THE LAST OF THE MORGAN RAIDERS—Twenty-one men who, sixty-five years ago, rode under the command of Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan of the Confederate forces, held their reunion recently at Lexington, Ky. The survivors relived the days when, as Kentucky cavalymen, they participated in Morgan's daring raids.

A WAR HERO'S SON comes to America with his wife to exhibit his collection of water colors. You behold the Earl of Ypres, son of the late Field Marshal French of England.

K. P. DUTY FOR A MERMAN—Arne Borg, the bespectacled party in the picture, who is the holder of numerous swimming records, appeared slightly out of his element when he joined other Swedish doughboys in running a field kitchen at army maneuvers in his native land.

PARIS SETS A FAST PACE for the rest of continental Europe, and its flaming youth goes the limit in speed. Witness a scene in the Esplanades des Invalides, where traffic cops beat a hurried retreat at the start of the children's annual scooter races.

(Photograph from Pacific and Atlantic.)

BOTH FLYER AND FISHER, Gov. George A. Parks of Alaska makes his aviation costume into a fishing outfit by donning a pair of rubber boots. He flies from the capital, Juneau, to his favorite inland lake.
