

Paris Gaiety in Colorful Woolens

TO LOOK DANGEROUS is going to be fashionable this winter. Schiaparelli makes you look that way with this "danger" red wool suit, the skirt of which zips up the side front. The jacket fastens on leather chains and is worn with a brilliant blue and red scarf. A blue and red bird trims the pointed hat.

CHAMPION SPORTS STYLES come out strong this fall for lusty plaids, like this Molyneux sports suit made of cashmere wool. The skirt is pressed into ridges that imitate pleats. The simple sweater blouse has a yarn cord tassel for a collar. The Molyneux hat is made of red felt.

GLAMOR IN TWEED—Schiaparelli makes a four star sensation this fall and winter with her tweed evening cloaks, like this model of wine red tweed, with revers encrusted with jeweled embroideries. The scarlet velvet gloves have jewel-embroidered cuffs, and the headdress is made of scarlet velvet with blue jeweled flowers. An evening gown of sky blue satin is worn under the cloak.

COLOR PHOTOS TAKEN IN PARIS BY SCAIONI EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE ELSEWHERE IN THIS ISSUE BETTINA BEDWELL DISCUSSES THE NEWEST OF PARIS TOGS