

Gen. Johnson Resigns as NRA Administrator—"Jafsie's" Name and Phone Number Found in Hauptmann Home

[Photos by Acme, Associated Press, and THE TRIBUNE.]

GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON RESIGNS AS NRA ADMINISTRATOR IN DISPUTE OVER RECOVERY METHODS. Three characteristic poses of the dictator of the codes, whose resignation was accepted yesterday by President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y. Johnson's resignation climaxes reports of friction with other governmental officials over policy. It is believed a board will be named to carry on the recovery program.

(Story on page 1.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

QUIZZED BY JURORS. Col. Henry Breckenridge, friend of Lindbergh, at session yesterday.

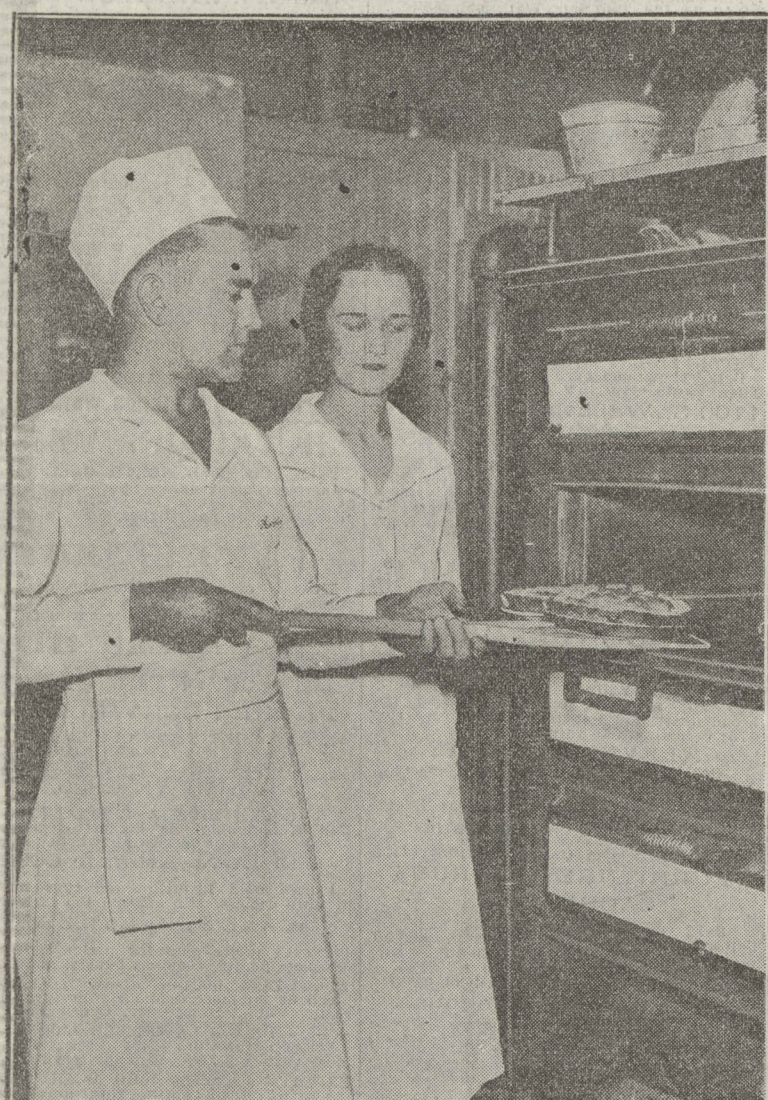

(Story on page 1.)

[Acme Photo.]

SIMILARITY BETWEEN HAUPTMANN FOOTPRINT AND ONE AT LINDY HOME. At left is picture of footprint found in mud at Lindbergh home near Hopewell, N. J., after kidnaping in 1932. At right is Bruno Hauptmann's shoe, photographed after his arrest as ransom taker and suspect in actual kidnaping.

(Story on page 1.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

WIVES WATCH HUSBANDS AT WORK IN CAFES. Mrs. Felix Stratton watching her husband, a chef at one of Harding restaurants, take pic out of oven yesterday. The employees' wives were ordered to see their mates at work.

(Story on page 7.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

ACTRESS GETS DIVORCE DECREE. Doris Delairs in court of Judge Finnegan when she was awarded decree from Terbert E. Tetens, New York broker.

(Story on page 3.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

ONE OF HOMES TO BE WRECKED. Residence at 915 Bishop street, typical building in area to be condemned for new federal housing project.

(Story on page 1.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

FIND NEW HAUPTMANN EVIDENCE. District Attorney Foley with panel containing name and telephone number of Jafsie found in Hauptmann home.

[Associated Press Photo.]

QUIZ HAUPTMANN LANDLADY. Mrs. Pauline Rausch, owner of home occupied by suspect, with detective as she appeared for grand jury quiz.

(Story on page 1.)

ACTOR AND FILM WRITER IN FISTIC SCUFFLE. Herbert Marshall, English actor (left), who went down, but not for the count, in home of Ernest Lubitsch in Hollywood, and John Monk Saunders, who delivered blow.

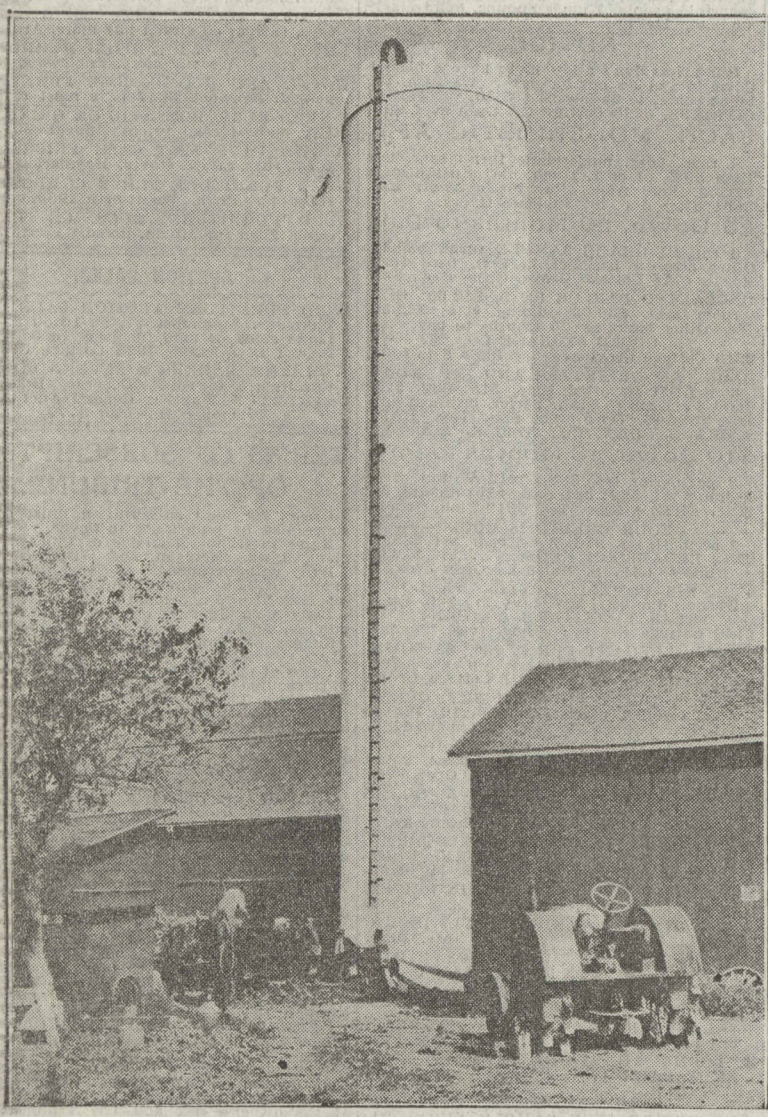

(Story on page 13.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

GRANDMA CALLED "GOLD DIGGER" IN COURT. Mrs. Anna Findeisen of Oak Park, who seeks temporary alimony from Emil Findeisen. The husband called her a "gold digger" at session yesterday.

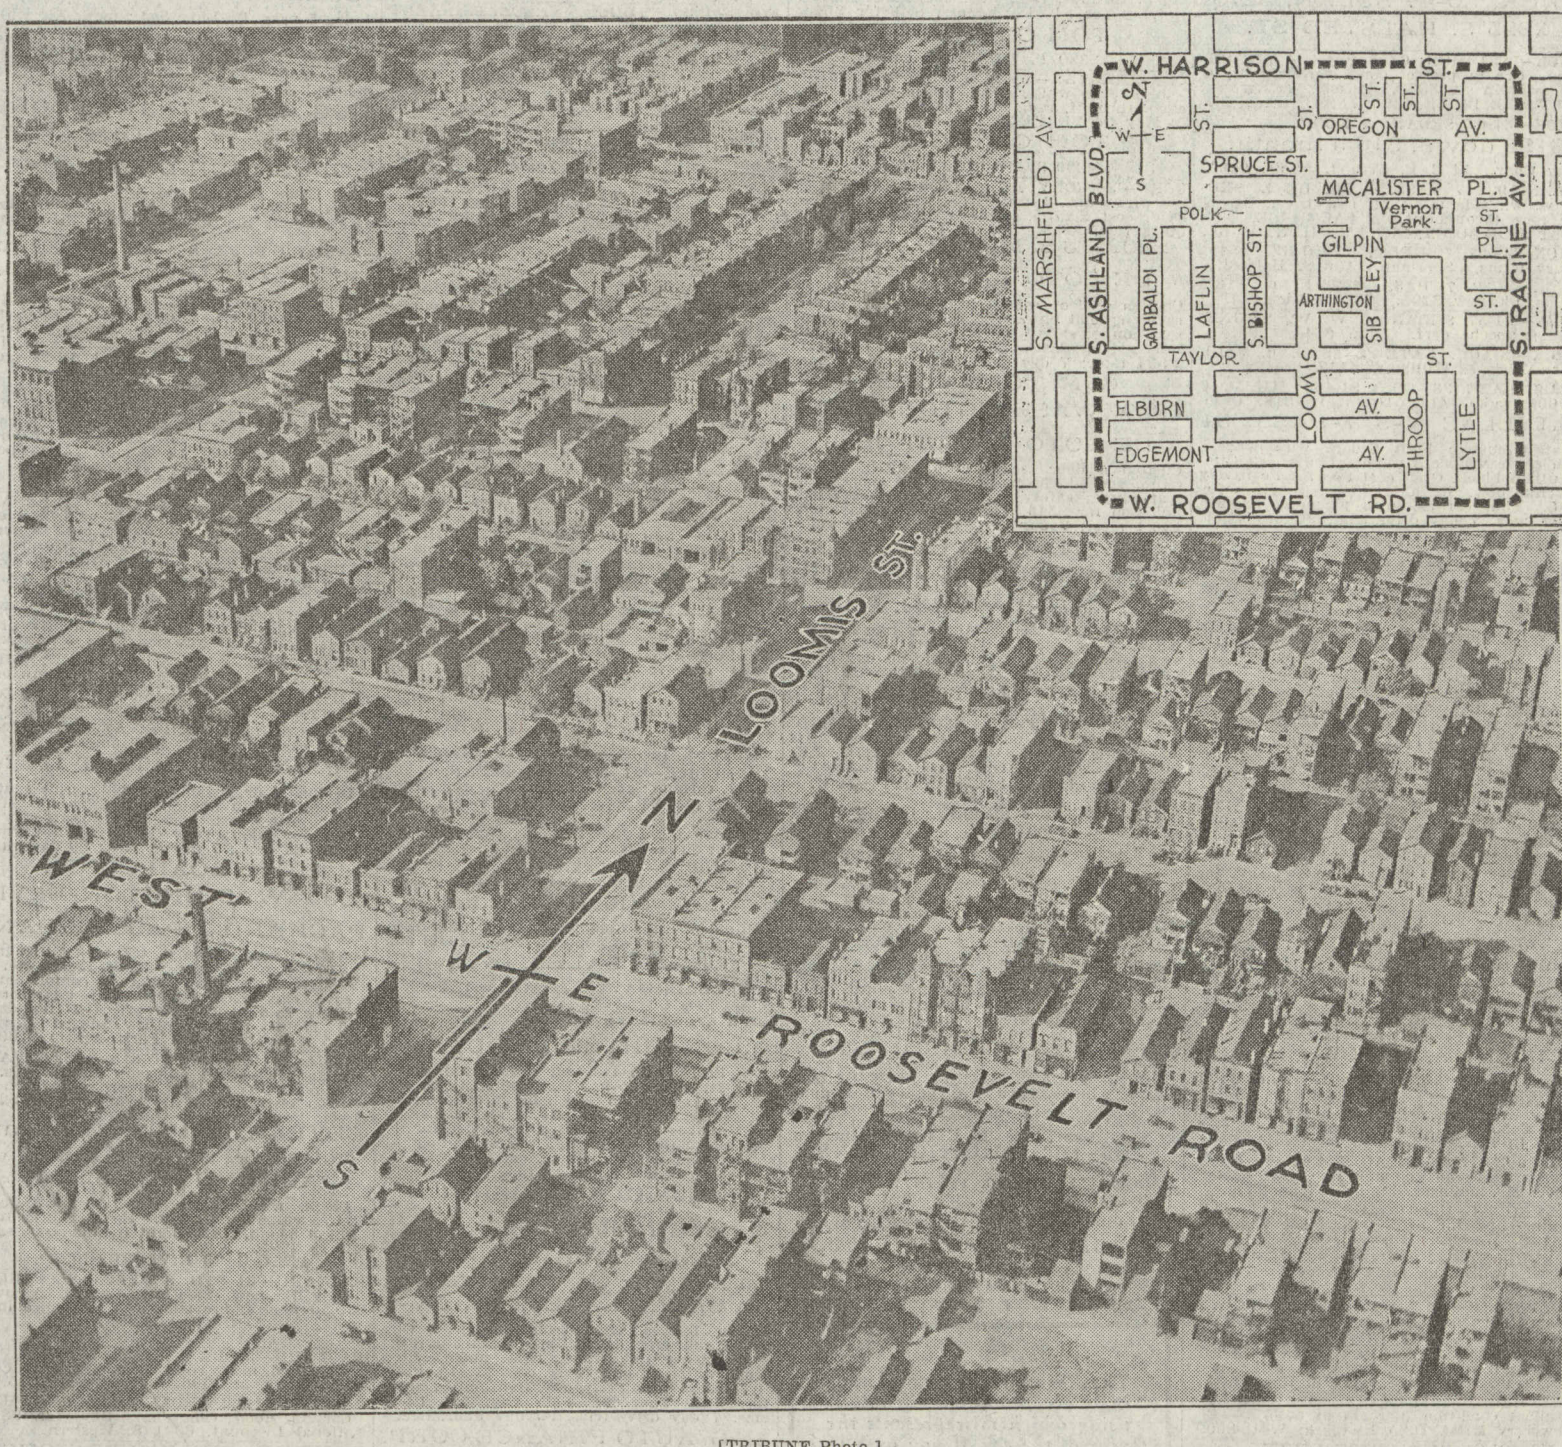

(Story on page 7.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

NEW SILO ON THE TRIBUNE FARM IS FILLED. View at The Chicago Tribune's experimental farm near Yorkville as new 80 foot silo was being filled. The ensilage will be used for the farm animals during the winter.

(Story on page 1.)

[Associated Press Photo.]

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT LAUNCHES $12,500,000 HOUSING PROJECT TO REBUILD CHICAGO "SLUM." Air view taken yesterday showing part of area included in project. The view is looking north from Roosevelt road. The boundaries of the project are Ashland avenue, Roosevelt road, Racine avenue, and Harrison street, as shown in the inset map. The project calls for the wrecking of buildings on 37 blocks and the replacing of them with homes for 3,000 families. Condemnation proceedings were started yesterday.

(Story on page 11.)