

North Viet Nam Promises To Fight U.S. 'To The End'

Review Of Accreditation At MSU Due Next Week

A five-man team from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools will arrive on campus April 19 to begin a four-day accreditation review of MSU, the provost's office has announced.

The team will be headed by Walter C. Langsam, author and president of the University of Cincinnati since 1955.

Other members are: --Henry E. Bent, who taught chemistry at Harvard from 1926 to 1936 and has been dean of the graduate faculty at the University of Missouri since 1938. Bent is also a member of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

--Donald B. Johnson, who is chairman of the Political Science Department at the University of Iowa.

--Robert MacVicar, former vice president for academic affairs at Southern Illinois University.

--and John A. Larson, associate professor of business administration at Northwestern University.

Review visits are conducted periodically by the North Central Association, major accreditation agency for the high schools, colleges and universities of the Midwest.

"Deputized" for the occasion by NCA's Commission on Colleges and Universities, team members will come to the campus armed with several volumes of data about MSU, compiled and assembled by the MSU Office of Institutional Research.

School Bill Signed In Historic Texas Setting

JOHNSON CITY, Pa.--President Johnson signed the billion dollar school aid bill Sunday and said he believes it will mean more to the future of the nation than any law he'll ever approve.

The historic signing came in a nostalgic setting outdoors on the shady side of the one-room schoolhouse the President attended as a child.

With his old first-grade teacher and former classmates looking on, along with invited guests and tourists, the President sat at a vintage-type school desk to affix his signature.

Several other of the old-fashioned desks of the type used in school-rooms years ago had been set up for other guests.

For Johnson, a one-time country school teacher himself, it was a moment and scene personally chosen.

The school house, some two miles from his ranch house, looks down on the lazy Perdaneses River, where it isn't hard to imagine the school's youngsters years ago gazed and dreamed of sun perch and tadpoles.

It was a bright, sunny day as the President signed the bill. Johnson said the signing bridges the gap "between helplessness and hope for more than five million educationally deprived children."

"As President," Johnson said, "The President made the surprise announcement of the Rabor appointment after signing his $1.3 billion school aid bill at a ceremony beside the old building where he first went to school.

The chief executive also told reporters he has selected Richard Helms as deputy director of CIA.

Rabor retired a year and a half ago as director of research for the Navy. He was in charge of developing the Polaris missile.

He now is vice president of Aero Jet General Corp., in Pasadena, Calif.

Johnson brought Rabor to his ranch Saturday, and, when asked when the new assignment was effective, the President told reporters Rabor is returning with him to Washington today.

Voting on the four elected representatives will be Thursday.

"I believe deeply no law I have signed or will ever sign means more to the future of our nation."

Sitting beside the President as he signed the bill was the woman who taught him in the first grade. She was Miss Kate Dedrich at the time and she taught eight grades all at once, Johnson said.

LBJ Names New CIA Director

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)--President Johnson named retired Admiral William F. Rabor, Jr., Sunday to be director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Rabor will succeed John A. McCone.

McCone's resignation reportedly has been on Johnson's desk for sometime.

The chief executive also told reporters he has selected Richard Helms as deputy director of CIA.

Rabor retired a year and a half ago as director of research for the Navy. He was in charge of developing the Polaris missile.

He now is vice president of Aero Jet General Corp., in Pasadena, Calif.

Johnson brought Rabor to his ranch Saturday, and, when asked when the new assignment was effective, the President told reporters Rabor is returning with him to Washington today.

Voting on the four elected representatives will be Thursday.

ALAN L. BEAN

Astronaut To Speak On Space

Astronaut Alan L. Bean, one of America's spacemen training for flight duty in the Gemini and Apollo programs, will speak to faculty and student groups here Tuesday.

Bean, a naval lieutenant commander, was in the third group of astronauts selected in October, 1963 by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

He is based at NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex.

The astronaut is no stranger to MSU for his father and a cousin are graduates of the University.

Bean will address the MSU Men's Club at a luncheon meeting in the Union parlors. He will present a firsthand account of astronaut training and the manned space programs.

The astronaut will also meet informally with faculty and students in the College of Engineering.

At 4:15 p.m. in Fairchild Theatre, he will speak to a joint meeting of the Air Force ROTC Detachment and the College of Engineering High Atmospheric and Space Seminar Group.

The 33-year-old astronaut is a native of Wheeler, Tex., and holds a B.S. degree in aeronautical engineering from the University of Texas. He was a Navy ROTC student at Texas and was commissioned upon graduation.

He has flown 24 aircraft and has logged more than 2,600 hours flying time. He will pilot his own plane to Michigan and leave Tuesday evening for a speaking engagement Wednesday at the University of Wisconsin.

Bean is married and has a son, 10, and a daughter, 2.

Red Reply To Johnson Is Brusque

TOKYO (AP)--"We resolutely fight to the end, that is our answer." With that brusque comment, Communist North Viet Nam scorned Sunday President Johnson's offer for unconditional negotiations for peace in Viet Nam.

"If they want to continue the war, we will also continue to fight back," said a 2,000-word editorial in the official Hanoi newspaper Nhan Dan. The editorial was broadcast by Radio Hanoi.

In Washington, Undersecretary of State George Ball, asked about the North Viet Nam comment, said:

"North Viet Nam has not rejected anything."

He said the United States is looking for Hanoi's response to an appeal by 17 nonaligned nations for a start on peace talks without preconditions.

Communist China rejected Johnson's offer, made Wednesday in a speech at Baltimore, Md. The Chinese called the speech a hoax.

From Moscow and Poland came more tempered criticism. A commentator in Moscow's Pravda said the speech was a "maneuver designed to placate world public opinion and Washington's alarmed allies." Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz of Poland said he hoped for a "sobering up" of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The North Vietnamese editorial said Johnson's $1 billion aid offer to Southeast Asia impressed no one but "a handful of traitors hankering after the milk and butter left unfinished by U.S. imperialists."

Windows Smashed

Blasts of wind smashed windows in West Fee Hall and led to the evacuation of its three top floors during the Sunday evening storm.

Three of the five broken windows were in the sixth floor stairwell and the others were in the fifth and fourth floors.

No one was hurt by the flying glass, but about 225 girls were moved to the second and third floors until the danger passed.

Some cities in the southern part of the state were reportedly hit harder than the Lansing area. A tornado killed at least two persons in Grand Rapids.

Phillips-Snyder Suggested As Liberal Arts College Site

The Phillips-Snyder dormitory complex has been tentatively chosen as the site of MSU's new semi-autonomous college, Provost Howard R. Neville announced Friday.

The proposal will be presented at the April meeting of the Board of Trustees for final approval.

The new liberal arts college, which was approved by the trustees last month, is an attempt by MSU to create a small college atmosphere within the large University.

Neville said the Phillips-Snyder complex is the best all-around choice for the location of the new college experiment.

In the college, students will live in close contact with their faculty. This calls for remodeling the dormitories to provide 40 to 60 faculty offices.

"Snyder-Phillips is particularly adept because the room layouts are readily convertible to faculty offices," Neville said.

"The new large living complexes provide only 20 such offices," he added.

"In looking at all the dormitories, we found it less expensive to do the necessary conversions in the Phillips-Snyder dormitories," he said.

Next fall, 375-400 freshmen will be admitted to the new college. They will live in sections of the Phillips-Snyder complex.

"We felt the dormitory ought to be small enough so that the freshmen would not be lost in a large dormitory complex," Neville said.

The enrollment of the college will be 1,000 or 1,100 rather than 1,500 as originally planned, Neville said.

It will take four years for the college to reach its total enrollment, starting with next fall's freshman class.

"When full enrollment is reached, Phillips-Snyder will be used exclusively for the new college," Neville said.

"About 700 to 750 students will live in the dormitories and the other 300 to 350 will live in outside housing units like off-campus housing, fraternities, sororities and co-ops," he said.

Because of the size of the two dormitories, only a limited amount of space is available for classrooms, Neville explained. "Most classes will need to be held in other buildings," he said.

Local Stores Moonlighting

Eleven stores in East Lansing will hold a Mad Moonlight Sale from 7 to 10 tonight.

The stores will close at the regular times and reopen at 7 p.m.

The participating stores are Goodwin's Fabrics, College Drug, Campus Bookstore, S.S. Kresge Co., Ace Hardware, Wanda Hancock, Redwood & Ross, Todd Gentry, Canterbury Shop, Marie's and Barnes Floral.

But with the emphasis on independent study, faculty office in the building are valuable because professors will be readily available for consultation, Neville said.

"We hope that by the senior year, one-fourth of the work a student does will be independent study," he said.

Enrollment To Keynote Student Responsibility

More emphasis is being placed on student responsibility for next fall term enrollment.

The sign-up procedure for fall term is similar to the procedure used winter and spring terms, but modified to account for summer vacation.

Fall term sign-up, as in the past two terms, has three phases: academic advising, enrollment, and registration.

Academic advising will take place during spring term. The student will complete the enrollment phase during the summer. Registration will take place in the fall when students return to campus.

During this term students will meet with their academic advisors to plan fall classes according to schedules set up by their departments. Advising should be completed by May 28.

At this time, students and advisors will prepare a "progress plan." On this plan students will list the courses they wish to take on a term by term basis for next year.

Free copies of the 1965 MSU Catalog will be available to students May 5. These can be used by the student in completing the "Progress Plan."

Alternative courses may be listed on the plan so that students will be able to complete the enrollment phase without having to meet during the summer with their advisors.

The "Progress Plan" will be prepared in duplicate, and signed by the advisor. One copy will remain with the advisor and the student will get the other copy in order to complete the enrollment phase during the summer.

In August, students will be sent a Fall Term Time Schedule and a Section Reservation Request form by the Registrar's office. Using the "Progress Plan," and the time schedule the student will fill out the Section Reservation Request form and return it to the Registrar's office no later than the first week in September.

Students not living at home during the summer, should make provision for having their Section Reservation Request Form and Time Schedule sent to their summer address.

The Section Reservation Request forms will be processed and a combined Section Reservation Report-Enrollment Card will be ready for students to pick up from their advisors when they return to campus for fall term.

Dem Predicts Rights Vote By Mid-May

WASHINGTON (AP)--Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted Sunday the Senate will pass legislation to guarantee Negro voting rights by mid-May.

The Senate, starting an Easter vacation during which it will hold non-business sessions every three days, will begin debate April 21 on a controversial bill sent to it Friday without recommendations by its judiciary committee.

Mansfield said in an interview he expects numerous amendments to be offered from the floor. He would not guess whether Southern opponents will launch a filibuster.

"But I think we should be able to come to a voter on the legislation by mid-May," he said.

WHEN THEY COULD TALK--Several speakers highlighted the "teach-in" at the Auditorium Thursday night and Friday morning. Despite the confusion of two bomb threats on the Auditorium where it was held and last minute revision of its schedule, last Thursday night's "teach-in" to protest the war in Viet Nam was termed a success by its organizers.

About 2,000 people heard speeches on various aspects of the war by three guest speakers and several other speakers from the MSU faculty and the Lansing area.

The audience was asked to evacuate twice, at around 9 and 11 p.m., while police and ushers searched the Auditorium for the bombs they were warned by anonymous phoned were planted there. Police would give no further details of the bomb threats.

Each time the program was resumed within less than half an hour.

The teach-in was picketed by over 100 members of the student-organized Ad Hoc Committee to Support President Johnson, who carried signs calling for a strong American policy in Viet Nam and for freedom for the Vietnamese people.

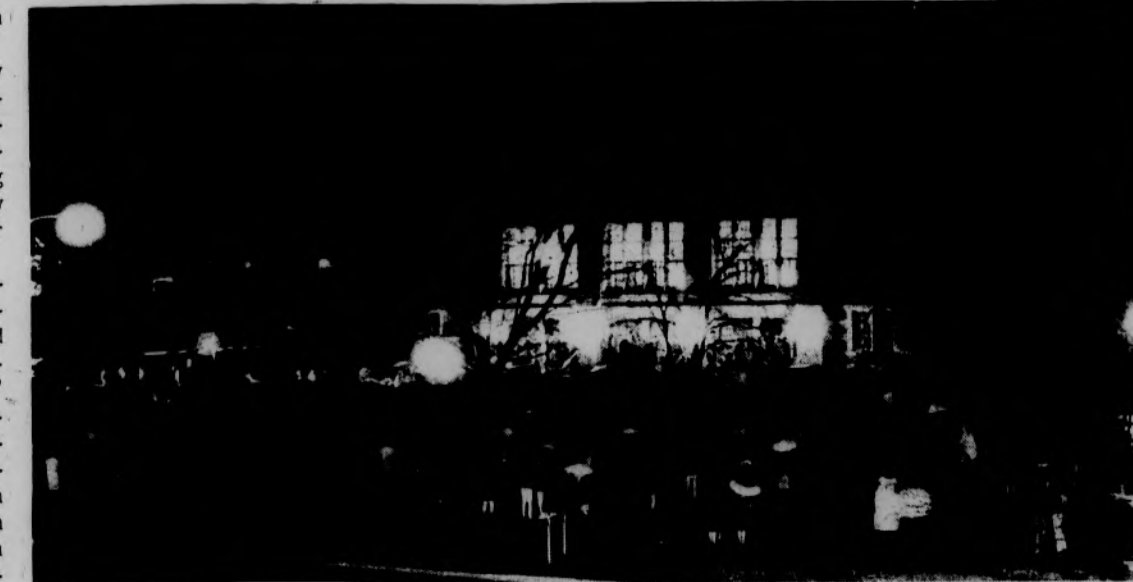

Some members of the audience heckled the anti-war speakers. At one point several stood during a speech and began singing "The Star-Spangled Banner."

At the end of the five-and-a-half-hour teach-in, two resolutions were adopted by the Faculty Committee for Peace in Viet Nam and the student-run MSU Committee for Peace in Viet Nam, the groups which organized the protest.

The resolutions called on the groups to "continue their efforts to attain a just settlement in

Free Speech Challenged

A six-hour-long "teach-in" in the Auditorium Thursday night went on as scheduled in spite of two bomb scares and the antics of immature hecklers.

The purpose of the "teach-in" was to protest U.S. policy in South Viet Nam, and the purpose of the heckling and the bomb scares was presumably to protest the teach-in.

It is difficult to conceive of the type of mentality which invents bomb scares. There were at least 2,500 people in the Auditorium at one point in the evening. Without the efficient directions of the campus police and the immediate compliance of the crowd with both requests to evacuate the Auditorium, a full-scale panic could have ensued.

There are two possible motivations for the bomb scares.

The same thing happened when a "teach-in" was held at the University of Michigan last month. Some "pranksters" may have thought it a good "joke" to try the same thing here.

It is also possible that the bomb scares were invented by persons who wanted to stop the teach-in and did not agree with the viewpoints which were being presented.

Thus, the bomb scares were prompted either by a ghoulish sense of humor or by a determination to quell free expression.

The heckling which went on during the program was another matter. John Donoghue, professor of anthropology, announced at the beginning of the program that anyone who disagreed with the speakers would have a chance to express his opinions in seminars which would begin at midnight.

But some eager members of the "Ad Hoc Committee to Support President Johnson in Viet Nam" could not wait until the speakers had finished. As the first speaker of the evening began his talk, the students interrupted him with "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Throughout the evening, impatient boys in the balcony heckled professors as they attempted to speak. A campus police officer finally had to order them to quiet down.

This, too, is an interference with the right of free speech. The students were told that they would have an opportunity to express their views later in the program. Their heckling during the speeches was totally uncalled-for.

The merits of the views expressed at the "teach-in" are totally beside the point. The right of American citizens to express their opinions at a peaceful assembly is the whole point.

Toward Free Expression

A joint committee of the Men's Hall Association and Women's Inter-Residence Council has recommended a revision of policies governing distribution of printed materials in dormitories which would further freedom of expression on the MSU campus.

The recommendations, adopted Thursday, would allow distribution of printed materials at reception desks in dormitories by any student group or individual student. The materials must be handled by a student government distribution structure and must not violate civil laws.

Door-to-door distribution of publications in dormitories is specifically prohibited unless they are addressed to individual students.

Dormitory officials, both in residence halls and throughout the whole system, would not be required to approve publications before they are distributed. They would retain some responsibility regarding bulletin boards and enforcement of new rules.

Before the recommendations become effective, they must be approved by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, residence hall authorities and possibly by individual hall councils.

The recommendations would be a vast improvement over present policy. However, they are still only a mixed blessing. The student government distribution structure, while intended only as a clearinghouse, could conceivably turn into an instrument for illegitimate censorship.

The new rules would be more efficient than the old, but unless the attitude remains enlightened and becomes increasingly tolerant of diversity in student groups, they could become as meaningless as the sieve-like rule structure now in effect.

It is worthy of note that the MHA-WIC committee reversed a stand taken earlier last week which would have prohibited distribution of printed matter by unchartered student groups.

Bob Harris, outgoing AUSG president, explained the earlier recommendation as a natural defense reaction of student government leaders who felt pressured by the existence of a group like CSR.

The whole controversy over distribution of printed materials started last term when CSR distributed its publication "Logos" without prior approval by residence hall officials.

At any rate, the MHA-WIC recommendations issued earlier last week would have implied unnecessary censorship and red tape for groups wishing to disseminate ideas. The present recommendations indicate that the two groups have realized this.

Letters To The Editor

Teach-In: The Opposition

To the Editor:

The undersigned, all members of the faculty of Michigan State University who have had extensive field experience and residence in Viet Nam, wish to make it clearly known that

(1) we did not participate in the "Teach-In" on Viet Nam held in the Auditorium last Thursday night; and (2) we were not, with one exception, invited to participate in that so-called educational experience.

Although the "Teach-In" was billed by its sponsors as contributing to the education and information of members of the University community and their East Lansing and Lansing neighbors, its deliberately one-sided orientation gave it more the complexion of a rally for indoctrination than an open discussion for education.

Like nearly all Americans and like nearly all citizens of the Republic of Viet Nam, we too believe in peace for Viet Nam. But we cannot accept the basic premise of the "Teach-In" sponsors; that peace in Viet Nam can only be achieved by a Munich-like settlement that abandons the people of South Viet Nam to the forces of Communist aggression directed from Hanoi, North Viet Nam.

We do not believe that a unilateral American withdrawal from South Viet Nam is either justifiable or desirable. Nor do we believe that our withdrawal from the war in South Viet Nam will have any effects other than to deliver the people of that country into the hands of predatory neighbors, and to shift the battlefield to another country in Asia. A U.S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam gives the Chinese Communists a blank check to fill in with the name of any other Asian nation--India, Japan, Thailand. . . ?

United States support--economic aid as well as military assistance--could no longer be counted on by any nation desirous of resisting Communist infiltration and aggression--direct or indirect--but unable to do so out of its own resources and strength.

This is not a complaint against any group's holding a rally to promote its viewpoint. Rather, we object to the misleading designation of such a one-sided rally as "education."

A dialogue would indeed have been a valuable contribution to this academic community in confronting this complex and vital issue. Yet despite there being scholars whose views have been sought on this issue by academic institutions all over the nation and whose writings are an important part of the contemporary debate, the leaders of the "Teach-In" did not invite these scholars to share their platform and engage in a dialogue of education and clarification.

The pseudo-dialogue that ensued, therefore, was hardly commendable from an academic standpoint, and certainly it should not have carried the false colors of education.

Group Defends Plan Of Teach-In

To the Editor:

The faculty committee sponsoring the "teach-in" on Viet Nam was impressed and pleased by the splendid response of MSU students last Thursday evening.

They came to the Auditorium in large numbers and showed a genuine desire to learn. Their determination was proved by their perseverance in staying with the "teach-in" in spite of organized efforts by a minority to harass the speakers and break up the assembly.

The discourteous behavior of a few served to highlight the good manners and spirit of inquiry of the majority. We regret only that the civil rights of the majority were infringed by those who tried to sabotage the meeting.

Telephoned bomb threats twice interrupted the speakers and wasted a substantial portion of the time available to the "teach-in."

It was chiefly because of these interruptions that the scheduled discussion sessions in Bessey Hall had to be dropped. Thus, the opportunity of students and faculty to express their own points of view and to raise questions for discussion was foreclosed by the obstructionists.

The disturbances of Thursday night gave the "teach-in" audience a glimpse of the irrationality and lawlessness in our land. Just as hoodlums in Alabama and Mississippi are depriving individuals of their civil rights to life, speech and assembly, so an element in our own community curtailed an opportunity for free expression here.

When such curtailment occurs, it is not the speakers or sponsors who lose. It is the students and public who lose. As Americans become aware of this significant fact, I believe they will increasingly resent these infringements on their rights. More and more, they will identify, isolate and repudiate the extremist elements in our midst.

Too Lazy To Vote

By Susan Filson

At a time when men and women are dying for the right to vote in Selma, Ala., the vast majority of voters stay home from the polls in East Lansing, Mich.

Only 39 per cent of East Lansing's registered voters turned out for last Monday's municipal election. This is a startling indication of voter apathy in the face of one of the most significant City Council campaigns in recent years.

Voter turnout in student precincts, which include Spartan Village, University Village and Cherry Lane Apartments, was far below the average for the rest of the city. There are 2,803 registered voters in these three university precincts. Only 453 of them summoned up enough energy to go to the polls. It is hardly comforting to note that the voter turnout in student precincts is usually much lower.

Thus, 61 per cent of East Lansing's registered voters refused to fulfill their basic responsibility as citizens in a democratic society.

There is something radically wrong when the citizens of a prosperous, well-educated community like East Lansing display such a notable lack of interest in how their city government is run. The voter apathy which was evident Monday night might be understandable in an area where people are poorly-educated and must struggle for the bare essentials of life. It is inexcusable in a community which has been given far more than its share of all the things which comprise "the good life."

Is it possible that we are so used to the good life that we cannot conceive of anything happening to change it?

It is possible. It is a fact. Only a complacent, self-satisfied people would abdicate so cheaply a right which men and women are dying to achieve in other parts of our nation.

There is an old saying with a Biblical ring which goes something like this: "Where much is given, much is expected."

It is worth thinking about, in this happy community which treats the responsibilities of citizenship so lightly.

The registrar's office is one department of this university with which every student comes in contact during his years at MSU. Because of the tremendous work load which the registrar must handle, mistakes inevitably appear in some grade reports and transcripts.

The personal attention which Registrar Horace C. King gives to every student who has a problem is nothing less than amazing. I'm not in the habit of throwing bouquets to people for doing their jobs, but King seems to go beyond the call of duty. He will go to endless lengths to straighten out mistakes made by an erstwhile computer or by human carelessness.

I once heard King tell a staff member that "we must make every effort not to brush students off with a general answer, we must help them with specific problems."

A worthy sentiment.

Asks End To Racial Bias In Fraternities

To the Editor:

As we strive for civil rights and the equality of all men, our progress is disappointingly delayed by the simple hypocritical acts around us. It seems that while most of the students at Michigan State are sincerely concerned over the current racial strife, there are organizations at MSU who externally favor integration, but in reality inhibit its very achievement by carrying bias causes in their constitutions.

We are participating in fraternity rush this week, and consider the friendship and brotherhood which fraternities represent to be a step toward our social goals. To our surprise, however, this step proves to be misleading.

Several of our fraternities carry in their charters a "White Christian" clause which limits their membership to White Christians only. How terribly disappointing and hampering this clause is! Does it not seem strange that these same fraternities present their rush programs as being open to all interested students?

The men of these fraternities are perfectly willing to cheer on athletes of all races, colors and creeds, but are obviously not willing to accept them as brothers in the "real" sense of the word. We seriously doubt that all of these individuals support this particular clause. We also doubt that those who support it realize the responsibilities and demands of our generation. Certainly these men may choose their fraternity brothers for themselves. But, is it necessary for the Michigan State fraternity system, or any fraternity system, to introduce (indoctrinate) young men into their orders of friendship and understanding while they still hold the shackles of bigotry in front of their doors?

This letter is by no means meant as a condemnation of our fraternity system. We only wish to make all students aware of this circumstance and to urge them, and those to which this letter refers, to implement the repeal of this antiquated clause.

But Seriously

Pins And Needles

By Don Sockol

About 25 per cent of all the pinnings on campus end up on the rocks. Another 25 per cent of pinned couples are not happily pinned, but don't know how to find a way out.

These are the shocking statistics uncovered in a recent survey.

Many straying pinnates find that getting de-pinned is not easy in East Lansing. Some of them fly south for a quick Mexican de-pinning. More often than not, however, these arrangements are not recognized by the IFC-Pan Hel Council. More than one of these unfortunate persons has found himself accused of pinyamy as a result.

Often, the problems of the pinned are superficial and can easily be worked out through mutual understanding and professional help. Dr. Les B. Frank told me, "I wish more pinned people would come to us when they are having trouble with their pinship."

"One young man came in with his pinnate and explained to me that he was fed up. Every time he took his pinnate out, she insisted on bringing a friend along. We easily worked out a compromise. We suggested that he also bring a friend along."

"A few months later we found out that the young man's pinnate fell in love with his friend, and he fell in love with hers. Now all four of them are pinned to their respective partners and all are good friends."

The most important thing to remember is that pinship is a serious step and should not be taken lightly.

Shah Safe

TEHRAN, Iran--A "threatening and shooting" soldier and two of the Shah's bodyguards were killed in a gun battle outside the Royal Palace Saturday, the government announced Sunday. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi was not harmed, though a high-ranking government official said the soldier intended to shoot the monarch.

A photographer took the Shah's picture during an audience this morning and reported him in good spirits.

Marines Head North

SAIGON--Some elements of the marine battalion landing team that began moving ashore at Da Nang Saturday have moved on to the Phu Bai area in Hue, north of Da Nang, military spokesmen said Sunday.

They said that except for some additional supplies and equipment the landing of the battalion unit now has been completed in the Da Nang area about 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

Viet War In South

SAIGON--Government troops fought scattered clashes with the Viet Cong Sunday and U.S. air force jets hammered at Red positions in the southern part of the Mekong Delta. No air strikes against North Viet Nam were reported.

The remainder of an 18-plane squadron of Marine Corps F4B Phantom jet interceptors landed at Da Nang Air Base and their commander said they were ready for missions.

Peace Not Dead: Pope Paul

VATICAN CITY--Pope Paul VI blessed the Palms Sunday, celebrated the solemn Palm Sunday Mass, and then told 25,000 Romans and tourists that although the world's peace is sorely menaced it may still be preserved.

By his words and his actions the Pontiff personally led the Roman Catholic world into the observances of Holy Week and toward the hope and triumph of Easter, a week hence.

Although he once again expressed grave concern that the world seems to be straying from the ideal of peace, he voiced faith that mankind's hope for peace may not be in vain.

Polish Head Visits Auschwitz

WARSAW--Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz expressed hope at the former Auschwitz death camp Sunday that there will be a "sobering up" of American policy on Viet Nam lest world peace be lost again.

"From this place, let words of appeal and warning be heard that those upon whom world peace depends consider their steps carefully, that the fate of those turned to ashes here does not become the fate of their children and grandchildren," he declared at ceremonies marking the 20th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz from the Nazis.

Pakistan Using U.S. Weapons

NEW DELHI--Pakistani troops have been using American weapons in border clashes against Indian troops, a defense ministry spokesman charged Sunday.

Four Pakistanis captured in a clash Friday in the Rann of Kutch area admitted their units had used weapons obtained from the U.S. military aid program, he said.

U.S. In Viet Nam To Stay

WASHINGTON--Undersecretary of State George Ball reaffirmed Sunday U.S. determination to carry out its commitment in South Viet Nam even if Communist China and the Soviet Union intervene in the conflict.

He said that even if discussions begin on settling the war the United States will continue to respond to aggression there until a solution, consistent with American promises and objectives, is reached.

Funeral Services For Darnell

GLENVIEW, Ill.--Private funeral services will be held today in Glenview for actress Linda Darnell, 43, who died Saturday of burns received early Friday in the home of friends.

Miss Darnell's adopted daughter, Charlotte (Lola) Marley, 17, who flew from California to her mother's side shortly before the actress' death, is expected to be present.

Quebec Talk Set

Two Canadian university professors and an editor-publisher of a Canadian newspaper will participate in MSU's second Canadian-American Seminar at 8 tonight in the Physics-Math Lounge.

Topic of the seminar is "Quebec: Federation or Association?"

Serving as chairman of the seminar will be Professor Frank

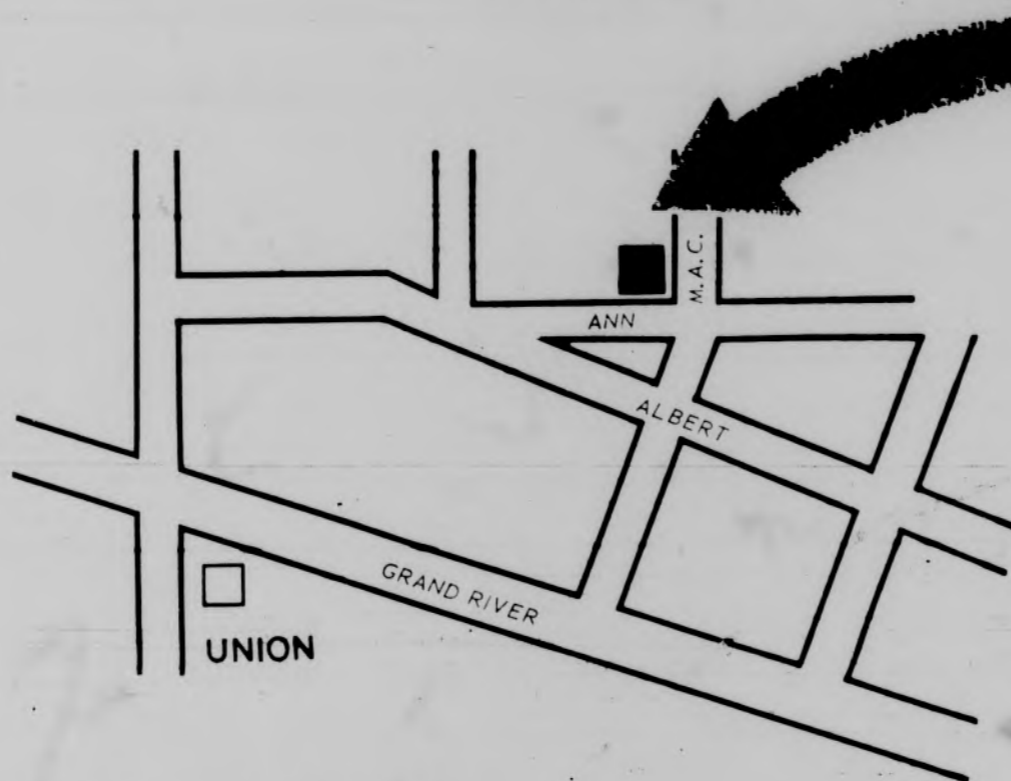

R. Scott of McGill University and member of Canada's Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism.

Speakers will include Professor W. L. Morton, University of Manitoba History Department, and Claude Ryan, editor and publisher of Montreal's "Le Devoir."

The seminar is open to the public.

Batsmen Divide Pair With Central, 7-2, 5-3

By DUANE LANCASTER
State News Sports Writer

Michigan State opened its baseball season Saturday by dividing a double-header with Central Michigan at Old College Field. The Spartans took the first game 7-2 but Central won the nightcap 5-3 in 11 innings.

Central's victory in the second game was its first over State since 1932 and its first in Spartan territory. State has won 12 of 14 games in a series dating back to 1911.

State is now 11-4 for the season, counting a successful 10-3 spring training trip record, and Central, which leaves on its Southern trip today, is 1-1.

Resembling the fabled March Lion, State started big in both games but the roar of their bats became meeker as the innings progressed.

The Spartans scored six times in the first inning of the first game and hung on for the win while a big three-run opening stanza in the second game provided State's only runs in the overtime loss.

Catcher Dick Kilbourn hammered a three-run home run in the first game to cap the six-run explosion. Starting pitcher Doug VanderWall was able to get only one man out before Kilbourn's drive sailed over the left field fence.

Leadoff hitter Bruce Pettibone drew a base on balls, and scored on a single by Bob Maniere and John Biedenbach's double. Dick Billings drove in Maniere and Biedenbach with another single and Howie Miller poked a single to left field before Kilbourn's homer.

But after that the Spartan bats went silent. State was only able to manage four more hits off relievers Gary Taylor and Harold Roberson and none after the fifth inning.

Central picked up two runs in the top of the third on three singles and a fielder's choice.

State scored its final run of the game in the seventh without the benefit of a hit. Walks to Maniere and Biedenbach led to a sacrifice fly by Billings scoring Maniere.

Maniere paced the Spartans with a single and a double while third baseman Pat O'Keefe led Central with two singles and one run batted in.

Central got its revenge in the second game, however.

The Chips tied the score 3-3 in the sixth inning and the two clubs played four more scoreless innings before Central finally broke up the long afternoon with a two-run rally in the eleventh.

Less than a tenth of the crowd, which saw the opening pitch was on hand to view Chippewa outfielder Fletcher Miller line reliever John Krasnan's pitch into left field driving in the winning run.

First Game:
Central 002000000 2-6-0
State 60000010x 7-9-0

Second Game:
Central 00100200002 5-10-0
State 30000000000 3-8-0

Purdue Gridman Dies From Practice Injury

INDIANAPOLIS -- William Moore, a 20-year old defensive guard at Purdue University died of injuries sustained during a spring football practice Saturday.

Moore, a 218-pound junior from Marion, Ohio, was scrimmaging when he was blocked. The impact caused Moore to swallow his tongue.

Both his heart and breathing stopped, but were restored at the University Health Center before he was taken to an Indianapolis hospital where he died 12 hours after the accident.

He was the first football player to die in either a scrimmage or game in 77 years of the sport at Purdue.

Dr. William Combs, team physician, said Moore suffered a brain stem injury.

He and his wife, who reside in Lafayette, have no children. Moore is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Carole Schwartz of Marion.

LION QB AT FIRST SCRIMMAGE

Gridmen Get Morrall Support

By JERRY MORTON
State News Sports Writer

Like Rome, the Spartan football team wasn't built in a day. In fact, it will even take more than a week.

The Green and White finished their first week of spring drills Saturday afternoon with a two-hour scrimmage at the practice field. It's far too early to clearly evaluate next fall's prospects but at least the Spartans have taken the first step toward the 1965 campaign.

Saturday could have been called "quarterback day" at the practice field.

First-string quarterback Steve Juday put in an appearance early in the afternoon and directed the Spartan offense for about 30 minutes. Then he rushed to the dresser room to change to his baseball uniform and started the second game of a doubleheader with Central Michigan.

Another quarterback also gained attention although he didn't run a play. He was Detroit Lion field general Earl Morrall who returned to the school where he earned All-America honors in the mid-50's.

Morrall suffered a broken collarbone last season and is in the process of working his throwing arm back into shape for next fall.

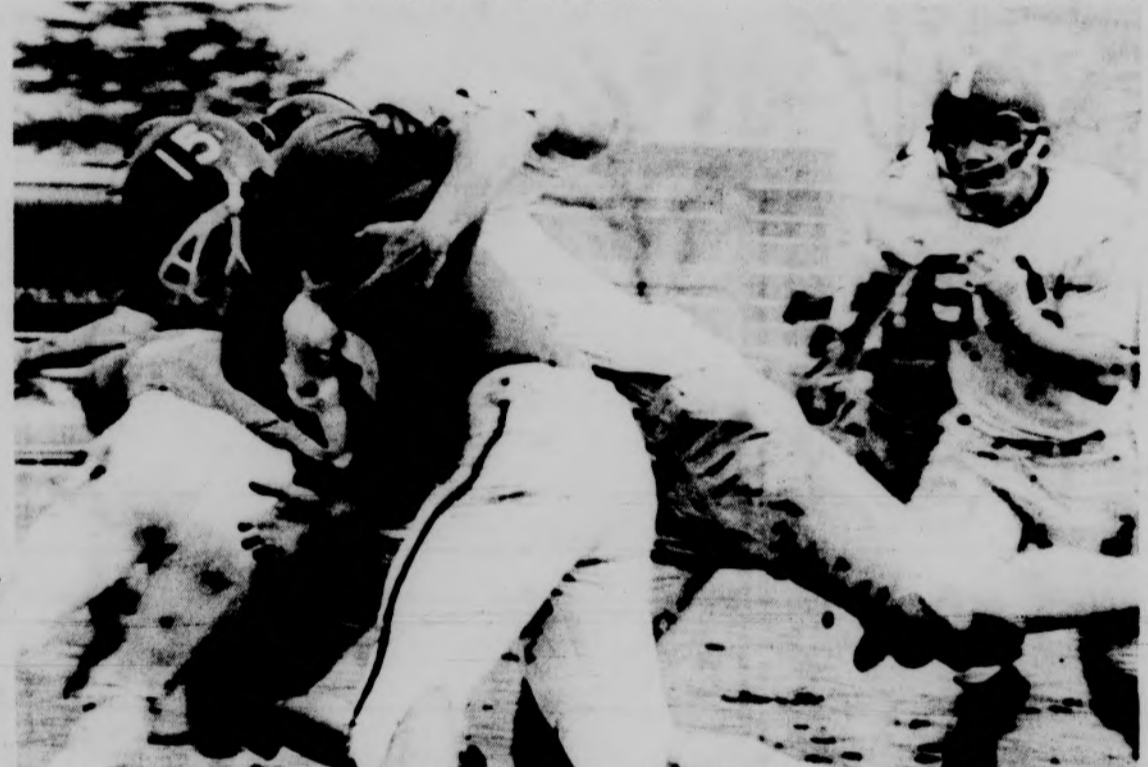

Besides MSU veterans, sophomore prospects were on hand to experience their first scrimmage with the varsity unit.

"I think it was a good workout in spite of a soft field," Daugherty said. "The boys seemed to be hitting pretty hard."

The return of two-platoon football means that players will be able to specialize at one position.

"The main thing we hope to accomplish this spring," Daugherty said, "is to evaluate each man so we'll know whether he can help us most on offense or defense."

The Spartans will return to the practice field Wednesday afternoon to begin the second week of the five-week spring session. Spring practice days are Wednesday through Saturday with an intrasquad game May 8 closing the drills.

Rugby Makes MSU Scene With 5-3 Win Over Palmer

By RICK PIANIN
State News Sports Writer

With ten minutes remaining in the game, State's rugged rugby club drove into the end zone for a touchdown and then booted a two-point conversion to defeat Palmer College of Iowa 5-3, here last Saturday afternoon.

Palmer took an early lead on an off-sides penalty kick from 25 yards out, which split the uprights of the goal post and was good for three points.

State went into the second half trailing 3-0, but applied constant pressure until Spartan Joel Gravinger plunged over for the three-point touchdown or "try" on a play set up by Jean-Claude Bailou.

Bill Antell then kicked the conversion, which gave State its first victory of the season.

A jubilant coach Neville Doherty had difficulty finding enough superlatives for his team, which was only formed last fall. "I'm so happy right now that it's hard to explain," he said. "The team played a wonderful game to the very end. It was a great team effort."

Doherty cited the play of Roger Pafitt as a "steadying influence on the rest of the team."

What makes this win even more impressive is the fact that while this was only State's fourth intercollegiate game, rugby and basketball are the only sports at Palmer, dating back to the early 1950's.

State is now 1-1 for the season, having lost its opener to the University of Michigan's club, 6-0, last Thursday. Palmer is now 2-0 for the year, as it tied Illinois and lost to Indiana.

State will be seeking revenge Wednesday afternoon at 5:30, when U-M invades East Lansing for a rematch. The field is adjacent to the soccer field and next to Case Hall.

Rugby can best be described as a combination of soccer and American football. Each team is composed of 15 players, who are allowed to run, pass, and kick the ball towards the opposing team's endzone.

Accreditation

spection by meeting with deans and all other major administrative officers of the University to discuss accomplishments, problems and plans of some 78 teaching departments.

As the week progresses, it is expected that they will reach down to the "grass roots" level in their effort to evaluate MSU 1965.

Among dozens of appointments already slated are meetings between small groups of undergraduates, graduate students and faculty and the entire review team.

Appearing at the "Concert for Lively Arts and Artists" are three professional Detroit-based groups and local talent, including Lolly Cramer and the Mike Kull Trio, the Detroit Contemporary Four, the Dynamic Trio Plus One, and Bill Armstead and Chuck Taylor. Two other groups are planned.

Admission is 75 cents for students and $1 for others.

Negro Editor Speaks Here

Only in the Negro press can white Americans learn how Negroes really live, the assistant managing editor of Jet News-magazine told the Theta Sigma Phi Annual Luncheon audience here Saturday.

The majority press, especially in the big cities, ignores the Negro element in society, John H. Britton Jr. told a Kellogg Center audience which included Mrs. John A. Hannah.

The Negro press is forced to spend over 40 per cent of its time correcting erroneous ideas about the Negroes, he said.

The Negro press arose to portray the glamorous Negro as a kind of inspiration to the man on the street, but now the emphasis has switched to Negro achievement.

Currently the Negro press not only prints news of the Negro, but interracial news as well, he said.

"For this reason, the Negro press will be the most prepared to present the news of a truly integrated society--since they have been doing it for years," Britton said.

"The Negro press has protested long and loud, and now looks with pride on aroused public opinion, street demonstrations, and freedom marches," Britton said.

"They have vindicated us," Britton said.

The Negro press exists to change rather than reinforce opinions. It seeks to reach the young mind and it is succeeding.

In Alabama JET Newsmagazine had to sign a contract with all newsstand dealers who handle the magazine that, if they are hit with prosecution as a result of selling JET, the magazine will have to defend them.

An Alabama prosecutor is quoted as having said in a trial, "This filthy little magazine has to be suppressed in order to protect our way of life."

This proves, Britton said, that the message of the Negro press is beginning to penetrate.

Jazz To Benefit Viet Peace March

The MSU Committee for Peace in Viet Nam will present a jazz benefit at 8 tonight in the Union Ballroom to raise funds for its delegation to the nationwide peace march on Washington, D.C., next weekend.

Appearing at the "Concert for Lively Arts and Artists" are three professional Detroit-based groups and local talent, including Lolly Cramer and the Mike Kull Trio, the Detroit Contemporary Four, the Dynamic Trio Plus One, and Bill Armstead and Chuck Taylor. Two other groups are planned.

Admission is 75 cents for students and $1 for others.

Bus. Fraternity Holds Spring Rush

Harvard Physicist To Speak Tonight

Edward M. Purcell, 1952 co-winner of the Nobel Prize in Physics, will speak here tonight. Topic of his address, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in 138 Chemistry Building, will be "Null Experiments: Testing and Preconceptions."

His appearance is cosponsored by MSU's Department of Physics and Astronomy and the School for Advanced Graduate Studies. Purcell, retired professor of physics at Harvard University, won the Nobel Prize in 1952 for his work in nuclear magnetic resonance. He shared the award with Felix Bloch.

Purcell, who has served on the President's Science Advisory Committee, is a member of numerous scientific societies.

He has done extensive research on microwave phenomena, nuclear magnetism and radiofrequency spectroscopy. A graduate of Purdue University, he holds master's and doctor's degrees from Harvard.

ors and pick up the combination card, they will go to the Men's IM Building as usual to complete the registration procedure.

Registrar Horace C. King said emphasis in the enrollment and registration procedures is on preserving individual attention and student choice.

"This individual attention also includes the need for students to assume responsibility for their academic progress and related enrollment activities," he said. "For example," he added, "it will be a student's responsibility to follow the student 'Progress Plan' each time he completes a Registration Section Request form."

King said these procedures provide flexibility to the colleges and departments in planning their activities in these areas.

The combined Section Reservation Report-Enrollment Card is being developed in response to faculty concern that better use be made of their time in relation to the clerical detail involved in completing forms, he said.

"This combined report will list courses requested by a student, and indicate the courses that have been reserved," he said.

"In addition," King said, "all copies of this report should be readable as it will be printed by the Data Processing Department, in contrast to forms that have been handwritten in the past."

Counsel Sets Rights Talk

Carl Levin, legal counsel of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission will speak tonight at the annual meeting of the American Civil Liberties of Michigan, Greater Lansing Branch.

The meeting, which is to be held at 8 in the East Lansing Savings and Loan Building, 303 Abbott Road, is open to the public.

Levin, a long-time ACLU member, will speak on "Legal Aspects of the Jurisdiction of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission." This is a subject of current interest since a court test is pending challenging the jurisdiction of that body.

Reports on the activities of the Lansing branch as well as the state organization and nominations of executive board members for the coming year are also on the meeting's agenda.

Social Leaders Speak Of Aims

The opportunity to learn about different political ideologies and thoughts was the goal of the 1965 Michigan Jaycee Governmental Affairs Seminar held Saturday at the Jack Tar Hotel.

Guest speakers at the morning session included James Griffin, secretary of the Wayne State University Young Socialist Alliance (Socialist Worker's Party), and Miss Elizabeth Hirschfield of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party.

Other speakers were William Thomas of the Lansing Patriotic Society, James C. Horvath of the Socialist Labor Party, and Jeffrey B. Kimball, of Georgetown University and delegate to the United States Mission to the U.N. for the American Council of the Atlantic Association of Young Political Leaders.

James Griffin of the Socialist Worker's Party said that the origin of the party can be traced back to Marx, Engels and Trotsky.

Griffin advocated that mankind must take the governmental power held by the small minority. Rational leadership must dominate the country.

Miss Elizabeth Hirschfield, of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party is an active civil rights worker who spent time in the Mississippi State Penitentiary as a result of a 1961 Freedom Ride to Jackson. The conditions that exist in Selma, Alabama, can be found in both the north and the south, says Miss Hirschfield.

William Thomas, of the Lansing Patriotic Society said that the Society is basically conservative and progressive in belief.

Debaters Competing At Indiana

Members of the MSU Department of Speech and the Spartan Forensic Squad left Sunday for the Second National Student Congress of the Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha National Forensic Honorary Fraternity at University of Indiana, Bloomington, Ind.

The congress, to be held today through Wednesday will feature competition in debate, student congress and persuasive and extemporaneous speaking.

Representing the Department of Speech will be Kenneth G. Hance, national treasurer of DSR-TKA, and Jerry M. Anderson, a member of the four-man National Planning Committee which will be directing the student congress events. Dan Millar will serve as a critic judge in forensic events.

James Hudek, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, junior, and member of the National Student Council of DSR-TKA, will be directing the National Model Initiation of new student members.

Those participating in debate events will be: Kermit Terrell, Colorado Springs, Colo. junior; Sharon Vondra, Greensburg, Pa., sophomore; Kenneth Newton, Trenton, N. J., sophomore; Richard Brautigam, Albion freshman; Ronald Smith, Davison freshman; and Hudek.

Hudek and Brautigam will also participate in the extemporaneous speaking competition and Newton and Smith will participate in the persuasive speaking event.

Susan Harris, Flushing Freshman, will be Michigan State's representative in the student congress.

'Knife In Water' Arrogance Study

A study in arrogance, "Knife in the Water," to be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. today and Tuesday in Fairchild, places three disdainful people on board a sailboat for one event-filled day.

"Knife in the Water," a Polish film, won the International Film Critics' Award at the 1962 Venice Film Festival with its story of a husband, a wife and a youth, each determined to display his own superiority.

The husband, Andrezej, picks up a young hitchhiker who throws himself in front of his car. Andrezej and his wife, Christine, are motoring to a lake for a Sunday outing on board their small yacht.

He invites the arrogant hitchhiker along for the outing with the object of demonstrating his own mental, physical and social prowess. Tension builds as Christine, disdainful of both men, continues to intervene for the young man, whose attraction to her does not go unnoticed.

The situation is set for an explosion, and director-writer Roman Polanski creates for Andrezej a choice in the end between his own guilt as a murderer and his wife's unfaithfulness.

Freshmen May Enter 'Wilson Wipeout' Rally

The Wilson "Wipeout" car rally April 24 will be a gimmick rally testing the driver's skill of following coded instructions. Any MSU student is eligible to drive, including freshmen.

Entries will be separated into two divisions, American and foreign cars. Trophies valued at $250 will be awarded at a dance after the rally.

Registration fees of $1.25 per person will be donated to a worthy cause.

Registration of cars continues this week at the Campbell's truck according to the following schedule: Berkeley--10 to 12 Monday, 1 to 3 Tuesday and Wednesday, 3 to 4:30 Thursday.

Conrad--1 to 3 Monday and Friday, 3 to 4:30 Tuesday, 10 to 12 Wednesday.

Bessey--3 to 4:30 Monday and Wednesday, 10 to 12 Tuesday and Thursday.

Registration blanks are available at the Wilson desk from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Cars may also enter at the rally from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Pioneer Dance

The Pioneers, a newly formed club working to aid blind students on campus, will hold its first meeting tonight at 8:30 in the Union Oak Room.

The club is planning a "Li' Abner and Daisy Mae" dance. Sighted persons as well as blind are invited to attend the meeting.

Drinking Violations Charged

Alcohol flowed freely this weekend and some arrests followed, according to University police.

In the lobby of South Case Hall, drinking students were thought to be the cause of about $200 damages.

Damages included the dismantling of two large potted plants and the destruction of a painting. A wall plaque was also destroyed and three ceiling speakers were stolen from a piped-in music system.

University police made several arrests in Lots F and X.

Charged as minors in possession of alcohol in Lot X were Laurence Arthur Kater, 18, Shaker Heights, Ohio, freshman, and Stephen H. Batson, 20, Brockton, Mass., freshman.

In Lot F near Wilson Hall, a trio of non-students from Detroit were arrested on alcohol charges. Frederick A. Wright, 22, was charged with illegal possession of alcohol, while Eugene N. J. Slyziuk, 19, and Edgar T. Clapp Jr., 20, were charged as minors in possession of alcohol.

Two MSU students were charged with disorderly conduct early Saturday morning. They are Gary Garcia, 19, Allen Park sophomore, and Thomas W. Smith, Southgate sophomore.

Information On Protest Trip

Further information on the bus trip to Washington protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam is available by calling Rheinhard Mohr, chairman of the MSU Student Committee for Peace in Viet Nam. His phone number is 337-9551.

Contributions should be sent to Harvey Goldman, treasurer, at 139 North Wonders, not to New York City.
