Twister Deaths Climb To 249, 5000 Injured

Tornado Assistance Set Up

Violent storms raged through the Midwest last week, leaving a wake of destruction. The storms came to the region's attention on April 12, killing at least 249 people and injuring as many as 10,000 others. The destruction was widespread, with homes, businesses, and schools affected. The Red Cross and other assistance organizations set up relief centers in affected areas.

Space Story Repudiated By Scientists

Scientists around the world have rejected the notion that radio signals are a sign of intelligent life. The proposal, which was made by Russian scientist Konstantin Tsiolkovsky, was that radio signals could indicate the presence of extraterrestrial intelligence. However, the majority of scientists now believe that the signals are merely natural phenomena, possibly emissions from natural radio sources like stars.

Viet Cong Guerillas Slay Captured U.S. Aid Official

A Japanese official was killed last week in the Philippines when a Viet Cong guerilla group attacked and killed him while he was working as a captured U.S. Aid official. The attack was one of several that have occurred in recent weeks, highlighting the ongoing conflict in the region.

Senate To Reconsider Probe Of School Board

The Senate is expected to vote on a resolution that would allow for the investigation of the Michigan State Board of Education. The resolution, which was introduced by Rep. John D. Brademas, is in response to allegations of corruption and mismanagement within the board.

Board Of Trustees Heads MSU Faculty Organization

The Board of Trustees of Michigan State University has been elected to serve as the official representative of the faculty. The board's role is to ensure that the faculty's interests are represented in the university's decision-making processes.

Election Precautions Said Best In History

The state of Michigan has taken several precautions to ensure the integrity of the election process. These include the use of electronic voting machines, the implementation of a voter registration system, and the appointment of election monitors. These measures are intended to prevent fraud and ensure that the voting process is fair and transparent.

U.S. Astronauts Know It All: Iguana Cooking To Geology

The U.S. astronaut program has been exploring the possibility of sending astronauts to the moon. In preparation for this mission, the astronauts have been learning about geology. In one instance, astronauts were taught the art of iguana cooking as a way to understand the environment on the moon.

Nine MSU Officials Get Committee Posts

Senior Candidates' Statements

Jim Graham

In my campaign I have stressed the importance of winning. Students should be given any opportunity that is available to them. I think we should maintain the Student Board in its present state. I do not think students need a reform movement. I have always believed in the Student Board.

Dick Sanderson

I believe students should have a voice in the administration of their university. I think we should give students a chance to participate in the decision-making process. I think we should give students a voice in the administration of their university.

Charles Stoddard

I feel that the Student Board should represent the students. I think we should give students a voice in the administration of their university. I think we should give students a voice in the administration of their university.

Golfers On Right Beam:
Employ 'Educational' TV

By JOE MITCH
State News Sports Writer

The Jack Nicklaus phenomenon has inspired the golf squad at Michigan State University to think outside the box and embrace a new approach to training and development.

Nicklaus, who won the NCAA individual golf championship this year, proved to other players the value of pushing themselves to the limit and not taking anything for granted.

"He showed us that we can still improve our game even after winning big tournaments," said one of MSU's golfers. "He inspired us to keep working hard and stay committed to the sport."

Walter Paul, director of the school's Career Center, says that he almost never has trouble getting his students to do two, or four, or six hours a week of work. He says that the students he has had trouble with have been those who have no ideas about what they want to do. Paul is ready with research, facts and figures on the various jobs that students are doing, and he finds that his present students are very interested in the Audubon at the time of the sale.
