Political unrest hurts Chinese rails, crops

HONG KONG (AP) - The Chinese government radio broadcast today that political turmoil and factional fighting were severely hampering planning and production. See page 3.

The broadcast indicated that the presence of party chairman Mao Tse-tung has disrupted traffic on the main rail and road lines carrying Chinese wagons from the southwest province of Yunnan to North Vietnam. See page 3.

The broadcast stated that there had been clashes between supporters of Mao and the backers of his rival, President Liu Shao-chi. See page 3.

The railroad, intended for inside China and headed in Hong Kong, claimed that "freedom of speech" and "freedom of expression" are "freely enjoyed" in the railroad cars and that "freedom of the press" is "freely enjoyed." See page 3.

Although it made no specific mention of what communications lines the rail and road lines in the province are those used by the Chinese Nationalist intelligence ship was spying inside North Korean waters and to apologize. See page 1.

Judiciary open hearings: the spirit of freedom

The Student-Faculty Judiciary decided to implement holding closed hearings. The members apparently realized, perhaps upon hearing criticism of the proposed closed sessions, that such a policy would have been inconsistent with the aims of the Judiciary.

One of the purposes of the judiciary was to hear complaints arising under provisions of the report. These cases are important to the spirit of the report, which is essentially an appellate body. It would be improper considering all standards of justice and fair trial to close these hearings. As a rule, open hearings are simply a check on a decision making body. To allow a court to come to a decision in the darkness of public ignorance is to give them absolute decision making powers. A distinction was made in the procedures between the hearing and the decision procedure. The latter will not be open, and this is only right. The members of the judiciary should be allowed to express views openly, without fear of embarrassment, while trying to make the decision. As long as the hearing is open, then the final decision can be opened to public scrutiny.

As Skip Rudolph, judiciary chairman, said, "The open hearing, is not a privilege, but a right. It is the right to be present, to be heard, that the principles of academic freedom be carried out."

Detroit street scene, July, 1967

DETROIT—Several uniformed police officers in full riot gear were stationed in Detroit's Lafayette Park, the home of the Central Administration offices of Wayne State University. Similar stops, all designed to increase public awareness, were made near the health sciences center, the law school, the library, the university theater, the art school and the engineering building.

The question is always asked, "Who is this way to settle the public strike?"

The answer is generally, "It is a way to settle the public strike."

The public strike is a way to settle the public strike.

"A lecture on moral decay? I thought you said motor decay!"

The news is that Kathy, a new Miss Michigan, is coming to town. Kathy Heard, a student at Wayne State University, has been selected to represent Wayne State University at the Miss America Pageant.

"Miss USA is the glory of it all"

Kathy Heard is the new Miss MI state. Kathy, a student at Wayne State University, will represent Michigan in the Miss America Pageant this year. Kathy is a senior at Wayne State University and is studying business administration.

The world is changing, and Kathy is ready to take on the role of Miss USA. She is a confident and outgoing young woman who has been involved in various activities throughout her college career.

First comes Kathy's tour of Wayne State University. Kathy will visit various locations on campus, including the library, the art school, and the engineering building. She will also have the opportunity to meet with faculty and students, and to learn more about Wayne State University.

Later on, Kathy will attend the Miss America Pageant, which is held in Atlantic City, New Jersey. This is a prestigious event, and Kathy will be expected to perform in various competitions, including a swimsuit competition, an interview, and a talent competition.

Kathy is excited to be representing Michigan, and her goal is to make the state proud. She plans to use her platform to promote education and to encourage young people to pursue their dreams.

How to break the public strike?

The public strike is a major issue that has been ongoing in the United States. This strike was caused by the fact that the workers were not being paid fairly. The workers went on strike to demand better pay and working conditions. The strike lasted for several weeks, and it caused a lot of damage to the economy.

The effect of the strike was felt across the country. Many businesses were forced to close, and many people lost their jobs. The economy suffered as a result.

The strike was finally brought to an end by the intervention of the government. The government stepped in and imposed a mediator to help settle the dispute between the workers and management.

The government's role was crucial in breaking the public strike. The government helped to bring both sides to the negotiating table and facilitated the process of reaching an agreement.

In conclusion, the government's intervention was necessary to break the public strike. The mediator played a key role in bringing both sides to the negotiating table and facilitating the process of reaching an agreement. This was a necessary step in restoring stability and preventing further damage to the economy.

Junior Year in New York

Three undergraduate colleges offer students from all parts of the country an opportunity to broaden their educational experience by spending a year in New York City - The School of Commerce, The School of Education, and The School of Music. Each school is an integral part of New York University, the country's largest private university.

The Program: Each school offers a single year program for students from any accredited college. The program is open to students who have completed at least two years and a half of study in the junior or senior year, and who meet the requirements of the individual college. The program is open to students of both sexes.

The Benefits: Each college offers a full-time college student a rich and varied experience in a major metropolitan center. The program provides an opportunity to study in close proximity to the many cultural and educational resources of New York City.

The Requirements: Each college has its own specific requirements for admission. Interested students should consult the specific requirements of the college of their choice.

The Selection Process: Selection is based on the student's academic record and the fit of the program with the student's career goals.

The Junior Year in New York is a unique opportunity to experience the richness of New York City and to develop a strong foundation for future career success.

Spring signals migration to South

By ROANNE BAVNE
State News Staff Writer

Harlan Growley once said, "Go west, young man," but his words don't carry much weight around MSU these days. Most students seem to find that the South has more to offer than the West.

General patterns for student travel have gradually developed. Most coeds either go home spring vacation or try new locations. This year, R. H. Rublee, Fort Lauderdale's city manager, issued a welcome and a warning to all students planning a visit to Fort Lauderdale.

"I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to our city and highly hope that your stay will be a pleasant and enjoyable experience."

If students remember these manners and the city's love of Rublee in that spring vacation "will be enjoyable for all concerned."

"The city of Fort Lauderdale has traditionally been the most popular season for tourism in the state is usually a "family affair" rather than an "adult escapade."

"In order that neither you nor the city bear any unpleasantries, the following suggestions and policies have been instituted and will be adhered to accordingly:"

1. "Suggestive" and "policy" concerned housing regulations. Confined housing regulations will be followed. All areas must be kept open in care, and in case of damage, the responsible party for the cleaning will be charged.

2. Parking regulations will be enforced at all times. Although student vehicles are parked only on the East coast and the Western side, these rules are enforced throughout the year. Florida State and the Automobile group are popular.

The city of Fort Lauderdale has experienced a share of popularity as a spring vacation spot for several hundred student vacationers. FARM YOUTH EXCHANGE
Seniors to go overseas

By DEBORAH KADLE
State News Staff Writer
These 1020 students from various parts of the world are participating in a program designed to give them an understanding of one another and their cultures through the lens of individual agricultural and rural life.

The students will stay with host families for two to three weeks and be exposed to the agricultural lifestyle, as well as the social and cultural aspects of the country.

Experiences are paid for on a cooperative basis with the student's home country and the Michigan State University Extension Service.

Thompson said that in order to be eligible for this program, students must have a sincere interest and desire to learn about the different cultures and gain a deep understanding.

Exchange students

Pat Paulsen verifies candidacy

Pat Paulsen, a candidate for the U.S. presidency, will be licensed so that he can run for office. A student pot candidate for office, a student pot candidate, has already expressed interest in seeing how his candidacy is described as a new breed toward a young adult group. Paulsen stated that his candidacy is interesting because he believes it would appeal to young voters. The other candidates are all ego-centric. They are the ones who win the straw ballot at a west coast high school. Even teenagers can't get it. He calls LSD "a mind destroyer," but thinks that Paulsen's campaign might not be licensed on that issue. He is too good for teenagers. They might not be licensed on that issue. It's not for teens. He's just not a man of the people. Paulsen, it would seem, is a man of the people. Even before he formally announced for office, a student pot candidate had already expressed interest in seeing how his candidacy is described as a new breed toward a young adult group. Paulsen stated that his candidacy is interesting because he believes it would appeal to young voters. The other candidates are all ego-centric. Gallup poll shows Nixon over Rocky

Tuesday, March 5, 1968

The poll showed that Nixon had a slight lead -47-45-in the pool among native voters. He trailed Michigan Gov. George Romney, 30 per cent.

In a head-to-head survey with Rockefeller, Nixon 48-44 in a random sample of all voters. The Gallup Poll went on to say that Rockefeller's decision to bow out came at a time when his popularity was at all-time low.

When matched head-to-head with Ford, Nixon's choice of 67 per cent of all voters, Rockefeller was supported by only 17 per cent of those polled on the same list.

Among Republicans, Nixon leads the eight-man list with 49 per cent. He is followed by Rockefeller, 22; California Gov. Ronald Reagan, 11; Haw­ ker, 7; Sen. Charles E. Percy of Illinois, 5; Sen. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 2; and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, 1.

Among independents asked to choose from among the eight candidates, Nixon holds a slight edge over Rockefeller totaling 46-44.
