

for me. Division of the voting strength may bring about the election of an undesirable candidate.

Mr. Murray denied he was a candidate for alderman.

Rothenberg an Entry.

The announcement that Paul W. Rothenberg had filed a petition as a Republican candidate for alderman in the Thirty-fourth ward caused talk at political headquarters. Rothenberg is under indictment by the Cooper grand jury for subornation of perjury in connection with the Twentieth ward vote fraud cases.

Rothenberg says he is a member of the Demos faction of the Republican party. Representative Joseph C. Blaha of the Nineteenth senatorial district and Charles Vavrik, Republican ward committeeman, both Demos leaders in that ward, said at night the Republican organization was not back of Rothenberg.

"It has been openly charged," said Mr. Blaha at night, "that Rothenberg's candidacy is a part of a deal with Joseph Kostner, Democratic ward committeeman, to weaken the Republican ticket by securing away a strong candidate and thereby giving Kostner's candidate, Ald. John Toman, a better chance of reelection. The Republican organization in this ward has not endorsed any candidate. We are looking for a strong man."

The Kostner referred to is under indictment for alleged frauds in the Sixth precinct of the Thirty-fourth ward. Kostner and Otto Hadacek asked Judge Richard E. Burke during the day for immediate trial. Arguments will be heard on Monday.

Question His Eligibility.

Politicians raised the point whether or not Rothenberg is an eligible candidate for the aldermanic nomination in the Thirty-fourth ward. At the recent hearing before Judge Wade he said he was residing at the Bradley hotel, near the Criminal Court building, on the north side, and that he had been living there, under custody of detectives from State's Attorney Hoyne's office, for several weeks.

The law provides a candidate for alderman must be a legal voter in the ward in which he seeks election. The point is raised that Rothenberg lost his residence in the Thirty-fourth ward after he had stayed for thirty days at the Bradley hotel.

John F. Stewart in Seventh Ward.

John F. Stewart of 6944 Vernon avenue announced his willingness to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for alderman from the Seventh ward at a night massmeeting in Alberta Hall, Park Manor. The announcement was accepted generally as the signal for the opening of one of the hardest political fights in Hyde Park. The following resolution, introduced by W. F. Mulvihill, started the fireworks.

John F. Stewart, by business training and public activity and by strength of character, by hatred of shams, and by aggressive integrity has gained the full confidence of all who know him; therefore, be it

Resolved, That his neighbors, regardless of party affiliations, recognizing his ability and respecting his manliness, present him to the voters of the Seventh ward as a candidate for alderman who is worthy of the high intelligence and civic virtue of the ward.

Mrs. John Buckingham, A. S. Irvine, the Rev. R. Murray, and others spoke for the resolution. After it was adopted Mr. Stewart announced he was in the running. The retiring alderman, John H. Helwig, who is not a candidate for reelection, presided at the meeting.

John N. Kimball, backed by Ald. Charles E. Merriam and a strong element of independent and Progressive party men, will be a non-partisan candidate.

New Aldermanic Entries.

Four new aldermanic petitions in the leading parties filed with City Clerk Connerly are: Third ward—B. V. Ober, 4208 Greenwood avenue; Republican; Twelfth ward—Jack Simons, 3108 Sixteenth street; Republican; Twelfth ward—Fred W. Schlecht, 2736 Ogden avenue; Republican; Twenty-third ward—Adolph D. Weiner, 422 St. James place; Democrat.

Moose O. K. Gary in Second.

The executive committee of the Second Ward Progressive club met last night in Entertainers' hall, at Thirty-fifth street and Indiana avenue. It endorsed, as far as their power and bylaws allow, the candidacy of Moose O. K. Gary, who is running against Gus Peterson for the aldermanic nomination.

Morris Bollbach of 1848 Larrabee street was picked at night as the Progressive candidate for alderman in the Twenty-second ward. Three candidates appeared before the meeting of the ward Progressive club—Mr. Bollbach, John Laszalo, and Conrad Becker. Mr. Bollbach is 28 years old and is a candy salesman.

Socialists Enter Race.

Petitions of Socialist candidates for alderman from most of the wards were filed with the city clerk. Three are women. The candidates are:

TOO MANY LAWS SPOIL JUSTICE

Levy Mayer Says Complicated System Leads to General Disrespect.

URGES UNIFORM RULES.

Chicagoan Holds Majority Should Replace Unanimity for Juries.

Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 30.—[Special.]—Levy Mayer of Chicago tonight told the Rock Island Bar Association it is time for lawyers of the country to quit ruminating on the past greatness of the profession and begin active work to drive away abuses that have crept in.

He said disrespect for law is more apparent in the United States than in any other country. He gave as a prime cause the vast number of laws on petty subjects, quoting the remark that "we have been corrupted by our laws," and referred to the resultant growth of chicanery, trickery, and corruption among lawyers.

Pleads for Radical Reforms.

Several recommendations were offered by Mr. Mayer, among them these:

All practice statutes should be repealed, and the Supreme court invested with power to enact simple, uniform rules of practice, subject to revision, thus providing elasticity and rules abreast the times.

The presiding judge should have increased power in jury trials, commensurate with that of the presiding judge in federal courts.

The requirement of unanimity of jurors in reaching a verdict should be abolished to do away with "hung" juries and suspicion of corruption. Substitute two-thirds majority in civil and three-fourths in criminal cases. Provide a fourth juror always ready to replace one who may fall sick.

Change of venue should be allowed only on submission of facts introduced by the "fear of prejudice," thus averting most of the delay and ulterior motive.

Prosecutor should be allowed to comment on refusal of defendant to testify. Official court experts should be provided, eliminating "legalized purchased, perjured testimony, where extent of the injury depends on elasticity of the witness' conscience and the size of the purchaser's pocketbook."

If a defendant is found insane his punishment should not be a mere matter of temporary shift and law evasion.

Urges Lawyers to Unite.

"If these reforms be made law in this state and we lawyers, by a united, interested, and determined effort, can bring them about," Mr. Mayer said, "then an Illinois court will not fit the old negro's definition as 'a place where they dispense with justice.'"

"Respect for and obedience to law in America have been declining and today a low ebb. For this condition we members of the bar are in part responsible. Today our motives and actions are questioned. From all sides lawyers and their methods are the recipients of severe public and private attacks. None of us is unmindful of the leading part that lawyers have played in American history, but we cannot live in the past, nor survive if we are sustained only by memories of bygone deeds."

Mr. Mayer quoted criticisms of present tendencies by President Wilson, Mr. Taft, Mr. Roosevelt, and others. He quoted Harry C. Selfridge, the London merchant, as remarking that he was informed by his solicitor that a small opening cut in an interior partition violated the lease. "In Chicago," he quoted Mr. Selfridge, "I would have instructed my attorneys to maintain the opening; in London I immediately have played in the past, nor survive if we are sustained only by memories of bygone deeds."

REVOKES LICENSE ON LEVEE.

Mayor Takes Action Against the Casino at 2101 South Dearborn Street.

Another landmark of the redlight district was swatted by Mayor Harrison yesterday. He revoked the saloon license of Ollie Davis, proprietor of the Casino, 2101 South Dearborn street. He acted on the recommendation of Cap. Michael Ryan of the Twenty-second street station, who reported the place had been raided twice.

The mayor also announced that his private investigator reported three saloons in the district as violators of the 1 o'clock closing most.

He further said the investigator found most of the activity in the district caused by slumming parties.

DEBATE ON PRESS CENSORSHIP

Negative Side Proclaiming It Would Be Unjust Awarded Victory at St. Cyril's College.

Four students at St. Cyril's college last night debated the justice of a censorship of the press. The debate was held in St. Ambrose auditorium, at East Forty-seventh street and Ellis avenue. Prof. William H. Cahill, E. P. Marun, and J. E. Delaney were the judges.

On the affirmative side—favoring censorship—were Harry E. Weed and John E. Hugueter and on the negative side were Clement C. Cody and Leo A. Long.

The decision of the judges gave the victory to the negative side—against censorship.

Illegal Operation Kills Woman.

Miss Helen M. Huggins, 4323 Van Buren street, died at the county hospital yesterday as the result of an illegal operation, self-performed, according to the police.

From the Bedside of a Dying Man.

By the Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus.

I AM writing these words while I sit by the side of a man who is dying, and he but yesterday hoped he would be able to attend church next Sunday—the first time in years. I am trying to tell him what Jesus told the Samaritan woman: that "God is a spirit and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth," and that "neither in this mountain nor yet in Jerusalem shall ye worship the Father." And yet, if he were able I would advise him to go to church next Sunday.

I go further still. I would have him go to church just now, but I would have to be mightily assured he should not mistake an example of church architecture for the spiritual reality of God, whose presence alone makes a church even respectable. I have just told him how God's prophet points to a house and temple nobler and more pleasing unto God than any edifice, and I have quoted the words: "To this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit and trembleth at my word."

He knows I believe that churches are instrumentalities to be used by man on his way to a civilization which is described as heaven, and of which the revelator says: "I saw no temple there, for the Lord God and the Lamb were the temple of it. Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men." It is good to use these helps on the way. However, I think as I write by this bedside that both my friend, who is so near to the other world, and I, who am so eager to live here on the earth and labor a while longer, have constituted a true church of God in Jesus Christ, and we now are both attending church.

Therefore, I say, let us not expect too much out of going to church next Sunday morning. Let us all go and by all means continue to go Sunday morning after Sunday morning, but let us go with such ideas and ideals as will be constructive of real faith, and not destructive. We must go to Him and find Him who is the saving reality in tabernacle and temple and church.

The value of going to church at all abides in something more and greater than the church. Churchianity is not Christianity, unless the church is vastly more than a building to which we go tomorrow. The church must also be something more than the good people who gather inside of its walls lest they be lost and condemned forever if they do not so associate themselves. It is not an aggregation even of saints, but an organism of God.

Going to church is not going to an ecclesiastical edifice. The phrase "going to church" means less than nothing—indeed, it spells disappointment to the soul—unless the church is Christ's rejuvenated and reorganized humanity being instructed and inspired for the purpose of making this a better world for everybody while one is here, and a sublime approach to any and all worlds which may be beyond.

The gospel taster who goes to church tomorrow in even a patronizing mood will probably get no further than the pew in which he sits. He will be in the building, but he will not be in the church of God in Christ Jesus. He will be disappointed. Even a peripatetic sampler of churchianity never gets a drop of Christ's water of life to his parched lips. The oftener he goes to church, with his ideas that the church is made of mortar and wood and brick and stone, the more dominating is his pitiful illusion.

Your real church is where humanity is exalted, by the grace and influence of Jesus of Nazareth, into Christ-likeness. The songs and prayers and preachings all conspire to make any poor soul who is "down and out" spiritually believe in himself and in his future, through the revealing of our humanity in this man Jesus, who lived divinely.

Do not think you have gone to church if you have not come to this setting of the truth for you, powerfully uttered and illustrated in sermon and hymn and the whole atmosphere. When you feel this you will be a churchgoer indeed. Go to church to get a vision of your duty to all men and it will nerve you to help to maintain the altar fires in all the ecclesiastical edifices of this city, where more than two hundred thousand students come to keep their enthusiasms warm and to grow into fine manhood and womanhood while they are away from home. You would no more forsake the church than your nation.

You will not get to church on Sunday, even if you get into the "amen corner" or into the pulpit, unless you come up against the fact that you are a stunted man, without availing yourself of what Christ's gospel has to say in comfort, inspiration, and noble commandment—all to make you godlike and glorious. Manhood is what the church exists for. All her salvations are for this one thing—to produce a man in Christ Jesus.

Man is born a religious being—"incurably religious," says Sabatier. Your religion is your life and your life is in your religion. It will content itself with a snore or a golf stick Sunday morning, or it must have the music and ecstasy, with all the wide open upper spaces of worship. If you are to be a man in the full sense, go where you can get these. You will not be disappointed then in going to church. But let not our ministry be disappointed if our friends shall come on Sunday and we shall miss them on the next Holy Sabbath. For a single Sunday we shall be glad to have them. Only, let us be sure that this event is an awful challenge to the pulpit. Only spiritual vitality will warm with growth and life. We must learn, as a great preacher has told us, that the one answer which summons our attention to the question, "How shall we fill the pews?" is this plain and cogent reply: "Fill the pulpit."

Go to Church Sunday.

By Dr. Emil G. Hirsch.

Men are as a rule engrossed in the pursuit of their daily tasks or occasional pleasures and are apt to forget there is a higher side to life. To remind them of these deeper things the function of organized religion is to lead them to church or synagogue may not, perhaps, accomplish all that is desirable, but it will certainly help to bring the truth home that "man shall not live by bread alone." It is to be hoped that the occasional visitor will be so deeply impressed that he will resolve to repeat the experience and become a regular attendant at service. For this reason the establishment of a go-to-church Sunday movement must be heartily commended.

CUT HIGH COST OF GRADUATING

Students of R. T. Crane Technical High Have Simple Dinner Instead of Elaborate Ball.

To escape the expense of an elaborate reception and ball the graduating class of the R. T. Crane Technical High school held an informal dinner last night at the Hotel Sherman. Resolutions were adopted to the effect that it is for the best interests of other graduating classes to hold informal dinners instead of elaborate balls. The regulation graduating ceremonies were held last night.

Holdup Men Baffled by Old Style Contrivance in West Side Shoe Store.

An old style drawer under the counter saved Nicholas Raethovich much money last night. He owns a shoe store at 1704 West Fourteenth place. Three men backed him against a wall with revolvers and tried to open the drawer. They threatened to shoot Raethovich if he didn't show them how. He pretended ignorance of their language. His wife coming in, screamed, and the men fled.

BODY OF CULLOM AT SPRINGFIELD

Only Intimate Friends and Relatives Admitted to Ridgely Home.

SET FUNERAL TOMORROW

Many Chicagoans Meet Party Here; Delegations Will Go to Capital Tonight.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 30.—The body of Shelby M. Cullom was brought to Springfield this afternoon and tonight lies in the library in the residence of Mrs. Charles Ridgely.

Only intimate friends and relatives were admitted to the Ridgely residence tonight. The public must wait until the body is taken in state to the capital at noon tomorrow.

The funeral services will be held on Sunday, at 2:30 o'clock, in Representatives' hall. It was observed that as the train from Chicago bearing the funeral party sped through the smaller cities the few men who gathered there were white haired and old.

Veterans Await Body's Arrival.

It was cold here when the train arrived, and the snow was falling, but again the crowd of 100 or more were mostly men well along in years, although a younger generation was in evidence.

Among the former were Dr. William James, William Ridgely, John W. Bunn, and Dr. George V. Paschal, all of whom recalled the days when Abraham Lincoln and Shelby M. Cullom attended court together here. Among the pioneers the two names are inseparable in talking of the old days when all were young and the civil war had not yet begun.

OLD FRIENDS RECEIVE BODY.

The Cullom funeral party arrived in Chicago from Washington early yesterday over the Pennsylvania and departed at 11:30 o'clock over the Alton for Springfield. Accompanying the body of the deceased former senator were the sister-in-law, Miss Victoria Fisher, the son-in-law, William Barrett Ridgely, and United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman.

At the train when it arrived at Union station were many close personal and political friends of Mr. Cullom, including members of the Republican county organization.

Roger C. Sullivan, with a party of Democratic leaders, former Mayor Fred A. Busse, Col. Frank O. Lowden, Corbus P. Gardner, and others will leave for Springfield tonight.

BABIES BRING ABOUT REUNION OF TWO DISUNITED FAMILIES.

Infants Unknowningly Cause Fathers Charged with Wife Abandonment to Return to Their Homes.

Joseph Wagner of 1823 South Ashland avenue listened in amazement yesterday when Judge Thir in the Court of Domestic Relations upbraided him for abandoning his wife and child.

"The wires is crossed, judge," he said finally. "I ain't a happy father."

Wagner followed the direction of Judge Thir's finger and beheld a 3 week old child in Mrs. Wagner's arms. He gazed for a long time, mouth open, then grinned.

"Not bad," he beamed. "Not bad at all. Come on, Mary. It's all right, judge, we're going back home."

Ben Wall stood obdurate before Judge Thir yesterday and demanded a jury trial. He was charged with abandoning his wife, living at 425 North Bernard street.

As he insisted, there came a gurgle from 2 year old Gilbert Wall in his mother's arms.

"Pa, pa, pa," he observed. "Pa come."

Wall paused and the courtroom was still. At a word from the judge Wall walked across the room and took the baby, still laughing.

"I'm going home with 'em, judge," said Wall.

"You'd better," said Judge Thir. "He's a wise child. You've paroled for a year."

SECRETARY HANNA UNDER FIRE

City Expenditures Commission Considers Attack.

MERIT BOARD HIS TARGET.

Richert and Holding Resent Action of Employee.

Ald. John A. Richert returned to the city hall yesterday after ten days of illness, suffering from overwork on the budget. His appearance was the signal for a meeting of the commission on city expenditures to consider the attack made by its secretary, F. D. Hanna, on the civil service commission.

"The most carefully oiled and finely organized political machine in Chicago," Hanna told reporters on Jan. 29, "is operated under the name of civil service. There are resented in civil service as big a bunch of crooks and highbinders as will be found anywhere in Chicago."

The next day Hanna charged the civil service commission with overlooking repeated violation of the specifications governing the amount of water in pavement oil bought by the bureau of streets. The commission determined to hold a hearing on this charge today and as soon as it is completed the fate of Mr. Hanna will be considered. It is intimated he will lose his job.

Indorse Work of Merit Board.

Following the commission meeting, Ald. Richert and Chairman Holding, the two council representatives, issued a statement highly indorsing the work done by the civil service commission and its efficiency division.

"We feel strongly that the statements recently made in the public press by the secretary of our commission are entirely unjustifiable from our observation and information," proceeded the statement. "We desire to state the original reports of the efficiency division did not specifically cover the matter of contracts, but, on the contrary, called to the attention of the expenditures commission the fact that it was inadvisable such an investigation be made at any of our contracts of this bureau."

Will Take Up Hanna's Case.

"When these reports are considered and necessary action taken thereon, the commission on city expenditures will take up the unwarranted attacks by this commission's secretary upon the civil service commission and the work of its efficiency division."

CHICAGO BACTERIOLOGIST FINDS MEASLES ORGANISM?

Dr. A. Schnepff Announces He Has Discovered Producer of Disease and Gives Description.

Dr. A. Schnepff, professor of bacteriology in the Chicago college of medicine, last night announced his discovery of the organism which produces measles. The announcement, accompanied by experiments with the germ, was made before an assembly of physicians at the Hospital college at Thirty-ninth street and Rhodes avenue.

"The measles bacilli," Dr. Schnepff said, "travel in groups of twenty or thirty. Often they are found in larger bunches. They are to be found in large bunches under the skin about the second or third day after the fever has set in. They are rod shaped."

"I have learned that the virulence of the disease of measles is on the increase, and has been for the last few years. Fumigation is necessary to overcome the virulence of the organisms. They are able to live on the playthings and other things with which the child comes into contact, and stay alive for from six to eight months."
