

AMERICA'S FIRST ACTRESS, according to Mr. Percy Hammond, dramatic critic for "The Tribune." Miss Ethel Barrymore, coming from a family whose activities have been identified with what is best on the American stage, and possessing extraordinary histrionic talents, combined with a keen intelligence, has gone into the movies. In private life she is Mrs. Russell Colt. She is pictured here as the "Widowed European Mother" in a charity tableau held in New York.

(Photograph copyright by Underwood & Underwood.)