

WHEN PEORIA DEDICATED A $400,000 RIVER AND RAIL TERMINAL—A view of the warehouse as throngs gathered to hail the completion of a new step in the lakes-to-gulf waterway. Secretary of War Hurley spoke at the celebration, and during the day the first fleet of barges arrived with cargo from Mississippi river ports. (Associated Press photos.)

He was a HERO to the town—

But his mother knew he was a THIEF!

Ann Treat scorned to tell a lie—or live a lie. How could she, then, let the memorial service for her son go on when every word of it was a sacrilege?

The voice of conscience urged her to tell the truth, but every fibre of her motherhood protested.

And when Ann stood up during the service to right the great wrong, fate stepped in and made the decision for her.

Read this powerful tale of mother love—

THE MOTHER OF A HERO

In the Woman's Section of Today's Tribune!

A WOMAN LAWYER OF LONG AGO—Mrs. Myra Bradwell was the first feminine member of the Illinois Bar association and was founder of the Chicago Legal News. She is a figure in Herma Clark's "When Chicago Was Young," in the society section of today's Tribune. (Chicago Historical society photo.)

JUST KIDS—A herd of pure-bred Toggenburgs makes a pyramid of goat on the Charles A. Stevens estate at Delavan Lake, Wis. In the Farm and Garden department of today's Tribune Paul Potter writes of this herd and of the four to five daily quarts of milk a good goat will give.
