Hospital say the Most Reverend Henry Donnelly, Auxiliary Bishop of Detroit for the Roman Catholic Church, died Saturday after suffering from pulmonary emphysema and a heart strain Friday.

He had been listed as critical and the last rites of the church were administered to him.

The 61-year-old bishop had been scheduled to conduct confirmation services at two Birmingham churches Sunday.

An associate of the bishop said the bishop has been in ill health for some time.

Donnelly is a native of Hudson, Mich.

He was ordained into the priesthood in 1930 and served as pastor of the Saint Catherine of Iena Church.

He became bishop in 1954. He is also vicar of the Detroit Archdiocese and pastor of St. Matthews church.

M A Candidate Given Fellowship

Robert J. Thaler, Lowell master's candidate, has been awarded a Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellowship for 1965-66.

The fellowship, which covers an entire year's expenses, is designed to encourage consideration of the ordained Protestant ministry as a life work.

About 65 fellowships were awarded in competition which included some 600 candidates in the United States and Canada.

More Drivers At 16-25 Killed

College-age drivers are steering themselves into death.

The number of Michigan automobile accidents has more than doubled since 1959, according to the Michigan Insurance Information Service.

The greater percentage of these accidents has occurred in the young driver group, ages 16-25. As a result of this increase, underwriting losses of the Michigan insurance companies was in excess of $11.6 million last year.

The problem can be solved for the insurance companies by a reduction of accidents, or else the insurance rates will double in the next two years.

In the past, Michigan drivers have been paying substantially less for insurance than other states. For example, insurance that would cost the motorist $152 in Detroit, would cost $175 in Chicago, $186 in Baltimore, $236 in Newark, $248 in San Francisco, and $321 in New York.

By law all insurance rates must be adequate to protect the public. But with losses increasing for the insurance companies, the rates have to rise.

During the past five years, The Michigan companies alone have had an underwriting loss of $26,784,000 on Michigan automobile insurance.

This is the reason the insurance industry has intensified accident prevention efforts year after year.

'Matey,' Staff In Washington

Two students and an MSU turtle were in Washington, D.C., this weekend to compete in the International Inter-Collegiate Turtle Race at American University.

"Matey," East Shaw's winning entry in the MSU race held in connection with winter carnival, was to compete with turtles from across the country with proceeds going to the muscular dystrophy fund.

Accompanying "Matey" were Hank Steffes, Melvindale sophomore and turtle trainer, and Dave Jensen, All University Student Government (AUSC) treasurer.

It is not the policy of the insurance companies to permanently assign any motorist to a higher insurance rate. In fact specific provisions for returns to good drivers are contained in some of the insurance plans.

All of this brings up the questions that the increasing cost of insurance rates may create thousands of uninsured motorists.

There are practical indicators, however, that Michigan has long had 90 per cent of its drivers or more insured. There have been no major declines in insured motorists through 1963.

Many people think the answer to the insurance problem is compulsory insurance. Such laws cannot reduce the number of uninsured any better than our present financial responsibility laws, said the Michigan Insurance Information Service. Besides being more costly they provide less protection for the motorist than that which is already available, according to the information service.

Michigan's accident rate problem is one that can only be solved by the people. When this is done, their insurance rates will fall accordingly.

Phi Deltas Awarded Fifth Blood Plaque

Over 1,200 pints of blood were donated last week in the winter term blood drive. 400 pints short of the 1,600-pint goal.

Three living units will receive plaques, however, for 100 per cent participation. They are Farm house fraternity, Bower House cooperative and Phi Sigma Delta fraternity.

This is the fifth straight term Phi Sigma Delta has had 100 per cent participation.

Armstrong Hall turned in 100 per cent of its men for the highest participation of the dormitories. East Shaw had 10 per cent.

East Fee was high for the women's dormitories with 12 per cent participation. North Case, Gilcrest and Yakeley tied for second with 10 per cent.

Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority had 50 per cent participation. Members of this sorority served refreshments at the drive all week.

Veterans' Association, sponsors of the Blood Drive this term, donated 68 pints of blood.

Delta Sigma Pi, professional marketing fraternity, had a membership participation of 65 per cent.

Students living off campus in the fraternities, sororities and independent houses, had 14 per cent.

Temporary headquarters for the Atomic Energy Commission Research Laboratory Plant are now situated in 302B Biochemistry Building.

Mikkola And Roberts Help In Colorado Win

By RICK PIANIN
State News Sports Writer

State's hockey squad pulled out an exciting 7-6 overtime victory against Colorado College Saturday night to sweep a two-game series and earn a spot in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs.

The Spartans bombed the Tigers 8-2 Friday night. State will travel to North Dakota for the first round of the playoffs, scheduled for Friday and Saturday afternoon.

Tom Mikkola and Captain Doug Roberts were both standouts for State in the series. Mikkola fired in six goals and gained six assists to earn top scoring honors.

Roberts, a senior who played his final regular season game for the Green and White, tallied four goals and five assists in the two games. He has now earned a niche in State's hockey history with the record for greatest number of total points, 56, and assists, 31, in one season.

Saturday night's game came as a surprise to the 1,546 fans in attendance, as the Spartans had more than their share of difficulty in taming Colorado's previously-toothless Tigers.

The game wasn't decided until the 1:59 mark of the sudden-death overtime period. Wing Brian McAndrew broke through the Tigers' defense and faked out goalie Bill Howard with the winning goal.

The Spartans appeared to have wrapped up the game at 17:07 of the final period, when Roberts put State ahead 6-5 with a score. But the daring Tigers then pulled their goalie and tied the game with a quick score by Bob Linberg that sent the two teams into overtime.

State opened the game with two goals early in the second period. Roberts scored at 7:31 with assists from Mikkola and Volmar. Mikkola fired his second goal at 10:36, assisted by Roberts.

Colorado then surprised MSU with three straight goals. The third one came while McAndrew was sitting out a penalty.

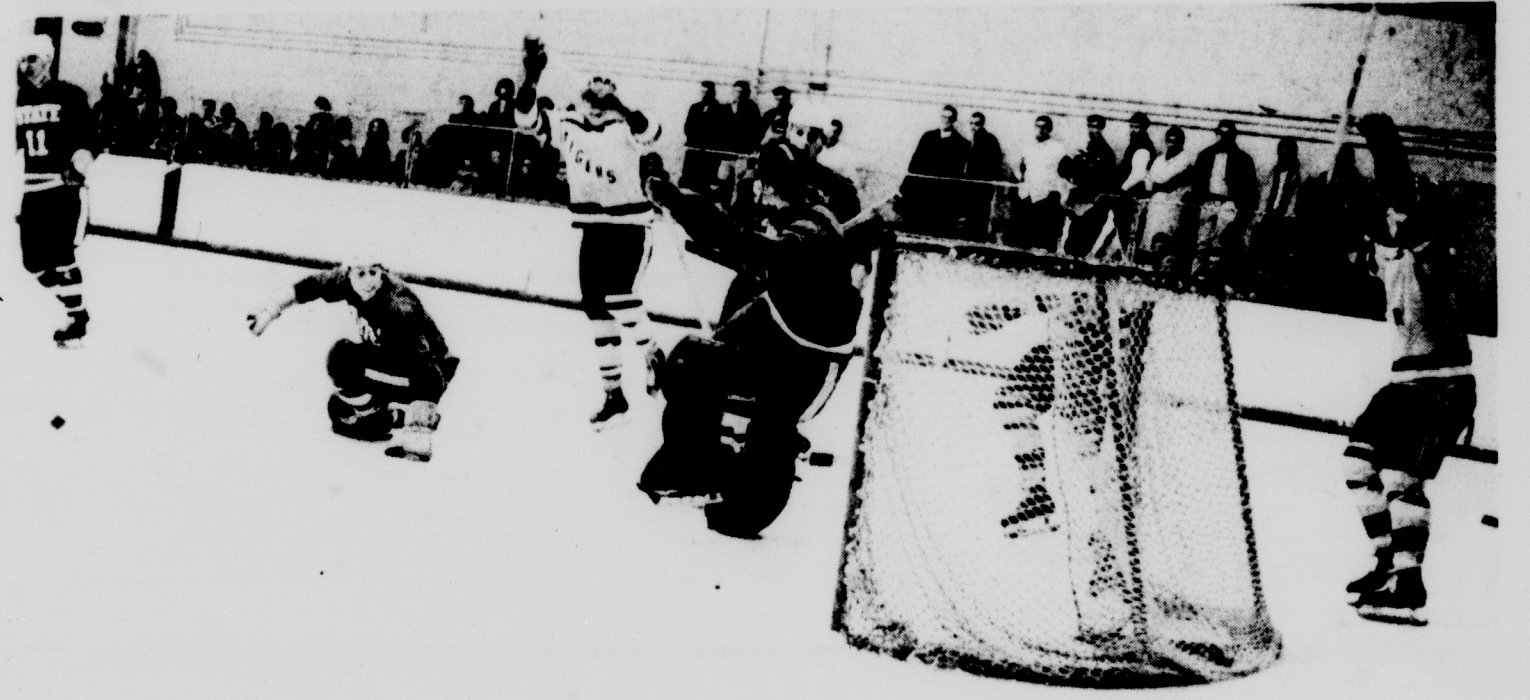

Spartan Rich Hargreaves tied the game up with 19:40 gone in the second period with assists going to Roberts and Mikkola.

Tiger Jeff Sauer scored at 45 seconds of the third period, but State came storming back with goals by Mikkola at 5:54 and by McAndrew on a break-away at 7:02.

Colorado's Bob Otto scored on a rising shot from the left wing at 10:15, but Roberts came right back with his score.

Chaos then broke out on the ice, as Otto violently disputed a "slashing" penalty dealt out to him by the referee. He was ejected from the game and received a total of 22 minutes worth of penalties, giving him a Colorado College team record for most time spent in the penalty box--115 minutes.

"We were mighty lucky in this one," commented Coach Amo Bessone, following the game. "We were flat the entire game and didn't work well at all. Colorado skated much stronger than we did, and was beating us in the corners."

SWEET WEEKEND SET

State 3rd In Big Ten As Gym Year Closes

By ROBERTA YAFIE
State News Sports Writer

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.--Michigan State gymnasts wound up the 1965 dual meet season this weekend with two for the road and third place in the Big Ten standings. The Spartans invaded the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle and the Illinois at Champaign for back-to-back meets Friday and Saturday, winning both with the respective scores of 66-54 and 71-49.

Against the Chicags, the Spartans took five of eight events. Dave Price, working all-around for State, dropped that event to Bill Hall, but came through with individual victories in parallel and horizontal bars.

Ron Aure took first honors in floor exercise and long horse, winning the vault with a score of 9.05, one of his best marks to date. Side horse went to Earl Andrews, hitting at 8.5. Rings were another Spartan first, Ted Wilson grabbing the honors at 9.05.

Saturday night's competition with the Illinois provided Coach George Szypula with reason to crow. Andrews proved that he's finally hit his form with performances of 9.05 and 9.25 in floor exercise and side horse. Dave Price came through with another strong performance on high bar, scoring 9.25 to take that event. All-around was another Spartan win as Ted Wilson topped Victor Sanchez, 49.1-45.7.

A surprise entry in high bar was trampolinist Marty Roach, who showed potential in that event. Szypula was pleased with his performance, considering he hasn't worked the event all season.

Missing from the Spartan lineup was Jim Curzi. Bothered by an ankle injury incurred at the season's start, Curzi took the weekend off to rest in preparation for the conference meet. Szypula was generally pleased with both meets, noting the performances of Andrews, Price and Aure, as well as the job done by Wilson in his all-around win.

"Curzi's injury was a deciding factor in our standings," he said, regarding the season on the whole. "It made the difference. With everyone at full strength, we would have been the team to beat. Still, I'm proud of the jobs the boys have done despite handicaps."

Conference Meets Previewed On TV

Previews of upcoming Big Ten championships will highlight tonight's presentation of Spartan Sportlite at 7 on WMSB-TV. The program will also include films of the MSU ski team as they competed in the Michigan championships at Nub's Nob Saturday. An interview with assistant Big Ten commissioner John Dewey is also scheduled.

Sophomores...

Here's what the new 2-year Army ROTC program means to you

A new Reserve Officer Training Corps program permits selected college sophomores to be commissioned as Army Second Lieutenants in two years. You can do this by:

1. Completing a special 6-week summer camp between your sophomore and junior years.
2. Completing the 2-year Advanced Course at any school offering the ROTC program.

What are the benefits of Army ROTC training?

- Management training for success in civilian or military life.
- $40 per month pay while attending the Advanced Course, plus uniforms; pay and paid travel for summer camps.
- Eligibility for free flight instruction at selected schools leading to a private pilot's license.
- A commission as an Army officer, with all of its accompanying benefits, including higher income, greater opportunity for advancement and officer status.
- The personal satisfaction that comes from knowing you're trained to assume leadership responsibilities.

These benefits will put you a step ahead of other college graduates and will pay off for the rest of your life. You owe it to yourself to investigate these new opportunities.

For complete information, see the Professor of Military Science at your school, or send the coupon below.

Matmen M-M-Mangled, 17-8

By JOE MITCH
State News Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR--State's wrestling squad found out that the number "13" is not the only bad luck symbol--so is the letter "M".

Once again the letter proved to be a jinx for the Spartans as they succumbed to the strong-armed tactics of Michigan here Saturday afternoon, 17-8, in the final dual meet of the season for both clubs.

It was the third such loss of the season for the grapplers to Michigan.

to Minnesota and Mankato State. These defeats accounted for all the losses in the Spartans final record of 7-3-1.

Michigan's victory, their 29th consecutive one since 1963, lifted the Wolverine hopes for a third straight Big Ten Conference championship.

Peninger's matmen could only manage two decisions and a tie against Michigan. With the exception of the 157 and 167-pound weight classes, all of the events were close.

The two matches that led to State's downfall were defeats in the 123- and 137-pound events. In both, Michigan scored last-second points to edge their Spartan counterparts.

Winning for State were 130-pounder Don Behm and heavy-weight Jeff Richardson, both sophomores. Behm finished the dual meet season undefeated with a 11-0-0 record, while Richardson compiled seven victories and one loss.

DILLEY SETS U.S. RECORD

Spartans Rip Gophers, Pitt; Finish With 11-1 Swim Mark

By JERRY MORTON State News Sports Writer

The swimming team's experience in the waters of the IM Pool proved as pleasant as a Saturday night bath... even if it was Saturday afternoon. It was strictly clear sailing for the Spartans who rolled to a 70-34 victory over Wisconsin and an 82-21 win over Pittsburgh in a triple dual meet.

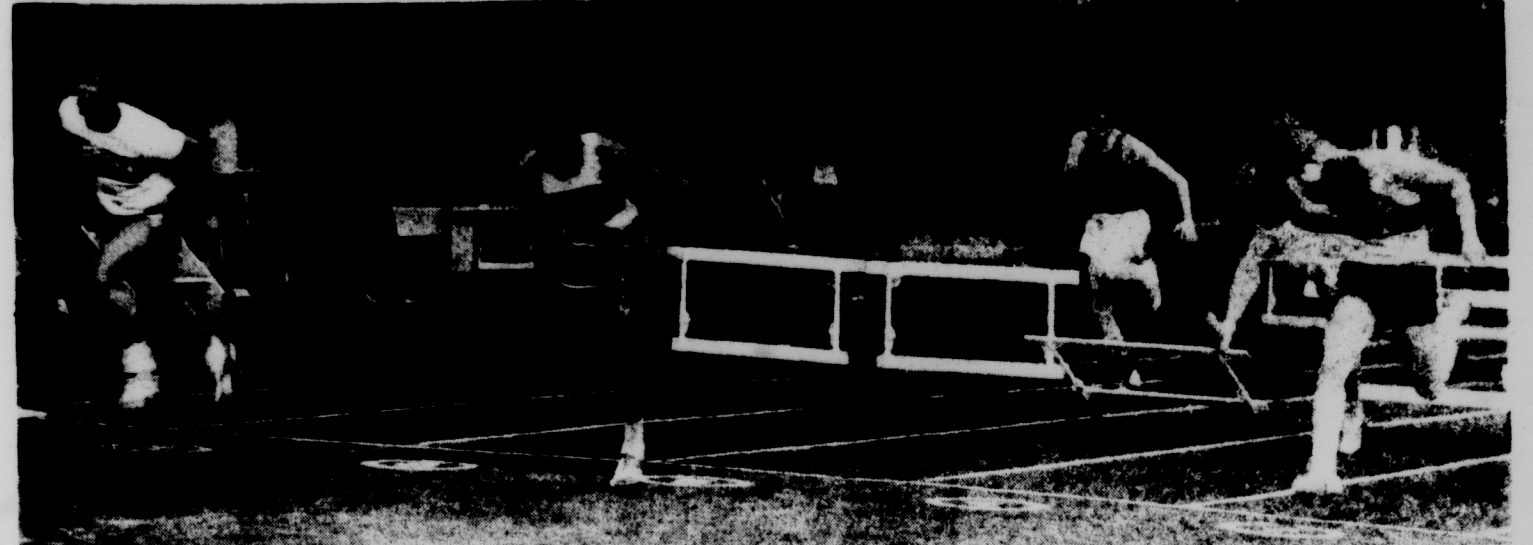

McCaffree was referring to the Big Ten meet which will be held at Madison later this week. The meet will determine the Spartans' position in the conference and it's the one the team has been aiming for since workouts began early in the fall.

Jones, Spartans Clear Miami Hurdle

The Spartan track team cleared its final hurdle in preparation for the Big Ten meet Saturday afternoon but the biggest hurdle news was made by Clinton Jones.

MSU raced to an 87-54 triumph over Miami of Ohio with Jones finally stealing the attention from teammate Gene Washington.

Jones, who has finished a few steps behind Washington in the hurdles throughout the season, captured the 70-yard high and low events and tied a fieldhouse and varsity mark set by Washington earlier in the year.

Steele (right) placing third. Earlier in the day Jones tied a varsity and field house record with an :08.4 clocking in the highs as the Green and White finished 1-2-3. Photo by James H. Hile

CAGERS FACE PURDUE TONIGHT

Installment Paid On Cellar Mortgage

MADISON, Wis.--It looks as though State's basketball team is going to finish where Indiana usually does in football, the New York Mets in baseball and where the University of Michigan would in a popularity contest in East Lansing.

Coach Fordy Anderson's Spartans were led by the University of Wisconsin 99-89 here Saturday to all but erase any hopes of finishing better than dead last in the Big Ten.

scoring 12 of Wisconsin's last 14 points as the Badgers almost became the eighth team to top the century mark this season. Michigan State regained the eye at the free throw line dropping 19 of 22, but the Badgers were even better, connecting on 19 of 20. Last Monday against Ohio State, State could hit on only 16 of 33.

Time is running out on the Spartans this season as they have only three games remaining and must win them all to avoid having the worst Big Ten record in State history.

Surging Purdue comes to town tonight and Ohio State moves in Saturday before the Spartans close out the season against third place Illinois in Champaign, March 9.

Local U.N. Elects New Personnel

J. Barry Kolb, a Philadelphia, Pa., junior, was elected by acclamation secretary-general of the Campus United Nations at Friday's meeting in the Erickson Hall Kiva.

A political science major, Kolb is a member of Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service professional fraternity.

"I would like to thank the members for their confidence in me. In the next year, we of the new executive board hope, with the aid of our revised constitution, to bring the Campus UN up to its full potential," Kolb said.

Robert Lowes, Detroit sophomore, was elected president. Lowes is also the author of the constitutional revisions adopted Friday night.

Joy C. Harrison, Morton Grove, Ill., sophomore, was elected to the new office of under secretary-general. During this term, Miss Harrison succeeded to the presidency upon the resignation of the Campus UN's former head, Joseph Warren, Pontiac junior.

Musa Qutub, East Lansing graduate student, was elected to the post of vice president on the third ballot. In the two previous ballots, Landis Crockett, East Lansing junior, held a plurality of the votes but lacked the majority necessary to win.

After the completion of elections, Kolb appointed the treasurer and secretary. Michael Rosenstein, Hartford, Conn., junior, was named treasurer; Helen Whitney, Whitehall freshman, was appointed secretary.

The changes adopted Friday dealt with officers and the division of powers, voting procedures and the Security Council.

Evening Courses Commence

Four new informal Evening College courses begin this week on the campus.

Each of the classes are four-week "Conversations," and are offered by MSU's Continuing Education Service. They will meet once a week. Three are evening classes, and one meets mornings.

"Freedom Now," dealing with non-violence and the Negro revolt, meets Mondays at 7 to 10 p.m., beginning March 1. Harry G. Boyt, special assistant to Martin Luther King Jr., will speak at the first meeting in 117 Bessey.

"Today Seen Through the Windows of Yesterday," which will consider ways in which history interprets events and issues of today, meets Tuesdays at 7 to 10 p.m., beginning March 2.

"When the Morning Stars Sang Together," which will probe the Book of Job as literature and as a philosophy of existence, meets Wednesdays at 7 to 10 p.m., beginning March 3. "Astrology: Man and the Solar System," dealing with the development of concepts of the universe through 8,000 years of man's history, meets Thursdays at 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., beginning March 4.

All students, faculty and staff are invited to enroll. Registration materials are available at the Evening College office, 18 Kellogg Center, phone 5-4562.

The grade point averages for fraternities and sororities have not been reported.

Men in cooperative housing got the best grades, averaging 2.44, surpassing on-campus men by .05 in total grade point average.

Van Hoosen women set the high point with 3.2 averages, followed by the 3.14 of Owen Hall. Eower House was low with a 1.98 average.

The grade point averages for fraternities and sororities have not been reported.

'Brown's Body' Discussed Today

MSU Players are sponsoring a discussion of "John Brown's Body" at 4:40 today in 108 Kresge Art Center.

The Performing Arts Company adaptation of Stephen Vincent Benet's Civil War epic poem was presented recently in the Arena Theatre.

All interested students and faculty members are invited to attend the discussion.

Seven Win Scholarships

Seven students received L.C. Plant mathematics scholarship awards here Thursday night.

Winning first prizes of $80 each were Stephen E. Crick, Livonia senior, and William A. Webb, Wyckoff, N.Y., sophomore.

Receiving second prizes of $40 each were Cynthia B. Brown, Hempstead, N.Y., junior; Douglas Durasoff, Tulsa, Okla., junior; Glenn R. Luecke, East Lansing junior; Howard M. Moss, Bound Brook, N.J., junior; and Neil L. White, Midland junior.

Awards were made on the basis of scholarship, interest in mathematics and helpfulness to the Mathematics Department. They come from the income of a gift from L.C. Plant, head of the Math Department from 1913 to 1939.

OLIN HOSPITAL REPORT

Visiting hours are 2-4 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. daily.

Spartan Goes To A Party

Spartan went to his first dance Saturday.

The MSU mascot was invited to the Spinster's Spin as the guest of Spartan Helotes pep club. His date was Paulette Ladach, Warren freshman and membership chairman.

His white and green corsage decorated with sports symbols and a shield matched the huge headpiece seen more often on the football field than on the dance floor.

When he isn't masquerading as the campus mascot, Spartan is Bryan Carpenter, Franklin sophomore.

Poli Sci Talk

Robert Scigliano, professor of political organizations and public law, will speak today at 8 p.m. at a program sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha political science honorary.

He will talk on the politics in Machiavelli's "Mandrillo" and/or Shakespeare's "Hamlet." The meeting will be held in the Union Sunporch. It is informal and open to the public.

Alfred Kazin To Present '65 Provost Lecture Series

Alfred Kazin, author and critic of American literature, will present the Provost Lecture Series for 1964-65.

Sponsored by All University Student Government and the Honors College, the Provost Lecture Series' main purpose is to focus attention on men and women who have something to say to the community.

The selection of Kazin as pro-most lecturer for all four lectures represents a change in tradition. Previously the lectures have been delivered in a series by lecturers from both within and outside the university.

The general topic of Kazin's lectures is "The Imagination of Society: American Novelists and Storytellers." He will speak on the following topics on each of the four days.

--April 5, "Tradition As Style: The Education of Henry Adams."

--April 6, "The Poet of the Big City: 'Leaves of Grass' to 'Specimen Days.'"

--April 8, "Howells and the Novel of Manners."

--April 9, "Dreiser and the Coming of Naturalism."

All lectures will be given in Fairchild Theater at 4 p.m.

The change from previous lecture schedules to a single lecture was made, in part, because of the difficulties in scheduling and in maintaining theme continuity.

Kazin has taught and lectured at leading universities and is a contributor to "Reporter," "Atlantic," "Harper's," "The New York Review of Books" and "Partisan Review."

East Lansing book stores are scheduled to display soon six of Kazin's books, "Contemporaries," "The Inmost Leaf," "On Native Grounds," "The Open Form: Essays for Our Time," "Walker in the City" and "F. Scott Fitzgerald: The Man and His Work."

"On Native Ground" is possibly Kazin's most widely known book. In it he describes the connection between modern American literature and modern American life. He also questions various clichés about American writers and society.

Hannah 'Master' For Salute

President John A. Hannah will be the master of ceremonies for the "Salute to Alvin Bentley" banquet to be held in Owosso Tuesday.

Gov. George Romney will deliver the main address at the dinner honoring Bentley, a former Owosso congressman.

Bentley, 46, represented the old 5th District, which included all of Shiawassee County, from 1952-1960. Later was a delegate to Michigan's Constitutional Convention, serving as chairman of the education committee.

In 1954, while a freshman congressman, Bentley was shot down on the House floor by fanatical Puerto Ricans. He was the most seriously injured of five congressmen hit by the shots.

Bentley made an unsuccessful attempt to unseat U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara in 1960 and lost a bid as congressman-at-large in 1962.

Besides Hannah and Romney, the guest list includes the top Republicans in the House, Minority Leader Gerald Ford, and Whip Leslie Arends of Illinois, both old friends of Bentley.

"I'LL TELL THE WORLD"--And that seems to be exactly what this actor is doing. This scene is from the NAACP-sponsored play, "A Man Called Nigger," which was presented Saturday and Sunday nights.

Fungi Importance In Disease Outlined

Fungi are becoming more and more useful in curing diseases or performing industrial processes, said Everett S. Benke, professor of botany, Saturday in an address on "Fungal Chemicals."

Benke, an authority on medical mycology (medical aspects of fungi), presented at San Mateo, Calif., the 11th annual Margaret Beattie lecture, sponsored by the American Association of Bioanalysts.

Yeasts and molds, the two main classes of fungi, produce many important medical and industrial products, and have the potential for producing many more, Benke said.

Benke and other researchers at MSU have been working with tumor-inhibiting chemicals extracted from fungi.

UP IN THE AIR--Joy Afelt, Croswell sophomore, is really walking on air. She recently became the first woman to solo in the Winged Spartans' new planes. Here she admires the trophy presented to her in commemoration of the occasion.

'Wing Spartans' Fly Solo In New Planes

After nine days of waiting for the winds to drop, Joy Afelt, Croswell sophomore, finally got off the ground. She is the first girl to solo in Wing Spartans' new planes.

"I thought I'd really be excited to be in the air, but you're working so hard at flying you don't even notice it," Miss Afelt said.

Four men also made their first solo flight this week. They are: David Hoover, Clinton freshman; James Eiswald, Newfield, N.Y., senior; Bob Miller, Lancaster, S.C., freshman; and Lou Kooker, associate engineer of the Physical Plant.

Miss Afelt is secretary of Wing Spartans, Inc., and member of both the International and Michigan Flying Farmers, and a registration chairman of Tower Guard. Her major is home economics.

Wing Spartans is a legal corporation which operates as a flying club. It offers instruction in flying to any interested MSU student or faculty member at half the rate charged by commercial training schools. Jim Prupp is president and flight instructor of Wing Spartans.

The corporation recently purchased two 1965 Cessna 150's, small training planes with full instrument panels. In addition to these small craft, the club owns a four passenger Sky Hawk. During vacations, members may rent planes and fly anywhere in the United States, Mexico or the Bahamas.

New MHA Head Elected

Bill Floate was elected president of Men's Halls Association Thursday night.

Floate, Benton Harbor junior and currently president of East Shaw Hall, defeated four other candidates to win the office. Six ballots were needed to determine the winner.

Jim Sink, Chicago, Ill., sophomore and president of Bailey Hall, was elected vice president on the second ballot.

The committee on dress regulations reported that there was much evidence that corduroy trousers of a non-Levi cut should be allowed through the dinner lines, and that it would probably be in order to recommend that this be done.

Before making an official recommendation, however, the committee will write up a report of its findings and the rationale behind its recommendations.

Tennessee Professor Speaks

Social Workers Meet

Social workers should assume that their duty is to solve social problems by trying to remove the causes of these problems, Joseph Heffernan, professor of social work at the University of Tennessee, said Friday.

He spoke at the sixth annual Tri-University Conference of social work held at the Union by students of social work from the University of Michigan, Wayne State University and MSU.

"The social worker should not aid the individual to adjust to an unjust situation," Heffernan said. He should try to change the unjust situations.

Public social policy is a collection of laws made collectible for all people. The political system decides which claims of individuals will be made collectible and which will not, he said.

"A group must seek justice for itself," he said. Others may help, but the group itself must strive for improvement, as in the current struggle for civil rights.

In a totally just society, all just claims will be met and all unjust claims will be denied. Some groups like the white Anglo-Saxon protestants have been able to achieve a great sense of justice.

"The social worker must use his skills to help the oppressed work in their own behalf," Heffernan said.

Walsh To Discuss Nature Of Inquiry

Harold T. Walsh, professor of philosophy, will speak on "Zetetics" this afternoon as part of the mechanical engineering seminar series.

He will talk at 4 in the Engineering Auditorium. The talk will center around the problems of accurate wording of scientific theories. It is entitled "Zetetics: A New Look at an Old Problem."

The lecture is open to the public.

Archeology Talk Slated

Panamanian archeology will be discussed at a meeting of the American Archeological Society at 7:30 tonight in the Honors College Lounge in the Library.

Charles R. McGimsey III, professor of anthropology at the University of Arkansas, will be the speaker.

The American Archeological Society is a national organization with local chapters throughout the country. It sponsors the School of Classic Studies in Athens and schools of archeology in Egypt, Palestine, Istanbul and Santa Fe. It also publishes two quarterly journals, "The American Journal of Archeology" and "Archeology."

The local chapter sponsors six lectures a year on archeology. The chapter is open to all interested persons. Anyone who wishes to join should contact Mrs. Eleanor Huzar, associate professor of history, 408 Morrill Hall, 355-7511.

Alpha Kappa Psi

Bud Bowen will speak on the "Demand Industry and Its Economic History" Monday at a meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi professional business fraternity.

Bowen is supervisor of the Fox Jewelry Stores in Lansing and Frandor.

MEDIEVAL FASHIONS--Helmets, breastplates and gauntlets were the fashions of the day back in feudal times, but today they are only museum pieces. In fact, these reminders of the days of the knights are in MSU's own museum. Photo by Jonathan Zwickel

No Knights, Just Shining Armor

Centuries ago when knights were bold, armor was in style. At least that seems to be the general trend as shown in the armor display at the MSU museum.

The collection includes eastern and western European armor used for warfare and parades between the 15th and 18th Centuries.

Part of the exhibit includes highly decorative armor made of riveted steel-plates and worn by Samurai warriors of Japan. Other parts of the exhibit consist of chain mail armor from the Philippines, leather armor from Malaya and decorative shields from India.

During the 15th Century, armor was made of light weight chain mail, but provided little protection.

As civilization advanced, weapons became more powerful and armor was gradually discarded until during the Napoleonic War, only helmets and cuirasses (breast plates) were worn.

When the Spanish came to America, armor was worn more for show than protection.

Armor was worn again in the early days of the English colonies. Men such as Miles Standish often wore helmets and breast plates until the advent of gunpowder weapons which could penetrate the armor.

The armor is a donation to the MSU museum from the Donna O. Boudeman collection.

Campus Viet Nam Talk Reslated

Last Thursday's political science coffee hours, postponed because of the snowstorm, will take place today at 4 p.m. in Parlor C of the Union, according to Carroll J. Hawkins, who arranged the meeting.

Participating in the panel discussion on United States policy in South Viet Nam are historian Thomas H. Greer, chairman of the Department of Humanities, political science professor Wesley Fishel, and John D. Donoghue of the Anthropology Department.

"This coffee hour represents the Political Science Department's contribution to encouraging the widest possible informed discussion at this crucial time," Hawkins said.

Ex-Congressman Urges Firm Viet Stand

The United States has the power to win the war in Viet Nam, but lacks the determination necessary for victory.

"The Communists test us everywhere, and whenever we have stood up to them they have backed down," Walter Judd, former congressman from Minnesota, told a convention of 600 college Republicans in Lansing, Saturday. The United States must take a firm stand, he said.

"We spend $50 billion a year arming ourselves against communism. Then we talk about negotiating in Viet Nam. We sell wheat to the Russians to help them out. They are either our enemy or they are not. If not, why are we wasting $50 billion a year arming against them?"

Judd expressed worries about our image abroad. Sukarno is not a Communist, he said, but he knows which way the wind is blowing.

"Can a weak country take a stronger stand than a strong country?" he asked.

He mentioned the fact that years ago French President Charles de Gaulle said he felt the U.S. was becoming the Carthage of our generation. Carthage, he said, sought "peaceful coexistence" with Rome, but Rome was bent on her destruction and accomplished it. "de Gaulle has faith in our power but not in our steadfastness," Judd said.

Judd drew laughter when he took a poke at the policy of appeasement. He remembered an Englishman who once said to him, "Why not give the Communists Quemoy? It's just a little island." His answer was, "Why not give them England? It is just a little island."

Discussing the philosophy of conservatism, the ex-congressman said the role of government, as set out in the preamble to the Constitution, is "to promote the common welfare, not to provide it." This, he said, is what the Democrats are trying to do. The Republicans want to help those who need help. If you try to help everyone, he remarked, it decreases your ability to help those who really need it.

Judd said he authored a bill some years ago to aid education in 11 poor states. The bill couldn't get through because there was nothing in it for the 39 states that didn't need help.

"We are the party of the people. We have faith in people. The Democrats are the party of the party, and increasingly the party of the person."

He said the Democrats based their policies on people. The Democrats, he said, were comfortable in the belief that they could deal with Khrushchev, made their policies to suit him, "and now he is in the ash can."

Judd expressed his hopes for Republican unity. He said that the Republican party is made up of people of many different beliefs.

DON'T THROW IT AWAY!

Save your Camay wrappers and you may win a 21" RCA color TV console!  The three runners-up each get a magnificent portable RCA 19" TV!

Any girls' housing unit on campus can enter Camay's Wrapper Saving Contest. If your group is small, don't worry. You'll win on the basis of how many wrappers you save per capita (10 girls who save 100 wrappers will beat 50 girls who save 300 wrappers).

Contest closes May 1, 1965, so start collecting now. And start washing with Camay—the beauty soap with rich cold cream. Even if you don't win the big prize, Camay leaves your skin soft—a pretty good prize in itself.

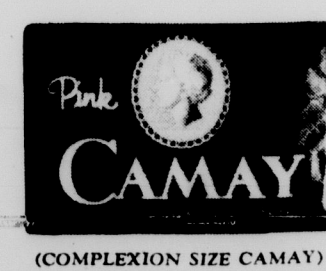

Here's all you do:

1. Save Camay wrappers (Bath and Complexion size only) in the official mailing cartons provided to each accredited women's housing unit; include the entire wrapper please; partial wrappers and facsimiles will not be accepted.
2. Mail your accumulated wrappers to Camay, C.S.C., Inc., Spring Park, Minnesota 55384, in the mailing cartons which will serve as your entry blank.
3. Be sure to print plainly, on all cartons mailed, the name and address of your organization. Cartons can be mailed as they are filled and need not be accumulated and all mailed together. All entries must be postmarked by May 1, 1965, and received by May 15, 1965.
4. Winners will be determined on a per capita basis according to official housing unit "census" figures checked by the University as of May 1, 1965; judging will be handled by an independent agency. Decision of the judges is final.
5. Winners will be announced in Camay's advertisement in the Michigan State News on May 28, 1965.

Start saving Bath size and Complexion size wrappers now.
