"You Can't Buy Better Quality"

This youthful evening dress of white crepe trimmed with fringe, with its long-line wrap of black and gold lamé, was snapped at the entrance to a smart apartment house. Black Gaytees oxfords of lightweight rubber cover gold slippers.

These unobtrusive, perfectly-fitting oxford Gaytees (each of which weighs just six ounces) are the smartest possible protection for evening footwear. In several colors.

Paris sponsors Gaytees all around the clock

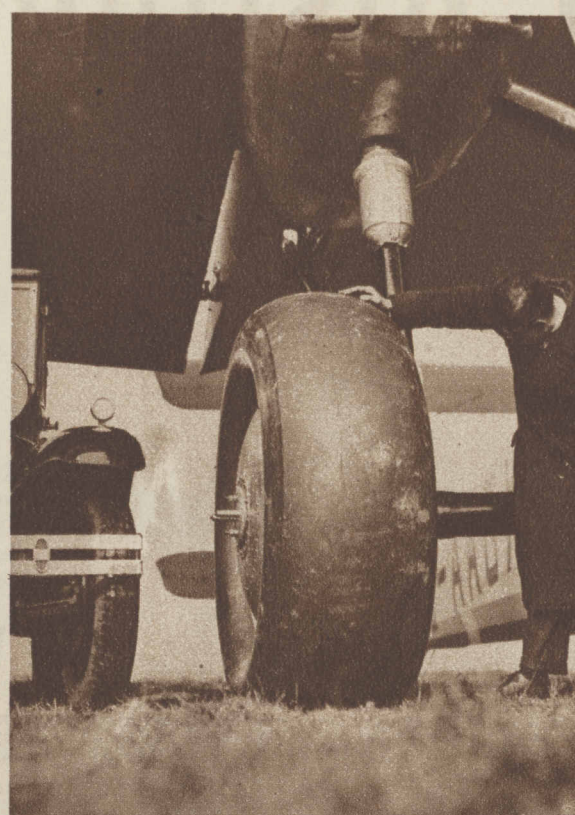

The vogue of the Gaytees ensemble is by no means confined to daylight hours. Jenny, famous Paris couturier, says, "Gaytees' great variety of shade and pattern allows you to wear them with any costume." So, whatever the hour of the day or evening, Gaytees are quite correctly in order. One pair will hardly suffice for all occasions, of course! But from the many fascinating 1931 Gaytees styles, in all the fashionable new colors, you can easily choose Gaytees to complete every type of costume. Your favorite shop has duplicates of the very Gaytees models worn by the mannequins of leading designers at the Paris fashion openings this year. Why not take time now, while stocks are complete, to choose from among them the Gaytees that will complete your own fall wardrobe?

Gaytees are made only by United States Rubber Company.

A YOUTH MOVEMENT CELEBRATES THE BIRTHDAY OF THE AUSTRIAN REPUBLIC—Young socialists, both boys and girls, bear fluttering banners in a great Vienna demonstration on the twelfth anniversary of the overthrow of the monarchy. (International photo.)

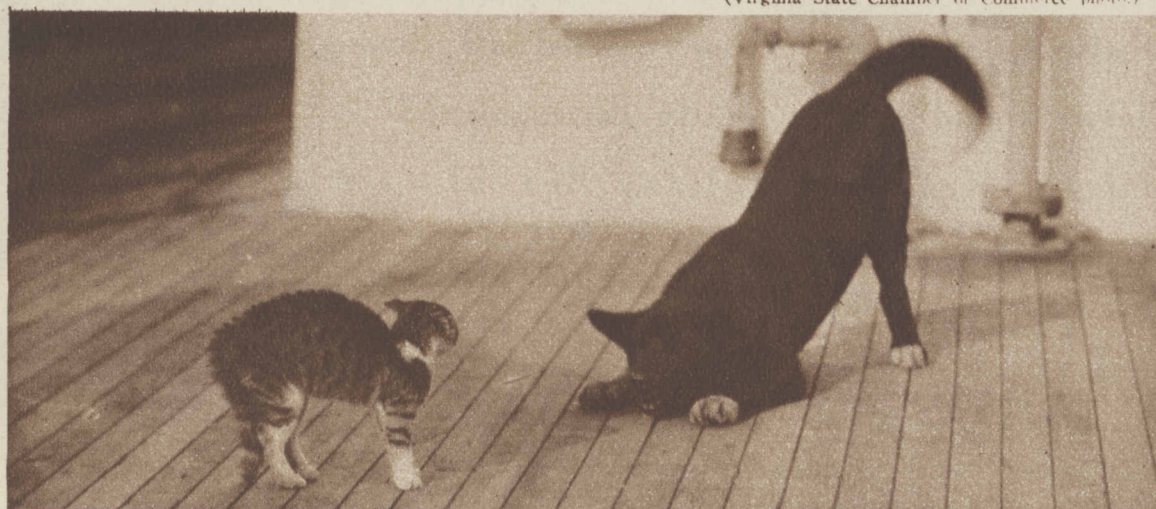

RELATIVITY—A motor car is parked, with plenty of room to spare, beneath a wing of a new 40-seater Handley-Page plane to be put into service between London and Paris; and its height is revealed to be little greater than that of the ship's landing wheel. (© Pacific and Atlantic photos.)

BATTLE ON THE HIGH SEAS—Mascots of the coast guard cutter Northland—Mabel, the cat, and Muchtuck, the Malemute pup—have a falling out in Alaskan waters. The affair was called a draw when members of the crew intervened to avert annihilation of either party. (Pacific and Atlantic photo.)

"VERY SORRY"

I didn't go to Henry's sooner; their hair and facial work is marvelous—the operators just wonderful—the atmosphere superb. BUT you must enjoy it yourself—it's beyond description.
