

AMERICAN OVERSEAS CASUALTIES

ALLIED ARMIES, BUT NOT U.S., USE WOMEN DOCTORS

Our Surgeon General Soon Will Have to Consider Them.

LET A STAFF CORRESPONDENT... Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—American women today, however high their standing as physicians and surgeons, are not admitted to the medical reserve corps of the American army...

When a group of American women led by Dr. Caroline Finley, organized the women's overseas hospitals, U. S. A. financed by the National Woman's Suffrage association, they offered themselves to the American Red Cross...

With the French doctors and nurses they have been able to care for American soldiers brought in with the French wounded, as they are not permitted to care for them in American hospitals...

"Pep" = short for "pepper"

and The American Magazine

HARRY Witwer has "pep". So have his stories. He started as a soda jerker. He tried job after job, getting more experience and less money each change.

He says he has no patience with the fellow who takes wallops philosophically, for the man who figures in the payroll is the man who gives wallops.

Witwer tells his own story in The American Magazine for October. And it's a story worth telling, for Witwer is one of the best paid writers in the country. Read this tale of his and you'll know why editors pay so much for his stuff.

So with Root, the man who makes bees work for him to the tune of a million dollars a year. He has "pep"—so have his bees. So with Rosen who sells $40,000 worth of life insurance every working day.

You'd love to have such men talk to you. You can have them, right in your own sitting-room, in your own time, in any number of The American Magazine. Try it with the October number.
