gurgatively breaking the ice, Wilcoxon was tripped over the ceremonial tape by practical jokers and got the first taste of the water.

FADED ROMANCE

(Acme photo)

1 May-December romance of October, 1923, was the marriage of Burton Tucker, 16 years old, and Mrs. Susan Olive Simpson, 50 year old widow of a New York real estate operator. She was worth $800,000.

2 A few days ago Tucker, now 29 years old, presented his collar-ad half-profile in court. He was charged by his wife, now 63, with abandoning her, their two children, and an adopted daughter.

3 Mrs. Tucker made her court entrance carrying a voluminous bag, her exit without the ruling she wanted. The case against her husband was dismissed.

WHAT TO DO WITH HANDS?

1 What people do with their hands when they're not occupied would make a treatise on self-consciousness. This British group displays variety. Left to right: Premier Savage (New Zealand) closes one hand, conceals one; Premier Lyons (Australia) lets his right hand dangle; Premier Baldwin (Great Britain) folds arms self-consciously; King George clasps hands behind himself; Premier Mackenzie King (Canada) strikes a speaking pose; Premier Hertzog (South Africa) falls into another.

2 Lugubriously, Movie Comedian Oliver Hardy made a prop of pudgy hands for rotund face on the witness stand at Los Angeles. Suing for divorce, he won it.

3 Master of self-command, Senator Borah fingers pursed lips at a committee hearing.

4 Dr. Hugo Eckener, Zeppelin designer and dramatic personality, claps hand to head in horror over evidence at the Lakehurst, N. J., inquiry into the flaming crash of the Hindenburg.

6 Test of tests in grace is the bathing beauties' parade. Miss Evelyn Jones' hands give a creditable showing of self-forgetfulness at Las Vegas, Nev.

5 Schooled in graceful disposition of hands, Mrs. Allen Albert Jr. intertwines fingers and Miss Barbara Beal claps hands at a junior league conference at Chicago.

7 Most awful of masculine social lapses in the eyes of tailors is to ram hands into pockets. In London, of all places, the camera recorded this impropriety.

8 Hands frequently become screens at police stations. Example: George Christodulus (Christie), implicated and then exonerated in Mrs. Helen Tiernan's confession at New York of the slaying of her 7 year old daughter and stabbing of her 5 year old son.
