

AS MAHATMA GANDHI MARCHED TO THE SEA—The expedition of the apostle of passive resistance pauses along an Indian river near the city of Ahmadabad en route to the scene of the defiant violation of British salt laws. Gandhi, who is somewhere in the picture, forded the stream with disciples. (Pacific and Atlantic © photo.)

AWAY TO A NAVAL RENDEZ-VOUS — Steaming to the high seas in the name of the German republic, a man-o'-war, identified by the photographer as the battleship Schleswig-Holstein, passes through the Kaiser Wilhelm canal on the way from Kiel to the North sea, whence it was to cruise away with its sisters of the fleet for a "practice cruise." (P. and A. © photo.)

THE FERMENTING OF THE INDIAN YEAST—Bridge at Ahmadabad thronged by sympathizers following Gandhi to the sea. Gandhi refused to use the bridge; his fording of the stream was another of his incessant protests against England. (Pacific and Atlantic © photo.)

THE ELVES OF SPRING ARE WITH US AGAIN—Three classic dancers, tripping airy measures upon the sward at Los Angeles, give visual token that the month of showers is fading and that of flowers is at hand. (Associated Press photo.)

TYING A WORLD MARK—Equaling the record time of 9 6-10 seconds in the century, Hector Dyer of Stanford breaks the tape with Frank Wykoff of Southern California, 1928 Olympic sprinter, in his wake. It was a highlight of a dual meet at Los Angeles. Note that Dyer has already relaxed, while Wykoff is tense with final effort. (Pacific and Atlantic photo.)

PARIS FASHIONS AS PARISIENNES WEAR THEM—Three real life impressions from famous salons found in the style scene of France. Left, a navy blue serge tailleur, by Jean Patou, encountered on the Riviera. The blouse is opaline rose linen, the hat navy blue tricot. Center, a tailored suit contributed by Callot Soeurs to the smart boulevards of Cannes, distinguished by ruffled borders of white Valenciennes lace. Right, one of Patou's newest chiffon dinner dresses, worn with a Patou hat of lace straw. (Chicago Tribune Press Service photos.)

CHANGING THE GUARD AT WINDSOR CASTLE—An impressive British ceremony, always fascinating to American visitors, takes place at the royal residence for the first time since the king's illness there. The band, partly concealed by the huge bearskins that distinguish the household troops, here marches away at the end of the ceremony. (Associated Press photo.)