

MRS. F. O. LOWDEN, EX-GOVERNOR'S WIFE, DEAD AT 68

Pullman Family Member;
Born in Chicago.

(Picture on back page.)
Mrs. Florence Lowden, wife of Frank Oren Lowden, former governor of Illinois, died yesterday at their Sibley farm home near Oregon. She was nearly 69 years old.

During a European trip this spring, Mrs. Lowden's health became impaired. But upon her return with Mr. Lowden May 20, she appeared to be fully recovered.

Sunday night she dined at the farm with her husband, their son, Pullman, and a family friend, Miss Margaret Enders, of Florence, Italy. Early yesterday morning a maid found Mrs. Lowden dead. Apparently she had passed away quietly in her sleep.

Born in Chicago.

Mrs. Lowden was born in Chicago Aug. 11, 1868, the daughter of George M. Pullman, millionaire railroad car builder and founder of Pullman city. As a young girl she often accompanied her father on trips about the country.

Although the Pullman mansion at 1729 Prairie avenue was one of the show places of the city, and Mrs. Pullman was a leader of Chicago society, she and her husband believed in subordinating social achievement to education.

Accordingly their daughter, Florence, was sent abroad to study for a few years. She later attended Miss Anne Brown's finishing school in New York, and on April 29, 1896, she returned home to marry Frank Lowden, a hard working young Chicago lawyer.

In 1917 Mrs. Lowden became the first lady of the state, when her husband was elected governor. She took an active part among women in caring for the wants of Illinois' soldiers during the war.

Interested in Charities.

Although a quiet life with her family on the farm always remained her major interest, Mrs. Lowden, like her mother, was interested in many charities, among them St. Luke's hospital and the Visiting Nurse association. Upon the death of her mother in 1921, Mrs. Lowden and a sister, Mrs. Harriet Schermerhorn, of New York and Lenox, Mass., shared Mrs. Pullman's $3,425,000 estate. The Pullman estate, once worth $18,000,000 had dwindled due to Mrs. Pullman's generous charitable contributions.

Mrs. Lowden was a member of the Women's Athletic club, the National Society of Colonial Dames, and the Fortnightly club.

Surviving Mrs. Lowden are her husband, her sister, and four children, Pullman, Mrs. Philip (Florence) Miller, Mrs. Albert F. (Harriet) Madeline Jr., and Mrs. John B. (Frances) Drake Jr.

Funeral services will be held at the farm home tomorrow morning, with Dr. Frederick Shannon of the Central church officiating. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery.

124TH ARTILLERY MARKS HOLIDAY WITH BIG GUNS

Camp McCoy, Wis., July 5.—(Special.)—Chicago's 124th field artillery regiment of the Illinois National Guard celebrated the holiday today with heavy fireworks. For more than four hours the twelve 75 millimeter guns of the regiment hurled high explosive shells and shrapnel into the hills of this huge artillery range.

The battle practice opened the second week of the annual two weeks of field training for the regiment at this camp.

A critical but pleased observer of the day's maneuvers was Brig. Gen. Samuel B. Lawton, commanding the 58th field artillery brigade of the 33d division. When firing ceased he congratulated Col. Charles C. Haffner, regimental commander, on the accuracy of the fire.

The regiment will continue its schedule of intensive training until the end of the week. For the following two weeks the 124th field artillery from Chicago will be here for drills and firing practice.

Another Illinois National Guard regiment, the 123d field artillery, equipped with 155 millimeter Howitzers and commanded by Col. Dell B. Hardin, arrived in camp Saturday.

1938 ELECTION MAY ECHO HELP GIVEN TO LABOR

Louie Lewis Seen as Dietrich Opponent.

BY PERCY WOOD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—(Special.)—Labor's success with its legislative program started political tongues wagging before the 60th regular session of the Illinois legislature adjourned last Thursday, the talk being that passage of about 20, or a majority of labor bills, is likely to be reflected in next year's elections. The big prize in 1938 will be the United States senate seat held by William H. Dietrich, Beardstown Democrat.

So far as any one knows, Senator Dietrich plans to seek a second term, at least he has made no announcement to the contrary. And he stands well with the state and Cook county central committees by his backing of the state endorsed by both organizations at the 1936 primary.

Dietrich Iks Horner.

Senator Dietrich's support of the state endorsed Gov. Henry Horner, whose name was omitted from it, but who was renominated notwithstanding. The renomination of the governor was manifested last spring when he urged President Roosevelt not to nominate Dietrich's candidate, J. Leroy Adair of Quincy, to the federal bench in this district, an appeal the President ignored. Since that time the question has been whether Mr. Horner would back a candidate against the senator.

Four or five names have been mentioned as possible recipients of the favor and a new one came with the end of the session, in connection with the speaker's success. This is Speaker Louie E. Lewis of Christopher, in the southern coal fields, who was elected to the presiding chair through the support of labor and the governor.

Backs Compensation Bill.
Labor bills received kindly treatment in the session and it is recalled that the only time the speaker left the rostrum to address the house was when he was in danger of falling in on roll call. Through his influence it passed the house, only to be killed by the senate the closing night.

Most important of the labor bills passed were the woman's eight-hour law and the unemployment insurance act, both of which were in danger of falling in on roll call. Through his influence it passed the house, only to be killed by the senate the closing night.

Should Lewis seek the senatorial nomination next year, he is in a position to receive labor's backing and, in addition, that of Mr. Horner, whose program he helped carry through the rostrum. A possible hitch to a labor endorsement might be the fact that the speaker's brother, Thurlow Lewis, is counsel for the United Mine workers' union in Illinois, a C. I. O. affiliate.

Rogers Park and Evanston

Feel Brunt of Sand Fly Attack

Rogers Park and Evanston bore the brunt of the current sand fly invasion last night. Millions of them infested the brighter lighted areas in those sections. They made annoying, and in one stretch near Calvary cemetery formed a carpet half an inch thick on the pavement. They were so thick on the sidewalks at Chase avenue and Sheridan road that a number of pedestrians slipped and fell. Strollers buttoned up coat collars as though in a snow storm.

THE HURDY-GURDY: A STORY IN A PICTURE

Almost a lost profession is that of the hurdy-gurdy man, the street musician who makes a living by grinding out tunes amid the hurled life of the city. Here is one of the very few left in Chicago. He is Sidney Del Guidice, and riding on the cart with uplifted palm is his mother, Mrs. Angeline del Guidice, 76 years old, who always accompanies him. Their hurdy-gurdy is years old, but they try to keep it melodious up with the times. The photographer found them at Superior and St. Clair streets.

U-BOAT PASTOR'S AID IS ARRESTED
BY NAZI POLICE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, July 5.—Prof. Ludwig Barning, elder of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] church in Dahlem, a Berlin suburb, was arrested by the G. S. P. (Secret police) today. Prof. Barning at Sunday's services read a protest against the arrest of the church's pastor, the Rev. Martin Niemöller, and asked the congregation to sign it. It was announced the protest would be circulated among other Confessional churches and presented, as a petition for Niemöller's release, to the ministry of justice.

Secret police raided Barning's home to confiscate the protest but failed to find it. At Dahlem it was feared authorities might take measures against the church, who signed the protest if it is located.

Niemöller, a submarine commander during the world war, is a militant leader of the Confessional movement which opposes Nazi domination of the Protestant church. He was arrested on charges of "fostering hatreds in his sermons against leading persons in the Nazi state and government."
