

MODES of the MOMENT in PARIS

New Creations by Molyneux Reveal Sumptuous Tendencies in French Design.

(Photographs copyright by Wyndham, Paris.)

SAPPHIRE BLUE VELVET trimmed with bleached monkey fur forms the dazzling combination in this exquisite cloak.

A HOUSE GOWN in fuchsia red and purple, with a cloak of jade green and silver.

IN CLEVER DRAPING of tunic, skirt and slender pointed train lies the elegance of the evening gown in black velvet and crepe de Chine, shown at the left. It is absolutely devoid of trimming.

"TRANSIENT SORROW," Molyneux calls this crepe de Chine creation with "little girl neck" and tragedy sleeves.

"FIRES OF AUTUMN" is the designer's name for the robe pictured at the right—a tunic of embroidered lace and soft satin underslip in rowan red, birch yellow and golden brown.