Springtime snowwww!

Old Man Winter forgot to look at the calendar Monday and Tuesday, as the Thumb Area experienced its worst snowstorm of the winter on the first official days of Spring. The surprise storm, which began late Sunday night, dumped about a foot of the white stuff on the area as of Tuesday. Strong winds accompanying the snow caused drifting which blocked most secondary roads in the area, according to Huron County Road Commission Director Robert Tufts.

After several tries, Pigeon stays with Bad Axe attorney

Pigeon Village Council tried and tried and tried to change their legal representation from a Bad Axe lawyer group to one of two Pigeon attorney firms -- but it just wasn't possible this month.

Four motions were advanced and three votes taken -- but the Bad Axe firm of Michael Dennis and Associates will continue to serve as Village Attorney for the near future, members finally decided at their meeting last Tuesday night.

A list of all village appointments and committees was accepted, with the exception of continuing Dennis' legal representation. Council members noted that two legal firms -- the Clabuesch and Associates firm of David Clabuesch, and the Otto and Clabuesch firm of Michael Otto and Werner Clabuesch -- do business in Pigeon. They should get the village attorney business, members said.

But a motion to change from Dennis and Associates to Otto and Clabuesch died for lack of support. Members disagreed with Dennis' $600 annual retainer, noting that Otto and Clabuesch offer no retainer charge at all, while Clabuesch and Associates would charge only $400 annually. Village legal fees in the past year are estimated at $5000 to $6000, according to Village President Norris Diebel.

But a motion to retain Dennis as attorney ended in a tie vote, and Diebel cast his second tie-breaker vote in nearly 10 years, voting against retaining Dennis. Voting for Dennis were Dryden Haist, Ken Licht, Fred Orr, while Paul Walsh, Jim Armbruster and Tony Kula opposed him.

So a motion was then made, appointing David Clabuesch's Clabuesch and Associates firm as village attorney for one year. Diebel said perhaps the representation could be rotated between the two Pigeon firms, but the motion died 4-2. Voting with Walsh was Kula, while Armbruster, Licht, Orr and Haist opposed the action.

Armbruster said he saw possible conflicts of interest because Dave Clabuesch also represented Winsor Township. Walsh noted that Dennis was difficult to contact by phone or in person and said Otto and Clabuesch lack experience. "Why don't we go with the best?" Walsh said. "You won't find a better lawyer any place than Dave Clabuesch and you know it."

But since no further motion to appoint Otto and Clabuesch was made, a motion re-appointing Dennis and Associates was made. The same tie vote was recorded, and this time Diebel voted in favor of retaining Dennis "for the time being. These can be changed at any time," he said.

Council members noted that Dennis is still involved in a legal matter for the village and hinted he may be removed when that matter is settled. "It doesn't make sense to change horses in mid-stream," one member said.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated by 46 members and guests attending the annual Corned Beef and Cabbage Dinner at the Elkton Civic Center.

Dr. John Safran and wife Jeanette were introduced by Club President George Southworth. Dr. Safran offered the table prayer. Following dinner, Bea Gregor entertained by playing a few Irish songs, "Oh, Danny Boy" and an Irish jig. Ray and Fern English and Harold Gregor played several harmonica selections with Fern playing the chorus.

A note of thanks was given to Esther Hodapp for preparing the corned beef meal. Al Knechtel was honored with the Birthday Song. It was reported by Alvina Walsh that Pearl Hohman and Laura Jimkowski are patients at Huron Memorial Hospital and that Max Ritter is recuperating at home. Joe Torres is reportedly improving slowly at home.

A thank-you note was read from the Stanley Bauman family. Aloe plants brought by Alice Reynolds were given to Mrs. Hehner, Bea Gregor and Mamie Kasserman.

Edna Wakefield, program chairman of the day, provided entertainment with a pencil and paper game called "Alphabet Bingo" and introduced a state map game. Janis Buerker, social worker at Scheurer Hospital, will present next week's program.

Inspector Gordo's Minute Mystery THE CASE OF Office shooting

As Inspector Gordo looked around the cubby-hole office of Tom Hall, Sam Hea said, "I touched nothing - except the desk telephone. I called you right away."

Tom Hall's body lay on the threadbare carpet behind his desk. Near his right hand was a large French pistol. "Tell me what happened," began Hea. "Then right off he started raving about his wife and me."

"I couldn't calm him down. He doesn't know what he's doing when he goes crazy mad."

"Suddenly he jumped up and shouted, 'I'm going to kill you!' With practically one motion he yanked open the top drawer of his desk and took out a gun and fired at me. He missed. I shot back immediately. It was self defense."

The inspector inserted a pencil into the barrel of the big French pistol and lifted it from beside the corpse. Opening the top desk drawer, he thoughtfully slid the gun inside.

"Hea's a private inspector," the inspector told Gordo. "His pistol is registered to him. It fired the death bullet."

"You charged Hea with murder, I hope?" said Gordo.

"What else could I do? He's already confessed."

What was Hea's slip?

April 11 is Rollie Smith Day

Monday, April 11, 1983 has been proclaimed as Rollie Smith Day in Pigeon, in honor of the long-time supporter of youth baseball and other sports programs.

Smith - who had "Rollie Smith Drive" named after him in February - will be honored by the Pigeon Village Council at brief street dedication ceremonies at 6:30 p.m. that day. Council noted that other deserving individuals may be recipients of "thank you certificates" for public service in future years.

AUDIT ACCEPTED: At the March 15 Pigeon Council meeting, the bid of Anderson, Nietzsche and Co., CPA firm, was accepted at $2950. Council member Dryden Haist said a Bay City firm had submitted a lower bid,

"but in the long run, this will be cheaper," thanks to no long-distance phone call charges and less travel time. "They know our books and they're all set up for us," Haist said.

Council members told Clerk Joe McArdle to refrain from calling on the CPA firm for routine matters, citing a $792 bill for January alone. "Joe, this is totally unacceptable to me," Village President Norris Diebel said. "We can't keep this up. It would be cheaper to hire a certified public accountant to be the manager than to keep this up, and to pay you and Nancy (Heck, parttime secretary). It's just too much, Joe," Diebel said.

At this rate, accounting services will cost the village $35,000 this year, said Council member Paul Walsh, between the CPA, plus salaries for McArdle and Heck. "I think we're getting taken for a ride."

McArdle said his first year as Clerk has been difficult, since no transition was possible after the sudden death of longtime Clerk Norman Schulze last spring. McArdle said the consulting should be reduced in future months.

SWEARING IN: Re-elected Council member Kenneth Licht, plus newcomers Tony Kula and Fred Orr were sworn in to office, as was Village Clerk McArdle, following the March 14 General Election. President Diebel said plaques of appreciation and the village's best wishes were prepared for outgoing Council members James Hartman and John "Pinky" Oesch, but neither attended Tuesday's meeting.

WATER TANK CHECK: The firm of Dixon Engineering of Cadillac was awarded an inspection contract for the village water tower. The company does no work itself, but inspects and provides a written report of upkeep needed for the $495 cash fee. Work will be done within the next two months, owner Bill Dixon said.

REQUEST APPROVED: A 12-year application for industrial facilities exemption permit for Huron Casting, Inc., was approved. Owners Leroy Wurst and DeVere Sturm said the recent expansion added a cleaning room and office space, including 10,500 sq. ft. of manufacturing and 2500 sq. ft. of office space.

Including a leased metal melter, the project totals $321,000 - taxes of which are reduced to one-half for the next 12 years. The firm had 116 workers before the project began and expects to add 15 more in the next two years.

Expansion construction began last October, and it should be finally completed by April. The men said more projects are being planned at the plant, to be announced when possible.

VILLAGE VALUES: Assessor Roy Lawrence told Council members the village has $135,200 in agriculture real estate land values for 1983, plus $3.58 million in commercial real ($919,100 in commercial personal), $359,500 in industrial real ($455,200 in industrial personal) and $7.73 million in residential real estate values ($358,300 in residential personal property values).

Grand total is $11.8 million in real property values in the village and $1.73 million in personal, for a $13.54 million grand total. That's up $177,000 over 1982 figures, Lawrence says.

HOUSING AID: Council received a request from Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Sebawa to provide Michigan State Housing Development Authority loans through the HIP (Home Improvement) and CHIP (Community Home Improvement) programs, to be partly administered through the Council.

Persons seeking more information about the low-cost loan program should contact the bank's main office in Sebawa.

CABLE TV: No formal report on progress of the village's cable TV installation was given, but Diebel said work is continuing in planning and preparation for the mid-summer start-up of the program.

OBSERVATIONS BY THE PUBLISHER AND OTHERS

WINTER LAUGH - Anyone who actually doubts there's a Creator above us all should try to have mankind duplicate what happened to our area Monday and Tuesday! It's impossible for mere mortals to do!

We've all been happy and pleased that this winter has been extremely mild - probably the least amount of snowfall in the past 50 years, weathermen say. Local schools had not been called off even one day because of snow during November, December, January or February.

But, then Monday came along - the first official day of spring! It should serve as a good reminder to us all that we're not the ones in control around here!

ROUGH JOB - Thanks to staff members, printers and postal people who helped bring you the copy of your Progress-Advance you're now reading. We often say it's a miracle that we can publish at all some weeks - but it's especially true this week, thanks to the big snowfalls, sickness, lack of mail trucks running and so on. Thanks, all!

BEAUTIFUL STUFF - Awnings sag, streets are blocked, sidewalks impassible and school's been called off two days straight. But isn't the snow majestic? Isn't it so awesome and bright and gorgeous?

And remember, it will probably disappear in a few days, now that warm times are near. It was still a very mild winter, except for the past two days!

SPEAKING OF SPRING - You know summer can't be far away when you see the 1983 edition of the East Michigan Vacation and Recreation Guide is now available. This 126-page booklet includes fishing, hunting, boating, vacation, canoeing, snowmobiling, skiing and recreation tips on the 26 counties belonging to the East Michigan Tourist Association, headquartered at Bay City.

Several hundred thousand copies have been printed and will be available all over the state. An estimated 30,000 will be sent individually through mail and phone inquiries. Huron County is well-represented, we think.

Our copy is available for inspection at The Progress-Advance office. For more information on a nearby vacation, call the WATS line number 1-800-292-6154 or write the EMTA at 1 Wenonah Park, Bay City 48706.

TIDBITS - Here are some little items of interest:

■ St. Albans, Vermont has invited President Reagan up for some ice cream - as much as he wants from a 25,000-pound sundae to be made at the town's festival in April. They're hoping to set a world record for the concoction. The town's slogan - "A recession is like an ice-cream sundae; you have to learn to lick it."

The big sundae idea is a good one. Is any local town interested in such a local project?

■ Speaking of sundae, did you ever wonder why you get a headache when you gobble up something too cold? The syndrome is called the "ice cream headache." It's caused by a too-sudden cooling of the carotid arteries on both sides of the throat, which lead to the brain, doctors say. Cooling the blood vessel rapidly sends it into contraction, followed by a reflex dilation - causing your head to hurt!

■ The average U.S. car is six years old - older than at any time in more than 25 years, says R.L. Polk & Co. And, of the 107 million cars on U.S. roads today, nearly seven million are older than 15 years of age!

■ What's a sheepskin worth? A college degree can add more than $300,000 to lifetime earnings, a Census Bureau study says. For men, that averages to $329,000 more than non-college grads, while college women earn an average $142,000 more than other grads.

According to the study, today's 18-year-old who gets a bachelor's degree can expect to earn $1.19 million in his or her lifetime, compared to $861,000 in earnings for high school grads. That drops to $601,000 for high school drop-outs, the study says. Morale? Stay in school as long as you can and learn as much as you can!

WISH I'D SAID THAT - We may give without loving, but we cannot love without giving.

MAKING IT OFFICIAL: Pigeon Village Council's three newest members were sworn into office by Village Clerk Joe McArdle last Tuesday night, following General Election victories March 14.

"Never trust the last two weeks of March," he advises Monday, citing many examples of late winter storms occurring during the change of seasons. "This looks like a typical two-day," he added - which it was!

The massive storm caused cancellation of classes at all area schools Monday and Tuesday, plus suspension of many normal activities.

Monday marked the first snow day for the '82-'83 school year for the Laker District, according to Supt. Harry Brunet. Classes began one day late earlier in the year, due to fog.

Brunet says he had expected getting through the school year without a snow day for the first time in his 27 years in education. He notes that in 1973 - the year of the famous St. Patrick's Day storm - a later snow fall in April caused cancellation of classes, too.

Elkton Supt. of Public Works Walt Forster says village workers were just about ready to put away their snow removal equipment - but fortunately they were ready to roll when the storm hit.

Pigeon DPW employees were also able to begin clearing snow Monday, as their clean-up equipment was also ready to go. Most of the machines uses, such as loading tractors and trucks, are used year-round, so that presented no problems, says Pigeon DPW Supt. Don Otto.

Other village equipment, such as the salter attachments, aren't usually stored for the summer until the middle of April. The DPW crew also holds down the amount of overtime hours paid by the village by taking some time off when the weather clears, if extra hours are required for storm clean-up, Otto says.

Beauty Boutique coming!

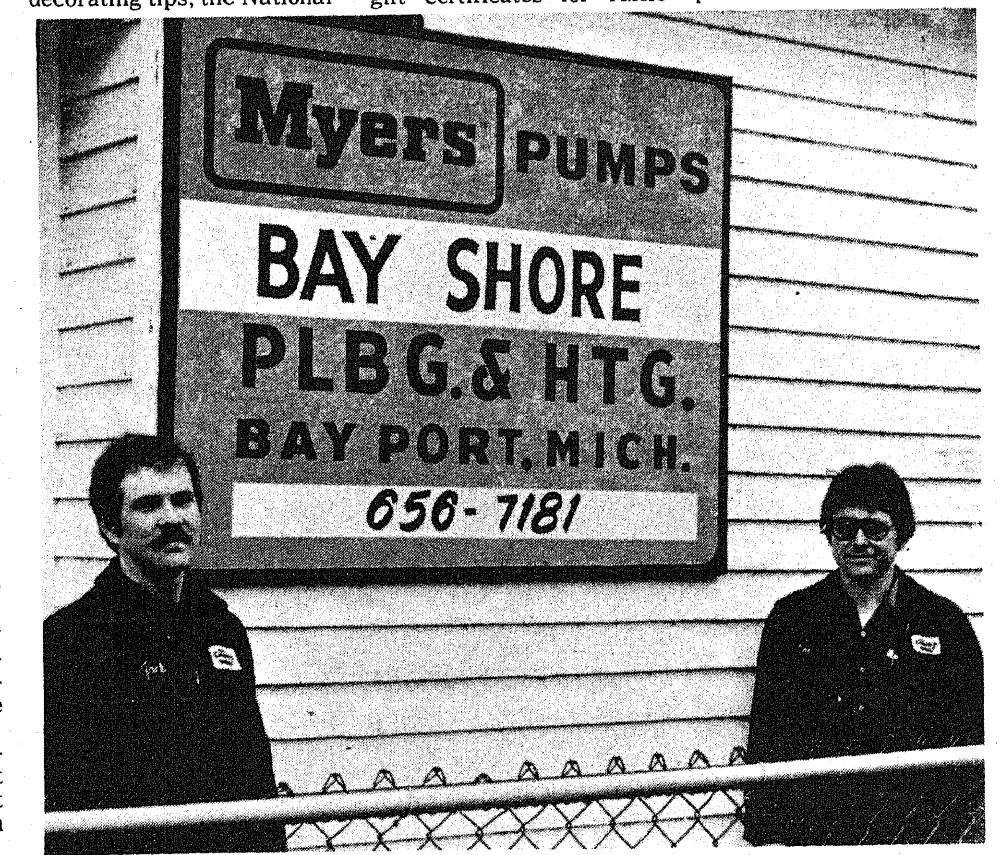

"A total look of beauty" is what the 1983 Spring Beauty Boutique is all about, according to the Pigeon Area Jayettes, who are organizing the Tuesday, March 29 event at 7 p.m. at the Pigeon District Library.

In addition to displays set up by area merchants who will offer spring beauty and decorating tips, the National Cosmetic Director of d'Saison Creative Colours Co., Roberta Veatch of Minnesota, and a National Sales Director of Mary Kay Cosmetics Inc., Sherrill Steinman of Caseville, will be on hand to provide cosmetic expertise.

Murray's of Bad Axe will provide clothes for local women to model, plus two gift certificates for raffle winners.

Other local participants are Mary Motz of The Hair Shoppe in Elkton, Little Peoples World, Ruth Mohr for Sarah Coventry Jewelry, Cheryl Elenbaum for home decorating and Deb McAlpine and Deb Birch for Undercover Wear Lingerie. There is a small admission charge for the evening. The public is invited to attend.

BAY PORT PLUMBERS: Jack McCain, left, and Roger Vollmer have purchased Lester Fogle's plumbing business in Bay Port and have opened it as Bay Shore Plumbing, at 824 First Street.

Both McCain of Bay Port and Vollmer of Pigeon are Licensed Master Plumbers and do residential and commercial work and repairs. They have a combined total of 19 years' plumbing experience, including eight years as master plumbers.

The firm has several new product lines for improved energy efficiency. The men give free estimates and are available by calling 656-7181.

As we see it editorially

Amid the plenty, hunger remains

Shocking news stories have appeared recently about the millions of hungry children starving and dying right now -- today -- in our world. As many as 20,000 lives could be saved daily around the globe, if four simple steps would be employed for the health and well-being of the developing world's children.

These facts are reported in the 1982-83 State of the World's Children report, published by the United Nations' Children's Fund (UNICEF). We all remember UNICEF for the drive at Halloween time, which nets pennies instead of candy in many towns. We all gathered such funds years ago in trick-or-treating, as kids still do today.

As the report shows, pennies aren't enough to do the job anymore.

UNICEF Executive Director James Grant says there will be 650 million malnourished people worldwide during this decade. These are mostly children -- 15,000 of whom die every day from the dehydration that comes from diarrhea caused by malnutrition. Likewise, malnourished youngsters who get measles can get permanent disability such as deafness or death because of low resistance.

U.S. children aren't the primary concern here -- a malnourished Third World child in a developing country is 400 times more likely to die or be seriously impaired from measles than the normal American child, Grant says.

Four simple medical developments could save up to 20,000 malnourished youngsters each day. UNICEF is trying to provide these, but they need more help.

The four steps?

■ A simple and effective oral rehydration therapy, composed of sugar, water and salt, would address the largest cause of death among infants;

■ A more heat-stable measles vaccine is needed. Measles kill an estimated 1.5 million children each year;

■ A halt and reversal of a trend from breast to bottle feeding. Bottle-fed babies are three to five times more likely to die in infancy than breast-fed babies in developing nations, and

■ The use of child-growth charts. This innocent-sounding idea would enable mothers to detect malnutrition in early stages.

UNICEF is just one among many groups and church organizations helping provide care for the needy worldwide. Our Thumb Area has UNICEF drives, but an even wider effort is extended during the excellent CROP fund-raising program, undertaken each fall by Laker Future Farmers of America Chapter members and others.

More could -- and should be done, though.

The total method of improving the plight of the world's poor includes more food contributions, better medical care and self-help education, such as more farm production aid for Third World farmers. UNICEF has been around since 1946, helping those who need it badly. Imagine how things would be if such fine organizations did not exist at all!

At one time, the U.S. provided 50% of UNICEF's operating money. That has fallen to 17% now, as other lands are doing their share, too. But we cannot envision how fortunate we

"THE QUIET PLACE"

A new experience: I visited St. Mary's Catholic Church near Kinde recently. It was a brilliant day with the sun streaming through the stained glass windows. It was beautiful and quiet. In an age of noise, how we need those quiet experiences.

Jesus would often slip away for some solitude and quiet to be refreshed by the Father. After a preaching and healing mission, Jesus called the disciples aside and said, "Come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest." (Mark 6:31).

There is a notable difference between loneliness and solitude: between that feeling of being deserted and those moments of quiet when you know that God is with you. Loneliness is inner emptiness. One can be lonely in a crowd. Solitude and quiet meditation brings an inner stillness, a calm sense of well-being.

Teresa of Avila wrote, "Settle yourself in solitude and you will come upon Him in yourself." (From Richard J. Foster, Celebration of Discipline, p. 84).

are to sit down to good meals each day, while 15,000 small children die.

Between now and this same time tomorrow, 625 families will be saddened with the death of youngsters every hour. Groups such as UNICEF, CROP and so many others need continuing support from the pocketbook -- as well as the heart -- if they're to reduce that incredible, needless heartache.

RECOLLECTIONS

By GEORGE KEIM

Dear Editor,

During the Depression, work was hard to get. When a fellow found out somebody needed help, there were always a couple of men ready for the job.

Most of the jobs that farmers had were cleaning out the stables or chicken coops or working in the woods.

One day a man called up and wondered if I'd help him in the woods. He said I should come early in the morning, because it was quite a ways to the woods. So I got there about daylight and he hitched his horses to a wagon and told me where to go.

It was about seven miles to the place. He said he'd come with the car, so I drove to the place and I almost froze 'til I got there. He came just as I was driving in and we worked until noon.

Then we put the horses into a barn and he got a pail with some soup out of his car and told me to go into a beet shanty that was close by and eat it, while he went home to do some chores.

The soup was good, but cold and there was no fire in the shanty, so I was glad when I could go back to work! Only, he was cussing all the time and telling me to hurry up.

When it was almost dark, we loaded up a big load of wood and he started me home. It got dark but there were always some wagons or buggies on the road without lights, so nobody thought anything of it.

But I was so cold when I got home, I could hardly walk. I had worked for the man before and three days was all I could take, because he got so mean and if any little thing went wrong, he blamed me for it.

So on Saturday night, I quit. I worked for him again several times but I never could take it more than three days. He later hired a German who couldn't understand English very well, and he didn't know when he was being bawled out.

In Prov. 29:19, it says a servant will not be corrected by words, for though he understandeth he will not answer -- so if you have a hired man and he doesn't do what you want him to, don't just tell him, show him and I'm sure he'll be a better hired man.

inch color posters of McLaughlin (pronounced Mick-LOFF-in) wearing a necklace that says "SUGAR," attired in his Central uniform, number 14, and holding a basketball.

What are the man's talents you ask. He was last season's Mid-American Conference Player of the Year. He holds the all-time Rose Arena scoring record with 46 points in a single game, one better than Larry Bird's 1977 record of 45 points. His career points total 2,071. And he's a master of long jump shots. CMU head coach Dick Parfitt was quoted as saying after the season finale, "When he gets drafted and goes to camp, somebody is going to have to hang onto him."

McLaughlin, a graduate of Grand Rapids Creston High School, is the first person in CMU history to be promoted, commercially, as an All-American Candidate. The university spent $1,000 on the campaign, much less than what the BIG TEN spends in promoting one of their hopefuls.

Both the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News had articles dealing with achievements. Sugar's season record may have been dismal, 10-16, but McLaughlin's season was as hot as ever. He average 24 points a game.

At Central, McLaughlin is definitely all sugar and spice and everything nice. Be sure to have a super week.

Some

information...

The American Cancer Society is trying to put itself out of business. Its stated purpose is to find a cure for cancer and then close up shop.

Many strides have been made toward that end during the existence of ACS. And new discoveries are being made all the time. But we know that the work is not going to end today, next week, or even next month. Research is going on all over the United States, with doctors and researchers working with many different facets of the disease.

The research is funded by ACS which also provides education and patient services and rehabilitation in the fight against cancer. Money is raised through the efforts of many volunteers. The annual door-to-door Crusade is conducted during April. Someone from your neighborhood will be knocking on your door, bringing you information and giving you a chance to contribute.

One of the on-going funds for ACS is the memorial program. Memorials for the deceased or to honor a living person may be sent to Gertrude Quinn of Kinde at any time of the year.

Special events take place throughout the year to supplement the ACS treasury. In Huron County the quilt raffle is a very successful project. We seem to be a sports-oriented community and use these activities to raise money. The golf tournament, Buck Boards for Buck Season, Bowl-Down Cancer all are generously supported. Even the cancelled Ski-a-thon brought in contributions.

Now you ask, "What do we get right here for all this money?"

Of course we all benefit from research. None of that is local in Huron County, but it is carried on in several locations in Michigan, putting money into the economy.

The educational aspect of the attack on cancer is important and it is being done locally. Anyone who would like an educational program for a group of any size may contact Sharon Maust or Karen Whaley.

"I CAN COPE" is a series of meetings designed to help patients and families living with cancer in their daily activities. Registration is being taken at Scheurer Hospital, sponsor of "I CAN COPE" along with ACS. Various professionals -- doctors, social workers, therapists, dietitians, ministers and lawyers -- will lead discussions and help patients and families find answers to their questions.

Other services provided to cancer patients in Huron County include help with transportation for treatments, dressings, sick room supplies and equipment. The recent death of service treasurer Jean Bolger has necessitated a change for any patient who had been in contact with her. Cancer patients who need service should contact Sally Beers of Sebawing, chairman of the Huron County Unit of ACS.

The American Cancer Society is trying to go out of business. Let's all do what we can to help it.

Baur to tour Europe

Shelly Baur, of Bay Port, a senior at Laker-High School, has been selected to perform with the International Orchestra, a group of 1,000 young American and European musicians who will participate in the 14th annual Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp International Exchange Program this summer.

Blue Lake will send four musical groups to Europe this summer, while nine groups from four European countries will visit Michigan, according to Blue Lake International Director Gretchen Stansell.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce (Marilyn) Baur of Bay Port, Shelly will play the flute when she joins over 250 musicians who will travel to Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland and Germany from June 20 through July 18.

Farmers' Week at MSU is still ongoing, running through Friday on campus in East Lansing. The week of seminars and displays offers farmers, gardeners and others a chance to get updates on production techniques, new products and equipment and legislation involving them. Farmers' Week and Natural Resources Days are March 21-25, featuring 200 educational seminars, workshops and clinics -- along with hundreds of commercial and educational exhibits.

U.S. farmers are 'workaholics' according to researchers at the American Farm Bureau Federation. A total of 58% of the 1.3 million U.S. farmers work another job away from their land. And, only 6% of farm families support themselves totally with farm labors, AFBF researcher John Lewis says.

"Today's farmers are educated, mobile and motivated. As long as they have the time, they'll be off to town to put their talents to use and earn that extra income," Lewis said. In 1981, U.S. farm families reported $64.4 billion in net income. Of that total, 61% -- or $39.3 billion -- was from off-farm jobs.

Legislation to relax federal loan repayments and limit foreclosures against farmers won approval from the U.S. House Ag Committee last week. The measure calls for one-year deferrals on Farmers' Home Administration loans if farmers can prove severe financial problems.

The government is also prohibited from foreclosing on their homes. The FHA would reschedule loan repayments or take other steps to ease the farmers' plight.

Methanol use is rising according to oil industry analyst Dan Lunberg. He predicts a spectacular growth in the use of methanol in American motor fuel.

He estimates 800 million gallons of methanol -- made chiefly from natural gas, but which can be made from a variety of organic substances -- could be produced by 1990, producing 16 billion gallons of blended fuel. The usual mix is one gallon of methanol in 20 gallons of a methanol-gasoline blend.

The day may not be far off when straight methanol will take its place on every service station pump island. Straight methanol could take over the motor fuel market someday, he adds.

Methanol is cheaper to produce than ethanol, also being used in gasoline blends. Ethanol is an alcohol manufactured mostly from feed grain, but capable of being made from a variety of organic materials.

Higher fertilizer prices are expected this summer, especially if a stronger-than-expected recovery causes farmers to use large amounts of fertilizer, according to farmers.

"Prices have started firming up this year earlier than normal," says Deneb Tekeki of International Minerals and Chemical Corp., of Illinois, the top U.S. fertilizer producer. USDA reports show that annual fertilizer consumption fell 10% to 48.7 million tons last year -- and USDA expects it to drop to 45 million tons this growing season.

But a strong economic recovery may cause farmers to use more fertilizer than expected, reducing stockpiles and causing some shortages. Consumers use less than 10% of the total.

Local participation in P.I.K. is described as very good, as preliminary reports show all Huron County P.I.K. (Payment In Kind) sign-ups were accepted by the federal government. Full reports will be made available later this week.

Sap runs once again

One rite of spring is the tradition of tapping maple trees for sap, to become delicious maple syrup. "Sugaring" is done in the East and Midwest, and each gallon of syrup is produced from boiling down 40 gallons of sap. The biggest maple-syrup producing states are:

Vermont	500,000 gallons
New York	320,000 gallons
Wisconsin	125,000 gallons
Ohio	100,000 gallons
MICHIGAN	91,000 GALLONS
New Hampshire	86,000 gallons

Pigs thrive on fat supplemented diet

It appears that hogs like a little fat in their diets.

Maynard Hogberg, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service swine specialist, says that not only do hogs gain weight more efficiently on a fat-supplemented diet, but the baby pig survival rate is in some cases improved.

Hogberg finds that diets containing up to 10% fat from lard or tallow generally result in a linear increase in efficiency of gain. Though carcass backfat will increase slightly when the daily ration contains more than 5% fat, the diet will not affect muscling and yield, he says.

Hogberg says the response to fat in the growing-finishing diet is seasonal. "Pigs will show more response to supplemental fat in the diet during the summer because feed intake is reduced," he says.

Before producers decide to use supplementary fat, they should consider the economics involved by determining the feed cost per pound of gain.

To maximize the effect of added fat in the diet, a constant relationship between energy and protein must be maintained by increasing the protein or amino acid level when fat is added to the diet, Hogberg says.

Early steelhead season predicted

Fishermen frustrated by low 1982 catches can expect an earlier and more productive steelhead season this spring, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Ice-covered rivers reduced last year's spring runs and steelhead that did not surface should run in fairly large numbers this year. State fisheries biologists estimate that up to 20% of the 1.7 million three to seven inchers planted in 1980 and 1981 will run as five to twelve pound fighters and immature "skippers" planted in 1981 will run at one to three pounds in the 40 streams listed on the Auto Club's guide.

Early April marks the start of pier fishing on Saginaw Bay at Caseville in the Thumb, with runs peaking at month's end. Lake Huron harbor fishing also should be good on the Pinnebog River at Port Crescent State Park near Port Austin and at Port Sanilac and Lexington.

The Auto Club suggests that steelhead anglers check the Department of Natural Resources Michigan Fishing Guide for regulations on rivers, since parts of some are restricted to fly fishing only. Other rivers are open year-around and some open April 1 or April 30, when the general trout season begins.

Although contaminant levels of Great Lakes sport fish are declining, the State Department of Public Health advises that Lakes Michigan and Huron steelhead should not be eaten by children, pregnant women, those expecting to bear children, or nursing mothers. All others should not eat more than one steelhead meal per week.

Baby pig survival is improved when fat is fed to sows during late gestation and early lactation. Hogberg says that fat may also help prevent the "Thin sow syndrome" and the associated reproductive problems.

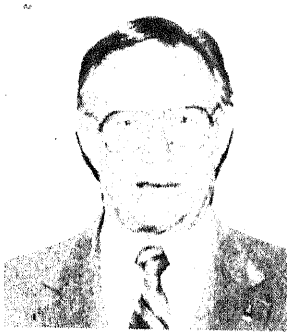

The effect of a fat-supplemented diet on the piglet survival rate is dependent on the present survival rate in the herd.

"Herds with a 90% piglet survival rate will not benefit from added fat," he says. "But if there is a problem with pigs at birth it may be beneficial to add the fat to the sows' diet."

Another factor in the influence of a fat-supplemented diet for sows will likely increase pig survival in farrowing facilities with cold or drafty floors.

Hogberg says that fat should be added to the sow diet at least seven days before farrowing and at a rate that will insure 2.2 pounds of actual fat intake per sow. To insure adequate fat intake, he says, fat should be fed at 8% to 15% of the total diet.

Oeschger named to board

Ed Oeschger

A Bay Port man was recently elected to the Michigan Live Stock Exchange Board of Directors at their recent annual meeting in Flint.

Elected to three year terms on the board of the 23,000 member cooperative are Ed Oeschger of Bay Port, Keith McKenzie of Cassopolis and Earl Johnson of Okemos. During an executive meeting of the board of directors, Oeschger was also appointed secretary-treasurer of the board.

He and his wife Mildred operate a Huron County cat-breeding operation in partnership with their son Dale.

The Michigan Live Stock Exchange has auction sale yards in St. Louis, Manchester, Cass City and Battle Creek. Additionally, daily hog markets are in Cassopolis, Sturgis, Zeeland and Portland, with a central office located in Lansing.

Timely lawn and garden tasks

Winter weather may linger into March, but the arrival of the windy month means spring can't be far away. Michigan State University Extension specialists say the following lawn and garden tasks are timely now:

--Order or select trees and shrubs for spring planting.

--Fertilize established perennials, trees and shrubs as they begin to grow.

--Transplant trees and shrubs before they begin to leaf out.

--Prune landscape plants to remove branches broken by snow or ice.

--Check ornamentals and fruit trees for bark damage caused by gnawing mice, rabbits and other rodents. If a ring of bark has been removed from the trunk or main stem, the plant will have to be replaced or repaired by bridge grafting.

--Prune most raspberries now. (The exception is the variety of Heritage, which should have been pruned last fall).

--Hold off fertilizing bluegrass lawns with nitrogen until late May, especially if you applied a complete fertilizer or nitrogen in the fall.

--Seed bare spots in the lawn with a grass seed mixture that will blend with the lawn. If you don't know what varieties are growing there, use a mixture of improved bluegrass varieties in sunny areas and bluegrass and red fescue in shaded spots. Spot seeding will be more effective.

Laker Board chooses smaller diesel buses for fleet

By RICH

SWARTZENDRUBER

The Elktown Pigeon-Bay Port School Board decided that bigger isn't always better -- at least for their purposes, at their monthly meeting at Elktown Elementary School last Tuesday night.

The Laker Board voted to purchase two more of the 65-passenger school buses now in use, rather than the larger 85-passenger "snub nose" bus recently evaluated by the district. The action was taken on the recommendation of the Board's Transportation Committee.

High School Principal and Bus Coordinator James Ballard told the Board that an important consideration needed was the length of time needed to make each run. He noted that 50 to 70 minutes per run is the District's goal.

For the bigger buses to save money, their runs would need to be lengthened, causing them to be unacceptably time-consuming.

Another consideration in the 65-passenger purchase is unification with the present fleet, to make parts interchangeable among buses.

Transportation Committee Chairman Merlin Farver recommended to his fellow Board members that the $13,149 bid of Blue Bird Bus Co. and a chassis bid from Osentoski Equipment of Pigeon at $26,300 be accepted. Lower bids for the chassis were received, but Farver noted they didn't meet the specifications set by the committee.

The Board accepted the recommendation and purchased two of the $39,500 vehicles, plus approved a decision to purchase two vans for use by small groups. Bids for the vans will be announced soon.

REPAIRS NEEDED: Building and Grounds Supt. Gordon Stirrett reported on building improvements needed in the District. Laker High building repairs are needed on the roof over the boiler and over the locker rooms. Also being considered is removal of south-side windows in the gym room, plus hall windows nearby.

At Elktown Elementary, the old building needs many pipes replaced, Stirrett said. He took the Board on a walking tour of the old building, noting that a lowered ceiling in one room dramatically improved its appearance, as well as quieting room sounds. He would like other rooms converted similarly.

In the newer Elktown building, Stirrett recommends covering and insulating most west windows, leaving only the windows that currently open.

Stirrett and Laker Supt. Harry Brunet were directed to establish priorities and get cost estimates for these projects, to be reported at the April 12 regular meeting.

DATA CLASS: Business Manager Bob Drury reported that the Huron Intermediate School District is offering a new business data processing class for vocational education students in the area. Since it is a new program, state funding is not available to help cover the additional costs for this year, Brunet said.

He recommended no increased tuition charge for that class, asking the Board to make up the difference from general funds, to prevent a drop in vocational students due to this one-year funding problem.

TERMS EXPIRING: Board terms of Gary King and Virginia Leipprandt are due to expire this spring. The election of the two four-year terms is slated for June 13. Nominating petitions are available at the Superintendent's office during normal business hours Monday through Fridays.

Many building repairs also needed

STATE TESTS: Reports on the Michigan State Assessment Tests taken last fall by fourth, seventh and 10th graders were given by Elementary Coordinator Fred Jones, Junior High Principal Ben Phillips and High School Guidance Counselor Duane Guenther.

Fourth graders' scores roughly equaled last year's performance, while seventh grader performances dipped slightly from last year. Phillips explained that part of the reason for the drop was an exceptionally strong performance by last year's group, and he noted that the overall trend is up during the past few years.

Tenth grade students scored below state averages with math showing as the weakest area, Guenther said. Laker educators are doing a good job in preparing college-bound math students, however, as they are above state and national levels on ACT entrance scores, he said.

OLD RECORDS: The Board turned over some old Elktown School records formerly stored in the school attic to the Elktown Historical Society, at the group's request. Joles noted that teacher contracts from 1908 showed instructors were paid $54 per month.

BAY PORT CARNIVAL: Joles reported the Bay Port School Carnival grossed $3076 this year. Elktown is planning a similar carnival to raise funds for special programs on April 30.

OTHER NEWS: Laker Kindergarten Roundup is scheduled for Thursday, April 21, he said.

The Laker Booster Club was commended by the Board, with special recognition to the efforts of Bob Smith, George Gardy and Nova Jean Miller.

The Board met in closed executive session to discuss a current lawsuit, prior to adjourning.

ASK

By Dalton P. Coe, D.D.S.

I'd like to take a minute to discuss four little things that give most of us problems - wisdom teeth. These are the third set of molars that usually begin erupting about age 18. An occasional individual will be missing all or some of these, but most of us have all four and most don't have sufficient space for them to erupt.

There are several potential problems that these molars can cause when they do not fully erupt: 1) partially erupted teeth are very susceptible to a periodic infection called pericoronitis which usually is quite painful; 2) all teeth have a developmental sac around them which disappears when they erupt into the mouth. However, when they fail to erupt, this sac can enlarge over time as a cyst causing bone destruction; 3) if the wisdom tooth is angled into the second molar, the force it can exert can cause pressure resorption of the root of the second molar resulting in its loss; 4) the wisdom teeth can exert forces on the other molars shifting them forward slightly which can result in crowding of the front teeth.

These are major problems that wisdom teeth can cause when there is inadequate space for them. If the potential for problems is there, it usually can be seen in the late teens in which case we will recommend early removal because the younger the patient the more speedy and less complicated the recovery.

Ty's Lounge owners Tom and Barb Wills are getting used to accepting this plaque -- it's their third year to be top fund-raisers in "Buck Boards for Buck Season," an annual American Cancer Society event in Huron County.

The results of the "Buck Boards for Buck Season" have been tabulated and the winner of the annual fund-raising contest is Ty's Lounge of Elkton, says the Huron County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

This marks the third consecutive year that Ty's has claimed the trophy, donated by Bay House Sports of Bay Port.

About 35 bars throughout Huron County raised over $450 to be used by ACS for education, research and patient services in the fight against cancer.

Ty's raised $104 during the three-month hunting season. The Huron County Unit of ACS thanks everyone who participated for their support in this project.

PARENT'S COFFEE HOUR

About 38 preschool parents and other interested persons attended monthly Coffee Hour on Tuesday, March 15 at the library.

Mrs. Rebecca Clabuesch of Pigeon, Speech and Language Pathologist for Sanilac and Huron County Intermediate School District, was the speaker. Her program was about helping your child as he or she is learning to speak.

She started off by saying that a normal 3½ to 4 year old speaks an average of 400 words a day. She also said that parents should not compare their children to other children because every child has a different personality.

Mrs. Clabuesch then listed some suggestions for parents. The first one she gave was "Plan to have a physical examination for your child". His chances for speaking clearly are better if he is healthy and has normal hearing. Secondly, "Listen carefully to your child and look at him as he speaks to you. Talking should be fun! She also said that the parent should give the child a chance to grow up and be independent so that he will need and want to talk. Don't anticipate his wishes so that he has no need to talk.

She then went on to say that during family conversations, give your child a chance to join in and talk. Listen to your child and give him the same attention that you as a parent expect him to give you. It is best to choose a time that is convenient for both parents and child. She said it is important to remember that talking must give satisfaction and pleasure.

Mrs. Clabuesch also gave some Speech Hints for parents to remember. Some of them were: Don't expect or demand perfection, correct only short "easy" words so he will meet with more success, make a scrapbook of words he is practicing, don't use baby talk, don't stand over him—get down to his level so he will meet with more success, and have the child look at you, say the words for him and then have him try again.

Mrs. Clabuesch then closed her presentation with a question and answer period. This session concludes the current series of Coffee Hours for preschool parents. This enrichment program will resume in the fall of 1983.

SATURDAY STORY HOUR

There will be a Film Festival at the library on Saturday, March 26.

Films scheduled for that day are "Cricket and the Engine" and "Hound that Thought He was a Raccoon". "Cricket and the Engine" is about a music-loving cricket who is concerned with the environment and overcomes a motor vehicle owned by a crafty porcupine. "Hound that Thought He was a Raccoon" is the adventure of a lost pup adopted by a raccoon mother. Later, back in civilization, the pup has trouble adjusting to dog-like behavior.

This Film Festival is about one hour in length and begins at 1 p.m. All early elementary age children are invited to attend.

PRESCHOOL STORY HOUR

A special Easter Story is planned for Tuesday, March 29 at the library.

Featured stories will be "ABC Easter Bunny", "The Easter Bunny's Secret", and "Rabbit Finds a Way". There will also be a special filmstrip "The Big Easter Egg Hunt".

In addition to the stories and filmstrip Jane Himmel and Starla Albrecht plan exercises, fingerplays and a take home project for the children.

Two sessions of Story Hour are conducted weekly. The first session is from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. and the second is from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

MEET OUR STAFF
This week in our Meet the Staff section we are featuring Mrs. Jane Himmel, library aide.

Jane graduated from Laker High School in 1977 and began working at the library in June of that year. She left the library in August of 1979 and went to live with her brother in Virginia. In September of 1981 she returned to her job at the library.

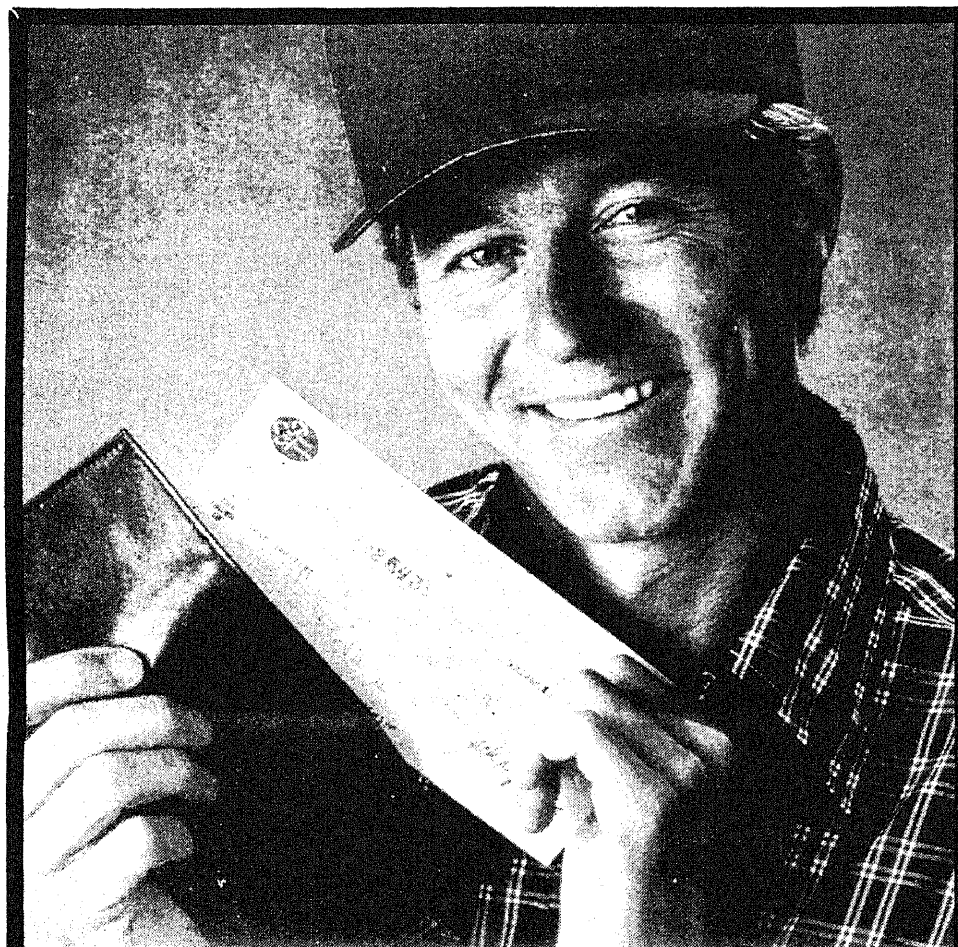

In December of 1982 the former Jane Stahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stahl, married Dennis Himmel. They live on Dufty Road near Caseville.

Jane has many jobs in addition to circulation. She processes new books, does Preschool Story Hour, Saturday Story Hour and special craft projects.

Jane's hobbies include cooking, sewing, knitting, crocheting and taking care of her son Robert.

Kretzschmer-Conrad vows spoken March 12

Salem United Methodist Church, Pigeon was the site of wedding vows recited between Tammy D. Conrad of Caseville and David C. Kretzschmer of Bay Port on Saturday, March 12.

Rev. Ralph Pieper officiated at the double-ring ceremony for the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad of Caseville and Ms. Kay Foster of Hawaii and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kretzschmer of Bay Port.

Musical selections included "Someday, Somewhere" and "The Lord's Prayer," sung by the groom's sister, Julie Kretzschmer of Bay

Port, accompanied by organist Pam Dubey of Pigeon.

The altar was graced with candelabras accented with carnations, mums and amethyst star flowers and a unity candle.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon trimmed in chantilly lace in an empire waist with a peek-a-boo neckline, also trimmed in lace. The lace also enhanced the cuffs of the bishop sleeves. The floor length skirt featured a lace-edged ruffle and pleated hemline, completed by a cathedral length train. Complementing her attire was a fingertip veil designed with matching lace.

The bride carried a long cascade of white roses, white mini carnations, baby's breath, ivy greens and springeri.

Standing up for the bride as maid of honor was the groom's sister, Cathy Kretzschmer, who wore a halter-necked amethyst dress with spaghetti straps and a pleated skirt in silk jersey with a matching ribbon threaded jacket. She wore a complementary hat and carried a round potpourri of mini white carnations, baby's breath and amethyst star flowers.

Also attending the bride were Tonda Kula and Sally Thiel, of Pigeon, both friends of the bride and Julie Kretzschmer, of Bay Port, sister of the groom, attired identically to the maid of honor. They also carried similar flowers.

Best man for the groom was Clare Swartzendruber of Bay Port, a friend of the groom. Groomsman were Roger Dubs and David Damm, of Pigeon, both friends of the groom and David Jarrett, of Pennsylvania, a friend of the groom.

Seating guests were ushers Jeff Desotell, of Caseville and Duane Harwood, of Bad Axe, both friends of the groom.

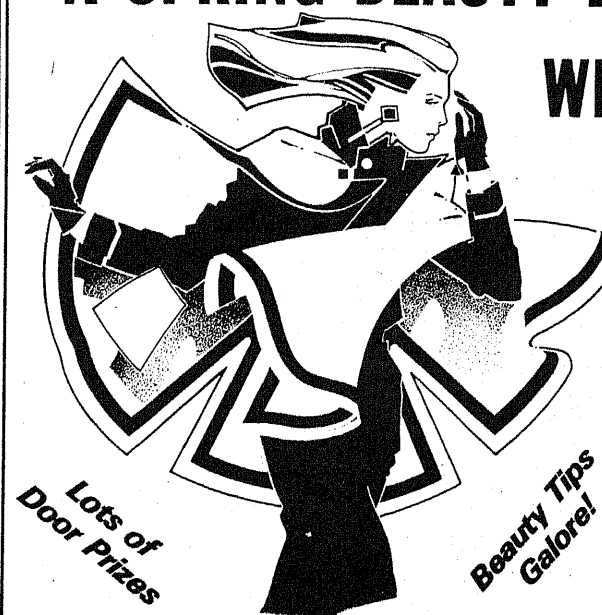

The mother of the bride wore a long voile lavender print dress, designed with bishop sleeves a white bodice with lace trim and a high lace collar. She wore a corsage of white roses, mini carnations and baby's breath.

Step-mother of the bride wore an orchid giana floor length gown with a com-

SOUND-OFF!

Call 453-2323 anytime day or night to record your SOUND-OFF message. Selected statements will appear weekly in The Progress-Advance...so watch for yours!

Attention all Pigeon area residents: the Chamber of Commerce is inviting your neighborhood to build a neighborhood float for the July 30 Farmers' Festival parade. Starting at the spotlight corner, at least four districts are being established, along Michigan Ave. and Main Street. An area captain should be set up for each of the four corners. Smaller groups are welcome, too, two or more families. Help make the 10th Farmers' Festival the best ever!

To answer your snide remark that if I had put in more effort, I could have graduated and would have been invited to attend the Elkton School reunion: it just so happens I did graduate, but by no choice of my own was shipped to the new Laker School in my last year. Since you are inviting all teachers, regardless of time served in the school, why not invite all who attended the school?

Dear Pigeon shopper: I stood behind you in line and listened to the discussion about the wrong price being marked on an item you were buying. Be glad you have a place to shop in the town where you work. Stores even make honest mistakes sometimes. Signed, Detroit shopper.

To whom it may concern who was driving by the post office. If you weren't driving so slowly, I wouldn't have passed you. There's no reason to get hyper at me, you were at fault, don't you think?

We'd like to congratulate Jamie McBride for winning the shopping spree. By the way, we'd like to know if he set a new record for the amount of groceries gathered? If not, we'd like to know who the record-holder is. Thank you.

Something should be done about students smoking in the parking lot at Lakers. Most of the time they're smoking worse things than cigarettes. Signed, a concerned Laker student.

Why don't they have more teen-age dances? They have adult dances that don't even make money. But teen dances do. There should be more of them.

I'd like to congratulate the Linkville mayor for keeping his town so neat and clean. I was there this weekend and was impressed. Other towns should take after Linkville. Signed, J.D.

I'd like to wish two early birthdays to my Aunt Jean (in Sag.) and Mr. Deneen. Also, two belated birthdays to sister Wendy and a big 16 to Leanne D.

All one has to do to realize the seriousness of the unemployment problem in the Thumb is to drive to Caseville and see and talk to all the people fishing. There are young, middle age and older people out of work.

The person at Laker Junior High who's leaving pornographic notes in the lockers had better watch out. I've got a fist waiting for you. If you don't believe I'm serious, just sign your name on one of those notes.

Did you see Real People on TV March 16? There was a story about guy cheerleaders. Why aren't there some at Laker High? It sure would boost up the girls' games. Thank you.

Consideration of another person and his property or concern has not been demonstrated by the individuals who haul manure on Caseville Road, south of Pigeon. For nearly three-fourths of a mile from the particular farm, to the next corner, manure has been scattered rather plentifully. When our cars, trucks, pickups are parked in the garage, often driving through this mess is almost unbearable!

I wonder if one drove a motorcycle through, what could happen? The safety factor is something of prime importance here — try driving in this once — it's very slippery! Mr. Farmer, perhaps a rear scraper used over the road after each few loads would improve the situation. Let's see if we can't use the proper equipment or use better judgment for hauling this precious commodity. Use more respect toward another's safety and property.

Happy Birthday, Alice A. Don't worry — 42 isn't that old!

CASEVILLE LIBRARY

The Caseville Library Club conducted their meeting on Tuesday, March 8 at noon in the Community Room of the Village-Township Hall.

Viola Hopkins gave the invocation which was followed by a sack lunch. Coffee and dessert were served by hostesses Jackie Lankey, Leona McElyea and Betty Schuetz.

President Marion Watterworth opened the meeting by leading the 22 members present in the Club Collect and Pledge to the Flag. Guest, Bobbie Towler, was introduced and became a new member of the Library Club.

Reports by Secretary Charollette Reeves and assistant treasurer Maxine Allman were read and approved. Committee reports were given.

Jean Jock gave an update on the Spring Dinner to be held at the Buccaneer Den, April 21. Tickets will be available from Betty Schuetz. More information will be announced.

The Library Club will sponsor a musical program put on by the Metropolitan Area Detroit Edison Glee Club on May 14 at the Caseville United Church.

President Watterworth appointed a nominating committee for new officers Pearl Stevenson, Irene Iwanski, Kay Miller, Jackie Lankey and chairperson Maxine Allman. Nominations will be read at the April meeting and the election will take place in May.

Jean Jock introduced the guest speakers, William Lubad, who gave an interesting and informative talk on Mental Health.

The Club's next meeting will be April 12.

FAITHFUL FRIENDS

Wanda Bouverette hosted the March 10 meeting of the Faithful Friends of the Caseville RLDs Church with Barbara Eimers as co-hostess.

Ila McCallum presided at the meeting. Lydia Ross had devotions on prayer. The group sang a song Alma Smith and Pat Carter reported on the Mystery

RUSH LAKE FARM BUREAU

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dufty hosted the Rush Lake Farm Bureau Thursday evening at a potluck supper.

Mrs. Fred McBride conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Dufty led the discussion topic, Social Security Reform.

There was a discussion on accepting new members into the group. Anyone in the area that would like to join the monthly meetings which are conducted in members' homes may contact Chairman Mona McBride.

Opal Dufty reviewed the fun sheet. The Hal Conkeys will host the April meeting.

The meeting reconvened and was adjourned at 10:05 p.m. Respectfully Submitted, John W. Champagne Secretary Board of Education

JUST DUCKY - Interested students at Bay Port Elementary School look on as local wood-carver Bernard Stiebe of Port Austin shows and tells about items he has made over the past eight years. Stiebe presented an assembly for third through sixth graders last Wednesday.

Mixing stories of his early life with information on how to carve, Stiebe held his young audience spell-bound as simple pieces of wood took on the forms of real things. Following the demonstration, students were given an opportunity to ask him questions about his craft.

THERE WILL ALWAYS BE AN ABUNDANCE OF GOD'S POWER

Lord, through this hour
Be Thou our Guide,
So by Thy power
No foot shall slide.
—Westminster Chimes

"God is my strength and power; and he maketh my way perfect."
—II Samuel 22:33

It appears that, with an occasional respite, the so-called worldwide energy crisis will be with us for a long time; with its effects on our lifestyles and our economy, and the continuing battles about how best to solve the problem without causing others. What everyone from our lawmakers and government officials on down would do well to remember is that all power originally came from God and still does, that we would have no earthly possessions without His having endowed us with the intelligence and power to produce them, and that we can best solve our problems of energy or anything else by a continued reliance on His wisdom and guidance. Go to your Church and learn about the divine origin of this one inexhaustible source of power.

Gundens entertain at banquet

Tami Chere and John Gundens

The annual Bluewater Youth for Christ Sharing Banquet is scheduled for Monday, March 28 at the Colony House on M-53 at 7 p.m., according to Executive Director Dwight Gascho. Highlighting the musical portion of the banquet will be an appearance by Tami Chere and her brother John Gundens, who have recently teamed up in concerts and the recording studio. John is the former lead singer with the band, "Sweetfire." Both Tami and John are former Bay Port area residents.

A local YFC group will also contribute several selections from the musical

Kilmanagh Church sets service

The Kilmanagh United Methodist Church will present an Easter cantata entitled "Easter Celebration" this Sunday, March 27 at 8 p.m.

The public is welcome to attend.

'Christian Mothering' topic of May seminar

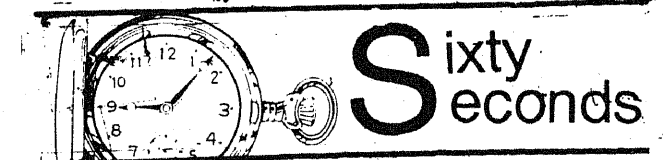

Because of the success of last year's event, Cross Lutheran Church Women will again present a day-long seminar on Christian Mothering, set for Thursday, May 12 at the church.

Keynote speaker will be Mary Kuhn, national president of American Mothers Inc., a support group for Christian mothers.

Topics designed for mothers of children in various age groups, from preschoolers to adolescents, will be addressed by Goldie Bristol of Caseville, Pastor Paul Hoyer of Linkville, Florence Engler of Beaver-ton, Eleanor Kar of Bad Axe, Jean Bauman of Elkton and Elsie Arndt of Troy.

All area women are invited to attend and are requested to pre-register before May 5 by calling Cross Lutheran School at 453-3331 or Bernice Shupe at 269-8443.

More information will be published as the seminar date approaches.

Deliverance from evil

Read 2 Timothy 4:9-18.

He said unto them, "When ye pray, say..." Deliver us from evil." Luke 11:24.

We live daily in danger. In the midst of life we are in death. The death notices in the newspapers are a constant reminder of how suddenly and unexpectedly death can come upon us.

The devil is doing his best to bring evil upon us. How can Christians be safe and secure from all the evil which so easily besets them and threatens to overwhelm them?

Where can God's children find deliverance from all the evil in this sinful world?

There is only one Deliverer, and Jesus Christ is His name. We cannot be our own wisdom or strength be delivered from evil. Someone greater than we are must do it for us.

Jesus Christ accomplished that when he died and rose on our behalf.

Christ's resurrection is proof positive that He is stronger than the devil, hell and death itself.

Whatever the evil may be that assaults us, God's undeserved love is sufficient for us, for His strength is made perfect in our weakness.

St. Paul declared, "The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto His heavenly kingdom, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen."

May St. Paul's faith be ours also!

Lord, I am relying on You to keep me from all evil in this world and to take me to heaven where there is no evil. Amen.

You Are Invited to Attend!

Dear Friend,
As we near the festival of Easter, it is good for us to spend sometime in praise to the Lord who died and rose for us.

During Holy Week, we will do that praising in very different ways at St. Paul Lutheran Church of Linkville.

We hope that you will make the time to join with your fellow brothers and sisters in Christ, for some of the events of this Holy Week.

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Paul Hoyer, St. Paul Lutheran Church Linkville, Michigan (6 miles south of Pigeon)

Log cabins revisited

About a year ago, I wrote an article about a log cabin that my Dad and Grandpa had built in the Bay City area. At the time, I felt that I may be alone in my dreams of someday living in a dwelling that was similar. Was I ever wrong! According to the number of phone calls that I received, and the amount of mail that was stuffed in my box, I found that there are a great number of people that are interested in the rejuvenation of the log home industry.

Probably, the most significant letter I received, was from the Muir Publishing Company Limited, located in Gardenvale, Quebec. They wrote: "We were delighted to see your column, 'Woods and Waters' dealing with log cabins. We thought, because of your keen interest in log homes, you would appreciate a review copy of:" and they included about five books, some pamphlets, and many copies of magazine articles.

I guess my first surprise was that there are literally thousands of people who are excited with the renaissance of this tough old symbol of frontier ruggedness. My second surprise was that I could not believe that this paper is so wide spread in its coverage. Besides Quebec, I got notes from Detroit, Saginaw, Ferndale, Iowa, California, Wisconsin and many others. Because of the interest generated by this subject, I have decided to bring you an update on the log home industry.

There is no doubt about it, the log home is earning an enthusiastic and well-deserved revival these days. With rustic solid timber walls, fully modern interiors, and superior energy efficiency, log homes have been proven scientifically to be the answer to some of today's energy crisis in housing.

One sign of this fact was the striking 4,000 square foot "Dream House" chosen for the 1982 Toronto Home Show. Gone are the days of the one-room log cabin. The Dream Home, an H-shaped log house in dovetailed, chinked style was hand-built by Perer Hutley of Hunstville, Ontario. It had two solariums, 10' logs, and as put together using a computer.

Another indication is that as people recognize the economic good sense and energy-efficiency of the log home, more and more are turning to it as their place of residency. It is expected that more than 80,000 log homes will be built this year. With numbers like that, it is easy to see why the industry is nearing the $1 billion mark in total yearly revenues.

Because of the tremendous growth of the industry, in 1977 the Muir Publishing Company put out the first copy of their now famous Log Home Guide. This directory provides names, addresses, telephone numbers and detailed descriptions of the log home companies, along with price ranges, construction techniques, line drawings, floor plans and photographs of their houses. It also includes a map of manufacturers' locations for a quick and easy reference to the company nearest you.

Another striking feature of the guide is its "how to" approach. Readers are told of their options in building with logs, how to calculate what they should spend, how to design their home and are guided through all the steps to completion. The different types of logs available are displayed on a special chart, which provides a quick reference to the companies which produce them.

One article takes the readers through the experiences of a couple in selecting a manufacturer, and planning and building their own log house.

Articles also appear on the following subjects: home heating systems, such as wood, wind and solar, investment and employment opportunities, log building schools, historical log structures, new developments such as mobile and modular log homes, tools and equipment, and restoring and remodeling with logs.

The directory issue is available for $10 and may be purchased from Muir Publishing Company Limited, Gardenvale, Quebec, Canada H9X 1B0.

At the present time, there are more than 200 companies that manufacture log homes. Some are located in huge factories that have representatives throughout the country and excellent reputations. Others are not so big, but produce very fine homes for the people in the immediate area. And, as always, there are many who are trying to horn into the growing market, just to make a fast buck.

There is no doubt about it, the log home is earning an enthusiastic and well-deserved revival these days. With rustic solid timber walls, fully modern interiors and superior energy efficiency, log homes have been proven scientifically to be the answer to some of today's energy crisis in housing.

Most of these manufacturers will have catalogs or colored brochures that present what they have for sale. Information may be secured by clipping and mailing ads found in most outdoors and building magazines. They will give you rough estimates of their product costs and shipping charges, and while you can get a good idea of what the house will look like, there is no substitute for driving out to look before you sign any papers.

There are numerous items that effect the price of any log home, whether it be a kit or a completely finished structure. The first of these is the material that the home is built from. Logs might include, red cedar, white cedar, pine, spruce and cypress; they may be round, D-shaped, square, or logs that have been split and one half will be on the inside of the home, while the other half takes its place on the outside.

Size of logs may vary from five inches which are the small range, to a whopping 12", which is the largest diameter that is available commercially.

If you order just a kit and leave everything else up to a local contractor, you should expect to pay about as much for a log home as for a comparable frame house. The only way that you can save money, is by doing some of the work yourself. Don't take this job lightly. It is no easy task to assemble a wall of 500 pound logs on a Saturday afternoon. You may find that you have bitten off more than you can chew and end up with a shambles of a dwelling and a strained back.

If you are really into the "do-it-yourself" thing, you should think of buying a book entitled "Your Log House" by Eric Janzen. This on-site manual will be worth its weight in gold. You can pick it up at most any book store.

In my ramblings during the past year, I have run into a relatively new log home company which is located in Traverse City. Great Lakes Log Homes, as the company is called, is about five years old and is located on US-31, some 10 miles to the south of the city limits.

The thing that impressed me the most about this dealer was the tremendous insulation system that is used. The walls are constructed with 2"x6" studs, and then an eight inch white cedar log is split and nailed to both the inside and outside. The result is a wall that is approximately 14" wide, with a R-value of 35. The roof is even more unique in that it is constructed of 2"x12" rafters with a 2"x2" nailed on top. The results is a void that is filled with a 1" rigid foam board, a 1" dead air space and then the normal plywood and roofing. When the roof is complete, the R-value exceeds the 50 mark.

Cost of these log homes are kept down by the company using 100' logs. Because of this short length, the home will look better if you use the post and sill construction method.

For the fun of it, I priced out a 1200 sq. ft. home, having their crew do all of the work. This included excavation of the lot, a 12-block basement, well, septic system, all plumbing and electrical, cupboards, carpeting and all hardware. In other words, all I would have to do is turn the key and walk in. I was surprised with the price of $62,000. This was for any accessible lot in the State of Michigan.

If you would like to see any of the information that I have collected, drop me a line. I would be glad to share it with you.

General Tel customers need calling cards now

To help protect telephone customers from being billed for calls they don't make, General Telephone operators now will no longer complete "bill to third number" calls placed from public phones without authorization from someone at the third number. Until now a caller could bill the charges to a third number even though there was no one at the number to accept the charges. The change became effective Monday, March 21.

The move to verified billing charges will protect General Telephone's customers from losses due to fraud," says Max Preston, vice president/general manager of General Telephone, in announcing the change. "We're doing this to protect our customers from losses caused by a dishonest element in our society." Operators will attempt to obtain an acceptance of the charge from someone at the third number. "If the third number party declines to accept the charges, or if the third number cannot be reached for any reason, the operator will not complete the call," Preston says. "This policy applies even in cases when the caller is billing his own telephone number."

There are alternative ways customers can place calls from public telephones, Preston notes. "They still have the option to pay for them with coins, to call collect or use a Calling Card," he says. He says he has a personal preference for Calling Cards since calls made with them are less expensive than operator-handled calls, such as collect and third number billing.

Customers who do not have a Calling Card can obtain one free of charge by contacting their nearest General Telephone business office.

Plans are now being made for a Caseville Summer Festival, with an organizational meeting set for Thursday, March 31 at 7:30 p.m. Groups, organizations, businesses and individuals are encouraged to attend to provide ideas and information.

For more information, contact C.A.S.E., Box 707, Caseville, MI 48725.

Pancakes on griddle Wednesday!

Salem United Methodist Church's Youth Fellowship group is sponsoring its first annual Pancake Supper tonight (Wednesday) between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. at the Church in Pigeon.

Included are all the pancakes you can eat, plus sausage, eggs, apple sauce and drinks will be provided. Funds from the youth project will be used to send local students to Icthus in Wilmore, Ky. this spring, a Christian gathering of about 10,000 young people.

Tickets are available at the door, with special family rates.

Cheryl Anderson to graduate

Cheryl Anderson of Caseville and Darcy Little of Bad Axe are among the 198 candidates for bachelor's degrees who will be eligible to participate in Alma College's 96th year commencement on Saturday, April 16.

Cheryl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William (Carole) Anderson of Caseville, is a music major and candidate for a bachelor of music degree in April.

Darcy, daughter of Edward and Glenna Little of Bad Axe, is an art and design major and a candidate for a bachelor of fine arts degree in May.
